City Cuts Summer Water Rates

Summer Water Rates In Effect in City Now

The Sterling City Council Monday night put into effect cheaper water rates which is quite a bit cheaper after the first five thousand gallons used. The minimum is still $3.50 for the first three thousand and or fraction thereof. The next two thousand gallons are at the rate of 50c (compared to 75c) and all over 5,000 gallons will be charged out at 40c per 1,000 gallons, said the city secretary, Mrs. Johnnie Donaldson.

The summer watering rates are already in effect, running from July 20 to October 20 and will result in a saving to users for lawn watering for the remainder of the summer.

City To Require Peddler Licenses

Peddlers of All Kinds Must Have City License or Permit

The City Council of Sterling City passed an ordinance at the Monday night meeting requiring all peddlers and solicitors to hold a city permit or license before working in Sterling City. A license will cost $2 for 3 months or $5 for a full year, according to the ordinance.

The ordinance prohibits road shows, skating rinks and carnivals during the school year and when allowed during the summer a local sponsor such as the Lions Club, American Legion or other local organization. And that organization must have personnel on hand to see that everything is in order and sanitary; and that organization shall receive a percentage of receipts.

Magazine salesmen, produce peddlers from house-to-house while peddling or soliciting within the city limits, should have a license and residents here should demand to see it, said the city secretary, Mrs. Johnnie Donaldson. The permits are to be issued at the city hall by the city secretary as wanted by such peddlers or salesmen.

A THING OF THE PAST! So Long, Rail Road!

The railroad is being taken up—lock, stock and barrel. At least the ties, rails, bridges, etc. are being taken up. The ties and rails are up to a point toward Broome and all work is progressing along the abandonment line.

Had Sterling been on a thru line—say for instance from San Angelo on to Big Spring and beyond—there would be a railroad here yet. But, as it was, we were on a 40 mile end of the run deal—strictly to serve Sterling at one end—made the line a losing proposition, especially in recent years.

So the end of an era is in sight. A railroad era for Sterling County. For almost 40 years the Santa Fe served the county and now is withdrawing. They began several years ago when passenger service was dropped. Then came the dropping of express shipments, the loss of telegraph, the loss of less than carload freight shipments, then the dropping of the agent here. Then the Santa Fe came only on call or livestock shipments of 1 or more car—and of course, deliveries of 1 or more car of freight.

Now the lines are being taken up and the railroad belongs to a bygone era here.

STOLEN CAR IS RECOVERED HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Tip From Service Station Attendant Results in Arrest And Recovery of Stolen Car

A tip from a local service station attendant Tuesday night resulted in the recovery of a stolen 1959 car and the arrest of 6 young people. The sheriff and deputy, Bill Green and Jake Martin arrested six young people and reported the stolen car to Tyler where it had been stolen.

The six had stolen the car in Tyler earlier in the week and had been trading spare tire, watches, stolen golf clubs, fender skirts, etc. for gas as they drove west. Here at a station Tuesday night, they tried to swap a ring for gas. The station attendant called Bill Green and told him of the incident. He scouted around and found the car parked on a seldom used street in the north part of town. He and Martin brought the six in to the courthouse and began questioning them. After three hours of talk, it developed the car had been stolen in Tyler and the six had been working their way west. There were 3 girls (all juveniles) and 3 boys, all with juvenile records as law breakers.

Green took the girls to the juvenile ward of the Tom Green County jail and jailed the boys here. Officials from Tyler came after them Wednesday.

The boys are Eddie Norman, 19; Eddie Morphis, 18; and Donny Walker, 17. All had lengthy records as juvenile delinquents, said Green.

Tips Valuable

Sheriff Green pointed out that tips from the public to law enforcement officials were about the most valuable assistance a citizen could give. Anything seemingly amiss by strangers, etc. should be reported, so officials can work it out.

It pays off many times—as did the Tuesday night tip.

Gasoline To Come In Variable Octane

EL PASO NATURAL GAS PRODUCTS COMPANY TO INTRODUCE INNOVATION IN GAS SALES

El Paso, Texas—A revolutionary new concept of marketing motor fuels will be introduced to the motoring public of the Southwest in the near future by El Paso Natural Gas Products Company through its network of El Paso-Dixie service stations.

