Adequate Natural Gas Supplies Predicted

A survey of the nation's major interstate natural gas pipeline companies and their wholesale customers by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission staff projects no significant disruption of natural gas service or supply, even if this winter is colder than normal.

The staff report is an analysis of the winter gas supply for the 28 pipeline companies that transport 99 percent of the natural gas used in interstate commerce. The pipeline companies anticipate natural gas supplies of 6,141 billion cubic feet available for the winter heating season, November 1981 through March 1982, an increase of 103 billion cubic feet or two percent over actual deliveries the previous year. This temporary surplus represents continued reduction in demand for natural gas because of conservation, a sluggish economy and price competition from alternate fuels, such as fuel oil and coal.

Projections are based on survey responses from the pipeline companies regarding anticipated gas supply, storage operations and inventory, emergency

Alumni Band, Twirlers To Perform At Homecoming

For several years before it became a reality many patrons of the Muleshoe school were clamoring for a school band. But due to financial conditions, the teaching staff was not adequate to add a band director or until the school year of 1939-40. At the beginning of that year Hardy E. Williams was employed as public school music teacher with his duties to include band directing.

Mr. Williams started the band in September 1939 with a group in which few members had any previous training. A lot of interest was manifested and soon a beginners band was started. Williams is credited with doing a good job with this beginning group and soon had them playing the simpler numbers with great zeal. By the end of the year the beginners sounded like a real band.

With the assistance of the Band Parents Organization Mr. Williams succeeded in procuring a number of uniforms so the band began to look as well as sound like a band. The uniforms were purple with a gold strip military style. The school mascot at this time was Yellowjackets.

The band consisted of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors. There were 31 members in the high school band. Members of the charter band of 1939-40 were:

Bruce Horsley, Betty Nell Hays, James Jennings, Horace Edwards, Pearl McMinn, Deon Awtry, Geraldine Taylor, Irvin St. Clair, R.L. Karr, Lloyd Alsop, and Connie Dele Gupton.

Duane Holley, Lena Bell Smith, Ross Glaze, Dorothy Mae Gable, Paul Gardner, Wynelle Eskridge, Fern Smith, Sam Damron, Nina MacStarkey, and Marshall Morris.

Willis Farrell, Betty Jo Jordan, Doris Churchill, Russell Bryant, Dorothy Rae Jones, Robert McHorse, Frances Williams, Bill Pierson, Rudy Johnson, and Billy Beavers.

In 1949 Eddie Chance, the present Mighty "M" director was 3 years old and the Mascot for the Sudan High School Band.

In talking with Dimmitt Bobcat Assistant Coach, George Razor, he stated that the "Cats are all well, except for one injured player who was in an early game." Head coach Mike Major will be looking to tailback, Mark Brugei and split end, Bill King for some outstanding play Friday night. King is the Bobcat's main receiver. On defensive, the Cats will rely on ends, Zeke Garcia and Johnny Gonzales as well as linebackers, Bill Johnson and Mario Moreno, along with "Monster" Brad Holcomb and Ricky Gonzales. While the Bobcats are not a big team and lack in the speed department, their defense is coming together according to Coach Razor. "They have a super good attitude, work hard and have the grit it takes to stay in the game." The Bobcats held the Lit-Cont. Page 6, Col. 5

Crop Yields, Quality Unknown At Present

With approximately 160,000 acres of cotton planted in Bailey County, farmers and gins will soon enter into harvest operations. Many farmers are still hoping for extended warm weather in order to ensure development of green bolls. On the other hand, there are those who are ready for harvest to begin and have 60 to 70 percent of their cotton open.

Cotton gins in Bailey County area are beginning to get ready for the 1981 cotton harvest season. With the onslaught of cold weather and some below freezing temperatures last week, a good portion of the county cotton crop will be ready for harvest in approximately two to three weeks.

Farmers in the southern most parts of the county have not yet received the colder temperatures that the others have had. Benjie Claunch at Claunch Gin in Bula reported that the general area there had only received a couple of frosts. He also stated that farmers in that area need all the time they can get in order to let the green bolls develop fully, as there are a lot of unopened bolls in the surrounding fields. With good weather for the next two to three weeks, a lot of these will open and make cotton. Claunch estimates that it will be at least two and possibly three weeks before cotton in the Bula community will be harvested.

Charles Moraw, manager of the Muleshoe Co-op Gin, expects to be ginning within the next week or so. Since the majority of his customers come from the north and west parts of the county and the cotton crop

Small Business Administration Names District Director

Philip J. O'Jibway has been named District Director of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) in Lubbock, effective immediately. Mr. O'Jibway fills the position vacated by Russell R. Berry who transferred to SBA's central office in Washington, D.C. in January, 1981. Acting directors have served the office in the interim months.

Having previously served as District Director of the Lubbock District from 1971 to 1979, Mr. O'Jibway said, "I am delighted to be back in Lubbock, and look forward to working with the small business community in this great West Texas area."

Mr. O'Jibway has worked for the SBA since Sept. 1969, beginning his tenure as a loan officer, then as Chief of the Financing Division before becoming the District Director of the Lubbock District in June, 1971. In late 1979, Mr. O'Jibway was transferred to the SBA District Office in Fargo, North Dakota as its District Director where he has served until his return to Lubbock this week.

Born in Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, Mr. O'Jibway is a graduate of Bacone College High School in Muskogee, Oklahoma. He holds a BS Degree in Business Administration from Trinity University, San Antonio, Texas, and a Graduate Degree in Banking from Southern Methodist University.

