

Tips On Effectively Recruiting Volunteers

COLLEGE STATION-Effective recruitment of volunteers includes planning and organization.

"Basically, recruiting should be aimed at individuals or groups that are willing to help a program in some way," points out C. R. Salmon of Bryan, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

(Volunteers play a vital part in the 4-H program conducted by the Extension Service.)

"Successful volunteer recruitment is linked to successful public relations," says Salmon. "The volunteers must know about the program, understand and value it, and see a place for themselves in it."

Salmon suggests three preliminaries that should be worked out before asking for volunteer help: a clear definition of the roles of the volunteer, an understanding of why volunteers are needed, and a job description that clarifies assignments but does not stifle individual initiative.

The 4-H specialist outlines a number of proven methods for volunteer recruitment:

1. Use a personal phone call to make a date to see a possible volunteer. A home visit is usually more effective than meeting somewhere else.

2. Use hand-written notes for increased effectiveness.

3. Have a personal friend or acquaintance of the prospective volunteer approach him on a one-to-one basis about volunteering.

4. Sign up the volunteer immediately to make him feel wanted.

5. Try to get the group needing volunteers to recruit them directly.

6. Know the right time to ask people to volunteer.

7. Involve the potential volunteer in the activity without mentioning commitment.

8. Use a personal follow-up when volunteer work is over. This is crucial in attracting and keeping the volunteer.

9. Encourage volunteers to express their needs, interests and expectations.

10. Give volunteers a variety of jobs to choose from.

11. Provide an orientation to help volunteers get used to the job.

"Making sure that volunteers feel wanted and being flexible to meet their needs are two important considerations in dealing with volunteers," notes Salmon.

Grain Producers Propose Marketing, Planting Plan

Twenty-four percent of the 1981-82 supply of corn and sorghum will not be sold during the current marketing year, according to present estimates. Depressed prices are the result.

"Anytime the total supply of grain exceeds the known demand by 10 percent, prices plunge rapidly with each added 5 percent of expected carryover," according to Mabry Foreman, president of Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA). "When the grain buyers know they can buy all the grain they want, any day of the year, there is no competitive bidding and prices will crash to the bottom (which is usually the level of the government loans on that commodity.)"

Foreman added, "When the supply situation is out of balance, the problem is compounded with high interest rates and threatened trade restrictions." GSPA estimates a net loss of $1.44 per hundred pounds or a total of $745 million to U.S. grain sorghum producers on their 1981 crop.

"Working together for a common goal is the only way farmers will have to improve their current economic situation," Foreman continued. In a regional meeting of the Plains GSPA in Amarillo on January 5, GSPA county and district directors agreed that if prices are to improve significantly in the near future, that:

1. All grain producers throughout the nation must uniformly restrict their sales to the amount the market demands and is willing to pay for each month, and
2. Cut the 1982 production by the amount of expected carryover at the end of the 1981/82 marketing year.

To help achieve this goal farmers would be encouraged to use the Farmer Held Reserve and the government loan program to assist them in removing their grain from the market. At the same time, total plantings must be reduced by at least 20 percent in 1982, while pushing to expand the worldwide sales of U. S. feed grains.

GSPA has asked USDA to establish a minimum diversion program of 20 percent for all feed grains this year.

With target and loan levels set far below the cost of production, all farmers must work together in their total marketing program if they want to achieve the prices necessary to pay the cost of production and a fair profit. Three million farmers competing against each other results in low prices and bankrupt farmers.

GSPA seeks the opinions of producers, elevators and agricultural financial institutions in developing a marketing program that will coordinate and achieve the above goals.

Reversible applique, drug and food interaction and using an electric skillet will be the three topics covered on "The Creative Woman" on January 19th and the 23rd.

Susan Wright, Extension Clothing Specialist with New Mexico State University, Cooperative Extension Service, will demonstrate how to do reversible applique using the sewing machine. Ms. Wright will show how to choose patterns for the applique, the types of fabrics most suitable to this type of technique and discuss the steps involved.

