Probation Granted In Canyon Dorm Death

Vengeance Missing In Trial

By TROY MARTIN
Canyon News

Two mothers, one white and one black, wept in each others arms Friday afternoon in 181st District Court.

One was the mother of Barry Robbins, 21, a black student from Dallas, who had just drawn 10 years probation and a $5,000 fine after being convicted of voluntary manslaughter.

The other was the mother of the boy Robbins stabbed fatally with a screwdriver last spring in a scuffle in their dormitory unit at Jarrett Hall.

She is the mother of Kermy Henderson, 20, who was pronounced dead at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo early on the morning of May 1.

She also is the wife of Bobby Don Henderson, sheriff of Bailey County.

It was a harrowing wait for those vitally interested in the trial.

The case went to the jury at 2:05 Thursday afternoon. When a verdict had not been reached by 6:30 Thursday evening, Judge George Dowlen sent jurors home for the night.

They re-convened at 9 o'clock Friday morning and brought in a verdict of guilty on charges of voluntary manslaughter at 11:40 o'clock Friday morning.

Jurors required 1 hour and 18 minutes to agree on punishment. They began deliberating at 2:07 Friday afternoon and announced that they had agreed on punishment at 3:25.

The Hendersons and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robbins were seated on opposite sides of the courtroom. Mrs. Robbins moved toward her son who was seated at the counsel table as Judge Dowlen finished reading the jury's recommendation.

Mrs. Henderson left her husband and rushed to Mrs. Robbins and the two women clung to each other and wept in relief.

Robbins left the courtroom with his probation officer. His parents remained to talk to the Hendersons for more than half an hour.

The two women held hands as they exchanged comforting words. Rodney Unrein, friend of both the boys, talked to the women

Football Winners Named

The second football contest revealed three entirely different winners this week.

Taking first place and receiving ten points was Margrethe Taylor. This ties Taylor and Raymond Villalobos for first place so far in the contest.

Second place winner this week is David McVicker. David receives six points and as an added bonus, goes on record as top contender for second place in the overall contest.

Placing third is James Byers. He received four points and those points tie him with L.C. Roddam for third place.

Close behind third place with three points each is Gerald Shanks and Adele Tompkins.

Like the old saying goes, "Folks, it's anybody's game at this point, so keep those old cards and letters coming in."

Who knows what next week will bring.

tearfully about the tragedy and was embraced by both of them.

Everyone seemed satisfied with the outcome. District Attorney Randy Sherrod and his assistant, Wes Clayton, had asked the jury to give young Robbins jail time but did not seem disappointed with the decision to grant probation.

Commenting on the outcome, Sheriff Henderson said he was satisfied with it. "Let the boy have his chance," the sheriff declared. "If he can make it on probation, fine."

The convicted youth's father was visibly relieved. His minister and a neighbor said Joe Robbins had suffered from depression since the slaying last spring.

"He would get better sometimes and then get way down again," the neighbor declared.

"I feel good about it now," Robbins said outside the courtroom.

"The Henderson family helped us alot," he went on. "They comforted us and I think Sheriff Henderson's influence had a lot to do with the leniency. They were just splendid."

"The Hendersons are first rate people and there's no doubt about that," declared Defense Counsel Dennis McGill of Lubbock.

McGill said he made extensive investigation into the possibility of racial prejudice being involved in the case. "There wasn't any," he declared.

Race was not mentioned during the three-day trial.

1981 School Taxes Lowered One Cent

As part of the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District, the 1981 tax rate was lowered one cent. The Bailey County Chief Appraiser Dale Jones, calculated the effective tax rate to be $.85 per $100 of assessed value. The school board approved and chose on Monday night to approve the school tax rate at $.84.

Terry Young was employed on a part-time basis as a speech therapist until the Christmas holidays and Hope Gonzales was employed as a bilingual aide in the sixth grade.

Interest rates on all Land Bank variable rate loans will be increased to 11 percent on farm loans and 11 1/2 percent on rural residence and farm-related business loans, William C. Liles, Manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe announced today.

