

District Court Meets

District Court opened here today with the convening of grand jury. The grand jury returned bills of indictment against Benito Garcia and Francisca Garcia for burglary of the Dodson home in January of this year. Benito Garcia is now serving a year term in the state penitentiary at Huntsville for similar crimes in counties north of here. His wife is under suspended sentence for the same offenses.

In the civil cases Judge John F. Tilton granted a divorce to Vito Balderez from Manuela Rios Balderez; awarded M. C. Mitchell against Vernon Phillips in the suit sued for; and dismissed a divorce case of Lilly Mae Roberts vs. Jim Roberts.

Barbecue for Sgt. Latham

Staff Sgt. Henry P. Latham was honored with a barbecue on the river Saturday night with hosts being William Foster, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cole, Jr. and Mrs. Tommie Johnson.

Sgt. Latham has recently returned to the States after spending nearly three years in the Philippines as a prisoner of the Japs.

Following the barbecue, the group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brown for dancing. About 40 guests were present.

Harry Truman: From Farm to White House

From a Missouri farm to the White House—Harry S. Truman came to the last stop on that long road when he took the oath as President of the United States, late on the afternoon of April 12th.

The man upon whose shoulders rests frightening responsibilities was born 61 years ago, May 8, 1884, on a farm near Lamar, Mo., the son of John A. and Martha E. Truman. When Harry was four years old, his folks moved back to Jackson county and settled on a 600 acre place, a few miles outside of Kansas City, Mo. The Truman clan had been in Jackson county since 1842.

Harry's mother, who is still alive at 92, came from an adjoining farm. Her people, the Youngs, had also lived in Jackson county a long time. She was born in 1852.

The new President attended public schools in Jackson county, graduating from Independence, Mo., high school in 1901. All through his school days he helped to till the huge acreage, which was planted mostly in corn.

Poor eyesight (he always wears glasses) kept him out of West Point after he had passed the rigorous scholastic examinations. He went to Kansas City and worked at whatever jobs he could, drug store clerk, newspaper mail room bundler, and bank clerk. Finally he returned to the family farm, where he remained for several years.

During his stay in Kansas City he had enlisted in the National Guard. He advanced through the grades of noncommissioned rank. When the United States entered the war in 1917 he went to field artillery school, and became a lieutenant. After serving in France in the Argonne and St. Mihiel campaigns, he was advanced to a captaincy. When he returned to this country he held a major's commission. Later, in the army reserve he became a colonel.

Soon after returning from war in 1919, he married Bess Wallace, a school teacher in Independence. One child, Mary Margaret, was born to them. Deciding to enter business, he pooled his savings with a friend and opened a haberdashery shop in Kansas City. The sharp recession of 1920-21 brought failure and loss to Truman.

Casting about for some other career, Truman decided to try for some small political office. He ran for county judge and was elected.

MRS. WILLIAM LESTER FOSTER, III

June Augustine Married to William Foster

Miss June Augustine and W. L. Foster, III were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 8:30 in the First Baptist Church by Rev. W. J. McCawley, pastor. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Augustine and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Foster.

Lee Augustine gave his daughter in marriage, and Mrs. J. S. Augustine, Jr. was matron of honor. Marvin Ratliff of Del Rio was best man and J. S. Augustine, Jr., Captain Joe Mims and F. S. Price were the ushers. Brenda Lee Augustine was the flower girl.

The bride carried a white orchid on a white Bible. She wore a Nanty model of antique ivory duchess satin with hand-scrolled yoke of marquisette, torso fitted bodice, glove sleeves, and full circular skirt ending in a circular train. The fingertip veil was of bridal illusion and the fitted cap of satin embossed marquisette.

Mrs. Tommie Johnson was at the piano. The church was decorated with white candles and baskets of white gladioli.

Following the single ring ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received at the door with the bride and groom. Mrs. C. C. Ainsworth presided at the guest book. Mrs. Foster S. Price served the wedding cake and Miss Ethel Foster served the punch. Mrs. Roy Foster directed the guests to the display of gifts. In the dining room were Mrs. H. L. Hildebrand, Mrs. Finis Westbrook, Mrs. Tommie Johnson, Misses Paula Sue Wyckoff, Jerrie Snead, Carolyn Foster, Clima-Helen Potts and Elizabeth Ellen Hildebrand.

