Remarks Requested On 1983 Grain Program

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has asked for public comment on some specifics of the 1984 feed grain program. Block said an Aug. 23 deadline for comments will allow the U.S. Department of Agriculture to study the public's recommendations along with current data on U.S. and world crop conditions and crop supply and demand before announcing the 1984 program. He said he hopes to announce final program provisions by the end of September, well ahead of the Nov. 15 statutory deadline. Specifically, the USDA would like to receive comments on:

- the loan and purchase level;
- the established (target) price;
- the national program acreage;
- whether there should be a voluntary reduction percentage and, if so, what percentage;
- whether there should be an acreage reduction program, and, if so, what percentage and how the acreage bases for the acreage reduction program will be established;

- whether a set-aside requirement is necessary and quirement is necessary and, if so, what percentage;
- whether there should be a payment-in-kind (PIK) program and, if so the PIK program provisions that should be applicable;
- whether there should be a land diversion program, and if so, the extent of such diversion and the level of payment;
- whether barley should be eligible for payment purposes under the feed grain program;
- whether malting barley should be exempt from any acreage reduction program;

Earth Rodeo Day Planned July 14-16

The "Biggest Rodeo In The Southwest" (for the size of the town, that is) will kick off in Earth, Texas on July 14 and run through the 15th and 16th. Performance times are slated at 8:30 p.m. all three nights. A parade will officially herald the rodeo at 5 p.m. on Thursday, July 14, with Lamb County Rodeo Queen Darcy Randolph leading the way. Also on Thursday at the rodeo grounds following the parade, an old fashioned country barbeque supper will be offered. Those who buy their tickets to the rodeo for that night are entitled to a free supper. Adult tickets are $5 and Students $3. Serving will end at 8 p.m.

A jackpot-one go-around will be held with the entry fee being $40 each for calf roping, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, girl's barrel race, bull riding, bull dogging and team roping. Trophy buckles will be awarded to all first place winners in each event. Other events scheduled include a stick horse race for the six and under bunch each night of the rodeo, an old fiddler's contest on Saturday and a play day in the park on Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m. Entries will be taken until Wednesday, July 13 between 12 noon and 6 p.m. On Thursday evening, following the parade and barbeque, a new Lamb County Roping Club Queen will emerge from a bevy of beauties who will, in order to win, be horsewomen as well as ladies. All Lamb County girls are urged to enter. They must be high school age and never have been married.

Entry forms may be obtained at the T-Bar Western Store and the Earth Dry Goods in Earth or by calling Sue Taylor at 257-3937. Rodeo office number is 257-2125. Stock will be furnished by the C-T Rodeo Company.

General admission charges for the rodeo is $3 for adults and $2 for students. A rodeo dance will be held nightly featuring the Tiny Lynn Band. Entrants under 18 years of age must have their parent's signed consent on entry blanks.

Thousands Enjoy Day Celebrating

Over 30 floats, riding clubs, sweetheart entries, clowns, antique cars and civic organizations entered in the 1983 Annual Muleshoe Freedom Parade Celebration. Actual events got off on the dusty, dry hot fourth of July at 8 a.m. in the New City Park. The 10,000 k event was coordinated by Lonnie Adrian. Some of the winners of this event included Martin Mendoza and Tony Luna, who took a first place win. All winners captured gold, silver or bronze medals.

At the same time and just a little to the West of KMUL, Senior Babe Ruth Games were going on and the competition was mighty. We were unable to get the completed results, however if anyone has them and would call them in, we would be pleased to print them.

At 9 a.m., registration for the World Championship Mule Shoe Pitching Contest got underway in the City Park, with last year's champion Ed Nuetzier unable to attend and defend his title this year. He lost that title to 15 year old Jarrod Embry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Embry. Second runnerup in the men's division was Cheyenne Bickel. In the women's division: Jama Donovan, runner-up was Vanda Turnbow. In the doubles division, first place was also won by Jarrod Embry and his Grandfather, Calvin Embry. Second Place in the Mule Pitching Doubles went to Dan Phillips and Robbie Young.

In the kids day activities at the Bailey County Civic Center, miniature golfers enjoyed the new "Mule Putt" court, as hosted by various members of the community. There were fifteen entries in the tournament including the winners and the entire tourney was completed around noon. Two full games were played and the lowest scores played for the championship flight.

Championship flight winners and their scores were as follows: Don McDonald, 59; Jason Scoggin, 58; Jeff Meeks, 60; and Monty Jones, 63. Other entries playing included Keisha Johnson, Benton Glaze, Kacy Henry,

Further kid's activities in the Coliseum included a gymnastice and karate demonstration by Purdy and Hawkins School of Dance and Karate, featuring many of their students. Basic protection measures shown to women proved to be of extreme interest to those present.

Since the wind was out of the north and the water was cold, the annual "dunking board" sort of went begging this year. However, much hot food and cool drinks could be found inside the building.

Muleshoe Varsity Cheerleaders gave away a ticket on a shopping spree, The Artistic Needle gave away a Crewel Stitchery Kit and the winner was Janie Lou Moraw. Several other items were given away for promotional purposes.

The Ping Pong Tournament which was held in the coliseum was won in the singles division by Marlin Mills; second place went to Rich Zamora. In the doubles, winners were Butch Vandiver and Bobby Grumbles and second place

Turn Row Field Days

Continue Here

The Texas Agriculture Extension Service in cooperation with Longhorn Spraying Service is sponsoring a series of "turn-row meetings" or field days in which pest management and scouting will be discussed. These meetings will take place each Tuesday through the growing season.

The field days will be held at 1:30 p.m. approximately 8 1/2 miles north of Muleshoe on Highway 214 at the Davy Engelking farm.

Bailey and surrounding county producers are urged to attend these free sessions to obtain information which will enable them to scout and manage their own fields.

Water Hearings Set In Lubbock

The Texas Department of Water Resources has recently updated the Texas Water Plan which was originally adopted in 1968. The Department will conduct a public hearing in Lubbock at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center on July 12, at 7 p.m.

A Wayne Wyatt, Manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 in Lubbock, suggests that area residents make a conscientious effort to attend this hearing and become knowledgeable about the water resources of the area.