These rates become effective October 1, 1981. "There continues to be substantial upward pressure in the bond market with no relief from the record high interest rates anticipated in the near future," Liles said.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTIN — The redistricting process is in chaos again, apparently picking up speed as it heads for the courtroom in a handcart.

Efforts to draw the Texas House and Senate seats are running into political difficulties on the five-member Redistricting Board.

And the hard-won compromise plan approved by the Legislature in July's special session has finally arrived just where legislators hoped and feared it would: in the federal courtroom of controversial Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler.

Last week a black pastor from East Texas filed suit to declare the congressional plan unconstitutional because it allegedly dilutes the voting strength of minorities. Several minority groups across the state are expected to support the lawsuit.

Redistricting Board

The all-Democrat Redistricting Board should be a dream opportunity for that party's leaders, but as with any political committee, disagreements have cropped up.

Sitting on that board, as provided by the Texas Constitution are five state officials, who all happen to be Democrats: Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Bill Clayton, Attorney General Mark White, Comptroller Bob Bullock and Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong.

Board members are expected to finish drawing suggested plans and submit them for public hearing by Sept. 23. Hobby has a Senate plan, Clayton has a House plan and Bullock will have opposing plans for both of them.

Bullock is using the computer at the Comptroller's Office to aid his efforts, a task he has awaited since the Legislature went into session.

Bob Bullock

The Comptroller may find that the power to redistrict the state and decide the fate of one's political

Actkenson

Services Held Here Wednesday

Services for Troy L. Actkenson, 69, were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, September 16 in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Bill Kent, pastor, officiating.

Interment was in Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Actkenson died at 3:50 p.m. Sunday in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

He was born March 3, 1912 in Knox County, Texas and moved to Muleshoe in 1925 from Knox County. He was a farmer, member of the First United Methodist Church and past president of Rotary. He married Lou Dell Wilhite January 5, 1980 in Muleshoe.

Survivors include his wife, Lou Dell; two daughters Mrs. Sue Sooter of Albuquerque and Mrs. Donna Roming of Bovina; two sons, Carroll Wilhite and Rod Wilhite, both of Ft. Collins, Colorado; two sisters, Mrs. Serna Johnson of Oak Ridge, Oregon and Mrs. Lelah Madison of Lamesa; three brothers, Oliver Actkenson of Arlington, Raymond Actkenson of Colorado City, Texas and Theo Actkenson of Muleshoe; and six grandchildren.

appropriations committee members who trimmed his budget requests, may be running out-of-bounds of Democrat Party unity.

Republican Gov. Bill Clements, who surprised friends when he vetoed the Senate plan early this summer and handed it over to the five Democrats, may well have known what he was doing.

Now he can sit back and watch a knock-down Democratic feud . . . and should the new plans he patently unfair, the Republicans can always take it to court. Some observers have said all along that all three redistricting plans will end up in the courtroom.

Bill Clayton

Talk around the Capitol has been that lame-duck Speaker Clayton with his conservative plan would be the odd-man out when the committee votes for final approval.

But Clayton, who has already been through the redistricting process twice this year, knows full well the dangers of being too greedy in this game. Reportedly, Clayton has been sitting back waiting for the liberal Bullock to overplay his hand.

To compound Bullock's troubles, he was stopped and searched by Austin police last week following a tip he was armed and holding a hostage in a taxicab. No gun was found on Bullock, who told police and the press he had gone to visit a just-fired employee for personal reasons.

Texas, Justice Department

The U.S. Justice Department is backing off pressure on Texas in two issues: prison reform and illegal alien education.

Last week the feds told the Supreme Court it would let Texas resolve for itself whether to provide a free public education to children of illegal aliens. In 1975 the Legislature passed a law allowing school districts to charge tuition for alien children. During the Carter Administration, the department considered the law unconstitutional.

The department is also reconsidering its role in the prison reform lawsuit and may choose not to participate. That decision would leave the plaintiff attorney alone to fight the state's appeal of a multi-million dollar prison reform construction program ordered by Judge William Wayne Justice.

Clements, McKnight
Governor Bill Clements told reporters last week he has every intention of seeking re-election and promised a formal statement in mid-November.

