Nothing to Cheer About

The 27th annual San Angelo Fat Stock Show which ended Sunday was the last of the spring stock shows. A few counties have county shows scheduled yet but for the most of the boys and girls, this was the last show of the spring circuit.

San Angelo made a big improvement this year in their facilities with their new sheep barn. For the first time in years, all the sheep were housed in one barn. Previously fat lambs were in one barn, junior breeding sheep in another, and the adult breeding sheep classes in still another. This year, spectators could see all the sheep in one barn.

Sterling County 4-H Club members brought home $130 in prize money from the San Angelo show. All the prize money was collected in the range ewe class.

Betty Jo Barrett was third in the range ewe division. She received $100 in prize money. Barbara Clark, David Foster and Tommy Foster each received $10 in prize money in the same division.

The top 11 groups of three ewes were pulled out and ten of these groups sheared. This part of the scoring was done by Marion Badger of San Angelo, but after the eleventh group no placings were made numerically. These groups received ten dollars with the exception of 7 bottom groups which received no prize money in the 43 groups shown.

After shearing, the top ten groups were then scored on body confirmation out of the wool by E. G. Cauble of Big Lake. The fleeces of these groups were then scored by Mr. Crawford of the Mertzon Wool Warehouse and Henry Davis, wool buyer.

Betty Jo's ewes received a total of 275 points out of a possible 300 combined from the three divisions. Each division had a possible 100 points. In body confirmation in the wool, Betty Jo's ewe received 98 points; out-of-the-wool body confirmation they received 95 points; and the fleeces scored 82 points.

This is one of the more practical parts of the San Angelo show. Exhibitors are learning from the practical end what constitutes the best range ewe. It is harder to get three ewes that match since this is a big thing. One poor ewe and two good ones can't do too much good. Uniformity is one of the big points and the exhibitors learn to select for these points.

In the fat lamb division, Le-Ruth Reed showed the 27th place heavy weight finewool lamb. She was the only lamb exhibitor to place. No prize money is paid in this division a ribbon being the only award.

The lambs sold very well in the commercial sale Saturday morning. Lightweight lambs, those weighing 110 pounds and under, brought $23.90 per hundred. Heavy lambs, those weighing over 110 pounds, brought $22.00 per hundred. Sifted lambs sold for $20.70 Wednesday afternoon.

The Sterling County 4-H Club won the neatness award again this year. A cash prize of $15 is awarded to the county club in this division each year.

The award is based on the appearance and arrangement of the club's pens, animals, equipment, exhibitors, cooperation with show officials and sportsmanship in the show ring.

Location of the two-day wool school for ranchers and county agents has been changed from Junction to Kerrville. Dates for the school remain the same, March 29-30. Any rancher who desires to attend may do so. Contact the county agent for more details on the program and arrangements.

FFA Winners at The San Angelo Show

At the San Angelo Fat Stock Show Don McDonald placed 22nd with a heavy weight finewool lamb; 28th with a heavy crossbred lamb. Don also received the fat lamb Showmanship Award at the show.

Lee Foster placed 6th with a pen of commercial ewes which were bred by Dayton Barrett.

Clayton Stewart placed 11th with his pen of commercial ewes, also from the Dayton Barrett flock.

The top ten ewes in the class were shorn and then judged again on their wool and body confirmation.

FFA Barbecue and Sheep Judging Contest Saturday

The Sterling FFA boys are sponsoring a livestock judging and wool judging contest on Saturday, March 19 which gets underway at 9 a.m.

Sheep from the Hodges' flock of show winners will be on display and will be used in some of the judging contests. Some of William and Bubba Foster's Suffolks will be used too, said Fred Igo, sponsor of the FFA group.

A barbecue dinner at 12 will be served at 12 o'clock. A charge of $1 per plate will be made. All money raised is to be used to put on the FFA Parent-Son Banquet on April 12, said Igo.

The affair is to be held at the county show barn—the old tabernacle building in south Sterling City.

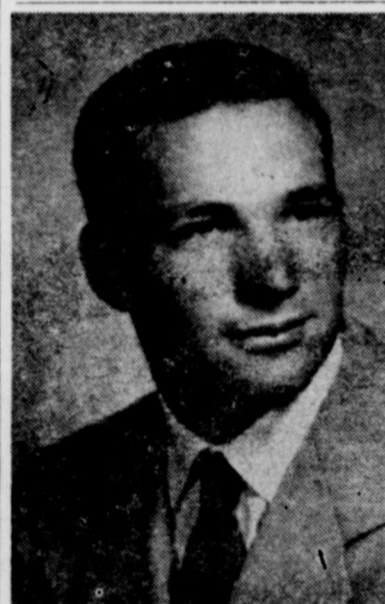

Everyone is invited to attend the judging and lunch.

