

Castle in the Clouds

Here's an "Angel's Eye" view of the most luxurious thing a-wing, the new Clipper America of Pan American World Airways' ever-growing fleet. A double-deck plane, it gives the passenger freedom of movement, which has never been available before. With lounge, bar, berths and chef-cooked meals, there is a stability about it in the air that completely relaxes the passenger. Its first flight will be between San Francisco and Honolulu, and then between New York and London. Eventually the Boeing-built Clipper will also be used extensively on Pan American's proposed domestic routes.

Countess Tolstoy Interviewed

NEW YORK—(Soundphoto)—Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, first benefactress of Mrs. Aksana Kosenkina, was permitted to visit the seriously injured Soviet schoolteacher in Roosevelt Hospital here, and is shown as she later told reporters that the elderly refugee from Russian Consulate manhandling and imprisonment had asked to see a priest. The Countess, who is now an American citizen and prefers to be called Mrs. Tolstoy, said that Mrs. Kosenkina is "suffering greatly" after her leap for freedom, but was able to say "I am glad to suffer for the cause."

WHAT SHOULD a business firm do when it finds that wage demands have put its expenses up higher than the income it can reasonably expect? This is the plight facing many businesses today. Some of them are taking flight to fairer climes. Perhaps you have heard of the big textile factory that is leaving New England. No, it didn't decide to go to the South. It will leave the States entirely and go to Porto Rico. It had to go somewhere. It had to stay in the black, or close down.

Our industries will not all go to Porto Rico, but this incident is a handwriting-on-the-wall message addressed to all of us. When a business reaches the saturation point, where it cannot collect more income (in the form of new business, increased sales, or higher prices), then something's got to happen. If it cannot cut expenses, then it may go broke. This situation is tough on little businesses especially, but it's dangerous, even to big ones.

A Mutual MAYBE THIS thing explains our increasing rate of business failures. When the break-even point is so high and so close, even a little drop in income or a step-up in expenses can put a company in serious danger. It doesn't make any difference, either, that the volume of business today is so big. Most of our companies have to do two to five times the amount of business they did before the war, just to break even.

American workers are smart. Their good sense is needed today as never before. They can do a lot to help industry get on a sound footing. They know we can avoid misunderstandings that are so common if everybody sees that industry's problems are also America's problems. Labor can seriously consider the important things. Labor can help work out solutions that are to the best interest of both industry and the general public, knowing that these are also very important to labor.

Our Own TAKE THIS inflation, for example. That old spiral, that always catches you right between the pay-check and the grocery store, can be scotched. One solution is greater production. Labor knows a lot about production problems. Are workers any less interested in higher output, because high output is something that also interests the management and the public? No, they still want production to be high. Increased production, if it delivers goods to the public, softens the danger of runaway prices. High output also makes it possible for the company to pay continued high wages.

Some American workers have had experience with businesses that couldn't pay. A company that is in danger of folding up is no good as an employer. Therefore, the problem facing the boss in his effort to show more income than expense is also the problem of the workers. Labor may have some of the answers.

A lot of Americans may be fooled by the seemingly endless bounty of business. Government, also, is expected to give and give. Yet, it doesn't make sense to expect either of them to keep on giving forever. Neither government nor business ever actually creates a dollar of wealth. Each can give benefits only out of that which it receives. By the same token, our high living standards are actually the products of our own intelligent work and continued high production.

Rice Makes the Stew

By FRANCES BARTON

Rice makes the stew. Or should we say that rice makes the stew go further? There are many ways to concoct a stew—you can start from scratch, with one of the less expensive cuts of meat, and raw vegetables. Or you can take leftovers and make up a stew that's quick, easy and a meal in itself. Either way, the addition of a rice base adds greatly to the looks and over-all appetite appeal, especially if the rice is white and fluffy. And the quantities of necessary ingredients can be s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d to go a lot further when served on a bed of rice.

A one-dish meal of stew with rice is as simple as A,B,C to prepare, thanks to a new pre-cooked rice—Texas grown and Texas processed—now on the market in this area. And the rice that results is wonderfully light and fluffy—perfect rice every time with each grain separate. No washing, no rinsing, no draining, no steaming necessary. Home-makers in the Lone Star State who know how well rice combines with other foods, will find this new pre-cooked rice the perfect mainstay for quick-quick meals.

