Mayor Rufus W. Foster Buried Sunday

Died Early Saturday Morning

The community was saddened last Saturday morning to hear of the passing of Mayor Rufus W. Foster, 67, who had been seriously ill for a few weeks with a lung growth. He had been hospitalized for about two weeks and was considered critically ill during that time. Friends and acquaintances all join with the family in mourning his passing.

Services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. John Gibbs officiating.

Stan Horwood, soloist sang The Lord's Prayer and God's Tomorrow. He was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. I. W. Terry.

Burial was in Foster Cemetery with the Lowe Funeral Home in charge. Masonic rites were held at the graveside with Vern Davis of Big Lake officiating.

Pallbearers were Earl Bailey, Dayton Barrett, A. L. Burson, Jim Coleman, Roy B. Davis of San Angelo, and I. W. Terry.

Mr. Foster was born in Sterling County September 9, 1892 the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Foster, pioneer ranchers of this area.

A leading citizen of Sterling County, Mr. Foster was very active in civic affairs. He was a member of the Sterling County Hospital Association, having served as its first chairman when the hospital was built in 1950. He was appointed by Governor Allan Shivers to serve on the Upper Colorado River Authority, and he was a member at the time of his death. For seventeen years he was a member of the local school board.

Serving as mayor, an office he did not seek, he conscientiously worked for the good of the city and citizens.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, Order of the Eastern Star, the Suez Temple and the Mystic Shrine.

Since 1929 he had been a director of the First National Bank, replacing his father, the late R. W. Foster, on the board.

Always interested in church work, Mr. Foster had served as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School for many years. He had served as lay leader and was active on the board of stewards for many, many years.

In a progressive spirit, he always took great pride in the accomplishments of his community—such as new school, hospital, the new bank building, and was pressing for an airplane landing for the city and better fire department and city water system in his last months.

With gregarious friendship, Mr. Foster enjoyed fully his family, his friends and acquaintances over this area and his every fellowship with his fellowman. He enjoyed people as friends.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lena Reynolds, a daughter, Mrs. Fred Allen of Las Vegas, New Mexico; two sons, Ross and Reynolds of Sterling City; seven grandchildren; a brother, Templeton of Sterling City and a sister, Roland Lowe reported that the furniture manufacturer, Eoff, planned to be in Sterling about the middle of September and would talk about moving his furniture factory here.

The matter of a druggist in Sterling was discussed. Earl Bailey said Fred Counsel of Paris assured him that he would spare no expense in fixing up his rent building in Sterling should a druggist want to rent it.

Lion Swann had the program. He said losses of businesses in a town can snowball and soon a town is stripped clean before you know it. He thought the utilities and telephone companies might come up with some ideas on helping keep the town's status or help it grow. Manager Wayne Lory said the West Texas Utilities Co. would go along 100 per cent in helping the town with problems.

Swann said he would like to see a project started to plant purple sage plants up and down the highway for beautification of the highways leading into town. He thought it would improve the appearance of the town and make a favorable impression on people passing through.

Talk of a lake near here took some time. Earl Bailey said he thought a lake here would mean much; it would help draw small industries and then more people would live here and there could be enough people here to help keep businesses going—and not folding up or leaving.

Additional Work Might Increase Your Social Security

"Social Security benefits can be increased in some cases by additional work after a person first applies for benefits," Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo social security office announced today. "But certain requirements must be met before the benefit amount can be refigured."

If a person continues working during the year he first files for social security, he may request that his benefit amount be refigured to include the total earnings for that year. There is no definite amount he must earn in the year, but it must increase the average earnings figured at the time of filing.

Another type of recomputation has a definite earnings requirement—earnings must exceed $1200 in a calendar year after the year the person first filed for benefits. Even though the earnings exceed $1200, the benefit cannot be increased unless the work since filing would raise his average earnings.

Ellington emphasizes that it is better to check with your social security office and be sure, rather than to guess whether work after retirement will increase your benefit amount. Write your local office and include the amounts of your earnings in each year beginning with the year of filing up to the present, as accurately as possible and the effect on your present check can then be determined.

by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

David Durham spent a profitable week last week at Range Camp at Junction. David attended camp on the scholarship provided by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association for the two state 4-H Club winners in the range management contest.

Twenty-five different men appeared on the program during the week to teach 4-H Club and FFA members various subjects at the camp. Subjects included plants and how they grow, development of plants and soil, stocking rates for ranges, brush control, livestock selection, re-seeding ranges, watershed management, and wildlife. Also, the boys made a tour of the Aubrey Kothmann ranch and the Coke Stevenson ranch in Kimble County and a tour of the Sonora Experiment Station where they saw the range experiments, the veterinary set-up, and the ram-testing set-up. Each day the boys held a short vesper service under the direction of Reverend Joe Fasel, a Junction minister, who emphasized the spiritual end of range work.

While at camp, the boys were subjected to one of the best forms of range management—a good slow rain which was falling the first morning of camp. The rain caused much shifting of the schedule but was most welcome.

Barbara Durham and Clayton Stewart are working on their plant collections. Each has a good collection of plants of this area that they have made during the last year or so.

Barbara's collection will be submitted for the district judging for junior club members who were under 13 years of age on January 1, 1960. Clayton's records will be submitted for judging in the senior division. This division is made up of club members who had passed their 13th birthday on January 1.

Both Barbara and Clayton are to be complimented on their collections which represent a lot of work and effort on their part.

Don't forget that claims for the refund of the Federal tax on gasoline used on the farm must be filed prior to September 30. You still have more than a month to do this but time gets by fast and you might forget it.

Claim blanks and directions are available in the county agent's office if you did not receive yours from the Director of Internal Revenue. Gasoline purchased between July 1, 1959 and June 30, 1960 are to be included in the claims.

I.W. Terry is cooperating on a brush control demonstration. The demonstration is aimed at control of several species of brush. Catclaw, lote, mesquite and prickly pear are the main species being worked on at present. Several more of the demonstrations will be set-up in the next few weeks to show what chemical control can do on these species. Chemical for the demonstrations is being furnished by the manufacturers.

These demonstrations are being done with ground equipment. I. W. is doing his spraying with a spray rig built by Elton Hull from an old chemical drum, an old gasoline motor, and a booster pump. The entire rig is set in the back of a pick-up; a twenty-five foot hose allows the operator to cover a fair sized area before the driver moves the pick-up.
