Funeral services are pending at presstime at Rix Funeral Home in Lubbock for Bernice Douglas, 69, wife of former City Engineer Ralph Douglas.

Mrs. Douglas is a former employee of The Journal. They moved to Lubbock from Muleshoe in 1970.

Two sons, Don and David and a daughter, Gay, are among the survivors.

In weekend activity by the Muleshoe City Police and Bailey County Sheriff's Office, one person was picked up by City Police for authorities in Arizona and Deputy Sheriff James Williams arrested one person for driving while license suspended and possession of marijuana.

Lazbuddie Youth Wins This Week

One more week has gone by and again the leaders in the contest have changed. There is no one person leading at this point in the annual football contest.

If you missed more than one game, and two persons who missed just one game, were left out in the cold again.

In first place for the week was Shane Smith, who missed only the Illinois-Air Force game, and was a total of 24 points off on the tiebreaker scores. Shane is a resident of the Lazbuddie community.

Another Lazbuddie area resident, Doyle Weir, who is a familiar name from last year was in second place. He also missed one game and was 32 points off on the double tiebreaker scores.

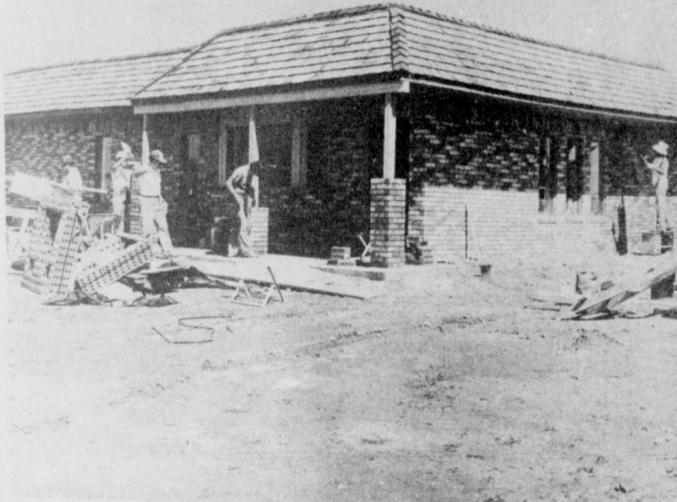

C.O. LaRue also missed the Illinois-Air Force game, but was 34 points off on the tiebreakers to take third place. LaRue was a regular contestant prior to moving to Dimmitt a few years ago, and has continued to enter the contest weekly since moving there.

Narrowly missing the score was Hazel Gilbreath, who missed only the Rice-Louisiana game. But, she was 46 points away on the tiebreakers to end up out of the money and points.

Judy Davenport also missed the Illinois-Air Force game, but, also was 49 points away on the tiebreaker scores to be just edged out of the contest for the week.

One entry blank came in this week with a predicted score on just one of the two

Mules And Antelopes Slate Friday Battle

"Where the deer and antelope play....." and hopefully, where the Mules will PLAY as well...Can't be sure about the deer, but do know that the Abernathy Antelopes are clinging to the same season record, 2-2, as the Mules have right now.

Friday night, the Mules travel to Abernathy to take on the elusive Antelopes, who battled the Mules to a 20-20 tie and hindered homecoming in Muleshoe last year.

Both the last two games for the Mules have been stunning losses, first the upset by the Tulia Hornets two weeks ago, followed by the soggy, mistake-ridden game here against Idalou last Friday night.

Held scoreless through the entire game, both teams were beginning to expect the final clock to run down with neither team on the scoreboard when James Sherman blasted through

This workshop will be for all parents of kindergarten students and materials and instruction will be furnished to help make instructional tools to help re-enforce at home what the teachers are doing at school.

"If you have a kindergarten student this year, please make plans to attend, both you and your child will benefit from the experience."

With a steady rain falling throughout the game, Idalou turned the ball over twice, once on a fumble, and again on an interception. The Mules turned the ball over nine times, eight on fumbles and one on an interception.