The Lubbock District of the SBA covers 81 West Texas counties. The district office is located in Room 712, Federal Office Building, 1205 Texas Avenue in Lubbock, and a branch office in El Paso, Texas is located in Suite 300, Pershing Building, 4100 Rio Bravo.

Wintertime In Texas: A Zesty Season

Wintertime in Texas is a zesty season. During the period when much of the country is bundling up for survival, Texans are taking to lakes and woodlands, to fairgrounds and festival streets for celebrations ranging from Highland flings to tortilla tossing to symphonic music.

Hundreds of pageants, fiestas, and community frolics are cited in the brand new Calendar of Texas Events just released by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Beginning with robust Oktoberfests in the Calendar's opening month, the variety of activities through out the six-month period included such outdoor happenings as art and music encounters, barbeque and chili cookoffs, flea markets, golf tournaments, fun runs and walkfests.

Harvest jubeles honor such typical Texas products as pecans, sugar cane, rice and peanuts. Winter vegetables, citrus and prized livestock are featured in dozens of events reflecting the bounty of Texas agriculture.

Even the Christmas season is celebrated outdoors in Texas. There are land parades to welcome the season, a water parade of decorated boats, as well as the internationally famous Fiesta de las Luminarias along the San Antonio river.

The new calendar spans the months of October through March, and free copies are available at any Texas Tourist Bureau or by mail from Calendar of Texas Events, Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78767.

Pork-Beef Blend Thriftier Mixture

Cycles of beef availability and cost have resulted in the development of a pork-beef blend by three Texas Tech University scientists.

The 40 percent pork, 40 percent beef and 20 percent beef fat blend is 10 cents cheaper per pound than ground beef, by today's prices, and also undistinguishable as a meat blend.

Dr. Ronald D. Gaylean, with Dr. Gordon W. Davis and Dr. C. Boyd Ramsey of the university's agricultural sciences college, has been experimenting with beef-pork blends for two years in an effort to find the mixture which is both palatable and economical.

"The beef industry is really in a bind now,"

Gaylean said of low beef market prices. "If production costs continue to rise and the feeder continues to receive low returns this will result higher beef costs to consumers. What we hope to do is provide meat in times when beef is short by supplementing that beef supply."

The blend the scientists have come up with has been tested by volunteers as well as expert taste panels.

Results confirm earlier findings that the blend was equal to or superior than ground beef in juiciness, tenderness and flavor desirability.

"If we can provide a ground meat acceptable to the consumer from blends it would stabilize the price," Gaylean said.

In researching meat blends, the scientists' first concern was to produce a product that was palatable. "A blend wouldn't do any business unless people like it," he said.

The second consideration was economics.

"Pork prices tend to be lower than those of beef. Ground pork is cheaper due to less demand," Gaylean said.

The pork cuts the scientists have been working with include those commonly found in sausage as well as the more desirable cuts of loin and muscle. In marketing the blend, the pork prices would tend to stabilize the ground meat prices.

Before the meat could be made available to consumers, Gaylean said the cuts used in the blend would have to be approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and contents clearly labeled at markets.

In nutritional value, he noted the blend contains equal number of calories and nutrients as that of ground beef. Because pork contains less solid fat than beef, the blend has a tendency to appear greasier than beef before being cooked. The food technologist said the blend does not, however, contain more fat than ground beef.

"We're now studying the differences in color," Gaylean said. Use of pork in the meat tended to make it lighter than that of pure beef. But, by using older pork, or sow, the color is nearer to that of ground beef.

Although he acknowledges the consumer's preference for "the real thing", Gaylean feels economic circumstances could make the blend an important market product.

"I believe the blend will be popular if we can show the consumer acceptable tenderness and taste. It will especially be popular if we can show a price break."

A report of the blend's chemical stability and palatability will be made before a meeting of the Southern Association of Agricultural Scientists scheduled February in Orlando, Florida.

Lazbuddie Young Homemakers Plan Halloween Booth

The Lazbuddie Young Homemakers held their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, Oct. 1. Eighteen members and one advisor were present. Three new members joined the chapter. A welcome is extended to Debbie Ford, Cindy Barnes, and Paulett Foster.

Plans were made to have the sunken treasure booth at the Halloween carnival. Each member donated five dollars, and the club donated twenty-five dollars to buy toys for the booth. The Halloween Carnival will be in the gymnasium on October 31 at 8:00 p.m., following the king and queen coronation at 7:30 p.m.

The club decided that each member would donate a book of trading stamps to help furnish the senior citizen housing project in Muleshoe. Members should bring their book of stamps to the next meeting.

The community cook-book project was discussed. The deadline for turning in recipes is February 15, 1982. Give your favorite recipes to any Young Homemaker or call Cindy Cargile, committee chairman, at 965-2417 or Cassandra Cargile, homemaking teacher at 825-3525.

All recipes should be printed on a plain sheet of paper. A person may turn in two recipes for each category. The categories are: appetizers, pickles, relishes; soups, salads, vegetables; main dishes; breads, pastry; cakes, cookies, desserts; candy, jelly, preserves; beverages and miscellaneous. Microwave directions are also welcomed.

Plans were also discussed for the Christmas bazaar which will be held on November 14 from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the Lazbuddie High School Cafeteria. Anyone interested in entering crafts should call Sheryl Engelking at 965-2351, Janice Bradshaw at 965-2619, or Marca Morris at 965-2712, no later than November 12.

The program on Jazzercise classes was presented by Rolinda Day of Clovis. Rolinda teaches Jazzercise classes in Clovis. The majority of Young Homemakers discovered that they were out-of-shape and uncoordinated.

