Year's Reign Nears Close for Miss Wool of Texas

Lynda Rhea Allen

Miss Wool of Texas, Lynda Rhea Allen, is helping celebrate two Lamb-O-Ramas in Central Texas this week as her reign over Texas' $55,000,000 wool industry comes closer to its climax.

Having traveled over 26,000 miles on her statewide tour, Lynda is being honored with barbecues, etc. at Coryell County and Salado Lamb-O-Ramas this weekend.

Lynda, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Worth E. Allen, has made the largest tour ever made by a Miss Wool of Texas, visiting 32 major cities as the official ambassador of the wool industry.

Lynda's first appearance as Miss Wool of Texas was made to the 26th annual Jubilee in Brady in July.

Since that time she has zig-zagged across Texas appearing at back-to-school fashion shows in leading Texas department stores; speaking to high school and college girls; attending rodeos, stock shows, fairs, breakfasts, luncheons, teas, dinners, barbecues, bull fights, horse races pageants, balls and parades.

From the hill country of Texas—from El Paso to the capitol, the 20-year old blue-eyed ash blonde Lynda has endeared herself to hundreds of radio, television and newspaper people. Her knowledge of wool and wool products, retailing, marketing and fashion promotion has proved to be an asset in answering reporter's questions during interviews.

Lynda is a graduate of Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. with an associate degree in retailing and fashion. Her membership in the famous Stephens College Modeling Team proved helpful during the fashion photography session of her 50-piece wardrobe designed by 46 of Texas' top designers.

Raised on a sheep and cattle ranch, 1965's Miss Wool of Texas is no stranger to the wool and mohair industry and is said to know wool from "fleece to fabric". In her teens, Lynda was a 4-H Club girl and exhibited fine wool lambs at Texas major Stock Shows in Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and San Angelo.

Miss Wool of Texas is sponsored by the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association. Grateful for being chosen as their representative, Lynda has

Group of Students to Waco Meet

Attending Texas State Junior Classical League

Eight students of the local high school are in Waco this weekend attending the Texas State Junior Classical League Meet. All are Latin students, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Frank Milligan. The group are delegates from the local chapter of the league and they have gone as participants in the various contests.

While in Waco, the group is staying in the Villa Capri Motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Milligan are accompanying the group. The students are Rosanne Foster, Jeanie McDonald, Ann Lawson, Drew Durham, Elaine Price, Jerry Currington, James Ross and Collin Douthit.

Mrs. O. T. Jones underwent major surgery in a San Angelo hospital Tuesday morning of this week. Mr. Jones superintendent of schools here, said his wife had hopes of being transferred to the local hospital soon from the Angelo Shannon.

enthusiastically promoted the wool and mohair industry and displayed the fashions contributed by Texas designers.

Lynda has gone without sleep, fallen asleep over her school books, while her mother-chaperon and public relations man dashed her by car, jeep, bus or plane to another appearance; and during a four hour break in one city she flew to another city for a last minute request appearance.

Wearing her woolen wardrobe in the middle of a July heat wave, Lynda spent two days at a central Texas ranch being photographed under most unusual circumstances.

An imaginative collection of fashion photographs were obtained after Lynda posed atop a barn to capture an appealing rock chimney background bordered by a fleecy-cloud arrangement. She scaled a wooden fence, climbed a haystack, posed by a covered wagon and hiked to the top of a hill in her coronation gown for a striking effect.

"I changed in the top of shearing barns, between two cars and once, some huge live oak trees provided the necessary privacy," Lynda enthusiastically explained.

Lynda's reign as Miss Wool of Texas for 1964-65 will be climaxed when she will compete for the national Miss Wool title at the National Pageant April 9 in San Angelo.

Screwworm Fund Drive Set for Sterling

The Sterling County Animal Health Committee is set to begin collecting funds for the screwworm eradication program next week. The county's drive is coordinated with the state effort to raise $300,000 from the livestock industry for the eradication program.

The goal for Sterling County is $1,920, according to Alvie Cole, chairman of local committee. Alvie pointed out that this goal can be attained if every rancher will contribute on the basis of ten cents for each cow or horse, two cents for each grown sheep, goat or hog.

A meeting of all Texas county committee chairmen will be held in Austin on Friday, March 26 to officially kick off the drive. The drive in Sterling County will coincide with the state drive set for March 29 through April 12.

Necessity for additional producer funds was announced earlier this month by the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, which with the State of Texas and the U. S. Department of Agriculture is conducting the eradication program.