Is Grandma Really Senile

Before dismissing an elderly person's forgetfulness by saying that he or she is just getting senile, take a look at what foods they're eating, the drugs they're taking, and their general physical and emotional state. Although the majority of people termed "senile" do have a gradual progressive condition commonly known as senility, approximately 10 percent of the older population labeled "senile" have some other problem or problems which mimic senility, says the Texas Medical Association (TMA).

Memory lapses, mental confusion, disorientation as to time, place and people, loss of interest in appearance, visual or hearing impairment can all be symptoms of problems other than senility. It takes quite a bit of detective work to distinguish real senility from other, reversible and treatable disorders, however.

One of the most common causes of "pseudo-senility" (symptoms that look like senility but which have other causes) in senior citizens is improper drug use. We tend to become more sensitive to drugs as we age. Also, an older person is more likely to take different drugs at the same time for many separate complaints. Very frequently these drugs, although safe taken alone, react in unexpected ways when combined with other drugs. Side effects which seem like senility, for example lack of mental alertness, can occur. Even over-the-counter drugs can cause trouble when other medications are taken too. Both the pharmacist and physician should be informed of all the drugs-including over-the-counter drugs-that an older person is taking.

Real or pseudo-senility also can mask such problems as alcoholism, or alcohol withdrawal. Nutritional deficiencies are common among the elderly. Many older people do not or cannot provide balanced diets for themselves. Some may require nutritional supplements, especially if they are on steady medication.

Other physical problems which can either mimic or aggravate symptoms of senility are acute infections and metabolic disorders.

Depression, too, can be mistaken for senility. It is unfortunately common to find elderly people living alone in isolation and boredom. Emotional disturbances often go undetected in nursing homes as well.

"Pseudo-senility" is most often suspected when a person is closer to 60 than to 80, but it is possible at any age. Sometimes a surprisingly minor treatment can clear up these cases of so-called senility.

Babysitting co-ops can offer an occasional respite from the daily routine of housework and child care, suggests Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

Co-ops are economical, shared and "quality" in terms of child care-when established rules are followed by friends who take turns keeping other members' children, she says.

Ms. Taylor is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

Nutrition. Just what is it? A simple definition of this complex subject is: the process of eating and using food. Fortunately for us, we don't need a thorough knowledge of food and body chemistry in order to apply the principles of good nutrition. Rather, we simply need to learn what foods to eat for energy and nourishment, and learn how to select foods that will fulfill those requirements and develop good eating patterns that will provide pleasurable and healthful meals.

Unfortunately, our eating habits are often all too careless—beginning with where we get our foods, what types we get, how they are cooked and how we eat our meals. In the past few decades, eating patterns have changed dramatically, along with our life styles.

Loading up on handfuls of vitamins, or eating large quantities of certain "magic" foods will not set you and your family on a magical road to good health and vitality. Instead, a variety of foods, carefully prepared and attractively presented, helps create lifelong good eating habits that will help ensure good health. Remember, there is a wide world of food combinations to choose from.

FACTS & FIGURES

If you were born today, you share your birthday with about 625,999 other Americans. According to the Census Bureau, an average of 626,000 people celebrate their birthday on any given day in America.

Birthdays, one of the biggest gift-giving occasions in America, are now a lot easier to shop for since the Johnnie Walker Red "greeting card" gift box program was created. Now consumers can give a bottle of scotch and a pictorial birthday card in the same gift box at no extra cost.

In this country there are about 7,000 persons who have celebrated 100 birthdays. That's about one out of every 32,000 Americans.

HOSTESSES.....Vickie Burch (on left) and Billie Mason were hostesses for the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers meeting recently.

INGENIOUS IDEAS DEPT.

If you've waited until the last minute when you have a gift to buy, an ingenious idea has been developed that could help you save the day. It's a "greeting card" gift box that comes with a bottle of scotch. Created by the people at Johnnie Walker Red, the "greeting card" gift box program does away with color and size decisions while providing a convenient and tasteful gift. Many consumers are raving about the idea because the gift comes with amusing all-occasion and birthday cards. This means one-stop shopping at no extra cost... an ingenious idea that's always welcome.

