Babies are born deaf. Normally hearing begins the first day of life, as soon as air is forced into the tube leading from the throat to the middle ear (the Eustachian tube). After this, the infant has uch good hearing that he jumps uddenly when there is a loud noise. Man does not hear with his ears alone. Sight is also a big help. Even if your hearing is normal, you can read lips. Furthermore, when you see a book fall. you expect a thud to follow. Hearing is closely elated to voice and speech as well hearing others talk is one way ir which you learn to speak. Man in earliest times needed keen. animal-like hearing. He still hears better than is absolutely necessary. However, civilization and ts noises seem to be cutting down on the ability to over-hear which he still possesses. How can you find out exactly how much you can hear? Hearing tests are many. Generaly the examiner uses only one or two to separate people with normal hearing from those who have less than normal hearing. It may be necessary, then, for more extensive tests to be given those with subnormal hearing. One of the tests most often used is the spoken voice and whisper test. Only one ear is tested at a time, the opposite one being blocked off with the patient's finger The patient is seated so that the ear being tested is toward the examiner. The examiner stands 20 feet away and asks that the words (usually combinations of numbers) he speaks be repeated; then he moves to 15 feet and whispers the numbers. If the patient can repeat the numbers correctly, he is said to have normal hearing, recorded The J. S. Another way to measure earing is with the audiometer, a ox-like device with knobs and ials that looks something like a nedium-sized radio. It was first used about 1920 and since then has been improved and made in different models for group and indivilual testing. As you know, there are great diferences in hearing--from normal. through just a slight defect to total deafness. The two large classes of deafness are called conduction and nerve (or perception) 'deafness. In some cases both may be present. Conduction deafness is caused by anything that stops sound on ts way through the ear canal, ear trum, or middle ear. Nerve or perreption deafness is caused by anything that keeps sound from being ecognized by the brain, once it has reached the inner ear. This may be something wrong with the cohlea (the part of the inner ear which picks up the sound), the nerve that goes to the brain (the acoustic or auditory nerve), or the brain itself.

Coing ... Going ... Almost Gone

Granny Robinson put on quite a show the other night at the annual White Elephant auction held at the Women's Club.

Towards the end of the evening, she had the ladies battling for anything she put up. "What am I bid for this woman's lovely black coat here — good as new? Who'll say ten dollars?" she asked.

Granny held the coat up, and commenced describing the coat's lining, sleeves, buttons — really "selling hard." Then, suddenly, she took a close look and blurted out "Land sakes, no more bidding please—this is my own coat!" From where I sit, what almost happened to Granny was good for a laugh, but sometimes when people "get carried away" with their own talk it's not so funny. I prefer a glass of temperate beer while listening to my favorite radio program—you may like soda pop or cider. I suggest we hold on to our personal opinions — and believe in them—but take a good

Often you will find a Mother who has the extremely difficult task of trying to get her youngster to consume his daily quota of milk for healthful living.

Not so with the young man in the illustration. He not only has a large glass of milk in front of him but also an excellent dessert that is filled with milk. He likes his milk both ways—BUT for the kiddies who dislike it plain, a light, healthful and de icious rennet dessert, attractively topped, will surely meet with approval. And by a few simple twists of your pastry tube, you can personalize Junior's dessert with any letter of the alphabet such as the "J" in the photo.

By the way, Mother, when you're preparing these delicacies, better make some for the rest of the family. They'll like 'em too!