The house was decorated with pink carnations and white gladioli.

Immediately following the reception, the couple left on a two week's wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico.

June Augustine Honored at Coffee

Mrs. Roy Foster, Mrs. H. L. Hildebrand, Mrs. W. B. Allen, and Miss Ethel Foster were hostesses at a coffee Monday morning at the Roy Foster home, honoring Miss June Augustine.

Mrs. Hildebrand greeted the guests and in the receiving line were Mrs. Lee Augustine, the honoree, and Mrs. Lester Foster. Mrs. Fred Barrett of Comstock served fruit juice in the sun room, and Mrs. J. S. Augustine, Jr. presided at the guest book.

Miss Ethel Foster was at the coffee service, and assisting in the dining room were Mrs. C. C. Ainsworth, Mrs. Fred Allen, Mrs. Harold Guber, Mrs. Finis Westbrook, and Mrs. Ed. Lovelace. Miss Carolyn Foster furnished music.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations and the party rooms were decorated with roses. A gift was presented to the honoree.

About 50 guests called during the coffee hours.

Tough Job

The 33rd President of the United States faces a difficult job on both home and war front.

Lions Club Postpones Play

Dr. W. J. Swann presided at the Lions Club Wednesday in the absence of President C. H. Davis. Guests were State Patrolmen J. F. Anderson and Charles Rice. The prize went to H. M. Carter.

The "Comic Strip" play scheduled for next Friday night was postponed to some later date due to so many conflicting activities.

A citizenship award has been ordered and will be awarded before school closes. A committee to apply for R. E. A. in Sterling County was appointed. On the committee are J. T. Davis and A. T. Bratton.

It was reported that 1900 pounds of old clothes were shipped from here at the close of the drive for used clothing.

Lint From a Blue Serge Suit:

Just before the war, Jan Smeterlin, the eminent Polish pianist, was on a world concert tour and at one point visited Valdemosa on the island of Majorca, which was the place where Chopin lived. Smeterlin visited the monastery which was Chopin's home (and has since been turned into a private residence) hoping to see the piano on which Chopin played. He was told that the piano was now the property of a private family in Palma. Smeterlin located that family and as he stood in rapt awe looking at this box, which was the instrument of the great Polish immortal, the man of the house said, "Surely, Mr. Smeterlin, you're going to play on it!" Smeterlin replied reverently, "Oh—I wouldn't think of touching it."

To which his host said, "Oh, nonsense—my children bang on it all the time!"

Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black is a fiend for lyonnaise potatoes. A new waitress at his favorite restaurant brought him french fries in error and told him she couldn't change the order. . . . A Washington reporter, seated nearby, asked her if she knew the patron was a United States high court judge.

Unimpressed, she refused to change the order, explaining: "How often do they change their decisions?"

We've only used it twice before, but every time some contributor offers it we get the giggles and have to print it all over again. It's about Mr. Mefoofsky and his four-year-old son, Itzie. . . . They were strolling in the park, and the boy kept asking all sorts of questions. It was getting on Mefoof's "nervfs."

"Poppa," persisted Itzie, "wot kind flowers is doze?"

"How should I know?" exploded Mefoofsky. "Am I in the millinery bizniz?"

James Gordon Bennett, (who used to own the N. Y. Herald) had a list of "don'ts" for reporters that was as long as the memory of a radio comedian. . . . Every once in a while, though, the boys made him take one back. "Don't use 'patron' or 'guest' in referring to a paying customer at a hotel," one rule went, "because you are using the word incorrectly."

The other night Prof. Leo Reisman relayed the one about the trainee at a naval radio training center in Georgia. His station was the radio tower. . . . He became worried when he couldn't account for an incoming fleet of planes. He flashed: "X Radio Tower calling Pilot Jones. Been messaging you but got no answer. If you hear me, wabble wings."

Shortly came the reply: "Pilot Jones calling X Radio Tower. I ended two hours ago. If you hear me, wabble tower!"

