New State Property Tax Laws Affect All Taxpayers

For the first time, Texas taxpayers will be able to use the initiative and referendum process to call an election to limit to eight percent the amount of tax increase by any taxing unit. This means that only 10 percent of the voting property owners is required to call an election on a tax increase. This law in essence, is the same law that voters in the State of California fought for and eventually got passed into law under the heading of Proposition 13.

Significant changes in property tax laws which affect every taxpayer in the state occurred January 1. That is when full implementation of the Texas Property Tax Code took effect.

Dale Jones, Chief appraiser for the Bailey County Appraisal District, announced today that one of the changes involves the establishment of a central appraisal office in each county. The local office is located at 104 East Avenue C in Muleshoe and will be responsible for appraising all property and reporting those values to each taxing unit in the district. Some other changes that directly affect property owners include: All applications for exemptions, open-space land and agricultural valuation will be handled by the chief appraiser of the appraisal district. Rendition forms and reports of decreased value will be directed to the chief appraiser, also. No longer will these need to be filed with every taxing unit in which the property is located.

An Appraisal Review Board will serve as a single equalization board for all taxing units in the appraisal district. Unlike the board of equalization of prior years, the Appraisal Cont. Page 6, Col. 6

National Ag Day Celebrated March 18

Texas agriculture is the single largest multiplier of income in the state, with over $30 billion annually added to the economy. It leads the nation in total numbers of cattle, sheep and goats.

Texas agriculture leads the nation in total mohair, wool and cotton production and is in the top four states in total fresh vegetable production and harvest.

All told, Texas ranks third in the nation in total agricultural production.

Texas agriculture is top in exports, ranking fourth in the nation with over $2 billion annually. Cotton is the number one export item with other major commodities sold to foreign countries, including feed grains, mohair, rice and several fruits and vegetables.

Combining technological advances with determined will, Texas farmers and ranchers will continue to help Texas agriculture remain a leader in the nation and in the world.

Commissioner of Agriculture Reagan V. Brown has stated that in connection with Ag Day in Texas, citizens have the obligation of educating shoppers about costs involved in getting the food from the farm to the shelves and also of other factors that enable consumers to have a steady supply of food at the lowest cost among industrial nations.

Many individual and organizations have put forth much effort in order to join in celebration of Ag Day in Texas.

Brown has stated that as we enter into the planting and harvesting season on March 18, 1982, we must work much harder to gain the support that farmers and ranchers deserve.

Everyone is having to watch their budgets, and people see the rise in food prices first because they shop every week.

Science, Math Classes Offered This Summer

Harold Horne, superintendent of the Muleshoe Schools, announces that a Summer Enrichment Program in science and math will be offered this summer for students now enrolled in grades five, six and seven.

This program will begin on Monday, June 15 and continue for a period of three weeks. Classes will be for two hours each day and will be designed for the average and above average students. A variety of activities will be offered so that students may choose projects or that will be geared to the student's ability while making classes a fun thing. Field trips will be utilized as much as possible. Even though grades and home work will not be given, these enrichment courses will appear on the student's permanent record.

Teachers have been secured and students will pay $20 tuition for each course and a maximum of 15 students will be allowed in each class. Students may sign up at the principal's offices and Mary DeShazo Elementary and Muleshoe Junior High. Enrollment will be based on a first come, first serve basis.

Terms of three board members expire this year, Marvin Mimms, Jerry Don Glover and Darrell Mason.

Two of the incumbents did not choose to seek reelection. Marvin Mimms who has served the Lazbuddie ISD for nine years and Jerry Don Glover who has served for six years. Darrell Mason is a candidate for his second term as a board member. Other candidates are: Bobby Redwine, Phil Brockman, Gary Coker and Robert Ivy. There are five candidates running for three places.

WIFE Ag Survey Compares Figures

Under the direction of National WIFE president, June Saylor, a local WIFE member, Shirley Bean has researched and compiled a Bailey County agricultural financial survey. Upon completion of her research, Bean then compared the compiled figures to those on record with the Department of Statistics in Austin, finding that they compared favorably. The following statements contain the findings of this survey.

