

STERLING CITY NEWS-RECORD

VOL. No. 66 "Since 1890" PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY AT STERLING CITY, TEXAS MARCH 29, 1957 No. 13

There have been several calls lately on how to control the white grub in lawns. The grub, the larvae of the May beetle is familiar to all with his white body and brown head.

Feeding on the roots and tender underground parts of plants and grass the grub is quite destructive in lawns and flower beds in the early spring. Signs of grub damage are dead spots in the lawn which may appear quite suddenly. If a small section of the dead grass is lifted up with a shovel, the grub can usually be found.

There are two types of control measures that can be used on the grub. Either a spray or a dust can be used; actually the dust is the easier to use. Use either wettable chlordane, dieldrin, aldrin or heptachlor. Of these, the chlordane and dieldrin are usually the easiest to purchase and do a good job. Use at least ten ounces of 40% chlordane or four ounces of 25% dieldrin per 1000 square feet of lawn space. Water the lawn thoroughly after applying the dust so that the dust will be carried down in a solution to the grubs.

If you prefer a spray, the same materials may be used by mixing with water. They should be applied at the rate of 25 gallons of spray per 1000 square feet. The spray should be mixed according to the directions on the container. One application of either dust or spray should be sufficient to control an infestation of grubs.

Chlorosis is a disease that affects many plants in this area. Some early plants such as roses are already showing the effects of chlorosis. Actually it is the result of an deficiency in the soil. The iron may be in the soil but it may not be available to the plants. This condition is usually found in a soil which is high in calcium, which the soil in this area is. The calcium and the phosphorus lock up the iron and an acid condition must be caused if the iron is to become available to the plants.

One of the best methods to bring about an acid condition of the soil is by the use of iron sulphate as it is commonly known. Treatment consists of punching holes about two feet deep around the plant. The holes should be about one half inch in diameter and can easily be made with a crowbar or any type of bar that makes a hole. Holes should be located far enough away from the plant that they will not hit a root. Fill the hole completely with the copperas. One or two treatments a year are usually sufficient.

A spray can be made by mixing one-fourth teaspoon of the copperas with a gallon of water. One teaspoonful of glue should be added as a sticking agent. Spray the plants late in the evening. This method does not last as long as the one using the hole and copperas.

A new publication, "Guide for Controlling Household Insects" is now available in the county agent's office. This bulletin contains the latest information on controlling all types of insects that might be found in the house or about the home.

For a number of years chlordane was the recognized insecticide to use on roaches. In the last year or two, a strain of roaches resistant to chlordane has been found. To control such insects, malathion is recommended. In order to keep the roaches from becoming resistant to chlordane it might be wise to use chlordane one time and malathion the next. The roach would not be able to build up a resistance if the insecticides were changed occasionally.

Farm families more than doubled the amount spent for food between 1923 and 1955. At the same time they decreased home production (in dollar terms) about one-third. Part of the increase is due to the increased use of more expensive foods, and the greater use of prepared and partially prepared foods.

Mrs. James Kelly Is Noratadata Hostess

Mrs. James Kelly was hostess Monday night when the members of the Noratadata Club met at the community center. A dessert course was served.

The business meeting was followed by a talk on "Current Events Concerning the American Indian" by Mrs. Foster S. Price.

Members present were Mrs. Martin C. Reed, Mrs. Ewing McEntire, Mrs. Nan Davis, Mrs. Delbert Haralson, Mrs. Ross Foster, Mrs. Price, Mrs. I. W. Terry, Mrs. Finis Westbrook, Mrs. Hubert Williams, Mrs. Bill Brooks, Mrs. Worth Durham, Mrs. J. S. Augustine, Mrs. Stanley Horwood and Mrs. Bill Cole. Two guests were present—Mrs. David Glass and Mrs. Trion Revell of Bellaire.

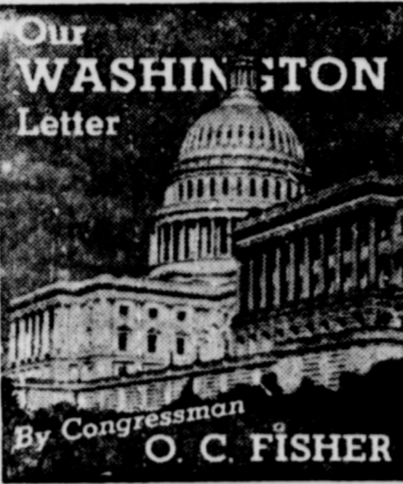

Books Presented to School Library

Mrs. R. P. Brown, chairman of the Sterling County Historical Survey Committee, on behalf of the Sons of the Republic of Texas, presented four books to the Sterling school this Monday. There were two sets of books, and copies were put in both the high school library and the seventh grade library.

The books were "Speeches, Responses and Essays" by Barker and "James Harper Starr" by John Nathan Craven. Both dealt with early Texas history.

