STERLING NOSES OUT BULLDOGS 25-24; LAST GAME TODAY

The Sterling City Eagles won two games in one week—one from Ackerly who forfeited to them and one from Coahoma who had tied them in the first game of the season. It was the last home game appearance of the team here as they wind up their season schedule in Garden City this afternoon. It took two quarters of play to convince the local boys that they were in a ball game, and Coahoma jumped to an early 12-point lead. They led at the half 12-6 as Davis plunged over for the first Eagle tally. Coahoma ran the score to 18-6 shortly after the second half got underway only to see its lead taken from them as Sterling rallied for three touchdowns, one scored by Brown on an end-around play, and two by Tweedle on passes, thrown by Bobby King. Tweedle plunged for the only extra point of the game—a point that proved to be the winning margin. The game had no bearing on the district race, both teams having lost two and tied one, and the game here last Friday bears out that they are evenly matched. This afternoon at 2:30 the game of the season gets under way. It would appear that the teams are of about the same caliber on the basis of previous performance, and Garden City has it in her own back yard. That puts the local team on the spot, and they are working all the harder on an offense that will click and a defense that will stop Garden City's big Calverly.

Other games will bring together some well-matched ball clubs. Water Valley is host to Courtney and should sew up the District Championship, but Courtney is big and rough and isn't willing to concede anything. Forsan goes to Coahoma in a game that will have no bearing on the district race, but will pit two good teams against the other. The edge probably belongs to Forsan. Merton and Knott will battle for the dubious honor of the cellar position. Neither team has won a game in the district. The teams of the district and their standings are as follows:

- Water Valley—1000; Forsan—833; Garden City—667; Sterling City—583; Coahoma—583; Courtney—333; Merton—000; and Knott—000.

Glass for Cheerful Living

PITTSBURGH, PA. — How full walls of glass can be integrated into the modern home and still retain the much desired element of privacy is graphically shown in this small house designed by Architects Leon Hyzen and Allmon Fordyce. It is one of the prize winners in the national "House For Cheerful Living" competition sponsored by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Pittsburgh Corning Companies.

For the front of the house above, the architects have chosen a well-balanced combination of glass, wood and stone that hides home activities from the eyes of passersby. For the back of the home, below, where screens and shrubbery are used as shields, walls of glass have been used to lend spaciousness to the living and bedroom areas. Additional privacy is provided by an ingenious arrangement of interior curtains.

Emphasizing practicality, it features economical arrangement of all rooms including three bedrooms. The direct linking of utility, kitchen, and dining sections saves time and steps for the modern housewife. The interior living area adjoins an exterior court making a large recreation space.

The back wall of the house is almost all glass. In cooler climates these panels could be composed of Twinwalls—the prefabricated double-glazed window unit that prevents condensation, insulates against cold, and provides means for temperature control.

SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

By United States Department of Agriculture

Cotton and corn continued to sag last week in contrast to higher prices for livestock and peanuts and mostly steady prices for other southwest farm products, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Cotton prices dropped more than $11 per bale last week as early gains were erased by later declines. Domestic and foreign demand was dull. Farmers offered little cotton for sale and put more under government loan.

Peanut prices to farmers advanced to about $5 to $10 per ton above the CCC support price. However, some trading continued at this level. Growers began to store more of their peanuts for selling later in the season.

Rice markets held firm at maximum OPA levels by continued urgent demand and limited offerings. Farmers reported heavy losses due to last week's floods.

Wheat and oats remained unchanged but corn moved steadily downward with barley in tow. Sorghums last mid-week but later dropped to the lowest level of the season. Feed demand slackened as the trade began to fill its needs. Prices were still higher than former ceilings. However, wheat millfeeds and soybean meal showed signs of weakness.

Increased movement of southwest fruits and vegetables met with fair demand at generally steady prices last week. Texas producing areas reported slightly stronger markets for beans, cucumbers and tomatoes, but somewhat weaker for peppers, eggplant and spinach. New Mexico carrots and Louisiana sweet potatoes held about steady as did Texas citrus. Colorado potato and onion sales were stymied because of snow with prices and demand dull.

