City Of Muleshoe Ends '82 In 'Pretty Good Shape'

In a regular City Council meeting on Tuesday, the last one of the year most likely, Muleshoe City Councilmen were told by Randy Field of Williams Adair Suduth CPA'S that the City of Muleshoe ended the year in fairly good shape, with tax collections being on the upswing side of things. City Manager Dave Marr cited the Bailey County Appraisal District for their part in the collections, stating that since changes in collection procedures had been initiated, citizens considered it more feasible now to pay their taxes on time to avoid the penalties and interest that accrues. The Council accepted the audit as approved and also approved a November financial statement which was offered. More details of the city's fiscal end of year finances will be covered in a later article.

Municipal Airport. A public hearing on the proposed relocation of this airport was held during the regular council meeting and funding sources versus outlay of funds was discussed. This funding also includes a $90 thousand grant from the TAC for this facility. As the project now stands $917,000 in funds is available and the total projected cost of the plan is the same. The largest point in favor of the new proposal is that after all is said and done, Muleshoe will have a nice, convenient and accessible airport for virtually no outlay of funds on the part of the City.

Also up for Council's attention was the two year consideration of depository bids submitted by both local banks for the handling of funds for the City of Muleshoe. Bob Finney of Muleshoe State Bank and Ted Barnhill of First National were at Council to make their presentations, giving amounts of interests and explaining all phases and things each bank had to offer the City. While both proposals were comparable, Council members elected to go with the Muleshoe State Bank for another two years due to the fact that the MSB proposal had a floor on the rate of interest which would protect the city.

Gerry Pierce, a citizen of Muleshoe met with Council with regard to questions about the Jail School held in Muleshoe last week. He questioned council as to why the school fees were not paid for city policemen, as well as their salary during the days they attended. Marr countered with the fact that it was not the City's responsibility to incarcerate subjects, just to arrest them. Other items were covered in the school, according to one who attended some of the sessions.

Council authorized under the act governing the Texas Municipal Retirement System, "Updated Service Credits" in said system for service performed by qualifying members of such system in the employment of the city of Muleshoe - to provide for increased prior and current service annuities.

A MULESHOE WELCOME....Dr. Max Shauck of Baylor University piloted an alcohol-fueled plane into Muleshoe at about 1 p.m. on Sunday and landed at the Longhorn Alcohol Plant where he re-fueled to continue his journey. If all goes well, he plans to make Washington by January 1 with enough information to open a lot of doors to the alcohol industry.

Officials Supply Data On Alcohol-Related Offenses

The Journal's interest in the proposed new DWI crackdown led this reporter to the Police Department and to the Bailey County Sheriff's office for statistics with which to compare the past year to 1981's with public intoxication and other drunk related charges as well as the actual charges of driving while intoxicated.

Bailey County Sheriff Bob Henderson told the Journal that according to Jail Book records, the county had processed 124 "Driving While Intoxicated" charges through the county jail over the past year up until December 17, 1982, with one of the largest 'catch-all' seasons still to come in the Christmas and New Year's Holidays. In 1981 fifty-five persons were arrested for DWI. In 1982, 124, well over double the 1981 figures, were arrested for DWI. A total of 79 more offenders were processed through Bailey County Courts for 1982 than were in 1981.

Officials - Local, State Concerned Over DWI, Alcohol-Related Offenses

The following article is a public service by the Journal through the cooperation of Linda Guelker, County Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Bailey County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems. DWI-EVERYONE'S PROBLEM

According to County Attorney Linda Guelker, this coming January Texas Legislature will consider several bills to stiffen the penalties for drunk driving. A recent survey showed that 85 percent of all Americans believe drunk driving to be a very serious problem but many probably don't realize how serious. Here are some facts:

*Drunk drivers kill 26,000 Americans every year - one every 23 minutes.
*More Americans have died at the hands of drunk drivers during the past two years than have died in the ten years in Viet Nam.
*Alcohol-related crashes are the number 1 cause of death in Americans 16-24 years of age.
*One of every two Americans will be involved in a DWI collision in his/her lifetime.
*On an average weekend night, one out of every ten drivers on the road is drunk.

Dr. Max Shauck, a doctor of Mathematics at Baylor University and Mike Corpi a filming instructor, also from Baylor, could well go down in the annals of the alcohol fuel industry in the years to come, due to an alcohol-fueled flight they are making now.

Dr. Shauck and his associate landed Sunday afternoon about 1 p.m. at Longhorn Alcohol Plant north of Muleshoe for refueling with the 190 proof alcohol, manufactured and distilled at the Longhorn Plant under the direction of its owner Leon Wilson and his son, Wade.

Many alcohol producers in this area have cooperated with this pilot program in hopes of getting a "thing going on with alcohol use," Wilson stated. Charmec Energy Corporation hauled alcohol fuel to Sweetwater to fuel the plane there after its original start from Waco, Texas. Autry Enterprises have also had an expressed interest in the venture.

