STERLING CITY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1944

NO. 32

Am Taking Out

After pushing the editorial pencil in Sterling City for the last half century and operating the News-Record for the last 45 years, this week I am unhitching the harness and placing them on the shoulders of my worthy successor, Jack Douthit.

In other words, I am retiring as owner, editor and publisher of the News-Record.

Meet Mr. Jack Douthit, my successor, who will take up the News-Record and carry on where I left off. The News-Record, under his management, no doubt, will be better than I have ever made it.

I take pleasure in saying that Mr. Douthit is a good Indian. He was born, reared and educated in West Texas. Having been editor and publisher of the Mertzon Star for the last seven years, it is safe to say that he knows the people, their customs and their ways. No doubt, this understanding will help to serve you well. He will be with you in all your religious, Boy Scout and civic activities and will support every move for the upbuilding of the town and country.

No town can ever hope to be more than than three whoops at a dogfight without a good newspaper. The better the town, the better the newspaper. If you would have these vital things, you must support them with your influence and money. Mr. Douthit wants your job work and advertising, and I am sure you will be as loyal to the News-Record under his management as you have been under mine.

I have been with you for a long time, and have learned to love you as my very own. Age has mellowed my soul toward you. You have been mighty good to me. I have never asked for a favor that I did not receive.

But I have reached the point where I must retire from my labors, yet, you may hear from me through the columns of the News-Record now and then.

I thank every man, woman and child in Sterling City and Sterling County for the loving friendship they have so loyally accorded me. May God bless and prosper you all.

---W.F. Kellis (Uncle Bill)