Mules Stomp Indians

The 8th grade Mules met the Morton Indians Thursday September 10 with the Mules coming out on top 20 to 0. It started by Morton winning the toss and choosing to receive. The Mules tough defense held Morton and they were forced to punt. On the second play from scrimmage David Vela rumbled in from 70 yards out. The extra point was made by Ronnie Logsdon and the Mules were on top 8 to 0. Morton received once again and were forced to punt. As before David Vela went in for six more. The extra point failed and the Mules lead 14 to 0 at the half. The Mules received and Vela went in again to pick the enzone grass. From there the Mules ran out the clock and won the game.

Players receiving stars for this week's game were: Rudy Pena, for scoring a touchdown with a diving tackle, Loy Triana for big

Indian Drop 7th Grade

The Muleshoe Mules 7th grade Mules met the Morton Indians in their first game here in Muleshoe, Thursday, September 10. Despite a hard fought game, the Mules lost 8-30. In the fourth quarter Ramon Martinez made 6 points for the Mules and Sidney Lewis made the extra two points from five yards back...an outstanding play was by Mule George Alvarado when he jumped up and batted the ball away from the receiver when Morton tried to pass. Next Thursday, Sept. 17, at 5:00, the Mules will meet up with the Tulia Hornets in Muleshoe. Please be there to cheer the Mules.

Veterans Q & A

Q--What is the maximum amount I can borrow on a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?
A--There is no legal maximum. The VA will guarantee 60 percent of the loan or $27,500, whichever is less. The total amount of the loan is determined by the policy of your lending institution and by your ability to repay the loan.

Slight Shift To Soft Red Wheat Seen

AUSTIN--Though hard red winter wheat is the major class of wheat planted in Texas, farmers shifted slightly to soft red this year. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service surveyed farmers on class and variety planted at the request of the wheat industry. This survey will be reported in the small grains statistics booklet, which will be published by the Texas Department of Agriculture in November. County estimates on acreage will identify the locations of soft red winter wheat acreage. Acreage of hard red winter wheat declined from 91 per cent of all wheat in 1979 to 85 per cent in 1981. There were 6.6 million acres in this class. Soft red winter wheat increased to nearly 14 per cent in 1981 from 9.1 per cent in 1979 to 1,050,000 in 1981.

Planning for the future is the only way to improve the future.

Q--My husband died in 1975. At the time of his death I did not want the headstone or marker provided by the Veterans Administration. But I heard recently that the VA pays an amount toward the purchase of a headstone. Am I entitled to this benefit?
A--No. The law providing for this benefit was not passed until late 1978. The deceased must have been buried after the law took effect in order for the survivor to be eligible for reimbursement.

Q--Can a veteran get an extension of his 13-year deimiting date for education benefits from the Veterans Administration?
A--If a veteran was physically or mentally disabled during the period of his eligibility, he may apply for an extension by submitting medical evidence for consideration.

Sherri's Spots By Sherri Bessie

The first M.J.H. game was Thursday. The Mules played Morton, and the turnout was super! The crowd was real supportive to the Mules. The Mules next game is here Thursday the 17th and it is against Tulia. This will be the first M.J.H. pep rally of the year. The annuals are still on sale they are $7.00 until October 26, then they go up to $8.00. November 16 is the last day to purchase your annual. Get your M.J.H. annual before it's too late!

I would like to express my sympathy to Bettie Lough and her family on the death of her brother. I would also like to send best wishes to Mrs. Ruth Page and Mrs. LaVonne McKilip. I hope they recover quickly.

But you haven't heard this one: The boy said, "Teacher we got 3 feet of rain." "You mean it rained that much?" the teacher said. The boy said, "We got a whole yard full." Well, that's about all that's been happening around M.J.H. See ya next week.