In discussing "Drug and Food Interaction," Mrs. Alma Goolsby, Extension Health Leader, Roswell, explains that a drug may be a foreign substance given by a doctor to a patient to alleviate disease or improve health, or it might be any chemical agent that affects living matter. Drugs may also be normal substances of the body, such as potassium salts, thyroid hormone or estrogens, etc.

Mrs. Goolsby will explain the effects of drugs on foods or nutrients, talk about the proper time for taking drugs, and the effects of foods and nutrients on drugs.

We are much for peace as anyone but no nation ever won abiding peace by cowardice or surrender.

Mrs. Goolsby will also explain how to protect yourself against a harmful drug interaction and how to prevent undesirable food-drug interaction. A very informative booklet will explain the possible effect of combining various drugs with different foods and liquids and this will be available to viewers. A "Prescription Checklist" is included in this booklet and Mrs. Goolsby will be explaining the use of this on the program.

Another guest on the show will be Connie Moyers, Home Service Advisor for Southwestern Public Service Co., Clovis, and she will talk about saving energy using an electric skillet -- an appliance many people take for granted. She will talk about features to consider when buying an electric skillet and discuss use and care tips. In conclusion, Mrs. Moyers will prepare Taco Stir-fry and will share the recipe with viewers in a Public Service booklet entitled "Portable Medley, Past and Present."

"The Creative Woman" is seen on Channel 3 at 12:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and at 2 p.m. on Saturdays. The show is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. Viewers outside Portales can request copies of printed materials by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone numbers. These are: New Mexico 1-800-432-2361 and Texas: 1-800-545-2359. Portales and Roosevelt County viewers are asked to call 562-2112. All callers should call during the week between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Music in history

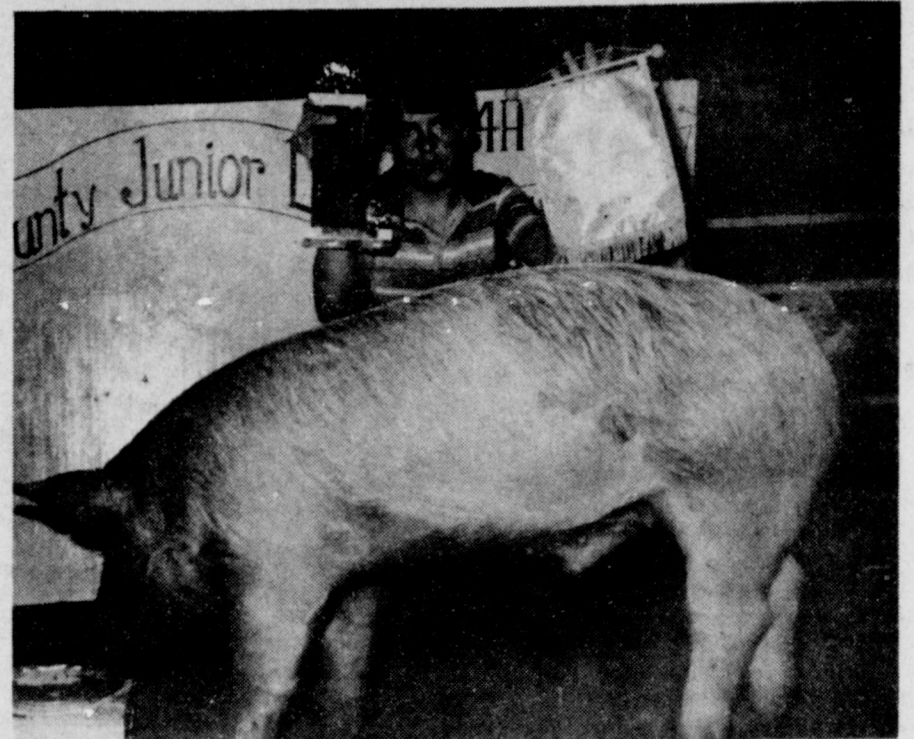

Music is helping students at The University of Texas learn more about American history.