Wyatt, having reviewed draft copies of the water plan, expects the Department staff to present data at this public hearing on the available surface and ground-water resources in the area as well as data pertaining to water used by all segments of High Plains Society (municipal, industrial, agricultural and domestic). Wyatt also expects the Department staff to report that there are very limited surface-water resources available in the area for future development and that the waters in the Ogallala aquifer are being mined from a finite source.

He said he does not expect the Department to present any encouraging information on water importation; the subject of so much statewide controversy during early development of the Texas Water Plan. Wyatt explains recent studies indicate that importation of water to the High Plains at this time is not economically feasible due to the cost of water importation exceeding $500 per acre foot, and complicating this problem, the water imported would be used to increase production of agricultural products which are already in surplus supply. Wyatt does not expect the water plan to include identification of any sources of water for importation to the High Plains, nor routes, nor cost data.

It is anticipated, he added, that the recommendation in the plan to the people of the High Plains and West Texas will be that, given the limited water resources available, the only alternative to running short of water, at least for the immediate future, is conservation.

Undoubtedly there are many in this area, like the Water District staff, who have ideas and special problems which need to be brought to the attention of the Department, commented the department leader.

MR. AND MRS. DANNY FRANK KEMP
[nee Traci K'Ann Walker]

Miss Walker, Kemp United In Marriage

Miss Traci K'Ann Walker and Danny Frank Kemp were united in marriage at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, June 11 in the Richland Hills Baptist Church of Muleshoe. The Rev. H.D. Hunter read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Walker of Lubbock, formerly of Muleshoe; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kemp of Muleshoe. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D.O. Burelsmith of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walker of Las Vegas, Nevada.

The church was decorated with fan candelabras, flanked by tree candelabras trimmed with blue and apricot bows, fern leaves and white lily-of-the-valley. Entwined around the pulpit rail were fern leaves, lily-of-the-valley, blue silk daisies and lighted votive candles. The aisle was lined with blue and apricot bows, fern leaves and baby's breath with lighted votive candles.

Given in marriage by her father and mother and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown with a wedding band collar embroidered with Schuffle lace. The drop shoulder yoke lead to the full bouffant skirt and cathedral train of wedgewood lace ruffles trimmed in satin ribbon.

The victorian bishop sleeves were fitted at the wrist and trimmed with rows of lace daisies down the sleeves and wedgewood lace and satin ribbon around the wrist. The veil was decorated with matching lace to finish the traditional look.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of silk apricot and blue roses flowing over a lace fan and continuing down toward the floor in blue, apricot and white lace streamers.

In carrying out the traditional wedding customs, the bride wore pennies in her shoe minted in the years of their birth. For something old she wore her great grandmother Burelsmith's wedding band loaned to her by her aunt, Mrs. Katherin Shivers of Vernon. Her dress was something new and her garter was something blue. She wore the pearls her father gave her mother on their wedding day and borrowed her sister's formal length petticoat. The couple were united in marriage on the groom's parents 45th. wedding anniversary.

Shelli Walker of Lubbock served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lee (Tammy) Elder of Muleshoe, Debbie Kemp and Mrs. Clyde (Vicki) Smith, both sisters of the groom and both from Lubbock; and Belinda Clayton of Muleshoe.

The attendants wore identical formal blue gowns with a flounce skirt. Buttons on the bodice extended the high neck ruffled collar and the gowns were complimented with victorian bishop sleeves. The waist was accented with a blue cummerbund belt that tied in a bow in the back.

Each attendant carried lace fans on which a cascade of silk blue daisies, silk apricot roses and blue and white lace bows flowed across the fan. They each wore a small comb covered with apricot daisies and baby's breath in their hair.

The groom's attendants were Monty Gartin of Lubbock; Roland Perez of Muleshoe, Clyde Smith, brother in law of the groom, of Lubbock; Lee Elder of Muleshoe and Scott Ellard of Muleshoe. Elder and Ellard also served as ushers.

Candles were lit by Chris and Chad Black, cousins of the bride, of Hobbs, N.M. Adam Smith, nephew of the groom, of Lubbock was ring bearer. Cory Vest, cousin of the groom, of Seminole was flower girl.

Cory wore a silk organza floor length dress with a shoulder ruffle and a scoloped ruffle around the skirt, tied up on each side with silk apricot rosebuds.

Roland Perez, soloist, sang "Bone of My Bone" and "Flesh of My Flesh." Mrs. Jack (Jean) Kemp, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. George (Jackie Jean) Whatley, cousin of the groom, sang the theme from "The Rose," "The Twelfth of Never" and "Wheather Thou Goest." They were accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Gary (Lanelle) Skaggs who also played the wedding march and recessional.

Guests were registered by Missy Kemp, niece of the groom, of Midland.

At the close of the ceremony, the bride and groom lit the unity candle. As they walked back down the aisle, they stopped and presented each of their mothers with a rose taken from the bride's bouquet.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over a white satin cloth. The center piece was of apricot and blue silk roses and apricot, blue and white lace ribbons surrounding a white Bible opened to the chapter of Ruth. The Bible belongs to the bride's father and was given to him on his 10th. birthday by his aunt, Mrs. Lewis Shafer of Needmore.

Servers at the bride's table were Rhonda Kemp, Sherry Kemp and Sharla Simmons, nieces of the groom, all of Midland.

At the end of the reception table sit a small round table holding small baskets containing blue and apricot rice bags surrounding the lighted unity candle that had been placed on the table after the marriage ceremony.

The newlyweds are at home in Lubbock, where Kemp is employed at Amfac and the bride is employed in the offices of Furr's Cafeterias. The bride and groom both graduated from Muleshoe High School and American Commercial College in Lubbock.

Out of town guests attended from Lubbock, Vernon, Midland and Hobbs, N.M.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents on Friday night.

A miscellaneous shower for the couple was given in the home of Mrs. Doyce Turner of Muleshoe on May 15. The bride was honored with a lingerie shower in the home of Mrs. Lee Elder of Muleshoe on May 29 and her fellow employees honored her with a kitchen shower on her birthday in March.

