Energas Announces Plan For Low-Income Help

Responding to a request by the chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, Energas Company announced today that the company will expand its efforts to aid low-income people in paying their energy bills this winter.

Last month, TRC chairman Mack Wallace wrote to all natural gas utility companies in Texas, urging them to create winter assistance programs for the disadvantaged in Texas, similar to some pilot programs instigated by utility companies in other states.

Energas is establishing a program to supplement existing programs of financial aid to people in its service territory who would otherwise not be able to pay their heating bills this winter.

Energas already has for helping our customers pay their gas bills," Charles K. Vaughan, Energas president said. "For years, Energas has offered an individualized deferred payment plan to customers who need help. Now, on Commissioner Wallace's recommendation, we are adding a program of financial assistance for this heating season."

The program that Energas is devising will rely on seven charitable organizations throughout the company's service territory to receive and distribute money for heating assistance.

The new program is an extension of procedures

Farwell Stock Set Friday

On January 15, the annual Farwell Junior Livestock Show is scheduled to kick off on its 1983 edition. Animals will be shown by Farwell 4-H Club members and Farwell FFA members.

The show will be held in Preston Martin's fertilizer building which is located east of Farwell, and will feature only swine and steers this year.

FFA members and 4-H'ers are eligible to exhibit their animals in this annual event. There will also be a PeeWee Division for children who are too young to belong to 4-H.

Weight-ins are scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. on January 15, the morning of the show, and judging should get underway by 10 a.m.

Plan Meets 'Wait And See' Reactions

President Reagan announced to over 6,000 of the Nation's farm leaders and members of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Dallas on Tuesday the immediate enactment of the Payment-In-Kind Program which has been under consideration since November by Congress.

Reagan also surprised Block and the assembly with the announcement of his signing into law on that day (Tuesday) the Commodity Futures Trading Commission Act, on which who sign up under the current 1983 Farm Program. In his "crop swap" Reagan is proposing a fifty percent layout for American farmers, with the intention of exchanging the layout acreage for stored surplus grain and to bring supplies in line with demands.

Although the President did not give any of the specifics of the PIK plan, it is scheduled to become effective January 24. He stated that while the plan did not get the approvals it needed in the Lame Duck Session, he felt that it was a program that could be executed by a Presidential enactment.

A press conference with Secretary of Agriculture John Block following the President's announcement failed to renew any specific details of the program; however, because of the complexity of the program for the five different crops involved, the USDA will open 25 toll-free telephone lines (800/368-5942) from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. beginning on Wednesday, January 12.

Block did state that the plan could save the government from $3 to $5 million over the next two years while boosting prices that farmers can receive. Much concern had been voiced over whether the $50,000 limitation on the present program will be maintained in the PIK plan; Block stated that it would not. Block explained that for not planting an additional 10 to 30 percent over the already established acreage reduction program, wheat growers will receive 90 percent of their normal yield in actual wheat. Producers of the other four crops would receive 80 percent. The certificates under the PIK plan would be given to producers at the normal harvest time for their area. The USDA estimates that over 8 million acres of American farm land will be taken out of production through the 1983 Farm Program, with another 23 million to come under the PIK plan.

Reagan also surprised Block and the assembly with the announcement of his signing into law on that day (Tuesday) the Commodity Futures Trading Commission Act, on which

Social Security Changes Effective

1983 Social Security Changes by Martha A. McSteen, Southwest Regional Commissioner, Social Security Administration

As the New Year starts, the vitality of the Social Security system is confirmed in two distinct ways. First, the whole country is watching and waiting for the legislative medicine that will restore financial health to the retirement and survivors benefit system. This public attention will assure effective treatment. Secondly, routine, annual adjustments and program refinements, already provided by law, will take place as usual in 1983. Orderly change of this type is characteristic of a stable and mature system.

Beginning this year, retirees who are at least age 70 can earn any amount and still get all their Social Security benefits. This 'earnings test exempt age' had been 72 until this year.

Also, retirees between the ages of 65 and 70 can earn $6600.00 in 1983 without losing any benefits - a $600.00 increase in this 'allowable earnings amount.' For younger retirees, survivors and dependents the annual exempt amount is $4,920.00, up $480.00 from 1982.