Approximately $1.1 million is needed to operate the program during April, May and June. Alvie explained that the Texas Legislature has already voted $250,000 and Congress in Washington is expected to appropriate $550,000 for the three month period. These funds cannot be spent unless producer funds are available to match the money. Thus, the drive for the $300,000 from Texas producers to be used in Texas.

The screwworm fly has been eradicated from the Southwest but the barrier of live, sterile flies must be maintained along the U. S.—Mexico border to prevent fertile flies from reinfesting the U. S. Approximately 100 million sterile flies will be needed each week during April, May and June. In addition, funds must be available for the "hot spot" treatment if there are any outbreaks in Texas.

It has been estimated that the program has resulted in savings of $168 million to livestock producers in the three years the program has been in existence. If funds are not provided to continue the operation of the program, the livestock industry in the Southwest stands to lose gains already made.

Your contribution can be turned in to H.L. Hildebrand, treasurer of the committee, at the First National Bank in Sterling City. Checks should be made payable to the Screwworm Eradication Fund.

A number of the local ranchers are serving on the committee and will be checking with their neighbors on their roads during the period March 29—April 12. Ranchers who are assisting are—J.R. Clark, Forrest Foster, Melvin Foster, Chesley McDonald, Neal J. Reed, Ross Foster, Ewing McEntire, Larry Glass, Riley King, John Copeland, C. J. Copeland, William Foster, Bill Humble, Pete Hansen, Reynolds Foster, Charles Probandt, Dayton Barrett, Clinton Hodges, Gene Alley, Tommy Foster and I.W. Terry.

Sterling County livestock contributed nearly $19,000 in the previous drives. The present potential of about one-tenth of that is based on estimated livestock numbers and is, as one rancher put it, "pretty cheap worm medicine."

Daughter to the Georges

A daughter, named Stephanie Elizabeth, was born to Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. George of New Orleans March 3. Mrs. George is the former Brenda Augustine of Sterling City. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. J. S. George of New Orleans, J. S. Augustine of Sterling City and Mrs. Joyce McEloist of Big Spring. The Lee Augustines of Sterling are great grandparents.

Interscholastic Meet Here Next Week

The literary events of the District 73-B Interscholastic League will be held here on April 3. Contestants from the schools at Forsan, Water Valley, Garden City, Bronte, Robert Lee and Sterling City are to be on hand. Around a hundred and fifty contestants and teachers and interested persons will be here that day.

Only the literary events are to be held here. The track and field events will be held in Big Spring, where the track facilities are complete.

Ribbons for the winners are being furnished by business houses of Sterling, being the Turner's Drive-In Grocery, Bailey Bros., Brooks & Bailey and Lowe Hardware & Furniture Co. The ribbons are to be on display in the show window at Brooks & Bailey.

The one-act play contests were held in Bronte on Thursday night of this week.

More details of the events will be printed in next week's News-Record.

Jeanie McDonald Is Area FHA President

Jeanie McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley McDonald, was elected Area President of the Future Homemakers of America at the area meeting in Odessa last weekend.

Mrs. H. E. Barton, local homemaking teacher and FHA sponsor, took sixteen of the homemaking girls to the meeting in Odessa. Three mothers of students also helped by taking cars. They were Mrs. Neal J. Reed, Mrs. Ross Foster and Mrs. Chesley McDonald.

Mrs. McDonald was the chief speaker of the Saturday meeting of her daughters, Cecilia, was voted a life membership in the state FHA for her work and efforts in the FHA last year. Cecilia is now a student in Abilene Christian College.

Girls making the weekend trip to the area meeting were Kathy Gaston, Beverly Brooks, Sharon Currington, Susan Mixon, Lynn and Louise Alexander, Helen Hays, Jeanie McDonald, Rosanne Foster, Betty Daves, Ann Lawson, Nelwyn King, Janie Copeland, Shirley and Elaine Price, and Debbie Reed.

One-Act Play Is Presented

District Meet Plays Thursday at Bronte

The Sterling City entry in the Interscholastic League one act play contest, was presented in rehearsal here Tuesday night. Fred McDonald, high school English teacher, is the coach or sponsor of the play, and he is being assisted by Mrs. Lynn Glass.

The name of the play is "A Storm Is Coming" by Jim Damico. The story is one of conflict—between a man and a child, and a child and the human race.

Jeanie McDonald faultlessly plays the part of the little girl. Her role is moving and carries the audience along with her and the story. Troy Murrell, who was given the leading male role after Royce Sparks caught a case of the mumps, plays the part of the man. He plays the role of a mature or older man. Shirley Price has a walk-on bit as does Janie Copeland and Drew Durham—as the gang.

Crew members helping out were Nelwyn King and Rosanne Foster.