Dr. Howard Miller in an experimental history course, Music in American Culture, uses music to help illustrate the broader currents in American culture.

Dr. Miller frequently punctuates his lectures with the popular music of a period -- the music by which Americans went to war, music that fueled reform movements, music that reflects the changing role of women.

In his view, the use of music in a history class helps students better retain the points of a lecture.

did you know?

SPS is investigating numerous ways of producing electricity in the future. Supplemental energy studies are being conducted in generating electricity through solar, wind, nuclear fusion, burning waste products for fuel, and the liquefaction and gasification of coal.

Jack Payne, Working Foreman, Artesia.

Standard-life lightbulbs conserve more electric energy than long-life bulbs and give the most light for your dollar. Higher wattage incandescent bulbs are usually more efficient than smaller wattage bulbs. For instance, you get more light from one 100-watt bulb than from two 50-watt bulbs. Additional energy and money-saving tips are available from your SPS office.

Doris Jones, Senior Clerk, Canyon.

SPS builds coal-fired power plants for less than half the average utility industry cost. Coal-fired Harrington Station was designed and engineered by SPS employees and built at a cost of about $300 per kilowatt, substantially less than the nearly $1,000 per kilowatt that other utilities spend for construction of coal-fired facilities.

Billy Hammers, Maintenance Foreman, Amarillo.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

'Milk' Still A Consumer
All Time Best Buy

COLLEGE STATION---- Drinking less milk these days because its price is higher? If so, then you are losing money -- not to mention nutrients, says Mary K. Sweeten, a food and nutrition specialist.

Even with today's higher prices -- and what isn't more expensive? -- milk alone offers greater amounts of calcium, protein and other nutrients than many other foods combined, no matter how many you eat, she says.

For that reason, milk still ranks among consumer all-time best buys, the specialist says.

Sweeten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

For example, to get the all-important nutrient calcium, consumers can turn to dark leafy greens, of course, but it would take enormous quantities to provide just one day's requirement for adults, Sweeten explains.

Two glasses of milk (eight ounces each) provide the calcium an adult needs. Or eight ounces of cheese, yogurt or cottage cheese will do the same, she says.

Calcium is not the only benefit, though. At the same time, those two glasses of milk provide a significant amount of the high-quality protein you need every day.

In addition, the two glasses are a good source of the vitamin A you need every day (if the milk is "whole" or "fortified"), and they're a good source of the vitamin D needed daily.

Also, two glasses of milk are a good source of the riboflavin needed daily -- along with lesser amounts of other vitamins.

There's more: milk supplies phosphorus, potassium, magnesium, sodium, zinc, copper, iodine and other trace elements.

Milk also contributes carbohydrates (lactose or milk sugar) and fat (in whole or low-fat varieties) used for energy, Sweeten says.

Is there anything milk doesn't provide?

Milk is low in vitamin C, iron and fiber content, the specialist says. But, other food groups, such as fruits and vegetables, bread and cereals, along with the meat-group foods balance out the daily diet, she adds.

Experts predict rise in reports of Tyzzer's disease

COLLEGE STATION -- State diagnostic experts predict a rise in the reported cases of a rare but deadly disease among newborn horses -- not because the bacteria-caused sickness is spreading but because veterinarians will become more adept at spotting it.

Tyzzer's disease left nine foals dead statewide this past spring, the largest outbreak in Texas since the infection was first identified 17 years ago in Kentucky, said Dr. Larry Jones, head of pathology at the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University.

Jones emphasized, however, that the number of cases was small (usually one per herd) compared to the hundreds of mares which produced foals last year on large horse breeding farms across Texas. Breeding farms are the only apparent link among the dead foals.

Tyzzer's disease, he explained, usually affects a foal in the first two months of life and can kill so rapidly by damaging the liver that some animals were discovered dead after appearing normal only a few hours before.

Courtesy is enjoyable, even when steering an automobile. Try it, and see how you feel.

