A PACT FOR PAC--Congressman Kent Hance (left) and American Ag Movement National Chairman, Marvin Meek from Plainview, joined together Tuesday in a Lubbock rally to encourage area farmers, bankers and businessmen's support of the Farm Political Action Committee. Hance, along with several other Congressmen, has pledged his support to this action for aiding rural Americans.

Hance, Meek Speak At Lubbock Rally

Describing the farm Political Action Committee as the "Sunset Shot" National AAM Chairman Marvin Meek asked over 700 farmers, bankers and businessmen's PAC support at a Lubbock meeting Tuesday night. Officials have set a goal of $3 million by August in anticipation of changes being made by harvest time. Meek said that over $150,000 is now in the PAC fund with approximately $350,000 in outstanding pledges. In the Amarillo rally Monday, Meek, along with U. S. Representative Jack High-tower, raised about $20,000 for the Political Action Committee.

Kent Hance, in an early press conference, told members of the media that "if President Reagan is serious about balancing the budget, he needs to get on our program. If he doesn't, the people will go with someone who will. This is one of the main objectives of PAC. To get the attention of the Congressmen and people who will listen or who know about your farm problems. If they won't listen, then get someone who will. The PAC will enable farmers to be heard and to have bargaining power." Hance stated that since the 1965 farm bill, every farm bill since has gotten progressively worse. "This present farm bill is the worst in U. S. History and will cost the government more money than ever before," he said.

Believing that it is a mistake to give all of the power to the Secretary of Agriculture, who is described as a man who won't get out with the people, Hance, along with many other farm belt Congressmen, formed a "Farm Crisis Group" about three weeks ago; and have formulated a plan of action which works toward three goals: First - get the administration to implement the provisions in the current farm bill. If they don't... Step 2: Introduce a new farm bill with a larger set

'Hall of Fame' Dedication Saturday

On Saturday, April 17, the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center will induct six women into the Hall of Fame in Hereford. These six are the 1982 Western Heritage honorees. Cowgirl honorees will be inducted in August and have not yet been named.

p.m. at 515 Avenue B in Hereford, Texas. There will be an open house following the dedication.

Dr. Lauro Cavazos, president of Texas Tech University is scheduled to deliver the dedicatory address.

The six honorees scheduled for induction Saturday are listed as follows, with a short biographical note of her accomplishments.

Margaret 'Peg' Coe is credited with preserving western heritage in the Northwest, where she has promoted western and Indian art in her beloved Buffalo Bill Center in Cody, Wyoming. If there had been no Peg Coe, the center would not be one of our nation's most renowned western American resources.

Eye Ball is from Ruidoso, New Mexico and came there from Kentucky via Kansas. She insisted on learning the history of the Anglo, Spanish and Indian upon her arrival in the Southwest. All three groups found Miss Ball to be trusted as she diligently sought to preserve their heritage on the printed page. Her research led to history books and her books which are now textbooks are used in universities in the U. S. and also as far away as Cambridge.

Another inductee is Sallie Reynolds Matthews, now deceased, from Albany, Texas. She did something that few of our ancestors did... she recorded the vivid life that she, her family and others experienced on the Texas frontier. In 1936, her remembrances became a book entitled 'Interwoven'. It is a glowing account of the strong and fearless women who civilized the frontier.

Louise Massey, from Roswell, New Mexico is known as a western songstress and composer, and started her performing career in 1928. The Smith-

Crucial Decision Faces Grain, Cotton Producers

COLLEGE STATION--- One of the most crucial and immediate decisions facing grain and cotton producers is whether to participate in the acreage reduction program announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, says an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Dr. Ron Knutson explains that American agriculture has again entered a period of surplus production -- at least temporarily -- and the Reagan Administration has responded to these conditions by announcing production controls on all major grains and cotton.

"The 1982 farm program requires that cotton, wheat and rice producers reduce their planted acreage by 15 percent and feed grain growers reduce planted acreage by 10 percent," Knutson says.

He points out that farmers who choose not to participate won't have access to any of the farm program benefits.

