VOLUME 61 PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY AT STERLING CITY, TEXAS. "Since 1890" FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1951 No. 22

WHEN THE OPS ORDERED a roll-back on cattle prices, many feeders as well as producers sustained financial losses, according to an admission by an OPS official when he testified before the House Agriculture Committee last week.

An example was given of a cattle dealer in Kansas who, before the roll-back bought 100 cattle in Texas, weighing 500 pounds each, and paid 37 cents per pound. Then came the unexpected roll-back of 10% on May 20, 4% on August 1 and 4% on October 1. The buyer had planned to keep them on pasture until October at which time they would gain about 200 pounds in weight. But now he finds that if he keeps them until October he cannot then charge more than 26 cents a pound, and will sustain a net loss of $49 a head.

Similar examples have been multiplied hundreds of times. Last January Eric Johnson told the Nation that roll-backs on meat would not work and would mean less meat for the consumer. The producers were thus led to believe they could buy and contract without fear of such a roll-back. Then suddenly the roll-back order was issued, and it caught large numbers of people with heavy investments and faced with unavoidable financial losses.

Actually, the order is not helping the consumer. The shopper is still paying as much as before the roll-back, the packers and distributors are, in some instances, reaping some benefits at the expense of the grower. There will be much less incentive for feeders to buy and fatten cattle, and the consumers will in all likelihood find less meat on the counters, and will pay very little if any less for it in the future.

Except for live cattle and hides there has been no roll-backs. There have been no roll-backs on feed, transportation, wages, etc. On the other hand, there have been several rounds of wage increases over the nation. Shortly after announcing the roll-back on live cattle, the Government granted a 10% increase in wages for slaughter house workers.

The prices of cattle and meat are admittedly high. But so is everything else. Actually, according to the Department of Agriculture factory workers can now buy one and one-half pounds of round steak with one hour's work, whereas before World War I they could buy only 9-10 pound of round steak for the one hour of work.

Thus, the roll-back, amounting to 18% by next October, is proving unfair, unsound, discriminatory and unworkable. There would have been little objection to a price freeze, but by picking out one industry in our entire economy and subjecting it to an 18% roll-back without the costs of production being also rolled back, the OPS has invited amendments to the present law to prevent such actions in the future. The present law expires at the end of June unless continued by Congress. Congressional committees are now engaged in hearings on the subject. The new law, if one is passed, should protect against arbitrary and unworkable orders such as the live cattle roll-back.

TALKING UP WOOL AND MOHAIR. Mrs. J. W. Vance of Coleman County spent a few days in Washington last week, visiting with the Byron Wilsons. Mrs. Vance is President of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers' Association. She spent a week in New York where promotion problems in the Wool Bureau there were under discussion. There can be no better advocate of more arid wider uses of the natural fibers than Mrs. Vance.

Also in Washington recently was Dr. Gordon Madding of San Angelo. Called here by the Surgeon General, Dr. Madding lectured on a delicate type of surgery to military doctors at a meeting at Walter Reed

Fred Campbell Is New County Agent

Fred Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. (Ned) Campbell of Paint Rock and San Angelo, will succeed Garlyn O. Hoffman as Sterling County agent June 6. Hoffman, who has served almost two years, is to report for active duty in the Air Force at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo.

Campbell, 24 years old, has served since August as assistant agent of Taylor County. His parents have ranch interests at Paint Rock and live at 1434 Grierson, San Angelo.

Campbell had an outstanding record at a 4-H Club boy. He served two years in the Navy. After his graduation from Texas A&M in January, 1950, he did wool testing and warehousing survey work until his appointment to Taylor County.

He was recently married to Miss Kay Sims of Paint Rock.

Hoffman, 30, was assistant Tom Green County agent before coming to Sterling County in August, 1949. A son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hoffman, he grew up near Talpa and was graduated from Ballinger High School. He served three and one-half years in the Air Force. Shot down over Germany, he was a prisoner of war nine months.