FEBRUARY DATE SET--Mr. and Mrs. Jake Andringa announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Laura, to Ricky Kennemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Kennemer. A February 14 wedding at the Muleshoe Church of Christ is being planned. The bride is a junior at Muleshoe High School and is a DECA student employed by Muleshoe Publishing Company. Kennemer is a 1979 graduate of Muleshoe High School and is employed at Muleshoe Auto Parts.

Highways, water
high on value list

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) -- Maintaining highways and insuring adequate water are the two tasks of state government that Texans value most, according to a recent University of Texas survey.

Conducted for UT's Institute for Constructive Capitalism, the survey interviewed 2,041 persons and found that:

- More than 70 per cent favored passing laws to limit foreign ownership of Texas land and business.
- 84.3 per cent opposed a personal income tax.
- 72.2 per cent thought tax benefits should be given to firms and persons who use solar, wind or similar alternative energy sources.

Pass-Through Securities Offered

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Special) - The Federal National Mortgage Association has announced that it is offering $250 million in guaranteed mortgage pass-through securities, the first phase of a program which FNMA Chairman David O. Maxwell said "ultimately will become a multi-billion dollar source of funds for housing."

The securities, with a pass-through rate of 8 1/2 percent, are offered at a price of 62.25 plus accrued interest. They are backed by seasoned fixed-rate (9 to 11 percent) conventional mortgages purchased by Fannie Mae from savings and loans, banks and other institutions.

Certificates have a minimum denomination of $25,000, and are being sold to investors by an underwriting syndicate jointly managed by Salomon Brothers Inc; A. G. Becker Incorporated; The First Boston Corp.; Goldman, Sachs & Co.; and Merrill Lynch White Weld Capital Markets Group.

Fannie Mae issued commitments to purchase the low-rate loans at a recent special auction. The corporation received 106 bids totalling $366.1 million from lenders nationwide.

Maxwell said the corporation will open the mortgage-backed securities program early next year to new conventional mortgages originated by lenders around the country. By converting home mortgages into uniform and liquid investments, the securities are designed to attract investors such as pension funds which have not traditionally invested in housing. This will increase the supply of mortgage money to the housing market, he said.

Maxwell noted that the special auction served the dual purpose of providing a large pool of loans to back the securities for this initial offering, and of enabling lenders to convert older loans into much needed liquidity which can support new mortgage originations.

Maxwell said Fannie Mae modeled its conventional mortgage-backed securities program after the successful program through which the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA), an agency of the U. S. government, guarantees securities backed by FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgages. ANFA securities have provided $125 billion in financing for such government-backed loans.

Fannie Mae's new security provides a similar financing vehicle for conventional (non-government backed) mortgages, which account for 80 percent of existing home loans.

Fannie Mae will issue pass-through certificates, backed by minimum $1 million pools of loans packaged by local lenders, and guarantee investors the full and timely payment of interest and principal. The lenders who originate the loan pools will market the securities either through securities dealers or directly to investors.

In addition to enabling lending institutions to tap new sources of funds to finance their mortgage originations, the FNMA securities program will enable them to lock in income from the "spread" or difference, between the pass-through rate and the rate of the underlying mortgages.

Maxwell said, "We expect Fannie Mae's mortgage-backed securities program to become one of the major sources of conventional mortgage funds. It will enable lenders to tap the capital markets on a continuing basis, thus stabilizing the mortgage and housing markets. And, because it will provide ongoing income for mortgage originators, the program should also help restore health and stability to the nation's home finance system."

Texas Wheat Record Crop

AUSTIN--Texas wheat farmers are looking at the largest crop ever produced in the state--8.2 million acres with the current prospects of a harvest of 205 million bushels, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

The projection for the record 1981 harvest in Texas extends also to the U.S. total crop, now forecast at 2.13 billion bushels.

"As of December 20, the wheat crop is off to a good start with 76 percent assessed as in good to excellent condition by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service," Brown said.

Recent cold temperatures should help reduce damage from greenbugs and other insects.

