Local Items

The senior class of Sterling High School took in almost $85.00 at the presentation of the play "Let Me Grow Up" last Friday night at the school auditorium. The play was under the direction of Miss Evelyn Vernon, class sponsor.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gober, both students in Texas Tech at Lubbock, spent last week-end here at Mrs. Gober's mother's, Mrs. James McEntire.

The Henton Emerys visited Mrs. Emery's parents in Crowell last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Johnson took Tommie's father, J. T. Johnson, to the Santa Fe hospital in Temple, Texas last week-end for observation and treatment.

Manhattan Magic:

The wild rumors (unfounded) that navy and army discharges had been frozen reminded us of one of the wildest. . . . It was the report that Dorothy Thompson (the columnist) would be the GOP candidate for President. . . . This is how the "story" grew from a joke: At a luncheon date between John ("Inside Europe, etc.") Gunther and Philip Jordan of the London News-Chronicle, the Britisher told Gunther he had met Miss Thompson the night before.

"What a woman!" Jordan exclaimed. "I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the Republicans nominate her for President in 1940."

Gunther (kidding) said: "If they do, she'll be elected!"

When Mr. Jordan got home he relayed "the gag" to H. R. Knickerbocker, the war reporter, who passed it on to Randolph Churchill, who cabled it seriously for his chatter col'm in London. . . . One week later it appeared in a British news magazine as the "latest tip from well-informed Washington circles" and was cabled (just that way) back to the United States.

The final touch was a lulu. It inspired a newspaper over here to run a straw vote on Miss Thompson's chances!

Wisdom from the UNO from the mouth of a tot. It was overheard at a movie theatre where "Captain Kidd" was revived. . . . "Who are all those men fighting?" asked the child. . . . "Pirates," mother explained. . . . "What are they fighting about?" . . . "Treasure." . . . "What's treasure?" . . . "Gold, silver and other precious things." . . . "Will some of those men be killed fighting for the treasures?" . . . "Yes, I suppose so." . . . "Why don't they all become friends and share the treasures, instead, Mommy?"

It is no secret that Stalin and Churchill quarreled during the war over the Teheran confab this anecdote was popular in Moscow: The Shah of Persia made a gift of an 11-year-old girl to Churchill. . . . Some of Stalin's advisors were shocked by the Oriental custom and urged him to do something about it. . . . But with a twinkle in his eyes Stalin said: "Don't worry. By the time Churchill makes up his mind—she will be an old woman!"

Lions Hear Rhythm Band

The rhythm band from Sterling school played at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday.

Judge E. C. Grindstaff of Ballinger, candidate for District Governor, Jack Nixon, Jr. of Ballinger, and L. H. Stephen, Deputy District Governor, were present. Judge Grindstaff spoke briefly about the district convention to be held in San Angelo May 19.

The prize went to Lion Stephens.

An old maid is a girl who Misses a lot of things, but never MRS herself.

One really has to go window-shopping nowadays if he is trying to build a house.

Many a man didn't have a rag on his back when he got married, but does now.

Nick Gonzales has bought the little building just north of the News-Record shop and moved it into "Mexico" and will make it into a rent house.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank everyone—the firemen and helpers who helped in any way when our chicken house burned last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thieme.

That's the trouble with today's planet. Nations claim they desire peace without acting like they believe their own words. . . . Those lashing Russia with the Soviet-Nazi Pact neglect to mention Britain also signed a pact with Germany—at Munich. . . . In a curious display of logic one New York editorialist argued that G.I. newspapers shouldn't have as much freedom of press as civilian papers. Depriving soldiers of a free press is a shabby payoff for their protection of every paper's freedom—including the U. S. press.

The Comic Section: Tallulah Bankhead probably doesn't recall it but it was during the run of her hit, "The Little Foxes." . . . Several back-stage visitors were from the South. Two from Alabama said they were cousins to the Bankhead tribe—they mentioned places, dates and many names which didn't mean much to Talu. . . . "Oh," she said, "everybody from the South is my cousin, it seems." . . . This was overheard by another Southerner, nervously waiting to meet her. . . . "Though I'm a great admirer of yours," he gulped, "I'm NOT your cousin!" . . . To which she grinned: "Then you're NO Sutherlander!"

