The eyes of Texas, especially those of admiring fellow 4-H'ers, will be sharply focused this month on two young ladies bidding for greater recognition at Both teenagers, who already have won all-expense paid trips to Chicago, will be joined there by some other 1,300 4-H'ers-all 1, at the Conrad Hilton hotel.

The congress is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Serve ice, the National 4-H Committee, and scores of business groups who are financing the trips and offering scholarships to national winners in 4-H programs Included in the Texas delega-tion are Rebecca Karrh of Hale Center and Julia Cannon of Greenville. Both have spent near ly half of their 17 years in 4-H. Miss Karrh followed what came naturally at the 414-acre Karrh ranch. Both her parents are volunteer local 4-H leaders; her brother is a member, too. This year an ambitious dress revue program, finally paid off for this young model. She collected a batch of awards and won a trip from Simplicity Pattern Co.

Her title-winning costume this year was a mulberry brown wool flannel. However, this junior at Plainview High also was active in other 4-H endeavors, winning the county award in safety, poultry and recreation.

"Judy" Cannon, a graduate of Celeste High, will be shooting for one of 12 national $400 scholarships to be awarded top win-ners in clothing by Coats & Clark Inc., sponsor of her trip.

Miss Cannon was well-rated in Hunt county clothing competition, winning medals three straight years before being named state champion. Included in her latest one-year project were 16 garments and articles.

Mrs. Nick Reed returned home last Thursday from a visit in Houston with her sister, Mrs. John Boyd and her brother and his family. Mr. and Mrs. Trinon Revell. She went to Houston while her is having a 42 party at the high school there Saturday night. December 17. The $1