A compliment remains the best way of insuring cooperation.

The news isn't to be confused with opinions about the news.

At times we're convinced that secrecy is the best publicity.

Errors often arise when men try to prove that they've been right.

Summer Seafood Grill

For a refreshing change that gets you out of the hot kitchen, and is also easy on the budget, try grilling fish. Because they cook so quickly fish are a natural for outdoor cooking.

Annette Reddell Hegen, seafood consumer education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says following a few simple rules will insure "perfect" grilled fish everytime.

First, be sure that the cuts are about one-inch thick (or more), whether you use pan-dressed fish, fillets or steaks. These thicker cuts don't dry out as readily as thinner cuts.

Allow one-half pound of pan-dressed fish or one-third pound of fillets or steaks per person. If you use fish that has been frozen, thaw it completely in the refrigerator (18-24 hours per pound) or under cold running water before grilling it.

A long-handled, hinged wire grill that has been well-greased is perfect for cooking fish outdoors, says Hegen. If you do not have one, then grease the rack of your grill very well. Thorough greasing will make it easier to lift the fish off the grill after it's done.

Once you've taken care of the grill, the next thing you need is a good basting sauce which contains some type of fat. Frequent basting prevents drying out and ensures tender and juicy fish.

After basting, place the fish about 4 inches from the coals and cook for 10 to 20 minutes, depending on the thickness of the fish.

Finally, do not overcook your fish, as fish contains no tough connective tissue and cooks very quickly.

TIME-SAVING SHORTCUTS

MICROWAVE OVENS
Quick and easy to use, the microwave oven is one of the favorite kitchen appliances for all members of the family. Kids love to make snacks and sandwiches in it...and the more they do for themselves, the more time mom saves.

Here are some tasty snack ideas from home economists at Whirlpool Corporation for the children to fix:

- Hot dogs are a good get-started recipe to acquaint young cooks with the microwave oven. Just butter a split bun, add a frankfurter and wrap loosely in a paper towel or napkin. Heat at high power for 30 seconds. Have ketchup, mustard and relishes handy for the children to choose from.

- Place one graham cracker on paper towel. Top with one square of chocolate candy and one marshmallow. Heat at high power for 15 seconds and top with another graham cracker. Let stand for one minute before eating. If you need more, four crackers can be heated in only 25 seconds.

- Place one slice toast on paper napkin, towel or plate. Spread with peanut butter and jelly, or marshmallow creme, or banana slices. Cook at high power for 15 seconds until peanut butter softens and just begins to melt. You can do four at once on a paper towel in 40 seconds.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED...Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gonzales, Jr. of Lazbuddie announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Anita to Johnny Marquez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Marquez of Lubbock. ## Celebration ners were Tyrri Vandiver and Rick Zamora.

All booths and activities closed down at the civic center at 2 p.m. and at that time, an Area Pioneer Reunion was held in the meeting room of the Bailey County Civic Center. Over 90 area pioneer guests registered for the "going-on", singing old-time songs, hymns and sayings to the accompanying on the piano. Mrs. John Agee was Mistress of Ceremonies and distributed some special awards to some of the members present.

To T.R. White, the cleanest dressed man present; to Hazel Reeder and Joe Simnacher, the best fed; Mr. Upchurch was the most informed of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roubenick received the award for having been married over 50 years to the same person and Mrs. Roubenick was also selected as the winner of the Mrs. America Contest with her home-made gown and bonnet.

A hat and costume parade was held and enjoyed by all.

As soon as five p.m. began to approach, people began to make a mad dash for the downtown area to view the Freedom Parade. Robert Montgomery was the Master of Ceremonies for the parade with Dianne Neiman being the person in charge. Joyce and Wayne Holmes were parade marshalls.

At precisely 5 p.m. five T-38 Jets from Reese Air Force Base flew over the town from north and south down Main Street prior to the beginning of the parade.

Winners were hard to decide upon, but the first place winner went to the Alpha Zeta Phi, second place to the Jennislippers and third to the Mulshoe Youth Baseball Grey Team.

Riding Club competition was won by the Lamb County Sheriff's Posse, with second place going to the Lubbock Rangers.

Following the parade, the crowd began to gather at the new city park for picnic lunches and to join in the 4-H Barbeque Supper.

Following the eats, live entertainment was provided by local and area musicians featuring fiddlin' John Fried, Fishers of Men, the Anchor Brothers, Gail Veach, and the Storie Brothers.

The day was capped off at 10 p.m. when the Mulshoe Volunteer Fire Department began setting off fireworks that had been being accumulated all the year. Many organizations, individuals and clubs have contributed to this annual event, bringing an end to a perfect day and saluting our country for the wonderful homeland that it is.

Water Hearings

He said these issues need to be discussed at this public hearing in order that they be addressed in the water plan, suggested to the Texas Legislature, or acted on by the Department's staff.

The following are some of the Water District's comments and recommendations which will be given either at this public hearing or through written comment.

WATER IMPORTATION
Because there is no adequate solution to the water needs and problems of the state from in-state sources, water importation should continue to be considered and studied as one of several alternatives to increase water supplies.

Importation studies and planning should consider only those flood waters determined to be in excess of the future needs of any potential import source area. With the most effective water conservation program possible, over 40 percent of the gravity water in storage in the Texas High Plains that can be recovered using conventional water wells is projected to be used by the year 2000, and over two-thirds is projected to be used by 2020.

At the present time, this water supply supports over 67 percent of total irrigated acreage in Texas, annually. Irrigation contributes over 40 percent of the total value of crops sold in the state. Therefore, a water supply for irrigation is very important to Texas agriculture and to the Texas economy.

The irrigated agricultural multipliers are over $3.60 of total economic effect per $1 of irrigation farm sales and are more than $2.50 per dollar of food and fiber that is processed within the state. Importation studies and planning should be continued with a view toward finding solutions, including agreements with neighboring states for a source of water, by about 1990 and 1995. Import projects should begin to deliver water to the Texas High Plains no later than 2010 to 2015.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The Water District believes that the total water resources of the High Plains need to be better identified particularly those waters stored in the Triassic system below the Ogallala which are saline. The Department should direct studies toward desalinization of these saline water resources should it become necessary to develop and use this water for domestic, municipal and/or industrial purposes.