The cotton bale count for Bailey County in 1980 reached 43,000, with an average bale weighing 480 pounds. This brings the total weight to 20,640,000 pounds. According to 1981 USDA average prices (of which use was required) the average price was 53.9 per pound. Using these USDA figures the total value of Bailey County cotton crop in 1980 was $11,124,960.

The average parity price for cotton would have been $1.17, which would have brought the value of production to $24,148,800. The difference between actual USDA average price and the average parity production cost on cotton is a whopping $13,023,840--all of which means that Bailey County farmers sold their 1980 cotton crop for $13,023,840 less than parity. (Most area farmers actually received 34 cents to 35 cents per pound for their cotton.)

Corn production in the county in 1980 totaled 4,140,000 bushels with an average USDA price per bushel of $2.27, yielding a $9,397,800 total value. Average parity price for corn would have been $4.14 and the value of production at that price would have reached $17,139,600. This is a $7,741,800 difference in the actual average price and the average parity price for corn--another undersold crop for Bailey County farmers.

Grain sorghum production in 1980 for Bailey County yielded 446,600 cwt. at $3.90 per cwt. for a total value of $1,741,740. Cont. Page 6, Col. 1.

CHECK PRESENTED--Jessie Robinson, vice president of Llano Estacado Civic Club, presented a check Tuesday night to the Muleshoe Ag Boosters designated to be used to help replace stolen animals for FFA members. President of the Boosters, Bill Harmon, and Vo Ag Instructor Carl Wheeler accept the contribution in honor of Tamara Gilliland.

Ag Boosters Receive Replacement Checks

The Muleshoe Ag Boosters met March 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school ag department.

President Bill Harmon and Vo Ag Instructor Carl Wheeler accepted a check in the amount of $50 presented by the Llano Estacado Civic Club to be used to replace animals stolen from FFA members. The check was given in the honor of Tamara Gilliland, who lost two sheep shortly before the Houston Show.

A donation from Darrell Jennings of Lazbuddie was also accepted to be used to replace stolen animals. The Boosters also received a thank you from Tamara Gilliland for $125 given her for animal replacement.

Also up for discussion was the April 20 Parent-Member FFA banquet. The speaker this year will be Bill Caraway from Clovis. Caraway is a high school student at Clovis and is the farm and ranch director for KMCC-TV.

A report was given by the treasurer on the funds received from the Bailey County Livestock Show and the cheese and skating projects. Fruit that has been ordered should be in by March 19 or 20.

Ag Boosters will sponsor skating on April 9, Friday, from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Coliseum.

"AGRICULTURE: It's your heartbeat, America..."

Agriculture is vital to our nation's economy and society, the healthy, productive and stable food and fiber system that is in the direct personal interest of every American.

On Agriculture Day, March 18, 1982, the story of what agriculture means to the nation, every day, is retold, reminding us of the strength of this industry. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Don Kidd of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Wedel of Muleshoe.

Decorations included altar candles, brass candelabra with 14 peach tapers and a Bible in the center. Flower arrangements of peach colored silk daisies, lilies and a variety of other spring flowers arranged in cut glass urns flanked the altar.

Vocal as well as organ and piano selections were by Tom Stampfli. Musical selections included "Edelweiss," "Follow Me," by John Dinver and "Revised Wedding March" written by Stampfli. He also sang "Take My Life and Let it Be."

The Chantilly lace skirt gathered to a fitted waist with lace cascading to points over a ruffled, tiered skirt of silk illusion which belled in layers over a hoop petticoat of ruffles and satin.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion flowed from a tiara of pearls. The bride's dress was complimented by hand cut crystal beads that belonged to her maternal grandmother. She also wore a concealed diamond butterfly, a gift from her father.

Her ensemble was completed with a white garter. She wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of peach colored spring flowers accented with illusion from her veil, lace from her garter and streamers of peach colored ribbon tied in love knots.