Social Security benefits are intended to partially replace lost earnings. Therefore, these annual earnings limits apply only to payment for services, including wages, salaries, and net profit from a business or partnership. The limits do not apply to other types of income.

Remember that those who received a Social Security check last year, who were not at least age 72 throughout 1982, and whose earnings were above last year's limits must file an earnings report with the Social Security Administration by April 15, 1983. The 1982 exempt earnings limits were $6000.00 for those between the ages of 65 and 72, and $4440.00 for younger beneficiaries. People who estimated their 1982 earnings would exceed last year's limits can expect to receive an annual report form in the mail. Forms can also be requested from your nearest Social Security office. Filing a tax return with the IRS does not satisfy this annual report requirement.

By the way, these allowable earnings rules do not apply to those who receive benefits based on disability or to those who receive Supplemental Security Income. Any earnings should be reported promptly by those who get disability or SSI benefits.

There is no scheduled change in the Social Security payroll tax rate in 1983. The tax rate will remain 6.7 percent, paid by both employees and employers. Self-employed persons will continue to pay 9.35 percent on their net profit. The amount of earnings subject to Social Security tax, however, has gone up this year, from $32,400.00 to $35,700.00. This taxable wage base increases automatically each year to reflect the rise in average wages. Although some workers will pay a slightly higher Social Security tax amount due to the increase in the amount of wages covered in 1983, there will be no increase in the amount of Social Security taxes paid by about 92 percent of all workers.

Also tied to the rise in average wages is the amount of earnings which will result in one quarter of work credit under Social Security. People born after 1928 need 40 quarters of work credit (or about 10 years' credit) to qualify for retirement benefits. Fewer quarters of work credit are needed by people who will be 62 before 1991 or in cases of death or disability before age 62. The new quarter of coverage amount is $370.00, up $30.00 from last year.

A final routine annual adjustment involves the Medicare hospital insurance deductible amount. The deductible amount is designed to represent the average cost of one day of hospital care. To keep up with rising hospital costs, the 1983 inpatient deductible has increased by $44.00 to $304.00.

While some of these routine annual adjustments are more welcome than others, the changes are a necessary part of this country's most important system of financial protection and health insurance - the Social Security system.

Arbor Day Foundation Gives Trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving three free Black Walnut trees to all new Foundation members joining during January, 1983.

The free trees, which are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America, will be shipped at the appropriate time for planting this spring.

Black Walnut trees were chosen for this campaign because of their value and versatility, according to the Foundation. The Walnut trees bear sweet, edible nuts, and they are also used for shade trees, growing to 80-100 feet.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting.

To become a member of the Foundation, and to receive the free trees, a $10.00 membership contribution should be sent to Free Walnut Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by January 31, 1983.

Letters To The Editor

December 28, 1982
Muleshoe Journal
Bailey County Journal
Muleshoe, Texas 79347
Attention: Mr. L.B.
Hall, Editor and Publisher
Dear Sir:
I recently tried a case in the County Courthouse in Muleshoe which required a total of eight days. During this time I had contact with most of the elected officials of Bailey County and found them all to be not only extremely capable, but equally courteous and attentive to needs. You are certainly to be congratulated for the quality of the public officials in your county.

I regret to say that I cannot be as complimentary of your courthouse facilities. During the some 34 years that I have practiced law in most of the counties in West Texas, I can truthfully say that I have never tried a case in a courthouse which has less adequate facilities for its courts than does the Bailey County Courthouse. On the floor where the District Courtroom is located are the District Clerk's Office, the County Clerk's Office, and one other small room. There is no drinking fountain on this floor and no restroom facilities. In addition, there is no place in the courthouse where space can be provided for an office for the District Judge, the District Attorney or the Court Reporter. There is no jury room on the same floor that the District Courtroom is located, but instead, the District Court juries must convene for their deliberation in the Commissioner's Courtroom on the first floor. It seems a disgrace to me that a county cannot provide better facilities for its elected officials who are charged with the duty of enforcing its laws, and for the public who must use the facilities, than those provided by Bailey County.

Most of the counties in which I practice either have new courthouses or recently remodeled courthouses which provide adequate space for all of the needed county facilities. It seems to me that Bailey County should immediately undertake efforts to either build a new courthouse or remodel its present courthouse to provide adequate offices within the courthouse for the District Judge, the District Attorney, the Court Reporter, a law library, a properly and adequately furnished room in which juries and grand juries could meet, and adequate rest rooms, as well as updated facilities for both the County and District Clerk's offices.

