Lions Club Negro Minstrel Thursday

High School Auditorium At 7:30 P. M.

The Lions Club is presenting a Negro Minstrel in the high school auditorium next Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. Direction of the minstrel is being handled by Mrs. Anna Lee Johnson and Miss Pam Sanderson.

Reserved seat tickets are now on sale. See Hal Knight, Seth Bailey or Mrs. Johnson for reserved seat tickets. There are some good ones left, but not too many. Prices are $1.50 for reserved seats; $1.00 for adults general admission and 50c for children general admission.

The first portion of the affair is the Carolina Minstrel, which includes the six endmen and the interlocutor. Endmen are Johnnie Ozee as Ames, Roland Lowe as Buck, W. D. Farnsworth as Curtis, H. A. Chapple as Dean, George W. Blackburn as Eddy, and Harry Bradstreet as Flynn. The Rev. Bob Brannon is the interlocutor.

Included in the chorus are Jackie and Elizabeth Cole, Ronald and Evelyn Ann Smith, Glenn Weimer, Miss Pam Sanderson, Mrs. Bill Barbee, Misses Ginger Lane, Carol Campbell, and Patsy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Smith and L. C. McDonald.

The Carolina Minstrel first part is designed for use in conjunction with a laughing minstrel opening chorus and finale, together with a select program of minstrel songs. The routine is arranged for the usual male minstrel circle, and the laugh-producing specialties that crossfire between the endmen and the interlocutor will keep you well entertained for this portion of the evening.

The Olio consists of the in-between acts. The colored mammy with her chilluns will be featured at this point, together with other special numbers. Kenny Garms and his electric guitar will furnish background music as well as special parts, and Mrs. Bill Barbee and Mrs. Anna Lee Johnson are pianists. You just can't miss hearing Riley King's confession in Sambo's defense, when he acknowledges he "Stole Them Britches to Be Baptized In." Horace Donalson turns preacher, and if you don't walk the straight and narrow, he's able to point out "yo sins" to the crowd. A quartet composed of L. C. McDonald, H. A. Chapple, M. K. Smith and Harry Bradstreet will bring you some harmony in a spiritual number or two.

"Chicken Lifters' Convention" "The Chicken Lifters' Convention" is the afterpiece, and this has been selected as a good, standard, lively farce that will probably aid you in locating that chicken thief you've been worried about. The cast in this short, hilarious comedy includes R. T. Caperton as Dominique Jones; Fred Campbell as Game Houston; Bill Cole as Barred Rock Hill; R. P. Brown as Banty Smith; Chappel Murrell as Rhode Island Pearson; Pat Boatler as Buff Orphington Howard; Alvie Cole as White Plymouth Rock Elkins; W. O. Batten as Lucius Hicks; Roy Morgan as the sheriff; M. K. Smith as Minorca Jenkins; C.L. King as Ancona Jones; Dayton Barrett as Ducky Hankins; D. D. Garrett as Turkey Barnes; and Glenn Weimer as Ginny Martin.

Ushers will see that you have no trouble finding your reserved seat. The play begins promptly at 7:30, reminds Mrs. Johnson. Advice of the officials is: "Buy your reserved seat before the opening night and be sure of a seat!"

Money raised at the affair will be used to fix up the big main room of the community center. A lot needs to be done, such as fix up the walls and ceilings, new light fixtures and blinds for the windows. The amount of fixing up will depend largely on the amount netted at the negro minstrel. There is some talk of taking it to Garden City for a performance, and Christoval has asked that it be brought there for a performance. It has not yet been decided about such further performances. If any are put on elsewhere it will be after the first of the year.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in the Sterling County Hospital Thursday of this week included A. D. Kennedy, Mrs. Lester Foster, Mrs. W. B. Atkinson, and E. D. Gibson.

Released this week were Charley Coulson, Lee Hunt, and Mrs. Jesus Rodriguez and infant son, Pedro Medino Rodriguez.

The Rodriguez baby was born at the hospital on Sunday.

Home From Korea

Pfc. J. D. Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fowler, arrived in San Francisco, Calif. last Saturday. He has been in Korea for the past five months in the thick of things there. He is with the field artillery.

J. D. will visit here with his family while on this furlough.

P.T.A. Moved Up To Tuesday

The Sterling City P.T.A. will meet in the school auditorium on Tuesday, December 11 at 3 p. m., next week instead of the usual Thursday. The date was moved up due to the Lions Club Negro Minstrel being held on Thursday night.

Rev. Robert Brannon will give the devotional. The first grades will give a special feature. Mrs. Lee Reed will discuss "Preserving Our Spiritual Heritage."

