AROUND
THE COUNTY
by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The San Angelo Stock Show last week ended the show circuit for Sterling County 4-H Club members. Club members brought home a total of $430 in prize money from the show, all of it being won in the range ewe lamb show and the junior Rambouillet show. There is no prize money in the fat lamb show.

Biggest portion of the prize money went to Betty Jo Barrett who received $200 first place money on her range ewes and $190 in the junior Rambouillet show. Reynolds Lee Foster's ninth place range ewes brought him $20 prize money while Barbara Clark and Tommy Foster each received $10 prize money in the range ewe class.

Betty Jo's range ewes were bred by Dayton Barrett. Two of the ewes Reynolds Lee showed were also bred by Barrett while one was bred by Reynolds Foster. Tommy's were bred by his dad and Barbara's were bred by her dad.

Mitsy Davis' thirteenth place heavy crossbred lamb sold to M System Food Stores for $100 in the auction Saturday morning. It was the only club lamb from the county to make the sale. Cecilia McDonald's 25th place heavy fine-wool did not make the sale.

The lambs sold in the commercial sale preceding the auction brought $17.40 for those under 110 while those over 110 pounds sold for $15.50. Swift and Company bought the light lambs and Producers Auction Company bought the heavy lambs.

Several copies of the Sheep and Goat, Wool and Mohair School at Junction have been received. The school, for producers and county agents, will be on March 28 and 29 at the A&M Adjunct and on ranches around Junction and in the warehouses in Junction.

Topics scheduled on the program are sheep and goat, wool and mohair market situations, milk lamb production, wool and mohair grades, parasites, brush and weed control demonstrations, and sheep selection demonstrations. Included on the brush and weed control demonstrations reports is a 15 minute report on the bitterweed demonstrations in Sterling County which I will give.

Several producers in the county are planning to go and more are invited. There is no cost except the lodging and meals while there. If you would like to see a copy of the program, come by the office and I will discuss it with you.

Brucellosis testing under the Type II program was completed in the county Tuesday morning. Since the infection rate did not exceed 1 percent of the cattle, or 5 percent of the herds, Dr. Roy G. Chaney who headed the crews here, will recommend to the Animal Health Commission that the county be certified as a Modified-Certified Brucellosis free area.

Each rancher received a copy of the lab report on his cattle. It would be wise to keep this report. If you move cattle by truck, this report might save you a lot of trouble if stopped on the road by inspectors. It will certify to him that the cattle are clean and can be moved. After checking the certification, he will return the copy to the driver so that it can be retained by the owner of the cattle.

Crew members were most complimentary of the ranchers in the county. They said that it was the fastest testing they had done, that all cattle were ready on time, and the ranchers were most coopera-

Drug Store To Hold Open House Saturday

The Sterling Drug will hold its formal opening here on this Saturday, March 18. Rex McCleave, owner, said free coffee would be served all day Saturday.

Although Rex has had the store open for over two months, no formal opening had been held, due to many factors.

The Sterling Drug is in the same location as the old drug stores, in the corner of the State Hotel building. Owner of the hotel, H. L. Hildebrand, bought the corner part of the building from Mrs. E. B. Butler and remodelled the building for the new drug store.

Lowered ceilings, all brick east side, tile floors, all-year air-conditioning, and recessed lights all combined to make a very attractive new drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. McCleave and their two daughters moved to Sterling City from Odessa, where he was the head pharmacist at the Town & Country Drug.

MARTINEZ SENTENCED; APPEAL ANNOUNCED

Mike Martinez was sentenced to life in the state pen Tuesday of this week by 51st District Judge Joe Mays. He had been sentenced to the life imprisonment sentence by a jury here in February on a plea of guilty of killing Taylor Garrett in 1957 in a service station robbery.

Martinez' lawyer announced that the conviction would be appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

In case of fire Dial 2121.

Betty Jo Barrett, 14-year old Sterling City 4-H Club really had a big day winning ribbons and prize money at the San Angelo Stock Show last Friday. She won first place in the range ewe lamb show and went on to dominate the junior Rambouillet breeding sheep show.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Barrett, she was named premier exhibitor of the junior Rambouillet show, having amassed 190 points for her winnings. Among them were the champion Rambouillet ewe Friday and the champion ram Thursday. She was awarded the Wallace Dameron Memorial Trophy.