I have been informed that there are adequate Revenue Sharing Funds available for needed courthouse renovation, but that the Commissioners Court has seen fit to allocate it to the road fund. It might be that the people need to call upon the Commissioners Court to re-evaluate their priorities.

We live in a day and time when we hear much talk about the necessity for law enforcement. It is my belief that those officials in your county who are charged with the enforcement of the law can do a better job if they are given proper and adequate facilities in which to work.
Thank you for permitting me to air my views.
Yours very truly,
Brown, Harding,
Fargason & Brown

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres discusses the MX Missile this week, in his own way.

Dear editor:
One of the problems Congress is faced with dodging this year is the MX Missile.

The problem is not where to get the 30 billion dollars it'd take to build them. That's easy. You borrow it.

The problem isn't what part of the country they should be located in. That's easy, too. You locate them in a sparsely populated area, on the sound principle that the sparser the population the fewer mad voters there are in the area to object to them.

The real problem is where to put them so the Russians can't get at them with devastating destruction. This is based on the theory that Adolf Hitler has no descendants rising to power in Russia.

I have given the matter of where to locate the missiles some prolonged thought, and the only spot I can figure out is a place nobody can discover. We should locate them just around that corner where politicians are always saying economic recovery is.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
*****

Another group says scatter them out all around the country, if you can find enough sparsely populated, light-voting spots.

Another group just scratches its head and says the problem needs further study.

Progress isn't achieved by following the crowd.

Hightower Pledges Fight For Farmers

With a renewed commitment to fight for Texas farmers and ranchers, Jim Hightower has begun his job as State Agriculture Commissioner.

To demonstrate that commitment, a Happy, Texas, farmer was asked to administer the constitutional oath of office to Hightower.

"Family farmers are hurting," Hightower said, "and I ran for this office so we can begin putting up a fight on their behalf. Every Texas-rural or urban, producer or consumer--has a stake in that fight. To symbolize my administration's commitment to the survival of our family farm system, I've asked a Panhandle farmer to swear me in today."

Last February, Levon and Cathey Jo Harman travelled to Austin from their wheat farm near Happy to pay Hightower's filing fee for the office. They gathered the 1,500 one-dollar bills from farmers across the state.

Appropriately, the couple returned to Austin on New Year's Day where Mrs. Harman, who also is a Notary Public, administered the oath of office to Hightower at high noon in the Commissioner's office.

"Things are even worse for farmers now than they were 10 months ago, which means that we need Jim now more than ever," Ms. Harman said following the brief ceremony.

"Jim is the most effective fighter the family farmers of Texas could have, and Levon and I are excited to be a part of this kick-off ceremony."

Even before taking his oath of office, Hightower had travelled to Washington in December for a round of meetings with members of the Texas congressional delegation and with key agriculture leaders in Congress.

"The Reagan Administration can invent all the rosy economic indicators it wants, but there is no New Year prosperity to be found out in the rural areas of Texas. I'm going to speak up for our farmers, whether the Reagan Administration likes it or not. I've been working with Governor-elect Mark White on plans to upgrade our Federal-State Relations Office in Washington so we can have a more effective voice on national agricultural policy," Hightower said after Ms. Harman administered him the oath of office.

The ceremony took place at noon on New Year's Day in the Commissioner's office in the Stephen F. Austin State Office Building near the State Capitol.

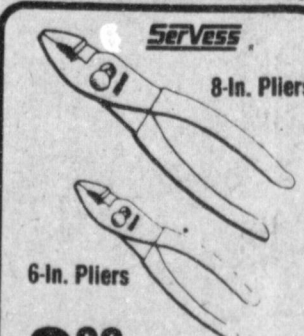

On hand were the Commissioner's parents, W.F. and Lillie Hightower of Denison, and a small group of staff members and close friends, including former Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, former land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and new State Treasurer Ann Richards.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Begins January 28

The colorful Kookaburra bird has been chosen as the Girl Scout cookie mascot for the annual Girl Scout cookie sale, Jan 28 through Feb 13, according to Mrs. Nolen Swain, President of the Caprock Girl Scout Council.

