

Our WASHINGTON Letter

A GRIM CALMNESS pervaded the Capitol last week as the Korean situation was watched with an interest reminiscent of war days. The president's dramatic and historic announcement that we would use military force to protect Formosa and South Korea was received in Congress with jubilation and approval. The extension of the draft law for a year—a week ago somewhat controversial—was passed by the House with but four dissenting votes a few hours after the President's announcement.

The invasion into South Korea was not unexpected. It had been forecast for months, and many had urged the President last year to tell the world we would lend military assistance to south Korea if it should be attacked. But it was announced months ago that both Formosa and Korea were not considered essential to U.S. defense.

Now, however, the picture has changed and little Korea has become the symbol of freedom, of the right to live in peace and security in a world surrounded by Communist brigands.

If you will look at your map you will see that Korea is a peninsula jutting out into the sea of Japan, a hundred miles from Tokyo. It is bounded on the northwest by Manchuria for some 500 miles, and its southern area is within 100 miles of Russia's Vladivostok. In area it is about the size of Texas but with more than four times as many people.

Korea is highly strategic militarily from the standpoint of both Russia and Japan. Long ago Korea became to Japan "a dagger pointed at her heart". In fact Russia and Japan fought two wars in the past over control of Korea, with Japan winning the 1904 contest. So, in 1910 Japan annexed the peninsula and it remained that way until the close of World War II.

BACK IN 1943 the United States, China and Great Britain pledged at the Cairo Conference that Korea would become independent. And later Russia subscribed to this pledge at Potsdam. But meantime at Yalta in 1945, a secret agreement was reported to have been made for Russia to capture North Korea to the 38th parallel, when she entered the Japanese War. The U. S. was to occupy the southern part.

The theory was that the military occupations would be temporary and that a free democratic government would be set up. We complied with our part of the bargain and withdrew our 80,000 troops in January of 1949.

But not so with Russia. She refused to allow North Korea to hold a free election or join in any sort of united government. Instead, a puppet government in the North was set up, asserting control over the south as well. A free election conducted by the United Nations created the Southern Republic, and it claimed jurisdiction over the north where the Russians would not permit an election.

Approaching Marriage Told At Tea

Mrs. Royal Thomas Foster entertained with a tea Friday from 4 until 6 o'clock announcing the engagement of her daughter, Margaret Carolyn Foster, and Irvin Winifred Terry, Jr., of Colorado. Mr. Terry is a son of Mrs. I. W. Terry and the late Mr. Terry.

The wedding will take place August 12 at the First Methodist Church here with the Rev. Ed. H. Lovelace of Goldthwaite officiating. Honor attendants will be Mrs. Finis F. Westbrook, sister of the bride-elect; and Bit Terry of Colorado City, cousin of the groom-to-be.

In the receiving line at the tea were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Terry and the bridesmaids, Misses Trinabeth Reed, Elizabeth Hildebrand, Mrs. R. T. Foster, Jr., and Mrs. Bill Barbee, all of Sterling City, and Misses Joan Terry of Colorado City and Charlotte Ehlers of Uvalde.

The announcement was made in the form of tiny nylon tulle bells tied with lilies of the valley and attached to a white linen tab with wording in silver script, "Carolyn and I. W., August 12."

A white satin and nylon tulle cloth was on the table. The drapes were decorated with ice blue and frosty pink bells of nylon tulle tied with clusters of lilies of the valley. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white agapanthus, stephanotis, and white hybrid delphiniums, silver candelabra held white tapers.

Mrs. Anna Lee Johnson and Mrs. Reynolds Foster furnished music during tea hours. Miss Billie Dale Sloan of Monahans and Mrs. Bill Barbee gave vocal selections.

Miss Foster is a graduate of Sterling City High School and Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. Mr. Terry is a graduate of Colorado City High School and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock. He spent two years in the U.S. Army in the Pacific area.

Other members of the house party were Mmes. E. B. Butler, H. L. Hildebrand, Martin Reed, William Foster, W. L. Foster, Jr., N. H. Reed, T. F. Foster, Fowler McEntire, Ross Foster, Fred Allen, F. S. Price, G. W. Tillerson, Rufus Foster, Frank Cowden, Jr. of Midland, I. N. Wilkinson of Tuscola, Missies Ethel Foster, Paula Sue Wyckoff, and Bonnie Ruth King.