The Moom-Pitchhizz: Rita Hayworth makes "Gilda" a tense romantic eyefilm. The suspense-laden script can only be matched by thrilling visual roller-coasting around Rita's curves. . . . "Cinderella Jones" is a feathery slice of skylarkery which has all the fragility of a soap bubble. Pert Joan Leslie keeps it bubbling. . . . "Whistle Stop" offers a bare knuckle tale, sinewy enough to wrestle with. George Raft gives the picture its muscles. . . . The British lion's latest cinematic cub is "Vacation from Marriage."

Sounds in the Night: At the Greenwich Village Inn: "Churchill's speeches prove he's just an old Tory-teller." . . . At Armando's: "They caught him trying to smuggle a dollar bill into Miami." . . . At the Blue Angel: "After Churchill's speech Hitler must be laughing up his shroud." . . . At Ciro's: "I don't like his gigolo looks." . . . At the Gamecock: "She's been married so often they no longer throw rice—they throw ditto marks." . . . The Garden: "Poor guy—he's suffering from femininsomnia."

"Spring Is Just Around the Corner," Says Nancy

It must be that Nancy Martin, celebrated radio songstress, has found that corner around which Spring is supposed to be hiding. At any rate, here she is, painting porch furniture in her Chicago home. Nancy finds painting with the new Lowell electric Thoro-Spray even easier than singing "Suddenly It's Spring." The spray, with its portable motor, may also be used to de-moth clothing and upholstered furniture as well as to vaporize disinfectant.

NEW SUPER-BRIGHT LUMINOUS FISH HOOKS

At last, here are the sensational new fish hooks that actually invite fish to bite 'em and get hooked. Glo-Hooks not only hold fish after they are hooked, they really lure more fish and bigger fish to your hook. The super-bright plastic compound molded on every Glo-Hook is the most highly luminous known to modern science. And it's well known that fish, as well as many other creatures of nature, are attracted almost irresistibly to light.

Crown Fruit Salad
Is 'Fit for a King'

"Fit for a king" is what home makers say about crown shaped fruit salad, according to the Country Cooking editor of Capper's Farmer, nationally-circulated farm magazine.

"Studded with jewel-colored pieces of fruit, it makes a lovely picture on your prettiest glass plate," she writes in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families. "Cool and tartly sweet it offers flavor contrast to the meat-and-potato part of a meal. It's a delightful afternoon snack with a cup of hot coffee."

- Crown Fruit Salad
- 1 tbsp. unflavored gelatin
 - 2 tbsp. cold water
 - 1 c. fruit juice (peach, cherry, orange or pineapple)
 - Lettuces
 - 3/4 c. light cream
 - 1/2 c. mayonnaise
 - 2 canned peaches or pears, sliced
 - 1 orange, sliced
 - 1/2 c. maraschino cherries

Soak gelatin in cold water. Heat fruit juice or juices to boiling; remove from heat and dissolve gelatin in hot juice. Cool. Add the light cream and mayonnaise and stir until mixture is smooth. Cool until mixture is slightly thickened; then add sliced fruit and halved cherries. Pour into a mold rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on glass plate or platter. Arrange lettuce leaves around the edge of the salad. Garnish with clusters of grapes, halves of bananas or slices of canned fruit. Serves six. This molded fruit salad is lovely to serve at a buffet supper.

Hold on to that "Million-Dollar Rain"

That welcome rain that brings new life to your land, crops and livestock is the traditional "million-dollar rain" known to every farmer and rancher.

There is an old saying, "You can't do much about the weather." But you can do a great deal about what the weather does to your land. Rain can bring relief after drouth and is worth that million dollars—or it can be a savage enemy that "dashes off with grit in its teeth and tears down our soil like a billion furious buzz saws."