At 2 p.m. there will be a meeting of the executive committee in the luncheon.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

As with every type of illness, mental illness is not always a cut and dried affair with only one kind of "bug" responsible and affecting only one part of the body. Measles a very common childhood illness, can sometimes cause the most serious complications, depending not only upon the virulence of the "bug" that causes the disease itself but also depending upon each person's physical condition at the time the disease develops. Even previous illnesses, long forgotten, may in some way create a more serious complication with measles than would otherwise arise.

It is always necessary, therefore, not only to find the original "bug" which may cause the first symptoms of mental illness but also to trace back to any other weaknesses which may be involved in the whole picture of mental health.

Everyone has depressions, moments of sadness. When death, disappointment or failure are the causes of the blues, the sad feeling is quite natural. In time, the normal person adjusts himself to other events and other people and overcomes his feeling of depression.

In the neurotic person, the cause of that depression may not always be obvious. He may just feel blue all of a sudden, even when things seem to be going pretty well. Or he may be feeling terribly blue about something that is really a rather minor affair. But the neurotic person (for medical purposes) is aware that his depression is not in proportion to what he should feel, that he is exaggerating his sadness, his sense of disappointment, his failure. And in time he will adjust or compromise and pull himself out of the doldrums.

The psychotic person, however, when he is blue or depressed lets himself go completely in his melancholy and feels that everyone should respond to his situation with the same intense feeling he has. He detaches himself from all other phases of life and from associations with others who cannot respond to his sad situation with great despondency. His world is made up entirely of that one phase which he finds unsolvable and everyone who does not see it exactly as he does is out of step.

Every person with a mental illness cannot be clearly defined in one medical visit as a "neurotic" or as a "psychotic". And even in time, some person who is only slightly maladjusted or neurotic may later become psychotic. The whole point in treating those with mental disorders, then, is not putting a label on their disorder, but finding the cause and devising the best methods possible to adjust from the first point of deviation so that the individual may become normal again.

In most instances, the psychotic person has become so deeply enmeshed in his own world of fantasy that he must be removed from contacts with people and from life situations in order for treatment to be undertaken. This means institutional care in order to study the person and find the original cause of his disorder and then to re-train him, as you train a child, so that he can understand his difficulty and be guided in building himself toward maturity. It takes trained personnel who know the patient's needs to keep him on the "right track" in rebuilding his personality so that he can develop the strength to take his place again in society.

Some people who are psychotic develop definite symptoms that make up a picture of illness which can be labeled specifically. All do not; many psychotic persons present a combination of many different symptoms which defy application of any one name of mental

Lions Club Luncheon

The Lions Club members dined on barbecue venison Wednesday noon at the Community Center. R. P. Brown furnished the venison.

Miss Pam Sanderson sang three Christmas songs, accompanied by Mrs. Anna Lee Johnson at the piano.

Mrs. Johnson, in charge of ticket sales for the negro minstrel, said the sale of reserved seats was going over big. In fact, it was pointed out that there is a likelihood of a sellout of seats before opening night. The date for the club's minstrel is next Thursday, December 13.

Lion George Blackburn announced the Senior Class play that is to be held at the school auditorium tonight at 7:30.

Social Security Numbers Needed by Self-Employed

Self-employed persons in a trade or business who came under Social Security for the first time on January 1, 1951, should make sure that they have a social security card, according to George D. Clark, manager of the San Angelo Social Security office. These persons will need a social security number at the time they file their social security return, says Mr. Clark. This report will be filed in conjunction with income tax returns. The first such report from self-employed persons will be made in 1952 for the year 1951.

It is pointed out by Mr. Clark that under the terms of the amended Social Security Act, Federal old-age and survivors insurance is extended to most non-farm and self-employed individuals who have incomes from trades or businesses which they operate either as sole owner or as partners.

Self-employed persons who have never had a social security account number card or who have lost their card are urged to secure one now in order that they may be able to file complete information with their tax return next year.

disorder. The most common types of psychoses are manic-depressive state, schizophrenia, and paranoia.

In manic-depressive psychosis the outstanding symptom is one of utter depression or extreme gaiety or a sudden variation from one mood to the other. Between these periods of despondency and exhilaration, the person is usually normal, and the usual manic-depressive person will experience these "flights" from normal about four times during a lifetime, each period normally lasting about six months.

Schizophrenia may be differentiated from manic-depressive psychosis as a building up of two worlds, whereas the latter seems to be more of a one-track flight. In schizophrenia, the affected person seems most often to build one world of which he is the center and to be aware of but uninterested in the other world of people and events. In everyday language, schizophrenia is called a "split personality" but the personality is not evenly divided. The world of "I" is the world of fantasy which becomes reality to the schizophrenic, while the outside world of people and events, the real world, becomes the fantasy, not much to be reckoned with.

Paranoia is the state of mental disorder in which the person is motivated to action by imaginary persecutions. The paranoid is usually normal except for his concept of imaginary foes who are closing in on him. He acts as a person would who is being pursued or persecuted; his actions are normal except that there is no real cause for the actions. He has made his fantasy into something real and reacts accordingly.

