Sterling Conquers St. Joseph's Academy

The Sterling Eagles struck quickly and hard Friday night before the home folks when the St. Joseph's Academy of Abilene came here as their opponents. The Academy boys defeated the local lads last year and they were out to do it again.

On the fourth play of the game a pass from L. Butler to Grosshan accounted for the first Sterling touchdown. Gann ran the extra point. Minutes later Larry Glass carried the ball to a first down on the 20-yard line. Leroy Butler hit over center and then cut back to the left and went over standing up. Hollis Kennemer made the extra point.

Just after the second quarter started Elroy Butler carried the ball around left end and went 20 yards for another score. Pascal Brown made the extra point. M. Lindsey caught a 30 yard pass for Abilene and went over standing up. Seconds later another pass. Yancy to McIlheran, accounted for another score. Larry Glass then carried for another 1st down on the 25 yard line. On the first play Larry headed around end and went over standing up. Grosshan made the extra point. Half-time score was 28-12.

Coach Tillerson used his reserves almost all the last half. After the third play Pascal Brown went around right end went 38 yards for a touchdown. Try for point failed. Minutes later Sterling kicked to St. Joseph's and they fumbled. There was a scramble over the goal line and Pascal Brown came up with the ball and another touchdown for Sterling. Loy Mitchell drove over for the extra point. Final score, 41-18.

To Water Valley This Afternoon

The Eagles will go, some 20 players strong, to Water Valley to play the Water Valley Wildcats at 2 p. m. Friday. The Wildcats were tied with Sterling until last week when Forsan defeated them. The Wildcats are expected to put up a stiff battle to stay in the conference running. One loss will eliminate them. The Eagles must win in order to remain on top in conference. The Eagles will be at full strength for the first time since the Courtney game. Let's all go down to Water Valley this week and back the Eagles.

Visitors last week-end at the T. H. Murrells were Mr. and Mrs. S. Shelton of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murrell of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. House and children of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. House of Goldsmith.

Mrs. Harvey Glass and Miss Pam Sanderson attended the funeral services in Blackwell Wednesday of last week for Mrs. Ben Richards.

Mrs. Sue Knight spent last week-end in Crane with her daughter and son-in-law, the Johnny Wallers. Dixie Knight, physical education teacher and director of the Alpine pep squad, was in Crane for the week-end, too. She was there with the Alpine group for the Alpine-Crane football game.

Mrs. Taylor Garrett's Sister Killed in Wreck

Miss Glenna Randolph, 46, sister of Mrs. Taylor Garrett of this city, was killed in a car wreck at El Centro, Calif. October 8, as she was returning to here home there following a vacation spent in Moran, Texas with her parents.

Miss Randolph, a resident of Los Angeles, had come as far as Moran with Mr. and Mrs. William F. Osborn and their six-months-old son, Terry. The Osborns had gone on to Kentucky visiting and had picked up Miss Randolph at Moran on the way back. As they neared home at El Centro, they crashed head-on with a large diesel truck, and all the Osborns and Miss Randolph were killed instantly.

Burial was held in Moran at 3 p.m. last Wednesday, Oct. 12. Services were held from the Church of Christ there. Attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Garrett and Fern, D.D. Garrett, and Joe Elliott.

Survivors include the parents of Moran, five brothers and two sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Garrett had visited in Moran with Miss Randolph on October 2, while she was in Texas on her vacation.

"Covering the County"

By Garlyn Hoffman, Co. Agent.

E. G. Marsh and Jim White made an inspection tour of the county recently to determine what types of wildlife it would be most practicable to reestablish in Sterling County. Mr. Marsh is from the division of wildlife restoration, and White is State Game Warden. They were accompanied by Bubba Foster, president of the Game Management Association and the county agent.

An extensive check was made along the Concho River and creeks flowing into it. Marsh declared that this would be the most practical place to begin in reestablishment of deer, turkey, and beaver. He stated that once they were established along the river they would spread to other parts of the county.