Mrs. Brown made the presentation on behalf of the local historical committee and the state organization. School superintendent O. T. Jones gave Mrs. Brown a letter of thanks and appreciation which she sent to Joseph A. Blanton, President of the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

James Kelly, now with the Soil Conservation Service here, is going to Snyder early next month and will go to work for Ezell & Key as a sales representative. The company is a feed company, having the Purina Agency and also manufacture feed to custom order.

CAPITOL HILL continues to buzz about the budgets. And so last week another one of the 13 major appropriation bills that will be acted upon was approved, but with a half billion dollar reduction from budget estimates. It was a 5½-billion dollar bill.

That makes 5 out of the 13 already acted upon, and the total cuts up to now amount to $798,500,000. The $35 billion defense appropriation and the four and a half billion foreign aid bills will be acted upon a little later.

Thus, it now looks like the eventual reductions may run anywhere from two to five billion.

SPEAKING of the money bill acted upon last week, it included an item of $95 million for subsidizing public housing obligations that are outstanding. That serves as a good reminder of what it means for chickens to come home to roost. As a result of the Congress—over the protest of many of us—year in and year out authorizing more of these projects to be built at taxpayers' expense, we are called upon to pay more and more each year on the amortized obligations. And the amount increases each year as new projects are built and more obligations are added.

ORIGINALLY JUSTIFIED by sponsors as a way of providing housing for low-income and welfare families, Uncle Sam has now built about a half million units, making the Government the biggest of all landlords. Tenants pay only a fraction of the actual rental value of the public housing apartments they occupy.

Getting away from the original concept of helping the needy, it has been revealed that many of these projects are now occupied by families earning several thousand dollars annually. In debate last week, I cited an example of this: A housing project in Pittsburg is occupied 80% by steelworkers who earn more than $100 per week, while American taxpayers are, in effect, paying a sizeable part of their rent bills for them each week. We have registered vigorous protest against this kind of business.

RECENT VISITORS have included Mr. and Mrs. Max Eubanks of Santa Anna. Max is attending specialist courses at nearby Fort Belvoir, the Engineers' School, and will be assigned to a NIKE (guided missile) project after another five weeks of training.

Other visitors: James T. Livingstone of San Angelo; Lydia Thompson and Miss Jackie Starling of Brownwood; Jack Starling of San Angelo; Arthur Stehling and Norbert Fritz of Fredericksburg; Penrose Metcalf, H. F. Templeton of San Angelo; and Bill Gold, a Midshipman at Annapolis, of Brownwood.

22 IN RACE

There will be a special election over Texas next Tuesday, April 2, to name a United States Senator to fill out the term of Price Daniel who resigned and was elected governor of Texas. Twenty-two names of hopefuls are on the ballot.

Only One Voting Box Here
There will be only one voting box in Sterling County, said Judge G. C. Murrell this week. All voters will cast their ballot at the court house, he said. This combining the voting boxes will save the county money on holding the election.

The top three candidates (or so most observers believe) are Ralph Yarborough, Martin Dies and the Republican, Thad Hutcheson. The prognosticators give any one of those three a chance at the top spot. Others fairly well-known and who might make a good showing include James Hart, Senator Searcy Bracewell, and John White, the present Commissioner of Agriculture.

Others, who at least had enough money to file for a place on the ballot include Adams, Antoine, Banks, Bergolofsky, Burns, Currin, Foerster, Ford, Hammonds, Hill, McNutt, Orms, Willis and Wilson.

It is not expected to be an election that will bring a good turnout of voters. Under a million voters are expected to go to the polls. The Republicans claim over 300,000 voters and their candidate hopes to get in with that number due to so many Democrats in the race. Ralph Yarborough claims around a half million staunch supporters, but the race is so crowded, that anything can happen.

Whoever you are for—be sure to vote next Tuesday, April 2.

School Board Election Here April 6

There is to be a school board election here on April 6 for the purpose of electing two members to the Sterling School board. The two members whose terms are expiring are Delbert Haralson and Chesley McDonald.

Other members of the board whose terms do not expire this year are Worth B. Durham, R. T. Foster, Jr., John Copeland, David Glass, and Reynolds Foster.

Spaghetti Supper and Show Set for April 9

There will be a spaghetti supper and style show at the school on Tuesday night, April 9. The junior class is sponsoring the affair. The supper serving runs from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. and a program and style show follows at 7:30, said a class spokesman.

Clothes for the style show are being furnished by Brooks & Bailey. A program follows the style show, and a full evening's entertainment is promised by the juniors.

E. B. Hosea is class sponsor. Admission for the supper and program will be $1, it was said.

Car Inspection Coming Along Slowly

Only 51 per cent of the 926 vehicles registered in Sterling County have been inspected so far. This was the information put out by Johnny Marion with the State Department of Public Safety, this week. The 462 person yet to get their cars or trucks inspected, have until April 15 for a deadline, pointed out Marion.

There are two inspection stations in Sterling City—the R. T. Caperton Chevrolet Company and the Sterling Motor Company.