These are the general pictures of psychotic individuals. They all require medical attention, not only to save themselves and rebuild their characters but also as a safeguard to their fellow men. Their world of fantasy is as real to them as the real world is to normal individuals; their actions, which may become dangerous, are motivated by the fantasies which they make their real life.

Behind The 8 Ball

We got the following letter this week in the mail. Will just reprint it as received.

Washington D. C. November 25th, 1951 Dear Fellow Traveler:

I have the distinguished honor of being a member of the committee to raise $5,000 to be used for placing a statue of Harry Truman in the Hall of Fame in Washington.

We have decided not to tease it by placing it next to that of George Washington, who never told a lie, or next to Jefferson, who spurned a second term.

The committee was in quite a quandary but after much consideration it has been decided to place it next to that of Columbus, who didn't know where he was going; didn't know where he was when he got there and didn't know where he had been when he got home, but made the whole trip on borrowed money.

The inscription on the statue is to be: "I pledge allegiance to Harry Truman and to the indebtedness for which he stands; ONE MAN, INDISPENSABLE, WITH CORRUPTION FOR ALL".

Five thousand years ago Moses said: "Pick up thy shovel, mount thine ass and camel and I will lead you into the promised land".

Five thousand years later, Truman said: "Lay down thine shovel, sit on thy ass, light up a camel—this is the day of the promised land."

If you are one of those who dare to have money left after your taxes are paid, we will expect a liberal contribution.

Sincerely, A Fellow Traveler. 8-BALL.

Lee Hunt, who had been the local hospital with a broken leg for a month, returned to his home on Tuesday of this week. The Hunt's daughter, Mrs. Homer Haggerty of McCamey, is here at the Hunt's.

Doc Swann told him he couldn't have the cast off even for a Christmas present.

8-BALL
TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT! TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT!—Yep, the Senior Play comes off at the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

You should see a good show. 8-BALL

Want to attend the Chicken Lifter's Convention? You'll be able to do so at the Lions Club Negro Minstrel at the school auditorium on the night of December 13th. Incidentally, the reserved seats are going fast. If you want yours, see Anna Lee Johnson today.

Thinking of chicken lifting, etc. reminds me of something. When I was a boy I read the complete works of Mark Twain, his well-known books and those not so well known and all his addresses to groups, clubs, etc. He was called upon to deliver the address of the convention to a poultry raising society one night, and he told of his experiences in raising chicken.

Twain said some of his friends thought the best way to raise a chicken was to warm a board and shove it under the hen in the hen house. The chicken would step off her cold roost onto the warm board and the "raiser" could make way with the fowl right easy. Said he preferred to strike a lucifer match right under the nose of the hen—this would make the chicken groggy and you could get a whole sackful

"Covering the County"

By Fred Campbell, County Agent

Recently there came to this office some information on feeds and feeding. This I would like to pass on to the reader.

As to the availability of feed stuffs this winter: from the American Feed Manufacturers Association came this report. An estimated 9 per cent more feed will be fed in the United States this year compared to last year. There is now estimated a 3 percent larger supply of grain feeds available than will be used, but a 3 percent deficit supply of protein feeds. This, is of course, near a balance, but apparently does not indicate a possible shortage of protein feeds next spring.

Since a good many ranchmen are feeding bundle feed this winter it may be interesting to compare the nutritional values and animal requirements in relation to supplemental feeding.

NUTRITIONAL VALUE

Feed	Dry Matter	Digestible Protein	Tot. Diget. Nut.
Alfalfa hay	90.5%	10.5%	50.3%
Bundled hegari	86 %	3.2%	52.2%
Peanut hay	92. %	10.2%	71.6%
Prairie hay	90.7%	2.1%	49.6%

Below are the daily requirements stated in pounds for normal maintenance and gain:

900-1,100 lb. cows with calves, 2 to 27 lbs. of dry matter, 1.2 to 1.4 lbs. of digestible protein, and 12-15 lbs. of total digestible nutrients.

Bred ewes, 3.2-3.7 lbs. of dry matter, .20 lb. of digestible protein, and 2 lbs. of total digestible nutrients.

Grain cubes contain about 81 to 90% total digestible nutrients, which is the most important item to figure.

Here are some of the vitamin A contents of these same feeds:

	Milligrams per lb.	Units per lb.
Alfalfa hay	11.4	19,000
Peanut hay	8.0	13,333
Bundl. hegari	2.0	3,333

Prairie hay 9.3 15,500
Alfalfa leaf meal 68.2 113,667
An ordinary range cow should get 60-90 milligrams per day or 75,000-100,000 units for normal body maintenance and gain.