"They will have to fend for themselves in the marketplace," Knutson says.

Many Texas farmers and ranchers have already planted their wheat or prepared their land for planting sorghum, rice, corn or cotton -- and in southern parts of the state some of these crops have been planted. The initial "gut" reaction of these producers is likely to be not to participate, Knutson says.

"Producers will find that if they analyze and compute the acreage reduction decision on a crop-by-crop and farm-by-farm basis, there are net benefits from participation," Knutson explains.

He points out that an economic decision on acreage reduction involves weighing the costs of reduction against the benefits.

Costs of participation include the income foregone from the reduced acreage, any costs that have already been sunk into the reduced acres, and maintenance costs. In regard to wheat, for example, any returns from grazing out or making hay on the reduced acreage should be subtracted from these costs, Knutson says. Benefits of taking part in the acreage reduction program include potential deficiency payments, access to the farmer-owned reserve and access to the non-recourse loan, Knutson adds.

"These benefits could run as high as 14 cents per pound for cotton, 95 cents per bushel for wheat, 50 cents per bushel for corn, 91 cents per hundred-weight for grain sorghum and $2.71 per hundred-weight for rice, Knutson says.

Whether farmers realize these maximum benefits, however, depends on market conditions and grower access to the farmer-owned reserve.

"Even if they realize only 50 percent of the benefits, many Texas farmers and ranchers will find participation will increase their profits," Knutson added.

UPS Hearings Set In Dallas

The Railroad Commission has approved the request of United Parcel Service to hold six of the scheduled eight weeks of hearings on its application in Dallas. The other two weeks will be held in Austin.

UPS told the Commission it would need eight weeks to present the testimony of some 300 witnesses who support UPS's application for authority to transport small packages within Texas.

The first two weeks of testimony, beginning May 11, will be presented in Austin by company personnel and public witnesses who reside in the area. The hearing then will move to Dallas, convening on June 1 and running four days a week through July 15, where all remaining testimony on behalf of the UPS application will be heard.

In its request for the Dallas site, UPS said that Dallas transportation facilities and accommodations make it the most convenient location for the many witnesses scheduled to testify.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

By April Rhodes

Do your cast iron utensils need to be re-seasoned? Coat them with unsalted fat and heat in a slow oven for one to two hours.

Have you ever wondered what to do with those extra golf tees? Glue them upside in a box--they make good thread holders.

Spring is cleanup time. Clean dresser drawers and discard all unusable objects that cause clutter and make room for useful objects.

It's nasturtium planting time again. They make colorful beds or borders. Remember to plant them in your least fertile soil for abundant blooms.

Let April be your cancer checkup month. No one is immune to the disease, so don't forget to have a check-up during this month.

They Sure Do!

A farmer was explaining to a city woman what a menace insects were to farm products--how potato bugs ruin potato crops and corn borers destroy corn. The woman listened attentively, then exclaimed: "And the poor dairy people! How the butterflies must bother them!"

Use a colorful plastic foam egg carton for planting early seeds. Put soil in each egg cup and plant one or two seeds in the cup. The egg carton makes an attractive window container.

Equalize the wear of bed sheets by reversing the top and bottom hems every other week.

Instead of frosting a cake, serve the cake with fresh or canned fruit and enjoy the natural cake flavor.

An energy-efficient electric water heater can save you money when installed close to the point of use. And, since the heater is glass-lined and fully-insulated, it keeps water hot longer. You can reduce the amount of water your household uses by filling the dishwasher to capacity before turning it on or by using the short cycle. Using your clothes washer only when you have a full load and taking showers rather than baths also can save money on water and electric bills.

Don Pemberton, Consumer Services Representative, Lubbock.

Keeping track of the amount of electricity your family uses is easy when you know how to read your own electric meter. Many customers are confused by the four or five dials they see on the meter, yet reading the meter is not difficult and may help you budget for your monthly electric bill even before it arrives. For complete instructions on reading your meter, check the back of the envelope your electric bill comes in or contact your local SPS office for the free booklet "Reading Your Meter."

 aside and loan supports. Step 3 includes the stressing of the White House Conference on Agriculture. Hance stated that he "failed to see why anyone could be against this."