Chemists develop high octane fuel from wood residues

COLLEGE STATION — A high octane fuel that may be better than gasoline has been produced from waste products generated in the effort to turn pine and other forest residues into liquid fuel. Dr. Ed Soltes, a wood chemist and leader of a research team at Texas A&M University's Forest Science Laboratory, said his group has taken the process of making fuel from plants one step further by turning the by-products of the fuel-making process into still more fuel. The research, sponsored by the Texas A&M Center for Energy and Mineral Resources and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, greatly improves the technological feasibility and possibly the cost-effectiveness of producing liquid engine fuels from plants, Soltes said.

Crop Insurance Decision Faces Texas Farmers

Between now and September 30, Texas farmers can study the All-Risk Crop Insurance Program for wheat and barley to decide how it can fit into their 1982 plans. "Basically, the program works the same as before. The producer signs up for protection now. After the crop is planted, they file a report of planted acres which becomes the basis for their protection. "If the crop is damaged by an unavoidable natural hazard at any time during the growing season, an indemnity is paid on the difference between the producers guarantee and the actual or appraised production," Explained Ben A. Jordan, Jr., FCIC Regional Director. "Payment of premiums is not required until after harvest." The program is set up so every producer can work out an insurance plan that fits his or her needs and budget. For wheat and barley, the producer selects a guarantee in bushels per acre from one of three levels which reflect approximately 50, 65 and 75 percent of their average yield. The producer also selects one of three price elections. This year's options are $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50 per bushel on wheat; and $2.00, $2.25 and $2.60 on barley, according to the Regional Director. Another feature of the program is that producers can count on the government paying up to 30 percent of the premium and the rest is tax deductible. Those producers who establish good insurance experience also receive additional discounts of from 5 to 50 percent of the regular premium. "While it is still a government program, it is available in most communities from private insurance agents. Some companies call it comprehensive or multiple peril rather than all-risk, it's still the same policy with the same protection and the same cost," said Jordan.

Farmers Union Will Launch Drive

In order to aid and strengthen the family farm system in Texas, the Texas Farmers Union is launching a statewide membership drive the week of September 21-25. Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller called on all family farmers and ranchers in Texas "to work together in protecting their livelihood and preserving agriculture as the backbone of America." The Texas Farmers Union, now 79 years old, was founded in Point, Texas in 1902 as the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America. The TFU now has 10,000 family members involving all commodity groups while the National Farmers Union has over 250,000 members in agricultural states. The Farmers Union represents farmers and ranchers in legislative activities in both Washington D.C. and Austin. The association also provides educational materials and promotes cooperation among producers. The TFU also is involved in rural development programs which include senior citizens programs - Green Thumb and the Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP). Among the national issues the Farmers Union is currently working on are the 1981 Farm Bill, preservation of disaster loans, reduction of interest rates, maintaining the social security system, changes in estate and gift tax law, assistance for beginning farmers, protection against grain elevator bankruptcies and others. On the state level, the Texas Farmers Union worked for the tax exemption for gasohol, prohibition of foreign purchases of agricultural land, reform of property tax laws and establishment of the Farm and Ranch security program. The TFU also plans to have introduced a bill which will set minimum prices for commodities in Texas in the 1983 legislature.

Michigan Faces Fighting Irish Of Notre Dame

Michigan, picked by many experts to be the top college football team in the country in 1981, will face a real tough Irish test Saturday as Notre Dame comes to Ann Arbor. The Wolverines haven't beaten the Irish since 1978 when they lowered the boom 28-14. Since then Notre Dame has won both games each by two points...12-10 in 1979 and 29-27 last fall. Michigan has a big edge in the series between the two with ten wins out of 14 games. The Irish entertained L.S.U. last week while Michigan was on the road against Wisconsin. The crystal ball very quietly says Michigan by seven points.

And the other big 'un is in Lincoln, Nebraska, where the Cornhuskers take on Florida State. This will be only the second meeting between the two powers, the Seminoles beating Nebraska last year 18-14. We don't know who came up with Florida State's schedule this year, but it must Marvin Ensor, the agent, met Monday, August 24 in the home of Gary Field to make plans for the programs for the new year.

Many interesting things have been planned and the officers urge new members to join the group.

To begin the new year, on Sept. 14, the club will meet at 7:30 p.m. with the program on various camps available through 4-H.