Calling during the tea hours were about 250 guests.

Milton Gibson and family have returned home from a week's vacation trip spent in Fort Worth, Austin and San Marcos. On the lake near Austin the Gibsons rode in a glass bottom boat. They said one could see fish and springs bubbling up from the bottom of the lake.

BARNES-LONG WEDDING JULY 1

Miss Colleen Barnes and Mr. Joe Long were married in Odessa Saturday, July 1. They spent the week-end here with Colleen's mother, Mrs. Milton Gibson. Mr. and Mrs. Long will make their home in Odessa where Mr. Long is employed by the Wm. Cameron Co.

30's, perhaps World War II could have been averted. And Russia has now been told that this kind of monkey business will not be tolerated by Uncle Sam; that appeasement is out; that a show-down on the effectiveness and integrity of the UN is at hand; that the Russian postwar crimes against free people will be challenged around the world.

As one observer put it, the future of the free world is at stake. We have a chance to stop the Russians today without war; if we fail to make the most of that chance, then in some future day, as surely as the sun rises and sets, we shall have to stop them with a war that could end in the ruin of our civilization.

"Covering the County"

By Garlyn Hoffman, Co. Agent.

The column just did not make the paper last week as the rodeo kept me too busy to get it in, but I will try to cover everything this week.

June 22 at Sonora the Sterling 4-H roping team won first place in the team roping. The team consisted of Billy Ralph Bynum, O. F. Carper and Billy Derrel Blair. Billy Ralph also won the jackpot roping. Each team received an engraved belt buckle with a gold inlay depicting a cowboy roping a calf. O. F. took second place in the jackpot.

The rodeo would have been a flop without the imported special announcer, Riley King from under the Divide hill. Riley took over as a pinch hitter about an hour before the show began and proved a good hand at the microphone. When the string band failed to show up Riley even had to fill in for them. It was rumored that Riley had a call from Madison Square Garden asking him to fly up for an audition on Wednesday following his Tuesday appearance, but Riley felt it was his duty to perform Wednesday night in Sterling City. We heard that he also had a few television offers. It sounds as if Bill Stern had better look to his laurels. We are also wondering if Foster Conger had any offers from Western movies after those two grand entries he led.

The public address system used at the rodeo was furnished by the West Texas Utilities Company at San Angelo. The system proved more than adequate. In fact, Worth Durham is said to have climbed one of his oil derricks and watched the show as he listened to Riley's commentary.

Rodeo Chairman John Reed has had quite a bout with the mumps. Several people had to get busy and help produce the show in his absence. The barbecue committee, Jim Butler and Jim Hinshaw, did an excellent job of turning out a fine meal for a big crowd. Many compliments were heard on the barbecue.

There will be an important meeting of all the rural people Friday night, July 7 at 8:15 p. m. to discuss the cooperative telephone system that can be obtained. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss and line the complete program so that those concerned may state whether they do or do not want such a system. It is very important that you attend, for if we do not get on the list now it is not known when it will be possible again.

Here is an opportunity for a nice 18-day train trip to the west coast, northwest and Canada for September. The trip is sponsored by W.F.A.A. as a farm study of the west. Murry Cox will be the leader. The complete cost for everything is $460.00 per person. If you are interested in the trip and want to see the program, come by the office. The sooner Murry Cox knows the number who would like to attend, the better. You will get your instructions.

The Sterling City Rodeo Association directors met last Saturday night to discuss rodeo results and plans. After all items were taken into account, it was found that financial results were better than had been previously believed. Plans for a rodeo next year were discussed.

A complete list of winners for both nights showed that first place in the County roping went to Floyd Smith and Ralph Davis. Second places were taken by Jay Echols and Loyd Smith, while Thurman Rich placed third. B. L. Pruitt of Colorado City, won the matched roping event.

First places in the barrel race went to Helen Hightower of Garden City and Thelda Clark of San Angelo. Second places were taken by Thelda Clark and Inez Gartman, Robert Lee.

Winners of the jackpot calf roping were Herbert Woods, Big Lake, and Bill Teague, Crane. Second place winners for the two nights were B. W. Waldrep and two who tied, Wayne McCabe, Silver and Herbert Woods. Frank Craig, Crane took a third place. Farmer Jones of Robert Lee took top place in bronc riding both nights.