Motorists who fail to have the official sticker on their car windshields after that date are subject to a fine for failure to show the new sticker.

BREEZES FROM A WINDMILL FAN

By Milton Reed
Well, folks, I guess you'll start wondering about the name of this column. I'll tell you it took some crackpot thinking to be so original. The windmill is the one over on the northwest side of the court house plaza. Every now and then it blows some breezes down my way.

—O—
This column will probably be in most of the News-Record editions. I will try to be as original as possible in this column.

—O—
The Lions Club members were selling brooms and mops Wednesday for the Blind Shops Caravans. They sold about $440 worth of goods. About $110 will go to the Lions Club for use in their numerous community projects.

—O—
Arthur Barlemann, the county agent, has said he wants the 4-Hers interested in range and grass judging to see him soon. The grass judging team won a third place ribbon at San Angelo. The range judging team won a first place ribbon. There is a red ribbon, a white ribbon and a blue ribbon in the county agent's office. We all hope by the end of the district contest that there will be two more blue ribbons hanging in the office.

—O—
You know words of cheer can do a lot for the sick and shut-ins. It doesn't hurt to drop them a card once in a while. If you are short on greeting cards, I have plenty for only $1.25 a box.

—O—
I was at the Talent Show Tuesday night. It was sponsored by the Junior Class and I thoroughly enjoyed it. I was taking a few pictures of the different acts.

THAD HUTCHESON Says!

I believe — that States' Rights is a vital cornerstone in the American form of government. It keeps government close to home and in the hands of neighbors you know.

I believe — we can and MUST reduce cost of government. We must reduce and also put a limit on income taxes, and have a balanced budget based on an honest fiscal policy.

I believe — we must re-evaluate our entire foreign aid program with a reduction of expenditures and granting loans instead of direct donations.

THAD HUTCHESON

I believe — that all educational matters are best handled at state and local levels. I oppose the principle of Federal Aid to education.

I believe — that farmers and ranchers need immediate emergency relief through State and Federal partnership and long range, government backed, low interest credit.

I believe — we need new names and new faces in Texas politics. We must end political bossism and the recurring scandals. Only a strong Two-Party system will restore honesty and integrity to public offices.

Attends Library Section Meeting Last Week in Brownwood

"School libraries are growing by leaps and bounds with 1300 librarians since 1950," said Miss Lois Garver, Consultant of T.E.A., Austin, to 24 librarians of District XI TSTA at the Sectional meeting Friday at Jr. High School, where 270 registered to see the exhibits from the Brownwood and Brown County Schools. "School librarians are becoming and must become materials specialists, because of the need today of a variety of materials, non-book materials as well as library books, to supplement textbooks." The use of library materials and research were noted in all of the exhibits shown.

Mrs. Leona Shaffer, librarian from Sterling City, attended the meeting, held March 15.

WINDING UP PLANS for the Humble Oil & Refining company to support the Texas 4-H Tractor program for 1957 are (from left) W. I. Glass, state agriculture agent, Texas A. & M. College; J. W. Austin, manager, Humble wholesale sales; Kenneth H. Anderson, associate director, National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago. Humble will provide awards for 4-H members and will cooperate with the Extension Service in tractor events.

Humble Aids 4-H Tractor Project

The Texas 4-H Tractor program has a new sponsor of awards for 1957, according to an announcement made by Texas A & M College. The Humble Oil & Refining Company of Houston will furnish awards, educational materials, and technical assistance for conducting the tractor project in cooperation with the Extension Service.

The top national award for 4-H'ers this year will be a $400 college scholarship, an increase of $100 over last year. The state winner will receive an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December, while county champions will get a handsome gold-plated medal of honor.

In addition to furthering the objectives of the program which are based on safe and efficient tractor operation emphasizing care—not repair, Humble will cooperate with the Extension Service in special events such as district and state 4-H operators' contests. A gold watch will be given to the top three winners, and $20 in cash to each of the 12 district winners.

Highly important to the success of the program are the tractor clinics in which Humble will participate. It is here that more than 300 volunteer local 4-H Club leaders are trained annually. Now in its 13th year, the tractor project has benefited nearly half a million 4-H Club members in the 48 states. In Texas, 6,000 members enrolled in 1956.

The value of mechanical and practical know-how acquired by both members and leaders throughout the country is demonstrated in upgraded farm production and saving of time and money in tractor care and operation. The 4-H'ers themselves develop excellent citizenship and leadership qualities as well.

Humble's support of 4-H is not new. Providing calves for winners in the annual calf scramble during the Houston Fat Stock show has been a practice of the company for some time. They also purchase animals exhibited by the farm youth at fairs and shows. Interest in the education and welfare of rural youth and their families has long been a prime concern of the oil company. The 4-H Tractor program in New Mexico is also being supported by Humble.

Arrangements for providing awards and assistance in the program were worked out through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago. Detailed information can be obtained from the State or county extension office.