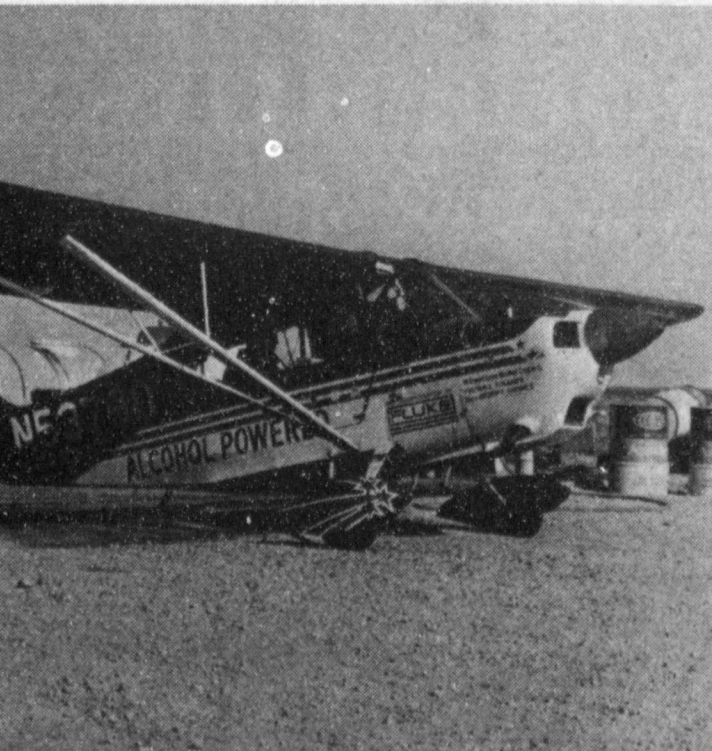

The man who is apparently making the propeller go around is a Department of Energy official in Washington, Bill Holmberg. Holmberg has chartered the flight, contacted producers for the fuel, (which was all donated); and, hopes in the end to have enough information from this trial run to provide the FAA with enough proof to obtain a strategic technical category. If this happens, (Holmberg says that many FAA officials are cooperative) the alcohol industry could be off to a booming start in Court Dockets "Lighten-Up" In Municipal Courts over the past week, Judge Linda Huckaby processed a total of 18 fines paid. The period of time ranged from December 14 until December 21.

Three fines paid were for bad checks, two for speeding, two for public intoxication, two for expired plates, and two for illegal parking.

One case each was disposed of on the following: no liability insurance, defective brakes, failure to appear, no drivers license, illegal U-turn, expired drivers license and expired MVI.

Judge Huckaby filed a total of thirteen cases over the period in question. Two cases were filed each on the following violations: speeding, expired license plates, and public intoxication. One case each was filed on the following: expired drivers license, non valid MVI, defective brakes, running stop sign, no drivers license, failure to drive in a single lane and illegal parking of a vehicle.

ALCOHOL-FUELED FLIGHT LANDS HERE....An airplane fueled on 190 proof alcohol (ethanol) landed at Longhorn Alcohol Plant, north of Muleshoe Sunday afternoon in route to the West Coast. A number of local alcohol producers contributed time and fuel to this venture, which could possibly be a boon to both agriculture and oil problems.

Creative Woman

By Sheryl Borden

The topics for "The Creative Woman" show on December 28 and January 1 are very different but each one important. One topic deals with the subject of a post-mortem letter to a spouse. A post-mortem letter to a spouse serves as a supplement to the actual will -- it does not take the place of a will. Jewell Limacher, Extension Home Economist from Roswell will discuss this topic with us.

The ABC's of sprouting will be demonstrated by Home Economist Beverly Harder from Hereford. As she will explain, anyone can grow sprouts in their own kitchen in an empty jar. Most sprouts will be germinated in three to five days, depending on the kind of seeds and the room temperature. Mrs. Harder will show how to do this and explain what to use sprouts for. Mrs. Harder is associated with Arrowhead Mills.

On December 30, the topics will be on insulated clothing, types and forms of rice and a short story narrated by Gold Medalist, Dorothy Hamill. Ms. Hamill loves to sew and now designs patterns for the Butterick Pattern Co.

Kris O'Brien is Home Economist and spokeswoman for the Rice Council in Houston and she will discuss the different types and forms of rice and talk about nutrition and cooking characteristics, as well as flavor and texture of rice.

Another guest, Elizabeth Chapman from Albuquerque will discuss insulation in clothing and distinguish between garments with "Down" insulation and those having a synthetic insulation. Ms. Chapman is co-owner of Mountains and Rivers Sporting Goods in Albuquerque.

Each contestant had earned championships in their county to advance to the district meet.

