Mexican Festival Draws Hundreds To Muleshoe

 Sandra Martinez Diez y Seis Queen Mules And Hornets To Clash Friday

You can just bet that when the black and white Muleshoe Mules arrive in Tulia Friday evening, the win hungry Tulia Hornets will be ready for them.

They will be hoping for an entire game of the type of mistakes and miscues that were made during the first quarter during the Muleshoe - Morton game last Friday.

However, they probably won't be taking into consideration that almost a full week has gone by since the game, and the coaches and players have watched and re-watched the game film, and have been working out the problems that started off the game at Morton.

Tulia spanked Friona in their first game of the season by 31-7.

One person to watch during the game will be Hornet fullback Carl Travis who racked up two touchdowns and 162 yards in the Friona game.

He is said to be quick

Bob Copeland Jr. Wins Contest Second Week

Just two weeks old, the 1980 football contest has switched leaders. Sharing top spot is this week's winner, Bob Copeland, Jr., whose first place win has added 10 points for him toward the grand prize at the end of the contest. Last week's first place winner, Wade Cargile, also has 10 points.

Copeland missed two games to lead the entrants in the contest for this week.

Again this week, a female has captured second place. Marilyn Engelking was among a 'whole host of folks' who missed three games, but with surprising scores in the tiebreakers, the point spread was very large. Mrs. Engelking's 60 point spread among the persons who missed three games was the lowest.

Mrs. Engelking missed the Indiana-Iowa, Oregon State-San Jose State and the Oregon State-Wyoming games.

Third place winner was Harold Cowan, who missed only three games, but was 62 points off on the double tiebreaker. He missed the Oregon State - Wyoming, Washington State-San Jose State and the Texas Tech-North Carolina games.

Also missing three games, but being off too far on the double tiebreaker scores were Sharla Morrison, Mike Perez, James Roy Jones, Marie Vela, Ina Dennis, Barry T. Lewis and Judy Brockman.

It is beginning to shape up to be a wild and wooly year for football, so get your entry blanks in. With the Upsets and constant changes in action, only time will determine the final winner of the tickets to the Cotton Bowl and the check for expenses.

starting and one of his TD's was for 34 yards.

But then, last Friday, the Hornets ran up against an unyielding Littlefield Wildcat defense and lost the battle, 35-7.

In the game at Tulia, quarterback Wade Littlefield led all rushing with 104 yards on 13 carries.

4-H Annual Fair Slated At Coliseum

Saturday, September 20, has been set as the date for the Bailey County 4-H Fair. The fair will be held at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum, according to the Bailey County Extension office.

Entries will be accepted from 8 a.m. until 10 a.m. on Saturday. Judging will be from 10-12 noon and the 4-H exhibits will go on public display from 12-4 p.m.

An auction of the baked goods and vegetable produce will follow with Tom Flowers and Frank Hanes serving as auctioneers. Money raised will be used for 4-H activities in Bailey County during the year.

Jim Irwin of the Bailey County Extension office said 4-H members are urged to bring items completed in 4-H projects as well as farm and garden products grown this year.

All 4-H members should bring and enter baked goods to be auctioned off later in the evening.

Irwin commented, "The public is cordially invited to attend this 4-H Fair and Auction."

Windbreak Seedling Available

Windbreak seedling applications for 1981 from the Texas Forest Service are now available, according to the SCS office in Muleshoe. Deadline for submitting the applications will be February 9, 1981.

Windbreaks around farmsteads provide protection from the biting cold of winter, according to the spokesman. Also, Windbreaks help to lower home heating costs, add beauty to the farmstead and provide food and cover for wildlife.

Applications may be picked up at the Bailey County Extension agent's office located in the courthouse, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and Soil Conservation Service offices located at 111 East Avenue D in Muleshoe.

With all the pomp and pageantry of major city functions, the Diez y Seis celebration at the Catholic Center at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church was conducted this week, with fantastic results.

From the Jaimaca on Sunday afternoon, through the coronation of the queen on Monday night, and the dances all three nights, it was a time for all descendants of the Mexican people to celebrate their religious freedom.