After his return to school he worked with the Forest Service in Arizona one summer for special training. He is married and has a 6-year old stepson. One of his last official acts will be to head the annual Horse Show here Saturday.

Hoffman re-enters the Air Force as a first lieutenant.

Rev. W. J. Weimer Returned Here

The Rev. W. J. Weimer, pastor of the First Methodist Church here for the past two years, was returned by the San Antonio Conference last week for another year. Rev. Weimer came here from Galga West, Texas two years ago.

In addition to the pastorate here, Weimer serves the Water Valley Methodist Church.

Pre-School Summer Round-Up Held Here

The P.T.A. sponsored summer round-up of pre-school children in Sterling was counted a success by officials of the organization. Twenty children were given physical examinations by Dr. Wm. J. Swann. Such examinations are considered important by the organization so the child may be physically able to get from his school work all that is coming to him in the years ahead. Corrective measures could be taken if known, and infirmities recognized by parents.

Those who were examined were Erlinda Balderaz, Olivia Balderaz, Estaban Charro, Edna Davis, Sisto Alacaron, Sylvia Enochs, Tradel Estrada, Delfina Balderaz, Angela Gaitan, Joe Gaitan, Van Gaston, Jesus Gramaldo, Maria E. Gutierrez, Oliver Joe Jaros, Maudine Luckey, Gloria Medina, Joanna Murrell, Jerry Payne, Josue Rodriguez, and Jesus Rodriguez.

OPEN CURB SERVICE GROCERY AND DRIVE-IN PLACE

Mrs. T. H. Harzke and Mrs. H.H. Enochs have opened a drive-in grocery and cafe here in Sterling. The place is just east of the Methodist Church on the highway.

The owners plan to stay open 7 days a week, from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. They will serve sandwiches, hotdogs, ice cream, and cold drinks. In addition to the food service, they are handling groceries, candies, cigarettes, etc.

For wedding invitations, announcements, at-home cards, etc., see the local News-Record shop.

Hospital. Attending FBI school in Washington for special training, is Wright Armstrong, Jr., of Brownwood. Other recent visitors have included E. A. Schonrock of San Angelo, Mr. E. A. Johnston and Mrs. Charles H. Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kerrville. The latter were all of Kerrville. The latter were en route to Atlantic for the Rotary convention. In Washington they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Hara, formerly of Kerrville.

Lions Hear Report Of Telephone Committee

The Lions Club members met at the Community Center for luncheon Wednesday despite the Memorial Day Holiday. Guests were Elizabeth Hildebrand, Joe Emery of Evant, Lee Reed, Gary Haymes.

Lions Knight and R. P. Brown attended a meeting of citizens from surrounding towns served by the San Angelo Telephone Company, that met in San Angelo for a conference and organizational meeting Monday night of this week. They reported on the meeting telling of plans laid by the towns and actions planned for the future. Knight said that the men from the town represented talked of the proposed rate increases and ways and means of combating excessive rates, especially on the antiquated equipment now in use by the company in the towns served.

Mayor Whitt of Bronte was appointed or rather elected chairman of the group and a fellow townsman from Bronte was named secretary. Garland Franks, the city manager of San Angelo was at the meeting and helped in formulating plans and action. Franks had been observing first-hand the progress of other cities in their rate-increase battle with the Bell Telephone System.

It developed that no dial phones were in operation in the towns represented at the meeting. All reported antiquated equipment. One local man here (name on request), said that his phone (wall crank-type) had been put in his home in 1903 and had not yet been changed to a newer model in the years. Yet rates have been raised before and the new rate increase runs about 50% here.

