Tournament Here Today

Water Valley, Garden City and Sterling City will compete in a meet, soft ball, volley ball and other events at the Sterling City, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Friday afternoon, March 22. Both junior and senior boys and girls will be in competition, said coach Chasley McDonald.

The public is invited to attend. Admission prices are 10c and 25c.

Blair Lowe took ex-serviceman D. Daves to the Veterans Hospital in Legion Monday, in the ambulance. Daves was having recurrence of malaria, it was thought.

Blackburn has been away from her job at the drug store the two weeks, suffering with the flu.

Mrs. L. S. Ivy and Mr. E. B. Baker of Ackerly attended the Fort Worth Stock Show last week-end. Mr. Ivys station open while they gone. Mrs. Baker is a daughter of the Ivy's.

Sterling P. T. A. Lions See War Film

The Sterling City P. T. A. met on Thursday afternoon of last week at the school auditorium. Mrs. Roy Foster was sponsor and the subject was "Let's Get Rid of Prejudice". Mrs. O. T. Jones gave the devotional.

The goal for this year has been to organize a recreational program for the school children. It is now functioning under the direction of Chasley McDonald on Tuesday and Friday nights. The clubs of the town are cooperating in this program of "Youth conservation". We are fortunate in having both the state chairman of youth conservation-Miss Ethel Foster, and the district chairman-Mrs. Clyde Davis, both residents of Sterling City.

The officers for next year P.T.A. 1946-47 were elected as follows: Mrs. V. E. Davis-president Mrs. H. M. Carter-Secretary Mrs. Robert Foster-Treasurer Mrs. O. T. Jones-1st vice-president Mr. Chasley McDonald-2nd vice-president Mrs. Joe Emery-3rd vice-president.

Lions See War Film

The Lions Club saw the film "Target Tokyo" at the Wednesday luncheon. The movie was put on by the recruiting service men from San Angelo.

A committee to work up deposits for a frozen locker plant here was read. The club voted to store the wheel chair till needed by someone else.

The prize went to Hal Knight. Guests were Sgts. Adams, Taylor and Hammond of San Angelo, Dr. S. E. Womack of Big Spring.

Utilities Rate Reduction

Regarding the announced residential rate reduction to be effected in the near future in some West Texas cities, Price Campbell, President of the West Texas Utilities Company announced that his company has already made rate reductions in 117 West Texas communities within the last 30 days without advertising or fanfare. Its rate reduction program in the remaining 57 communities served by the company will be completed about May 1st. These rate reductions, Mr. Campbell states, were held up during the war period due to necessity of heavy tax contributions to help win the war and the increases in cost of materials and supplies, together with increases in labor costs made necessary in turn by increased living costs.

He commented that electric service is the smallest item in the household budget; that the electric dollar now buys 50% more service than it did even 15 years ago; that you obtain more value per dollar spent for electric service than any other service or commodity.

Campbell further states these reductions in electric service costs have been accomplished by technical developments in production and distribution of electric energy through private management and initiative and through benefits of refinancing of the Company's borrowed money. On the average, the Company's rate reductions will be an equal or a greater percent than those announced in other areas, with San Angelo and Abilene still maintaining the lowest rates in the area.

Recreational Program

Chasley McDonald is head of the recreational program direction that is underway at the Sterling School. On Tuesday night the high school students meet and play volley ball and basket ball.

The lower grades meet on Friday nights. Games are played and movies are shown. The women's clubs assist the school officials in the programs.

Mr. McDonald said good crowds have been attending.

Flowers were put in the Baptist Church last Sunday in memory of Uncle Bill Kellis, who died a year ago, by his daughter in California, and the Oscar Findts of Sterling City.

The largest herd of karakul sheep in the country is located on the Jay Atkins ranch near Clairemont, Texas. Here Mrs. Atkins holds three 10-day old lambs. Tight curl soon disappears after this age.

Clean-Up

GUEST EDITORIAL

Let's give our town a good spring cleaning.

This is the first time in history that we have an opportunity to keep cleaned up. Arrangements have been made for a monthly pick-up of trash properly prepared and placed. This service will continue as long as there is enough trash put out to justify hauling. The time, location and manner of fixing the garbage will be announced later. It is up to us as a community to continue to merit this service.

There are many reasons for cleaning up trash. Pride in having a clean appearance, elimination of fire hazards, removing potential breeding places for flies and mosquitos, prevention of hiding places for snakes-many others.

