Garrett Buys Arabian

D. D. (Levi) Garrett, horse breeder, has bought a white Arabian mare, named Silver Slipper, in J. H. Garrett of Ft. Worth. Levi had sold the Ft. Worth railroad man Silver Slipper several years ago after he had put on a show at the colosseum there. Levi says the white mare walks on her hind feet and is a good performer. Levi sold his black horse to Bill Elliott, movie actor, who is using Hogarth in the Redder pictures and the "Fabulous Man", the life of Sam Bass.

Freeze here Tuesday and Wednesday nights, set back vic gardens and probably ruined to some extent, especially which was not protected in way.

Mr. H. P. Spaltis and Miss Frances Foster of Dallas visited here at Mrs. Ruth Jones'.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Pearce, Tommie Johnson, Mrs. Rufus Foster, and Miss Nettie McEntire visited the O. E. S. chapel at Garden City Tuesday night. Deputy Grand Matron, Mrs. Crane, paid her official visit there that night.

W. W. Durham believes that the terrace system which he is building this week on his 50 acre cultivated field will increase considerably the off water to the extent that it can safely be distributed by the terraces and to discharge excess water through a natural drainage way without damage to the terraces or to the field. Durham plans to plant the field to sudan this year which will be used as a grazing crop.

W. N. and L. R. Reed marked 911 crossbred lambs from 857 ewes. Lee stated that the lambs were off to a good start. A 106% lamb crop such as this is an example of one of the advantages of having a good grass reserve on the ground for fall and winter feed.

George Demere and J. R. Mims planted one acre each of grass seed for the purpose of grass adaptation trials.

Foster S. Price marked 119 lambs from 122 registered ewes this week. Both ewes and lambs were in good condition.

School Trustee Election

There will be a school trustee election here Saturday to elect two trustees for the Sterling Independent School District.

Hal Knight and Riley King are the two members whose terms are expiring.

The picture show will not open tonight until after the senior play.

Mrs. J. S. Cotton had a family reunion recently when all her children visited her here. Mrs. S. R. Roberts came from Oakland, Calif., Mrs. W.H. Nesmith came from Sanderson, and Mrs. W.H. Gayle and Mary Evelyn were here from Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilkinson and Virginia Lou and J. B. Jr. of Midland spent Easter at the George McEntires.

Farm Machinery Industry Has Major Role in War

Agriculture is as essential to the war effort as our fighting men on the fronts and the backbone of agriculture is the farm machinery industry. Napoleon said that an army travels on its stomach, so that without food our armies could not function. Without the farm machinery industry, agriculture could not function.

The part that the farm machinery industry has played in the development of American agriculture and in its present role in the war effort is given tribute by George L. Gillette, president of the Farm Equipment Institute and vice president and general sales manager of the Minneapolis-Moline Power Implement company.

"If it were not for farm machinery, most of us would have to spend our days eking out a meager existence from the soil," Gillette says.

"Once it required 57 man-hours to grow and harvest an acre of wheat yielding 20 bushels. Today we can produce an acre of 20-bushel wheat with less than four man-hours of labor.

"Once there were vast stretches of eroded land that defied the farmer. Today much of this land has been reworked to produce food. All this has been possible only through advanced farm equipment.

"Much progress had been made by agriculture before 1941, but when the war came, the farmers were called upon to produce even more. Although the farm equipment manufacturers were too busy making the tools of war to manufacture any new types of farm machinery, we have continued to turn out repairs for machines already on the farm and as many complete units as government limitation orders permitted; and the American farm has demonstrated the blessing of mechanized agriculture by achieving astounding increases in food production.

GEORGE L. GILLETTE

"These dealers believe in the future of the American farm and equipment industry," Mr. Gillette says. "They, like the manufacturers, believe in our country's future, an America in which there will be food for all, and—with progressive agriculture as a foundation—a ever-advancing standard of living for a world at peace."

Mr. Gillette feels that all people, particularly those living in cities and towns, should realize that practically all food, clothing and other essentials come from the farms that produce these things at low cost because of the miracles accomplished by modern farm machinery.

Just Patter

Hi, folks! Back again with more thrills and chills and juicy gossip (but we can't tell quite all of it). Mary Ann really looked funny at the dance Friday night when a certain soldier walked in with his date.

Say, Alvin, do you like to wait on people, especially in front of their houses? We thought you did.

Gene, who were you looking for Saturday night, and why you didn't find them? Tough luck!

Beth, how do you like hamburgers (stewed or fried)? Gee, how we girls can get around.

Jim, do you like back seats on muddy Saturday nights? (Oh, well, what's one more tire to sit on?)

Does Babs like to see the bus come in or what was the catch?

Mutt, what were you angry about Monday night? And what happened to Jim?

Visiting over the Easter holidays: Babs Spalti from Dallas, J. Fred Hambright from Roby, Byrd and Corrine Phillips from Orona, Sue Everitt from Howard Payne College, Ione Drake from San Angelo (Peggy's cousin), and Johnny Chesney from Ballinger.

Jim Butler is spending a pleasant ten-day furlough from the army in our "palatial" city. He is on his way from Camp Fannin, Tyler, to Fort Meade, Maryland.

Everybody be sure to come to see "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick", the senior play, this Friday night.

That's all, folks, so long.

Mister Peltz Is Peeved!

Mister P. sells charts. Pie-charts, bar-charts, fever-charts—in pink and green and purple—proving anything you want.

He has a nice new chart on the cost of living. It shows the price of practically everything curving sharply up after war began.

But one price stubbornly stays down at pre-war levels. It's the price of electricity. It upsets the neat cost-of-living curves. It upsets P. P. Peltz. He's peeved.

We're sorry to offend Mister Peltz, but glad that we've been able to keep electricity plentiful and cheap when so many things are scarce and expensive.

It hasn't been easy to serve busy homes and booming war plants at the same time—with the friendly, efficient service we like to give. But all our folks have pitched in and worked hard to make it possible.

War Bonds helped pay for the guns with which his men covered his heroic feat. Sgt. Owens was awarded a Navy Cross.