Four-H'ers from Bailey County and their awards were: Shelley Sain, blue ribbon, Tamara Gilliland, red ribbon; Zanna Huckaly, blue ribbon; and Holly Huckaby, blue ribbon.

Jim Bob Carver took top honors in the main dish category with his "Autumn Festival Beef Pie," a double-crust dish combining beef and green beans seasoned with onion, tomato soup and spices. Cindy Greaves second-place entry was "Shrimp-Stuffed Tomato Blossoms," blending shrimp, pineapple, and walnuts into a stuffing for fresh tomatoes.

In fruits and vegetables, Kayla Gentry won with a simple salad combining cauliflower with frozen sweet peas and chopped celery. Shelley Sain served up fresh vegetable sticks with a tangy dip with a cream cheese base.

Winning entry in the breads and cereals was Donna Stout's "Whole Grain Honey Bread." It combined whole wheat flour, rolled oats, pecans and honey in a yeast bread. Runner-up was Jene' Nance with her homemade crisp crackers.

Taste-tempting apricot nut bars captured the prize for Donna Smith in the snacks and desserts category. Second place went to Marie Hooper and her "Festive Spinach Treats," a baked hors d'oeuvre blending frozen chopped spinach and herb stuffing with additional seasonings.

The dishes were judged by a panel of professional home economists and homemakers. Contestants were quizzed on nutritional values, preparation methods and costs of preparation.

The show is one aspect of the year-round foods and nutrition project in 4-H, explained Dr. Catherine Crawford, district director with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. 4-H is the youth program of Extension.

Alcohol Plane

be done to an engine in order for it to run effectively on alcohol fuel. Number one is that a small adjustment has to be made in the fuel injection for a larger flow to allow for more fuel. Shauck usually starts the engine of his 150 HP Decathlon Plane on gas when it is cold. He will have flown over 6,000 miles on fuel alcohol by the time he completes this trial run. In a Monday interview via telephone with Bill Holmberg of the DOE in Washington, he stated that this trial run is not actually the brainchild of the DOE but is supported by an interested group of persons at Baylor University, a man named Gus Glasscock and the American Aeronautics Association.

Holmberg stated that with the congressional PIK or payment in kind package on the heels of every farmer around, there is "no reason for farmers to be forced to let this grain set around on the ground and rot." With a little imagination, a much better picture of the farming industry can be painted when and if, fuel alcohol becomes "in favor" with the government.

"There is so much surplus corn and grain that could be used to reduce our need for imported oil in the U.S.," Holmberg stated. "Things are looking up for the alcohol industry, people are listening and congress is interested in it as a way to get rid of the surpluses and re-develop the world markets."

Holmberg would advise farmers, producers and consumers to talk to their

Congressmen and engage them as allies in this pursuit. "This could well be the survival answer that the farming industry needs," stated Holmberg, while he is not so naive to think that it is a cure-all.

There is a lot of work to be done, a lot of hard work, and we (the people who are interested in the most) are the ones who will have to do it. There are about ten alcohol plants located within a 50-60 mile radius of Muleshoe - Clovis area, and according to Holmberg, this could well be the hot spot - the place where it all can happen, if it gets the support it needs.

While Dr. Shauck's flight is not the first flight, it is the most extensive and the most documented to date. About two other flights have been made on methanol, which is not as high octane as ethanol is, and is not believed to be as effective.

"We have the environmentalists on our side for a change, this go-round," the Doctor stated, "because alcohol is such a clean burning fuel." This should be a point in alcohol's favor.

The Journal expects to get updates of the flight and how well or however it is doing and will be waiting for news as to whether or not Dr. Shauck is able to get enough documentation hours in to allow the continuance of this experiment. He believes in the cause he is working for and knows that alcohol can beat gas, when it comes right down to it. This has been proven in automobiles and will be proven even further by the time the flight has finished.

Court...

While some of these records will be duplicated through the jail book, (Especially the DWI's) some will not. City police processed a total of 52 DWI offenders, 106 public intoxication offenders and 13 alcohol related offenders (possession, bootlegging, etc.) for the period mentioned.

We asked the Chief to break the total of 171 down into age groups, and by far, it would seem that the alcohol-related problems in Bailey County lie within that age group from age 20 to 29. Police records show that 77 out of the 171 offenders are between the ages of 20 and 29. The next highest age group of offenders is these ranging from age 40-50 with 26 offenders. Thereafter, the age groups do not seem to deviate much with 18 being under age 20, 17 being between 30-40, 19 between 50-60 and eleven from 60-70. Only one offender was listed at the age of 70 and over.

A follow-up on this story regarding the disposition of DWI, public intoxications and other alcohol related offenses will be covered in the next DWI article.

Drunk Driving

behavior. What can you do to help?

As an individual, parent or concerned citizen you can do the following things: Besides being responsible for our own behavior, be responsible for others. Every drunk driver is a potential killer. Friends don't let friends drive drunk. It sometimes takes courage to be a good friend. Have the friend stay the night with you, take the keys away, call a taxi and pay for it. It's cheaper than a funeral. The friend may become angry, but when sober he will know you cared enough to draw the line.