Deer could be brought in this year, Marsh explained, provided cooperating ranchers along the river and creeks present a petition for them to the Department and close the season for five years. He further stated that these deer would be obtainable through trapping on preserves which have never been hunted, and it would be advisable to allow no hunting at all in the areas where they are placed during the first year. The noise of gunfire and the barking and running of hunting dogs would cause the deer to leave the establishment area.

Both Marsh and White declared that more underbrush along the river is desirable, but the present cover is sufficient for reestablishment purposes.

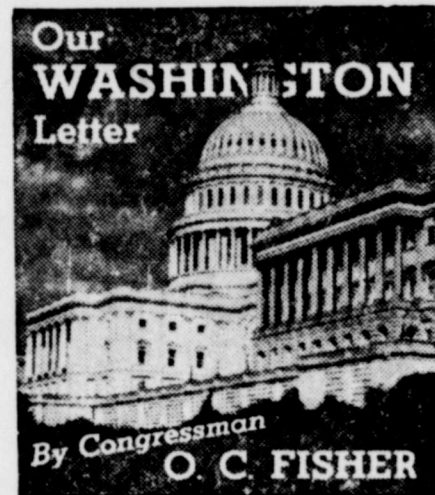

Deer habitually drift away from waterways in summer and return in winter, because more winter forage is produced near the streams.

More numerous signs of turkey than Marsh anticipated were found. He said that if these are properly managed, turkey will reestablish themselves without bringing in additional ones. Marsh believes that if feeding places are fixed near where roosting places were found flocks will return bringing additional turkey with them. Grain sorghum would probably be the best feed to put out for turkey. It is advisable to put out feed in small amounts each day to encourage turkey to return each night for food. A good supply of wild turkey food, such as insects, berries, seed, and nuts, was found available. Turkey, like deer, migrate from waterways in spring and return in fall. Hens nest and raise their broods away from water, bringing the young to streams in fall.

Marsh and White were enthusiastic about dams already constructed by beavers which were brought to the county in 1940. Marsh stated that beaver are now in such great demand that it would be almost impossible to procure additional one for this county. Marsh advised trapping in the county where the beaver are already numerous and placing them in other locations. This would be the quickest way of getting more dams. Before any trapping may be done the property owner must give written consent, and this consent must specify the number of beavers to be removed from his property. Since this county has a most desirable beaver habitat, Marsh stated that whenever beaver become

I wish to express appreciation available, they will be brought in, for kindnesses shown me while in the hospital, and for help in carrying on work during my absence. This was my first stay in the hospital in 29 years, and here's hoping it is my last.

Guilty as Charged

The conviction of the 11 Communists last week in New York was hailed on Capitol Hill as a body blow to the Communist conspiracy in America. The historic trial condemned the top-notch Commie leaders for engaging in a conspiracy "knowingly and willfully to advocate and teach the duty and necessity of overthrowing and destroying the Government of the United States by force and violence."

The significance of the trial and conviction has far-reaching implications. Above everything, it demonstrates that the Kremlin adherents, who yet pretend loyalty to the U. S., have been put in their place and are not bigger than the law of the land. It will deflate the arrogance of the American Communists and their fellow travelers. And it will help to pin the label of disloyalty on those who hereafter join or associate themselves with the Communist party. It was a great demonstration of the courage and patience of the jurors who heard it all.

Evidence at the trial provided the proof that this is not an American party; that it is a foreign party, inspired by and devoted to the interests of a foreign power hostile to American democracy.

It was the longest trial in American history, taking more than nine months. Former Attorney General Clark estimated the cost to the Government at $1,000,000. Five million words of testimony, covering 21,000 pages, make up the official record of the trial. The Commies claim they spent $250,000 in presenting the defense.

The case will, of course, be appealed to the highest courts. Associate justice Tom Clark will be disqualified to act as a Judge, the prosecution having been started while he was Attorney General. Perhaps two or three years will elapse before the final verdict is written.

Heretofore the Communist members have claimed they were good Americans, and they and their fellow travelers and apologists ridiculed the idea that they are not loyal citizens. But one of the first lessons that is taught a young Commie is to lie about being one and to pretend loyalty.