The Water District believes the Department should continue its studies of rainfall enhancement, not to be confused with hail suppression, which potentially could increase the precipitation which occurs in the High Plains of Texas. The Department should continue to support investigations of releasing water from the wet sands of the Ogallala Formation thereby making it available for recovery from wells. Additionally, the Department should support studies of the release of water vapor from six which might provide a limited supplemental water supply for rural residents.

In the area of water use, the Water District believes the Department should encourage the Texas Legislature to adequately fund Texas Tech University, The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and others in their research efforts such as: developing plants which are highly efficient in their water use, chemicals which might be applied to plants to reduce their evapotranspiration rates, and growth regulators to use on plants to reduce their water use. The Water District also feels that the Department should become more involved in the study of artificial recharge to rain-water that collects in playa basins. It should consider recent technology that may provide new types of filter materials which might be used to remove the silts, salts, clays and biological life from playa water which earlier research indicated prevented successful recharge.

PUBLIC INFORMATION
Public information and awareness about water conservation in the urban community needs serious effort. The adoption and installation of efficient water using appliances, increased use of native vegetation for landscaping, trickle irrigation, soil moisture monitoring to determine time and need for irrigation and other water conservation methods are available at the present time. However, public information is needed to encourage more widespread use of these methods.

Wyatt concluded, "The High Plains Water District, its Board of Directors and staff, encourage you to attend and participate in this hearing."

"Any and all comments will be accepted by the Department staff at this hearing or in the form of written comments up to 30 days thereafter."

TDA and Texas Rangers Fight Grain Swindlers

AUSTIN--As another harvest season gets underway, officials with the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) have begun making their annual warnings to both elevator operators and local law enforcement officials to watch for grain thieves.

According to Darrell Ketchum, director of TDA's grain warehouse licensing division, a band of traveling thieves can virtually steal a storage elevator blind, and then move elsewhere, before anybody realizes their scales have been tampered with.

"If a group of grain thieves finds that they can swindle a facility, they'll continue to swindle that facility over and over until they feel like they have 'broke' the place. Then they'll move elsewhere," said Ketchum. "They usually don't do it just once. They'll usually do it 20, 25, or 30 times if they see that they can get away with it."

The Texas Rangers work closely with TDA and local law enforcement officials in investigating suspected grain theft cases, and in bringing felony theft cases when the thieves are apprehended.

Commander Bill Wilson has investigated grain thefts from Eagle Pass and Gonzales to Cleburne and Lubbock, with the individual warehouse losses running as much as $300,000. "The elevator operators didn't realize what happened until it was too late," Wilson said. "They had already suffered the loss."

In each of those cases, he says the thieves' ability to get into the underground scale pit was the key to their success. Reviewing his case files, Wilson recalled, "In Houston we had one thief that got underneath the scale and spent the night on a floating mattress, waiting on his trucks to come in." The thieves in the grain trucks and their accomplice under the scale pit were able to communicate via a two-way radio, Wilson said.

In addition to operating the grain scales manually from the pit, thieves can also manipulate the weight by remote control with a device they call a "bagger." Usually it's activated from the truck cab using a CB radio or garage door opener to trans-

Madame Alexander Doll Show Scheduled July 8-9 Muleshoe

A small scale figure of a human being, those little things we all cherish as a little girl and as grown collectors. A doll. This is a word that a collector will respond to every time.

Tanya Freeman McWhorter, a doll lover from the word go, has turned her love and hobby into a fascinating career. This is her third year for traveling to all parts of the country, educating the public and signing pieces of her work that is in either calendar or coloring book form. Three years ago, Tanya wrote Madame Alexander for permission to do a dedication to her using Tanya's large childhood collection. The permission was granted, later finding out that this was very unusual. She published a Vol. I limited edition calendar entitled "To Madame Alexander, With Love." Contained in the calendar are pictures of Tanya's dolls and it was a sell out in four months. The next year she published a Vol. II and again, sold out in eight weeks. In fact, she was under contract with a large toy store in Vermont and she could not fill that order due to over selling. She then started buying back all the Vol. II's until she could fill that order. Tanya was without a Vol. II, herself, until just recently! She states, "That was the best Christmas gift I could receive!" She is hoping to locate a few Vol. II's for the Plainview area for this July, '83. If she does, they will be available for her to sign them.

The Vol. III calendar, 1984, calendar has been released and is available for a short while. Two large and three small accounts have been closed and has helped the availability. Tanya said that it was foolish for her to sell wholesale and turn down retail, when the demand is there. "I appreciate the stores interest, but I miss meeting the people that buy the calendars." This July, Tanya hopes to have a few of both Vol.'s for the Plainview area.

Two coloring books of her dolls, also, were finished last year and are popular. The past three years, Tanya has been in five different states as guest, was featured on the TV show The Eyes Of Texas last October and just recently was featured on a CBS special story that was purchased from New York. This was aired nation wide.

It is amazing how small the world is. Last January, Tanya sponsored a large doll show and over 22 states represented them selves. The show brought over 2100 people through the door. She hopes to hold another show next April or May.

"The main love of my new career is the precious people that have entered my life," states Tanya. She receives over 25 letters daily and gifts from all across the states. It shows you how people do care and still love one another.

As stated before, Tanya has always loved dolls. Her first set of dolls happen to be Madame Alexander Little Women that were purchased with trading stamps. She had one doll that she fed, bathed and loved dearly. This was an American Character Tootles. To this day, she says this is her only true love. Tanya laughs, as she tells of her odor due to so much baby food stuffed in her mouth and still has the remains of baby powder in the cracks of her body.

As a child, Tanya was around dolls, a lot due to close friends owning a large toy store. On Saturday mornings she along with others would show the new toys, on a childrens program. For all birthdays and other occasions, she would receive dolls. She usually kept them in the box and now it has really paid off. This the rare part of Tanya's collection, they are all mint with tags and boxes.