Also, during the game, the Mules lost the services of quarterback, Monty Hysinger, who went down with a shoulder injury before the first half. At half-time, he was taken to West

Special Adult Classes Slated To Start Soon

Muleshoe Independent School District will sponsor an Adult Education program beginning Tuesday, October 7 according to an announcement for the school business office.

Level I, II, III and GED classes will be offered if enough interest is demonstrated by local participation. A minimum enrollment of twenty students per level must be maintained if a teacher and teacher aide are to be provided, said the school spokeswoman.

Classes will meet two times each week for two and one half hours per evening session. Every effort will be made to provide each and every individual with the highest quality of instruction by professional educators, he added. A minimum of 100 hours free instruction will be available to anyone interested in taking advantage of this opportunity, provided the minimum number of students are enrolled and attendance is maintained.

Registration for the Adult Education Classes will be held Tuesday, October 7 in Room 24 at Muleshoe Junior High School from 7-9 p.m.

For further information call, Tom Jinks, Assistant Superintendent for Business Affairs at 272-3911 or Elizabeth Watson, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction at 272-3325.

Plains Medical, Center where he was found to have a shoulder separation. He will be out of the lineup for up to six weeks.

For the year, Olton has only given up a total of 18 points in four games, and Littlefield has given up 27 points in four games. For the same four games, the Mules have now given away only 34 points.

But, Muleshoe's opponent for this Friday, Abernathy, has only given up a tough 19 points for the season to lead District 3-3A in defense.

Abernathy has defeated Roosevelt and Petersburg and has fallen to Olton and Hale Center, both with low scores.

Continued support by Mule Mania fans helps the young players who have fallen briefly on hard times. Show your support to the players and to the coaching staff by being in the stands at Abernathy Friday night.

Rattlesnakes, Other Snakes Sought Here

Hal Newsom of Newsom's Varmints 'N Things of Houston, called Tuesday afternoon to say he plans a trip to Muleshoe around October 15. He will spend three or four days, in Muleshoe enroute to New Mexico to pick up snakes and other animals for his Houston shop.

Newsom, a former Muleshoe resident, said he will be looking for rattlesnakes 'dead or alive' during the time he is here. He asked that anyone interested to accumulate snakes while they are waiting for his arrival. Newsom said the snakes can be frozen and he will pay $1 a foot for snakes with undamaged skins, or $3 a pound for snakes with undamaged skins.

He said he did not care if the head was on them or not. He will also be looking for bull snakes, king snakes and other species, but all alive.

The snakehandler suggested you leave your name and telephone number with his mother, Mrs. Ben Gramling at 272-3577 in Muleshoe.

Home Energy Gets Focus For Seminar

With the changing of the season, homeowners should be thinking of weatherizing their home, according to the Bailey County Extension Service.

With energy a major national concern, we must all try to help the situation by saving as much energy as we possibly can, said a spokesman for the local Extension office.

No one likes to pay those large utility bills, however, you can do something about them if you evaluate your home and find areas where energy is being wasted.

To help you do this, a Home Energy Seminar has been scheduled for Tuesday, October 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Mary DeSahzo School Cafeteria. Ms. Weedon Echols, Extension Energy Specialist from Lubbock, will begin the program with an overview of the energy situation. She will also report on home energy audits conducted in Muleshoe.

Joe Harbin and David Marricle from Bailey County Electric will be discussing retrofitting your home and will also demonstrate various things the homeowner can do in the home to make it more energy efficient resulting in lower utility bills.

On the date of the program, Sylvester Cantu will be at the Muleshoe City Hall, 2-5 p.m., with the infra-red thermograms of Muleshoe. He will be interpreting the pictures to the homeowners who come by during that time. If you forgot, or were unable to see the thermogram of your home in February when they were last here, this is a chance to see the energy efficiency of your home.

Information included in the Home Energy Seminar will be beneficial to anyone wanting to cut down on the high bills.

The program is being sponsored by the Family Living Committee of the Extension Service

Counties Are Citing Financial Trouble

For many years, rural residents in three counties around Bailey County, as well as rural residents of this county, have enjoyed the periodic stops of the Bookmobile.