Attorney General Clark last year said there are 75,000 card-carrying Members in the United States, and J. Edgar Hoover has warned that for every card carrier there are ten who do the Party bidding and follow the Party line. The latter group, he has pointed out, are of-

The Seed Is The Word

Now the parable is this: the seed is the word of God (Luke 8, 11). It is an established fact that seed must be planted before it can produce. Seed, also, brings forth after its kind. The word, therefore, must be preached that there might as result be Christians. (1 Cor. 1:21). The gospel is God's power unto salvation. (Rom. 1:16). The gospel is in the word. (1 Pet. 1:25). The Holy Spirit operates through the word, therefore, and not without it. Cornelius was converted after the word was preached, and this was during the miraculous age of the Holy Spirit. The Eunuch was also converted during this miraculous age, but notice that it was after the word had been preached. Receive with meekness the engrafted word which is able to save your soul. (James 1:21). We invite you to attend the services of the

RED CROSS HOSPITAL WORKERS HELP SPEED PATIENT RECOVERY

The job of rebuilding sick bodies and minds of servicemen in military hospitals and restoring them to useful life is carried forward by a team—doctors, nurses, and Red Cross workers. The Red Cross worker may be a medical or psychiatric social worker, a recreation specialist, or a combination of them assisted by a Gray Lady.

Red Cross hospital workers assist medical officers with welfare and recreation programs for military patients.

Military physicians and nurses find that restoring the health of a sick man requires much more than medicine and food. The will to live and the will to do things must be revived before medical treatment can get in its beneficial work. That's where the Red Cross enters the picture.

A young soldier, only 23, was injured in an accident at a munitions proving ground. Half of his face and neck were blown away. Painracked and frightened, he had little taste for ordinary hospital recreation. He loved music, though, so the recreation worker brought to his bedside a radio phonograph and then, by mere chance, found she could satisfy a greater longing. The boy revealed that he wanted to write to his young wife those tender, personal things that he hesitated to dictate.

Under federal statute and regulations of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, the American Red Cross furnishes volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of the armed forces and acts in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their armed forces.

A recording machine was bought to his bedside, and he found the words to tell his longings to his distant wife. It wasn't easy because his injury had damaged his vocal chords and articulation was difficult. But after patient practice with the hospital worker, he finally poured out his heart to the record and sent it off to his wife.

To the arthritic, the tubercular, the rheumatic heart sufferer, doomed to long periods of bed care, the recreational services provided by Red Cross ease their burden of restlessness and discouragement. Nearby chapters in cooperation with other local agencies bring into the hospitals young people from the nearby communities, women who serve as hostesses for parties, young people who dance and play games, all reminding the sick soldier that he is not forgotten by those he served.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON
Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson of Dallas, is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

John Smith saw Joe Brown steal his watch. He had Brown arrested and the watch was found in his pocket. Smith told the officers that he had paid $49.50 for the watch. Misdemeanor charges of theft were filed against Brown.

When the case was tried in the county criminal court, Smith said he had made one slight mistake. He actually paid $50 for the watch instead of $49.50. Since it was new when stolen, it was considered worth the purchase price of $50. Smith was a convincing witness and, after all, he had actually witnessed the theft, so Brown was promptly convicted.

Upon appeal the case was reversed. The higher court held that the theft of a watch valued at $50 constituted a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, theft. Thus the county criminal court lacked jurisdiction over the case. There was no question about Brown's guilt, but he was given a new trial simply because the watch was valued a fifty cents more than is was originally said to be worth.

Such delays in punishing criminals, made possible by legal technicalities, hamper justice and encourage crime. Proper revision of Texas' criminal statutes, as advocated by the State Bar, would eliminate such technicalities.

SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

By United States Department of Agriculture

(USDA)—Most southwest farm products brought steady to higher prices during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Cattle receipts increased sharply last week over the week before. Texas sheep receipts increased, but other market fell off. Hog numbers declined a little.

Cattle were steady to strong at Fort Worth, Denver and Chicago, and some classes gained at other markets. However, heifers, calves, and feeders showed some weakness at Kansas City. Calves lost $1 to $2 at Houston and San Antonio, and cows fell 50 cents to $1 at Houston. Canner and cutter cows ranged from $11 to $13.50 at South Texas markets, $10 to $13 at Oklahoma City, and $10 to $14 at Ft. Worth.

