ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The Sand Hills Hereford & Quarterhorse Show as usual kicked off the livestock show season. This show is the first of the year and is regarded by many as a preview of the remainder of the season.

Five Sterling County 4-H Club lambs were entered in the show. Lambs entered belonged to Tommy and Bobby Bynum, Janis and Lee Wayne Igo, Sally and Susan Mixon and Nola Gay Stewart. The lamb entered by Tommy and Bobby placed ninth in the lightweight class of the fine-wool show. It will be sold at the auction on Saturday morning.

Janis and Lee Wayne Igo also showed their registered Rambouillets at Odessa. This is an open show with no classes for junior exhibitors.

In the ram lamb classes, Lee Wayne showed the sixth place ram while Janis had the seventh place ram. Janis showed the fourth place ewe lamb and Lee Wayne the seventh place ewe lamb. Clinton Hodges had both the champion ram and champion ewe in the show.

The 1966 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide is now available. It includes information on the self-employment tax, or social security, as well as income tax.

This guide can be very useful to those figuring their own tax returns or having them figured by others. The information contained may give you some deductions that you might miss otherwise and to which you are legally entitled.

If you want a copy, call, write, or come by the office and you'll get one.

Don't forget the Sterling County Livestock Show is set for Monday, January 17. There will be classes as usual for finewool and crossbred lambs, registered Rambouillets, range ewe lambs, registered Suffolks, and quarterhorses. Previously, the show association had voted to set up a class at any time there were as many as three exhibitors who would enter the class. This year, there are four boys and girls with horses so the classes will be set up for stallions, fillies and geldings.

Judging will start at 8:00 a.m. Monday morning Judge for the show this year is Frank Brownfield, vocational agriculture instructor at the Blackwell school. The sale will be held at 1:30 that afternoon with about thirty-five lambs to be sold.

The show association has been working on improving the barn by eliminating the dust. It has been oiled and given a covering of sand in an attempt to improve the spectators lot as well as that of the exhibitors.

FFA Boys Show Lambs at Odessa

FFA boys took lambs to the Odessa stock show this week and Gary Foster had a third place heavyweight finewool lamb in Wednesday's placings, said sponsor Fred Igo. Johnny Copeland's medium weight finewool lamb placed 9th.

Bobby Westbrook has a 1965 filly he will show in the horse show there today, said Igo.

SMOOTH SELLING

by George N. Kahn, Marketing Consultant

ARE YOU A SALESMAN?

Copyright—George N. Kahn

Certain words mean different things to different people. Rich, poor, smart, dumb—all these terms take on various shades of meaning, depending on the person using them. A Calcutta beggar would consider any American rich; a man who can read and write is thought of as smart by an illiterate.

The term "salesman" produces the same kind of semantic problem. To many people, the noun would apply to anyone who sold anything to anybody. This would include sidewalk pitchmen, door-to-door gadget vendors, newsboys and store clerks as well as the man making $100,000 a year selling highly technical industrial equipment.

A salesman is a creative individual. He also is a man who develops markets, who aids the buyer as well as himself, and who is constantly trying to increase his sales through bold, imaginative thinking.

Selling Credentials

Unless you can really communicate with a customer so that he thinks like you and is motivated to buy through your persuasive powers, you are not a salesman.

Unless you can see the customer's point of view and turn it to your advantage, you are not a salesman.

Unless you can determine what a customer needs — not what he wants — you are not a salesman.

Unless you have a thorough knowledge of yourself, you are not a salesman.

Unless you have studied other people so you have some insight into their character, you are not a salesman.

Don't Stop Growing

Are you still growing? Growth is at the heart of salesmanship. Even if you have been selling for 25 years you should still look for new ideas and methods.

One of the nation's leading insurance salesmen surprised his supervisor one day by volunteering for the firm's training course for sales recruits.

"But, Dan," the boss said, "you sell more insurance than anyone in the organization. This will be kid stuff to you."

"Jack," Dan replied, "not a day goes by that I don't learn something new. In that training course, no matter how basic it is, I'll pick up some piece of information that will help me sell more insurance."

Some people stop learning the day they leave school, whether it's grammar, high school or college. These are the individuals who are passed by in earnings, promotion and prestige.

Qualities Needed

A mark of the successful salesman is his work habits. If you are committed emotionally or philosophically to the eight-hour day, then forget salesmanship. The man who writes the big ticket thinks nothing of putting in a 10, 15 or 18-hour day.

Thomas Edison said that genius is 99 percent work. The salesman's income will invariably be related to the time he puts on the job. Planning is also important.

A sales manager for a well-known rubber company once asked a discouraged salesman how many prospects he had seen that day.

"Two," the salesman said. "How many had you planned to see?" the boss continued.

"As many as I could," the salesman answered.

"That isn't planning, that's hoping," the supervisor said. There is a lot of concern today about whether this country is on the moral skids. The television are understanding and sympathetic. If someone knows that you care about him, he will care about you. This is especially true of the customer-salesman relationship. A genuine liking for people is another invaluable asset for a salesman.

A buyer for a midwestern electrical firm was such a grouch that salesmen used to go miles out of their way to avoid him.

"Who wants to be insulted by that crank?" they would say.

Fred Naylor, had a different idea. He breezed into the buyer's office one day, stuck out his hand and announced:

"Mr. Grant, I've made up my mind about two things: I'm going to like you and you're going to like me."

The crusty purchasing agent was so surprised that for a few seconds he simply stared at Fred, open mouthed.