During this time, librarian Lorene Sooter, and her driver, Ruby Henderson, have become familiar, and friends with, a major number of persons as they carried books, periodicals, film strips and other materials to small communities such as Enochs, Bula, Lehman, Springlake, Sudan, Amherst, Lazbuddie, Hub, and up and down the four counties of Bailey, Parmer, Cochran and Lamb.

Literally thousands of books have been checked out each year by both adults and children, with school children utilizing the portable library.

Now, however, it would seem the Bookmobile is the victim of inflation. According to a release by Bailey County Judge Glen Williams, the Bookmobile will soon be a luxury of the past.

Judge Williams said: "For several years, a Bookmobile program has been operated in the four County area comprising Bailey, Cochran, Lamb and Parmer Counties. The program has enjoyed public support during those years, and has, in general, been very successful. But, it now appears that it will have to be phased out and terminated about the end of this year, principally for economic reasons."

"The Commissioners Courts have, informally and reluctantly, agreed that such action has become necessary. "In the past, the counties have shared the operating expenses, with minor deviations, on a population basis. And the operation budget for 1981 would require contributions as follows:

"Bailey--$6,095.25; Cochran--$4,353.75; Lamb--$10,594.12 and Parmer--$7,981.88.

"But, recently the Lamb County Commissioners Court voted to withdraw from the program entirely. And they did not include the Bookmobile in their 1981 budget.

"The other three counties then had to decide whether to continue the program on a three county basis, or terminate it. Because of fixed expenditures, such as salaries, insurance, etc. the budget could not be reduced nearly enough to offset the loss of Lamb County's $10,594.12 contribution.

"Therefore, as accurately as we can project, to continue it would require additional contributions from the three counties of Bailey, $3,420.01 for a total of $9,523.26; Cochran, $1,201.49 for a total of $5,555.24 and Parmer, $3,393.13 for a total of $11,375.01.

"It appeared to the counties that this is simply too much, especially since costs will probably continue to increase. Also, counties are experiencing serious financial difficulties and in some cases are having to impose severe tax increases. And the courts just don't believe they can afford to assume additional expenses at this time, if such can be avoided.

"We hope the public will understand, because the commissioners court do believe in the Bookmobile program. They just feel they cannot afford it under present circumstances.

"Therefore, near the end of this year, the books on hand will be divided among

Florida, Nebraska Tilt May Be Blockbuster

Florida State and Nebraska have never met on the football field, but this first meeting just might be a block-buster. The Cornhuskers are coming off a big tussle at Pen State after totally demolishing both Utah and Iowa. And the Seminoles, after beating L.S.U. in their opener, destroyed Louisville and East Carolina. They played a strong Miami team last Saturday night. Nebraska will have the home field advantage - if there is such a thing any more - and is favored by just three points.

Headliner #2 also involves the Big 8 Conference as Missouri hosts Penn State. We're sure that catching Nebraska and Mizou back-to-back was not Penn State Coach Joe Paterno's idea. The Nebraska game last Saturday was Penn State's only home game over a four-week period. Missouri has been really pasting opponents so far and they don't plan any kindness toward the visiting Nittanians. Missouri will win it by twelve.

And speaking of back-to-back headaches, Arizona State faces its second one in two weeks. First it was Ohio State, now Southern California. The sun Devils upset Houston in their opener, and they could be toughies for the Trojans. Southern Cal is the host - and the favorite - by eight points.

North Carolina State and South Carolina will be battling to break a stalemate in the long series between the two schools. Each has won 19 times. The Gamecocks, finally at home after successive road trips to Los Angeles and Ann Arbor, are three point underdogs to the Wolfpack.

At East Lansing, visiting Notre Dame should power its way over Michigan State by 24 points. Baylor, however, could be in trouble as it entertains frustrated Houston. The Cougars, favored for national honors, have been upset by Arizona State and Miami. The Baylor Bear is favored, but only by ten points.

Your Secret?