Hog prices had their ups and downs during the week but closed Monday a little changed from a week earlier, except for slightly lower pig prices in Texas. Top butchers brought $18.50 at San Antonio, $18.25 at Fort Worth, and $18 in Oklahoma.

Slaughter lambs and ewes sold steady to a little higher for the week at Texas and Colorado markets. Feeder lambs and yearlings showed weakness. Top lambs made $21 at San Antonio, $23 at Fort Worth, and $22.50 at Oklahoma City Monday.

Wool trading remained at a standstill in the southwest. Mohair held firm.

Wholesale dressed meat prices at New York were unchanged Monday from a week earlier on cow beef, veal and mutton, $1 to $2 higher on steer beef, steady to $1 higher on lamb, and steady to $2 lower on pork.

Eggs and poultry remained in good demand at about steady prices. Current egg receipts sold mainly from 43 to 53 cents a dozen in Arkansas, 43 to 49 in Colorado, 53 to 55 in Louisiana, and 45 to 53 in Texas. Turkey marketing remained very light.

Fruit and vegetable markets showed a firmer tone this week, as supplies became lighter. Potatoes and onions sold higher at Colorado shipping points, and sweet potatoes advanced in Louisiana. Lettuce, squash and beans gained at Fort Worth. Many items sold higher at Denver, where first Texas grapefruit arrived.

Improved demand for rice added to weather damage to strengthen rice markets during the past week. Feedstuffs remained unsettled. Cottonseed meal and alfalfa meal advanced, as soybean meal and mill-feeds declined. Hay showed little or no change. Peanuts found slow demand at about unchanged prices.

Yellow corn lost 7 cents a bushel during the week, and sorghums gained 7 cents a hundred pounds. Wheat and white corn advanced a cent or two, as oats and barley saw little change. No. 2 white corn closed Monday at $1.51½ to $1.55½ in bulk carlots at Texas common points. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.20 to $2.25.

Cotton closed Monday 50 cents to $1 lower a bale for the week. Middling 15/16 brought 28.70 at Dallas, 28.90 at Houston, 29.15 at New Orleans and 29.30 at Little Rock.

Behind The 8 Ball

At the State Fair, we suffered with 75,365 other fans who had to manipulate around in the Cotton Bowl to see Oklahoma beat T. U. We sat on the fifty yard line between the O.U. and T.U. pep-squads. Brother, that means that you stand up each time the ball goes into motion, or you don't see. The rain would cause the end zones to look like a sea of blankets and slickers.

With only one day at the fair, we couldn't see everything. We gave our midway pass to relatives, who saw a couple of the shows, including the venerable Sally Rand. The Ice Cycle tickets were used by the Hal Knights. It's all we could do to take in the ball game and Spike Jones' show. Food was reasonable on the grounds and lots of free coffee was available. Aching feet and tired "settees" were noticeable after the day's sightseeing and sitting.

RED CROSS RECREATION PROGRAM HELPS HOSPITALIZED SERVICEMEN

Providing recreation and entertainment for hospitalized and convalescent servicemen is an important Red Cross job at military hospitals. These Red Cross hospital recreation workers take a group of patients for a tour of Mammoth Cave, Ky., during an outing sponsored by a community service organization.

Any woman will tell you she'd rather nurse five sick children than one sick man. Doctors and nurses are inclined to agree with her. A man resents being helpless and is often beset by fears for himself and his family.

The sick soldier is little different from the civilian, except that treating the sick serviceman presents additional problems.

Unlike the patient in the civilian hospital, who undergoes his convalescence at home, the soldier remains in the hospital until he is completely fit for duty. After the acute phase of the serviceman's illness is past, he is sent to a "reconditioning ward," where he remains until he is able to take up his regular military job. Sometimes he remains there for weeks. And usually he is far from home.

For recreation and simple, pleasurable activities to fill those long hours of convalescence, military physicians in post hospitals look to the American Red Cross and its corps of specially trained recreation workers.