There are many ways to start collecting and Tanya can help you off to a good start. There are some ways that will cost you a lot of money in the end and she hopes to stop this from happening, by answering questions. Tanya does not just collect Alexander dolls.

Her first love is the old antique bisque from Germany and France. She said it is a shame, that so few people do not know that they can purchase the original for just a small bit more than the reproduction on some dolls. This comes with not knowing. Doll collecting is now in second place as far as popularity. There isn't a person around that can't relate to a doll some way or another. This is why all of us can relate to dolls and that is when it is fun.

Mrs. McWhorter is a native West Texas, attending school in Tulla and Amarillo. She is the daughter of Elizabeth Freeman of Lubbock and the granddaughter of the D.C. Beaty's of Tulla. She now lives in Corpus Christi with her husband and two sons.

She is recognized in many states as an appraiser and collector of dolls, especially Madama Alexander dolls. Her doll collecting started in 1947 when her mother gave her a

Water pollution must be stopped, says researcher

COLLEGE STATION — The increasing pollution of the nation's fresh water supplies must be solved or it will literally be the death of us, says a nationally recognized authority on soil physics at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Kirk Brown, who conducts pollution research for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and has testified before national and state legislative environmental committees, said recently that there are alternatives to disposing of hazardous wastes in underground landfills.

"The problem could be avoided by not placing waste in landfills," Brown says, "but this would necessitate intensification of waste reduction, recycling, incineration and land treatment as options for disposal."

Brown said some estimates are that only about two percent of our total usable groundwater has been contaminated by toxic chemicals.

"That doesn't sound like much," he said, "but if the aquifer you use for watering your livestock or for drinking water is contaminated, it looks more like 100 percent."

Madam Alexander doll. She now has 250 dolls of all types.

Her interest in dolls has grown into a profession. She started appraising dolls when she realized her many years of research on them gave her a knowledge

US Cotton Textile Mills Edged Higher

Use of cotton by U.S. textile mills edged higher in May as the seasonally adjusted annual rate reached 5.8 million 480-pound bale-equivalents. This was 0.3 percent above the April total and 12.2 percent higher than the May, 1982, rate, according to the National Cotton Council. Cotton's share of total fiber use was 23.9 percent in May, compared with 24.5 percent in April and 25.5 percent a year ago. Since January, cotton consumption has advanced 8.4 percent, the Council reported.

Cargo Preference Opposed The National Cotton Council has filed a statement opposing a bill dealing with the shipment of agricultural products.

The bill would require that 50 percent of agricultural commodities sold under government credit programs and 100 percent of water-borne cargo affecting national security be shipped on U.S. flag vessels.

The Council pointed out that the increased costs would eliminate advantages of the blended credit program implemented to stimulate exports of cotton and other agricultural products.

that was sought after by doll collectors all over the country.

This talented doll expert will be in Plainview July 8 and 9 for a show and appraisal clinic. The City National Bank of Plainview will sponsor this show on Friday, July 8, and on Saturday, July 9 the show will continue at the Now Shop, Too in the Gabriel-Wayland Shopping Center.

Anyone interested in dolls is invited to come by and meet Tanya and receive professional evaluation for their dolls. Her Madame Alexander calendars and color books will, also, be available and news about her forthcoming limited edition doll named Tanya.

Work! God wills it. That, it seems to me, is clear.

A&M economist urges rapid deregulation of natural gas industry

COLLEGE STATION — The Reagan administration could save consumers money if it deregulated natural gas before summer instead of gradual deregulation over the next three years, says a Texas A&M University economist.

"Although the long-term deregulation plan will ultimately mean lower gas bills for consumers, deregulating natural gas before summer would have a more immediate effect," said Dr. S. Charles Maurice.

Maurice pointed out that present regulations are forcing pipeline and utility companies into buying higher-cost gas when lower-cost supplies are readily available. He said the long-term deregulation plan only provides incentives for companies to keep cheaper natural gas supplies off the market until price ceilings are lifted. Deregulation will insure extra supplies of natural gas, which will only cause prices to come down, he said. The problem for proponents of deregulation, Maurice added, is to convince people that increases in price would be temporary.

"We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed."

Drilling Permit Fee To Be Required

The Railroad Commission has proposed for public comment a new rule that requires a non-refundable $100 fee for new or materially amended permits to drill for oil and gas in the state.

The proposed new rule is the result of recent legislation enacted by the Texas Legislature. That legislation requires the $100 fee and authorized the Railroad Commission to deposit the money into a special fund for plugging abandoned wells. The funds can also be used for general enforcement of state pollution prevention laws involving oil and gas operations.

Comments on the proposed rule will be taken for 30 days after publication in the Texas Register, and then the proposed rule will be presented to the Commission for final consideration.

The new law will also require some procedural changes in the way drilling permits are handled at the RRC. For example, applicants must file a drilling permit application (RRC Form W-1) and the fee with the Commission's headquarters in Austin rather than with the respective RRC district office. However, applicants must still send a copy of the application to the district office.

The RRC will no longer authorize "verbal" drilling permits, but will allow an applicant to expedite processing of a permit application by "walking" it through the review process in Austin.

By law, the fee requirement is effective Sept. 1, 1983.

The Commission has sent a full explanation of the drilling permit application changes to all oil and gas operators in the state.

To answer questions, the Commission has established a toll-free telephone number (1-800-772-0091) for calls placed in Texas. Out-of-state callers should dial 512-445-1314.

Area Residents Win Free SP Fair Tickets

Seven area residents have been selected to win free sets of tickets to stage attractions at the 66th annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair here Sept. 24-Oct. 1.

Names of the winners were drawn from more than 1,200 respondents to a newspaper talent survey conducted last November by the fair association.

Lubbock winners and stage shows they'll get to see include Mrs. Arbra Davis, 4627 27th Street., Mel Tillis; Jace Mabry, Box 16515 and Jesus Coronado, 1614 70th Place, Ronnie Milsap; Lorri Byers, 5403 21st Street, Reba McEntire and the Maines Brothers; and Mrs. Lyda Uhey, 8209 Ave. X, Conway Twitty.