Quick Stew with Rice

Serve a mound of fluffy rice with stew made from leftover meat and vegetables for a thrifty, speedy meal. Simply heat the cooked diced or cubed meat with gravy. Mix with cooked vegetables such as carrot slices or small white onions and continue cooking until heated through.

Pre-cooked Rice

To prepare enough rice for 4 or 5 servings, place contents of one package (5½ ounces) of pre-cooked rice in saucepan. Add 1¾ cups cold water and ¾ teaspoon salt. Bring to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat, cover, and let stand in a warm place about 10 minutes. Before serving fluff rice gently with a fork.

Boyce House "GIVES YOU TEXAS"

When I was a boy in Memphis, Tennessee, I met Capt. Dabney M. Scales, a hero of the Confederate navy.

Not long ago, interesting details of his service were encountered in an old book.

Captain Scales was attending the United States Naval Academy when the Civil War broke out. He resigned and became the youngest officer in the Navy of the Confederacy. He served on the famous raider, the Shenandoah, which cruised the seven seas, seeking Union vessels.

One day, south of Australia, they over-took a ship which was flying the British flag but they thought this was a ruse. The vessel was hailed and proved indeed to be British—and then the Confederates learned an amazing thing. The war was over and had been for eight months!

Because a federal court held that the activities of the Shenandoah were in violation of the law—though actually its officers and crew were merely waging war, though of a daring nature—Captain Scales lived in Mexico for two years.

Then he returned to Tennessee and practiced law. In the war with Spain, he volunteered and was navigating officer on a ship.

He was an old man with snow-white hair and moustache when this columnist, then a schoolboy, knew him. He never mentioned anything about his service in two wars. Just an old book, out of print, tells a little about his career.

Short name: Max Itz. He runs a tobacco shop in San Antonio.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's Your Fight, Too!

Bing Crowley was "beefing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is preserved in every aspect, big or little—whether it's the right to vote, or the right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale with friends.

And from where I sit, no liberty's too small to overlook. Because the minute one small freedom is threatened, all the others are in jeopardy—just as the minute one small country loses freedom, all its neighbors are in danger!

"When You're Pleased, We're Happy"—Cliff Wiley
BIG SPRING, TEXAS

How's our railroad doing, young man?

"Is it making any money?"
"What are they paying for fuel these days?"
"Are you hauling much freight?"
"Do you like your job?"

The little old lady is not a busybody—she is merely looking after one of her investments.

She has some money in the Santa Fe. Maybe it's ten, maybe it's twenty, maybe it's fifty shares of Santa Fe stock.

She is entitled to attend a stockholders' meeting. She can get on her feet and ask our board of directors questions just like the above. She can compliment those gentlemen for their management, or she can bang her umbrella on the table and tell them off.

Alone, her few shares of stock can't do a lot. Alone, she couldn't elect a president of the United States. But stockholders just like her—housewives, teachers, merchants, salesmen, laborers—can tell us how to run the Santa Fe, and they do. (Actually 29,178 Santa Fe stockholders are women, most of them holding only a small number of shares each.)

And that's the beauty of America—the voice of the people is the voice that runs things, whether it's operating a transcontinental railroad or putting a man in the White House.

Isn't it a wonderful country where so many can own so much? That's "Free Enterprise."

Santa Fe stockholders, just as those of any railroad, know that American railroads must be permitted to earn at least 6% (many other industries earn more) on their investment in order to maintain sound and progressive operations and to continue to provide shippers and passengers with the finest in rail transportation.

A surprise package is always a pleasure, whether it's for Christmas, a birthday, or a weekday dinner! Particularly on the latter occasion, surprises are unlooked for. Tuesday, perhaps it's beef loaf; Thursday, liver and bacon. And of course desserts can take the same trend week after week . . . custards, puddings, ice-cream.

Well, here are several recipes that will really surprise the most blasé in your family. A Baked Apple that has a different touch added—a nut-like center with rich flavor and crunchiness. Or what about some Bran Muffins that have both raisins and spice? As if that were not enough, here's a recipe that holds a surprise within—rolled-up cabbage leaves with a deliciously seasoned ground beef mixture.

