COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMAN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The third case of screw-worm in Sterling County for 1963 was confirmed over the weekend. This case was on the Clinton Hodges place south of town. It was another of the cases in the navel of a calf.

The fourth case for Sterling County was found on the V.T. Ferguson ranch. The screw-worms were found in the side of a buck.

At this same time last year, nineteen cases in Sterling County had been confirmed by the laboratory in Mission. Five of the cases were in April and fourteen in the month of May. This year all three cases have been in the month of May.

Statewide, the cases have been considerably lower than they were during 1962. For comparison, the latest report issued by the laboratory on May showed there were 111 cases in Texas last week, 21 in New Mexico, and one in Arizona. During the same week in 1962, there were 1,137 cases in Texas, fourteen from New Mexico, and one from Mexico for a total of 1,151 against this year's total of 133 cases.

Flies are being dropped along the North Conch River and the creeks running into it on a weekly basis according to the program officials. All ranchers are urged to keep a check on their livestock. Send in all suspected cases for positive identification. Flies are being dropped on these areas where cases are found under the hot spot method at the present time. The drops are supposed to be made within seventy-two hours of identification. This will not give the worms found time to turn to flies and complete their cycle--thus it creates a break in the cycle.

"Sugar already on hand or committed to the United States totals 500,000 tons more for 1963 than last year's total national consumption," reported Charles Murphy, Undersecretary of Agriculture. He says the new commitments have been made within the past few days and the speculative bubble in sugar is bound to burst in face of the plentiful supply. Speculators may be able to keep the bubble going for a short time but not for very long he says.

A relatively tight situation in the world sugar supplies early this year created uncertainty in the market and gave the speculators a chance to bid up the prices, Murphy says.

A common sound these days is that of the power lawn mower. They are necessary tools for keeping the lawn mowed and in good shape but they can become lethal weapons if improperly used. The rotary mower is the worst offender--and not so much to the operator as to bystanders. Cutting blades can be broken by striking rocks, wire, or other objects. The broken blade hurled through the air is as deadly as a bullet. Check the lawn and remove rocks, sticks and other objects that the mower might hit and hurl thru the air. It will make your mowing easier and it'll be much safer too.

Don't let children, especially smaller ones, operate the mower. Always wear shoes when you mow. Never make adjustments with the mower running.

Alvie Cole, chairman of the Sterling County Animal Health Committee was among seventeen livestockmen and program officials who recently visited Mexico to explain the screwworm eradication program to the Mexican Cattle-

4-H Clubbers Do Well at State

Sterling County 4-H Club members showed up well in the State 4-H Contests at College Station this week. County agent Arthur Barleman, Mrs. Ross Foster and Mrs. Worth Durham accompanied the eight to College Station this week.

The Sterling Range Judging Team placed second. Team members are James Morgan, Larry Stewart and David Foster.

James Morgan was second high individual in the state, making 311 out of a possible 400 points.

Barbara Durham and Rosanne Foster won second in the state with their Soil, Range, and Water Conservation demonstration.

The Sterling Grass Identification team also participated. Members are Jack Clark, Wayland Foster, and Tommy Foster.

They won first place in district competition with their demonstration and are to compete for state honors at College Station this week. County Agent Arthur Barleman, Jr. had the two girls as his guests; and he also had their mothers present. Mrs. Ross Foster and Mrs. Worth Durham. Other guests were Mrs. Barleman and Billy Bauer.

Ladies Night June 11

The committee told of plans for the annual ladies night and installation of officers. The program will be the night of June 11 at 8 p.m. in the community center. Chesley McDonald will be the main speaker and each member is requested to bring guests to the affair.

BILLY BLAIR

Lions Good Citizen

Billy Blair Gets Lions Good Citizenship Award

Billy Blair, son of Mr and Mrs. John I. Blair, of Sterling City has taken one of the top honors in his school. He was named Lions Club Best Citizen of the year. This honor was selected by the faculty of the school. Billy has achieved several other honors during the year. He was voted class president and class favorite by his class mates. He was elected and gave the response at the Sterling High School Spring Banquet. At this banquet, Billy was named "Most Handsome" of Sterling High School for the year.

Billy is very much interested in Agriculture. During the past year Billy has served as president of the Sterling City FFA chapter. Billy fed lambs and achieved honors with his project under his VA teacher Mr. Fred Igo. After the livestock shows Billy became a member of the Sterling City FFA livestock team. The team attended San Angelo College judging contest and Billy was second high individual of the entire contest, and he was third high man in sheep. On the teams route of judging they decided to attend Sul Ross College judging contest. Billy was honored by winning high individual of the entire contest and second high in hogs. The Sterling City team tied for the sweepstakes banner.