Drunk driving is the number one killer of men and women in their teens. And regardless of all the other drugs, alcohol is still the number one choice of drugs of young Americans. Chances are very good that your teenager will one day have to decide whether to get into a car about to be driven by a drunk. He/She must be prepared to say no. Talk with your teenager about the problem and what he/she thinks about it. Make sure your child knows that his or her safety is more important than going to pick him or her up at 2:00 in the morning, or in getting the car home.

Speak up whenever alcohol abuse is portrayed as an amusing or socially accepted form of behavior. Write letters of protest to television stations and other media who glamorize drinking. Support local authorities who are making a determined effort to deal with the drinking driver. Support community groups who are working to alleviate the problem. Promote alcohol safety education. Education is by far the most potent weapon available in the struggle against drunk driving. You can't change the way people act until you change the way they think.

Write a letter. Save a life. This slogan has been adopted by MADD (mothers Against Drunk Drivers) and it couldn't be truer, especially now when Texas will attempt to pass legislation this next January to stiffen DWI laws. The people are the most powerful lobbyists in this State. If Texans demand passage of new laws, they will be passed.

The next article on DWI will give a summary of some of the proposed new laws which will be considered this January by your legislature.

This article is provided by The Prosecutor Council in cooperation with your local prosecutor.

Wishing you a
MERRY
CHRISTMAS

Local Girls

Mom's Graduates

From STSU

Frankie Sue Sortland of Muleshoe, Texas was among the 1,139 Southwest Texas State University students who filed for degrees awarded in winter commencement ceremonies Dec. 18 at Strahan Coliseum.

Keynote speaker for the mid-year commencement was State Rep. Don Rains of San Marcos, himself a graduate of SWT.

Of the 1,139 December degree candidates, 973 were from the university's seven undergraduate schools and the Occupational Education program. Fifteen were candidates for associate degrees from the School of Health Professions while 151 applied for master's degrees from the Graduate School.

Sortland, mother of Mrs. Pam Shipman, Route 1, received a bachelor of science in health professions degree with a major in health care administration course will be related to swine production; however, the educational emphasis will be directed toward improving the participants' understanding of business procedures, said Dr. Robert S. Cohen, swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock.

The short course will be conducted in three concurrent sessions of two programs each. Thus a participant can take part in three of the six topics to be discussed.

Registration fee for the short course will be $50. Additional information can be obtained from Dr. Robert S. Cohen, Extension Swine Specialist, or Dr. Gary Condra, Extension Economist, Route 3, Box 213AA, Lubbock, Texas 79401, or by telephoning 806/746-6101. Enrollment for the short course will be limited. Cohen said an interested producer can register in advance by sending his name and address and enclosing a registration check for $50, payable to Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Young people don't have to copy the examples of their parents, fortunately.

Cotton Harvest Resumes Under Fair Skies

Skies cleared over the Texas High Plains last weekend and encouraged farmers to resume the two-thirds completed cotton harvest. Growers took advantage of the "down time" to make some marketing decisions according to Mack Bennett, Area Director of USDA's Marketing Services Office in Lubbock.

Equities of 1981-crop in Commodity Credit's loan program brought growers $10 to $30 per bale. Highest prices were for grades 52 and lower, mike 32 and lower with loan entry dates of March and later, Bennett said. Mixed lots of 1982-crop cotton having grades 42 and better, staples 30 - 32, mike 35 - 49 brought growers 75 to 250 points over Commodity Credit loan rates.

Cotton merchant's demand remained light to moderate as growers offered more freely.

USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock classed 39,000 samples during the week ended December 16 for a season's total of 439,000. This compares with 883,000 classed by the same date last year.

Predominant grades were grade 42 at 39 percent, grade 32 was 28 percent, grade 52 amounted to 10 percent and grade 43 accounted for eight percent. About 15 percent was reduced one grade because of bark and seven percent for grass.

Predominant staples were staple 31 at 36 percent, staple 32 accounted for 23 percent and staple 30 was 14 percent for an average of 31.6 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Mike 35 - 49 was 80 percent, 33 - 34 accounted for nine percent, 30 - 32 was eight percent and 27 - 29 amounted to three percent for an average of 38.

Breaking strength for the week averaged 24.2 grams per tex.

U.S. textile mills report denim, athletic goods, underwear and fine-count yarns represent some of the better selling products. Mills making these goods have been operating on five or six day work schedules per week. Mills producing slower selling household and industrial products remain on shortened schedules

Local Law Agencies Busy - Set For More During Holidays

Muleshoe City Police and Bailey County Law Enforcement officers have been busy over the past week with both the police department and the sheriff's office handling their share of local offenders. DPS troopers have also been in on the action as well.