The Congressman encouraged support of the political action committee since it is vital to the farm issues. Without it, Hance said, "You don't get the doors opened to you." He vowed to give his full support to the PAC as well as personal contributions, as have other farm legislators.

Hance encouraged the assemblage to "Hang in there, and don't give up. If we can't turn the situation around one way, we try another tack. The quicker these PAC funds are made available, the quicker we will start getting some action." He indicated every confidence in the Martin Haley Company, who will handle the distribution and management of the PAC funds. Richard H. White, vice president of the Martin Haley Company, was on hand also for the rally and told the group that the "Farm bill can be re-opened with enough political muster . . . The PAC is the vehicle for this action." White also stated that "Farm survival in America is a political matter, only a political matter and no other kind of matter," paraphrasing the slogan on the PAC contribution pledges.

Farmers have been asked to contribute a $1 per acre if possible. However, Meek stressed that "no amount is insignificant."

Nursing Exam Date Changed To April 19

A vocational nursing pre-entrance examination at South Plains College will be administered April 19, rather than April 16 as originally announced.

Exam time is 9 a.m. in the SPC Student Assistance Center (located on the third floor of the College Library), and fee is $4.

The Nelson-Denny reading test also will be given in conjunction with the vocational nursing exam, said Keith Bratton, SPC chief examiner. Complete information on three references and copy of high school diploma or GED certificate are required. Interviews with LVN personnel also will be scheduled at the completion of the day-long exam.

For testing information, contact Bratton; for information on SPC's vocational nursing program, contact SPC, 1400 College Avenue, Levelland, Texas 79336 or (806) 894-9611.

Meek left the group with what has become the watch word for the AAM and PAC "If it is to be, it is up to us to do it," thirteen small words that say it all. There is no other way, Meek said, than the one we are pursuing. "I wish it weren't so, but we are playing in their ball park and will have to fight fire with fire, so to speak."

Many farmers and businessmen made their pledges as they left the meeting Tuesday night.

Hazardous Wastes Decision Not For Texas

Austin, Texas -- The Environmental Protection Agency's decision recently to allow disposal of containerized liquid hazardous wastes in landfills for 90 days has no force and effect in Texas, a spokesman for the Texas Department of Water Resources said today.

Since 1976, the Department has required that hazardous liquid wastes or semi-liquid wastes be physically or chemically mixed with a suitable amount of inert absorbent such as clay-rich soil or cement kiln dust before the material could be placed in a permitted hazardous waste landfill.

Ana, on Nov. 19, 1981, a Department rule previously adopted by the agency's policy making body, the Texas Water Development Board, took effect prohibiting the disposal of drums or barrels of liquid hazardous waste or waste containing free liquids in landfills.

Since federal law specifically authorizes states to adopt and enforce more stringent requirements, the recent action by EPA does not affect landfills in Texas.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor: Muleshoe parents and the school system can be very proud of their band. I feel like they are a credit to their community. I was standing behind them at Furr's Cafeteria where they ate and from what I saw, they were well mannered, well behaved and courteous. They also looked very distinguished in their black blazers and white pants.

Even though I am not from Muleshoe, I wanted to express my thoughts on the superb kids of the Muleshoe Junior High Band.

Stamp Fraud Suspended

Half the food retailers checked by Agriculture Department investigators each year accept food stamps in return for ineligible items, according to the department's Office of Inspector General.

Thomas Burke, assistant inspector general for investigations, said 2,000 of 4,000 retailers checked last year were found to have made ineligible sales. About 1,800 of them were suspended from participation in the food stamp program for periods between 30 days and three years.

"If we would look at more (of the 230,000 retailers nationwide), it would probably be the same level," Burke told the House Appropriations agriculture subcommittee.

USDA Inspector General John Graziano also said the program used by retailers to redeem food stamp coupons is being redesigned to eliminate nearly $22 million in redemption discrepancies last year.