Poultry and egg prices held about steady at southwest markets last week despite slow demand and increased supplies of red meats. However, movement was light due to rain. Turkeys were weaker with Ft. Worth quoting toms at 25 to 27 cents a pound.

Demand for wool was slow last week due to the election which is expected to be the turning point in the trend of business since the trade sees easing of controls by a new congress.

Most lambs were steady to stronger last week compared with the previous week, but some aged sheep were off. Broad demand cleared light hog receipts at stronger prices last week. Top butchers were quoted at $24.50 per hundred, San Antonio; $25, Ft. Worth and Oklahoma City; $23.75, Wichita and $26, Denver.

Cattle prices turned upward last week as receipts declined around the market circle and trading continued active. Houston sold common and medium steers and yearlings at $12 to $15 a hundred pounds and good cows at $12.25 to $13. San Antonio moved medium grass steers at $17 to $20 and good cows at $11.50 to $14.50. At Fort Worth medium and good beef steers and yearlings brought $16 to $22 and medium to good cows $11.50 to $14.50. Medium and good steers realized $18 to $20 at Oklahoma City and $19 to $25 at Denver. Medium and good light steers sold at $17 to $20 a hundred at Wichita.

Prohibitive Mailing Matter

It is the desire of the Post Office Department that prohibited matter be kept from mails, and one of the best ways to accomplish this result is to let you, the patrons, know what material is unmailable. It is stressed that this information reach all who have not had the matter brought to their attention, therefore, I wish to take this method to disseminate information concerning unmailable matter, and the following list is representative of the types most commonly dealt with:

1. Intoxicating beverages.
2. Inflammable matter such as matches, lighter fluid, and other articles likely to cause fire through absorption of moisture, or self-ignition through friction or spontaneous chemical changes.
3. Ammunition and all other explosives.
4. Firearms, such as revolvers, which are capable of being concealed on the person.
5. Obscene matter.
6. Poisons.
7. Narcotics.
8. Extortion letters.
9. Lottery and fraudulent matter.

Let us rid the mails of such matter, thus preventing the disruption by criminal prosecution of promising careers for many youths, and avoiding the stigma upon others who may not have been informed.

Practical Gifts Best Suited for New Baby

YOUNG mothers receiving gifts for their new babies, plead for those that are practical, according to Catherine Tidemanson in an article in nationally circulated Capper's Farmer.

"Too often gifts are chosen because they are clever and cute," she writes in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families.

"Mothers appreciate gifts of shirts, nighties and suits of clothing in 1- to 3-year-old size that the child can grow into. Also useful are simple, durable toys that can be boiled. Sterilizers and bottle warmers and blankets are especially practical.

"In the furniture line for babies, one of the popular new pieces is a high chair which can be converted into a small playpen.

"Homemade gifts for the new baby add a special touch. Even if you're a beginning knitter, tiny infant clothing will be easy to make."

Among other gift suggestions for the baby which mothers have found practical, she adds, are rubber pants, sleepers, sweaters for the child to grow into. Custard cups for heating food, funnels, glass cups or pint measuring cups marked in ounces, juice squeezers, small strainers and tongs will help mother in the kitchen.

Toys may not be useful at first, but the child soon will be old enough to appreciate them. Teething rings, beads, waterproof soft balls, wooden cymbals and rattles are nice gifts. When buying toys, the writer admonishes, take care there are no sharp corners or removable parts that could cause injury to the child.

The time of the year the child is born should always be considered in selecting the most appropriate gifts, the writer concludes.

Pint of Peaches Yields Three Desserts

WITH wise planning, one pint of peaches can go a long way, writes the Country Cooking Editor of nationally circulated Capper's Farmer. The above picture proves her statement, for there's a pie, a salad and an upside down pudding, all rich with peaches—all the product of one pint of fruit.

Peach Patsys

3/4 c. flour
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
2 tbsp. shortening

1/4 c. whole bran
1/2 c. milk
1 large peach half
1/4 c. peach juice

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Soak bran in milk 5 minutes; add to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Slice peach half, and place slices in bottom of 4 greased muffin cups or ramekins. Add 1 tbsp. peach juice to each cup, and cover each with heaping tablespoon of batter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400. F.) 15 minutes.