On December 20, Ramiro Rodriguez was arrested on charges of DWI and transportation of alcoholic beverages on September 24 outstanding warrants. He was fined a total of $530 before release by Bailey County Judge Glen Williams.

A salesman at Robert Green, Incorporated reported to city police an apparent criminal mischief involving a dent in the hood of a Chevrolet automobile parked on the Green lot.

Delma Garcia was arrested on warrants in December after failure to appear on traffic warrants having to do with no liability insurance. She paid a fine and restitution prior to her release.

On December 1, Glen Splawn reported to city police vandalism done to an auto belonging to him while it was parked at a local restaurant. Someone scratched the paint and vinyl top with a sharp instrument. No suspects were named. An apparent entry to a house belonging to Joe Gear, was observed by him, when a Mexican male was seen going into the Gear residence, using a key to let himself in. After a police check of the residence, it was revealed that no one was inside and nothing was gone. Kevin Jay Robinson was arrested on December 19 on a charge of driving while intoxicated after he was stopped by local police. He was given a breath test and booked into jail. The vehicle he was driving was released to the owner, a female, who accompanied Robinson. Also arrested on the 19th of December was Guadalupe Gloria. Gloria was charged with DWI and issuance of bad checks, after officers stopped him for erratic driving. He was arrested then on a bad check warrant out of Lamb County.

Jose Carrion was arrested on December 18 and charged with the sale of alcoholic beverages at 403 West Date in Muleshoe. Beer, wine, and whiskey was found in the house after officers performed a search of the premises. Also arrested at the same time was Henry Carrion for possession of alcoholic beverages. The arrests came about in cooperation with a request by the Friona Police Department for aid in this case. Officers of the law made purchases of alcohol at the Carrion residence.

On December 18 the Muleshoe Police arrested a subject at 403 West Date for possession of Prohibited weapons. The suspect had in his possession a 12 gauge sawed-off shotgun with about 15 inch barrels.

Tony Guzman was arrested on December 19 on a public intoxication charge following his appearance at the local police station in an intoxicated condition. He was arrested and jailed in the Bailey County jail. On December 19, Jose Eduardo Sierra was arrested and charged with public intoxication. He was placed in Bailey County jail pending bond. Also on December 18 Grace Gordon of 221 East 4th reported an apparent burglary of her home, however a check of the premises revealed nothing missing nor damages inside the home.

Taylor Express Mart reported to City Police that on December 18, two grain trucks pulled into their station, filled their tanks with about 125 gallons of diesel fuel and drove away, west bound without paying for the fuel. No charges have yet been filed, although license numbers indicated the trucks being from Iowa.

On December 19, Manuel Balderas reported the theft of license plates from an auto. The plates were taken without the owners' consent and were removed from an auto parked in front of Balderas' home. West Plains Medical Center reported to police on December 19 that a copper line outside the building in the back of the structure had been cut or broken. The line was from the nitrous oxide bottles there. There were apparently some witnesses to the incident, but further details were unknown at this time.

On December 8, during the snow and ice spell in Muleshoe, a minor 'fender-bender' was reported on the Pay-N-Save parking lot; also, on December 15, a juvenile was involved in an accident with a parked automobile on the Baker Farm Supply parking lot.

George E. Williams was arrested by the Department of Public Safety on December 11 on a warrant and later fined $35 and released. On December 10, Alfred Lopez was arrested on a charge of public intoxication by city officers and was later released. On December 11, Jim Norman was arrested by local police and charged with DWI. He was released after posting $265 cash bond. On December 13 Carlos Contreras

(a Mexican national) was arrested on a public intoxication charge and later released to the Border Patrol officers. Ernesto Madera was arrested by City Police on December 13 on a charge of DWI. He paid a $280 fine with court costs prior to release.

On December 13, Ronald D. Bruns was arrested by the Sheriff's officers on a charge of Contempt of Court. He was sentenced to ten days in jail plus the payment of $400 in back child support. On December 15, Ricky L. Vaughn was arrested by Sheriff's officers on a burglary charge. He was released after posting $3500 property bond.

Kevin J. Robinson was arrested by the city on December 19 and charged with DWI. He was later released on $750 property bond. On December 9 Tony Guzman was arrested on a charge of public intoxication and paid a $75 fine to the City.

Sheriff Henderson stated that six persons are currently incarcerated in the Bailey County Jail on a boarding agreement with Randall County as of December 17.

On December 20, Ramiro Rodriguez was arrested by city police on a capias pro warrant and was later released after paying $530 fine. Martine Porras was arrested by the Sheriff's department on the investigation of a burglary and later released to the Border Patrol.

Three others were also arrested by the SO and released later to the border patrol. They were Jesus G. Ochoa, Armando Romero and Manuel Gonzalez.