Other activities included the choosing of secret pals. Ellen Gallman won the door prize. Lana Copp served refreshments.

Members attending the meeting included; Reta Mimms, Billie Mason, Charlotte Redwine, Lana Copp, Stephanie Foster, Marca Morris, Mandi Seaton, Joann McDonald, Cindy Cargile, Patty Robinson, Cindy Hall, Ellen Gallman, Jenny Mitchell, Sheryl Engelking, Debbie Weir, Cindy Barnes, Debbie Fred, and Paulette Foster.

KINDERGARTEN PARENTS.....Approximately 70 parents attended "Make and Take" workshop held Tuesday evening in the cafeteria of Dillman Elementary School.

Make And Take Workshop Turn Out Good

Parent response was demonstrated Tuesday evening when approximately 70 parents of kindergarten students attended the "Make and Take" Workshop at Dillman Elementary School Cafeteria.

The evening was filled with activities aimed toward coordinating the efforts of the home and school in the education of kindergarten students.

Five Kindergarten teachers, Pat Bewer, Julie Cathey, Pam White, Norma Jo Prather and Virginia Bowers along with their aides, Margie Alarcon, Frances Perez, Yoland Jaramillo, and Shirley Aguirre had prepared a good assortment of instructional materials and games to use with children, and the parents spent the evening making things to use at home to re-enforce teaching being done at school.

Girls from the Muleshoe Chapter of FHA helped with babysitting while the parents were busy. "The education of children has to be a joint effort of the home and school. This Workshop was a good beginning of such as effort," says Mrs. Pena.

HALLOWEEN POSTERS---Winners in the third grade poster contest included (l-r) Latavia Copley, First; Rick Clements, Second; and Tami Randall, Third.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan
Eggplant Dinner

- 1 lb. boned lamb shoulder, cubed, or beef.
- Margarine
- 2 T Worcestershire
- 1 small onion, minced
- 1 13 1/2-oz. can onions, drained
- 2 1 to 1 1/2 lbs eggplants
- lemon juice
- seasoned salt
- seasoned pepper
- oregano leaves
- 1 16 oz. can whole tomatoes
- 1/2 t basil
- 1 small head chicory, washed

Sprinkle meat with tenderizer as label directs. In large skillet, in 3 tablespoons hot margarine, brown meat well; and add Worcestershire, minced onion. Cover; simmer 50 minutes or until meat is tender. Add drained onions last 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, cut lengthwise slice, 1/4-inch thick from top of each eggplant; also slice a little skin from underside so each stands level. Then, 1/4-inch in from top edge, cut deeply around each to free pulp. Cut pulp into strips, 1/2-inch wide; with teaspoon, scoop out remaining pulp, leaving 1/4-inch-thick shell. Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

Sprinkle inside of each eggplant shell with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt, 1/4 teaspoon seasoned pepper and 1/8 teaspoon oregano; brush each with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Place shells in well-buttered 12 inch by 8 inch by 2 inch baking dish; cover; bake 30 to 35 minutes or until tender.

About 20 minutes before meat is done, in saucepan stir tomatoes, basil, eggplant pulp; cover; cook over medium heat 15 minutes.

Remove eggplant shells to platter; garnish with chicory. Fill each with meat-and-tomato mixture. Cut in half.

Makes 4 servings.

Art Festival
Deadline Nears

Nov. 7 is the deadline for area high school seniors to enter South Plains College's first art festival.

Entries will be judged at 1 p.m. Nov. 7 in the SPC Fine Arts Building, and certificates will be awarded to first, second, third place and honorable mentions in six art categories.

The SPC creative arts department is hosting the high school art exhibition in conjunction with Texas Community College Week Nov. 15-21. Art from 29 area high schools -- from Friona in the north to Lamesa in the south, Patton Springs-Afton in the east to Plains in the west -- is expected to be exhibited, according to Don Stroud, SPC creative arts chairman.

A reception for winning artists and their families is scheduled from 9 a.m. to noon Nov. 21 in the SPC Fine Arts Building. Certificates for winners in oils, watercolors, drawings, sculptures, pottery and crafts will be displayed with each piece.

SPC art faculty will serve as judges. "We'll judge works not only on good design or composition, depending on the type of work, but we'll also be looking for unusual, fresh ideas," explained Stroud. "We feel this exhibition will give students a chance to compete with their peers and to see the artistic talent available on the South Plains."

For more information, contact Stroud at SPC, (806) 894-9611.

Area Residents Benefit From Library Resources

Statistics for 1980-81 recently released by the West Texas Library System show that Muleshoe area resident benefitted greatly from library resources and services made available to their public library through the West Texas Library System, a program funded by the State of Texas to help local public libraries.

Films made available at the Muleshoe Area Library were seen by 13,222 people. Statistics indicate that these West Texas Library System films were shown 465 times in Bailey County in 1980-81. In addition, 2,962 people saw West Texas Library System filmstrips, which were shown 649 times. Books specially selected for young adults by library consultants at the West Texas Library System were checked out a total of 1152 times during the year from the Muleshoe Area Library.

Besides making film, filmstrips and young adult books available, the West Texas Library System allocated $1,509 in 1980-81 to the Muleshoe Area Library to purchase and lease new books for the library's collections.

In addition to realizing benefits from the West Texas Library System, another state-funded program, the Interlibrary Loan service, provided for library patrons materials not available at the local library. The Muleshoe Area Library requested 153 books and magazine articles from the Interlibrary Loan service, most of which were located at the Major Resource Center in Lubbock or from other such centers in the state or even from libraries outside of Texas. A special computer system is used by Interlibrary Loan to locate books and articles requested by the people who use the Muleshoe Area Library. There is no charge for this service.