The Kookaburra symbol will be imprinted upon such awards as T-shirts, posters and patches to be given to girls participating in the two week, fund raising project. Top awards will include camp scholarships towards resident camp fees, or, council events. These awards are given to Girl Scouts who sell 180 boxes of cookies, and 120 boxes, respectively. The cookie sale provides Girl Scouts, ages 6 to 18, with a valuable learning experience. In troop meetings before the sale, girls practice such skills as record-keeping, taking sales orders and making change.

This year, seven varieties of cookies will be sold. Last year's newcomers which sold so well, Kookaburras and Hoedowns, will be offered again.

In addition, five old-time favorites, Thin Mint, Savannahs, Dutch 'N Such,

Scot-Tea and Chocolate and Vanilla Cremes, will be included in the selection of

Lorene Pagach Selected Mrs. Santa

Lorene Pagach was selected by the listeners of Channel 6 as Mrs. Santa during Christmas week. She was among eight ladies who were nominated for this honor.

Other nominees were Myrtle Puckett, Denise Bland, Kathryn Sanders, Dorothy Green, Alda Odum, Stacey Campbell, and Jewel Pool. All Channel 6 listeners were urged to nominate their favorite Mrs. Santa. A total of 198 votes were cast.

Lorene Pagach received gifts from Lindsey's, Flowers Unique, Serv-All Thriftway, St. Clair's, Gold Bond Stamps, Buddy's Shoes, Diet Center, Chubby's Beauty Shop, and Corral Restaurant.

The first Mrs. Santa elected by Channel 6 listeners was Mrs. Gladys Wilson in 1963.

cookies which sell for $2.00 a box.

Caprock Girl Scout Council and the individual troops benefit from the sale, as well as the girls. All money earned from the project remains in the council for troop activities for assisting girls in participating in special Girl Scout events, for providing services to girls and for acquiring equipment and maintaining facilities at Camp Rio Blanco, the resident camp near Crosbyton.

Car Safety

Once again the Institute For Highway Safety has issued a safety ratings report on cars sold in the U.S.

Safest are the big American models. Most dangerous are the Japanese cars, which have the worst safety record of all automobiles sold in America.

It's something one might want to think about in the purchase of family cars to haul school-age children, for driving in certain areas, under certain conditions, etc.

Establishing Healthy Habits Improve Quality Of Life

With a new year at hand, this is a good time for families to "take stock" of health habits for all members.

Good health habits are easy to establish and should be practiced all year long, reminds Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

"The most important reason for establishing healthy habits is to improve the quality of life, as well as its length," Shirer adds. Health experts suggest

Save Energy And Water In Home Laundry

High energy and water prices can be cut considerably by some simple conservation practices in home laundry.

The water heater should be set no higher than 140 degrees Fahrenheit, according to Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

Normally soiled clothes will wash nicely in warm-water rather than hot-water. A cold rinse is just as effective as a warm one, and can save energy.

Conserve water by setting the water level to match the load size. Wash time can be shortened--and energy saved--by using so-ak cycles.

When buying new appliances, consider how much hot water is used per cycle, Saunders advises. Read the operating manual that comes with the machine carefully and learn all the energy and water saving instructions.

Water and energy savings can be achieved by combining small loads. "Do not overload the machine, however, because this can result in wrinkling, lint or cleaning problems, and can cause other damage to your clothing," cautions Saunders.

Assure proper cleaning in shorter cycles by pre-treating or soaking heavily soiled clothes. Use the correct amount of laundry detergent for the load size.

Mend any tears or holes in clothing before laundering garments, because washing often worsens these problems, reminds Saunders. Pre-treat stains and spots. The heat of the dryer could make them permanent.

Don't forget that physical energy can be conserved, Saunders adds. "Locate the laundry area near the laundry source, such as the bathroom. The dryer, if not overloaded, also can save on ironing."

Sharing the work load with other family members can help, Saunders suggests. Be sure, however, that everyone who does laundry follows energy-saving procedures.

NEWS VIEWS

Allan MacEachen, Canadian Foreign Secretary, after meeting with Secretary of State Shultz:

"We agree that both nations should resist pressures toward protectionism in our economic relations."

