

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

Washington, D. C. — There are reports from various sources describing shortages of supplies to our fighting men in South Viet Nam. A number of people are writing to either state as a fact that our men are not being properly supplied, or making inquiry as to whether they are or not.

Congressman Olin E. Teague, a World War II combat veteran (and incidentally, wounded six times) has made two trips to Viet Nam and just returned from the last one recently. Teague did not sit around in Command Headquarters or in some hotel lobby in Saigon. He was out with the combat troops as near the front lines as he was permitted to go.

He had these observations: We are not short of any critical supplies such as ammunition, medical and clothing. The Department of Defense has recently issued a new type of jungle uniform with jungle boots. All men have at least one of this type of new gear and everyone will soon have two. Some prefer the old uniform since the new type is of nylon and some say it is hotter.

New pieces of electronic equipment being used by our troops are preventing many of the ambushes which occurred earlier in the fighting. For instance, one enables a man to use the light of the stars to see a far distance into the darkness. This is brand new, and although not all the troops have one, they are on the way. Teague, who is an inquisitive observer and who recognizes the quality and quantity of combat equipment, says that there is no shortage of critical supplies.

There is always a problem of getting guns, ammunition, food and other combat necessities at exactly the right place at the right time. This has always been true in all wars and will likely be true in all others. The fact remains that we have the most mobile forces in anybody's history.

Those on the spot describe a rather desperate situation with harbor facilities in South Viet Nam. Every ship must go 60 miles up the Saigon River to unload at Saigon. The harbor is jammed with ships thicker than those at the channel at Houston. This 60 miles traverses through Viet Cong Territory. A new harbor is being built near DaNang, another one in Thailand. The delivery of supplies is a real problem but will be greatly relieved when these two new facilities are ready. Congressman Teague says that insofar as the use and effectiveness of planes is concerned, it depends on whom you talk to. There is every type of aircraft there, and the people who fly them even disagree. The old T-28, a propellered craft, seems to be the most effective because it is slow and the pilots contend that for the purpose of working over the jungle, it is best. There are the old C-47s, equipped with Gatling guns, which fire out the side doors, and the guns are controlled by the pilot. At 6,000 rounds per minute, they can cut through a lot of jungle. These aircraft are called to protect small camps attacked by the Viet Cong, and most of the time they are quite effective.

Of course, there are the several hundred jet F-100s, F102s and F104s which perform many types of missions, all well supplied.

Teague says that our military commanders are much concerned about Cambodia rather than Laos, being used as a sanctuary by the Communists. It seems to a lot of us, Teague agreeing, that it is about time this business of letting the Viet Cong hit and run to a sanctuary be ended.

STILL TIME FOR MEDICARE SIGNING

Older people in the Sterling City area who did not sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare before the close of the first enrollment period on March 31 have been given a little more time, Floyd B. Ellington, social security manager, announced today.

In legislation signed by President Johnson last week, Congress had extended until May 31 the deadline for enrollment by persons 65 or over.

Nearly 90 percent of the nation's elderly were enrolled for the doctor bill insurance when social security offices closed at midnight on March 31, Ellington said. Only 5 percent had turned down the protection which supplements the basic hospital insurance provided persons 65 or over.

Another 5 percent had not made up their minds either way, or else were not aware of the deadline and the need to sign up for the supplementary protection.

Older people who have not yet applied for their medicare benefits should get in touch with the nearest social security office now, Ellington said.

REWARD NOTICE

When two or more persons give information, the above sum will be divided at the discretion of the Board of the Association. When two or more defendants are involved in a single crime, the total reward is limited to $500.00, but the conviction of one defendant, even though the other defendants are acquitted, will entitle the claimant or claimants to said sum of $500.00. All claims must be submitted within ninety (90) days following conviction. If, upon conviction, a defendant confesses other thefts, no additional reward will be paid. All deviations concerning the payment of such reward and the conditions of payment will be made by the Board of Directors of the Association.

RAM GAS (Natural Gas) will be ready for service in Sterling City in about five more weeks.

We have a 25 year contract with El Paso Natural Gas Company for supply with a 15 year renewal feature.