Ideally this should be put over by an all out turnout of everyone who is able to work. Practically all those who by pressing business, illness or other hindrances are prevented, could employ someone to work for him.

Let us be able to point with pride to the cleanest town in Texas.

This will fit in with all of the painting and remodeling of business fronts and other "Town Beautiful Projects". Let's all turn out and make this one a real clean-up day.

Wm J. Swann, M. D.
County Health Officer.

Foster Sims Price will take two of his quarter horses to the Odessa Livestock Show March 22. He will take a 3-year-old stud that won at Stamford last year and a yearling filly.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collins of Sonora spent Tuesday night here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Collins.

Jackie Durham, student in John Tarleton College, spent last week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reed visited their daughter, Johnnie Bess in Dallas last week, and also attended the Fort Worth Livestock Show.

Church of Christ

Attendance at the Church of Christ Sunday was fine. Out of town visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor of Lubbock and Ray Longshore of Big Spring.

Several visitors from the City were present too.

Brother Orrie Deal was in charge of mid week service last Wednesday night and the hour was spent in practicing new songs and developing new song directors. Joe David Crossno and Ancel Reed are learning to direct singing. Bro. Chasley McDonald will be in charge of this week's mid service program.

Bro. Berryman, the minister will preach for the church in Forsan Thursday night.

The morning sermon subject for Sunday will be "Jesus Christ the Son of God". At the evening hour the subject will be "The Parable of the Sower" or "My Audience".

We invite your attendance and appreciate your presence at all services.

Lovelace To Stay

Rev. Ed. H. Lovelace, pastor of the Sterling City, Water Valley and Moon Chapel Methodist church, was scheduled to be transferred to Corpus Christi this month, but events have taken such a turn that he announced this week that he was to stay here. His members and friends are all glad to see him remain.

Due to the fact that Rev. A. D. Jameson, Corpus Christi pastor, preferred a charge with only one church the exchange between him and Rev. Ed. H. Lovelace did not materialize. Instead Bro. Jameson went to Eagle Lake and Bro. Lovelace will remain in Sterling.

Daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mims

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mims last Saturday morning in a San Angelo hospital. The baby weighed five pounds and six ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Mims have another daughter, Judy, who will be three years old in July.

Traveling Libraries Enrich Rural Community Life

HOW traveling libraries are bringing education and recreation to farm folks living in rural areas surrounding small towns is described in an article in nationally circulated Capper's Farmer.

Typical of the development of these mobile libraries is the experience of Nebraska. Five years ago an active county library didn't exist in the state. Now there are three—in Adams, Grant and Phelps counties. And in other states rural library service is also expanding.

Five years ago an active county library didn't exist in the state, according to Mrs. Alfred L. Anderson. Now there are three—in Adams, Grant and Phelps counties. And in other states rural library service is expanding.

In 1940, Phelps county got a bookmobile. The city library board and the librarian in Holdrege, the county seat, were co-operative, the Capper's Farmer article points out. Subsequently the joint Holdrege Carnegie-Phelps County Library was formed with headquarters in the city library building.

The bookmobile is a complete library built on a truck chassis. It serves more than half the county's population. It holds about 1,000 books and makes stops every two weeks at 39 stations.

Teachers find better teaching methods are possible with the library. Farm youths have more chance to wisely chosen books for the joy of it. Many adults use the library too.

Examples of how the rural traveling libraries operate in other states are cited by the magazine.

Yes, she's back at her old job of home-making—that 24-hour-a-day job with no overtime pay.

Mom learned a lot about electric service during the war. She found that stitching up a cruiser and stitching up a curtain are both done more easily and quickly when electricity lends a hand.

And when home-making had to be sandwiched in after war-plant hours, Mom learned that the touch of a finger-tip brought her a dozen willing servants for the cost of a candy bar.

Mom's back in the kitchen. And electric service—always ready, dependable and cheap—is the key with her, making her tasks easier, her life more comfortable. Service like that just doesn't happen.

It takes hard work and good business management. The men and women in Mom's electric company—and yours, too—make it possible.

Your BABY

By Edna Mae McIntosh

Modern mothers know that a gradually increasing variety of foods is necessary after the first few weeks. Consequently, today's babies are strong and healthy. They may not be as fat as you were when you were a baby, but they have sound muscle and tissue development. They will grow sturdily and have fewer handicaps which proper diet can avoid.

