Stolen Articles Recovered

The sheriff's department recovered 3 blankets and one overcoat last week that had been stolen from a car in front of the State Hotel on November 17.

The three boys who stole the articles are from Spearman, Texas. They are Billy D. Stone, J. D. Ferguson and Don Rahenkamp. They are now under a felony charge at Spearman and probably will not be returned here for trial, said Hinton Emery.

The owner of the overcoat has not been found. It seems to be an army overcoat that has been dyed blue.

Car Overturns

L. S. Ivy was going to Waco last Sunday to get a stock of new tires for his business and he got as far as Bangs, Texas. When he hit the wet blacktop pavement, his car skidded and overturned. Ivy was unhurt and was able to drive his car back home. He said several other cars overturned there the same day.

Sheriff Vern Davis is on the sick list this week.

Man About Town:

Faces About Town: U. S. Senator Warren Magnuson in the St. Moritz foyer. . . . Lovely Jan Clayton, the "Carousel" star, actually being seen in public with a critic! . . . Dame May Whitty, the 80-year-old star, whose mute eloquence in the last act of "Therese" at the Biltmore is something for players to study. . . . Sec'y of the Treasury Vinson encountering H. Morgenthau and saying: "You're a smart man, Henry; you got out at the top!" . . . In Sardi's, Nancy Walker swapping salutes, while a one-time "world's most famous woman" went unrecognized—Irene Castle.

Sallies in Our Alley: Some midtowners were planning a testimonial dinner for a showman and wondered who to get for toastmaster. "If we can't get Jimmy Walker," one said, "how about Nick Kenny?" . . . "What!" exclaimed another, "And have all the introductions in rhyme?" . . . Ozzie Nelson knows some actors in a new Broadway show who fell asleep watching critic George Jean Nathan!

Midtown Vignette: She has a special job in a swank dinner place—studying the patrons the proprietor wants to see in his place often. If she approves "their looks," she learns their names and addresses, and they go on the spot's mailing list, etc. . . . Last night she was depressed. . . . The boss asked her: "What's on your mind—your feller?" . . . "Yes," she said. "We had a fight. I told him to romance everything in skirts in the U. S.—and then come back to me." . . . "Is that why you're so unhappy?" she was asked. . . . "No," she replied, "it's this: After I told him that, I phoned the N. Y. Mirror and asked them how many girls there are in the U. S. A." . . . "And how many are there?" asked the boss. . . . "67,670,302!" she sighed.

Bigtown Side-Shows: When the President was here for Navy Day he congratulated the Mayor on finding a new home. . . . "Thanks," said the Li'l Flower, "you know it takes a lot of work hunting a new house these days. I trust you don't have to do that for a long, long time." . . . An amorous old fellow leaned across the table and whispered through the smoky night club atmosphere: "Let's go some place

FFA Chapter Organization

The FFA boys, under the sponsorship of H. M. Carter, local vocational agriculture teacher, met last week and elected the following officers:

R. B. Mitchell, President
Joe Snead, Vice-President
Norvin Brown, Secretary
Joseph Blank, Treasurer
R. T. Smith, Parliamentarian
Billy Hudson, Reporter
Jackie Tweedle, Sentinel

The program of work for this year includes participation in the local and state livestock shows and judging contests.

The boys in the local chapter are feeding 130 lambs and 2 calves, said Carter.

Methodist Men's Club Organized

A men's club of the Methodist Church was organized last week the following officers:

President, Herbert Cope; vice-president, Herman Garlington; secretary, Joe Mims; treasurer, Roland Lowe.

The club will meet the third Friday evening of each month at 7:00 p. m. These meetings will be largely of a social nature.

where we'll be alone." . . . "Okay," drawled his cutie. "Let's each go home." . . . Martin Ragaway, a gag-writer, phoned NBC's George Wolf. When Wolf learned it was Ragaway, he barked: "Gwan, you phony. The only time you ever call me is when you want something!" . . . "Go ahead, keep on talking," was the candid retort. "I'll think of something!"

The Big-Time: "The Lost Weekend," an intoxicating epic, with flawless acting by Ray Milland, Jane Wyman and the others—a Paramount click. . . . Jeanne Burns at the Monkey Bar. . . . Cass Daley's Sunday program via NBC. . . . The dancing of Kim and Kathy Gaynes in "The Girl from Nantucket." . . . Lee Sullivan's thrashing. . . . Jack Smith's on CBS. . . . "Tubby, the Tuba" (a Cosmo recording), a grand novelty. It's supposed to be the tragic tale of a tuba, unhappy because the other instruments make fun of him as all he can do is go oompah-oompah.