The new gasoline marketing system, called "Precision-Blending", will be designed to deliver to each individual car owner the exact amount of octane he needs to see his automobile perform at peak efficiency, according to company engineers and officials.

Coupled with the octane control system will be an accompanying sliding price scale which will allow customers to pay only for the octane their car requires, company spokesmen further pointed out.

The new Precision-Blending system will work like this:

The El Paso-Dixie stations will utilize a two pump system, one of which will dispense Dixie gasoline recommended for cars which do not require a premium grade fuel, and another pump which will deliver six different grades.

It is the development of this new blending pump plus the development of El Paso's new isotane - supplemented super-premium gasoline which has allowed creation of the Precision-Blending technique.

A selector switch on the pump will allow the attendant to deliver any of six blends of two fuels, from two underground tanks, each with a different octane rating and a corresponding price.

The new pump is a marvel of precise engineering and has already been approved by weights and measures departments of states where it will be used.

C. Blaine McNutt, marketing manager for El Paso Natural Gas Products Company, explained the New Precision-Blending system as an effort on the part of the company to adjust marketing techniques to the wide variety of fuel requirements of today's cars.

"The vast majority of oil refiners use the two-pump system, supplying their retailers with regular gasoline and a premium fuel," McNutt said.

"The motorist whose octane requirements fall between these two must pay from two to four cents per gallon more for the premium fuel even though he doesn't need a gasoline of this quality to get maximum performance and smoothness," he continued. "Other motorists with late model cars of extra high compression do not receive complete satisfaction even from the premium gasoline. An even higher octane fuel is needed to meet the requirements of these cars."

"Therefore," McNutt added, "some refiners, including our company, have developed and marketed a third fuel, usually called super premium, to meet these new requirements . . . and here again the motorist must make a costly price jump in order to get satisfactory performance."

"The solution to this problem of 'misfit octane' and wasted money is to market a number of different fuels, and we feel that our new Precision-Blending process will offer the answer."

"The seven blends which we will offer will be of a gradually increased octane at a gradually increased price. With this wide choice, McNutt concluded, a motorist can choose exactly the gasoline that fits his octane requirements, and pay only for the quality he needs."

Preparation for renovation of El Paso-Dixie stations to the new system is currently underway with the first ones scheduled to start Precision-Blending deliveries to motorists in San Angelo and Sterling City on August 14. The Midland-Odessa-Big Spring area has already been converted.

The remainder of the El Paso-Dixie system throughout New Mexico, Arizona, and parts of Colorado and Utah, will be converted to Precision Blending by the first part of 1960.

The Jack Mimses of Canadian passed through here last Saturday and visited friends briefly. Jack, a brother of Mrs. Martin Reed, is a special ranger with the Texas Cattle Raisers.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

LABOR Legislation continued to capture the headlines on Capitol Hill News, with a show down vote in the House due this week. Editorials, columns, radio and television were all put to full use by proponents and opponents of effective measures to be considered.

President Eisenhower's TV appeal for a moderate bill was almost unprecedented for a president. Oldtimers recall that during the war when John L. Lewis was threatening the war effort with repeated strikes, the Congress passed the Smith - Connally Act, giving the Government power to step in and stop a strike and keep the mines open. Roosevelt vetoed it, but the Congress by more than a two-thirds majority overrode the veto and it became law.

Again, after World War II when the nation staggered from long, inflationary strikes the Congress responded to public demand and enacted the Taft-Hartley Act. President Truman's veto was overridden. And now for Ike to plug for even a moderate bill is without precedent in modern political history.

SCORES of cases where secondary and organizational and blackmail picketing have occurred are being brought to the attention of Congress. Sno-White Dining Room in Detroit is an example. There the employees refused a Teamster union demand that the employees take out Teamsters' insurance—which the employees did not want.

In the attempt to force compliance, the Teamsters picketed the place. When that didn't work, on July 10, 200 Teamsters walked in, sat down and drank coffee for two hours during lunch hour so the usual customers had no place to be seated. When that didn't work, they scattered roofing nails and carpet tacks on the customers' parking areas, and dumped grease all over the place.

In another case in California, when a suburban restaurant employees would not join the Teamsters, the cafe was picketed for more than nine months. Literally hundreds of similar cases have been reported, most of them involving Teamster and small so-called paper unions.