Cheese-Peach Salad

2 c. cottage cheese
1/2 c. orange juice
1/2 c. mayonnaise
2 peach halves

Mix cheese, orange juice and mayonnaise and shape in a mound on plate. Arrange thinly sliced peaches over the top in decorative fashion. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Peach Pecan Pie

1 9-inch pie shell
1 tbsp. unflavored gelatin
1/2 c. peach juice
1/2 c. peaches
1 tsp. vanilla

1 c. milk
2 egg yolks
1/2 c. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
2 egg whites

Soften gelatin in cold peach juice. Scald milk. Beat egg yolks slightly; add sugar and salt. Pour scalded milk gradually into egg mixture, stirring until blended. Cook in top of double boiler until of custard consistency. Remove from heat, add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, vanilla and chopped peaches. Pour into baked pie shell; chill until firm. Before serving, arrange slices of peach and a large pecan half in design on top of pie.

HOTELS for LIVESTOCK

The central livestock market is as American as the "hot dog." No other country has the like of it. European sellers and buyers haggle over individual animals. In South America most of the dealing is done right on the estancias, where the livestock is raised. But here in the leading livestock nation of the world, for 75 years central markets have played a big part in the job of moving meat toward dinner tables of the United States.

When a carload of livestock rolls off the prairies or out of the mountains into one of the 65 or more great central markets, the animals are "greeted" and "registered" at the unloading dock, much as travelers are received and registered in hotels. From there they are sent to their "rooms"—the pens assigned to the commission man to whom the owner has shipped his animals. There these hogs, cattle, calves and lambs are rested and given food and drink.

Just as hotels compete for guests, so these central markets compete with each other for the business of accommodating the 88 million head of livestock which come in each year. Thousands of livestock buyers and order buyers bid against each other and the sale is made to the highest bidder. With 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers active in livestock buying, it is easy to see that the American livestock marketing system is the most competitive in the world.

These "livestock hotels" are a separate branch of the livestock-meat industry. They are privately owned. Swift & Company does not own a single share of any stockyards company.

Thanksgiving

In this Thanksgiving month, the people of our nation—and of many other nations—owe a debt of gratitude to the ranchers and farmers of America. All through the war, in spite of its tremendous requirements, our people ate well. And in spite of sharing with the earth's hungry, our people are still eating well. Today, to be sure, not all the meat they would like to have... but plenty of nutritious food to keep them well and strong. That is because for long years millions of farm and ranch men, women and children have kept the food supply up, working harder than ever before, overcoming shortages of help and machinery and many other obstacles. Yes, Americans may well offer thanks this month to all those who produce our food.

FERTILITY OF RANGE BEEF CATTLE

by A. L. Baker and J. R. Quesenberry United States Department of Agriculture

Cows in the western ranch states drop from a 40 to a 70 percent calf crop with an average of 63 percent. This means that for every 100 cows the average rancher can expect to get only 63 calves.

However, the following recommendations, based on a study made, should aid the rancher in increasing his production:

1. Cows should be identified by proper markings so that shy breeders can be culled from the herd at an early age. Good producing cows may be kept until at least ten years of age without loss of fertility.

SPREAD

When visiting with livestock producers on farms or ranches, or at meetings, the subject of "spread" often comes up for discussion. Then I give them an explanation of the difference between the price they get for livestock and the price we meat packers receive for the meat we sell.

To me it is a source of continual surprise that the spread is not greater than it is. During my years of experience in the livestock-meat industry, here is what I have learned about spread. We at Swift & Company have been paying farmers and ranchers approximately 76¢, on the average, out of every dollar we receive from those to whom we sell, for all products we process and handle, including hides, glands, and all by-products. That leaves us 24¢ to cover the cost of processing and marketing.

