120 Present at Lions 25th Charter Night

One hundred and twenty people were present when the Sterling City Lions Club held its 25th Anniversary Charter Night in the Community Center, April 8.

Nine charter members of the organization were present. They included Dr. A. C. Scott of the Scott & White Clinic of Temple, J. T. Davis, Earl Bailey, Seth Bailey, Rufus W. Foster, Roy Foster, Hal M. Knight, Claude Collins and R. P. Brown.

Past presidents present were Earl Bailey, the first president, H. A. Chapple, Jack Douthitt, Worth B. Durham, Dr. Wm. J. Swann, H. L. Hil'brand and Roland Lowe.

Dr. Baxter Greer, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, read a letter from former member and charter member of the club, Rev. B. B. Hestir of Cabot, Ark. Present Lion president Cecil A. Long presided at the affair.

Losers in the January membership contest waited the tables. The Lions Club band from Midland furnished music for the occasion.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, made the address of the evening. With his humor and philosophy, reminiscent of Mark Twain and Will Rogers, kept the crowd roaring and smiling with delight. Downing is a much sought-after speaker for such occasions. He is probably the busiest after-dinner speaker in West Texas. He was introduced by Lion Worth Durham.

Some charter member pins as well as some ten, fifteen and twenty-year pins will be given out at a later meeting (at the talent show), although it had been originally planned in the program to hand them out charter night.

Low Hardware Having 50th Anniversary Sale

Roland Lowe of the Low Hardware and Furniture Company, said for National Hardware Week, the store is observing its 50th or golden anniversary. Many items are on sale at reduced prices for the week beginning today, April 16.

Tennis Teams Win In District Meet

The Sterling City Tennis Team all but swept the District Meet in Forsan Tuesday posting a three out of four first places and grabbing off one third place.

Jenny Davis and Winona Blair, Sterling girls' doubles team led off with a victory against Coahoma 6-2, 6-0, and later in the day went on to win over the Forsan doubles team 6-1, 6-2 and place first in the meet.

Barba Dunn, Sterling girl's singles player, had little trouble in capturing her first place as she downed Coahoma 6-1, 6-0. In the finals that afternoon she polished off the Garden City singles player 6-1, 6-0.

In the boys matches, Leslie Cole and Bobby Dunn took an easy victory in the semi-finals over Forsan 6-2, 6-1, but had a real battle with Coahoma before finally winning 7-5, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 and taking first place. In the boys singles match, Lewis Blackman drew a bye in the first round of play and met Stanton in the semi-finals but lost 1-6, 2-6. The Stanton player went on to capture the singles title later on in the day from Coahoma 8-6, 6-3, 6-2 in a three out of five set match. Lewis rounded out the day with a third place ribbon.

The first place winners will advance to the regional meet which will be held in Odessa April 22.

Larry Coleman, tennis coach, said that he would like to give due recognition to several junior tennis players, who did not have a chance to play in the district meet, but who have worked hard and played in other matches during the year. The players are: Dennis Bailey, Billy Blair, David Grunty, Jimmie McWhorter, Lynn Glass, Shirley Cole, Barbara Simmons, Joan Parker, Virginia McCarty and Patsy Martin.

Washington Letter From Senator Lyndon Johnson

A West Texan asks what I consider the number one problem before Texas. I think the answer to that question is water—water for people; water for crops; water for stock; water for industry.

For most of our state, 1953 was a year of drought. A few facts tell the story. The average temperature for the year was two per cent above normal. The greater part of Texas had 50 to 75 per cent of normal rainfall. Far West Texas only 25 per cent. Amarillo had the driest period in the history of its weather station; the Rio Grande ran dry at Laredo for the first time in the record books; San Antonio had one of its driest years since 1925.

I have followed the Weather Bureau reports closely. The early reports for 1954 are not encouraging. Only parts of East Texas have received 50 to 100 per cent of normal rainfall. Far West Texas went down to 25 per cent of normal in the 13 weeks that ended March 15. Central Texas could boast of 25 to 50 per cent of normal.