A request from the band representatives was considered by members of the MISD board and the consensus was that rather than the band travel to a music festival in St. Louis, Missouri, they go on a trip that is nearer to Muleshoe.

The Superintendent's report of school activities included officially moving the date of the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show. The new date will be January 28, 1983. A tax collection report was also given by Superintendent Horne and it was noted that 55.23 percent of the current tax roll has been collected as compared to 50.29 percent at this same time in 1982. Counting delinquent taxes and interest and penalty, 67 percent of the school budget has been collected as compared to 57 percent at this time last year.

Horne also gave reviews of the bank balances in each school fund and a report of short term investments were presented. Tom Jinks gave a review on the expenditures in each function of the school budget and it was noted that none have exceeded budget. Current bills were also paid along with minutes of the previous meeting of December 13, 1982 being read and approved.

and industrial goods and technology.

Reactions to the President's announced program from most farm leaders seemed generally good; however, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Hightower put a description of a quick-fix on the program saying that the government was "offering bandaids to farmers who were drowning in a sea of red tape." Still, American farmers are waiting to see what implementations will be made when the plan specifics are released and go into effect a week from Monday.

Farmers local and nationwide will have the option of signing in to the plan from January 24 through March 11. The PIK program if accepted by U. S. farmers could be a big step in a farm recovery, according to farm leaders. By taking crop lands out of production and reducing current surpluses, many dollars could be saved in production costs.

On a local level, County ASCS Executive Director will attend a District meeting on January 21 in which ASCS personnel will be advised of the PIK plan.

In a telephone interview Tuesday, following the President's announcement, Williamson told the Journal that he would have details following that meeting and would be able to discuss the PIK proposal with area farmers.

Farmers in the Muleshoe area that the Journal talked with, to a man, reserved their judgment of the plan until more details could be made available. A local banker, M. D. Gunstream, President of the First National Bank, told the Journal that the "Payment-In-Kind plan will be the only thing that will save Bailey County farmers and this particular farming commuthat could be made by the USDA to speed the review processes so that farmers on the High Plains and West Texas can proceed with planning for the 1983 crop year." Tower's request was a follow-up on actions taken last June.

"Farmers are now faced with the task of securing capital in order to make management decisions. I feel that FmHA's investigation will find that many counties are eligible for disaster assistance," said Tower.

The low interest government loans would be one means by which some farmers on the High Plains and West Texas could be financed another year a year which might help get these farmers back on their feet-provided prices for their commodities improve sufficiently.

Snow Melt Hampers Harvesting

Another snow storm on New Year's Day continued to hamper High Plains cotton harvesting and ginning, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock. Accumulation last Monday morning ranged from two to 12 inches. Skies cleared Sunday and a slow melt began.

Growers had ample time to make year-end marketing decisions, Bennett said. Mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30-32, mike 35-49 brought growers 75 to 225 points over 1982 loan rates. Loan equities from '81-crop cotton brought growers $5 to $25, mostly $10 to $15.

Gins paid growers $65 to $100 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $75 to $80. Daily sample receipts had dropped to 2,100 on Thursday. Lubbock's Marketing Services Office classed 23,500 samples during the week ended January 6. This brought the season's total to 559,000 and compares with 1,456,000 classed by the same date last season.

Predominant grades were grade 42 at 37 percent, grade 52 and 32 percent, grade 43 amounted to nine percent and grade 53 accounted for seven percent. About 32 percent was reduced one grade because of bark and eight percent for grass. Grass reductions amounted to less than one percent for the 1981 crop and two percent in each of the 1979 and 1980 crops.

Predominant staples were 30 at 11 percent, staple 31 accounted for 34 percent, staple 32 was 29 percent and staple 33 amounted to 13 percent for an average of 31.8 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Mike 35-49 was 66 percent, 33-34 amounted to 10 percent, 30-32 was 12 percent, 27-29 accounted for eight percent and 26 or below was four percent for an average of 36.

Breaking strength averaged 23.9 grams per tex. Prices received by U.S. upland cotton farmers averaged 58.60 cents per pound.

Local Court Business 'Picks Up'

A total of 47 cases were filed. 32 disposed of in both Municipal and Justice Courts in Muleshoe and Bailey County for the period from January 4 through January 10 of the New Year.