Awards will be given contest winners.

Book To Be Reviewed

Mrs. Mary Frances Floyd of Midland will review the book Province of the Heart by Phyllis McGinley when the Epsilon Zeta Club here has its annual guest day tea March 24. The affair will be held in the club room of the community center and will start at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Epsilon Zeta Club, members of the Wimodausis and Noratadata Clubs will be guests. The book Mrs. Floyd is to review is Province of the Heart by Phyllis McGinley, is a book of essays, some of which have already appeared in magazines. The subjects range from praise of the younger generation to criticism of too early and elaborate social experiences, from the honor of being a woman to the gaps in woman's education which result in making this realization difficult. She speaks wittily of the "consequences of illiteracy" and nostalgically of childhood games. She addresses a "Letter To an Unknown Man" (our next president) profoundly and wholly from a woman's point of view.

It is a woman's book, which understandably received only the highest praise by reviewers upon its publication last fall.

The Midland reviewer is a former teacher and a writer. She has written plays, artic-

YOUNG BOY COOKS OLD FAVORITE

By JANE ASHLEY

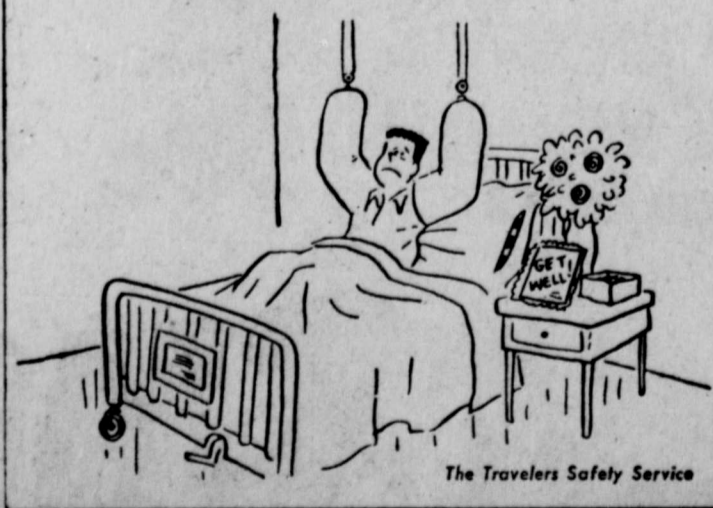

Down in Delaware where raising chickens is big business, even the youngsters know how to fry chicken. This was demonstrated recently by young Samuel Rixon III. Sam entered the chicken cooking contest held during the 12th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival, conducted this year in Sam's home town of Dover, Delaware. All who watched his experienced hand and tasted his crumb-coated chicken agreed that this young boy knows his chickens. Sam's own version of Southern Fried Chicken is given here.

Shrimp a la Broche is a fine choice for any informal get together. The shrimp and vegetables are marinated in a flavorful sauce, so important to all skewered foods, then cooked over coals or in a preheated broiler. Served with a tossed salad, crusty bread, and iced drink your meal is complete. The sauce is made with a piquant blending of corn oil, vinegar, garlic and hot seasonings in mild proportions. Use the same sauce, by the way, for other foods.

Shrimp A La Broche

- 1 pound small mild onions
- 2 green peppers
- 2 pounds tomatoes
- 1 pound shrimp, fresh or frozen
- 1/2 to 1 pound mushrooms
- 1 recipe Marinating Sauce

Peel and cook onions in salted boiling water about 10 minutes or until almost tender; drain. Remove seeds and stems from green peppers and cut into quarters or 2-inch squares. Cook in boiling water about 5 minutes or until almost tender; drain. Cut tomatoes in large wedges, halves or quarters. Clean and devein the shrimp. If frozen, defrost. If using fresh mushrooms, wash and remove stems, or cut into suitable pieces.

Place onions, peppers, tomatoes, shrimp and mushrooms in a large flat dish. Pour marinating sauce over the food and let refrigerate three to four hours. Turn occasionally. When ready to cook, remove shrimp and vegetables; drain and reserve marinade for later use.