In talking of the meeting that was attended comment was made on the fact that the system in asking for raises in the cities over the nation, pleaded that increased costs etc. necessitated rate increases, yet the Bell System paid a 9% dividend (or $9 dividend) last year and had been a consistently high payor of stock dividends throughout the years. Equipment and service improvement by the company in the towns affected will be demanded before new rate increases are agreed to, it was said. The organization agreed to all act together and not separately in any and all action. Brown said this, especially, was a big help to Sterling City and the unincorporated towns served. Because, in such places, permission of a city council is not needed. A company (such as the telephone company) operates under a franchise in incorporated towns) and the rate increases have to be allowed. Rates should be uniform over the company's territory, it was thought by the representatives attending the meeting.

The club voted to have the president appoint a committee to work with the group of representatives from the other towns in contesting or combating the rate increase. The committee will be appointed after a short time of further study, and will include one or two non-members of the club, such as ranchers.

The club voted to pay a small fee into the organization for expenses that have been incurred or may be incurred.

Elizabeth Hildebrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hildebrand, and recipient of this year's Lions Club Good Citizenship award, was present and thanked the club for the honor.

EXTREME CONTROLS ON NEW CONSTRUCTION NEED TO BE MODIFIED, SAYS FARNSWORTH

Local building activity is due for a decided drop unless defense agencies in Washington modify their extreme and unnecessary controls affecting building construction, according to W. D. Farnsworth, local lumber and building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Lumber Dealers Association.

"Restrictions on housing and other building have come so fast, in the effort to conserve critical metals for the defense production program, that surpluses of many building products are developing rapidly," Mr. Farnsworth said. "Yet these excess inventories cannot be used because of the emergency restrictions."

"The cutbacks in construction are only beginning to be felt, because work planned or started some

Horse Show Saturday

"Covering the County"

By Garlyn Hoffman, Co. Agent.

Things are well underway for a good Horse Show on Saturday, June 2. As of Tuesday, forty-five entries had been received. Trophies will be presented to first place winners in each class, and Grand and Reserve champions will receive large trophies. Trophies will be given by the American Quarter-horse Association to the champion Quarterhorse mare and stallion. Other trophies are being given by the Horse Show Association.

The Methodist ladies will be serving dinner on Saturday at the Community Center. We are looking forward to a good meal. The 4-H boys will have the cold drink concession at the Horse Show and jackpot roping. We will all want to patronize their project, too.

The Jackpot Roping and Girls' Barrel Race, scheduled for the night of June 2, at 8:00 p.m., is being sponsored by the Sterling City Rodeo Association. It is open to all, and entries will be accepted at the Martin C. Reed Warehouse until 6:00 p.m. June 2. A special feature is a junior roping for boys who are sixteen years old or younger. This should interest some of you younger cowboys. All entry fees go as prize money, to be split 50%, 30%, and 20% between the first three place winners in each event. Each contestant will be allowed one calf, and two loops if necessary.

Charges for admission to the jackpot roping will be $1.20 for adults and 60c for children.

Several Sterling people were at Ozona last week for the Quarter-horse show and roping events. Sterling County horses made a fair showing, and John Blair came home feeling proud of Spinning Wheel. She took first place in the 1950 Mare class.

As of next Wednesday, your present county agent has to start wearing one of those new blue Air Force caps instead of the Bailey Bros. special straw. Some of you have already met your new agent, Fred Campbell, and others will soon have an opportunity to get acquainted with him. He will soon move here from Abilene with his wife, the former Kay Sims of Paint Rock.

The greatest sensation of the week was almost Horace Donaldson in a Harry Truman sport shirt, but the Standard-Times brought a picture of the County Agent out of their files to run in Monday's issue, and that really eclipsed the shirt Horace wore. The picture is definitely pre World War II, making the County Agent look, by comparison, not exactly so young as he used to be.

Rev. B. B. Hestir, retiring Presbyterian pastor, was making his way to Arkansas on Thursday of last week and he figured in a car crash near Abilene. No one was hurt in the crash, but the two cars were somewhat damaged. Hestir is moving to Arkansas for retirement.

"While the controls are not as severe as in World War II, when the country went into all-out war production, they nevertheless are more restrictive than they need to be under the circumstances. For some unexplained reason, the building industry is being singled out for greater sacrifices than any other major industry.