In Municipal Court, Judge Linda Huckaby filed 21 cases for the period involved and disposed of ten. Five of the cases filed were for speeding violations, four for expired license plates, two for bad checks, two for racing and one violation on each of the following offenses: running stop sign, expired sticker, unregistered vehicle, exhibition of acceleration, no drivers license, running red light, no drivers license in possession and one for public intoxication.

Of the cases disposed of and fines paid, three were for expired plates, three for speeding and one each on the following: no motorcycle license, failure to appear, running stop sign, and expired MVI sticker.

In his first week on the job, newly sworn-in Justice of the Peace Jack Bates filed a total of 26 cases and disposed of 22 cases. Among those filed were two each for no liability, two for no MVI sticker, two for running stop signs, and two for expired plates.

Seven cases were filed on speeding violations and six filed for being over allowed gross weight. One case each was filed on the following charges: assault, failure to report an accident, no commercial license, no operator's license, and one for loud mufflers.

Cases disposed of in Justice Court for the past week included six for speeding, six for being over allowed gross weight, three for no MVI stickers, two for expired license plates and two for no driver's license and one each for failure to report an accident and leaving the scene of an accident, one for assault and one for an illegal turn.

More ways to water more kinds of fields.

If My people, who are called by My Name, will humble themselves and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways... Then I will hear from Heaven, forgive their sins, and HEAL THEIR LAND.

AMERICA IS TOO YOUNG TO DIE

Our Nation was conceived by those who believed in freedom, and that freedom is now threatened with economic bondage which has begun in the farm belt and now threatens the entire economy.

Every dollar in agriculture multiplies itself seven times in the economy, and a strong agriculture is the only way to reduce the ever-mounting debt structure in our society.

Unless we regain our solvency, our nation will fall, and with it the noblest hopes of a free people under God.

Because we care about the farm families and businesses in our community, we invite you to a meeting in which we can show our support for, and recognize the mutual interdependence that we have with, agriculture.

FACTS & FIGURES

A freeze on Social Security cost-of-living increases could cut the benefits of the average retired worker by more than $325 a year. For the average retired couple, the figure would be about $475.

Such cuts could result in a poverty rate spurt of as much as 25 percent among the elderly. The AFL-CIO has called on the President and Congress to protect the elderly from their particular vulnerability to inflation.

Social Security experts with the AFL-CIO predict that the Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance programs under Social Security will build large surpluses in the 25 years before 2015. They suggest that shortfalls between now and 1990 be handled by borrowing from trust funds and general revenues. This could then be paid back from the surpluses. And it can help America pay back the efforts of our elderly to make America great.

TEHA Support Texan's War On Drugs Program

A leadership project of the 22,680-member Texas Extension Homemakers Association has resulted in a united effort in support of the Texan's War on Drugs Program.

A resolution adopted recently by the entire membership pledged the support of Extension Homemaker groups in the war on drugs at both the community and county levels, according to June Cline, organization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

Extension Homemakers are concentrating their leadership efforts, Cline says, in four main areas:

1. Speaking in their communities to increase the level of awareness about the harmful effects of drugs.

2. Monitoring court cases that involve drugs to see that offenders do not get off without receiving the full measure of the penalty that fits the crime.

3. Forming parent peer groups in schools, communities and churches with parents, and getting together to develop guidelines for their children to follow to help prevent drug involvement.

4. Encouraging drug awareness programs in schools and making drug awareness part of every teacher's in-service training.

Goals of the Extension Homemakers organization are to promote wholesome family relationships and to share community responsibilities with other organizations, Cline says. The anti-drug educational effort is one more voice among many throughout the state that should bring a clear message to drug dealers and users about their being unwelcome in Texas.

The Texan's War on Drugs committee was established by Gov. Bill Clements and is chaired by Dallas businessman H. Ross Perot. The committee, of which TEHA President Billie McCraw is a member, established a three-pronged approach to combat drug abuse: education and prevention; legislation; and law enforcement.

The action arm of the Association's committee responsible for the implementation of education and prevention has been instrumental in establishing and strengthening community and family groups throughout the state, Cline reports. The level of awareness of drug abuse has already increased considerably, and programs involving parents and various civic organizations are making progress in the effort to eradicate this menace to Texas youth, Cline adds.