A range ewe, bred, should get about 7-10 milligrams per day.

There has been some trouble this fall with a vitamin A deficiency. This trouble shows up in sheep first with night blindness, followed by nervous disorders and spasms. It affects reproduction with lambs being born weak or dead. It affects cattle the same way, and may cause severe diarrhea in young calves. Death losses occur.

Range cubes vary in the amount of vitamin A content. Some feed manufacturers claim as high as 65,000 units per pound.

The Heavenly Twins

By BETTY BARCLAY

Flavor rich chocolate, smooth luscious honey—put them together any time and they're a heavenly duo. And be sure to try them in this special Brownie Honey Pudding for a pleasant taste surprise! You'll have not only a flavormore pudding, but also a wonderful sauce baked right with it—truly a delightful treat! This recipe is not for "last minute" meals as it does require preparation; however, the use of a sweet cocoa mix is a "short cut" and keeps the "fixing" time down to the minimum.

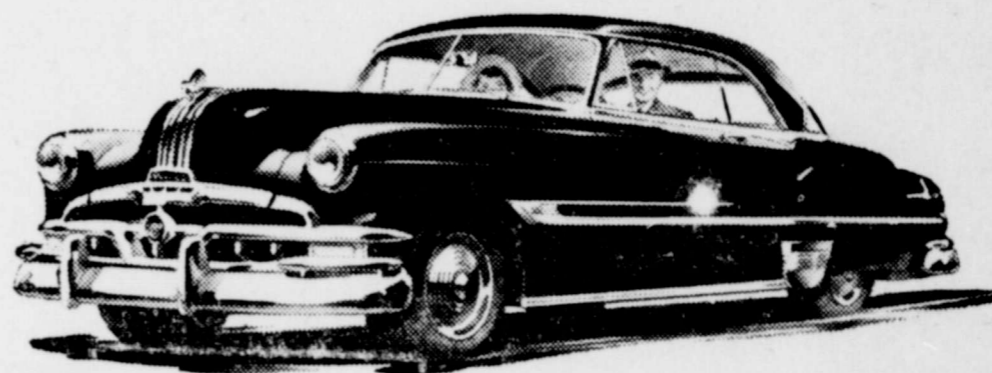

Brownie Honey Pudding

- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons sweet cocoa mix
- 1/4 cup honey
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 tablespoon melted shortening.
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup honey
- 4 tablespoons sweet cocoa mix
- 1/2 cup boiling water.

Sift flour once, measure. Add baking powder, salt, and 3 tablespoons cocoa mix and sift again. Add milk, 1/4 cup honey, shortening, and vanilla; mix only until smooth. Then add nuts. Turn into greased small baking dish.

Mix together 1/2 cup honey and 4 tablespoons cocoa mix and turn out over batter. Then pour boiling water over top of batter. (This makes a chocolate sauce in the bottom of pan after pudding is baked.) Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Plum Pudding Days Are Here

— By Frances Lee Barton —

THERE'S a nip in the air that calls for heavier foods — just what our body engines need to give us "full steam ahead" in cold weather. Incidentally, these are plum pudding days — all the way through the rest of the year. So here's a recipe for a Plum Pudding that is nutritious, tasty, economical and — thanks to the use of flavored gelatine — downright unusual!

Plum Pudding
1 package lemon-flavored or cherry-flavored gelatine; dash of salt; ½ teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ teaspoon cloves; 2 cups hot water; ¾ cup finely cut raisins; ¼ cup finely cut cooked prunes; ¼ cup finely cut citron; ¾ cup finely cut nut meats; ¾ cup Grape-Nuts.

Combine gelatine, salt, and spices; add hot water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in combined fruits, nuts, and Grape-Nuts. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with whipped cream flavored with nutmeg. Makes 10 servings.

Note: If desired, 1 ¾ cups cooked dried figs may replace prunes, citron, and raisins. You may also substitute ¾ cup crushed vanilla wafers or graham crackers for the Grape-Nuts.

For engraved announcements, cards, letterheads and envelopes, see the News-Record. Prices are reasonable.

A Message of Importance

★ ★ ★ To Every Automobile Driver ★ ★ ★
In The State of Texas

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TEXAS "SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW"

- 1 Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- 2 What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- 3 You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But . . . If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- 4 It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- 5 What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.

The dust got so thick here Tuesday afternoon that the motorists were driving with their parking lights on. Kinda reminded me of the first year I lived in San Angelo.
The year was 1918, and I was five years old. Little boys didn't wear long pants then until they got up around fifteen or sixteen, or even older. In the winter, little boys wore long, black ribbed stockings and just socks in the summer with knee britches or knickers. I well remember that the dust storms were bad and the wind would pick up little rocks and sting my legs—as well as my face.

Little boys are lucky these days.
They start wearing long pants before they wear short ones.