As babies grow rapidly, much more rapidly the first year than later on, they need not only calories, but also vitamins and minerals. That is why the special baby cereals have been prepared with extra vitamins and minerals, especially the mineral iron. The iron is needed to safeguard against anemia, a common difficulty in former generations.

After the first few weeks on milk, cod liver oil and orange juice, cereals are introduced. Usually one cereal is given, at first in very small amounts, then a second cereal is introduced or a strained vegetable. The vegetables are good sources of the various vitamins.

These new foods are given in the first three or four months for two reasons, for their nutritional values and also they help to develop the ability to eat from a spoon and to swallow foods which are not liquids. They help too, to develop a taste for a variety of foods.

The special baby cereals available are of wheat or oats and the strained vegetables include a variety of green and root vegetables. Fruits are usually added to the menu as soon as one or two vegetables are somewhat familiar. Your doctor will determine the order in which these new foods are desirable for the particular type of development which your baby is making.

Many doctors also recommend the two-cereal idea—alternate cereals with each feeding. It stimulates baby's interest in food.

Sgt. Stanley Volchok forwards the U. S. Army paper (The Ludwigsburg Sentinel) from Germany in which Fritz Kuhn was interviewed. They quote him as finally admitting: "All the reporters started muckraking me. They wanted to build me and the German-American Bund into something sensational so that their papers would sell! Ever my good friend Walter Winchell spoke against me, and then the Dies committee investigated me."

Investigated him? It advertised him as a good American and denounced me as "the leader of a sinister propaganda bund"!

Ach, Fritz! How times change since 1933, no? You are back home in your beloved Germany undt Herr Dies is back home in oblivion.

There is an old hen out at the Ellis Lee Dairy that wants something to mother. An old cat had four little kittens and the old hen took them over. She sits on the American Red Cross Aids Wounded and Able-bodied

Not long ago a Red Cross field director with an outfit on maneuvers flashed a message that the mother of a man in his unit was critically ill, and the man was needed at home immediately.

With this message from the soldier's Red Cross chapter verifying the illness, the field director called on the commanding officer who arranged an emergency furlough. While a courier sped up the line to fetch the soldier, the Red Cross man was busy arranging transportation.

Within a few hours the boy was at the Red Cross field office where furlough papers and a ticket awaited him. The field director drove him to the airport, and the boy arrived home in time—not to see his mother die, but to save her life with a blood transfusion.

Today, six months after V-J Day, some 17,000 Red Cross workers are still with the GIs at home and abroad. Hundreds of clubs and rest homes overseas are in operation where men meet on leave, get home-cooked food, and that prime American favorite—doughnuts and coffee. Music and entertainment, books, magazines, and home-town newspapers, lounge and writing rooms—all are popular. For men staying overnight there are comfortable beds, clean sheets, and hot showers.

More important than Red Cross services to the able-bodied are those for the wounded and ill. In army and navy hospitals the country over, professional and volunteer Red Cross workers serve in many ways.

To the hospitalized a financial or family problem may prey upon the mind and dull the will to recovery. Under guidance of Red Cross medical social workers many a problem is dissolved, and difficult obstacles are smoothed, while programs directed by trained recreation workers help patients forget their troubles. Red Cross volunteers supplement these workers with every conceivable service.

For example, there was the blinded soldier whose face was horribly scarred, who was expecting a visit from his wife and five-year-old daughter. It would be the first meeting in two years, he told the Red Cross girl who was teaching him rummy with Braille cards.

"My little girl knows I'm blind and she's planning how she'll do things for me," he said.

But what she did not know, what had been kept from him so that it might not retard his readjustment, was the way he was scarred and disfigured.

The Red Cross girl caught her breath. "That's fine," she said. "I'll meet them at the train."

Her heart sank upon seeing the tiny girl. It would be a job to prepare her for the shock, to make sure she did not let her father suspect there was anything wrong.

Gently she told the child about her daddy's face, how it would get better, how much he loved her, and that she mustn't be afraid. Then, with a prayer in her heart, she led mother and child to the blinded soldier.

The crucial moment had come. Now, upon the actions of a little girl, the future of this family would depend. For a moment the tot stood in the doorway, looking at her father across the room. Then, without hesitation, came the patter of little feet, and she threw her arms around her father's neck. "Daddy," she cried, "Daddy, it's me—we're so glad to have you back!"