DODGE CITY

Named for Col. Henry I. Dodge, Dodge City, Kansas, became one of the country's most picturesque cattle centers, the cowboy capital of the southwest. There the Santa Fe and Arkansas River Trails met. Travelers came with stories of Indian attacks on wagon trains. Cowboys drove in herds of thousands of cattle for shipment east on the railroad. Others rested and watered herds of young steers there before going north. The songs of soldiers and hunters mingled with the shouts of cowboys. Fearless, spirited men whose grandsons are now turning back the enemies far overseas founded that city. War Bonds furnish weapons and food for the men fighting today to fulfill their ancestors' dreams. U. S. Treasury Department

CLINTON COURTHOUSE

Justice as administered from the own court up to the Supreme Court of the United States has played a major role in the growth of this Nation. We appreciate our judicial system and buy War Bonds to supply warships, B-29's and tanks to protect it. The old court house at Clinton, La., with "lawyer's row" behind it, is an inspiring monument to justice's handiwork. There were decided the complex wrangles between cotton planters of East Louisiana from the days of the Republic of West Florida, 1810, onward. It was the guiding hand for peace and happiness in the parish, worth fighting to preserve and worth buying War Bonds for. U. S. Treasury Department

The English are giggling over the cook's dog at an RAF flying field. The canine dashed down the runway in pursuit of a plane taking off. . . . "Does your dog always do that?" a new officer asked. . . . The cook said yep. . . . "Why?" the officer wanted to know.

"I don't know, sir," replied the dog's owner. "But what worries me is what he's going to do with it when he catches a plane."

Ivor Newton, the London pianist, heard a Cockney give this explanation of his own courage regarding the robot bombings: "I see it like this. It must take the Germans a lot of trouble to make the bloody things, and then they have to get them into those pits and up in the air, and it is quite a long way from France to London, and if they do get to London, they still have to find Limehouse, and even then, it isn't everyone who can find 37 Bulstrode road where I live, and if they do, it's 10 to 1 that I would be down the corner in the Pub."

At the home of mutual friends, after the funeral of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Winston Churchill, who was touched by the prelate's passing, said: "Once again, the nation has lost a great churchman and a great Englishman." . . . Then, in an aside, Mr. Churchill, who credits his 70 years to having a drink now and then, added: "And once again one of my good friends has met the untimely end of a complete teetotaler!"

Story of the Week: The newest General Patton legend according to just-returned correspondents. . . . When the Germans cold-bloodedly murdered Gen. Maurice Rose, Patton was strangely silent for a long time. . . . Then he reached slowly into his jacket pocket from which he removed a German-English dictionary. . . . And crossed out the word "mercy."

Mrs. Forrest Foster and Mrs. J. S. Cole, Jr. were hostesses for refreshments at the recreation hour for the University of Life last Sunday night.

Mrs. Tommie Johnson gave a brief discussion on the Lord's Prayer during the lecture hour.

Next Sunday Mrs. Aaron Clark will lead with another discussion on the Lord's prayer. Chapel services will be at 8:30 p. m., and the recreation hour will follow immediately after.

The juniors gathered and turned in this week's school news.

"Maybe it will look right if I stand on my head," said Alice

Alice couldn't seem to understand.

The Mock Turtle sighed deeply, drew one flipper up to his eyes, and began again.

"This line is the cost of living going up—and that line the cost of electricity coming down. Now do you see?"

"No," said Alice, doubtfully, "why don't they go together? One of them must be upside down."

Sobs suddenly choked the Mock Turtle.

Alice was eager to please. "Maybe it will look right," said, "if I stand on my head!"

There is an Alice-in-Wonderland flavor to the simple fact about electricity.

The average price of household electricity has actually come DOWN since war began—while the cost of many other things was going UP.

There has been no shortage of electricity—the basic material of all war production—though most other important war materials have necessarily been severely rationed.

That record is the result of careful planning and hard work by America's business-managed electric companies. And it is your assurance of plenty of cheap electricity peace-time job production—and for all the new electric conveniences you'll enjoy after the war.