The Interlibrary Loan Office at the Lubbock Major Resource Center processed over 6,000 requests for interlibrary loans from the West Texas region in 1980-81. During the same period, over 500,000 people viewed films from the West Texas Library System, and a total of 13,100 new books were leased and purchased with state funds for West Texas Public Libraries.

Fourteen pipeline companies project no curtailment of their customers during the 1981-82 winter season. Another five pipeline companies project curtailment of only interruptible contract customers, and nine companies project curtailment of firm contract customers during the coming winter season. Eight companies project a surplus of available supplies for the winter over current requirements.

If the winter weather is substantially colder than the coldest weather pattern used in the survey, some disruption of industrial natural gas supplies could be expected. The coldest weather pattern used in the survey is based upon ten percent colder weather than normal during November and March and 20 percent colder than normal during December, January and February. Alternate fuels, however, are generally expected to be available throughout the country without some unforeseen event, such as a shut-off of oil imports, an interruption of liquefied natural gas imports or long periods of unusually cold weather which can affect transportation systems.

Copies of the report, "Impact of 1981-82 Winter Gas Supply for Twenty-Eight Pipeline Companies," are available in FERC's Division of Public Information, Room 1000, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E. Washington, D.C. 20426.

During the 1979-80 sandhill crane season the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in cooperation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, obtained biological information from sandhill cranes. Three subspecies of sandhill cranes are involved in the hunter harvest and there are wide variations in their respective population levels. By using measurements from sandhill cranes taken by hunters, statisticians were able to determine that the cranes harvested in Texas and New Mexico approximated 88% lesser sandhill crane, 11% Canadian sandhill crane, and 1% greater sandhill crane. The combined results of the 1980-81 harvest for Texas and New Mexico was 89% lesser sandhill crane and 11% Canadian sandhill crane.

there received a killing frost, cotton will be ready to harvest soon. The Co-op should be in full swing within two weeks time.

Don Nickels of the Nickels and Nickels Gin west of Baileyboro reports that while that area received a good frost, there was no freeze. The frost did succeed in killing most of the leaves on the cotton, but not enough for an all-out harvest. Two more weeks of good sunshine and warm days will really help these farmers, Nickels said. He also expects to begin ginning in two-weeks time.

West of West Camp, C.E. Grant, manager of the Beck Gin informed that they received a general freeze over all Sunday morning. Some optimism was expressed on the yield potential of the cotton in that area. The crops on the western edge of the county were also beset by bollworms, wet weather as were most all of the county crops. Grant stated that he expected the average yield to be less than a bale per acre. Most of his customers irrigate their cotton. He also stated that a hard freeze wouldn't hurt cotton in that area if the weather holds good.

The Lariat Gin also reported that the past weekend cold weather pretty well killed the leaves on the cotton. Cecil Ashley of the Lariat establishment expected ginning operations to be in full force within two weeks.

West Camp gin reported a light frost and does not expect to be in full operation until the middle of November.

Few gins would venture a guess on the quality or quantity of cotton this year. From the reports received, the evidence seems to point to the fact that cotton in the southern part of the county still has some time to go, while north and west of Muleshoe expect business to be in full operations within two weeks time.

field Wildcats inside the 10 yard line last Friday night and that has to say something for the squad. "Our quarterback, Richard Guzman, throws the ball alot, but has been plagued by interceptions, Rasor also stated. "The Mules have a good team, they are quick and agile," he said. The Bobcats stand 1-7 overall and 0-2 for district play.

Muleshoe Mules Head coach Windy Williams was well pleased, as he should be, with his Angry Black team after Friday night's performance. Most all of the squad was able to play in the game against Olton. The Mules were able to put a little razzle-dazzle, and some thrill-making plays against the Mustangs, and the fans loved every minute of it.

Williams expressed the feeling that "Dimmitt has some good talent and should not be underrated. This again, is District play and the games played before can just be disregarded, as anything can happen."

"All of our boys played an excellent game, we are healthy, and we are ready for the game with Dimmitt," Williams stated.

Fans can feel the unity in the air, and the excitement-and most of all, the coming together of the team, the way they mesh with one another. While some might question the "Angry Black" symbol, that is truly the way the team plays. They may be hit and down, but they get back up and go twice as hard the next time, proving themselves to be a team with something extra working for them.

Don't forget the bonfire on Thursday night and the pep rally Friday at last period at the high school.

Lubbock Will Host State Vet Reunion

The Texas Department of the China-Burma-India Veterans' Association (CBIVA) will hold its fall reunion at the Holiday Inn in Lubbock on October 30, 31, and November 1.

The CBIVA is made up of members of the armed forces who served in the China-Burma-India Theater during World War II. There are a number of CBIVA servicemen, who live in the West Texas area, but this reunion is statewide.

The meeting will be hosted by the Lubbock Basha (Chapter), of which Harry Herber, 4503 78th Street, Lubbock (792-0303) is commander. There are approximately 30 members of the Lubbock Basha (each chapter is named for the bamboo huts that were the barracks for most of the men who served in this Theater.)