Recreational programs are adapted to the needs of both the man confined to his ward and the convalescent. They range from teaching a bedridden man to play solitaire to dances and bingo games for the man on the road to recovery.

There are motion pictures for both ward patients and the convalescent, and for the ambulatory patients there are tickets and transportation to nearby ball parks and theaters.

There are also the special services provided by volunteer workers. Gray Ladies run errands and write letters. Motor Service provides transportation. Volunteer Services, working with other community agencies, help bring into the hospitals boys and girls of the same age group as the hospitalized serviceman.

Red Cross provides the "home touch" which, added to medical and nursing care, helps restore the sick man to good health.

RED CROSS CHAPTERS MEET VARIED NEEDS OF SERVICEMEN

The Red Cross Home Service worker looked up from her desk to find an old man holding a telegram and twenty-five dollars.

"My boy wants to come home, but he hasn't got the money for such an expensive trip," the old gentleman said. "He has just returned from 2 years overseas service and is getting a leave before reassignment. His mother has been very sick and I think he might help her to get well. We are living on our family allowance and whatever money my son can send, but I've scraped together this $25. Can you give me enough more to bring him home?"

After verifying the facts, the Home Service worker sent a telegram to the Red Cross field director at the boy's camp, telling of the father's request and of the offer of the twenty-five dollars he could so ill afford. The following day she received an answering wire from the field director:

Under federal statute and regulations of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, the American Red Cross furnishes volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of the armed forces and acts in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their armed forces.

"Return twenty-five dollars to father. Army granting emergency leave and arranging for air transportation home. We are arranging for maintenance and return transportation."

It was only one item in a busy worker's day, but to two old people and a long-absent son it meant a lot. Often the need is not for financial aid but for help with the unexpected problems that may hit any family and are more acute when the head of the family is thousands of miles away.

It was so with an Air Force sergeant who reenlisted after overseas combat service. He left his wife and children in Kentucky on a farm with his mother-in-law. He also left 25 head of cattle, through which the family income would be supplemented. He thought his family secure for the 3 years of his new enlistment. Then disaster struck. The wife's mother became ill and was compelled to sell the farm and go to live with a distant sister. This left the sergeant's family without housing, and 25 head of cattle without care.

The Red Cross helped the soldier get emergency leave, helped him find suitable living quarters for his wife, and arranged for quick sale of his livestock. The sergeant then returned to duty, content in the knowledge that his wife and two small children were provided for.

Often, the need for help extends beyond the time a man is separated from the service. If, as a veteran, the man and his family continue to need aid, the chapter is ready to help.

That is Red Cross Home Service—a friend and counselor to the perplexed, to those in need, to men and women with problems.

Rice makes the stew. Or should we say that rice makes the stew go further? There are many ways to concoct a stew—you can start from scratch, with one of the less expensive cuts of meat, and raw vegetables. Or you can take leftovers and make up a stew that's quick, easy and a meal in itself. Either way, the addition of a rice base adds greatly to the looks and over-all appetite appeal, especially if the rice is white and fluffy. And the quantities of necessary ingredients can be s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d to go a lot further when served on a bed of rice.

A one-dish meal of stew with rice is as simple as A,B,C to prepare, thanks to a new pre-cooked rice—Texas grown and Texas processed—now on the market in this area. And the rice that results is wonderfully light and fluffy—perfect rice every time with each grain separate. No washing, no rinsing, no draining, no steaming necessary. Home-makers in the Lone Star State who know how well rice combines with other foods, will find this new pre-cooked rice the perfect mainstay for quick-quick meals.

Quick Stew with Rice

Serve a mound of fluffy rice with stew made from leftover meat and vegetables for a thrifty, speedy meal. Simply heat the cooked diced or cubed meat with gravy. Mix with cooked vegetables such as carrot slices or small white onions and continue cooking until heated through.

Pre-cooked Rice

To prepare enough rice for 4 or 5 servings, place contents of one package (5½ ounces) of pre-cooked rice in saucepan. Add 1½ cups cold water and ¼ teaspoon salt. Bring to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat, cover, and let stand in a warm place about 10 minutes. Before serving fluff rice gently with a fork.