Mozelle Ratcliff of Plainview also won a pair of tickets to see the Tillis show while Jo Ann Stroope of Hale Center won tickets to the Larry Gatlin Show.

The fair placed coupons in The Avalanche-Journal, the University Daily at Texas Tech and the Monterey High School Mirror last November asking readers to pick their choices for entertainers to appear at the fair.

Two dozen names were suggested in the advertisement and space was provided for write-in nominations. A total of 176 other names were suggested by readers, according to fair general manager, Steve L. Lewis.

The top 20, listed in order of preference, included Alabama, Mac Davis, Barbara Mandrell, the Oakridge Boys, Statler Brothers, Willie Nelson, Dolly Parton, Gatlin, Eddie Rabbitt, Anne Murray, Loretta Lynn, Charley Pride, Milsap, T.G. Sheppard, Ricky Skaggs, Air Supply, Daryl Hall and John Oates, Rick Springfield, the Beach Boys and Tammy Wynette.

Many already have appeared at the fair.

"We got a good indication of what the public wants," Lewis said in announcing the winners of the free tickets.

"We made attempts to get as many of the top entertainers as possible," he said. "We did our best but weren't able to get some of them."

Lewis said previous bookings and routing of some of the entertainers' schedules across the country were main stumbling blocks in signing some of the stars.

Five of the top 10 mentioned in the survey previously have been at the fair, including the Gatlins, who own the box office record for two shows—8,486, topping the previous high of 8,164 set by the Statlers in 1979. The Gatlins last appeared here in 1980.

Opening and closing day stars have not yet been signed.

The McEntire and Maines show will be presented at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Sept. 26.

Other shows are slated at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. The slate includes the Gatlins on Sept. 27, Milsap on Sept. 28, Twitty on Sept. 29 and Tillis on Sept. 30. These shows will feature only the stars in one-hour shows with no intermission.

Tickets may be purchased by writing Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Reservations will be processed in the order in which received and orders will be filled after August 1. Requests must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

weiser. The two-day schedule of events is reminiscent of a late 1800's roundup competition, upon which today's rodeos are based. The event emphasizes working ranch skills.

The Moorhouse Ranch, headquartered in Benjamin and Commandeered by J. C. "Togo" Moorhouse, will return to defend the title its ranch hands won last year. The Moorhouse team will face tough competition, not only from the 12 other ranches which competed last year, but also from new-comers-hands from the Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie.

In addition to the Moorhouse and Four Sixes Ranches, other participation ranches include R. A. Brown Ranch, Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch, Lewis Ranches, Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., Scharbauer Ranches, Renderbrook-Spade Ranch, Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co., Tongue River Ranch Corporation, U Lazy S Ranch, and the W. T. Waggoner Estate.

In combination, these ranches sprawl over an area half the size of New Jersey, some 2.5 million acres of Texas ranch land.

The "best ranch in Texas" battle isn't based solely on the grit and gumption of the cowboys in the arena. A ranch queen contest, a talent contest, and a ranch cookin' contest also figure into the final tally, since they mean additional points for ranches winning these events and additional color! Texana for spectators.

The roundup opens Friday, August 19, with the performance at 7:30 p.m. Teams of cowboys from each ranch will compete in saddle bronc riding, team roping, team branding, wild cow milking, team penning and a wild horse race. The dance at 9 p.m. features Mountain Smoke.

On Saturday, jackpot roping and barrel racing, two events outside regular competition, will begin at 8 a.m. A ranch food cookoff, the talent contest, and the ranch queen contest are featured Saturday afternoon before the final roundup events that evening at 7:30 p.m. The Mountain Smoke band will again perform at a dance Saturday at 9 p.m.

Points will be awarded to ranch teams in each event and tallied to determine the best ranch, while team members from each ranch will cast top hand votes for individuals from competing ranches. The winning ranch will rake home a traveling trophy, a bronze sculpture by Lex Graham. The top hand will receive a hand-tooled saddle.

Fair Catalogues Being Distributed

More than 6,000 catalogs outlining premiums and other details of the 66th annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair here September 24-October 1 are being distributed by mail throughout the region this week.

General manager Steve L. Lewis said the catalogs are being sent to interested parties across the South Plains, eastern New Mexico and portions of the Panhandle and Permian Basin.

More than $80,000 in premiums again are being offered by the non-profit fair association this year, an all-time record, Lewis said.

Roundup tickets are as follows: reserved seats $7.50, general admission, $3.00. Tickets to the dances are $6.00 per person each evening, and tickets to the Saturday afternoon contests are $3.00 general admission.

Tickets will be available at Wichita Western World, The Cow Lot, Holts Sporting Goods, Cruse Western Wear and Cuttys, all in Wichita Falls; Hughes Western Wear in Vernon, and Frontier Western Wear in Bowie.

Proceeds from the 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup will benefit the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls; the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene; and the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo.

Texas Poultry Sales Down In 1982

Texas ranks sixth in the nation in poultry and egg production, bringing in a gross income of $482.7 million to the state, according to 1982 statistics.

That income, however, represents a 9 percent decrease from 1981, mainly because of a 30 percent decrease in turkey production, says Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Poultry income fell in the United States by about 4 percent.

Major poultry items included in the Texas statistics are eggs, broilers, turkeys and chickens. Eggs grossed $179 million; broilers, $258 million; turkeys, $40.6 million; and farm chickens, $5 million.

Texas dropped to the eighth state in broiler income last year and fell to eleventh place in turkey production and income. The state had only 3.2 percent of the national gross income from turkeys last year, says Mellor.

Texas eggs sold for an average price of 69 cents a dozen in 1982 while broilers averaged 29 cents per pound live weight and turkeys sold for 39 cents a pound live weight.

As far as per capita consumption of poultry and eggs is concerned, Americans ate only 263 eggs last year, the lowest number ever, Mellor notes. Each American also consumed 11 pounds of turkey and 49.5 pounds of broilers.

Further-processed meat consumption was up in '82, leading to increased use of broilers and turkeys, adds Mellor.

The wages of sin have been reduced very little.

Addition of a dairy goat show has helped keep the premium total at the record level. The show, scheduled September 24-25, will feature junior and senior does and is sanctioned by the American Dairy Goat Association for Alpine, Nubian and all other purebred breeds.