Water that "walks downhill" is your ally in increasing the production of your land. And one secret of handling rainfall properly is "farming on the level"—by strip cropping, contour plowing, terracing. Cover crops, grassed waterways, dams and farm ponds also help control the destructive power of rain. Then you hold the rain where it falls. Surface run-off is slowed down to the point where it doesn't erode your topsoil away. And as your water "walks downhill," it soaks into the soil, makes plant food nutrients available to the roots of crops and, penetrating further, fills up nature's great underground reservoirs.

Water thus stored in the subsoil is the source of the wells and springs which supply homes and farms and ranches. For years this "water table" has been dropping very seriously in some sections. But where soil conservation has been practiced over large areas, the lowering of the "water table" has been a less serious problem. Soil and water can never be divorced in any good land management program. These two great resources are wedded for all time, and from their union comes the wealth of America's agriculture and the prosperity of the nation.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT

In view of the recent talk about the business, profits, etc., of the meat packers, it's worth remembering the basic economics of all businesses in this country.

To be successful, any business must do four things—1) it must purchase its raw materials at prices comparable to the prices paid by its competitors; 2) through know-how, efficiency, good operating, it must manufacture products of comparable quality at a manufacturing cost no higher than that of its competitors; 3) in doing this, it must pay its workers wage rates comparable to the going wage-scale paid by others; 4) and it must sell its product at prices that a large part of the public is willing and able to pay.

In the livestock-and-meat industry, this simply means that prices must be high enough to earn both cost and a decent profit for the livestock producer, the meat packer and the retail merchant—and low enough to keep the great masses of people eating meat.

Soda Bill Sex:

... that the dairy business is mighty colorful—red cows eat green grass and brown hay to give white milk and yellow butter. ... that the more a feller works, the more work he finds to do.

WOOL BLINDNESS is a definite handicap. Open-faced sheep, during a test in New Mexico, produced an average of 12% more pounds of lamb per ewe. Wool on the face hindered sheep in finding feed and resulted in some becoming separated from the flock. However, the flock in the test exceeded by 25% the wool production of commercial flocks.

BRED TO MEET PRODUCER NEEDS

By E. J. WARWICK, The State College of Washington

A successful example of sound breeding methods in improving farm animals is the development of the Columbia breed of sheep for the Northern and Northwestern states.

When the Western sheep industry began shifting from a "one-crop" industry—wool—to production of both lambs and wool, the need for a true breeding type of sheep, combining the vigor, hardiness and flocking instinct of the fine wool types, with the size, prolificacy, and desirable carcass characteristics of the mutton types, was clearly indicated. Recognizing this need, U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists began developing such a breed from crosses between Rambouillet ewes (a fine wool type), and Lincoln rams (a mutton type).

Today, after more than 30 years of intense selection for desirable characteristics, the Columbia is widely used on better ranges of the West. Animals of this breed are large, rugged, vigorous, prolific and productive.

Development of the Columbia breed has been successful because: (1) it was created to fill a real need; (2) the breeding program was carefully planned to preserve and concentrate the germ plasm of superior individuals; (3) rigid culling was practiced; and (4) practical production factors have been emphasized in the selection program.

Adherence to these simple principles will result in further improvements of other farm animals.

Martha Logan's
Recipe for Easter Ham

The mellow flavor of ham rates it one of the most popular of meats. Glaze your ham with honey, marmalade or maple syrup to save sugar. Place the ham, fat side up, on rack in uncovered pan. No water needed, as the fat will baste the ham naturally. Bake in a moderately slow oven until tender. Three to four hours will be enough. Garnish the platter with pickled peaches or apricots, or hot spiced orange slices.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW!

What is the meaning of the expression "farming on the level"?
With what groups of people must a meat packing company like Swift & Company co-operate to operate successfully?
Who must earn a fair profit for the livestock-and-meat industry to operate?
Why is it important to make water "walk downhill"?
Answers to these questions may be found in the various articles which are printed elsewhere on this page.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

In addition to being a business corporation, Swift & Company is people—62,000 folks like you and me who have pooled their savings to build a business. These savings are invested in plants and equipment, in livestock and other raw materials, and in all the many things that make up Swift & Company.