On December 17, Sheriff's deputies received a report from Larry Ross who lives in the Needmore area indicating that a break-in of his home had occurred. Items missing included two television sets and a 12 gauge pump shotgun. The burglars apparently entered the home through a broken-in window close to a door which they could reach in and unlock.

Another rural burglary was reported to the Sheriff on December 19 by Howard Zimmerman, who lives approximately three miles out on FM 1760. Burglars had forced open a back door of the home taking numerous items - among them were two shotguns, items of clothing, ammunition, silver dollars and other change, an AM-FM stereo with four speakers and several items of jewelry.

These burglaries are currently under investigation by the Bailey County Sheriff's office.

Make Christmas Bike Rides Safe

Imagine the joy of a child upon discovering a brand new bicycle under the Christmas tree. Make sure the first bike ride begins a lifelong habit of safe bicycling. Don't let safety go out with the wrapping.

The very first thing a child should learn about riding a bike is how to ride it safely. Bicyclists must follow the same rules of the road cars follow.

Nelson Mueller, head of the Texas Safety Association's section of home and leisure activities urges parents to teach their children to ride safely, even on Christmas day.

"About half the people killed each year in car-pedal accidents are children under 14 years old," Mueller warns. "These youngsters will obey safety rules if they are taught."

The following guidelines can help parents teach safe bike riding:

- *Bike operators must obey traffic regulations, signs, signals and markings just like cars.
- *Observe all local ordinances pertaining to bicycle operation.
- *Keep right, drive with traffic, not against it. Ride single file.
- *Drive bikes defensively by watching out for the other guy.
- *Watch out for drain gates, soft shoulders and other road surface hazards.
- Be alert for car doors opening or for cars pulling out into traffic.

*Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with vision or control.

*Never hitch a ride on a truck or other vehicle.

*Exercise extreme care at all intersections, particularly when turning left.

*Use hand signals to indicate turning or stopping.

*Bikers should be protected at night with the required reflectors and lights.

*Ride a safe bike. Have it inspected to ensure good mechanical condition.

The meek seem to be having a long run for their money while waiting to inherit the earth.

Year End Tax Strategies Decision For Farmers

With 1982 winding down, farmers and ranchers need to take a close look at their income tax situation. A few smart decisions to adjust income or expenditures before the end of the year might save considerable tax dollars.

"To find out where you stand on 1982 taxable income, use last year's tax tables and schedules and subtract 10 percent," says the economist. "For a rough estimate of 1983 taxes, subtract another 10 percent. Remember that the maximum capital gains tax on the sale of land, machinery or other investments is 20 percent."

"The general purpose of yearned tax planning is to level out taxable income from year to year to avoid jumping through several tax brackets from one year to the next," notes the economist.

However, 1982 offers a certain dilemma for many agricultural producers. With another tax reduction (about 10 percent) slated for 1983, producers may feel inclined to shift some taxable income into next year, particularly if 1982 taxable income will be above average.

On the other hand, pushing income into 1983 could be a costly mistake if income prospects for next year look better or if such action will create a net operating loss (NOL) this year.

"Avoiding a NOL is important from several standpoints," says Ahrenholz. "Personal deductions and exemptions should add up to at least $5,400 for a couple with no dependent children and $7,400 for a family of four. If incomes does not equal these levels, these allowances will be lost."

Social Security retirement benefits also will be affected by low net earnings in preretirement years. And contributions to a Keogh or IRA retirement plan may be affected if taxable income falls too low. Producers might also be able to defer paying certain taxes and interest until next year. And shifting capital assets bought before 1981 from a rapid method of depreciation to straight line depreciation can postpone deductions.

"Farmers also can boost their 1982 income by making sure they receive payment for grain and livestock sales before year-end," Ahrenholz explains. "In addition, they can receive advance diversion and deficiency payments when they sign up for the 1983 wheat, feedgrain and cotton programs."

CCC crop loan proceeds can also be included in income in the year received. Once this practice is started, however, it must be continued in future years.

Accurate Records

Needed By Taxpayers

Keeping accurate financial records is probably one of the best tax saving actions that a taxpayer can take, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

When the time comes for filing a federal tax return, good records can mean the difference between filing an accurate return or an inaccurate one, the Internal Revenue Service says. Also, good records can ensure that taxpayers take all the deductions and benefits to which they are entitled.

Taxpayers are not required to use a specific recordkeeping system. However, receipts, cancelled checks, bills, old returns, and other written documents are essential in proving expenses. Tax records should be kept at least three years after the return is due or filed, or two years after the tax was paid, whichever is later.

An exception to the three year retention rule is a property transaction, such as the purchase of real estate. These records should be kept for as long as they are helpful in determining the basis of original or replacement property.

More detailed information about recordkeeping appears in the free IRS Publication 552, "Record-keeping Requirements and a List of Tax Publications." Taxpayers can obtain the free publication by mail by using the handy order blank contained in the tax package or by calling the IRS Tax Forms Information number listed in the local telephone directory.