Try to surprise your folks some night soon. It will pay real dividends in happy eating and good digestion.

Baked Apple Surprise

4 large apples
½ to ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed, or granulated sugar
½ cup Grape-Nuts
2 tablespoons butter

Wash and core apples. Pare off 1-inch strip around tops. Place in baking pan. Fill cavity of each apple with mixture of sugar, Grape-Nuts and butter. Pour water into pan to cover bottom. Cover and bake in hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking until apples are soft in center, basting occasionally with syrup in pan. Cool. Serve plain or with cream.

Raisin Bran Spice Muffins

1 cup sifted flour
3½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar

¼ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
2 cups raisin bran

¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon sugar

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, sugar, and spices, and sift again. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix only enough to dampen flour. Fold in raisin bran. Fill greased muffin pans ¾ full. Sprinkle with mixture of cinnamon and sugar. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Makes 10 medium muffins.

Cabbage and Beef Rolls

½ pound ground beef
1½ cups wheat flakes, finely crushed
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 tablespoon minced onion
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
8 medium-sized cabbage leaves
1½ cups canned tomatoes, put through sieve, or 1¼ cups tomato juice
½ cup sour cream
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Combine beef, wheat flakes, salt, pepper, onion, Worcestershire sauce, and milk. Shape into 8 rolls. Brown in fat. Cook cabbage leaves, covered, in small amount of boiling salted water until wilted. Wrap each meat roll in a cabbage leaf and fasten with toothpicks. Return to skillet, add tomatoes mixed with sour cream, salt, and pepper. Cover and simmer 40 minutes. Remove rolls to platter. Pour sauce over meat rolls. Makes 4 servings.

What goes on here?

REFEREE makes first down—or did he really just miss it? Field judge blocks out the nearest tackler—or was it clipping? If the officials call 'em—and play, too—what kind of a game is that?

You wouldn't stand for that sort of thing on a football field—but it is happening every day in the electric light and power business. Government not only regulates the electric companies—but is in competition with them at the same time!

The catch is that government sets up two different sets of rules. The government's electric agencies pay little or no interest on the money they borrow, and pay no Federal taxes—but electric companies do, and expect to. When government-in-the-power-business can't make ends meet—it gets a handout of tax money from the U. S. Treasury. Who foots the bill? American taxpayers—of which you are one.

If government can get into the light and power business this way—it can get into every other business the same way.

In sixty-odd years, the self-supporting electric companies have built for America the most and the best electric service in the world. While costs of everything else are way up (including the costs of making and delivering electricity) electric service is still the best bargain in the American family's budget... it does so much, and yet it costs so little.

This is a good record for the thousands of people who work in power companies, and for the millions of people who invest savings in them.

Don't you think these men and women deserve a fair break?

The answer is yours to make, for government money is your money.

Boyce House "GIVES YOU TEXAS"

San Antonio really abounds in the picturesque. Its sidewalk "characters" are colorful. One has long, thick hair like Buffalo Bill; he even has a moustache and goatee. He plays a fiddle but, instead of using a bow, picks it as though it were a guitar.

And there is a pencil vendor who looks like an old Testament prophet; his beard is long and flowing, and his hair reaches six inches below his shoulders.

Desdemona had a home coming a while back. When Eastland County town was in the midst of a rich oil field, things were exciting, even baseball games.

One day, an umpire made a decision that aroused a group who had bet on the game, so out on the field they came in such a threatening way that he reversed his ruling.

The next game, the same umpire made the group sore again and out they came once more. The umpire yanked a six-shooter from his hip pocket, marched them back to the sideline, dusted off the home plate and yelled, "Play ball."

There was no more trouble.

Incidentally, Desdemona, after years of inactivity, is seeing wells drilling in every direction, seeking deeper sands than the one which produced the boom of 1919-21. May be the old town will see a comeback.

Pumping The Well Dry

City was a small village, the total number of people in the whole world was only about as much as the number of people now crammed into New York City.

With more and more mouths to feed, more food must be produced or somebody will starve. About one half the land in the world is hopeless for any kind of food. But the other half can produce enough to feed double the present world population, and with better farming methods it can produce a lot more. Farming methods seem to get better even faster than the population goes up.