Present for this meeting were Sheila Summer, Debbie Hill, Judy Wiseman, Gordon Martin, Wade Donnell, Stephanie Bickett, Gary Fields, Patty Miller and Lou Boyles.

Michigan Faces Fighting Irish Of Notre Dame

Starting with Nebraska, the Sems play five consecutive road games - Ohio State, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, and L.S.U. The only team they forgot was the Oakland Raiders. Anyhow, Florida State may be in for big trouble right at the start of its backbreaking travels: Nebraska, it says here, will win by 13 points.

After those two blockbusters, things taper off a bit. In what might be called a warm-up for its clash with Oklahoma next week, Southern Cal goes to Bloomington, Indiana, for a date with the Hoosiers. The Trojans are favored by twenty points. Another school on the West Coast with almost the same zip code, U.C.L.A., also goes to the Midwest. The Bruins battle the Badgers in Madison, Wisconsin, and U.C.I.A. is picked by 18 points.

Texas should whip North Texas by 21 and Ohio State could be 24 points too tough for Michigan State.

Glenda Cardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cardwell, left Wednesday for South Plains College in Levelland where she will be attending classes this summer. Orientation began Wednesday. Some others from Sudan who will be attending SPC this semester include Lee Markham, Troy Moss, Jani Brown, and Mike Hill.

Odell Johnson will be attending McMurray College in Abilene as is Roy Don Ducegon. Shelly Pickrell will be attending ACU in Abilene.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Dugeon were their sons, Roy Daon and Ray and Philda Sloan of Munday, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Kim Engram and children of Amarillo visited part of the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Engram.

Reydon Staford of Ft. Worth visited this past week with his mother, Doris Stanford and other family members as well as Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards and family.

Louis Boyles of Phoenix has been visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Martin and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonner Markham and children of Amarillo spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burt Markham.

Mrs. W.T. Vereen is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. Rodrigues in Wichita Falls.

EDITORIAL

The Budget Amendment

One of the major issues pending in the now-reconvened 97th Congress is an amendment to the Constitution sponsored by Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) and 47 other senators. The Hatch amendment would circumvent the calling of a constitutional convention, which many state legislatures have already voted in favor of, and may soon have the active support of President Reagan.

The proposed amendment requires that the federal government operate on a balanced budget and permanently limits the degree of federal taxation which can be voted by Congress.

This amendment, if passed by Congress, would then go to the various states and it is thought chances of ratification by three fourths of the states--which would implement it--are excellent.

Some veteran Washington political analysts believe this amendment will be passed this fall, and that ratification by the states will be accomplished within two years. They base this opinion on the surprising grass roots strength of the budget balancing idea and the progress already made by groups pushing for a constitutional convention.

By one method or the other, constitutional budget balancing should be given a trial, which it has never had. Surely its disadvantages, if any, could not be more ruinous than policies of the past.

Today's Mortgages

Homebuyers today should more than ever carefully shop for the best mortgage available when buying a home partly on credit. That's because the mortgage business is currently in a state of change. Many types are now available, although interest rates on all are high.

Some mortgages provide that the interest fluctuate with the market. But how often is the rate adjusted? This can vary from six months to five years. And what is the change tied to--treasury bills, home-loan rates or one of the national indexes?

It's estimated that about thirty to forty percent of all home mortgages written today are adjustable, which is a considerable change in mortgage practice as measured with that of only a year ago. Some have maximum change limitations for any one adjustment, or for the length of the mortgage, and other restrictions.

Therefore, the buyer of a home today must spend considerable time and effort studying what's available in the mortgage field if he or she is not to sacrifice thousands of dollars. For a difference, which may sound minor in terms and limitations, is often considerable.

A thirty-year mortgage at 17 percent, for example, if unchanged, could cost the home buyer many more thousands of dollars--measured against a variable rate mortgage. As one example, suppose mortgage rates five years from now are down to ten percent. One with a $50,000 loan who paid at a rate of 10 percent for the remaining twenty-five years, as against one who continued to pay at 17 percent for those remaining 25 years, would pay three thousand dollars a year less! That could continue for 25 years, or make a difference of more than the original amount of the mortgage!