Out of the 24¢ comes the cost of buying livestock and other agricultural products. The cost of preparation and refrigeration. The cost of loading them into cars and trucks. The cost of transporting them to our branch houses or to retailers. The cost of branch house operation and of selling and delivering the products to the retail dealers. In addition, we have taxes to pay; plus insurance and all the other necessary costs of doing business. When all these expenses have been paid, we make a profit, which over a period of years has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the 6 1/2 billion pounds of products we handle annually.

There is no other business in the country that does so much for so little.

F.M. Simpson,

Agricultural Research Department

2. Cows that fail to produce calves in two successive years should be culled from the herd.
3. Where practical, it is advisable to test bulls for semen quality before breeding season in order to eliminate the partly sterile bulls.
4. There is an advantage in using bulls four years old or over, of proven breeding ability.
5. The establishment of small breeding pastures capable of maintaining herds of about 30 cows is recommended as a means of increasing the calf crop.
6. Even some larger ranches would do well to resort to pasture breeding if they could thus obtain even the 6 percent raise in calf crop obtained in this U.S.D.A. study.

Things Are NOT Always as They Seem

The mechanical device pictured above shoots the ball marked A and at the same instant drops the ball marked B straight down. It certainly looks as if B will hit the ground first, since ball A has so much farther to go. But the fact is that they will both strike the ground at precisely the same instant.

In our business, too, things are not always as they seem. On September 1, 1946, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported that in the entire country there were 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storage. That is a lot of pounds. But actually it is the lowest on record for that date... and compares with 626 million a year ago and a 631-million average for 1941-1945. Here in America we eat about 50 million pounds of meat a day, so the September 1 supply of meat in cold storage was barely enough to feed us for seven days.

Side oats grama shows remarkable spread on J.C. and M.C. Reed ranch in the two section pasture included in the army bombing range from 1943 to 1945 inclusive.

Seedling side oats grama plants are at present rather evenly distributed over areas of hill land which escaped burning and which, previous to the three year deferment, had practically none of this grass. Hairy grama, another palatable and high forage producing grass, also shows wide distribution. With approximately 50% of these and other high feed producing plants, these areas in this pasture are capable of growing twice as much palatable feed as the same areas were growing previous to 1943.

Litter, which accumulated as a result of the deferment, was largely responsible for the germination and initial growth of the seedlings. Protection of these palatable species from grazing was responsible for the establishment and continued growth and spread of these young plants. Increased density of the better grasses is affording more protection from soil erosion and moisture evaporation.

"Mr. District Attorney" says—

Every time a man drives a car he becomes a public servant—and his sole duty is to protect the safety and privileges of his fellow citizens.

If you want a good tonic sometime, try this formula for one full day: Look closely for the other fellow's viewpoint, pass out some sincere, well-deserved compliments, and voice a few extra "thank you's" for little everyday things usually taken for granted.

"If I had it to do over again" is a phrase that was sharply illustrated some years ago by a case in our community. A man, dissatisfied with life, robbed his firm of a large sum of money. For a time he seemed to have everything—wealth, comfort, power. Then suddenly, while still rich in cash, he knew that he was as poor as any man on earth. He had lost freedom, relinquished all peace of mind. He had lost the things that money can't buy. When I saw him, just before he stood trial, he said, "If I only had it to do over again."

From Pearl Harbor to V-J Day, the United States Navy grew from fewer than 345 to 1,300 combatant ships, from 7,800 vessels of all kinds to nearly 93,000, from 425,000 officers and men to over 4,000,000 wartime peak strength, including Marine Corps and Coast Guard personnel.

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pheasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

BASKETBALL PRACTICE OPENS

Coach G. W. Tillerson will call the first basketball practice Tuesday afternoon. Some 12 boys are expected to report. There are six returning lettermen from last season. They are R.B. Mitchell, Norvin Brown, Jackie Tweedle, R. T. Smith, Billy Hudson and Bobby King. The conference will open on Dec. 13 with the local club going to Knott. The district will be decided by a double round-robin tournament with each of the 7 teams playing each other on a home and home basis. There will be then a single elimination tournament. The winners of these two tournaments will then play a 2 out of 3 series for the championship to be decided by Feb. 22.

Coach Tillerson formerly coached at Iowa Park, Texas. His basketball team there won two district championships in two successive years losing the regional meet to Nocona the year they went on to win the state in class A.