Sunday afternoon, large crowds packed the east side of the Catholic Center to spend the afternoon tossing pies at victims behind a sheet; throwing darts at balloons for prizes, listening to various mariachi groups, volleyball tournaments, various Mexican food and drink booths, and other entertainment.

On Monday night, both Mexican and American flags heralded the pageantry, along with the presentation of both of the national anthems.

A group of formally dressed young ladies entered and went through an

At Muleshoe Junior High

New Teachers At MJHS

Mrs. Gayla Wagon is a new member of the faculty at MJHS. She teaches sixth grade social studies and English. She is really enjoying teaching at Muleshoe, and she feels that she has a good group of students.

Mrs. Wagon graduated from Muleshoe High School and graduated from college at West Texas State University. Mrs. Wagon is now working on her master's degree at Eastern New Mexico University.

Mrs. Wagon taught the migrant program for one year at Lazbuddie. She and her eighteen month old daughter, Twila, have lived in Muleshoe for about a year.

The annual staff wishes her a successful year. Jerry Robinson is a new teacher at MJHS. He is married to Nonette Robinson, a Special Ed teacher at MHS. They have one son, Taylor, who is two years old.

Mr. Robinson graduated from Crosbyton High School and then received his college degree from North Texas State University.

He lived in Plainview before moving to Muleshoe. He is a coach and also teaches history. Mr. Robinson says that he likes Muleshoe very well and that the prospects for the Muleshoe Mule teams are very good.

The annual staff welcomes Mrs. La Jean Williams as a new teacher in MJHS. She is currently teaching seventh grade English. Last year, she worked in the Reading Lab as an aid.

She and her husband, Carter, have one 14-year old son, Chad, who is a freshman at MHS. They have lived in Muleshoe eight years and they have found it to be a friendly place to live. Mr. Williams is a farmer and a pilot.

Mrs. Williams went to high school at Pampa, Texas, and is a graduate of West Texas State. She has been teaching four years. Her plans for the year are to get to know every student and help each one improve his English.

Mrs. Alice Liles comes to MJHS from Eden, Texas. She teaches 7th grade reading and 7th and 8th grade speech.

She is married to Bill Liles. They have two children, Caroline, age 10, and A.J., age 8. Her plans for this year are to have her students concentrate on study skills, reading skills, and reading enjoyment.

She says the students are really nice in Jr. High, and she enjoys teaching 7th grade.

She likes Muleshoe very much and feels that people are friendly. She also likes the lack of humidity and all the birds.

Mrs. Liles has been teaching for 8 years. She graduated from high school at Lamour Consolidated in Rosenberg, Texas. She attended college at Texas A&I, then finished at Texas A&M and did her master's work at Houston. The annual staff wishes Mrs. Liles a very good year!

The annual staff interviewed Mrs. Jean Richardson, who is the new reading lab aide at Muleshoe Junior High.

Mrs. Richardson graduated from Littlefield High. This is her first year as an aide in a regular class. She assists in teaching 6th, 7th, and 8th graders. In previous years, she worked as a substitute. Her husband, Mike Richardson, also teaches at MJHS, where he teaches 7th and 8th grade math.

They have lived in Muleshoe for 7 years and have two children, Michael who is 6 and Misty who is 4.

She enjoys sewing, reading and macrame." She also likes teaching, jr. high, and football. She commented that she enjoys Jr. High and is looking forward to working with the students. The annual staff welcomes her to Jr. High.

The Journalism staff would like to welcome Miss Sabrina Winegeart to Muleshoe Junior High. She coaches 7th and 8th grade athletics, 6th, 7th, and 8th PE and teaches 8th grade health. She came to Muleshoe from Olton, where she was also a coach. Coach Winegeart is starting her third year of teaching.

We asked what she thought the 7th and 8th grade girls' basketball team would do this year. Coach Winegeart said the 8th graders have a good strong team and are willing to put out the work that it takes to win. The 7th graders look like they have lots of interest.

Miss Winegeart graduated from Lefors High School and received her college degree from West Texas State University. Her interests are sports, reading, and riding motorcycles. She is really enjoying Muleshoe schools!!