The Speaker Reports by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--The first bill passed by the Special Session of the 67th Legislature was Senate Bill 5, the Medical Practices Act. This bill continues the Texas Board of Medical Examiners for another 12 years. Under the Texas Sunset Act, this Board, which regulates the practice of medicine in our state, would have gone out of existence August 31 if the Legislature had not voted for its continuance. Several important revisions and additions were made to the former law. The membership of the Board will be changed from 12 members appointed by the Governor to a 15-member Board consisting of 9 medical doctors, 3 osteopathic doctors, and 3 public citizens, all of which will be appointed by the Governor. Officers of statewide professional medical societies are prohibited from serving on the Board. Medical doctors will be allowed to advertise if their ads are not misleading and they do not claim superiority to other physicians. Language is added which prohibits a public hospital staff from discriminating against a doctor solely on the basis of an academic medical degree when making medical staff appointments. The bill specifically states that a person is not illegally practicing medicine if he provides nutritional advice. It declares that patients are entitled to summaries or copies of their medical records unless a doctor determines the information might be harmful to a patient. The Board is given authority to suspend a doctor's license for "persistently and flagrantly overcharging and overtreating patients." The license of a doctor found guilty of a felony involving drugs is automatically suspended. A majority of the Board is required for a quorum to discipline a doctor. The Board is given authority to determine what tasks a physician safely can delegate to a non-physician, such as a nurse. A controversial change to the law was a compromise that will allow an optometrist to use certain drugs for diagnostic purposes if he is given written authorization to do so by a medical doctor. Use of drugs is restricted to diagnosis; therapeutic use of drugs is strictly prohibited. A physician does not have to give authorization to an optometrist whom he does not know, or if he determines that a denial is within the scope of sound medical judgment or that it is not in the public interest. The Texas Board of Medical Examiners has long served the people of Texas and deserves much of the credit for the fine doctors of our state. I believe that with the changes made by the 67th Legislature the Board will be even more able to aid the people of Texas in obtaining quality health care.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The 97th Congress' first six months in action was the most productive of any period in recent memory. The Administration's program for economic recovery was passed virtually intact.

That means federal spending has been slashed far below projected levels, your taxes will be lower and the intrusion of federal government into the business of its citizens will be reduced. But more than that, it means there has been a dramatic shift in the philosophy of government. The budget and reconciliation package represents the first downward movement of federal spending and federal involvement in well over 20 years. The tone has been set for a continuation of this new approach in future years.

But there still is much to be done this year. Congress is back in session this week after a month-long recess from legislative activity. That doesn't mean that most of the members of the Congress have been vacationing.

Rather, this respite from work in Washington has provided an essential period for members to attend to their jobs in their home states and to do other research to improve their knowledge of legislative issues. For instance, I spent much of the recess period visiting military installations within the continental United States to get a better idea of our defense needs. As chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, I need to have this information from military people in the field.

Now that we are back in Washington, we have much business before us. The defense procurement bill is still in a conference committee, awaiting Administration recommendations on such vital programs as the MX Missile and the long-range bomber.

Only one of thirteen major appropriations bills has passed the Congress, even though the 1982 fiscal year begins October 1. That likely will mean a resolution to fund most federal agencies on an interim basis. The second concurrent budget resolution also will require prompt attention.

Expected Administration recommendations on still more cuts in federal spending will affect decisions on both of these actions. Continuing high interest rates have made these new reductions essential if we are to keep the size of the federal deficit under control. However, I am confident that these needed economies can be effected through still more cuts in domestic programs -- which are the programs that have grown in geometric proportions over the past decade. In fact, many of the "cuts" approved thus far this year actually have been only reductions in projected budget increases. There still is room for real trimming of many federal programs.

Other important legislation awaiting us will include the farm bill and foreign aid package.

The President has announced he will send to Congress a proposal to sell an arms package to Saudi Arabia which the Administration believes will help increase the stability of the Middle East. Careful attention will be given this proposal.