"Under the latest defense regulations, some types of construction are forbidden outright and many others, including stores, large factories, garages, office buildings, and warehouses, cannot be built unless a special permit is received from the National Production Authority.

"The cumbersome permit system in itself is a serious obstacle, because many weeks are often required to get the necessary permission to build, even when the government has no objections. NPA already was six weeks behind in handling applications for permits before it expanded the list of buildings for which permits are required."

The Annual Sterling City Horse Show will be held here on Saturday, June 2. Nearly fifty entries have been received at the time this story is written. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded winners and placers. Beautiful trophies have been purchased and some donated.

The event has become one of importance in this section and entries are scattered over this section.

That night, following the horse show there will be a jack-pot roping, open to all. Admission charges will be 60c and $1.20, tax included.

A girls' barrel race event is on the program also. Also there will be a junior roping for boys sixteen years or younger. The program has been rounded out, so that spectators will see some good roping.

The Methodist ladies will serve a dinner in the Community Center that day as in the past. They invite the general public to eat there at noon.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

If disease followed the definite pattern that has been classes as symptoms of each specific illness, diagnosis of various ailments would be a much less complicated matter. But any list of symptoms is meant to describe the usual course of a disease and everyone seems to have a different capacity for reacting to the germs that cause infectious diseases, some people straying so far from the normal that only the most detailed laboratory methods can determine for sure what the sickness is in order to treat it.

Meningitis is usually considered a paralyzing sort of sickness that leads to unconsciousness, a coma that may last a long time. There are many different types of meningitis, based upon the particular brands of germs which might invade that film that covers the brain and spinal cord. But one thing they all have in common is the capacity to change the appearance and content of the fluid that is in the spine. So when meningitis is suspected, the diagnosis must be made by examining that spinal fluid and the fluid is obtained by a puncture of the spine.

From this examination, your doctor can also tell whether meningitis is the one brand that is contagious or one of the many brands that are not. If it is contagious, the patient must be isolated at once to keep others from getting the disease. In any case, treatment for the disease must begin rapidly after meningitis is diagnosed. With proper treatment with the new drugs available today, meningitis is seldom the deadly attack it used to be.

The usual early signs of meningitis vary with the age of the person who is stricken. Infants usually get a vacant, staring look on their face and complain loudly on being handled; they want to be left alone. Children may be suspected of having meningitis when they show a sudden high fever with delirium and convulsion and a definite pulling backwards of the head and neck. In adults the first sign is frequently a very severe and constant headache.

It is with such signs as these that the spinal puncture may become necessary. There are other diseases which may create the same signs, of course, but with meningitis ruled out, other diseases may then be considered, diseases which would not require such prompt treatment as meningitis does. Even with the modern methods of treatment, the coma, the period of unconsciousness, is still a part of the meningitis picture, but the danger of the complications that marked the disease a few years has been lessened.

Scarlet fever is another of the diseases that evidently often fails to follow the set pattern. In recent years doctors have discovered that members of the same family may have the exactly same type of streptococci germs in their throats while some members break out in the rash that marks scarlet fever and others exhibit all the other symptoms but not the rash.

From that has come the theory that this particular variety of streptococci germs is responsible for streptococcal septic sore throat and scarlet fever, all of which are different manifestations of the

REMEMBER ME?

I could be Willie, the kid who delivered the groceries to your house—Or I could be Joe, the guy at the service station, who serviced your car before the war—I could be John, the young fellow who had just started to work in the bank when the little brown men rained HELL on innocent Pearl Harbor that day in December.