Of the more than 9,000,000 men who were in service in World War II, only about 400,000 served in the China-Burma-India Theater. This Theater of war, often called the Forgotten Theater, was the supply line and support for the Republic of China, as all supplies and communications across the Pacific were blocked by the Japanese. The American forces succeeded in tying up many divisions of the Japanese troops, which made the taking of the Pacific Island much easier. American troops also built the famous Ledo-Burma road that served as a supply route to China, once it was opened. Prior to the opening of the road, all supplies were flown in and, at one time, Kunming, China was the world's busiest airport, with more than 100,000 tons per month of supplies being landed there after the flight over the Himalaya Mountains, generally referred to as the "hump" route. Several members of the Lubbock chapter were pilots over this formidable mountain range.

Registration for the fall reunion is $30.00, which includes social hours, com-

LET'S KEEP THE WATER RUNNING IN TEXAS!

In cities and towns all across Texas, local water problems are threatening to erupt into one enormous statewide crisis. Countless communities are facing growing water supply, water treatment, sewage treatment and flood control problems estimated to cost a staggering $50 billion over the next 25 years. To make matters worse, federal funds for water projects have recently been slashed.

But on November 3, Texans have the opportunity to adopt a plan, already passed by two-thirds of the Legislature, which would harness a portion of our state's budget surplus to help shoulder that heavy local burden.

The plan is proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 4.

Passage of Amendment No. 4 would:

- Make possible the sale of more than $200 million in authorized and urgently needed state bonds to address a backlog of needed projects.
- Create a loan guaranty program to enable local communities to save millions of dollars in issuing future bonds.
- Begin to build a "nest egg" for the future from a part of the state's budget surplus to assist local governments in financing future water and sewage projects.

Texas' water needs must be met, either now or in the future. We can act now, and save money... or pay the higher price later for our neglect, with possible increased taxes. Sensible action now makes much more sense for Texas.

Tough Choices

Opponents of President Reagan's budget and spending cuts, often losing their jobs or benefits, are currently forecasting dire consequences, social chaos, higher crime rates and various other pitfalls. They may be wrong.

The Reagan economic program must be given a chance to work--if it will. Nothing in recent years has stopped the slide of the U.S. dollar and economy and something new must be tried. Obviously, no one is totally happy about cutting aid funds, welfare, social security increases or many other federal programs.

But the truth is plain--Congress has in recent years voted to give away too much to too many and the treasury is going bankrupt if overspending is not brought under control. That would produce awful consequences for every American.

The Reagan Administration program is one depending on an expansion of private business and industry and the creation of more real jobs by this expansion. That would create a higher income in taxes collected for the treasury, and reduce the drain caused by charity and welfare programs.

If it works, that would be the best tonic for the nation, and it would enable the country to achieve a better defense, with a greater gross national product and lower individual taxes. This is a fine goal. But it won't be reached in a few months. Before judgment can be passed on the program, at least two years of effort and trial will be necessary.

The nation is already embarked on the Reagan economic program. Congress rightly should improve it and alter it, in the national interest. But partisan politics must not be the order of the day in attacking the effort. The issue and outcome are too serious, the consequences of failure too disturbing, to justify political plays to selfish interest and those losing benefits or make-work jobs. Some sacrifices are necessary in the short run.

Ford, Carter & PLO

Former Presidents Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter joined recently in a statement designed to make it easier for Ronald Reagan to open negotiations with the Palestine Liberation Organization, aimed at eventual recognition--in return for an end to terrorist attacks.

The two former presidents, and many other White House and State Department officials, have for years been convinced eventual recognition of the aims of the Palestinians in the Middle East, many of whom displaced when Israel was carved out of the area in 1948, is inevitable. Palestinians, approximately equal in number to Jews, want their own homeland also.

U.S. policy makers would long ago have proposed this step, which would do more than any other to balance U.S. policy in the Middle East and check the alienation of Arab peoples. But occupants of the White House know a majority in Congress is easily manipulated by the very effective U.S. Israeli lobby.

Time and again, on even minor adjustments to U.S. policy, designed to project a more even hand in the area, U.S. chief executives have been rebuffed by Congress, members reacting to pressures from their home states where the Israeli lobby is invariably well organized and well financed.

Can the Ford-Carter plea produce any progress in this direction? It's doubtful. But at least it's a voice in the right direction.

The Speaker Reports
by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN — Proposed Constitutional Amendment Number Four will soon stand the test of voter approval. Last week I explained in this report the framework for the water trust fund and how it would assist local entities in developing water projects.

But there are two other important sections of this amendment. One provision will increase the allowable interest rate on authorized, but unissued, state bonds to twelve percent. These state bonds are water bonds, veteran land bonds, park development bonds, and bonds for the student loan program. The Water Development Board has $218 million bonds authorized but unissued. This means the projects the bonds fund cannot be undertaken. The present six percent ceiling makes these bonds unmarketable.

Another important provision of the amendment will extend $500 million of the state's credit to guarantee payment of principal and interest on bonds issued by qualified political subdivisions to be used for water supply, water quality, water conservation, and flood control projects. This assures a two-to-one leverage so that up to $1 billion in bonds can be issued. The guarantee will enable many political subdivisions to obtain improved rating on their bond issues.

This loan guarantee program means significant savings to the many local communities and water districts that can back their bond issues with the credit rating of the state. This could mean savings of as much as one-to-three percentage points on the interest rate of these bonds. Also, the loan guarantee program provides savings to the ratepayers because the state guarantee means lower costs of bond financing which directly affects the cost of utility bills.

Moreover, the water amendment will allow construction to begin on many water projects and, thus, we can avoid the tremendous escalation in construction costs experienced in recent years because of delays due to lack of fundings.

I have voiced my support for Constitutional Amendment Number Four to every corner of this state because I believe that every area will benefit from its passage. Without its passage, I fear for the future well-being of our state and its economy.