Bull riding went to Jones for 1st and Bob Sealy of Snyder and Wes Chaney for 2nd and 3rd.

Bull dogging went to Floyd Smith with one minute and 52 seconds, and Forrest Smith with 2 minutes, 10 1/2 seconds.

Saddle bronc riding went to Farmer Jones and Ray Cowan.

Bareback bronc riding went to Farmer Jones, Willis Ratliff and Buzzie Tankersley.

Barrel race for the 2nd night went to Thelda Clark, San Angelo, 1st; Inez Gartman, Robert Lee, 2nd, and Helen Hightower, Garden City, 3rd.

ONE KILLED; ONE INJURED IN TRUCK CRASH WEDNESDAY

Two heavy dump trucks smashed together 10.4 miles northwest of Sterling City about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, killing one driver and seriously injuring another.

Dead is Paul Wayne Wright, 20, of Coleman, who had just come to Sterling to work on the road paving job to Colorado City from Sterling. In a Big Spring hospital with a possible fractured hip and back injury was Birdie Leon Jones, 18, of Gatesville.

Driver of a third truck, Homer Therman Mayberry, Gatesville, was not injured. Texas Highway Patrolmen said that he was the only witness to the accident.

Patrolman F. S. Perkins of San Angelo who with Patrolman John Phillippus investigated the accident said all trucks were engaged in hauling caliche for the Sterling City—Colorado City paving project now under way.

He said the 1948 Ford driven by Wright was loaded with caliche at the time of the wreck.

The wreck happened, officers said, when oncoming Wright was meeting three oncoming empty trucks as he drove southwest from the caliche pit toward the project.

Wright's body was carried to San Angelo by a Lowe Ambulance. Arrangements were pending for the final rites.

Survivors include his widow and a 7-month-old son of Sterling City; the father, R. E. Wright of Coleman; three brothers, G. D. and J. R. Wright of Coleman and M. G. Wright of Sterling City; and three sisters, Mrs. T. L. Dodgen of Santa Anna, Mrs. D. E. Howell of Missouri, and Mrs. David Green of Lima, Ohio.

Miss Paula Sue Wyckoff Honored At Gift Tea

Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. L. C. McDonald, and Mrs. Ross Foster entertained with a gift tea Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. William Foster. Tea hours were from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Honoree was Miss Paula Sue Wyckoff, bride-elect of William Shafer of San Angelo.

In the receiving line were Mrs. William Foster, the honoree, and Mrs. Leah Wyckoff, mother of the bride-to-be. At the serving table were Mrs. Scottie Johnson and Mrs. Marion Parker of San Angelo, aunts of the honoree, and Mrs. Vernie Horner of San Angelo, cousin of the bride-to-be and Miss Carolyn Foster.

Miss Trinabeth Reed presided at the bride's book for the first hour and Mrs. Robert Strom of San Angelo the second hour. In the gift room were Miss Darlene Cope of San Angelo and Mrs. Anna Lee Johnson. Mrs. L. C. McDonald and Mrs. Ross Foster assisted in the dining room.

Floral arrangements in pastel shades decorated the home. A centerpiece of rose shaded carnations and white candles in candelabra were on the dining table. Cake squares in pastel shades topped with wedding bells, and green punch were served to about 200 guests.

Joe Emery was returned home last Saturday from the San Angelo hospital. He was advised to take it easy for a month or two. Joe had a spell of high blood pressure.

Gilmer-Aikin Law Is Making Texas Education Better

AUSTIN, Texas, July 5—Texas' new school laws, in force one year, have had the desired effect of providing better education and of bringing more children into the classroom.

Average enrollment skyrocketed more than 100,000 L. P. Sturgeon, state associate commissioner of education, said here today.

"A renewed interest among educators in getting children into the schools, plus more attractive programs offered the pupils have had the desired effect," Sturgeon said. "The spotlight of publicity thrown upon the schools while new education laws were being studied by the public and enacted by the last (Continued on Back Page)"

GILMER-AIKIN LAW MAKING HELPING TEXAS EDUCATION

legislature has caused Texans to take more interest in their schools than ever before.

"An illustration of this is the fact that in some districts members of civic clubs have designated themselves as attendance officers. They have been extremely helpful to the school administrators in urging attendance so that Texas children can have a better education."