Water is not just a farm problem. It's a big city problem, too. Weather Bureau reports on 17 Texas cities for the week ended March 15 showed only two—Galveston and Houston—with any rainfall at all. It was insignificant. The other 15 cities chalked up a score of zero. All should have had some rain on the basis of past records.

What is to be done? Sea water into fresh water is possible but will not be feasible on a large scale until some time in the future. Rain making is still in the experimental stage.

Good general rains fell on all of West Texas (in fact all of Texas) the first part of this week. Sunday evening and Monday morning in this immediate area, between two and one-half to three and one-half inches of rain fell. Rains to the east in Runnels and Coleman totaled up to 7 inches. A small rain or drizzle fell on Monday night, adding the the amount slightly.

This is the first general rain for this area in four years. Never was a rain needed so badly.

The North Concho River got on the first rise of many years. The new highway bridge over the river here leading to Big Lake had only been completed the week before, and the flood waters from up the county and in Glasscock made the muddy water swirl with a rise of nine or ten feet. The river had not run in four years at all and very little for the three years before that.

High water closed the highway between Garden City and Sterling City for awhile, one person was drowned when his car was swept down into a normally dry draw in Rankin.

Rains up the river Tuesday night made the North Concho rise again to 12 or more feet. Rains here in town amounted to .40 to .75 inches.

Frying Can Be Easy

By JANE ASHLEY

Be sure oil is heated to correct frying temperature before adding food. For best results use a deep-fat thermometer.

Mazola Salad Oil comes ready to use. You will like its convenience... being liquid it pours and measures easily.

Chart for Correct Frying Method

How Much Oil: Use 1 quart oil for a 3-quart frying kettle. Never fill more than 1/2 full.

When To Fry: Heat oil to 375° F. Test with frying thermometer or bread cube, 1-inch square of day-old bread turns to a golden brown in 30 to 40 seconds. Never add food until correct temperature is reached for frying.

How To Prepare Food: For coated foods (chicken, fish) keep flour or crumb coating light and even. Shake off excess before frying. For moist foods, like potatoes, dry with towel before frying.

You can re-use oil. That makes it economical to use for frying. But it must be properly strained and stored in refrigerator for next use.

The secret for perfect frying is the choice of bland, fresh tinned corn oil and the correct frying method for the food.

How To Fry: Add foods to hot oil slowly to prevent excessive lowering of temperature. Do not overload fryer. Fry to a golden brown. Drain foods thoroughly on paper towels. Cool oil, then strain into dry container. Cover and store in refrigerator for next use.

How To Care For Used Oil: After each use, allow oil to cool slightly, then strain through cheesecloth into dry container. This removes food particles and crumbs. Be sure the container is dry. Let oil cool completely, cover container tightly, and store in refrigerator.

stage and cannot be done anyway without clouds. The only possible answer is store up water or starve. in the "fat" years, we must save the precious water that will take us through the lean years.

This means heavier concentration on small dams and upstream water projects. Texas is a "big" state and many of its problems can be solved only through "big" projects. But the "big" water projects do not meet the needs of all our people. We need thousands of small dams in the upland areas—dams that will not only store water but give Texans protection against the flash floods that do so much damage and wash away the soil.

We have had many surveys—many projects. But we haven't licked the problem yet! It is going to take all of us—working together—to get something done. About 300 years ago, a very wise man said: "God helps them who help themselves." I think this is just another way of saying that the Almighty will respond to our own faith, confidence and courage.

I am working in close cooperation with the Government agencies that are involved in Soil Conservation; Flood Control and Reclamation. There are some fine men in those agencies—men who have dedicated their lives to saving the soil as a heritage for our children. I have appeared before Congressional Committees and urged project after project.