The group will present the play at Bronte in district competition Thursday night of this week (tonight—as this paper is being printed) and everyone hopes they will win district.

The cast does a good job. It could go along in competition. Last year the Sterling entry won first in district but lost to Menard in regional—a team that went on to win the state class B competition.

School Burglarized Monday Night

He Strikes Again

A burglar broke into the Sterling School Monday night, but the damage he caused in breaking in was more than the loot he got.

Cost of repairing the window he broke in gaining entry will be more than the $3 or $4 in change he took away.

This is the second time the school has been burglarized in less than a month and police officers believe both breakins were by the same person.

"It looks like he completed his job last night," said Sheriff Jim Cantrell, who along with Ranger Ralph Rohatch and DPS Sgt. Ray Keating, is investigating.

Cantrell said the glass in the back kitchen door was broken. After getting into the building, the burglar ransacked the office and forced the vault door open.

He said the method was similar to another breakin about a month ago, "except they broke the glass this time."

LIONS CLUB

The Lions Club members discussed the making of a little league ball park near the present city park—when they met for the regular weekly luncheon Wednesday in the community center.

Stanley Horwood and Roland Lowe, who own land adjoining the park, will give or donate some land needed, it was said. The West Texas Utilities Co. will have their contractor dig the holes and the company has some 45-foot poles available. The park committee or trustees will do some fence building and putting in water pipes to irrigate the ball park. And, if some money can be raised from the citizens of the county, a ball park can be a reality, said the club president, Wayne Lory.

He appointed a committee to raise funds, consisting of H.F. Donalson, Jeff Davis and D. Kirk Hopkins.

Arthur Barlemann, county agent, showed a film on civil defense for farmers and ranchers.

Jack Peel was a guest and the prize went to G. C. Murrell.

HOSPITAL NOTES

L. L. BUGG BURIED IN COVE, ARKANSAS

L. L. (Leslie) Bugg, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Bugg, died March 16 in Cove, Arkansas. He had retired to Cove about four years ago.

Leslie was born in Sterling County March 15, 1896. He had been ill for two years. He and Della Hudgens were married in Pecos, Texas in 1919.

Survivors include his wife and seven children, 12 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Ella Ligon of Sterling, Mrs. Laura Green and Mrs. Vera Lee of Big Spring and a brother, John J. Bugg of Florence, Arizona.

Alvie Cole, local rancher and a director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, will make a talk at the TSGRA directors meeting this weekend in Brady on—How to Secure New Members for the association. Gene Alley, another director, is the chairman of the lamb committee and he has asked Dr. King of Brady to talk to his group.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

The U. S. Constitution, that much maligned document, came under fresh attack in Congress last week with the new Voter Right legislation that was sent to Capitol Hill from the White House.

Under our system, every qualified voter should have the right to vote, regardless of race, creed or color. The Constitution guarantees that.

But the Constitution says the states—not the federal government—has the right to determine the qualifications of voters. The Supreme Court has so held—but that was in the past. On the subject of literacy tests the court has ruled "its establishment was but the exercise by the state of a lawful power vested in it not subject to our supervision, and indeed, its validity is admitted."

Yet, despite the clear constitutional guaranty, the President has called on Congress to pass a bill which would, in one fell swoop, strike down every "test or device" now contained in any state law with respect to the qualifications of a voter, and establish a system of "federal registrars" who would have power to register any voters the whim of a federal bureaucrat in charge might determine.

That federal control could apply even to the election of a local justice of the peace or the mayor of a town, if the federal establishment should decide to move in and exercise this new power.

This new federal power would invalidate every literacy test, which applies to both blacks and whites alike, in any state.

But, regardless of the Constitution, in an atmosphere of emotional hysteria, all signs point to a railroad job in Congress. The Negro bloc vote is at the bottom of this grab for power. Of that there is no doubt.

And all the signs indicate that a subservient Supreme Court will approve anything that is enacted. As the President spoke to a joint session of the Congress last week, Chief Justice Warren and other members of the Court were seen to cheer the President as he repeated Martin Luther King's demonstration battle cry: "We will not be moved."

Another indicator of the Court's pre-judgment of the legislation occurred the following morning following the President's address, when Nicolas Katzenbach, the Attorney General, conferred with some Senate leaders. When asked about the constitutionality of the voter bill he was discussing, the Attorney General was reported as replying that he had shown the draft to the Chief Justice and four other members of the Court, and said, "they enthusiastically approved it."

It appears that opponents of this brazen expansion of federal power are playing with a stacked deck!

Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Hildebrand are vacationing in Old Mexico. The flew to El Paso last Saturday and will join a group for a tour of Mexico—part of it on a train.