To avoid a NOL, producers might consider selling certain assets that will eventually be sold anyway. Giltis might be sold instead of sows to create ordinary income instead of capital gains. Machinery that is depreciated-out might be sold instead of traded, resulting in ordinary income in 1982.

To delay 1982 income so as to take advantage of a lower tax rate next year, simply avoid receipt of income from any 1982 sales through a deferred payment agreement with the buyer, suggests the economist. Producers also have the option to delay counting until next year crop insurance proceeds, federal crop disaster payments and income from forced sales of livestock from federally designated drought areas.

"Farmers and ranchers can also step up deductions to postpone 1982 income," explains Ahrenholz. "This simply means to pay for and take delivery of equipment and supplies before yearend. Qualified farmers may also prepay certain 1983 expenses this year, including taxes, interest and lease payments."

The Texas Consumer Association Education Fund's Report from Austin

By Rebecca Lightsey, Director

Their job is over, their work is done. Time to move on.

For Vietnam veterans, though, moving on is not easy. Their job overseas may be finished, but for ten years they have been ignored in their struggle to re-adapt to civilian life after having risked their lives and health in the most controversial war in U.S. history.

Just how serious a struggle these men and women -- and their families -- are facing is reflected in shocking statistics:

*The suicide rate for Vietnam veterans is 33 percent higher than the national average. 57,000 lost their lives in Vietnam; 47,000 have taken their lives since then.

*181,000 have died since their return, for unknown reasons.

*Alcoholism rate is double the national average.

*5,000 veterans are now serving time in Texas prisons.

Nearly all veterans are still suffering mentally or physically:

*85 percent experience a severe rash which is resistant to treatment.

*71 percent have joint pains.

*80 percent extreme fatigue.

*73 percent experience depression.

*45 percent are plagued with uncontrollable fits of violent rage.

Estimates indicate that, of the 2.5 million veterans, possibly as many as one million suffer symptoms related to delayed stress syndrome. It is not uncommon for a combat veteran to be haunted by guilt feelings about his involvement in the war. He may sink into long periods of depression or be tormented by flashbacks and nightmares. Often, he becomes socially withdrawn and finds close relationships with his family and friends difficult to maintain. Those who have been plagued with fits of rage may find themselves in prison.

These men desperately deserve help. They deserve help in coping with the "growth process," of trying to put Vietnam into perspective. They need proper medical attention for their health problems, many of which are possibly related to exposure to Agent Orange. We owe them our sensitivity to the predicament in which they find themselves and our support in their struggle to deal with the Vietnam experience on a day-to-day basis.

Fortunately a few sensitive, aware Texans are meeting some of these needs. Through a statewide organization, the Brotherhood of Vietnam Veterans -- through programs with the Mental Health/Mental Retardation agencies and the Veterans Administration -- through the Health Department's testing of health problems possibly related to Agent Orange -- some veterans are getting assistance.

At present, however, these services are available only to a very few men. The Brotherhood of Vietnam Veterans is striving to expand the level of assistance and support these men receive. This group was instrumental in passing the state law requiring Agent Orange testing. They have established self-help groups for veterans, veterans in prisons, and wives of veterans. They work to see that veterans get proper medical attention from the Veterans Administration and help individuals file claims and disability forms. But there is still much work to be done.

If you would like to know more about veterans dilemmas or about the work of the Brotherhood, write Dan or Donna Jordan, Brotherhood of Vietnam Veterans, 2605B Jones Road, Austin, Texas 78745.

Local Man's Brother Dies In Arlington

Services for Horace G. "Sunshine" Krebbs of Arlington were held at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at Moore Funeral Home Chapel in Arlington with the Rev. Hiram Johnson of Aldergate United Methodist Church officiating.

Interment was in Moore Memorial Gardens in Arlington with Masonic graveside services under the direction of Moore Funeral Home. Krebbs died at 3:25 p.m. Sunday.

at Arlington Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Krebbs, known as "Mr. Sunshine" for 20 years, hosted the "Sunshine Hours" gospel radio show, broadcast on KLLI in Lubbock and KHEM in Big Spring. He was a member of Aldergate United Methodist Church and was a retired Methodist minister.

He was a Mason with Sam R. Hamilton Lodge No. 1031, Chapter 489, Council 406. He was a Knights Templar, a member of Arlington Eastern Star No. 249 and a member of the Hella Mosque of Dallas.

Survivors include his wife, Marie; three daughters, Pat House of Houston, Judy Layton of Mansfield and Diane Puffer of New York; seven sons, Bob of Santa Fe, N.M., Jim of Lubbock, Charles of El Paso, Ken of Cloudcroft, N.M., Clifford of Santa Ana, Calif., and David and Mark of Arlington; one sister, Francille Krebbs of Midland; four brothers, C.W. of Tulsa, Okla., Klyde of Muleshoe, Ralph of Lubbock and Roy of Houston; 20 grandchildren; and three great grandchildren.