I want your ideas; I want all the advice I can get. Won't you drop me a line on conditions in your area and what should be done? No amount of expert advice can replace the people who are on the spot—who are watching precious topsoil blow away while crops wither away in the field for the lack of water.

It Layers Itself

By Betty Barclay

THE versatility and simplicity of fruit-flavored gelatin makes it fun to use. Did you know that in gelatin, some fruits float and some sink? In this Rainbow Fruit Mold, for example, the peaches stay on the bottom while the bananas float to the top. Served at a spring luncheon it has all the color and freshness of a day in May.

Rainbow Fruit Mold

1 package lime-flavored gelatin; 1 cup hot water; 1 cup cold water; 1/2 cup canned sliced peaches; 1 banana, sliced.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Arrange sliced peaches on bottom of mold. Pour on gelatin, being careful not to disarrange peaches. Add banana. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

1 package orange-flavored gelatin; 1 cup hot water; 1/2 cup honey; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1 cup evaporated milk, chilled and whipped.

Saute coconut in butter until golden brown, stirring constantly. Add crumbs and mix well. Press half of mixture in bottom of 9x9x2-inch pan.

Dissolve orange-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add honey and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in whipped evaporated milk. Turn out over coconut-crumbs mixture in pan and top with remaining coconut and crumbs. Chill until firm. Cut in 2 1/4-inch squares. Makes 8 servings.

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs... in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors... all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texans is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government... In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $50,000.

SAM CONNALLY
SAM CONNALLY OF SAN SABA
ANNOUNCES FOR CONGRESS

Sam Connally of San Saba officially announced this week that he will be a candidate for U. S. Representative from the 21st Congressional District of Texas, and spelled out some of the issues on which he will base his campaign.

Heading the list is his proposal to work for an increase in the income tax exemption, which he says is essential to bolster the drought-stricken economy in this congressional district. Connally's stand on this issue is in direct opposition to action taken by the incumbent Congressman from this district, who voted against a similar proposal and was instrumental in having it defeated.

"I strongly favor raising the income tax exemption from $600 to $700 per year," Connally said. "Drouth-hit taxpayers must have some relief. The fellows who need it most and who would be helped most are the little fellows, not the big corporations. My father always told me that the big fellow can take care of himself, and that we need able representation to take care of the little man."

Another proposal voiced by Connally is to work for a comprehensive water conservation program with less federal control and greater participation and control on the state and local levels. This he sees as one of the most vital problems facing Texas today.

Connally said his decision to be a candidate for Congress was prompted "by my desire to serve the people and because I feel that I can offer representation in Congress that will more truly reflect the thinking and wishes of the people of this district."

"As long as I am your Congressman, I will stay on the job," he declared, "and will not let Washington social or political life become so engrossing as to lose sight of the fact that I am a representative of all the people of my district."

Now serving his third consecutive term as district attorney of the seven-county 33rd Judicial District, Connally is a 38-year-old Air Force veteran of World War II. He is married and has a 6-year-old daughter, Terry, named after former U. S. Senator Tom T. Connally, a distant relative.

A native of Rosebud, Connally grew up in Brownwood and received his public school education there. He received his B.A. degree from Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, later attending George Washington University and National University in Washington, D. C. where he received the LL.B. degree. Connally was admitted to the bar in 1940 and practiced in the Brownwood law firm of Wilkinson, Johnson & Griffin before entering military service in World War II.

Volunteering into the Air Force as a private in 1942, he subsequently was assigned to Aviation Cadet Communications School at Yale University where he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force in 1943. He served in New Guinea, the Philippines and finally in Japan. Upon being separated from the military service in 1946 as a captain, he returned to law practice in Brownwood. He was serving as president of the Brownwood Junior Chamber of Commerce when he moved to San Saba several months later. He was elected district attorney in 1948.

Connally is a member of the board of trustees of the First Methodist Church in San Saba, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Masonic Lodge, and is a member and past commander of the Wiley B. Murray Post of the American Legion. (Pol. Adv.)