Lee Hunt, who has been visiting relatives in El Paso, Pecos and Odessa, returned home last Saturday morning. No sooner had he arrived here than he was taken to a San Angelo hospital for an operation. He had the operation and returned to the local hospital for a stay.

For Social Security

Will your social security monthly retirement check be $100 or $120? If your wife claims her payments when she's 62, will they increase when she reaches 65? These are some of the questions you might like to have answered before you retire. Floyd B. Ellington, District Manager of the office in San Angelo said it's a good idea to visit their office about three months before that date. There is an advantage of your applying well ahead of time. Most applications go through without any trouble, but every once in a while someone has trouble proving his age or providing some other form of needed evidence. When that happens everything grinds to a stop until a satisfactory age or birth record or other proof is supplied. If you wait until you retire to make your claim, and you don't have the records you need, your first check may be delayed. If you don't need your social security right away, it won't matter, but most folks count on that first check as part of their post-retirement budget.

When you visit the social security office three months before retirement, there are some records you'll need to take. The best way to find out what you should take is to phone ahead. In addition to a record of your age, you may need to take your last withholding tax statement. If your wife is 62 and wants to apply for benefits also, she'll need a record of her age. If you call the social security office before you pay the pre-retirement visit, they can tell you exactly what you'll need. If there's some record you don't have, they can usually help you get it. Helping people with retirement claims is their business. For example, they know the best, and quickest way to get a record of your age.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Stamford blossoms out with a bouquet of community improvements

Projects totaling $1,300,000 are under way or recently completed in Stamford covering a multitude of community improvements. In addition to church and school construction, new commercial buildings, a $206,000 new home program and major utility expansions, the city has a record breaking $209,000 street paving and sewer improvement program. Stamford is one of the many towns in our service area engaged in community development programs of this type. The Stamford record is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS showing what can be done in community development, improving the chances of continued economic growth and attraction of new industry to the town. Growth conscious towns are invited to contact their local WTU manager for assistance from our area development representatives.

A Newspaper Depends on Advertising
 A Town Depends on Trade . . .

A newspaper can no more survive by simply selling papers than a restaurant can make money by serving only free ice water.

It is through advertising that a newspaper is able to make its way.

Many Sterling City firms advertise regularly in The Sterling City News-Record. Study their advertisements each week . . . you can trade at home and save at home.

Our merchants who advertise are serving a two-fold purpose. They are helping to support the community's newspaper, which the community needs, and serving the public by listing their goods and services at competitive prices.

We cannot survive without our advertisers. They cannot survive without you.

Read your hometown newspaper and support the hometown merchants who use its advertising columns.

AROUND
COUNTY
by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The field day at the Rocker branch at Barnhart last Thursday was well attended in spite of the cold weather. Dr. Jan C. Bonsma, visiting professor at Texas A&M, presented his program on the functional efficiency of beef cattle to better than 600 persons at the ranch.

Dr. Bonsma has devoted many years to research and observations on the points that he stressed at the program. He uses many of the points that good ranchers use in determining whether a cow is producing and is capable of paying her way during her lifetime. However, he has developed these points further and probably to a finer degree than most anyone else. In addition, he is practical in his application of the points and principles.

One of his points was well illustrated when a young bull was brought into the pen. The calf, about 12-14 months of age, and on feed, was in what some would call show condition. Dr. Bonsma emphatically stated that there was no place for such fat on a bull, that far too many bulls were ruined by fat.

In spite of cold weather, the crowd was large. The barn used for the first part of the program slide pictures and a talk to illustrate the points, was packed. It finally reached the point where the only way a latecomer could get in the barn was for one of the early-comers to leave. No one left the outdoor part of the program either.

Seventeen Sterling County ranchers were present for the program. Those I saw there were Clinton Hodges, Dayton Barrett, Charles Probandt, Riley King, Larry Glass, Lynn Glass, Jim Davis, Bill Humble, Tommy Foster, William Foster, Reynolds Foster, Ross Foster, Finis Westbrook, I.W. Terry, Alvie Cole, Lee Reed and Chesley McDonald. There may have been some others that I did not see.

Sterling County livestock producers are urged to keep a watch for suspected screw-worm cases in their livestock for the next few months. Now that shearing is underway, there is more chance for worm infestations in shearing cuts. If summer or spring ever gets here, between the winters we are having, the possibility of worms will increase. Even though we got through last year without a single confirmed case of screwworms, there is a definite need to maintain the vigilance of the past few years and report all suspected cases with samples.

Tommy Foster has brought in the first suspected case of the year. The sample, taken from a goat recently sheared, has been sent to the laboratory at Mission for positive identification. The results of this sample should be reported in the next few days.