Every district in the state has waged intensive campaigns to get children in school and keep them there, Sturgeon said.

Schools have expanded or instituted classes in shop work to interest older children.

Classes for handicapped children have increased 50 percent. They, like many other special school services, were made possible by allocation of state funds under Gilmer-Aikin school laws.

Visual aid facilities have been augmented, Sturgeon said, increasing the interest of children in school work.

School terms of six weeks to two months during the summer are popular in many sections of the state, according to Sturgeon. These make it possible for students to complete their annual scholastic work and yet allow schools to be dismissed during cotton picking time.

Sturgeon also reported that inroads are being made on the problem of regular attendance of Latin-American and Negro pupils. It is reported that workers are prone to leave their children in school on two or three months of the year, at most, Sturgeon pointed out.

Some districts which have heavy Latin-American and Negro populations reported gains in attendance of 15 percent and more during the last school year as compared with less than 5 percent state-wide gain.

But even with the increase in attendance there are still approximately 150,000 children of school age in Texas who are not enrolled, Sturgeon said. These are children whose parents are starting them in school a year late or older children who do not enter high school.

One of the most serious problems confronting school districts is lack of classroom facilities, according to Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Surveys by that organization and state school officials show that 50 per cent of the school districts this year increased their classroom facilities. Many others will add classrooms during 1950 and '51, Tennyson said.

"These necessary additional facilities will be made available due to increased revenue obtained by the schools through the new and equitable laws which produce more funds, from both state and local taxes," Tennyson said.

CAPITOL CARAVAN

BY MICHAEL C. ALLEN

Washington, D. C.—With Summer hitting its stride, this Capitol City is sweltering in double heat—the humidity of the near-swamp around here and the windy blasts of hot air from political campaigns.

Forecasts of the outcome of the November elections are few and far between. Too many political dopesters recall the 1948 upsets, when President Truman spilled New York Governor Tom Dewey's unhatched chickens, already counted.

There is general agreement, however, that one contest may shadow things to come—mainly, the 1952 presidential elections. This is Senator "Bob" Taft's campaign for re-election in Ohio.

Senator Taft is definitely racing down the road to the Republican nomination for presidency in 1952.

But Senator Taft knows he has to make a good showing in the Ohio race to stand any chance of getting the GOP nomination in 1952. It'll take pretty delicate timing on his part to swing it. I'm glad all my timing problems can be easily handled by a Bulova Watch. He not only has to win, he has to win rather substantially.

The Democrats in Ohio are running "Jumping Joe" Ferguson, the vote-getting state auditor, against Sen. Taft for the Senate seat. Some of President Truman's political advisors are known to hope Sen. Taft will win. They figure this will cinch his nomination in 1952 by the Republicans. And, their calculations go, outspoken, intelligent "Bob" Taft might be an easier man for the Democrats to lick than some smoother-tongued, vote-rousing Republican the GOP might pick. A defeat for Sen. Taft in Ohio, however, would pretty definitely put this son of former President and Supreme Court Chief Justice William Howard Taft out of the presidential picture.

On the other hand, President Truman would like to spearhead a good licking for this Senator, almost his arch-foe. As Republican policy committee chairman in the Senate, Mr. Taft often outbattles the Truman majority forces. And Mr. Truman doesn't like to be outmaneuvered and out-generaled.

Fifteen years of valuable experience goes into every job of printing at the News-Record.

Electric Kitchen on

Complete all-electric kitchens and home-laundries, duplicating those found in prize winning homes, have been placed on wheels for a tour that will take them into thousands of towns and villages across the nation. As shown above such glamor innovations as the pushbutton electric range, the front opening automatic dishwasher and the two-door refrigerator will be demonstrated by home economists who will accompany the exhibit from Chicago's Hotpoint factories. While the project is planned to ultimately utilize many complete "kitchens and laundries on wheels" in all parts of the country, the pilot run is being made to 50 farm and home equipment shows at points in Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee.

A spokesman said that besides the fairs and other crowd-events, special showings of the equipment would be held for dealer and electric company customers.

In addition to the full size electric kitchens and laundries, the Fruehauf trailer which carries the exhibit has installed two "planning nooks" where women may design and build their own kitchens out of miniature scale models. Hotpoint dealers have arrangements by which the miniature appliances and the design selected may be duplicated in a new or remodeled home kitchen.
