THE FARM PROGRAM

Aside from the cost of potato supports, the farm program has actually cost the taxpayers only $140 million during the 17 years it has been in effect, according to figures recently compiled by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

This is a far cry from the outlandish claims that have appeared in some newspaper stories and over the radio in recent months. One irresponsible columnist said the cotton supports cost $600 million! A month or so ago a new lobby was chartered, called "Abolition of Farm Price Supports, Inc."

Other press reports have put the net CCC losses at $4 billion, and there have been other misleading and confusing stories on the subject.

Now, what is the truth about the farm program? No one can defend the cost of the aid to potato growers. Other perishables have been too expensive for a sound system. Hearings are now under way to find better answers to these problems. Certainly they must be taken out of the red or their costs greatly reduced if the program is to continue as applied to them.

An analysis of various estimates reveal that high total figures of support costs include such items as section 32 funds and the wartime consumer subsidy costs neither of which have anything to do with price supports. Section 32 funds representing 30% of customs receipts on agricultural imports) have not been expanded for price supports at all. That money goes for research, export subsidies, school lunches, etc. Yet the total of $1,743,960,000 spent under section 32 is often included in the cost estimates for price supports in newspaper stories on the subject.

Another frequent error reporters fall into is the inclusion of $2 billion in price support outlays by CCC, which was actually spent for consumer food subsidies under the OPA program during the war and had nothing to do with support of farm products at all.

The CCC has reported a breakdown of its activities since the farm program began in 1933, thru Feb. 28, 1950, showing a net loss under price supports on commodities acquired and disposed of, in the amount of $494,000,000. Here are the important items:

Commodities on which there were net losses:
Potatoes, Irish	$355.4 million
Wool	90.4 million
(Does not include $60 million profit by government on wool bought from Britain during war and later sold)
Peanuts	60.2 million
Corn	46.8 million
Wheat	43.5 million
Eggs	39.2 million
Hemp and hemp fiber	21.5 million
Sugar beets	16.5 million
Rain sorghums	12.5 million
Others	27.0 million
TOTAL	$713.0 million
Net Loss 495.8 million

In other words, according to the CCC official report, losses totalling $713 million under price supports in commodities acquired and disposed of are partially off-set by profits of $217 million on other commodities, leaving a net 17 year loss of $495,000,000. If we subtract the cost of supporting potatoes from this total the net loss amounts to the $140 million.

Now, just what has been the extent of this agricultural price stabilization program whereby price floors have been put under certain commodities? Since 1933, the CCC reports, it has extended to 43 million bales of cotton, one billion pounds of tobacco, two billion bushels of corn, and 2½ billion bushels of wheat.

But, what about present inventories and loans? The report shows that at present the total quantity under loans and inventory amount to: 6.3 million bales of cotton; 365 million pounds of tobacco; 731 million bushels of corn; and 470 million bushels of wheat.

It is pointed out that these investments and loans are in the main desirable risks, and should involve but limited losses. The perishables, of course, will cause greater losses.

It is interesting to note that since 1933 the total invested in price supports of all commodities has been over $10 billion, and according to CCC figures, the loss to date has been less than 5c out of each dollar used.

It is hoped that new legislation will remove more of the bugs from the farm program and that a method can be devised whereby the unworkable parts may be corrected or eliminated and the sound portions maintained and improved. If that can be done, farm prices may be stabilized and the cost to the taxpayers held within reason. But it is a tough job to accomplish all of that.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE TO BE CALLED

A petition is being circulated this week calling for a $260,000.00 bond issue for school improvements on the local school.

Such plans include the following: The present structure would have auditorium removed and all second floor completely remodelled. New windows, asphalt tile floors, new ceilings, modern lighting and refinished walls, new rest rooms, and in fact the whole structure would be brought up to date.

All the old building that can be used will be used.

A new modern elementary school with nine classrooms, washrooms, and storage facilities would be built.

An auditorium seating 400 with additional space for 100 more if necessary, is included in the plans.

Also included is a new cafeteria that would seat 100. A new boy's and girl's dressing rooms would be added to the gym. The present gym floors would be refinished or replaced with maple flooring.

The home economic department would be brought up to date.

Such would make a completely safe one-story structure with plenty of exits for emptying the building in case of emergencies.

The bond issue would cover all new equipment, such as for the cafeteria, science lab, seats, etc.

Wyatt C. Hedrick, architect of Fort Worth, has drawn plans for the board. A sketch is on display at the post office.

REV. C. D. McENTIRE'S GRANDFATHER DEAD

Rev. C. D. McEntire, local Baptist pastor, and his family attended funeral rites for his grandfather, J. W. Stewart, 83, at Clariett, Tex. Monday of this week. The Rev. McEntire conducted the services himself.

JUNIOR PLAY TO BE PRESENTED NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Curtain Time 8:15

The Junior Class will present its annual play on Tuesday night, May 9, in the high school auditorium. When you see Hilarity House, you will have a hilarious evening. The play, a three-act royalty play, is as modern as tomorrow and as up-to-date as next week! HILARITY HOUSE has everything — Youth Romance! Chuckling Humor! Extravagant adventure! Broad comedy! From the start to the finish, this delightful farce is one long hilarious carnival of fun and incomparable entertainment. The action centers around a crusty old bachelor, who has been practically buried on a lonely ranch in Idaho for twenty years. When he finally emerges and views civilization o'er, he is shocked to pieces at the manners and dress of young America. Clinton Hodges, son of Fred Hodges, will play the part of Uncle Jefferson Jordan.