About 39 percent of the wheat acreage in the Panhandle is providing good grazing for cattle. Five acres of wheat pasture will carry a 400-pound calf through the fall grazing season this year, compared with eight acres a year ago.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Sub-freezing temperatures, sleet and snow slowed the pace of state government this week, but the inclement weather didn't stop the political scene from continuing to heat up.

Austin's bad weather forced the state offices to shut down for a day, but Gov. Bill Clements and other political contenders didn't take a day off.

Clements, the first Republican governor in Texas since Reconstruction, has let it be known that he intends to make things as difficult as possible for his Democratic challengers. The GOP incumbent says those Democrats—who will be going to the "same trough" for funds—will find it very hard to raise enough money to combat his high name identification level.

On the other hand, the governor says his record in office, favorable rating in the polls and long list of supporters and contributors will make it easy for him to raise the money he needs.

The prospect of a hard fought Democratic primary, however, hasn't kept Clements' Democratic opponents from continuing their attacks on him.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, who is challenging Attorney General Mark White and Tylet Sen. Peyton McKnight for a chance to tackle Clements, has criticized the governor's stand on the recent Texas Employment Commission firing.

Armstrong says Clements was wrong in praising the layoffs. He says the cuts "will not serve the interests of this state."

Campaign Announcements
Meanwhile, a number of the state's lawmakers and leading officeholders were officially announcing their plans to seek re-election.

State Sens. Kent Caperton of Bryan and Ed Howard of Texarkana, both Democrats, have announced they will seek another term in their present positions. Howard is a member of the Sunset Advisory Commission, which will review the Public Utility Commission in 1983, while Caperton was a staunch supporter for more stringent radioactive waste regulations during the 1981 session.

Others announcing their candidacies for re-election included Reps. Irma Rangel of Kingsville, Gary Thompson of Abilene and Bo Crawford of Beaumont.

Longview Republican Mike Martin, who still faces felony charges for alleged lying to a Travis County grand jury, has paid his filing fee to seek a second term in the Texas House. Martin goes to trial on aggravated perjury charges in April in Fredericksburg.

Land commissioner candidate Garry Mauro and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, both Democrats, also have paid their filing fees. Hobby's GOP opponent, former Secretary of State George Strake, meanwhile, has picked up the endorsement of the National Alliance of Senior Citizens, Inc., which reportedly found Hobby "lacking" in leadership.

Gas Deregulation
Gov. Clements joined Lt. Gov. Treen in urging President Reagan to move swiftly to lift the remaining price controls on natural gas.

Following a meeting with Reagan at the White House, the two governors reported that they were optimistic that Reagan would move "aggressively" to end controls. Texas Sens. Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower, however, have indicated it will be difficult to lift the regulations without passing a windfall profits tax similar to the one imposed on oil.

Before his trip to Washington, D.C., Clements told Austin reporters he opposed any windfall profits tax on gas.

More TEC Layoffs
The Texas Employment Commission has decided that 500 employees—not the expected 400—will have to go in the latest round of layoffs which become effective Jan. 31.

Those cuts are among some 1,300 employees expected to get their pink slips because of federal budget cuts in job placement programs. TEC says the cuts will be done on the basis of seniority, and one TEC spokeswoman says she narrowly escaped with her job, which she has had since 1977.

The commission, meanwhile, gave its remaining employees more bad news with the announcement that the budget cuts will be harsher than expected, possibly requiring the closure of another 10 to 15 regional job placement offices. Some 59 of those local offices already are being shut down.

Home Care Project
In one piece of good news, the Reagan administration announced that Texas will receive $2.2 million to conduct pilot projects aimed at helping both welfare recipients and elderly and disabled Texans.

The program is being funded by the federal Health Care Financing Administration and will use mothers receiving payments under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program to provide home care services to elderly and disabled persons who otherwise could not afford them.

The women will receive training and minimum wage for their work, while the elderly and disabled will receive services that will enable them to remain in their own homes rather than moving to institutions.