Check Holiday Toys For Safety

When your child composes his gift list to Santa this year, why not add a "P.S." reminding the jolly old man to leave safe as well as entertaining presents under the tree.

"Receiving Christmas gifts is an exciting experience for all children. However, unless the presents are hazard-free, the happiness they bring may be tarnished by an unfortunate accident," says Texas Safety Association's Executive Director, George Gustafson.

"The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that every year approximately 150,000 people suffer injuries associated with toys, with more than half of the victims being children under 10 years old. Two - to four-year-olds are most frequently injured because they are at the "curious age" when physical abilities are developed," Gustafson adds.

Several considerations should enter into the choice of toys for children, Gustafson points out:

- *Choose a toy that is appropriate for the child's age, interests and skill level.

- *Check for safety labels such as "non-toxic" on painted toys, "flame retardant/flame resistant" on fabric products and "washable/hygienic materials" on stuffed toys and dolls.
- *Avoid any toys with sharp points or made of brittle plastic or glass that can be easily broken, exposing dangerous cutting edges.

*Remember that tiny toys with small removable parts can be swallowed or become lodged in a child's windpipe, ears or nose.

*Consider that flying toys can injure eyes. Buy children arrows or darts that have soft cork tips, rubber suction cups or other protective tips to prevent injury.

*Choose electric toys approved by a recognized testing laboratory. Toys with heating elements are recommended only for children over eight years old.

"Part of the joy of Christmas comes from the satisfaction that one gets from giving gifts to loved ones. Consider which presents will make them happy and also which ones will be safe," Gustafson urges.

VA News

Veterans with compensable, military-service-connected disabilities may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation and counseling benefits under Veterans Administration programs, advises the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

"The purpose of the vocational rehabilitation program is to overcome an employment handicap," he stressed.

The basic period of eligibility for vocational rehabilitation services has been extended to up to 12 years following discharge from active duty or the date the veteran was notified of entitlement to VA compensation for the disability -- whichever is later. The period may be adjusted if the veteran received an upgraded discharge or was unable to enter or complete training for a period of time because of his or her medical condition.

The VA provides evaluation and counseling to assist in development of a comprehensive rehabilitation plan designed to suit the disabled veteran's particular needs.

For further information or assistance on vocational rehabilitation benefits, write, visit or telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your local telephone directory under "U.S. Government" or "Veterans Administration."

Merry Christmas

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy acres discusses Christmas trees this week, some what.

Dear editor: Maybe young people who've known nothing but inflationary times think everything is normal but I'm having trouble adjusting.

For example, I saw an ad by a big city department store that said "Save $50 on Your Christmas Tree."

How can you save $50 on one $10 Christmas tree that used to cost $2.50 and even less if you had an ax? The ad explained that the store's regularly priced $250 tree, 7 1/2 feet tall, had been reduced to "only $200."

Or take cars. One company advertises on TV that its car is "the lowest priced in its field," whereas it seems to me it ought to say "the least high priced."

Or take Governorships. A candidate for Governor in New York and one in Texas together spent over 27 million dollars trying to get elected and both got beat. Obviously they both had trouble adjusting to inflation, although personally I can't see how all 50 Governorships put together could be worth 27 million, which is more than half a million apiece, an inflationary price regardless of what state you live in.

According to Washington, inflation has fallen to around 5 or 6 percent, but those figures are having trouble getting out of the government's computer and trickling down to the rest of the country, as anybody knows if he's bought groceries lately or gone to a hospital or had his car repaired or a leaky faucet fixed or, if he's a lobbyist, bought a politician.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Exception Middle age is that period in a man's life when he'll do anything to feel better except give up what's hurting him.

Federal Drug Package Rules Supported

Two Texas associations have expressed support for the Federal Drug Administration's (FDA) nationwide rules requiring tamperresistant packaging of over-the-counter drugs. Both the Texas Pharmaceutical Association and the Texas Safety Association agree the FDA rules will be a positive step toward helping assure public safety and providing a uniform system for making over-the-counter drugs tamper-resistant.

"We are pleased with the speed with which the FDA has promulgated and put into effect these regulations," said Luther Parker, Executive Director of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. "Because the rules apply uniformly on a nationwide basis, Texas drug manufacturers and pharmacists will not have to deal with overlapping or contradictory safety packaging rules," he continued. "This will save consumers money," he concluded.

George R. Gustafson, Executive Director of the Texas Safety Association, said the rules should help ease consumers' concerns about drug safety. He said, "Consumers need to know if tampering has occurred to over-the-counter drugs they purchase. By packaging drugs in blister packs and by sealing the drug containers in shrink-wrap plastic among other methods-consumers will have some assurance of the safety of the drug products they purchase."

Both associations are non-profit, non governmental bodies serving the public interest.