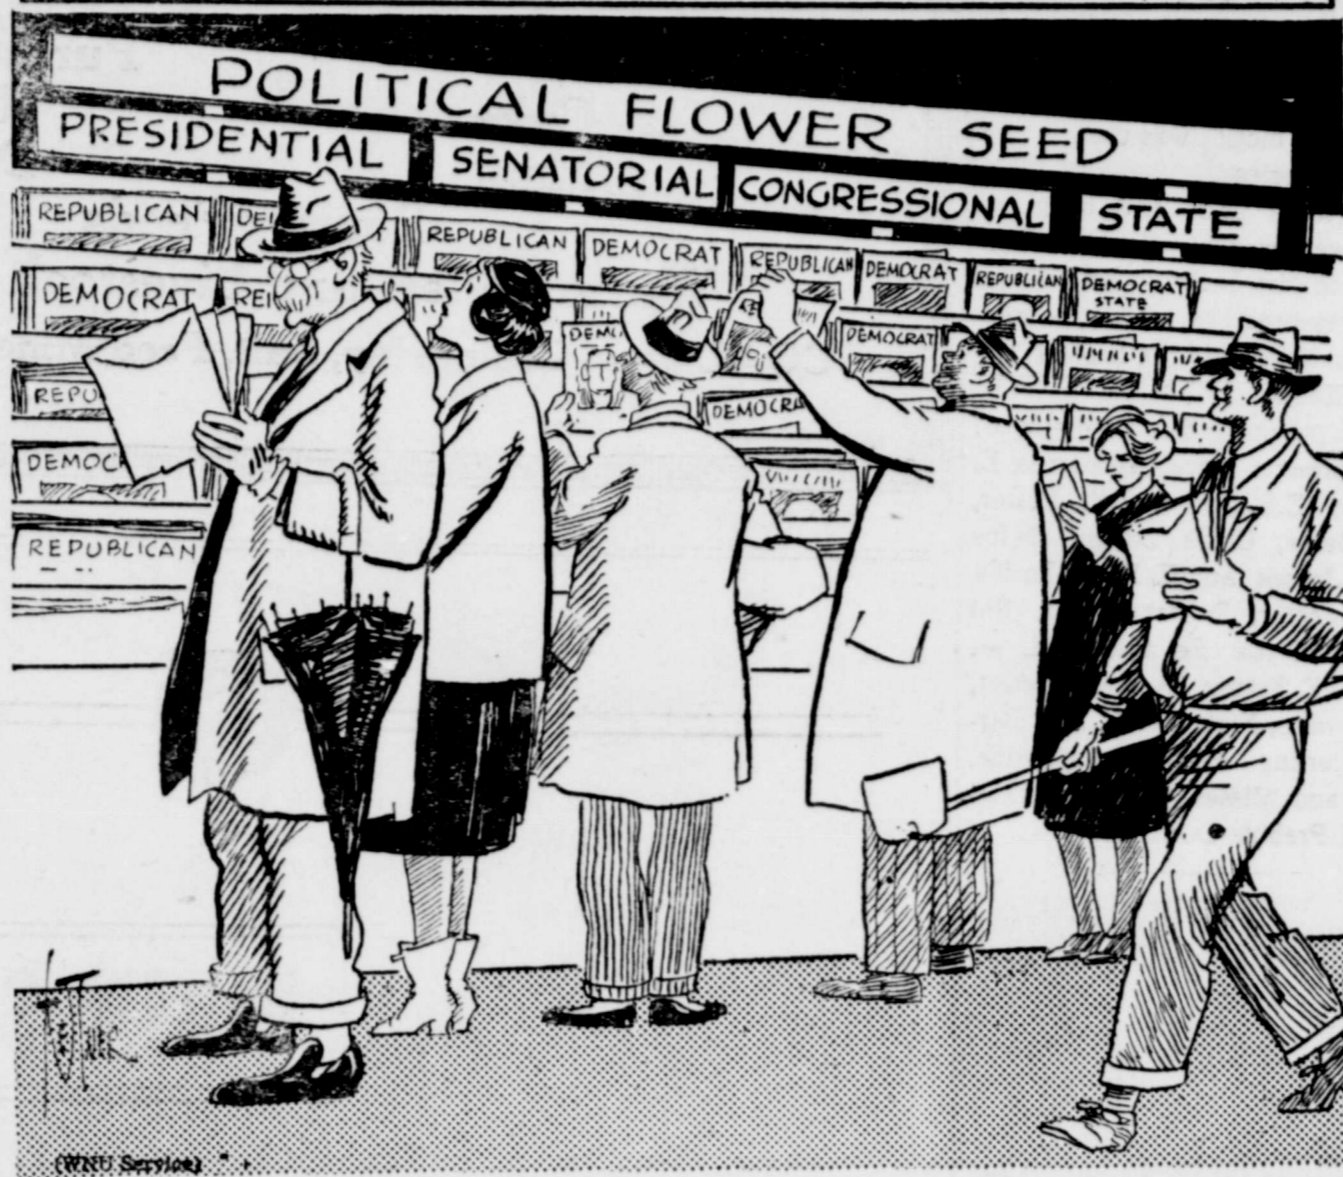

Writes From India

T-Sgt. Carl Abernathy writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Abernathy that he is somewhere in India, and that he is well and getting along all right.

The Sergeant is much interested in the people of India, their classes, ways and customs. He says that there are four classes of the people of India. If a rich Indian dies, they cremate him by burning him with costly perfumed wood. If he is in the second class, they burn him with common wood. A third class person is burned with cork, and if the fourth class person dies and his people don't have the money for his disposal, they feed him to the crocodiles.

He said he saw them feed a dead baby girls to the crocodiles that exist in the sacred river.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. McEntire
I received the book you sent and was glad to get it. I am in New Guinea. I like it better here so far you should see these natives their hair sticks straight up and it is a sun burnet red they wear arm bands and have a under bit to the rite ear they rap a weed of some kind to keep it from growing back when you are in the brush and come face to face with you don't know what to do you can't hear one will close

Clock Watchers

The man who watches the clock never gets anywhere in the world. He may earn his wages all right, but as soon as the boss finds his employe with one eye glued on the clock instead of his work, the job will go to another man. The boss is boss because he keeps both eyes on his work instead of the clock. Ben Franklin said, "Keep thy shop and thy shop will keep thee."

---Uncle Bill,

North Concho River Soil Conservation News

Riley King has an abundance of feed in a pasture which was deferred last summer. Ewes grazed in this pasture have remained in good condition this winter without supplemental feeding.

W.N. and L.R. Reed shipped 4 truck loads of fat lambs from their feed pens to Ft. Worth this week. The 600 lambs weighed out 85 pounds and brought 15.25c.

T.C. Davis has run two miles of terrace lines on sixty-eight acres of grass land which he plans to put into cultivation this year.

Fred Hodges' sheep are getting early green grazing from California filaree.

Jack Mims and Riley King have found the enclosures which were constructed on their ranches last spring to be of real value in checking both the composition and degree of use of the grasses on adjoining areas. The grasses on the inside of the enclosure near the header in deep soil northwest of Jack Mims headquarters and the grasses on the outside of the enclosure had approximately the same growth and were about the same composition at the end of the growing season in 1943. Last week there was a marked difference in both the amount of grass on the ground and the apparent composition of the two areas. The buffalo, side oats grama, silver beard and tobosa, in the enclosure remains ungrazed thus providing an accurate scale by which to measure the degree of use made by the livestock of like grasses outside the enclosure.

D.M. Brown reports that the weeds and grass are coming rapidly on his range. He says his sheep are doing all right, but his cattle need more feed at present.

E.L. Bailey says the prospects for early grazing on his range is very promising. He reports that his sheep are doing well so far.

The Lions Club

Madames Daisy Smith, H.L. Hildbrand and R. T. Foster served a good lunch to the Lions last Wednesday at their weekly feeding place in the basement dining hall of the Methodist Church.

The guests were Rev. Elmer Henson and A.L. McMurtrey of San Angelo, Denver Dunn of Big Spring, and Jack Douthit, late of Mertzon, but now of Sterling City.

Lion J.T. Davis, being in an inquiring mood, asked Lion Douthit what he did in Mertzon that he left there and came to Sterling City.