Attorney General's Race
A dozen East Texas prosecutors have endorsed former U.S. Attorney John Hannah of Tyler in his bid for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

The district attorneys, led by Nacogdoches County District Attorney Herbert Hancock, say Hannah's experience as a district attorney, state representative and U.S. attorney gives him "the best background possible for the office he seeks."

Hannah says his experience as a U.S. attorney has prepared him to represent state agencies and officials as the state's top legal officer.

Hannah faces former state senator and West Texas State University President Max Sherman in the Democratic primary.

Eules Sen. Bill Meier, a former Democrat, has announced as a GOP contender for the attorney general's post.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—During the last session several bills were passed which aim at protecting our children from abuse.

Senate Bill 242 sets up a requirement for dual reporting of child abuse cases. This means that cases must be reported to both a law enforcement agency and the Department of Human Resources. One agency contacted will make contact with the other agency.

In the past, reports were required to be given to only one of these. Thus, it was thought that in many cases there was no investigation and prosecution of child abuse cases because no law enforcement agency knew about them.

This reporting section of the bill also applies to juveniles who have repeatedly violated school attendance laws or run away from home.

Another important section of the bill allows for the issuance of a search warrant to photograph any child alleged to be the victim of injury, rape, or sexual abuse. A principal aim of this section is to identify suspected runaways.

Two other bills approach the child abuse problem from another angle. They both increase the penalties for crimes against children.

Senate Bill 126 makes aggravated rape of a child (under 14 years of age), aggravated sexual abuse of a child, and injury to a child resulting in serious bodily injury, disfigurement, mental impairment, etc., first class felonies. Indecency with a child is made a second degree felony.

House Bill 42 increases the penalty for the offense of sale or purchase of a child to a third degree felony, instead of a Class A misdemeanor. For a second conviction, this offense is made a second degree felony.

I believe that each of these bills will aid us in our

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Beginning on January 1, 1982, a new law became effective which requires all owners or operators of motor vehicles in Texas to carry automobile liability insurance on their vehicles.

This law requires motorists to carry liability insurance in at least the minimum amounts of $10,000 bodily injury coverage for one person injured in an accident, $20,000 for two or more persons injured, and $5,000 property damage coverage. Certain vehicles are exempt, and the law allows some persons to post a bond instead of purchasing insurance.

Moreover, I urge you to testify before the Select Committee on Child Abuse/Neglect and Child Pornography, if you have suggestions for curbing these crimes against children. This is an interim committee which I established to seek new methods of combatting child abuse. The Committee will be holding public hearings around the state during the next few months.

Wildfires Could Be Problem This Winter

LUFKIN-Wildfires could be a problem in Texas this winter, if Texans and the weather don't cooperate.

Lush vegetable growth--stimulated by ample summer precipitation--constitutes a significant fire hazard this winter, says Pat Ebarb. Ebarb is head of the Texas Forest Service Fire Control Department.

"How hot a winter fire season state firefighters will have depends greatly on how fire prevention minded Texans are and on how dry a winter we have," says Ebarb. "The fuel load is there."

According to the TFS fire control chief, many people don't realize how quickly vegetation can dry and become highly flammable during the winter months.

"A few days of dry, windy weather can quickly dry light, flashy fuels such as grass and leaves," he said. "The ground may still be damp, yet grass and leaves will often be dry enough to carry a fire."

Ebarb reported that TFS crews have fought some 1,900 fires which have burned almost 25,000 acres this year. Some 1,260 fires burned over 19,000 acres during the first three months of the year, a fact which Ebarb said points out the potential danger of the winter months. Higher fire danger doesn't have to translate into more wildfires. A look at TFS statistics reveals why.

Last year 48 percent of the wildfires TFS crews fought were attributed to careless trash and brush burning; another 11 percent to smoking and camping combined. The number of wildfires in Texas can be reduced dramatically if all Texans will simply observe some fire precautions suggested by the TFS spokesman.

Burn trash and other debris in covered trash burners. Stay with fires, until they are out. Clear a line down to bare mineral soil around material to be burned. Burn in the morning hours.