Teams playing in this district this year are Forsan, Sterling City, Knott, Coahoma, Garden City, Courtney and Stanton. Stanton is the defending champion.

Of 7,000 Sea Scouts who volunteered for the Navy during World War II, 6,082 were commissioned in the Naval Reserve. More than half of the 285,000 Naval Reserve officers were former Boy Scouts.

United States Naval Military and civilian personnel purchased a total of $1,698,000,000 worth of savings bonds between September 1, 1941, and August 1, 1946.

By scrapping ships not slated for the active fleet, the Navy would realize less than one per cent of their original cost. Instead, the Navy will preserve 2,200 ships in two inactive fleets for 20 years at approximately the same cost as their scrap value.

The volume of liquid fuel shipped overseas in the last year by the Navy and Merchant Marine was nearly 16 times that of food. Overseas forces required nearly twice as many tons of oil as of all other supplies combined.

The Navy estimate that the Women's Reserve replaced more than 50,000 men for sea duty in World War II, enough to man a major task force.

During 1946 United States Navy chaplains conducted 407,577 divine services which were attended by 32,603,684 persons, performed 12,501 marriage ceremonies, 14,951 funerals and 15,088 baptisms, accepted 13,818 men and women into the church and visited 5,311,408 persons in hospitals, sickbays and brig.

Perhaps the shortest bombing mission in history occurred during the invasion of Pelelieu when United States Marine pilots flew 1,400 yards from the end of the runway on the recently captured airfield to Bloody Nose Ridge to drop napalm fire bombs in support of Marine infantrymen.

Along with ten thousand technical instruments used to measure the effect of the atomic bomb on ships of the United States Navy, beer cans and gasoline drums were used to show the degree of crushing pressure the bomb exerted at certain points.

In its program to assist contractors who were unable to obtain private financing, the United States Navy during World War II made advance payments and guaranteed loans totalling $4,236,814,002 at an overall loss ratio of only .00043.

If Isabella had ice cubes...

Christopher Columbus would never have discovered America!

Isabella, Queen of Spain, had caskets full of jewels. She had velvet robes and silken gowns and handsome hand-made shoes. But she had no electric refrigerator! So the jewels were pawned. Three little ships set out against the sea. And Columbus happened on America back in 1492.

Fantastic? Not really. In Isabella's day, they tried to keep food from spoiling by spices brought overland at great expense from India. Columbus believed he could reach the Indies by sailing westward on the unknown Atlantic. The rest is in history books.

Poor Isabella, with all her clumsy luxuries, never dreamed of ice cubes — nor any of the miracles of modern electric living!

Though electricity plays such a great part in today's comforts and conveniences — you're scarcely conscious of electric service. That's because it's always on hand — all you want — at little cost.

(This is the first of two articles on the revolutionary discovery of the treatment for infantile paralysis by the famous Australian nurse, Sister Elizabeth Kenny.)

An Enemy Strikes and Sister Kenny Appears

This is a story about a woman and her unending fight against an unseen, cruel, ruthless enemy of mankind.

It is the story of Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famed Australian nurse, and her one-woman crusade against the crippling disease, infantile paralysis.

The story begins more than 25 years ago deep in the heart of Australia when a child suddenly became ill.

Like all parents in this desolate section of the land "down under" the parents of this child consulted neighbors when their son became ill seeking advice.

But neighbors shook their heads helplessly. To them, as to the parents, this was a strange disease and one that left frightening affects.

Doctors Not Available

There were no doctors to call upon in this part of Australia's bush country, the medical needs of the 200 farmers and an assortment of prospectors and explorers being cared for by a community nurse. By force of circumstances she was the medical adviser, midwife and consultant for the entire population.

Only when her services were sorely needed was she called upon for her many duties in the seemingly boundless wilderness she served kept her constantly busy.

But despairing of their child's life and unable to find other help in the community, the parents called for the nurse, Sister Elizabeth Kenny.

To Miss Kenny, too, the disease was something new.