Without people there could be no business, no Swift & Company. There must be people (shareholders) to supply the capital; others (farmers and ranchers) to supply the raw materials; many thousands (employees) who work with their heads and hands for the company; and the millions of consumers who buy the meat and other products.

The success of a business enterprise depends on how these various groups of people get along together. In other words, there must be goodwill and cooperation between the owners of Swift & Company and livestock producers, employees, and the company's customers.

To maintain goodwill we know that Swift & Company must: 1) pay fair prices for raw materials, including livestock; 2) pay a good day's pay for a good day's work; 3) provide the money to keep plants and facilities efficient; 4) pay Federal, State and Municipal taxes; 5) earn a profit to give our owners a fair return on their invested savings.

The management of Swift & Company recognizes this five-fold responsibility to the various groups of people who make our business. It is to their interest that we manage our business efficiently, that we earn a sufficient profit to let us continue contributing to the well-being of more and more people.

EYES ON TOMORROW!

It's so easy to have good light. It's important to your health and your children's health, too. Good light costs so little more than poor light—and your family's health and happiness depend on it. To correct direct glare, put shades on all lamps to diffuse the light. To insure sufficient light, keep bulbs and reflectors clean, try a larger bulb.

Simplified Shopping For Home Furnishings

GOOD news for rural families is the announcement that home furnishings in properly matching and contrasting colors soon will be available, the Rural Home Editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer points out.
 More than 200 manufacturers have formed the Home Furnishings Style Council. All of them will use the same nine basic colors in designing certain lines of their merchandise.

For homemakers this means simplified shopping for everything from floor coverings through furnishings, drapery materials, linoleum, upholstery, Venetian blinds, paint and wall papers, points out this Capper's Farmer expert.

Colors were chosen according to those most popular for homes today and named after sections of the United States. They are green (Shenandoah Group), tan (Alamo Group), mauve (Prairie Group), rose (Grand Canyon Group), gray, (Great Smoky Group), cedar, (Santa Fe Group), blue (Great Lakes Group), burgundy (Adirondack Group), and beige (Cape Cod Group). Each group has been broken down into tones and shades from the lightest to the darkest values.

Some of these items are already available, but many stores may not have them until September.

Pint of Peaches Yields Three Desserts

WITH wise planning, one pint of peaches can go a long way, writes the Country Cooking Editor of nationally circulated Capper's Farmer. The above picture proves her statement, for there's a pie, a salad and an upside down pudding, all rich with peaches—all the product of one pint of fruit.

Peach Patsys
 3/4 c. flour
 2 tbsps. sugar
 2 tsp. baking powder
 1/4 tsp. salt
 2 tbsps. shortening
 1/4 c. whole bran
 1/2 c. milk
 1 large peach half
 1/4 c. peach juice

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Soak bran in milk 5 minutes; add to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Slice peach half, and place slices in bottom of 4 greased muffin cups or ramekins. Add 1 tbsps. peach juice to each cup, and cover each with heaping tablespoon of batter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400. F.) 15 minutes.

Cheese-Peach Salad
 2 c. cottage cheese
 1/2 c. orange juice
 1/2 c. mayonnaise
 3 peach halves

Mix cheese, orange juice and mayonnaise and shape in a mound on plate. Arrange thinly sliced peaches over the top in decorative fashion. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Peach Pecan Pie
 1 9-inch pie shell
 1 tbsps. unflavored gelatin
 1/2 c. peach juice
 1/2 c. pecans
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 c. milk
 2 egg yolks
 1/2 c. sugar
 1/4 tsp. salt
 2 egg whites

Soften gelatin in cold peach juice. Scald milk. Beat egg yolks slightly; add sugar and salt. Pour scalded milk gradually into egg mixture, stirring until blended. Cook in top of double boiler until of custard consistency. Remove from heat, add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, vanilla and chopped pecans. Pour into baked pie shell; chill until firm. Before serving, arrange slices of peach and a large pecan half in design on top of pie.