AWACS IN EGYPT

CAIRO — Two U.S. Airborne Warning and Control Systems (AWACS) jets arrived recently after an 11-hour flight from their base in Oklahoma to provide Egypt's new president, Hosni Mubarak, with a concrete symbol of U.S. support for his government.

ON SOCIAL SECURITY

The average worker will pay nearly $100 more in Social Security taxes in 1982, and those paying the maximum will pay nearly $200 more, the Social Security Administration announced recently.

ON STUDENT GRANTS

The Education department proposed a formula for determining eligibility of college students for grants that effectively would limit the aid to students from families with income of about $15,000 or less.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

One of the most pervasive problems facing American society today is crime. It takes an enormous toll on its victims, of course. But it affects all of us indirectly.

When you buy an item in the store, you pay more to make up for the cost of shoplifting and security. When you pay your taxes, you pay for your city's best effort to prevent crime. Worse, you pay a price for crime in fear.

Crime has become an increasing problem. Statistics indicate that within any given 30-minute period, one person will be murdered, nine women will be raped, 67 will be robbed, 97 assaulted, and 389 families the victim of burglary.

For 1979, the last full year for which FBI figures are available, the number of reported burglaries had risen to 3.3 million, a 50 percent increase since 1970. Robberies were up by one-third. In less than a generation, the murder rate has doubled.

But the American people have had enough. A recent poll showed almost half of the respondents named crime as the most important problem confronting their area. This was true both in a large eastern state and in a booming Sun Belt city. Even a relatively trouble-free college community found 55 percent of its voters declaring that establishing law and order was the single-most important issue facing their local government.

Solving the growing crime problem won't be easy or quick. But there are some steps we can take.

A bipartisan U.S. Attorney General's Task Force has made a number of recommendations to curb the rate of crime and to address some of the problems we have in prosecuting successfully those guilty of crime.

For instance, one recommendation would allow courts to deny bail to a defendant who, after careful safeguards to prevent abuse, had been determined to be dangerous or likely to jump even very high bail.

Another recommendation is for legislation to permit judges to order criminals to make financial restitution to their victims.

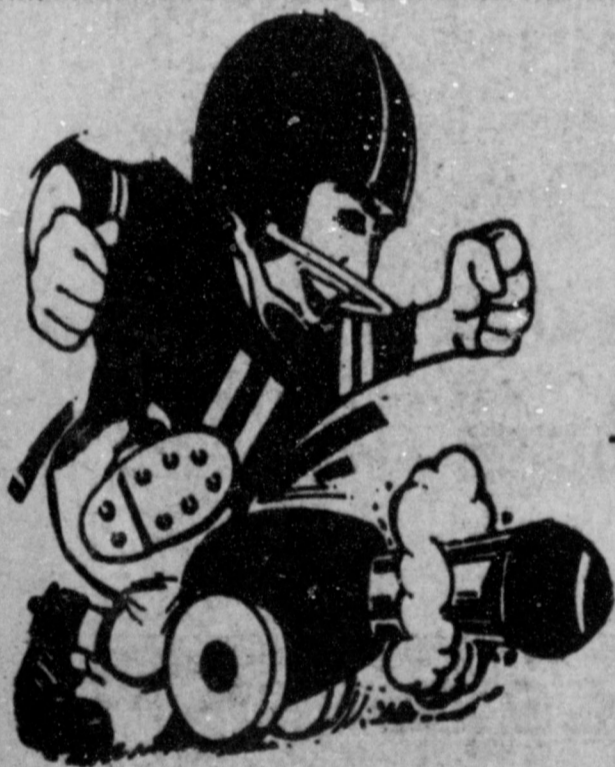

Criminal procedure would be modified to protect rights of citizens charged with crimes, but to keep these rules from shielding the guilty.

Since space shortages in correctional facilities are one factor inhibiting efforts to keep criminals off the streets, the task force recommended a number of steps to assist state and local governments to provide adequate facilities.

Exchange of criminal history information among jurisdictions also should be improved, the task force found.

The task force also dealt with narcotics, guns, arson, tax cases, sentencing and parole, apprehension of fugitives, training of state and local personnel and juvenile crime.

Together, the task force recommendations represent a comprehensive and thoughtful package which will be considered carefully in Congress. The American people are going to insist that their representatives take steps to make their cities, their streets, and their homes safe. Government -- national, state and local -- must have no responsibility more important than that.

Amarillo Will Host Cutting Horse Finals

Over 130 of the nation's top-ranked cutting horses will compete for over $57,000 during the National Cutting Horse Association (NCHA) World Championship Finals. Competition will be held in Amarillo at the Tri-State Fairgrounds Coliseum November 4-7.

In cutting competition a horse is on his own to out-think and out-perform the cows assigned to him. Riders of cutting horses go along just for the ride, as judges penalize riders who rein or signal their horses. At the Finals, five judges independently score each contestant between 60 and 80 points with 70 denoting an average score. The highest and lowest scores are not counted.

The Finals will feature competition in the "open" and "non-pro" divisions. Any competitor may compete in the open division, while the non-pro division is restricted to riders who do not train or show cutting horses for pay, other than premium money.

Leading the open division is Doc's Marmoset, owned by Bob Condie, Salt Lake City, Utah, with earnings of $38,912.15, and ridden by Tom Lyons. Quinchina Bar, owned by Dix Turnbow, Brenham, Texas and ridden by Bill Glass, is second in the division with $34,085.53. With less than $4,900 separating the two, the 1981 NCHA World Champion will be decided during the Finals competition.