Coach Tom Duncan taught at Olton High School last year. He has taught and coached for 7 years. He now teaches 8th grade Earth Science, 7th and 8th grade boys PE, 8th grade health, and 6th grade Social studies at MJHS.

When asked about some of his ideas for the year, he commented, "My philosophy is based on a few basic ideas such as; I as a person must be enthusiastic and positive at all times. Everyone, no matter who they are, has positive points, people just have to find them. As a member of society, I must make a contribution and do my best to be a fair person."

Mr. Duncan grew up in Post, Texas, and also graduated from Post High School, then he attended South Plains Junior College at Levelland. He graduated from Texas Tech University and afterwards he took classes at Texas A&M and Texas Tech. Coach Duncan and his wife, Dana, have one daughter, Traci Leigh. Traci is 9 months old. Prairie View plans dairy goat program

PRAIRIE VIEW — A program designed to make Prairie View A&M University the national leader in dairy goat research will receive a substantial boost this fall when contractors bid on an 11-acre facility.

Officials say the program could start as early as mid-1982 with up to 400 head of goats and six professional researchers.

Texas is the leading state and a world center for the raising of Angora goats for mohair, an industry that brought in over $37 million to Texans in 1979.

However, the state ranks behind California in dairy goats, a gap the program is designed to close, say Prairie View A&M officials.

The research program will work in four main areas: nutrition, reproduction, veterinary health care and commercial habits, while devoting time to market and product development.

al amendment that would change the jurisdiction and authority of the State's appellate courts. The amendment would change the name of the Courts of Civil Appeals to Courts of Appeal and provide that these courts have intermediate appellate jurisdiction over both criminal and civil cases. The amendment would change titles for the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court and Justices of the Supreme Court to be attorneys licensed in this state while holding office. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to change the name of the Courts of Civil Appeals and the names and qualifications of the justices of the Supreme Court and to prescribe the jurisdiction and authority of the appellate courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment which defines separate property owned by either spouse as all property, both real and personal, of a spouse owned or claimed before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent. Persons about to marry and spouses, without the intent to defraud pre-existing creditors, may by written instrument from time to time partition between themselves all or part of their property. Spouses may exchange a community interest in property owned or to be acquired for a community interest in other community property. The amendment would allow spouses to agree in writing that income or property arising from any separate property is to be separate community property as it would be in the absence of an agreement. The amendment proposes that a gift from one spouse to another is presumed to include all income or property deriving from such gift. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment allowing spouses to agree that income or property arising from separate property is to be separate property."

Inexpensive for a computer and able to manage a five-to-ten-thousand item inventory, prepare a payroll for hundreds, get immediate and accurate management reports and perform so many other tasks you'd almost need a computer to count them, the new TRS-80 Model II from Radio Shack is designed to save time, money and effort in many business applications.

enjoy Spudnuts the upper crust of the doughnut world

History Of A Spudnut

Spudnuts are more than Doughnuts. They are the lightest, fluffiest, best tasting pastries in the world. They are "the upper crust of the donut world".

Spudnuts are different from ordinary doughnuts because of their special ingredients and quality controlled production. Only the very finest materials are used to create the unique Spudnut flavor and texture. High quality, specially blended flour, pure vegetable shortening, rich spices selected from the world's best, and choice potatoes are scientifically mixed and blended in Spudnuts automated mixing plant.

The emphasis on quality began with Spudnuts in 1939, when Al and Bob Pelton discovered their potatoe doughnut recipe. After countless hours of peeling, boiling and mashing thousands of pounds of potatoes and blending numerous varieties of flours and spices, they finally found the right blend of ingredients. It was the ideal mixture for a consistently light, fluffy, tender potatoe doughnut with a unique and delicate flavor. They dubbed their new product "Spudnuts" after the slang word for potatoe----Spud.

Specialists Suggest Desiccants For Dryland Cotton

Premature opening of dryland cotton on the South Plains, brought about by the prolonged summer drought, could cause significant losses of seed cotton, an Extension cotton agronomist warns. As a result, it may pay growers this year to make prompt and proper use of harvest-aid chemicals on the crop, he said.