If you're over 40, that's your business and you can keep it to yourself. But it's the time to ask your doctor for a "procto" examination as part of your regular health checkup. The American Cancer Society says this is one of the ways to protect yourself against colorectal cancer.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—A constitutional amendment dealing with property taxation will be found on November's ballot. Amendment 3 is a proposal to require a single appraisal district and a single board of equalization within each county for ad valorem tax purposes.

This amendment was adopted by the Legislature to fulfill the intent of the Property Tax Code which was enacted last year. The Code establishes single appraisal districts and boards of equalization within counties for all taxing jurisdictions except county governments. Counties currently have constitutional authority to handle their own property tax matters, and the amendment was designed to include this level of government in uniform taxation.

The Code did permit counties to join school districts, cities, water districts, and other taxing entities in the single appraisal districts. It is interesting to note that 84 percent, or 215 counties, chose to do so. It seems that these counties determined that the new system would be more cost efficient and workable.

The voters now must decide whether to require the remaining 39 counties to join the single taxing districts or not. Those persons advocating the passage of the amendment contend that it necessary to prevent conflicts in appraisals and thereby to promote uniformity and equality; they also contend that duplication would be completely eliminated in the process. Opponents claim that county taxes could increase and that county commissioners need to retain this power.

I hope that all voters will seriously consider this issue and cast ballots reflecting what they believe will be best for the State as a whole.

Cohabitation

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)—Men and women living together outside of marriage are deeply committed to their partners, but there is an element of "tenuousness" in such a relationship.

That's the finding of a University of Texas doctoral study on 15 cohabiting couples, whose ages range from 28 to 40.

While the couples indicated reasons of stability as the basis for cohabitation, the study found they generally kept separate financial accounts, did not own common property and did not have children together.

Where disagreements arose was in equal division of household chores. Sometimes the women reported doing the chores themselves, "just for peace," the study said.

Mules Stung By Hornets

The 8th grade Mules traveled to Tulia Thursday, Sept. 18, where Muleshoe lost to the Tulia Hornets, 0-6.

Four stars were given to Muleshoe players, 1 to John Isaac for a fumble recovery, and three to Smiley Orozco. Two of these were for fumble recovery, and 1 for being selected Player of the Week.

Coach Jones said he thought Smiley had done well in this game. He also commented that though we lost, he thought the Mules hit well on defense.

UT gets vases

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Hercules and a lion. Warriors in battle. Athletic competitions.

Those are among scenes painted on 13 rare ancient Greek vases which The University of Texas Art Museum acquired for its permanent collection. Some of the vases are 2,500 years old.

Because ancient Greek vases provide the earliest form of painting available to scholars of Western civilization, they will be useful to UT researchers and teachers in art, classics, literature (because of mythological scenes), history and other academic areas.

MJHS Coaches Comments

The seventh grade Mules have played two games this season and both have ended in 0-0 ties. At present we are still trying to come up with the best running backs and quarterback for this team. The hustle and attitude has been good and a willingness to learn has been apparent. The seventh graders' next game will be Thursday, vs. Farwell, at 4:00. The game will be played in Muleshoe and will be the first home game of the season.

Mules Tie With Tulia

The 7th grade Mules traveled to Tulia Thursday, September 18, to meet the hornets. The Mules and Hornets fought to a 0-0 tie after the end of four quarters of play.

The defensive players that played well received a star from Coach Jones. Also receiving two stars were, Eloy Porras, James Torrez, and Michael Swint, all for recovering fumbles. Coach Jones replied, "The boys showed improvement from last week's game. The defense looked good, but the offense needs a lot of improvement. The 7th grade team has potential."

The 7th grade Mules next game is here on Thursday, October 2, against Farwell. With some good plays, the Mules have a good chance to win their next game.

Nature covers all her works with a varnish of beauty. —Schopenhauer.

Muleshoe's eighth grade team sports a record of 1-1-1. So far, the defense has played very well and the offense has not played as well as expected. This is something that we are going to work on correcting as there is tremendous Offensive Potential. Fumbles and interceptions have hurt and line blocking needs to improve. Attitudes are good and I feel that the team will improve as the season progresses. The next game for the 8th grade will be played at Portales, 3:00 Texas time.