Isobel Jordan, Jeff's widowed sister-in-law, is the mother of two vivacious daughters of high school age. Dorothy Sue Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lowe, will play this role.

Isobel's daughters are Kathi, a beautiful brunette of nearly eighteen, played by Barbara Garrett, niece of Mrs. L. R. Reed; and Betts, a fun-loving girl of sixteen, played by Elizabeth Hildebrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hildebrand.

Kathi and Betts Jordan's boy friends are: Wally O'Shane, a likeable lad of nineteen, played by Don Gann, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gann of Big Lake; Buzz Bassett, a wise-cracking chap of seventeen, played by Edmund Heacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heacock; Stan Lawler, a handsome man of twenty-four, who entertains a very high opinion of himself, played by Henry Bliznak, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sprinkle.

Lucinda Peck from Cabbage Neck is the mournful cook of the Jordans; this is played by Geneva Reed, daughter of Mrs. Dovie Reed.

Dora Devine, Jeff's old sweetheart, is played by Melvinnia Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Huff. Her son, Dixie Devine, is played by Elroy Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Butler.

Piano selections by Pascal Brown will precede curtain time. Musical selections on string instruments will be given between Acts I and II by boys in the Junior Class—Loy Mitchell, Alvin Moore and Arland Hardin.

Between Acts II and III Darlene McEntire will sing.

Admission will be: students 35c, adults 50c, and reserved seats 65c. Members of the class will sell tickets.

Social Security Due On All Employees

The age of an organization makes no difference when it comes to coverage under the old-age and survivors insurance section of social security. George Clark, manager of the San Angelo office of the Social Security Administration, said a wage earner who is the only employee has the same opportunity to qualify for insurance under the plan as do workers in large manufacturing plants, provided, of course, his employment is in commerce or industry, as the Federal social security tax applies to employers of one or more persons.

There have been several cases of older workers who did not have quite enough coverage to qualify for retirement benefits. "Sometimes they recall having worked for an employer who thought he did not need to report wages since he had only one or two employees. Mr. Clark said. "It is not always possible for such workers to get credit for non-reported earnings as far back as the beginning of the Social Security Act. However, if the employer can be located, and he filed proper returns for such employment, or if the services have been performed within the past four years, the wage earner may have his earnings added to the record on which benefit payments are based," he explained.

His Punch is His Signature

Was on the train up to Central City the other day and when the conductor came around, I asked him why their ticket punches make such odd-shaped holes in the ticket.

"Every conductor in the country has a different design for his punch," he tells me. "Some even show up a fellow's preferences. Now take mine. The hole it makes looks like a beer goblet."

Sure enough! Then he went on to say that the punch is just like the conductor's signature. Makes it easy to trace tickets... to check up if something happens.

From where I sit, even though your ticket is punched differently from mine, it still gets you where you're going. Just like people with their opinions. You might like coffee, another person, tea—and I'll settle for a temperate glass of beer. But what does it matter, so long as we respect the right of the other to have tastes and opinions? We're all trying to go in the same direction — towards a friendlier, more pleasant world for all of us.

"Covering the County"

By Garlyn Hoffman, Co. Agent.

There have been several reports that people have been fishing and hunting in the game preserve along the Concho River. This area begins at John Reed's on the west and ends with Crit Clark's south line. The reason for this reserve is that deer have been released in that area. The law governing this area is that no hunting or fishing of any kind is to be done for a period of 5 years which began in January, 1950. The fine for being caught hunting or fishing in this area is $200.00. The law is made by the State of Texas and not by the landowners. So, let us all observe the law and not have to pay a $200.00 fine.

There are signs along this area. Some signs are black and white and others are yellow and black. These signs represent a wildlife management area.

The cancer fund drive went over the top in Sterling County. The county cancer fund officials sent in $166.00. This exceeds the quota considerably. The donation is going for a good cause.

Several Sterling County horses were shown at the Horse show in San Angelo last Saturday. Among those winning places Saturday were Forrest Foster, 2 year-old filly, Mitzi, with a second place. Pete Hanson took a first and Reserve Champion Thoroughbred Mare with Reno Miss, a yearling. Miss Texas also belonging to Pete Hanson, placed 4th in Thoroughbred Mares. King's Man, W. R. Davis' 2-year-old Quarter Stallion placed 3th, and Davis also took a 4th place with Golden Don W.D., and aged Palomino stock horse stallion, Davis' Marvel Gold Toy D, a 2-year-old Palomino stock horse type was 5th, and Marvel Gold Slipper D, a 2-year-old Palomino pleasure type mare was third.

A new recommendation for Toxaphene has been released. For control of hornflies on cattle, use 10 pounds of 40 per cent wetttable toxaphene in 100 gallons of water. It is also good for lice and ticks. For spraying sheep out of the shearing pen use 4 pounds of 40 per cent wetttable toxaphene in 100 gallons of water. This will rid the sheep of ticks and lice for one year. Toxaphene is more toxic than some of the other insecticides and should be used carefully. When mixing insecticides for spraying livestock be sure to weigh the exact amount instead of guessing at it. The guessing at insecticides is what causes lots of trouble. Most insecticides have been proven before they have been put on the market and should be used exactly as the directions recommend.