Billy acted as Master of Ceremonies at the Sterling City FFA banquet and was honored as the Star Chapter Farmer at this banquet. Billy plans to go to the Texas Technological College and put his agricultural credit to use and develop into a Range Manager.

About Lamb-O-Rama

Mrs. Alvie L. Cole
 Mr. Gene Alley, Co-Chairman
 Sterling Lamb-O-Rama
 Sterling City, Texas

Dear Mrs. Cole & Mr. Alley:
 We recognize that your "thank you note" does not call for an acknowledgment; however, we could not fail to make two points with you as the result of the valuable relationship which exists between our company and your industry.

One -- When the drum beating has run its course and the emotion of industrial promotion has run out, it is our conviction that the value of the basic industry which has held this country together since the beginning will continue to stand out in importance. The development and encouragement of this basic industry will continue to be important, and will be a challenge to our people.

Two -- No nicer compliment could come to our people than that of being associated with you and your industry as a "partner".
 Cordially yours,
WEST TEXAS UTILITY CO.

Mrs. Alvie Cole
 Mr. Gene Alley, Co-Chairman
 Sterling Lamb-O-Rama
 Sterling City, Texas
 Dear Gene & Mrs. Cole:
 Congratulations to you and Mrs. Cole on building up enthusiasm for the Lamb-O-Rama at Sterling City. I am very pleased that we could contribute a small part to this by making available the services of Frank Orts in conducting the lamb slaughter and carcass cutout demonstration. I am very sympathetic to this sort of program. It seems fundamental to me that sheepmen must build a lot of enthusiasm for their product at home before they can promote it effectively elsewhere. We are committed to support of such programs to the maximum extent of our resources.

Very best personal regards.
 Sincerely yours,
 O.D. Butler

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

Olney Creates Home-grown Industry

When an aeronautical engineer and the business leaders of Olney, Texas, got together, a new home-grown industry was born. The product: an agricultural aircraft especially designed for crop dusting and spraying.

Now, 4 1/2 years later, Snow Aeronautical Company employs 57 skilled workers in this West Texas community of 3872, and has sold aircraft in many agricultural states of the Union and in seven foreign countries.

Success of this thriving local enterprise is evidenced by a plant expansion program which will double the factory size when construction is completed this Fall. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

Christian Scientists Gathering

Thousands of Christian Scientists from all over the world have been quietly assembling in Boston this weekend for their church's big annual meeting event.

The meeting convenes Monday afternoon (June 3) in the huge domed auditorium of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. Known as The Mother Church, founded by Mary Baker Eddy, it unites all of the more than 3,200 Christian Science congregations now in existence, including the branch in San Angelo.

Addresses and reports will be presented at the meeting to assess the Church's current role in the world. A new Church President will take office and the names of new lecturers will be announced.

Can We Wave The Flag Too Much?

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much.

The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough.

It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the stars and stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best in us . . . for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy.

Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired?

Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us . . . for the mad rushing Twentieth Century American . . . to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded.

Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Vally Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage. When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corriger, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor, The Merrimac, Wake Island, and Korea? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag.

It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education, and commerce. Mil-lisno of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last and remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind.

That is what the flag means to me? Can we wave it too much? I don't think so.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

The bracero program, which has allowed 1.7 million Mexican farm hands to enter the U.S. under contract during the last five years, is due to end this year. The proposed extension of the 12-year-old program was defeated in the House last week by a 174-to-158 roll call vote.

While this action will not affect southwest Texas because the Secretary of Labor decided three years ago to discontinue the program in our area, it will create serious labor shortages exist in the vegetable and fruit fields. All told, about a quarter of a million braceros are now being used in the lower Rio Grande valley, the Pecos-El Paso area, and in other states.

Opposition to continuing the bracero program was spearheaded by CIO-AFL, whose farm union has big plans for unionizing all agricultural labor, and contends contracting of Mexican workers tends to interfere with the organizing drive. This group was aided by many uniformed and misinformed do-gooders, all of whom joined in a massive parade of ignorance about labor shortage problems in the affected areas.

Hank Brown, President of the Texas AFL-CIO, wrote each member of the Texas Delegation, urging us to vote against the extending law. He contended that if the law is continued it would deprive "thousands of unemployed American citizens" along the border of job opportunities.

I answered Mr. Brown by invited him to send me a list of the names and addresses of the unemployed people in my district who are able and willing to work on ranches and farms at prevailing wages. I told him that if he would do that, I could then send that list to the many people who write me about local labor shortages. Needless to say, Mr. Brown did not bother to answer my request.

The simple fact is, that there is now and has been for years an extreme shortage of farm workers in the southwest. A sensible, workable bracero program is badly needed, if it could be administered by an agency that would in good faith recognize the problem and try to do something about it on a practical basis. No one wants labor imported into areas where there is an adequate number of domestic workers to meet the demands. In fact, the law prohibits that being done.