Annual Work Has Begun

The Annual Staff has started preparatory work on the yearbook this week. Mr. Roger Pamprin, a representative of the Josten Company, came to talk to the students this week. They talked about plans for the annual, and the students decided on the cover for the annual. The annual staff will be doing a new format this year, and will be doing more work this way, but this will keep the cost of the annual as low as possible. The Annual Staff will be sending off the yearbook to the company in February and the printed books will be returned the last of April. The annuals are $7.00 now, so all parents, buy your children an annual now before they go up to $8.00 October 15th.

Teacher of The Week

The Journalism staff would like to congratulate Mrs. Barbara Milburn for being selected "Teacher of the Week" by the Student Council! She teaches 8th grade Reading and Speech. Also, she has a class of ESL. Mrs. Milburn has been teaching for 18 years, 12 of them here at Muleshoe Jr. High. When asked what she thought about our Jr. High she said, "I love it, I enjoy teaching kids the Junior High age; it's delightful!"

Mrs. Milburn has two children: Jenny Oliver, who is a teacher at Mary De Shazo and Billy Milburn, who is a professional landscaper in Amarillo.

Mrs. Milburn graduated from Whitharral High School and received her degree from Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Oklahoma.

graders say the work is a little harder, but we'll make it!

A familiar saying around M.J.H.S. Thursday 18 was "BEAT TULIA." The cheerleader sponsor, Mrs. Pat Lawrence, picked a mystery person out of each grade and everyone tried to find that person by saying "BEAT TULIA." This is just one of the many projects the cheerleaders will be doing to raise SPIRIT!!

The Journalism staff is still selling Annuals for $7.00, but ONLY TILL OCT. 15. So you need to get one now instead of later, because after Oct. 15, they will be $8.00! You may purchase one from any of the Journalism staff or Mrs. Pat Watson in room 22.

P.S. Parents, you need to dig out your money so your child can get an ANNUAL!!
Thurs. 25 the Junior High had T-shirt day where you were to wear a Mule T-shirt or something black and white to help raise spirit for the football team.

There is a correction in the Student Council Election article that was in the paper Sept. 25. The 7th grade alternate is Josie Ybarra. The 8th grade representatives are Louise Lopez, Lori Ellis, Todd Jones, and Kristi Heathington.

REMEMBER: It's nice to be important, but it's more important to BE NICE!!
Hope everyone has a GREAT year!

God sells us all things at the price of labor.
-Leonardo da Vinci.

Price outlook has always helped to determine the number of acres planted to cotton, and on the Plains this year, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., price will be a potent factor in determining harvested acreage as well.

The yield necessary to make harvesting, as opposed to abandonment, an economically sound decision at today's prices, Johnson explains, is far lower than was indicated by calculations made just a few weeks ago.

Harvesting will be out of the question in many fields, of course. But in marginal cases some careful figuring before deciding to abandon a field may be well worthwhile, Johnson says.

Under 1980 disaster program provisions, producers who have complied with all program requirements and who gather a crop will be eligible for a payment of 19.5 cents per pound times the difference between actual yield and 75 percent of the farm's projected yield.

For example a producer who has a projected yield of 400 pounds and harvests 100 pounds will be eligible for a disaster payment on 200 pounds, 75 percent of 400 minus 100.

If the same producer elects not to harvest and agrees to destroy the crop (signs Form 574 at his ASCS office) he will be eligible for a disaster payment on 300 pounds per acre, the full 75 percent of projected yield.

So it's easily seen that when the disaster payment reduction is considered, farmers who harvest will have a built-in "cost" of 19.5 cents per pound of lint. Therefore harvesting will be a paying proposition only if the value of lint and seed will more than cover the cost of harvesting and ginning plus this 19.5-cent cost.

For purposes of illustration, Johnson assumes the seed value will equal ginning charges and that low-yielding cotton can be harvested for $10 per acre.

Thus on cotton yielding 60 pounds per acre, the producer's calculation should look like this: $10 + 11.70 (60 x 19.5 cents) = $21.70 ÷ 60 = 36.2 cents per pound, the break-even price. A lower cost figure or a price above 36.2 cents in this example would make harvesting profitable.