We will have enough volume of gas to handle 3,400 houses with a safety margin of 50% House pressure between the meter and house will be 8 ounces.

In event the main line broke, adequate gas will be available for 3 or more days. (Time to repair line.) Our main line is a 3-inch line, which would be ample for a much larger city. Savings over other types of fuel will be about half.

Every item of equipment being used is brand new and made by leading manufacturers.

Any one installing gas for refrigerated air-conditioning will earn a cheaper rate May through September.

Most conversions will only be a change of jets in each stove, and they cost approximately 15c each.

Conversion kit from diesel oil to gas for central heaters cost approximately $60.00.

Natural gas does not smoke up the walls of your home like butane gas. This will save inside repainting jobs.

Behind the 8-Ball

ly) brought food and a real meal was had at midnight.

And, law, the dance didn't quit then. No-sir. The little kids were put on pallets or piles of clothes in rooms not being used, and the merry-making went on till breakfast—and sure enough, breakfast was served. That is everybody that wanted to eat could.

I recall that I went as a guest of a boy friend named Cliett Johnson. I don't know what became of him.

8-BALL

When I was a student in old San Angelo high school, in the late twenties and the early thirties, kids didn't have cars. In fact, lots of families didn't have 'em in cities.

I walked about twenty-four block to school or, if I was lucky, I hitched a ride.

Maxwell Turner of Carlsbad came to school every day in a Maxwell car. It sat up real high off the road and, boy, if I needed a ride because of the lateness or something, I'd get on North Chadbourne and hail Maxwell Turner for a ride in that old Maxwell.

He was always by himself and sailing along toward school at the same pace. The highway to Carlsbad wasn't all paved, but some of it in town was about twelve feet wide—more or less. I know, I helped pave it—by hitching rides on the gravel wagons hauling gravel from the old Glasscock or Pulliam ranch—north of town on the river. Those gravel teams could and would make two trips a day. That helped pass many a day for me in the early twenties.

I rode with a friend, Hollis Wills, I believe.

8-BALL

Times have changed—and the streets and roads are not wide enough—even the new superhighways take up what would have been a whole farm—in just about each mile of country.

8-BALL

I recall that when I was a junior high student in San Angelo, I passed by the old cemetery that later became the cemetery gridiron there. (Just in front of the old high school and to the side of the first junior college). The graves were all dug up and the bones reburied out in the Fairmont Cemetery. I know that was the first time I had seen such goings on. Then it

Theme of the show this year is "Picture This". Arrangements will be the exhibitor's interpretations of familiar phrases.

Mrs. Charles Speck of Menard, says there will be no admission charge but a free-will offering will be accepted to help cover the cost of putting on the show.

was outgrown by the school and the field was out on Pulliam by the skating rink and the east ward school house. Then that one was outgrown, and now it's out in that hole in the ground on the lake road.

8-BALL

When the Santa Fe was asking permission to discontinue rail service here, then Mayor Rufus Foster asked a Mr. Olsen (with the company) why they were having to do away with this rail line up here. We were in the courthouse, and Olsen took Rufus to the window and pointed to the trucks going through town on the highway. He said—there's the reason, Mayor.

All those trucks are carrying the freight nowadays.

Or more and more of it. Maybe planes will carry it in the future.

8-BALL

Anyway, folks, time does march one—and on. And so, we should all live so that when thy summons comes to join that innumerable caravan, we can go, not like the galley slave, scourged to his dungeon, but as one who lies down to pleasant dreams.

No watch the heirs of W.C. Bryant get me for plagiarism—or something.

DISABLED MAY BENEFIT FROM SOCIAL SECURITY

Some 3000 Texans who may be eligible for disability benefits under the new Social Security provisions, have not yet applied for them according to Floyd B. Ellington, district manager of the San Angelo Social Security office.

Under recent liberalizations of the law, persons with nonpermanent disability may now qualify for benefits. Ellington said that under the previous law a person was eligible only if he had a severe disability that was expected to last a long and indefinite time. Now benefits can be paid if the severe disability has lasted or is expected to last as long as 12 months by his doctors. There are also more liberal requirements for certain persons who are blind.