Main Stem Ticker: More important than the election or other news around our sector was the death of Jerome Kern. . . . There's a valet at the Sherry-Netherland Hotel who was once an Olympic track champ. Each ayem he paces three miles around the park and used to be accompanied by his dog. The dog is now ten years old and is winded. It now sits on a bench and waits for him. . . . Since Music Corp. of America signed up Mayor LaGuardia for a radio spot, wags say: "Looks like you have to break in your act at City Hall before MCA is interested!"

Sounds in the Night: At Reuben's "She's glad the war is over. Now she can get parts for her face." . . . At Enduro: "He's an m.c.—mediocre comic." . . . At the Blue Angel: "She's the daughter of a social butterfly and he's a son of a bee." . . . At Villepigue's: "She thinks she has a corner on his love when she merely has one of the points of a triangle. . . . In the Dixie lobby: "Do you think Mark Twain will ever become another Bennett Cerf?"

Memos of a Midnighter: Guy Lombardo walked away with a Cleveland newspaper poll (as the nation's outstanding dance band) for the umpteenth time. . . . A Victoria Hotel (Candlelight Room) blonde waitress, they insist, is the daughter of a real countess. . . . Jimmy Ryan's benefit for that brave cop (killed by bandits) brought $1,000 to his family. . . . Midtown Lexington Avenue, they tell you, is getting unsafe for unescorted males after dark. . . . It's a boy for the Ed (CBS) Murrows in London.

Seth M. Bailey Named Citizen Of the Month

S. M. Bailey received the most votes for Sterling's outstanding citizen in November. Bailey had no photograph of himself—only once having one made and that was to give to his grandmother after the last war to prove that he got out without a scratch. Seth served in the Quartermaster Corps.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Bailey of Clarksville, Seth's father still lives at Clarksville. Before coming to Sterling, Bailey traveled for the B. F. Avery Plow Co. with the territory of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado.

Seth came to Sterling City in October, 1927 and associated this with his brother, Earl, in the Men's Store—Bailey Bros. He bought all of Earl's part of the business later but still uses the established name of Bailey Bros. Seth is a progressive merchant with a progressive store, handling men's wear and a dry cleaning shop in connection. He is a partner of the dry goods store of Garrett & Bailey, which Mrs. Taylor Garrett manages.

Bailey, a booster for Sterling City in every way, is a member of the Lions Club and the Methodist Church, chairman of the Sterling County Parole Board and helps actively in the Red Cross, War Fund and Bond drives. He owns his home here.

He married Miss Allie Moss, a Dallas girl, in 1925. They have one son, Dick 13.

Fry-Pearce Wedding Told

Miss Mary Ellen Fry, daughter of Mrs. K. C. Fry of Abilene, and Capt. Homer Pearce, Jr., son of the Homer Pearces, were married Dec. 2nd. in Phoenix Arizona at the First Methodist Church there.

Mrs. Pearce, a graduate of Abilene high school, has attended A. C. C. She has been on the staff of the U. S. weather bureau at the Abilene Airport.

Capt. Pearce was an electrical engineer with the West Texas Utilities Co. in Abilene until he entered the Air Forces in 1941. He is a Texas A. & M. graduate.

The couple will live in Oakland, Calif. Capt. Pearce is stationed with the Fourth Air Force at San Francisco.

The Lions Club voted to have the annual Christmas auction at the luncheon on Wednesday, Dec. 19. Money raised will go to Boys Ranch at Copperas Cove, needy families and to pay for the Christmas cards to service men.

The club discussed the Boy Scout Sustaining Drive and the Old Clothes Relief Drive. President Lovelace appointed W. W. Durham, J. M. Starr and R. P. Brown on a committee to work with Bro. A. A. Berryman, chairman of the clothes drive.

County Agent's Report

Four registered Rambouillet ewes from the L. F. Hodges flock, Sterling City, were won as prizes in the October 20, 1945 Sears Program show at San Angelo by a Sterling County 4-H Club boy, Alfred Thieme, Jr.