AMONG recent visitors have been Mrs. E. Wait and Jack and Susan of Kerrville; Fred and Susards of Abilene; James H. Taylor of San Angelo; Sid Wiser of Lampasas; and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harless and Roanne and Skip, of San Angelo.

Solution to Breakfast Problem

Having a problem getting the family up for breakfast? In this age of electronic miracles, the gadget shown above is suggested as a logical solution.

It will arouse the sleeper, in more ways than one, but once up, he can help establish good eating habits for the family.

Strong measures (maybe not to the extent shown above) are necessary, according to leading doctors and nutritionists who have studied the subject, to insure that breakfast will not be the day's most neglected meal.

Breakfast, according to those diet authorities, should supply about one-fourth to one-third of the daily food requirements. They point out that the "let's skip breakfast" people prove to be less alert, less efficient and more susceptible to fatigue than those who eat a good morning meal.

The human body is so constructed that for maximum health it requires fairly even intakes of food at regular intervals. You can't make up for the lack of a good breakfast.

People who are troubled in holding the right weight should eat a good breakfast. If they neglect breakfast they may eat too hearty a lunch or dinner. And they just might have a snack or two between meals.

What constitutes a good breakfast? The foods essential to the day's first meal include fruit or fruit juice, cereal, milk or other beverage, and several slices of toast. Eggs and breakfast meat frequently should be included.

These foods are necessary both for children and adults. They supply the nutrients essential for the physical and mental stimulus for work—and play.

They will visit several ranches in the vicinity of Junction to observe range management practices, livestock, wildlife, and other good range management practices. Also included is a trip to the Sonora Experiment Station where they will see range work, the veterinary medicine set-up, and the ram progeny testing program.

Recreation will include swimming in the South Llano, baseball, horseshoes, volleyball and fishing. In addition each boy makes a plant collection notebook with the best notebooks receiving prizes.

by 4-H Club boys and 15 FFA chapters by their students.

Betty Jo Barrett has selected a bunch of ewe lambs from the flock of her father, Dayton Barrett, as her 4-H Club demonstration. Betty Jo will feed the ewes for the commercial ewe lamb show at the Sterling County Livestock Show and the San Angelo Fat Stock Show.

Meanwhile other 4-H Club members are busy getting ready for feeding lambs for the spring shows. A number of lambs have been selected already and more are being selected each week.

4-H Club members are reminded that their record books are due in the county agent's office this week, August 15. All records from lamb feeders are already in but the books due are the range management books, safety demonstrations which some members have working on and any other demonstrations that club members have been carrying on during the past year.

The books must be turned in at this time if the club member is to get credit for them during this club year which ends September 1.

Mitsy Davis, a 4-H Club member, was third in the first night's go-round of the girls' barrel racing at the Big Spring

Junior Rodeo last week. She was fourth in the overall average at the end of the three night rodeo. Mitsy is working on a range plant collection notebook for the district range management contest.

Eddie Roy Braswell is the new office manager in the Sterling County ASC office. Eddie Roy has been working in the Runnels County ASC office in Ballinger for several years and prior to that worked in the Coke County office. He is a native of Coke County.

NEW MIRACLE PUMP El Paso-Dixie's unique new Precision-Blending pump draws fuels from two underground tanks, accurately blends them to any of six predetermined premium blends of gradually increasing octane. The blends are identified by numbers—higher numbers mean higher octane, lower numbers mean lower prices.

HOW IT WORKS The Precision-Blending pump draws quality fuels from two tanks—one containing El Paso Red Flame Super Premium, a gasoline of ultra-high octane quality, and the other containing El Paso 400, a premium quality fuel. A blend selector sets the pump for the blend that's just right for your car—and the pump automatically delivers that blend. Accuracy has been approved by numerous state weights and measures departments.

DIXIE 390 A separate pump dispenses DIXIE 390, the popular gasoline recommended for most cars not requiring premium-grade fuel. Dixie 390 offers effortless, smooth performance for most older-model cars.

SEE FOR YOURSELF Drive in at your nearest El Paso-Dixie service station, and try the blend recommended for your car by the Blend Selector Chart. Prove to yourself that Precision-Blending can mean top performance for your car, with important savings for you!