Sediment Tank, Screen Pay In Cattle Dipping

COLLEGE STATION--Removing settleable solids from a cattle dip solution can save money and also reduce pesticide disposal problems.

A recent study at two Texas Panhandle feedyards compared the use of two different size sedimentation tanks during dipping operations, explains Dr. James Sweeten, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

One 25,000-head feedyard used a 300-gallon tank with four compartments beside a 3,300-gallon dipping vat. The other feed-

The increase of 17 and 18-year-old girls smoking cigarettes coupled with the increase of teenage pregnancies, could lead to more health problems in Texas since smoking presents increased risks for pregnant women.

That's the opinion of Dr. Walter P. Peter Jr., Chief of the Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, Texas Department of Health.

According to information from the American Cancer Society, smoking is increasing faster among teenage girls than among teenage boys. Dr. Peter said. More boys actually smoke, but their percentage has remained fairly constant at around 30 percent, whereas 27 percent of the girls now smoke as compared to 22 percent in 1969.

Dr. Peter said approximately 1.5 million teenagers live in Texas. He said it is estimated from national surveys that 180,000 of these teenagers are unmarried, sexually active 15 to 19-year-olds at risk of pregnancy. In 1979 Texas teenagers gave birth to 47,764 infants, compared to 50,097 in 1980.

"Teenage mothers give birth to a high percentage of premature and low weight babies," Dr. Peter explained. "Smoking during pregnancy is associated with low birth weight babies, shortened gestations, and more frequent spontaneous abortions. So, we really have a compounded health problem."

Dr. Peter said the carbon monoxide in cigarette smoke not only gets into the mother's blood, but travels across the placenta to limit the amount of oxygen available to the developing fetus.

He said chances are increased that a child will come down with pneumonia or bronchitis in the first year of life if the mother smokes. Nicotine, a known toxic substance, is also found in the breast milk of nursing mothers who smoke, he said.

yard with a capacity of 40,000 head had a 5,000-gallon dipping vat and used a 975-gallon sedimentation tank with two chambers. This feedyard also used a Hydrasieve static screen during dipping to remove coarse solids from the pesticide dip.

With the first unit operating at flow rates of 25 to 66 gpm (gallons per minute) for 36 to 100 minutes, from 13 to 57 pounds of dry matter were removed per dipping.

The second unit operating at 44 to 125 gpm for 44 to 333 minutes removed 42 to 122 pounds of dry matter.

Sweeten suggests a number of conclusions from the study. First of all, sedimentation tanks must be used at least four hours per 1,000 head of cattle dipped to be effective in removing solids from the pesticide.

For increased effectiveness, pesticide material should flow slowly enough or the sedimentation tank should be large enough to provide an average detention time of at least five to eight minutes.

Using a sedimentation tank, the number of cattle dipped per vat recharge increased an average of 99 percent at one feedyard and 154 percent at the other.

Use of a Hydrasieve and sedimentation tank together gave a four-fold increase in the number of cattle dipped per vat recharge.

As far as pesticide disposal is concerned, sedimentation tanks alone reduced by 50 to 62 percent the amount of pesticide material to be disposed of. When combined with the Hydrasieve, the amount of pesticide solution to be disposed of was reduced 72 to 84 percent to only 0.2 gallons per head.

And what about the cost-effectiveness of this system? With estimated savings of 9 to 21 cents per head on pesticide, the money saved could pay for the system in a few months, points out Sweeten.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

In the South sweet potatoes are a traditional dish. However, it is gaining favor in all localities. There are many good recipes to choose from, but this is the one I use. If you have time these can be put in the orange cups making a colorful addition to your table. It also gives them an extra special flavor.

Sweet Potatoes

- 5 or 6 large sweet potatoes
- 1/2 c butter
- 1/4 c sugar
- 1/2 c milk
- 2 egg yolks
- 1/2 t nutmeg
- 1/2 c raisins

Boil sweet potatoes until tender. Drain and remove skin. Mash until free of lumps and add a half stick of butter and cream well. Place in a buttered casserole dish and bake at 350 degrees for 30-45 minutes or until set.