Mrs. Brenda Kay Werley, cousin of the bride, of Lubbock, served as matron of honor. Groomsman was Keith Rempe of Wichita Falls.

Matt Phelps of Muleshoe was a candlelighter. Ushers were John Jones of Friona, Wes Hukill of Farwell and Matt Phelps of Muleshoe.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lubbock Club. Mrs. J. W. Mitchell registered the guests. Those serving included Mrs. Bill Webster, Mrs. John Sims, Mrs. Don Bearden, Dru Vowell, Vicki Kuicaushar and Martha Norris.

The Creative Woman

BY SHERYL BORDEN

Topics to be covered on "The Creative Woman" show this week include using the food processor, pattern alterations, tax tip information and learning how to have more hours in the day.

Almost every household now has a food processor, but many people still don't get full use from them. Connie Moyers, Consumer Service Representative for SPS in Clovis, stresses how important it is to keep our major small electrical appliances out so we can make better use of them. Connie will also discuss buying features and will demonstrate the many uses of a food processor.

Have you ever asked yourself "Where does the time go?" A special guest on the show will be Sharon Gresham from Arch, N.M. and she will discuss time management as it relates to our everyday tasks. She will cover such things as daily scheduling, house-keeping hints, home organization and other time management principles.

Another guest, Linda Mullin, County Extension Agent from Muleshoe, will discuss pattern alterations for dealing with a swab-back. The same technique will apply for pants as well as skirt patterns.

To conclude the show, Jimmy Webb, CPA with the firm of Holloman, Woodard, Widener and Webb in Clovis, will talk more about Individual Retirement Accounts and income averaging. He will talk about some things we can still do for 1981 in terms of filing our income tax returns.

These topics will be shown on KENW-TV on March 23 and 27 on Channel 3. "The Creative Woman" show is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden for KENW-TV. "The Creative Woman" is seen on Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m. and on Saturdays at 2 p.m. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. Average parity price for sorghum was $8.20 which would bring $3,662,120, value of production. Another large difference between price and parity of $1,920,380.

Bailey County produced a total of 42,000 bushels of soybeans sold at an average USDA price of $5.93 per bushel for a total value of $249,060. If these soybeans had sold at average parity price of $12.40 per bushel, the value of production at this price would have been $520,800 -- a difference of $271,740 that Bailey County farmers did not receive for their soybeans.

He and his wife, Charletta, have four children, all of whom were educated in Parmer County Schools.

Treider is currently a construction foreman, who, if elected, plans on devoting his efforts, fulltime, to his county's business.

He served Parmer County as a commissioner after filling a vacancy left by George Crane in 1966. Treider was then re-elected to his post for two additional terms, thus serving the residents of Parmer County for a total of nine years.

"If I am elected, I will devote my entire time to serving the people of Parmer County, and specifically those in Precinct Four. I feel that my prior service to the county denotes that I am well qualified to carry on the important matters regarding all who live in Parmer County," said Treider.

"I will appreciate your vote and influence in the upcoming election in the May Primary," he added.

In 1980, wheat production in Bailey County reached 933,000 bushels. At $3.65 (1981 average price) per bushel, the total value of wheat was $3,624,450. Using the 1981 parity price average of $7.07, the value of production would have been $7,020,510. The difference between the total value and parity price for wheat being $3,396,060.

Livestock in Bailey County in 1980 reached a total of 51,000 head. Figuring on an average weight of 400 pounds per head, the county produced 20,400,000 pounds. The average price per pound for 1981 was 64 cents which would make the total value reach $13,056,000. The average parity price for livestock would have been $1.25 per pound, causing the value of production at parity on livestock to have reached $25,500,000. Livestock production in Bailey County suffered a $25,444,000 deficit in the difference between average and parity prices.

The figures should speak for themselves and each producer can draw his own conclusions. By using the total value for average prices and the value of production at parity prices, a difference of $38,797,820 is evident between the two.

Sources of information regarding this article includes the 1980 Texas Field Crop Statistics and Bailey County Agricultural Statistics. It should be kept in mind that 1981 prices averages and 1980 production figures were used in compiling this report.