Perhaps I was in the Infantry—and got mine at Normandy or Bloody Okinawa—maybe I was in the Marines—killed by deadly mortar fire on Iwo Jima—or Tarawa—maybe I fell the victim of famine and starvation in a prisoner of war camp—I could have been shot down that day after I accounted for two Japanese vessels—and went down in flames. Perhaps I manned a deck gun that day when we were struck by a tin-fish—or a Kamikazi—and went down with my ship. Maybe I was destroyed in the African Desert by Rommel's artillery—could be that it happened to me at Salerno—I might have been in the Coast Guard—or perhaps the "Unsung Seabees"—I might have been killed at the Inje Reservoir in Korea—regardless of my status then—I was a guy in uniform—your representative to preserve Democracy and win a war against enemy aggression.

You remember me now—sure you do—you put a rifle in my hand—"go destroy"—"win"—"save our land"—you shouted "Hip! Hooray!"—but look at me today—You see I live in a land of no return—never can I come back—never will I return to those I held most dear—never can I mingle with my old pals. As for myself, I can only say that I am not sorry this happened to me, for in my heart I know that I carried on the tradition taught me since childhood about my forefathers at Bunker Hill the Alamo, and the Argonne—With in me is the self-satisfaction that I did not break the chain of Democracy handed me.

But I do wish to ask you, "Have you forgotten me?"—What are you doing to preserve the peace for which I died.

Ask yourself this question now—

WHEE, BUT IT'S HOT
The official temperature may get to only 100 degrees, but after the extremely cold winter, it seems as if the temperature hits 110. For the time of year, the high readings are HIGH.

My thermometer is not official, but it gets higher than the flagpole in front of the courthouse when the official reading is around 101 or 102. West Texas is a place of extremes. It gets colder, and hotter and drier and dustier than just about any where.

But, I like it and the people.

D. Hall, former Santa Fe agent here, has been awarded a 52-piece set of silver as first prize in a contest on ways and means to better the Santa Fe system's total traffic problem. The letter which Hall submitted was judged winner in the entire Southern Division.

The Menard agent was recently notified of the contest results by C. R. Tucker, vice-president of the railroad.

His letter to Hall, in part, said: "The selection of your letter was based primarily on originality, the spirit in which it was written, together with the time and effort devoted by you in formulating your ideas.

"Please accept my congratulations for being among those awarded a prize, and my personal thanks for your interest in the welfare and your contribution to the success of the Santa Fe."

D. remarked upon being notified of his winning first prize: "You just can't keep those Bluff Dale boys from having accidents."

Questions and Answers About The Telephone Company's Request For Higher Rates In Sterling City

Q. WHY IS THE TELEPHONE COMPANY ASKING FOR HIGHER RATES IN STERLING CITY?

A. Because Sterling City rates are too low to bring in enough revenue to pay cost of furnishing service.

Q. IS THE TELEPHONE COMPANY OPERATING THE STERLING CITY EXCHANGE AT A LOSS?

A. Yes. Last year, expenses of operating the Sterling City exchange were much higher than revenues collected for service here.

Q. HOW ABOUT TELEPHONE COSTS—ARE THEY UP MUCH?

A. The Telephone Company payroll in Sterling City is more than four and one-half times as high as it was six years ago. The growth of Sterling City, with the increased telephone usage and improvement of telephone service has made it necessary for us to employ more people; also, in addition, operating costs have gone up.

Q. HOW LONG HAVE STERLING CITY TELEPHONE RATES BEEN IN EFFECT?

A. Present rates for telephone service were established in 1926. At that time Sterling City had about 219 telephones as compared with more than 365 today. The scope, value and usage of the service has increased greatly in the past 25 years, with no increase in rates.

Q. WITH SO MUCH MORE BUSINESS, ISN'T THE COMPANY'S REVENUE MUCH HIGHER THAN IT WAS A FEW YEARS AGO?

A. Telephone revenues have increased, to be sure, but expenses have increased much faster. Since 1940, local telephone revenues have increased approximately 80 per cent, but expenses during the same period have gone up approximately 226 per cent. Despite the fact that we have more telephones than in 1940, and are handling a greater volume of calls than ever before, the telephone system here is being operated each month at a loss. Rates established 25 years ago simply will not bring in enough revenue to pay present costs of furnishing service.