We used to call Germany, under Hitler, a "police state." It was a police state all right, but the Russians are putting even more police in their part of Germany. Right now, they have about the same number of police in their part of Germany as Hitler had in all of Germany. Worse yet, the Russians will soon have double the number of police they now have in Russian occupied Germany.

With all these police the Russians can, if they want to, suggest that all occupation armies leave Germany. If we leave, their police can take over the whole country. If we don't leave, then we leave ourselves open to being called "warmongers" or something worse.

A lobectomy is a complicated brain operation requiring several hours of delicate surgery. It can change a person's whole mental outlook. A woman in Maine performed such an operation on herself in a split second with a shot gun. She was trying to kill herself. The charge went in below her chin and came out through her face and brain. She lived and now the "New England Journal of Medicine" reports that the gun shot changed the condition of her mind which had made her so depressed that she wanted to commit suicide. The doctors repaired the physical damage including the removal of bone from her hip or replace bone in her nose. She now lives a happy normal life.

Recently a man in England bet $16,000 on a horse race and won $600,000. It wasn't all luck. He had a scheme to beat the bookies. First he bought the horse and then trained him for that one race. He quietly spread his bets among a

"Husband" Is A Woman

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(Soundphoto)—Oakland police unwound a case of impersonation so perfect that they had to inform a 17-year old "wife" that she had been married for two years to a woman. Police Inspector Clarence Covill is shown (left) as he made this disclosure to Roberta Lawson Nelson. Strange tale was uncovered as police sought Robert Stewart Nelson (right), 25, part-time book-keeper at a wholesale grocery, believed to have absconded with $900 of company funds. Police say FBI records showed Nelson had posed as a man and husband since "her" marriage in 1946. Records also showed Nelson had been arrested in 1944 as a draft evader, but was released after examination showed she was a woman. Search for Nelson now is centered in the Los Angeles area.

In spite of all the deaths caused by the war, world population is higher. This has caused a good deal of talk and books on the idea that the world population is not able to feed everybody. The number of people in the world has increased amazingly in the last few hundred years. When New York

MacArthur Returns From Korea

TOKYO — (Soundphoto) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur assists Mrs. MacArthur down the steps of the plane that returned them to Tokyo from Seoul, Korea, where they attended the inauguration of the New Korean government. The General and his lady flew to Korea early in the day to attend the inauguration and returned to Tokyo in the early evening of the same day.

with No. 2 white corn $1.80 to $1.90, and yellow $1.61. Oats brought about $1 at Fort Worth. Milo closed at $2.67 to $2.72 a hundred.

Active demand for top grade long grained rice kept prices firm at recent advances. Many feedstuffs sold at higher prices for the week. Good balance of supply and demand for hay maintained values at about unchanged levels. Peanuts still moved at the support schedule but quality improved on late pickings.

Sweet potatoes sold stronger at Southern Louisiana shipping points as the market basis changed from uncured to cured stock. Good demand reflected the coming Thanksgiving holiday. Colorado potatoes and onions brought steady to higher prices for the week. Increasing shipments of Texas grapefruit and oranges found dull to weaker markets at principal terminals. Tomatoes, spinach, carrots and lettuce followed firm trends.

Firm to slightly stronger trends prevailed at southwest egg and poultry markets the past week. Current egg receipts brought 48 to 55 cents a dozen in North Texas. Heavy hens sold from 30 to 33 cents a pound. The Thanksgiving turkey market got underway slowly. No. 1 young hens ranged from 45 to 48 cents, and toms 40 to 42.

Cotton advanced largely $1.50 a bale. Spot middling 15/16 closed Monday at 31.25 cents a pound at Dallas and Houston, and 31.30 at New Orleans.

Ranger's Last Patrol

PORT ARTHUR, TEX.—Former Texas Ranger Stirling O. "Sod" Durst, aged 65, makes his last rounds before retiring as a guard at the Gulf oil refinery here. Durst was commissioned a Ranger in 1918, serving on the Texas border patrol. He joined the refinery guard force immediately after Pearl Harbor. A protection system, only slightly relaxed from that used in wartime, is still maintained at this refinery, country's largest in point of production, to safeguard petroleum resources so critical to both the national defense and economy.