The registration papers for these four ewes were presented to Alfred by the Sterling County Agent, J. M. Starr, at the 4-H Club meeting November, 28, 1945 in the V A room of the Sterling High School. Alfred reported that these ewes had lambed, already bringing him three ewe lambs and one ram lamb.

By way of review over the past number of years it can be said that the Cow-Hog-Hen program, which first was begun in Sterling County in 1941, has brought to the County 4-H Club boys a large number of registered Rambouillet ewes, in all ten or twelve head, all of which have been secured from the L. F. Hodges flock.

Alfred Thieme, Jr. is well on his way to starting a registered Rambouillet flock with eight head of this breeding at present. Billy Ralph Bynum, another Sterling County boy has approximately fourteen or fifteen head of registered Rambouillet breeding. Billy Charles Hudson, another 4-H Club boy, who received two registered Rambouillet ewes from the L. F. Hodges flock has five or six head of these sheep left now. Tommy Augustine, who was the first 4-H Club boy to win two registered ewes in the Sears Program now has ten or twelve head of sheep of the L. F. Hodges breeding that are registered. Tommy, who in addition to his registered sheep has a flock of sheep in his own name, numbering close to seventy or seventy-five head, is reported by his father, W. D. Augustine, to be in Japan with the army of occupation.

Mrs. Deal and little son, Bobbie, accompanied him. The trip was marred somewhat by Bobbie getting sick. In fact he was pretty sick when the Deals got back to Sterling City.

Judge and Mrs. G. C. Murrell and baby daughter visited Mrs. Murrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brizendine, in Colorado City last week-end.

Ross Davis and daughter, Pauline, of Lamesa recently visited here with his son, A. L. Davis and family.

Scourge Of Enemy In War, Radar Works For Safer World

U. S. Signal Corps Photograph

Here against the rugged background of Southern Italy, a radar silently probes the sky for errant units of the Luftwaffe. Known to the War Department as an "early warning" radar, this equipment helped us to blunt the violence of the enemy's air attack at the very peak of its power early in the war. Thousands of these radars have been manufactured by the Western Electric Company.

Like a seeing-eye dog guiding his blind master through a maze of traffic, the sixth sense of radar will reduce travel hazards for man in the peacetime world. By putting a deadly finger on enemy ships, planes and submarines, radar hastened the end of the war. This same uncanny power to see the invisible promises to make peacetime air and sea travel entirely foolproof, regardless of night or weather.

Safety for ships and planes is one immediate application for this new pathfinder. Innumerable other uses are sure to flower from the knowledge born of thousands of manhours devoted to radar research during the war. In the amazingly rapid development of radar, the Bell Telephone System assumed the role of "the Nation's largest single source of radars during the war."

Up to June 30, 1945, Western Electric, the manufacturing branch of the Bell System, had supplied to the Government more than 52,900 radar systems of 64 different types, valued at more than $800,000,000, according to Mr. Walter S. Gifford president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. With the aid of hundreds of sub-contractors to which it provided specifications and details of manufacturing procedure, Western Electric has supplied more radars—all of them of Bell Laboratories design—than any other manufacturer.

Bell Laboratories has had a larger group of scientists and engineers than any other industrial organization working throughout the war in advancing the radar science and in designing new radars for the army and navy. The laboratories led the way also in volume of radar designs and of designs for new and essential components. In all, the laboratories scientists and engineers have designed some 100 different radars for use by the Army, Navy and Marine Corps in all fields of application.

The Bell Laboratories and Western Electric together have had substantially full responsibility for development and production of radars for Navy ship gunfire control. All large guns of the U. S. Navy are pointed by radars designed and produced by the two organizations.

Radar systems designed and made by the Bell System research and manufacturing team have been standard for B-29's in the Pacific for navigation, target location and high altitude bombing. In addition, the Bell System developed and produced low altitude radar bombsights used extensively by the Army and Navy in attacking enemy shipping.

Western Electric Company's yearly output of radars reached a record high of 22,000 in 1944. These units, together with components, spare parts and test equipment, were furnished at a value of $340,000,000—an amount equal to almost a million dollars for each day of the year. This record was greatly exceeded during the first six months of 1945, when Western Electric turned out 19,800 radars.

Because of urgent requirements of the Armed Forces the Bell Laboratories in 1944 was at work on 81 different types of radar systems and Western Electric produced 44 different types, of which 20 were new in production that year.