Checks for more than $4,000 dollars are going to fifty-five 4-H Club and FFA members this week who took part in the Sterling County Livestock the latter part of January. All the money had been received by the sale clerk, Worth Durham, a few days before the start of the San Angelo show, but there was not time to do the necessary work on balancing the sales and prize money due each exhibitor before the Angelo show.

The Sterling show has been growing steadily the last few years. This year fifty-one exhibitors sold lambs in the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lindley of Durant, Oklahoma visited the Cledis Smiths here over the weekend. Mrs. Lindley is Mrs. Smith's sister.

Civil Service Needs Landscape Architects

"The beauty of our land is a natural resource. Its preservation is linked to the inner prosperity of the human spirit. Our land will be attractive tomorrow only if we organize for action and rebuild and reclaim the beauty we inherited. Our stewardship will be judged by the foresight with which we carry out these programs. We must rescue our cities and countryside from blight with the same purpose and vigor with which, in other areas, we moved to save the forests and the soil."

With these words President Johnson completed his recent message to the Congress on the natural beauty of our country.

In the Federal Government, a key figure in planning national forests recreational and resort areas, national parks and highways, airports, and military installations is the professional landscape architect. It will be Landscape Architects employed by the National Park Service, the Forest Service, the Corps of Engineers, and by other Federal agencies to whom will fall the task of carrying out the program developed by the President and the Congress.

Appointments to these positions ranging in pay from $5,990 to $16,460 a year in the Federal service will be made from the new examination just announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission. The specific educational and experience requirements are described in Announcement No. 353-B.

Applications should be filed with the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, National Park Service, 1100 Ohio Drive S.W., Washington, D. C.

Announcements and appropriate application forms may be obtained from many post offices located throughout the country, or from the Board of Civil Service Examiners at the above address.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK AT METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY MORNING

Mr. Seavy A. Carroll, from Lumberton and Fayetteville, North Carolina, will speak at the Methodist Church here at the morning service Sunday. Such announcement was made by pastor Rev. Leo Ross this week. Mr. Carroll gave up a lucrative law practice and a promising political career to become a Methodist missionary to Africa.

Since 1960 Mr. Carroll has been a missionary in Rhodesia (formerly Southern Rhodesia), where the Methodist Church has a considerable concentration of mission activity, including educational, medical and religious work.

Mr. Carroll was commissioned a regular missionary of the Methodist Church at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., in 1959, and a year later he was assigned to the Church's mission station at Mutambara, Rhodesia. He was school principal and manager there for 18 months, and then became school superintendent at the Nyadiri mission station.

Before returning to the United States recently on a years furlough, he was director of publicity and promotion for the church in Rhodesia.

Mr. Carroll is a graduate of Wake Forest College and Wake Forest Law School. He practiced law for 12 years in Fayetteville, North Carolina. He was Solicitor for the Cumberland County Court from 1948 to 1952. From 1952 to 1956 he was County Judge, and served as State Senator from 1958 to 1960, when he went into missionary service.

WTU SPONSORING ATOMIC SYMPOSIUM

Outstanding high school students from the San Angelo area will attend a symposium on atomic energy featuring some of the nation's leading scientists to be held April 1 on the campus of San Angelo College.

The all day conference will be sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company and SAC.

It is the hope of WTU that this program will not only prove to be extremely informative to the high school students but will also be an inspiration to those students who may be considering science as a career.

The program has been arranged by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation of which WTU is a member. The Foundation, which is composed of 10 investor owned electric utility companies in Texas, is engaged in a program of nuclear fusion research with the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation seeking to harness the energy process of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful purposes, including the generation of electric power.

An outstanding scientist, Dr. Martin Stern, will appear on the program. He is from General Atomic's John Jay Hopkins Laboratory in San Diego, California where the fusion research is being carried out.

Other speakers at the conference will include Dr. W.T. Guy, Chairman of the department of math at the University of Texas; Dr. B.H. Amstead, Associate Dean, College of Engineering at the University of Texas; Dr. Harold P. Hanson, chairman of the department of physics at the University of Texas; and Howard R. Drew, Executive Vice President for the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

Nuclear fusion is the process which provides the power for the hydrogen bomb and is responsible for the energy of the sun and the stars. The Foundation program is the world's first and largest privately-financed project in the field of controlled fusion research.

About 600 students will attend the symposium representing high schools in cities from a wide area of West Texas served by WTU. Many will be accompanied by science teachers.

The sessions will be held in the SAC Auditorium. WTU will be host to the students and teachers at a luncheon on the day of the symposium.

The election will be held in the city hall on that date.