As well as listing complete information on premiums, the catalogs contain data on the stage shows booked for Fair Park Coliseum during the eight-day run.

Shows for opening and closing days have not yet been booked, Lewis said, but will be announced as soon as arrangements are finalized.

Lubbock's Maines Brothers and Reba McEntire will co-headline a pair of shows at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Sept. 26 and will be on the only show involving two acts.

The other shows, all slated for one-hour performances with no intermission, include Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band, June 27; Ronnie Milsap, Sept. 28; Conway Twitty, Sept. 29; Mel Tillis, Sept. 30. All of the latter shows are set for 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. daily.

Tickets for all shows are priced at $7 and $9 and may be obtained by writing Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Requests will be filled in the order in which received and tickets will be mailed to purchasers after August 1. Mail order reservations must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Financially Speaking

Randall L. Field, C.P.A.
Williams, Adair, Sudduth & Co.

Particularly around April 15, people come to the conclusion they need more deductions. Aside from observing that there is no 100% tax, increasing your allowable deductions can be best accomplished by converting non-deductible expenditures into business deductions. The key hurdle here is to convince the IRS that your new business is not your old hobby in disguise.

How do they determine if your business is really a hobby? The Internal Revenue Service defines a hobby as "activity not engaged in for profit".

There are several relevant factors the IRS will look at to determine whether or not you are deducting losses on a "hobby." The following list does not include all the factors which may be considered:

1. Does the taxpayer deduct the activity in a businesslike manner and does he maintain complete and accurate books and records on the activity?
2. Does the taxpayer or his advisors have expertise in this field? If the taxpayer or his advisors neither have the expertise nor express an intent to learn about the activity, there may not be a profit motive.

3. How much time and effort are expended by the taxpayer on the activity?

4. Is there a reasonable expectation that the business will be profitable or that the assets will appreciate, allowing for an overall profit?

5. Has the taxpayer been successful in carrying on similar activities in the past which he converted from unprofitable to profitable operations?

6. Have the losses in this activity continued beyond the normal period of time to bring such an operation into profitable status?

7. Are the occasional profits in relation to the losses and total investment realistic?

8. Does the taxpayer have substantial income from sources other than this activity? Such sources may indicate that this activity is not for profit.

9. Is this the type of activity that has elements of personal pleasure or recreation or does the lack of these elements leave the appeal strictly for a profit?

Your accountant can help you determine at what point your "hobby losses" change to "business losses."

AIDS Syndrome Discussed By Health Department

The Journal has recently received an exclusive publication from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services written by John A. Daeley, Regional Director of Region VI in Dallas. Due to the concern and fear surrounding the Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS), the Journal is reprinting the article in its complete form.

"My subject this month is about a disease which has two names. One name is AIDS: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. The other name is FEAR. Not concern. Not CAUTION, but unreasoned and unsubstantiated FEAR."

"My first concern is that all of us might be confronted with an unnecessary and unjustified level of fear, if misunderstanding of AIDS is allowed to grow. That fear could hamper our efforts to understand and conquer this disease, and to care for its victims."

"My purpose is to provide you with some facts about AIDS. The facts alone are an antidote to fear. The facts are telling us, more and more clearly, not that AIDS is spreading throughout our population, but, to the contrary, that the risk of AIDS is confined to identifiable factors. For the overwhelming majority of Americans, there appears to be little or no risk of falling victim to AIDS. In particular, through normal, daily social contacts."

"Perhaps if I share some of the research into AIDS that the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) is performing, it will help correct false information about AIDS that may have reached your community, and, it may help assure you of the absolute commitment of HHS to finding a cure for this cruel disease."

"The Department of HHS considers AIDS its number one health priority."

"AIDS attacks young, productive people and it kills 80 percent of its victims within two years of diagnosis. It destroys the

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres seems baffled about the computer age.

Dear editor: According to some scientists, we have entered the computer age and the nation that builds the biggest and fastest computer will come out on top. They never say on top of what.

There are a handful of computers now that can perform several hundred million operations per second, but scientists say that's not fast enough. "We have problems that would take 500 to 1,000 hours to solve even on those fast computers," they said.

I have no idea how a person can have a problem that enormous, and if I had one I'd keep it to myself. There'd certainly be no point in taking it before Congress. Might be a matter for the Red Cross.

Nonetheless, U.S. scientists are hard at work trying to build a computer that'll work 1,000 times faster than the best ones already on hand.

At the same time, Japan, Russia and a few other countries are doing the same thing. Scientists say whoever gets there first wins and the rest will be at the winner's mercy.

I have a notion that regardless of how big and fast a computer anybody builds, it still won't be able to solve the Mid-East problem or give a clear picture of what's happening in El Salvador or lower the deficit.

The trouble with a computer is that people begin relying on it, turn all their information over to it, and then it blows a gasket. Recently the Stockholm stock exchange was thrown into turmoil when its computer broke down and nobody could buy or sell any stock. Anybody who had stock to sell had to use a classified ad.

But my favorite computer story happened when a company in California sent out 12,000 letters to its customers. The computer got confused while addressing the letters and sent all 12,000 to the same person.

I look forward to the day when one person gets 41 million duns from the IRS and the rest of us get off tax-free.

body's ability to fight infection, and there is no known path of recovery once the immune system has been attacked. For this reason, our battle will not be short or easy."

"Ninety-four percent of the reported cases in the nation have occurred in people belonging to one or more of four groups: homosexual or bisexual males with multiple sex partners; intravenous drug abusers; recent entrants from Haiti; and, persons with hemophilia."

"We are learning how the disease is spread, and we are finding that there is no indication that AIDS can be transmitted through casual, everyday contacts. Apparently, only the most intimate contact can transmit AIDS. There have been some occurrences in people who do not actually belong to one of the high risk groups, but many of these cases are women who are sexual partners of men with AIDS, or at high risk of AIDS. Others, tragically, have been babies born to those women, or to women who are abusers of intravenous drugs."