Immediately she telegraphed an old friend, Dr. Aeneas J. McDonnell, chief surgeon of Toowoomba General hospital in Queensland and one of Australia's outstanding surgeons, describing the symptoms and asking his advice. This was the reply:

"INFANTILE PARALYSIS . . . NO KNOWN CURE . . . DO BEST YOU CAN."

Miss Kenny read the message and handed it to the parents. Tears welled in their eyes as they focused on the helpless, pain-ravaged body of their son.

New Burdens

But the nurse did not despair. Her first move was to ease the pain of the suffering child.

Then new burdens fell on Miss Kenny and a greater fear gripped the community as five more children were struck down by the disease.

Six children now lay helpless, faced with death or a future of grotesquely deformed bodies.

Many adversaries had been overcome by men and women striving to eke out an existence in this section of Australia but a new enemy they did not know how to fight and one that medical science had not conquered filled them with stark terror.

To facilitate general care Miss Kenny moved her six patients to one large house. There the children looked up at Miss Kenny and all who visited them with pathetic, pleading, lifeless eyes. To the community they were youngsters to be pitied who, if they lived, would go through life with twisted arms, legs and spines, robbed of their mobility, health, happiness and independence.

A Challenge

But to Miss Kenny they were more than this—they were a challenge to herself and to all mankind.

As a school girl, Elizabeth Kenny had been given access to the laboratory of Dr. McDonnell. Here she had spent countless hours fashioning papier mache models of the various body muscles and attaching them to a skeleton.

Here she acquired a remarkable knowledge of the anatomy and muscle functions. She also developed an inherent mechanical skill and her gan to see the human body as a delicate machine. Here she obtained, unknowingly, the knowledge that was to prove so important in evolving her world-famed treatment.

As a nurse she saw what medical practitioners had seen in such cases since they first recognized infantile paralysis as a separate disease. And Miss Kenny's technical mind saw more. It saw the affected muscles as a series of levers, cables, pulleys, an intricate mechanical system.

Something, she sensed, had gone wrong with the mechanism of motion in those twisted bodies. Limbs refused to move.

A Discovery

Her examination disclosed that while some muscles appeared to be paralyzed, their opposing muscles were in spasm—the muscles were contracting—resulting in excruciating pain. Later studies were to prove that this was a revolutionary discovery.

Up to this time spastic muscles never had been considered, or even known, in the treatment of infantile paralysis.

Since these were sick muscles, Miss Kenny concluded they should be treated. Heat therapy, she felt, would bring relief.

After trying various kinds of heat to ease pain, Miss Kenny finally hit upon hot fomentations (hot medicants) as the most effective. She discovered these brought almost instant relief from pain and, after several days, caused relaxations of the affected muscles and disappearance of spasm.

When the pain had subsided, Miss Kenny made another startling discovery—that the apparently paralyzed muscles were not actually paralyzed at all but, because of the disease, had lost their co-ordination and ability to function normally. She then tried retraining these muscles to normal activity.

Movement Returns

For several months Miss Kenny continued her treatments following the theory she had discovered. Stricken children gradually were learning to use their arms and legs.

Before long they left their beds. They again became normal, robust children able to romp and play.

And, best of all, there were no ugly deformities, no crippling affects, no braces. Infantile paralysis at last had met resistance.

(Next week's article will tell how Miss Kenny introduced her treatment to Australian and American medical men.)

FIRE DESTROYS E. W. RHODEN HOME IN KERRVILLE

The $3,000 home of Mr and E.W. Rhoden of Kerrville was completely destroyed by fire last Sunday afternoon. The owners of the home stated that they had no idea how the blaze started. The Rhodens had $2,000 insurance on the house and contents. The Rhodens were away from home when the blaze started. The Rhodens were thankful that the photograph of their late son, Corp. Emmett D. Rhoden, was saved from the flames.

Uncle Sam Says

Every day—particularly payday—should be voting day for your personal security. The addition of another U. S. Savings bond to your holdings is a sort of personal election. By buying savings bonds regularly either through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or at your bank or postoffice, you are electing a safe investment which will pay you $4 for every $3 in ten years. Buy your extra Bond now.