Q. WHAT DOES THE RATE INCREASE AMOUNT TO?

A. Briefly, the new rates represent an increase of 4 cents a day for residence customers. Business telephones will cost about 9 cents a day more. Charges for various auxiliary telephone services will be increased in relation to higher costs for furnishing them.

Q. WOULD IT BE POSSIBLE FOR THE TELEPHONE COMPANY TO CUT CORNERS AND REDUCE EXPENSES?

A. The Telephone Company takes advantage of every possible operating economy to keep the rates low without affecting the quality of the service. Through these economies and advances in the telephone art, we have been able to furnish more and more telephone service here without increasing rates. The Telephone Company is proud of its record of not having increased rates during the past 25 years, and the cost of virtually everything that goes into the furnishing of service has risen sharply.

Most adults are immune to scarlet fever according to scratch tests known as Dick tests which were devised especially to test immunity for that one disease. Even though you have never had scarlet fever, you may have developed an immunity through attacks of sore throat and tonsil inflammation caused by the same germs as the scarlet fever germ.

A very sore throat and inflamed tonsils, together with fever, vomiting and headache, make up the first signs of this strep-caused disease. If nothing else happens in the next few days while you're being treated with the new drugs, then you probably had a septic sore throat. If a rash breaks out by the fifth day, however, that particular rash of tiny red dots so close together that they look like a solid blanket of red, then you have scarlet fever.

And the definite diagnosis, in event there may be some doubt because the rash is neither solid enough nor red enough, is a couple of weeks or so later when the skin starts peeling off in flakes or layers, especially on the soles of the feet.

Versatile Milk Drinks

Adults, as well as children, who need the extra nourishment afforded by milk drinks, will find some delicious suggestions below. These milk drinks are especially nutritious and much easier to digest when made with rennet powder.

In fact, right in your own kitchen you can prepare a "drug store" milk shake. Some of these drinks are ideal also for between-meal snacks and before-bed pajama treats, as illustrated.

Try one or two of these healthful, tasty drinks right away and rest assured you will find yourself serving rennetized milk drinks often.

To Make the Milk Drinks

Add 1 package rennet powder to 3 cups cold milk. Shake in milk shaker or fruit jar until dissolved. (To make milk more digestible, let stand in refrigerator 15 minutes before drinking.)

Chocolate Peppermint Milk Drink: Add a few drops peppermint extract to chocolate rennetized milk.

Cinnamon Almond Milk Shake: Add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon almond extract to vanilla rennetized milk drink.

Chocolate Malted Milk Drink: Add 1 tablespoon malted milk powder to chocolate rennetized milk drink.

Frosted Milk Shake: Make rennetized milk drink (any flavor). When ready to serve add a generous scoop of ice cream to each glass.

Banana Milk Drink: Add 1/2 cup mashed banana to vanilla rennetized milk drink.

For an individual serving, add 1 rounded tablespoon* rennet powder to 1 cup cold milk.

* Use 2 tablespoons chocolate rennet powder.

By using warm milk, a delicious light "nightcap" can be prepared—and is an excellent aid in inducing sound, restful slumber.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Just "Can't Get Over" Easy's Fence

Few years ago, Easy Roberts took a lot of kidding when he planted that hedge of Multiflora roses—along his property line. Folks said he was getting pretty high-falutin'.

But today plenty of people who laughed at the idea slow down when they drive by Easy's place—just to look at those roses. Most beautiful sight you ever saw.

Practical, too! The hedge is a good four foot high now, and at least five foot thick—even a shaft couldn't get through that prickly mass of shrubbery. Best of all, it cost less than ordinary fencing. (Might be well worth your while looking into.)

From where I sit, there's no sense in looking down on something just because it's different from what we like. For instance, some people think ice-cold lemonade's the best "cooler-off" on a hot day. Some of us would rather have a glass of beer. The important thing is not to "hedge ourselves in" against other people's ideas and preferences.