Meringue

Beat the two egg whites until stiff, adding 2 table-spoons sugar to an egg white. Place on top of cooked casserole and brown in oven.

Civilian Labor Force Expands

Texas civilian labor force increased by 40,000 from mid-October to mid-November as total unemployment took a rather large jump. As is typical for November, unemployment advanced as a large number of seasonal jobseekers entered the labor force. This surge of entrants into the labor force is the result of seasonal staffing patterns by merchants who usually are in need of seasonal and part-time workers for the Christmas shopping period.

Also contributing to the rise in total unemployment were a number of layoffs across Texas. Many of the layoffs were temporary as some manufacturers are operating three weeks and shutting down one week out of a month. This enables them to keep their employees working and also reduce their inventories. The layoffs also contributed to a decline in total employment in the State. A reduction of almost 22,000 persons was recorded in Statewide employment over the month.

The actual unemployment rate for Texas rose from 4.6 percent last month to 5.5 percent for November. The year-ago rate for November stood at 5.6 percent. The actual rate for the Nation was 7.9 percent for November. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 5.5 percent for Texas and 8.4 percent for the United States.

Among the major labor market areas in the State, almost all of them experienced an increase in their unemployment rates. San Angelo reported the lowest rate among the areas, with 3.6 percent unemployment. Bryan-College Station recorded a rate of 3.8 percent and was the only area to register a decline in unemployment over the month.

Other areas with low rates were Austin, 4.1 percent; Abilene, 4.3 percent; and Amarillo and Odessa, both at 4.5 percent. The highest rate within the major areas was 13.9 percent recorded in McAllen - Pharr - Edinburg. Brownsville - Harlingen - San Benito and Laredo were also at 10 percent or above.

Ronald Reagan, President:

"We stick with our tax program: We go forward with the reduction in tax rates, and I have no plans for increasing taxes in any way."

Homes or babies?

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A University of Texas urban planner, who believes many young couples postpone parenthood or decide not to have children in order to buy homes, has received a grant to study the impact of home ownership on families.

"People assume home ownership is good, but pursuit of home ownership is having an unrecognized impact on the way families are being created," says Dr. Dowell Myers.

He hopes to explore whether couples are delaying longer in having children and whether the trend started with the working class and moved up to richer people.

Texas in movies

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — "Giant" is the best-known Texas movie, says a University of Texas scholar who is writing a book about how films have shaped how Texas is perceived.

After "Giant," says Dr. Don Graham of the English Department, non-Texans thought of Texas as immense, flat and dry, and of Texans as wealthy cattlemen or oilmen. In his opinion, Texas is more identifiable than other states because of movies made about it. Texas "specialness" in films goes back to the early 20th Century, he reports, with movies such as "Fall of the Alamo" (1910) and "Martyrs of the Alamo" (1915).

Crime -- perhaps the most persistent and troublesome problem facing Texans -- is under attack. Launching a new educational program in crime prevention is the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System.

"Since preventing crime is the role of every good citizen, the new program will focus on actions that can be taken by both individuals and organized groups to reduce crime in their neighborhoods and communities," points out Dr. J. Fred Cross of Stephenville, community development specialist and chairman of the Extension Crime Prevention Task Force.

The Extension Crime Prevention Program will focus on the following six areas: vandalism prevention, home security, farm security, personal protection, neighborhood and community watch and prevention of con games and other frauds.

County Extension Agents will be providing leadership in conducting local programs aimed at crime prevention, says Cross. Local law enforcement officials also will be involved. Each program area is supported by visual aids and handout materials that have been developed with assistance from the Texas Crime Prevention Institute.

"Anyone interested in learning more about this new educational program should contact their local county Extension agent," adds Cross. "The programs are available to any group wanting to learn more about crime prevention."

People who accept invitations should sometimes send them out.