He averaged 51 percent from the free throw line, hitting 17 of his 35 attempts. Jeff had 82 rebounds, fouled 30 times and turned the ball over 33 times.

Arnett Baeza, a junior, played in 21 games and averaged 1.6 points a game with a total of 33 points. He shot 15 of his 42 attempts from the field for an average of 36 percent and made three of his eight free throw attempts for a 37 percent average. Arnett rebounded 39 times, had 18 fouls and turned the ball over 15 times.

Freshman John Isaac played in four games, and hit at 33 percent, making three of his nine field goal attempts and one of the two free throw tries for 50 percent. He averaged 1.3 points each game. John rebounded 12 times, had seven fouls and only one turnover during the four games.

Throughout the season, although the Mules showed up on the minus side of the win column, they held their opponents to an average of 53 points a game, as opposition made only a total of 1439 points. While the Mules averaged 30 rebounds a game, they held their opposition to a 27 percent average in rebounding. Turnovers may have hurt the Mules, who turned the ball over 17 percent of the time, while the opposition only had a 16 percent average turnover.

Review Board is empowered to consider taxpayer appeals on a broad range of matters. These include appeals on the appraised value, exemptions, agricultural valuation, and situs.

One time application for homestead exemptions and open-space land valuation will be permitted for the first time in 1982. Annual application thereafter will no longer be required.

Although the vast majority of appraisal districts are fully operational, several have voted to postpone implementation until 1983 or 1984. Taxpayers should contact their local appraisal district to determine its status.

In those appraisal districts which have postponed operations, taxpayers would continue to file exemptions and agricultural valuation forms with each taxing unit as they have in the past.

Public Service Announcement
From Bailey County Appraisal and State Property Tax Board

Homeowners who are 65 years of age or older and failed to receive their school district homestead exemptions in 1979 have until April 1 of this year to do so. In this way, elderly homeowners will be able to take advantage of the tax freeze associated with the $10,000 homestead exemption, said Dale Jones, chief appraiser for the Bailey County Appraisal District.

According to a law passed by the Special Session of the 67th legislature, over-65 homeowners who qualified for the school homestead "tax freeze" in 1979, but did not apply for the limitation, may file an application with the chief appraiser of the appraisal district in which the home is located.

Application must be made with Dale Jones before April 1, 1982. To qualify for their tax limitation, on January 1, 1979 a homeowner must have satisfied these requirements:

- Be 65 years or older
- Own his home
- Use that home as his principal residence

The chief appraiser will consider all applications and notify each applicant before April 15, 1982. If the application is approved, the chief appraiser will make an entry on the appropriate school district's 1982 appraisal records.

This entry will indicate the amount of tax the over-65 taxpayer should have paid in 1979, had he been granted the $5,000 general homestead exemption and the $10,000 over-65 homestead exemption. No refunds of taxes paid will be given for 1979, 1980, or 1981.

For 1982, the taxpayer's amount of homestead taxes paid may not exceed the amount of taxes the school district would have imposed on the homestead for 1979, had the taxpayer been granted his homestead exemptions. This frozen tax amount will remain in effect as long as the homestead remains the same.

Little League Needs Help On Fields

Muleshoe Little League is in search of willing senior citizen volunteers to help with the maintenance of the Little League ball fields. Any volunteers who would be willing and would like to help with this project should notify Rev. Brock Sanders at 272-3229 as soon as possible.

This project is not limited to senior citizens; however, and anyone else who is willing to help would be appreciated.

Since the time for play is not far away, the fields need to be worked on to get them in condition for play by the time the season begins.

EDITORIAL Spring, 1982

On the 20th of March the hours of daylight will approximately equal those of night for the first time since September. Spring will begin in the northern hemisphere. It's a season awaited eagerly through the winter by many, perhaps the loveliest exhibition of nature during the year.

Spring means new life, which is evident all around us; it brings warmer weather, baseball, the approach of holidays, spring fever and taxes. As we witness the resurgence of nature's vital forces around us, we seem to feel beauty and hope represented therein.