Graziano said the Federal Reserve System, which disposes of used food stamps after they're redeemed, reported getting $16 million a month more in used coupons last year than retailers told USDA they turned over.

Burke said the ineligible sales uncovered by the USDA compliance staff run from soap to television sets with no estimate on their value nationwide. Food stamps, used by some 7.6 million households at a cost of more than $11 billion a year, can be exchanged only for consumable food items.

Seventh Grade Tracksters Finish Successful Year

Seventh grade girl's track coach, Nanette Soto is proud of the job her girls have done this year. The team placed second in district competition, losing by one point to Littlefield. As district competition is as far as junior high sports can go, this is quite an accomplishment.

Coach Soto has prepared the following rundown on each of her girls this year and would like for them to know that she is proud of them and the work they have done.

Debbie Isaac is one of the most versatile tracksters on the team. She runs the first leg of the 400 meter, the 800 meter and the 1600 meter relays. She averages about 12.5 in the 100 meter; 3.15 in the 200 and 7.1 in the 400 meter. She participates in the triple jump and the high jump.

Genie Lopez is an athlete with talent in both sprints and long distance running. She runs the second leg of the 400 meter and the 800 meter relays.

Lisa Black runs the third leg of the 400 and 800 meter relays. She has shown a lot of talent and potential, but has been plagued this year with leg problems. Lisa runs the 100 yard dash and participates in the long and triple jumps.

Shannon Pelton is a versatile, hard-working athlete. She runs the anchor of the 400, 800 and 1600 meter relays. She set a new school record in the long jump with a 14'9" jump. She places well in the triple jump and has really done her part this season.

Jana Brown runs the third leg of the mile relay and the 400 meter dash. She has also participated in the 400 relay and 200 dash. Jana is a strong runner with a lot of potential and is expected to really progress with the coming years.

Pam Ibarra is equally good in distance and sprinting. She runs the 200 and 400 dashes and has also run the 1320. Her "never say die" attitude makes her a strong contender.

Kathy Horn is a strong girl and not afraid of the hard work it takes. She runs the 200 and 400 meter dashes. She is and will continue to be an asset to any team she is with.

Tisha Cox strives hard for excellence, is talented and enthusiastic. She runs the second leg of the 1600 meter relay with an average time of 73.0. She runs the 200 dash in 30.0 and participates in the long jump.

Jeraldean Lewis runs the 100 yard dash and averages 13.5. With continued work on endurance and strength, her speed will increase as her time decreases.

Latrece Barrett is a ready and willing worker. She participates in the shot high jump and 100 m. hurdles. She shows a great deal of promise in the short and high jumps.

Shannon Crozier participates in the 100 m. low hurdles with the best time this season being 21.28. She has the makings to become a top-notch hurdler and does not shirk on effort.

Maggie Navejar runs the 1320 yard run, and has trained extensively this season. Her average time for this event is 5:02.18 and she has placed in the top five in two out of three meets.

Susan Mendoza runs the 1320 also and is strong on endurance. She averages 4:48 and has placed in the top five in two out of three meets.

Mary Jane Recio is the third entrant in the 1320 run and is a strong runner. She is likely to become an excellent distance runner with time and some work.

Casey King is an exceptional athlete and does a good job in any sport. While she has not been too active in track, she has participated in tennis and gymnastics extensively this year. In the meets she attended, she ran the second leg of the 400 meter relay, the 100 yard dash and the 100 m. low hurdles.

Iris Lopez is an extensive trainer and runs the distance well. She is dedicated and will continue to gain speed and endurance given time.

Norma Castorena runs the 800 meter and has done a fine job this year, running in the top five at each of the three meets attended.

Linda Recio is in the 800 m. run. She works hard and is diligent. Her potential should improve with each coming year.

Leah Bell has been a strong contender in field events, placing well in the shot and discus. She set a new school record in the discus with 71'4", surpassing the old record of 68'5". She is a strong contender and should improve in strength and form by the