In the non-pro division a husband and wife team are separated from first and second place by only $787. Jim and Mary Jo Milner, Irving, Texas, have earned $39,643.83 and $38,856.46 respectively. Therefore, their placings in the Finals will determine the non-pro NCHA World Champion for this year.

Sponsoring the Finals are the Outfit Club of Amarillo and the NCHA, headquartered in Fort Worth, with each adding $10,000. An additional $5,000 will be added by Auction Sales Company. Jerry Mills, Auction Sales Company, will conduct a sale Wednesday evening, November 4, where approximately 60 quality Quarter Horses will be sold. The added purses coupled with $250 entry fees assessed each entry will be awarded to the top horses in each division.

Eliminations are scheduled to begin at nine both Wednesday and Thursday morning and at 11 on Friday and Saturday. Finals in the non-pro division will be held Friday evening at 7:30 with the open Finals set for 7:30 on Saturday. Award receptions will be held Friday and Saturday following the competition.

Tickets are $5 per person and $3 for each evening's performance, and will be available at the Tri-State Fairgrounds Coliseum. Children twelve and under will be admitted free. A limited number of box seats are available.

Concluding the NCHA World Championship Finals will be the Association's Annual Convention. The NCHA has over 5,500 members from throughout the United States, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. NCHA members will convene Sunday to elect the Executive Committee and to discuss amendments to the Association's constitution.

As a teacher I have heard many funny things said by children, but this is the best. "What is cowhide chiefly used for?" I said to my class one day.

A boy raised his hand. "I know sir," he said brightly. "Tell the class," I encouraged him.

"To keep the cows together, sir," was the reply.

Count-down Begins For Conference Bowl Bids

As the count-down conference championships and bowl bids begin to be counted down (only four Saturdays of the college season remain after this weekend), some key match ups Saturday will have to do with both titles and bowls.

Southern California entertains Washington State in a feature game in the pac-10 Conference. The Cougars, off to their best start in years, ran off five quick wins to start their season. However, before meeting Arizona last week, they were tied by U.C.L.A. 17-17. The Trojans were beaten by those same Arizonaans early in October for their only conference loss. The Cougars have beaten Southern Cal just four times in their long series, and they won't add to that number Saturday. The Trojans are favored by eleven points.

In a confrontation between two powerful independents, Penn State plays Miami in Florida. The Nittanies beat the Hurricanes last fall 27-12 for their fifth win in their brief seven-

An answer to many letters: it became impossible in recent years to finalize statistics on our forecasting average each week. So, we gave up making it a part of our weekly column. However, through games of October 17th, the Harmon system picked the winners in 864 games and missed 295 (there were four ties) for a .745 batting average.

In other major contests, the Big Ten's surprise team, Iowa, will beat Illinois by sixteen points. North Carolina should silence the challenge of Maryland in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tar Heels are picked by twenty points.

Alabama hosts Mississippi State in an all-important biggie in the Southeastern Conference championship race. The Tide is a slim 7-point choice over the excellent Bulldogs of State. And Arkansas will whip Rice by sixteen points.

Ask Your Doctor About Flu Shot

"Ask your doctor if you should have a flu shot this year," advises Dr. Stanton P. Fischer, president of the American Lung Association of Texas. "The same advice goes for pneumococcal pneumonia," continues Fischer. "There are vaccines for both diseases. And a drug, amantadine Hydrochloride, is available to lessen an attack of flu even after it has started."

During the period 1968 to 1980, more than 150,000 excess deaths are estimated to have occurred during flu epidemics in the U.S. It is also estimated that as many as 500,000 cases of pneumococcal pneumonia may occur in the U.S. annually. Pneumococcal pneumonia has a fatality rate of 5 to 10 percent.

Vaccination should be considered for persons who provide essential community services who may be at increased risk of exposure. Such individuals might include Medical care personnel.

you as an individual."
"We at the Lung Association are beginning our Christmas Seal Campaign," says Fischer, "but all year long we are concerned with our community's health, particularly lung health. Both influenza and pneumococcal pneumonia are certainly respiratory diseases."

Vaccination for both diseases is strongly recommended for all individuals at increased risk, according to the "Christmas Seal" People. Such persons include those over 65 years of age and anyone suffering from chronic pulmonary, heart and kidney disease. Individuals with diabetes and severe anemia probably should also be vaccinated for both.

"But remember," says Fischer, "your own physician best knows your medical condition and the inherent risks involved. Consult him or her first."

Contributions to the Christmas Seal Campaign help the Lung Association fight emphysema, asthma, tuberculosis, and many other lung diseases, in addition to influenza and pneumococcal pneumonia.

"So answer your Christmas Seal letter today," says Fischer, "and help us battle for good lung health."

DRUG QUIZ

Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo.
QUESTION - Which drug presents the most serious problem for the people of the United States?
a) Heroin
b) Alcohol
c) LSD
d) Marijuana

ANSWER - The problems of human suffering and social cost caused by the use of alcohol result in many times the amount of damage done to our society by all other drugs put together. According to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, more than 11 million alcoholics live in the U.S. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare estimated economic costs of alcohol abuse at over $50 billion in 1980.

Studies show that every problem drinker directly affects the lives of at least four other persons (family, friends, fellow-workers). This means that 55 million Americans (1/4 of the total population) are hurting from the drug alcohol in one way or another.

Correct answer - b.

Candid Comment
As his wife lay on her death-bed, she pleaded, "John, I want you to promise me that you'll ride in the same car with my mother at my funeral."
He sighed, "O.K., but it's gonna ruin my whole day."