The brains that developed and produced radar so effectively for war are now at work for peace.

VICTORY LOAN BONDS PROVE SOUND ECONOMY

By TED R. GAMBLE
National Director, War Finance
Division, U. S. Treasury

The Victory Loan, now under way, is the crucial test of our war finance program. We must not only raise the $11 billion required by the Treasury but we must do it in such a manner as to avoid the danger of inflation and to make secure the Peace for which over a quarter of a million of our men have given their lives. That is why we are asking for $4 billion from individuals, $2 billion of it from the sale of Series E bonds.

Why is this money needed? Briefly, the reasons may be summarized as follows: to bring our veterans home and give them their mustering-out pay, to maintain our armies of occupation, to take care of our sick and wounded veterans, to make prompt settlement of our cancelled war contracts, and for other necessary government expenditures during the next few months.

Ted R. Gamble

The Budget Bureau recently estimated total Federal Expenditures for the 1946 fiscal year at $66.4 billion, or $33.7 billion below 1945. Receipts were estimated at $36 billion, but these may be reduced somewhat by the new tax bill. This leaves a deficit of $30.4 billion, which must be met by Treasury borrowing. It is in order to help meet this deficit that the Treasury decided on the Victory Loan, the last big public drive for funds.

As we enter this Victory Loan, I'd like to review briefly the accomplishments of our war financing program. From May 1, 1941, when the program started, to October 1, 1945, we raised the huge sum of $207 billion. Furthermore, we raised this money through a plan of voluntary savings at the lowest interest cost of any nation engaged in the war, and at the lowest selling expense ever recorded.

In the first seven war loan drives, we set total quotas of $95 billion for all investors, and sold $135,749,000,000 in war loan bonds. Every loan was oversubscribed. Billions more were sold in the interim periods between drives. We have sold these bonds to more than 85,000,000 Americans. By the time this loan is over, we will have sold one billion individual pieces of the popular Series E bonds alone.

A RAINCOAT FOR BATTLE VOICES

When the famous Water Buffaloes dropped off the deck of their mother ships and headed for an invasion beach, they often submerged completely and dunked Marines and equipment before high-speed centrifugal pumps could clear out water. Once on land Marines found the going much tougher if water-soaked "battle talk" microphones and headsets had been drowned out. Scientists at Bell Laboratories solved the problem by the submersion-proof lip mike and headset. Manufactured by Western Electric, this one ounce mike covers but one square inch of lip area and is equipped with a special gland that will pass air but exclude water. Mike and headset will withstand 25 minutes' submersion in ten inches of seawater.

Making Good on
"TEXAS BRAGS"
 "Big Truths From a Big State"

War certainly proved what many outsiders considered just "Texas Brags" were "Texas Truths" after all.

Because Texas had what it took to become a powerhouse of war.

When the Japs got our natural rubber, Texas became the Butadiene capital of the world.

When the army and navy had to train flyers fast, Texas weather provided almost the maximum of flying hours.

When the army and navy got hungry, they called for Texas beef.

When the war call went out for cotton and more cotton, Texas was ready with the world's biggest cotton acreage.

When the war called for sulphur, Texas provided mountains of it.

As the richest oil state, Texas of course led in the production of 100-octane gas for planes as well as countless other war-essential petroleum products.

Yes, Texas had what war needed—and beyond that Texas has the rails and docks and ports to ship its products to market everywhere.

SANTA FE LINES IN TEXAS

Santa Fe, a Texas partner and booster since 1880, and operating 3,693 miles of rail in Texas, with automatic block signal protection all the way from Galveston to Chicago, provides rail service between the Lone Star State and Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

Cook 1/4 pound pork shoulder until done, save stock. Lightly brown 1 pound sliced liver in greased frying-pan. Grind cooked pork with liver, 6 slices moist bread, and 1 large onion (which has been chopped and lightly cooked in 2 tablespoons fat).

Add 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 beaten eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Mix well. Bring pork stock to boil. Drop dumplings from tablespoon.

Cover and allow to simmer for 10 minutes. Serve on bed of hot sauerkraut. Top with finely diced brown bacon, if desired.