Inexorable laws of nature continue their inevitable procession, year after year, inviting men and women to enjoy the delightful experience, to think about the fundamental purpose and cycle of life, death, and time.

From the 20th of March until September 23, six months hence, our days will be longer than night. They will be the warmest of the year, at the end of which we will once again welcome cooler air and brisk days--and be ready again for what nature has in store--in its annual cycle.

A Special Time to Salute the Industry That Means so Much to Our Nation

Agriculture Day Thursday, March 18, 1982

"AGRICULTURE: IT'S YOUR HEARTBEAT, AMERICA"

We're proud of the people who comprise the agricultural industry of our nation and we want to take this time to tell them "thanks!" On the occasion of American Agriculture Day, March 18, 1982, we hail those members of the agribusiness community who have made our country a leading agricultural nation and who are contributing daily to our lives and our economy. Congratulations on a job well done!

1981 Tax Law Makes Major Changes In Estate Planning

Not only did the 1981 Economic Recovery Tax Act (ERTA) provide some tax breaks to individuals and businesses but it also turned the estate planning world topsy-turvy.

Some 200 practitioners attending a recent Estate Planning Seminar here at Texas A&M University heard about the many changes brought about by ERTA and how these will affect their dealings with clients. The changes will drastically reduce federal estate taxes and the number of estate tax returns that will have to be filed.

A major change has been the establishment of a unified credit for estate and gift taxes, said Ben Hartley, legislation attorney for the Joint Committee on Taxation for the U. S. Congress. This unified credit is set at $225,000 for 1982 and increases each year until 1987 when it reaches its maximum of $600,000. This means that in 1987 and thereafter up to $600,000 in the form of cumulative gifts and bequests will be excluded from estate taxes.

Under the old law only $60,000 in property could be excluded from estate taxes and $30,000 (plus $3,000 per donee per year) from gift taxes. Now an individual can donate up to $10,000 a year ($20,000 if made jointly by a married couple) before having to pay gift taxes.

With the new law, Hartley estimated that only about .78 percent of all estates of decedents dying in 1987 in the U. S. will be taxable and that only 15,566 estates will have to file estate returns. In 1976 about 7.3 percent of all estates of decedents dying that year paid estate taxes and more than 139,000 estate tax returns were filed.

Hartley added that the maximum tax rate on taxable transfers of more than $5 million in an estate has also been reduced from 70 to 50 percent.

ERTA has also established an unlimited marital deduction as far as estate transfers between spouses are concerned. "Now you can leave everything to your surviving spouse tax-free," Hartley said. "Of course, somewhere down the line taxes will have to be paid when the property is passed on to children or others."

Seminar participants also were told that thorough financial planning is now more important than ever with the many tax changes. Mark Olson with Shearson-American Express of Amarillo said that "most people don't know what they want to do financially and don't know where they're going. People don't plan to fail, they fail to plan," he emphasized.

"That's where you come in. You have an obligation to your clients to help them put their financial matters in order," Olson said. "You need to understand a client's philosophies and what he wants to accomplish. You need to know all about him before you can make a recommendation that will help him with financial planning."

Olson pointed out that, for the most part, people neglect financial planning. "They plan ahead for a trip or to attend a meeting, but they don't plan on dying -- the one thing that is going to happen to all of us," he said.

Olson said that few individuals realize what it would take to provide their families with their present level of living should they suddenly be removed from the picture. For instance, someone with an annual income of $50,000 would need assets of $500,000 to provide that same $50,000 a year assuming a 10 percent return on investment. Total assets needed can be determined by dividing annual income by the assumed percent of return on investments, he noted.

Olson advocated a team approach to help individuals in financial planning. He said that accountants, attorneys, insurance professionals and financial planners all should work together in this effort.

Mike Breedlove, a certified life underwriter from Tyler, emphasized the need for estate planning for individuals to help them develop a pathway to financial success. "Estate planning can create certain benefits for individuals and can also conserve assets which an individual has already accumulated," he said.