Then he began roaring with laughter and put out his hand. Fred walked off with a huge order.

There must be sympathy before a salesman can truly cater to the needs of his customers. You can't be expected to read a customer's mind, but you should have a fairly good idea of the things which motivate him—his fears, aspirations, likes and dislikes.

This quiz will test your self-honesty and help you answer the question: Am I a Salesman or an Order Taker? A score of ten or more "yes" answers means that selling is for you.

Am I A Salesman or an Order Taker?

1. Do I actively seek new knowledge about selling? Yes No
2. Do I spend extra time with a customer on his problems? Yes No
3. Do I work beyond 5 o'clock on some days without thinking of it as a burden or chore? Yes No
4. Do I plan my working day? Yes No
5. If the competition uses unfair tactics, do I maintain my dignity and composure by not emulating them? Yes No
6. Do I see criticism as an effort to help me? Yes No
7. Would I spend time with customers if it didn't mean money to me? Yes No
8. Do I know and understand my own weaknesses? Yes No
9. Do I do anything about them? Yes No
10. Do I like most people I meet? Yes No
11. Do I sometimes seek out an appraisal of my work? Yes No
12. Do I look forward to sales meetings as a chance to learn something that will help me? Yes No
13. Do I feel my customer's problems affect me? Yes No
14. Do I believe that selling and service go together? Yes No

quiz scandals, the price fixing conviction of some businessmen, the link between sports and gambling—all these have prompted serious soul searching.

I'm also concerned about this question, but I do not believe for a minute that morality—particularly business morality—is an outdated product.

No salesman should think honesty is old fashioned. The man who cynically disregards business principles is deluding himself.

Honesty and dependability are not outworn attributes. The salesman who has them is endowed with human values that will translate into earning power.

Let me mention another, equally important: maturity. A man who flies off the handle at criticism is not mature. The mature individual, who is criticized, will use the censure as a lever for improvement.

Food And Freedom

Ousting Khrushchev hasn't solved Russia's severe agricultural problem. The Soviets have plenty of farmers, but not enough food. Bureaucratic planning is no match for America's unique Agribusiness system.

The average Russian family spends over half its income for food—and gets a drab diet. Americans spend less than 19¢ of each disposable dollar on food—and choose from an infinite variety.

Good farming is a link in America's Agribusiness chain. But our bountiful food supply also depends on imaginative research, modern machinery, feeds, chemicals and fertilizers, transportation, processing, packaging and retail distribution.

Farm-City Week, which culminates on Thanksgiving Day each year, spotlights the mutual interests of farm and city people. America's vital food supply depends on 22 million Agribusiness workers—two-thirds of them city dwellers.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

PENS that write under water are obsolete. A small electric welding "pen" that writes on glass, metal or ceramic surfaces has been developed at Georgia Tech. A shiny, silvery metal called "indium" serves as ink for the instrument. The heated point of the pen is placed on a small piece of indium until the "ink" melts and sticks to the point. It is then transferred to the writing surface.

DRILLING to a depth of 1,050 feet, believed to be the deepest penetration of the ocean bottom yet, Columbia University scientists have obtained samples of the earth 40 million years old. The Atlantic ocean core samples may supply answers to many questions about the history of the earth.

REPAIRMEN working on combustible gas containers can light their welding torches without fear of an explosion thanks to a carbon dioxide purging technique developed by Cardox, Chicago. Carbon dioxide is pumped into a tank or pipeline to displace most of the explosive contents. The CO₂ also mixes with the remainder to form an inert atmosphere.

Social Security

APPLY FOR MEDICARE

The 1965 Amendments established a Medicare program for all persons 65 or over which will help pay both hospital and doctor bills. However, this is not automatic and the individual must apply for it unless he is already receiving Social Security benefits or Railroad Retirement benefits. If he is an Old-Age Assistance recipient the welfare department will supply him with an application form.

Everyone else should come to the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris in San Angelo and make application for the Medicare program benefits. NEW HEALTH INSURANCE PROTECTION

The enactment of a health insurance program gave new meaning to Social Security for thousands of Senior Citizens, Floyd B. Ellington, Social Security District Manager in San Angelo, said today.

Health insurance protection become effective July 1, 1966. For that reason, older persons should not drop any private health insurance policies before next July. Some policies will be revised to consider medicare by then.

"Almost everyone who is 65 before 1968 will be eligible for the health insurance which is in two parts," according to Ellington.

The two parts are: "Hospital Insurance" and "Medical Insurance." Together, the two will go a long way toward paying the cost of health care for most older persons.

All workers over 65 who have not applied for their retirement insurance need to sign up to receive the health protection. Even those who are still working and earn too much to receive the cash retirement benefits should take such action now.

Plans are being made to sign up recipients of state old age assistance. They should not call on the social security office at this time. All other 65 year olds should apply right away, Ellington emphasized.

Further information can be secured from the Social Security Administration, 3000 West Harris, San Angelo, Texas.

Aliens Must Report Addresses

Mr. J. W. Holland of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the period within which aliens must report their addresses is almost at hand.

The month of January has been set for the address reporting period. All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the Government during that period.

Mr. Holland said that forms with which to make the report will be available to all Post Offices and Offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January.

He urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.

Miss Lewis has been an asset to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Lewis, by helping out with every dairy operation. She feeds calves, flushes lines, washes out the 700-gallon tank, gets cows from the pastures, and milks them.

In addition, she churns her own butter and makes cottage cheese and sour milk.