In addition she won the West Texas A&M Club showmanship award for the junior breeding sheep show.

Betty Jo won first in the breeding Rambouillet ewe class; first in the pen of 3 ewes and first in the pen of 3 Rambouillets, and sixth in the two-tooth ewe lambs.

Betty Jo had the champion ram of the junior Rambouillet breeding sheep division. Her two-tooth ram took first in his division.

In the range ewe lamb show, the Barrett entries of three ewes won the championship. Her winning group of three ewe lambs sheared a total of 33 pounds of grease wool and amassed a total of 286 points in the scoring of the sheep both in and out of wool and the scoring of the fleeces themselves.

M. H. Badger of San Angelo judged the 29 groups of three ewe lambs while they were in the wool and selected the top 10 groups. These ewes were shorn while spectators watched. The wool was judged by Hank Davis of San Angelo and Bull Crawford of Mertzon. The shorn lambs were judged again by E. G. Cauble of Big Lake.

Don McDonald of Sterling City placed third in this class with some lambs he had gotten from Barrett. Reynolds Lee Foster placed 9th with some lambs he had secured also from Barrett.

Formal Opening of Lumber Yard Here Saturday

The formal opening of the Sterling City Lumber and Supply here will be held on Saturday, March 18. Frank Jackson, the new owner and his wife, extend a cordial invitation to everyone to drop in for coffee and refreshments that day.

Although the yard has been open for two weeks, the formal opening was delayed until the 18th. The Jacksons now have everything in readiness for business. The remodeling of the old South Texas Lumber Company yard and office has really dressed up that block in town.

The Jacksons have bought Mrs. Nan Davis's house here and their two girls have enrolled in the school.

Carrying the usual line of items as building materials, hardware, paints, pipe and fittings, etc. Jackson says that they can handle Title I FHA repair and home improvement loans with nothing down and up to five years to pay. The company will give free estimates on jobs, has a reliable carpenter to do the jobs. Jackson said he would like the chance to figure all jobs, none are too small or none too large.

There's a lot of talk going around about the proposed Peace Corps. Just how it will work out remains to be seen. The entire idea is fraught with many unanswered questions. Some say the plan could be a success, while others foresee many pitfalls which could make of it a dismal failure.

Here's the general idea of the set-up: Several thousand Americans, mainly young college grads, are to be recruited, then trained for three months in six universities before being sent to "underdeveloped" countries. Their transportation would be paid by the government, and also food, lodging, and other personal expenses. They would be paid salaries of from $50 to $75 per month, to be retained and given each corpsman after the tour of duty. Congress has not approved any of this, however.

There has been no clear indication of what these people would do. It is theorized they would go out into the wilderness and tell the natives how to do things more efficiently. Robert Shriver, President Kennedy's brother-in-law, has been appointed to head the program. He says the recruits must be hardy and have a "pioneering spirit."

But many questions are being asked. What would such young people do that is not now being done under Point 4? That is the purpose of Point 4—to give technical advice and training to help people help themselves. It would seem, therefore, that the new project would simply increase the number of such people in government service doing the same type of work.

How are such recruits to be screened, and who will do the screening? From UNRRA, Point 4, and in foreign aid programs, the U.S. has been embarrassed more than once by having the wrong kind of people representing this country abroad.

To whom would such young people be responsible? Or would they, as it appears, be on their own, answerable to the head office in Washington?

It is well to recall that only recently Mennen (Soapy) Williams caused much embarrassment to our Ambassadors in East Africa by virtually insulting local governments. This alone would indicate the difficulty in getting the right kind of people to speak for us when visiting strange countries.

Sparks-Drennan Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Drennan are making their home on the Drennan ranch west of Robert Lee following their marriage in February. Rev. Robin Guess, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Robert Lee, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Miss Neta Louise Sparks and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Sparks of Robert Lee. Mr. Drennan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Drennan who ranch west of Robert Lee.

For her wedding, the bride chose a street-length gown of white nylon chiffon, fashioned with a full skirt. The bodice was encrusted with seed pearls. White pumps and a veil of white net completed her attire. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Miss Elwanda Sparks attended her sister as maid of honor, and wore a dress of taffeta.

James Harmon, cousin of the bride, attended the bridegroom as best man.

The couple, both seniors at Robert Lee High School, will complete their studies. Mr. Drennan plans to enroll at Sul Ross College, Alpine, in the fall.