"Still, we can state that the disease is spread almost entirely through sexual contact; through sharing of needles by drug abusers; and, less commonly, through blood or blood products, including transmission in-utero. But, as we said, there should be no cause for fear among the public that they may develop AIDS through casual contact with an AIDS patient or through blood transfusions."

"These findings are crucial and it is very important that Americans understand them. The findings are also reassuring, because even while AIDS is frightening for those at risk, we can say with confidence that the vast majority of Americans are not at risk in their day-to-day activities, even in dealing with AIDS victims. An important indicator of this fact is that no health personnel who have been dealing with the disease have contracted it. If it were easily transmitted, like flu, we would certainly expect some cases among health workers, but this has not occurred."

"Public Health Service researchers, as well as those in the major medical institutions of this country, are engaged in a non-stop pursuit to identify the cause of AIDS so that effective treatment and prevention measures can be developed. The Department of HHS intends to direct its efforts toward every possible avenue to finding the answer to AIDS."

"Meantime, we have enabled AIDS victims to become eligible for Social Security Disability benefits. And, HHS Secretary Margaret Heckler has ordered establishment of a new AIDS Information Hotline in Washington to help spread accurate, timely information to the public. In addition, the Public Health Service has established an AIDS INFORMATION BULLETIN, updated every two weeks, which provides the latest scientific information on AIDS. The bulletin will be made available to the public, to the appropriate medical personnel, and to state and local health officials across the country."

"I can assure you that HHS intends to aggressively pursue efforts to discover the cause, the most effective treatment, and the prevention of AIDS. We are doing all that is humanly possible to stop this killer."

Information For Veterans

The Veterans Administration provides many benefits for veterans with vision impaired as a result of military service.

Those benefits include vocational rehabilitation, disability compensation, specially adapted housing and other housing grants.

The VA's Vocational Rehabilitation program provides vision-impaired veterans with counseling on the effects of their disabilities, training for such aids as laser canes, large-print readers and other technical devices. The program can assist the veteran by providing retraining assistance to obtain necessary skills for a new career. Eligible veterans receive a monthly subsistence allowance while VA pays the costs of required training.

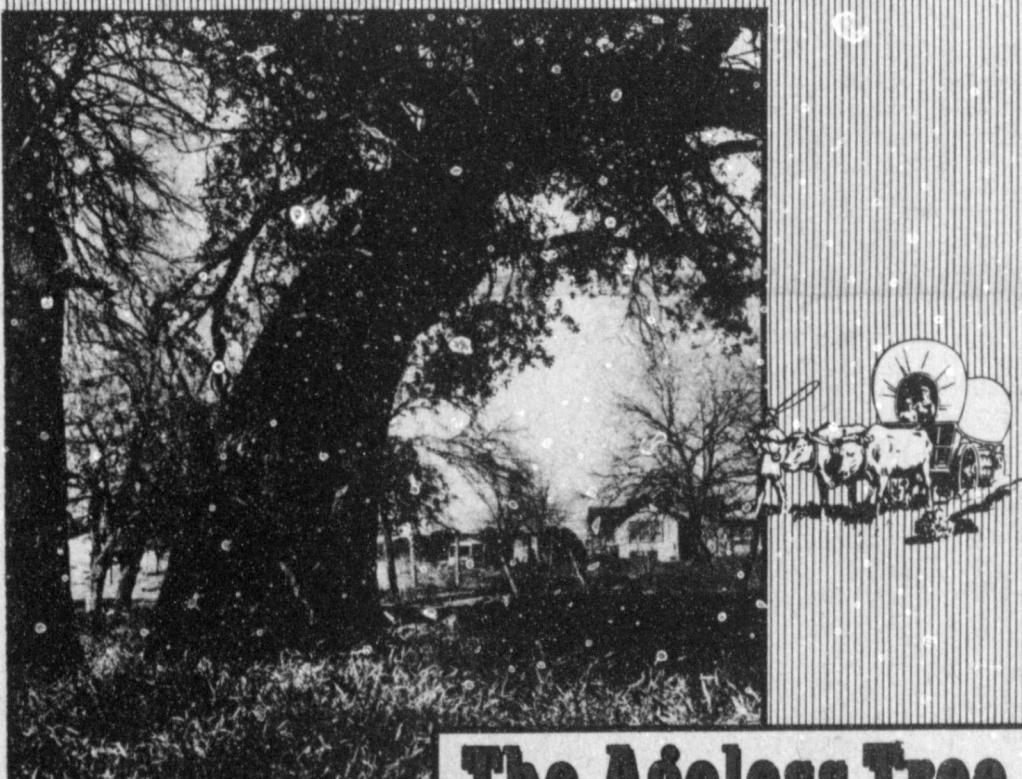

A vision-impaired veteran may receive monthly disability compensation. The amount of the payment is based on severity of vision loss. For example, the payment for 60 percent loss is $443 a month. A veteran with only light perception in both eyes and who has lost, or lost the use of, one foot may receive a VA grant of up to $32,500, or half the cost of a home specially adapted for his or her needs.

Persons interested in further benefits information may write, visit or telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in their local telephone directory under "Veterans Administration" or "U.S. Government." A VA Counselor will respond.

The Ageless Tree

This mighty oak is a striking symbol to man of the majestic permanence of God's creation. Its long roots are deep within the earth; the wide, strong trunk giving support to the upper limbs and branches. How old this tree is no one can say for certain... the first settlers perhaps rested in its shade during their journey across the land. Scores of years later some man put the fence, once taut with wire; but now rotten and sagging. The small house is now the pride of a family; but soon it too will crumble and fall. This is the way with all material things that we build. They are but passing features upon the land. The great wealth, the fame and fortune we so desperately strive for, like the fence and the house will soon turn to dust and ashes.

It is only by growing our roots deep in the faith of God that we shall be able to endure as this mighty tree. Begin now to plant the seed that will mean everlasting life. Attend the church of your choice this Sunday... and take your family.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IS EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by using his strength. Without this grounding in the love of God, no movement on society or way of life will long preserve and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should be grounded and persuaded in the Church because and because the more people are grounded and persuaded, the more the Church will be able to do for the world which alone will see him free to live as a child of God.