Yields, turnouts, seed value, ginning charges and availability of labor and equipment will vary from farm to farm, altering the figures used here. So each producer will need to make his own calculations, Johnson says.

Some irrigated cotton this year has been contracted as high as 75 cents, basis the average Plains quality of grade 42, staple 31, 3.3 to 3.4 mike. Quality of low-yielding cotton may be lower, and these prices may not last into harvest, Johnson cautions, "but as of now it appears that it may be profitable to harvest several hundred thousand acres of very poor cotton this year."

it's not too late and any of the three has room for it.
As everybody knows, it's far too dangerous for the United States to depend on foreign oil. Those sheiks could slowly strangle us and get rich doing it.

The road to escape from this intolerable situation in the long run is not through turning coal into gas. Coal is going to play out eventually the same as oil. In the short run these are important and necessary, but only stop-gaps. After all our great grandchildren will want to drive cars and have wrecks the same as we and they can't when all the oil and coal are used up.

Unless.....unless we switch to alcohol, which burns like gasoline and can be produced endlessly if all the farmers don't go broke before high-priced oil plays out. It's no trouble to build a car or tractor that runs on alcohol and it's no trouble to make alcohol, if we had the capital to build the plants.

Here's my idea for some candidate's platform plank.
He could squeeze it in there somewhere between a forthright stand for honesty and the need to whip inflation and balance an unbalanceable budget and make the U.S. great once again in the eyes of Chad and Outer Mongolia.

The plank should propose a 10-cent gallon tax on gasoline. Don't shudder.
Hear me out. The money should go into a fund absolutely untouchable for any purpose other than building alcohol manufacturing plants. It couldn't be used to pay on the national debt, or build a new office building for Congress, or reduce the Social Security tax in an election year, or build new highways or patch the old ones, or bail out mis-managed railroads and car companies, or protect endangered minnows.

In a couple of years or so the fund would be big enough to start lending money to people interested in and capable of erecting massive alcohol plants. We have already got the land and the farmers capable of producing the crops to produce the alcohol. Once the oil companies found out we mean business they might even convert some of their refineries to alcohol, as a hedge against a drop in their department store business.

Wouldn't it be better
having a bunch of farmers getting together to decide the price of fuel instead of a bunch of sheiks over in the Middle East?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Nurse conditions said undesirable

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) —
Texas nurses leave or stay out of the nursing workforce because of undesirable working conditions, a University of Texas study reports.

That was the major finding of a survey conducted by UT Austin's School of Nursing.

Dean Billye Brown says
even though some hospital beds are closed because too few nurses are available to staff them, there are 18,000 registered nurses licensed to practice in Texas who are not working in nursing.

Job dissatisfactions in nursing range from lack of administrative support by hospital and nursing service administrators to inflexibility of working hours, the study shows.

Little Change Forecast In August Crop Report

AUSTIN—Very little change is forecast in the outlook for Texas summer crops in the recent production report released by Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service forecast covers conditions as of September 1.

The Upland cotton production estimate decreased 700,000 bales from the August 1 report, Brown said. The total expected for cotton now stands at 3.6 million bales.

"Poorer prospects for dryland Plains cotton contribute to the lower production forecast," Brown said. Estimated production of American Pima cotton is unchanged at 24,000 bales.

Peanut production this year is expected to be 143 million pounds lower than that of 1979. "Most of our crop is grown on dryland, and the drought made for a smaller harvest," Brown said. The total is projected to be 390 million pounds.

On August 1, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service indicated an expected 10 percent increase in harvest of rice over last year, "but dry conditions and low humidity have taken a toll in this crop also," Brown said. Current estimates place the total at 23,520,000 hundredweight, some 2.5 million less than that reported as of August 1.

Rains from Hurricane Allen and weeks following helped boost expectations for the soybean crop. Estimates are up by 1.2 million bushels to a total of 15,210,000 bushels.

Hurricane winds dropped sugarcane production to 997,000 tons, a 107,000-ton loss.

There is no change in the estimates for sorghum and corn production.