Rev. Henson entertained the club with an appeal for support of the Red. Mr. McMurtrey announced the Sterling quota of $2,411.50 in the War Fund Drive. Clyde Davis was named chairman for Sterling County during the drive.

J.J. Stansberry Dead

J. J. Stansberry, 75, who had been residing in Sterling City for the past 15 years, died at his home in the north part of the city last Wednesday afternoon. Burial followed Thursday afternoon in the City Cemetery.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C.B. Stovall, local Baptist pastor. Lowe Funeral Director had charge of the funeral and burial programs.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Mary Osbourn of Welch, Texas and two sons, Frank Stansberry of Arizona and Dave Stansberry of Sterling City.

Aaron Clark reports that he has not had to feed his flocks in Lacy Valley except the feed he raised on the farm last year. Mr. Clark says that he has most of his land prepared to plant an early crop of feed this season. Like most of the ranchers, Mr. Clark realizes that he must raise every pound of feed he can for the coming year, because this red tape feed is not very nourishing.

Honor Roll of Sterling County Service Men

Dr. Wm. J. Swann is an artist as well as one of the best physicians in West Texas, has printed the names of the men enlisted in the armed forces from Sterling County.

The late Lieuts. Mark and Jack Mathis' names were not printed on the board because it was understood they were inducted from San Angelo, although they were Sterling boys from their infancy.

They are as follows: Harvey L. Hennigan, Cecil R. Faulkner, Raymond J. Welch, Librado Flores, George B. Garner, J.W. Nixon, W. A. Ruhman, R. B. House, R. L. Woolsey, Charley Baker, Jerry F. "Grown Man's Terbacker"

Uncle Hank Davis, J.O. Longshore and I are about the only ones in town who smoke "grown man's terbacker". "Grown man's terbacker" has its special virtues. The smoker of this kind of tobacco never suffers a sore mouth, tongue or throat. There is nothing in it except pure tobacco, and the smoker of it finds a comfort in it that he finds in no other. Another advantage of "grown man's terbacker", you can leave it anywhere in the reach of kids. A kid may try it once, but never again. If you doubt this, ask George McEntire about it. I don't believe he will lie about it, either.—Uncle Bill.

From December 22 to March 21 is official winter. Last Wednesday, Washington's birthday, marked the passing of two-thirds of the winter. We will have 30 days more of winter from last Wednesday. But it often happens in this latitude that winter breaks by the first of March. We have prospects as this is written, it seems that we will have an early Spring.

Mrs. Pat Kellis Is Bridge Honoree

Mrs. David Glass and Mrs. Hal Knight entertained with bridge Saturday afternoon at the Glass ranch home. Mrs. Pat Kellis was named as honoree. Varied colored cut flowers decorated the rooms where six tables of players assembled for the afternoon's diversion. The George Washington motif was used in the table accessories. High score prize and high cut reward were won by Mrs. Lee Augustine and Mrs. R.P. Brown, which were presented to the honoree. Beautiful linen was the hostess' gift to Mrs. Kellis. Pecan pie and coffee were served.

Guests present were Mesdames E. L. Bailey, E.B. Butler, T.H. Foster, Vern Davis, Clyde Davis, Rufus Foster, James and E. F. McEntire, Lester Foster, Robert Foster, Bill Cushing, Clyde Reynolds, H. M. Kantz, J.E. Tatum, Herman Everett, W. J. Swann, Nick Reed, Joe Barton, Sterling Foster, Augustine, Brown, and Misses Mildred Atkinson and Prebble Durham.

MAIN STREET

War has helped destroy a lot of America's old illusions. Gone are the ideas that all South Sea beauties look like Dorothy Lamour; that all Englishmen wear monocles and all Russians whiskers. Gone is the idea that free-enterprise is some vague theory for the guy in the big city to worry about.

Wherever you live... on Main Street, Park Avenue, or RFD No. 4... you are vitally concerned with the continuation of this American system.

The grocery, the millinery shop, the corner drug, the hardware store, the hamburger stand, the score of other businesses which make up your Main Street, the farm on RFD No. 4, the ranch in the south end of the county... all of them, like your local electric service company, are products of business management under the system of private enterprise.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE—the right of every American to work when and where he wants, within reason; to enter any business or profession; to create, produce and benefit by his own success.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Bob Newcomb was reading me a letter the other day—from his son in the Marines. Dick Newcomb's somewhere in the South Pacific, thousands of miles from home, yet he writes to ask:

"Tell me, Dad, do they still pitch horseshoes back of Ray's? Is Johnny keeping my tools in shape? Are the trout still biting in Seward's Creek?"

Makes you realize what the men over there are thinking about. Sure, they're fighting for Democracy and Freedom and a Better World Tomorrow.

But the things they dream of coming back to are the little simple pleasures that mean home to all of us—like a home-cooked meal, a glass of beer with friends, a game of horseshoes in the backyard.

From where I sit, one of our most sacred obligations here at home is to keep those little things exactly as they remember them—to keep intact the world they're fighting for.