YOUNG BRAZILIAN LIKES THE U.S. WAY OF LIFE

Francisco Oswald, handsome young Brazilian lawyer, who has just completed a year studying personnel and manufacturing methods at Western Electric Company under a scholarship established by the Inter-American Affairs Committee, has sampled many phases of American life and has found practically everything to his liking. He is impressed most of all by our war production. "What you have done and the speed and skill with which you do it knocks me down."

"I am also amazed by your educational system. I never expected to find so many well educated people in the plants and on the street. Everybody here can get a good education. In Brazil our colleges and universities are good. Our high schools in the big cities are good also, but in the country—no. It is the lack of transportation. You cannot have good schools in the country if you cannot get to the schools. It is too bad."

Francisco developed a great enthusiasm for our sports and food—he has gained fifteen pounds so far—and for our girls, who ask him first thing if he can dance the Samba, and he even learned to prefer our cigarettes and coffee to Brazilian brands.

In speaking of Brazilian-United States relations, Francisco says, "In my enthusiasm for the United States, I am typical of my generation. It is the dream of every Brazilian boy to visit North America some day. We read so much about it in our books and magazines and of course your movies have great influence."

Francisco during his stay here

Young Brazilian Likes Our Ways—Here he's shown editing copy for "Kearnygram," official newspaper of Western Electric's Kearny, N. J., Plant.

has become especially interested in safety, training and other personnel work. When he finishes his study here one year from now, he hopes to work for a North American company in Brazil.

"There is a big job to be done there. Brazil has done a lot in industrial relations but on a much smaller scale. I am filled with new ideas and I want to try them with my own people. It will be very interesting."

"Me... I'm staying in the Army!"

THERE ARE PLENTY OF REASONS... AND HERE THEY ARE!

1 "First, I keep my present grade. That means a lot.

2 "By reenlisting for 3 years I can pick my own branch of service in the Air, Ground or Service Forces, and can go to any overseas theater I wish.

3 "I get my mustering-out pay, even though I'm reenlisting. Also, I get $50 a year reenlistment bonus for each year I've been in the Army. My dependents receive family allowances for the full term of my enlistment. And I'll be eligible for GI Bill of Rights benefits when I get out of the Army.

4 "My food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental care are all supplied to me. And I can learn any of 200 skills or trades in the Army schools.

5 "All of us who are reenlisting are going to have from 30 to 90 days' furlough at home with full pay and our travel paid both ways. And we'll have 30 days' furlough every year with pay.

6 "Any time after 20 years I can retire at half pay increasing year by year to three-quarters retirement pay after 30 years of service. And the time I've already served in active military or naval service counts toward my retirement time. Added up—reenlistment seems pretty sound to me!"

JANUARY 31, 1946

THE ARMY ASKED FOR IT—AND GOT IT

Nazis, retreating from Belgium, sabotaged communications by destroying vacuum tubes. But they missed one. American engineers found it along with design notes by a local tubemaker.

Notes and tube were rushed by air to the United States.

At Bell Laboratories tests and X-rays revealed that a similar tube could be built from existing parts of American tubes except for a special grid and socket.

Western Electric's Tube Shop went to work—modified machines to wind the special grid. Eight trial tubes were made in three days and flown to Europe.

Production went on full blast 17 days after original tube was received at Bell Labs. 1015 duplicates were completed by Western Electric and rushed to Europe. They worked!

Result: Signal Corps soon had Belgian telephone system working again.

German sabotage squads were sure that removing all vacuum tubes from sockets would cripple the Belgian telephone system for weeks, even months, but again they underestimated American speed and ingenuity. Even the Army was surprised. "Give us a thousand tubes in thirty days," they had said. They got them in 17 days.

No Paper on Xmas Week

Following the custom set by Uncle Bill Kellis, and observed by many weekly newspapers, the News-Record will not be published Christmas week, December 28. That week, between Christmas and New Year, is usually a week of inventory and short business. And we have not skipped any holidays this year like the daily papers have. The News-Record shop will be open and we plan to do a little more remodeling and improving at the shop. Also bring our mailing list and accounts up to date.

Webb Hudson, manager of the telephone exchange, is limping around, the result of a fall from a telephone pole the first part of the week. It was reported at Lions Club that the accident occurred at Forsan, and instead of a pole it was a porch he fell off of.

Adding machine paper at the News-Record.

Cpl. H. W. Hart Jr., veteran of the Italian campaign of the European War, is expected home this week by his parents. He was in San Antonio this week, and was to arrive here soon.