Does anyone really want to return to the "good old days"?

MJHS Coaches Comments

Our 7th grade footballers lost to Olton 12-0 Thursday night. They didn't play all that bad most of the night, but just had trouble scoring. Somehow, we have got to get our offense guard up. We haven't burned out many scoreboard lights lately. With hard practice this can be corrected and I feel that there is a good chance that this will happen. Our 7th grade is 2-3 and 0-1 in the year. They also play Dimmitt next Thursday night.

Last Thursday night's game with Olton proved to be the best outing of the season for Muleshoe's eighth graders. Muleshoe won the game by the score of 8-6, over a fine Olton team. Olton won the district last year as seventh graders.

The last three weeks have resulted in a great deal of improvement by our eighth graders. And, they must continue to improve each week, because the schedule just gets harder and harder. Attitudes have been good and must stay that way for the team to do their best.

Mules Lose To Colts

The 7th grade Mules traveled to Olton Thursday Oct. 22 where they lost to the Olton Colts. In the first half the Mules and the Colts held each other to a standoff until, with 4 seconds left in the half, QB for the Colts threw a touchdown for the first score of the game, but the 2 point conversion failed.

In the second half Olton ran an inside handoff, which scored the second time for the Colts. The Colts held that lead until the final buzzer.

The 7th graders take on Dimmitt, her, Thursday at 5:00 p.m.

Sherri's Spots by Sherri Stovall

This past week has been very exciting. Class favorites and Mr. and Miss MJHS were chosen. All the elections were close and congratulations go to all the winners!

Well, the day has finally arrived. The annuals went up to $8.00 on Monday, October 26. November 16 is the last day to purchase your annual. Even though the annuals have gone up, it is not too late to get yours.

Congratulations to the eighth graders on their victory at Olton Thursday. Today the Mules play Dimmitt at 5:00, here.

Today will also be the first MJHS pep rally. It starts at 3:00, so come out to the pep rally and support the Mules!

The Halloween carnival was Saturday. Congratulations to the speech candidates, Penny Ford and Mike Harris, for winning Halloween Prince and Princess.

Since Halloween is Saturday and everybody gets superstitious, I wondered if you were superstitious? Consider these situations:

Ever carry a rabbit's foot for good luck?

Ever cross the street to avoid a black cat from crossing your path?

Are you scared that if you break a mirror, you will have seven years bad luck?

Are you scared to open an umbrella indoors?

Well, that's all. I hope everyone has a happy Halloween!

Student Loans Reach $100 Million Mark

The Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation announced today that over $100 million dollars in student loans had been guaranteed by the corporation since it began its administration of the guaranteed student loan program for the state of Texas in January of this year. The corporation, TGSLC, was created by the Texas Legislature in 1979 as a public, nonprofit corporation to guarantee loans to college students made by private lenders in the GSL program.

TGSLC was created, in part, to improve private lender participation in the guaranteed student loan program and to provide college students greater access to student loans. Joe L. McCormick, Executive Director of TGSLC noted that the positive response of banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions throughout the state has been tremendous. McCormick pointed out that of the $100 million dollars guaranteed today, over 96 percent of these guaranteed student loans were made by private lending institutions.

Recently passed federal legislation will restrict the student's eligibility to families with $30,000 income or less. Families with higher incomes will have to demonstrate financial need in order to qualify for a guaranteed student loan. It is difficult to predict just how many Texas students will be adversely affected by these new restrictions which go into effect October 1, 1981.

TGSLC is confident that the lending community in Texas will continue to provide loans to students and the corporation is dedicated to administering the guaranteed student loan program to maintain their support. In addition, Texas is fortunate in having its own state loan program, the Hinson-Hazelwood Student Loan Program, to assist eligible students who may qualify. Hinson-Hazelwood Student Loans are also guaranteed by the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation.

Students interested in making application for a Texas Guaranteed Student Loan are encouraged to contact the financial aid office of the school they plan to attend.

Teacher of The Week

The student council picks a teacher of the week, and this weeks teacher of the week is Mrs. Mary Scoggins.

When asked about her teaching, Mrs. Scoggins replies, "I enjoy teaching science and I can learn right along with the students because there is something new happening in science everyday."

She went to college at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, and has been teaching for 25 years. She started out teaching Home Economics and biology at Hope, New Mexico, and the other 22 years she has been here.

She is married and has 3 sons. Her husbands name is Lewis and her sons' names are Kerney who lives in Muleshoe, Verlyon who lives in Alamogordo, N.M. and Jerry who lives in Big Spring.

Mrs. Scoggins enjoys working with kids, that is why the students believe she is such a good teacher.

DRUG QUIZ

Used by permission, all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo.
QUESTION - Drug use and abuse has been recognized as a problem of society since:
 a) 1900
 b) 1800
 c) First Century, A.D.
 d) 5,000 B.C.

ANSWER - Drug use and abuse predates recorded history. The use of drugs for diversion as well as medical purposes is older than civilization itself.

Opium, marijuana, and cocaine are probably the oldest known drugs next to alcohol, which has been used and remains the drug of choice throughout history. The Sumerians of 5,000 B.C. used opium, and Homer's Odyssey refers to "a drug potent against pain and quarrels and charged with the forgetfulness of all trouble."

The Greek naturalist Theophrastus also described the use of poppy juice. Marijuana was used in China at least 5,000 years ago, and Herodotus reported that the Scythians used it in the Fifth Century B.C. Peyote and other hallucinogens were part of religious ceremonies among many American Indian tribes.
 Correct answer - d.