"Most of the area's dryland cotton is opening rapidly because of the hot, dry weather," said Dr. James R. Supak, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Most of this is premature.

"When this happens, cottons tend to lose a lot of their inherent stormproof characteristics. There is a danger that a lot of this cotton will fall out on the ground."

Because it still is far from normal frost date for this area, which usually occurs between late October and early November, this year it appears it would pay producers to use harvest-aid chemicals, the cotton specialist said.

There are two types of harvest-aid chemicals: defoliants and desiccants. True defoliants are relatively mild materials that act slowly and cause leaves to drop off. In contrast, desiccants kill the entire plant rapidly.

Neither type helps the cotton mature. Just the opposite, they stop the plant growth, and with that the fiber development stops Supak noted. The chemicals are only an aid in harvesting naturally matured cotton, he said.

"I'm sure that for much of the dryland crop, with low yield potential, many growers will seriously consider harvesting without desiccating," Supak said. This has been successfully done in the past when the bolls have matured under more normal climatic conditions, he added.

But with drought conditions this year causing premature cotton opening of bolls, excessive green plant content in the harvested cotton can reduce the ginning efficiency; stain the lint, thereby reducing the grade, and result in heating which could further reduce seed quality, he cautioned.

"The best advice we can give growers is to check with their ginners to see if they'd be willing to gin cotton that hasn't been desiccated," Supak said.

Defoliants probably won't be of much value under current dryland conditions, he added.

Desiccants cleared for use in this area are arsenic acid, Paraquat and sodium chlorate. They should be applied when 80 to 85 percent of the bolls are open.

"In many cases, the decision won't be cut and dried as to when to desiccate," Supak said. "Low spots in a field will appear greener and have a lower percentage of bolls open than does the majority of the field."

"In some cases, it may pay to desiccate the portion of a field that's ready, and leave the remainder for later," he added.

The agronomist suggested that initially, producers stay with the recommended rates for the desiccant they are using. But, he also recommended that the growers do a little testing to find the chemicals and rates most effective for their particular fields.

Rains such as occurred last will stimulate regrowth, especially in heavily drought-stressed cotton, he cautioned.

Lower rates of desiccants that were doing a good job before the rains will probably be inadequate as the cotton begins regrowth, Supak said.

Arsenic acid, at one to one-and-a-half quarts per acre, would be the best chemical to use in this case, he said. If using Paraquat, start at the suggested rate (one to two pints per acre) and be sure to add a surfactant, he added. "If this rate does the job, you may want to try a lower rate to reduce expense."

Combinations of chemicals may also be used. He suggested a tank mix of arsenic acid (one to one and a half quarts per acre) plus Accelerate (one and one half pints) an additive to enhance the desiccant activity. Also, the tank mix of Paraquat (one and one half pints per acre) plus Accelerate (one and one half pints per acre) has been effective in some areas.

With ground applicators, use rigid drops on booms and increase spray volume, Supak advised. Use three nozzles per row if cotton is lower than 24 inches tall and five nozzles on taller cotton.

An alternative would be split applications of Paraquat (a half to one pint per acre) made seven days apart, or first apply a defoliant (such as Def-6 or Folex) plus Accelerate and follow that five to seven days later with Paraquat. That removes top leaves and allows better spray coverage of remaining leaves.

If applying arsenic acid with a ground rig, he recommended a higher gallonage of total spray be used (20 to 25 gallons per acre) and that only 20 to 30 gallons per square inch of pressure be maintained to produce larger droplets.

With Paraquat, he noted that spray volume could be reduced (to 15 gallons per acre) and pressure be increased (40 pounds per square inch) to decrease droplet size.

Also, arsenic acid requires warm, sunny conditions for maximum effectiveness, whereas Paraquat is less sensitive to temperature and humidity.

"With all chemicals, avoid duplication during windy conditions to reduce drift," Supak urged.

The studies at Texas A&M are still basic in nature, dealing with latency, immune response and molecular biology, said researchers.