Arrange shrimp and mushrooms on skewers alternating with tomatoes, onions and peppers. Leave about 1/4-inch between each piece. Repeat to fill skewer.

Grill over hot coals, or cook in broiler. Adjust distance at top of food to heat source to 3 inches. Turn occasionally and brush the food with the marinade to give a high glaze. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Marinating Sauce

- 1 clove garlic
- 1/2 cup MAZOLA Corn Oil
- 1/4 cup vinegar or lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Dash cayenne pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce

Slice clove of garlic into bowl. Add corn oil and remaining ingredients. Stir. Pour over shellfish, fish, cubed meat or vegetables to be grilled or broiled. Marinate food for 3 to 4 hours. Makes about 3/4 cup sauce.

4-H Winners in '59 Projects

Two 1959 project winning boys from Texas, both 17, attended the 38th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

They were G. C. Dean Jr. of Bishop, dairy project winner whose Chicago trip was provided by the Oliver Corporation, and Herky Killingsworth of Paducah, the state's best on 4-H entomology projects, who went to Chicago as guest of Hercules Powder Company.

Dean Killingsworth

Both have completed their 4-H work under direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

In eight years of club work Dean has earned nine trophies and 100 ribbons, including a number of grand and reserve championships.

Young Dean has fulfilled a dream of becoming president of the Bishop 4-H Club. He is a senior at Bishop High school.

Through his 4-H study young Killingsworth has become the Lone Star state's outstanding 4-H entomologist for 1959. He has done valuable work along this line for the Texas A & M College system. For two years he was a member of the winning Cottle county entomology team, placing fourth this year at the State Round-Up.

A junior at Paducah High school, Killingsworth has organized and is junior leader of an entomology club for younger girls and boys.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

DESPITE tightly-drawn lines and strong convictions, the current battle over an election year civil rights bill is tame compared with some historic debates on that subject in the past. Historians delving into old records report that the statesmen really got their dander up in the old days.

Feelings ran the highest 100 years ago, just before the war between the states. In 1859 Owen Lovejoy, Republican Congressman of Illinois, is said to have roamed the aisles of the House chamber, crossing over to the Democratic side, pointing his finger into the faces of Southerners with threats and challenges relating to the slavery issue.

Congressman Roger A. Pryor, a Virginia member, could talk only so much. He ordered Lovejoy to get back on his own side. At that point John S. Potter, a Wisconsin Republican, rushed to Lovejoy's side, and in a moment there was a bedlam of 30 or 40 milling legislators. Order was restored without bloodshed. Later Rep. Martin Crawford of Georgia wrote of the episode: "I never said a word, but quietly cocked my revolver in my pocket and took my position in the midst of the mob. . . . I had made up my mind to sell my blood out at the highest possible price."

Later Pryor challenged Potter to a duel, asking him to choose the weapons. Potter accepted, choosing bowie knives. Pryor called this barbarous, and both parties settled by calling each other cowards.

The Senate was less tumultuous those days. But one Senator, James Hammond of South Carolina, early in the 1860's said that "as everybody has a revolver. . . . a general fight in on or the other House with great slaughter is always possible. No two nations on earth" he continued "ever were more distinctly separate and hostile than we are here."

AMONG recent visitors have been Dr. Braswell of Brownwood and James W. (Jim) Doak of San Angelo.

Speaking of Pets

Take Your Choice

So you're going to buy a dog? Perhaps you want a playmate for your children, a retriever to take hunting, or a watchdog for your country home. Or perhaps you simply want to add a friendly, fun-loving pet to your family.

With over 100 breeds to choose from, you are faced with quite a selection. Here are some tips from the Pet Food Institute to help you find the perfect dog for you.

1. Make a list of the qualities you want in a dog, then read up on various breeds. Chances are you'll find several that match your specifications.

2. Get to know the breeds that interest you. Go to a dog show. Talk to owners. Visit kennels.

3. Consider your home, family and way of life. A large dog needs lots of exercise so don't try to raise a standard poodle in an efficiency apartment. A toy is the logical choice here.

4. A curly-haired dog requires some upkeep at the beauty parlor. If your budget won't stand it, skip the poodles and terriers and concentrate on the short-haired breeds (dachshunds, German shepherds, etc.).

5. A large dog is a perfect pet for a small child if you have the room. If not, consider a pet in the size range of a space-saving Scottie or cocker spaniel—both devoted to youngsters.

6. Don't overlook the airedale, schnauzer, or boxer if you're looking for an alert watchdog.