A simple service, yes. But it determined the happiness of three people. Without the understanding heart, and the many who daily give of their minds and souls, the adjustment of thousands of servicemen might be seriously retarded.

The American Red Cross needs $100,000,000 to carry on during the next fiscal year. That sum is small when stacked against the heartaches stilled, suffering eased, misery relieved, new hope infused—day in, day out—because of Red Cross ministrations.

Because farm families have a big stake in the Red Cross they consistently support the organization. The Red Cross is confident that families in agricultural areas, the backbone of the nation, will generously support the 1946 Fund Campaign.

Volley Ball Locals

The Sterling volleyball girls went to Big Spring last Saturday to compete in the Big Spring invitation tournament.

Sterling's first game was with Ackerley. The local team romped over Ackerley to the time of 59-12.

The next game was with the Odessa delegation. The Sterling girls played a nice game of ball, but were up against a stronger team. Odessa won 31-18.

Water Valley won the tournament, beating the Odessa team only one point, the final scores being 25-24.

Beth Abernathy was again chosen on the all-tournament team. She has been given this honor for all five tournaments that Sterling has entered this season.

The following girls represented Sterling City at the tournament: Billie Faye Cook, Beth Abernathy, Betty Jane Donalson, Peggy Hinshaw, Bonnie Ruth King, LaVerle Mow, Jacqueline Everitt, Melva Jean Ward and Trinabeth Reed.

The local team was accompanied to Big Spring by Mrs. Horace Donalson, Mrs. Nick Reed, Miss Evelyn Vernon and Mrs. Homer Brown, coach.

Stock Show News

J. M. Starr, County Agent, returned home Monday from a two-week's stay at the Angelo and Fort Worth Stock Shows. He stayed with the boys' lambs through the sales, etc. at Fort Worth.

The lambs brought from 19 to 24 cents at Ft. Worth, which (with the subsidy) was a little higher than last year, said Starr. The lambs also gained weight (7 lbs.) at the Ft. Worth Show over the Angelo show.

Swift bought Bobby King's fine wool lambs at 23c and Ralph Pembroke got Jackie Tweedle's crossbred at 24. Swift took Jimmy Findt's lamb at 20 1-2c.

Gift Tea Honors Mrs. Alvie Cole

Mrs. Alvie Cole, who was Miss Mildred Atkinson before her recent marriage, was honored with a gift tea Wednesday afternoon at the E. L. Bailey home. Hostesses were Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Chesley McDonald, Mrs. John Wade and Miss Lucille Hodges.

Mrs. W. J. Swann and Mrs. David Glass poured tea and Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. W. B. Atkinson, the honoree and Mrs. D. M. Brown received the guests at the door. Mrs. Fred Allen presided at the register.

About 50 guests called during the tea hours.

Honored With Shower

Honoring Mrs. Jack Douthit, the ladies of the Baptist Sunday School were hostesses at a surprise layette shower Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. J. McCawley.

The honoree was received and presented a corsage of white carnations by Mrs. Lee Augustine.

On the program were Mrs. McCawley, Mrs. Chappel Murrell, Mrs. Henton Emery, who sang, and Mrs. Trinon Revell who read. In time to "Rock-a-by Baby", Mrs. Douthit was presented with the stork's wagon filled with gifts and drawn by Ralph and Anna Karen McCawley.

With Mrs. Smoky Garms at the punch bowl, refreshments were served to approximately thirty guests.

Mrs. Lee Hunt was at the register. Out of town guest was Mrs. W. L. Douthit of San Angelo.

School Census

O. T. Jones, superintendent of schools, announced last week that the school census had started.

He especially urges that parents who have children who will be 6 before September 1, 1946 to see that they are enumerated. Also the newcomer families who have children of school age 6 to 18 years old.

Mrs. J. M. Starr and children have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heineman, in Marshall, while Mr. Starr was at the boys stock shows.

The Palace Theatre will open at 7:30 each evening after April 1 instead of 7:00, announced Mrs. H. F. Donalson this week.

There will be preaching here next Sunday at the Baptist Church announced Rev. W. J. McCawley, pastor. He had previously announced that he would dismiss Sunday morning services to allow everyone to hear Rev. Lovelace. Since Lovelace is not leaving, Rev. McCawley plans to preach as usual.

Little Jimmy Lindsay of Crane spent last week here visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cates.