The impact this action may have in Mexico remains to be seen. On the one hand, the administration is plugging for an alliance for Progress, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, but seems to take a dim view of providing this means of helping our neighbor to the south, without any cost to the American taxpayers.

Since the Labor Department has built up a bureaucracy for the enforcement of the bracero law, it will be interesting to see how many of the some 1,000 who have been hired to run the program will now be fired. I am requesting the Secretary of Labor to inform me what he plans to do about this surplus of manpower in his Department when the Bracero program ends this year.

The Birmingham race riot is believed here to be but a forerunner of other explosive incidents that may erupt during the immediate future. One observer said: "This looks like a big year for the agitators." Spearheaded by Dr. Martin Luther King, the NAACP went so far to call thousands of school children away from their classes in Birmingham to swell the ranks of the demonstrators. King, a close friend of Bobby Kennedy, proved his ability to trigger violence by his Alabama venture.

Actually, most of the racial tension, and the occasional clashes, are traceable to the politicians and the professionals in the NAACP. Earlier this year the Republican leaders in Congress out-did the Democrats by proposing Civil Rights legislation beyond anything the Democrats had come up with. It was a bold attempt to capture some of the negro votes and counter Bobby Kennedy's political strategy. Following that, the White House announced the Democrats would come up with something real big in this field. In the meantime, Martin Luther King and entourage moved in on Birmingham to create a crises, followed by 3,000 anti-riot troops being ordered to the outskirts of Birmingham by the President. That dramatic act was followed by Bobby's secret meeting in New York with a group of negro leaders. The meeting, however, was leaked to the press.

Ordering troops to Alabama despite the fact that the President told his news conference no federal law had been violated, has given rise here to some serious concern about the Constitutionality of the move. One observer thinks the Attorney General may have blundered when he advised his brother such action was legal under the Constitution. It is reported, however, that Bobby is confident the Supreme Court will sustain his position and vindicate his advise.

Article IV of the Constitution permits the development of federal troops to deal with a local problem only "... on application of the Legislature or of the Executive when the Legislature cannot be convened." In the Alabama case, no request was made. In fact, the troop order was protested by the Governor, who contended it was unconstitutional and might tend to encourage rioting by assuring rioters that federal protection would be provided if needed.

It is believed the Supreme Court will approve the troop order, but there remains an undercurrent of concern because of the precedent that may be established, by having the federal government, of its own violation, intervene to deal with a local problem, where no federal law is being violated. If such unsolicited federal intervention is applied in connection with a racial incident, then the question occurs: What other local incidents might inspire a future President to invoke the all-powerful military of the federal government? It is something to think about.

Soil Conservation

Tommy Foster is chaining approximately 500 acres of heavy mesquite on Sterling Creek. Conservation Contractor J.D. Harmon of Robert Let is doing the work. The chain is being drug two ways over the land between two large crawler-type tractors. The operation is uprooting many of the mesquite trees and damaging the underbrush and prickly pear. The chaining was begun soon after the recent rains since this type of brush control is more effective when soil moisture is good.

Several cooperators have aerial sprayed mesquite recently. Among them are: Claude Collins Estate (Hackberry Ranch). Bill J. Cole, Aaron Clark, Matthews and Sellers, W.N. and L.R. Reed, Lester Foster Ranches, David Glass, I.W. Terry, T.M. and Bill Humble, Currie Cattle Company, Bryant A. Harris, and Bob Ballenger.

Bermuda grass sprigged on the Bill J. Cole Ranch earlier this year is spreading rapidly. Cole is planning control sorghum alumn competition by heavy grazing with cattle for a short period.

The SCS technicians made a forage yield clipping study on Elbon Rye on the W.H. Underwood Farm located six miles east of Garden City. Enclosure cages were set in January. Rye under one cage was clipped at the 1/2 inch level (overgrazed), and produced 2,000 pounds of dry forage. Rye under the other cage was clipped at 3 inch level and produced 2,502 pounds of dry forage. The one clipped at the higher level made 500 more per acre than did the closely clipped plants. The difference in yield would have been greater except that the overgrazed rye was allowed to get 8 inches tall on time before clipping, therefore it was not continuously overgrazed.

Yes We Know NO PAPER LAST WEEK

Those subscribers that live in town know that we did not have a paper last week due to Linotype trouble, but subscribers living out of the county might still be in the dark. We lost three days due to the failure of the typesetting machine. The news items that were set up appear in this issue. We mailed a token issue to local subscribers so they would not inquire about the paper.

He got the linotype working on Thursday noon last week but too much time had gone by for an issue to be printed.
