ATTEND WTCC MEET IN BIG SPRING

Mayor Lee Reed and city councilman Skipper Lively attended the 14th Annual Industrial Development Conference of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Big Spring Wednesday of this week.

The meeting was held in the Cosden Country Club at Big Spring. Presiding at the conference was Wilson Guest, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee of the WTCC.

Appearing on the program during the day were James F. Ray, of Austin, Dr. Stanley Arbingast, Dr. Grover Murray of Texas Tech, Dr. Frank J. Konecny and John Ben Sheppard of Odessa.

Lively said the coordinator of planning division of the governor's office, James Ray, said a bill was in progress to redistrict counties so all precincts would be equal in population, rather than as now—where one precinct will have 90 percent of the voters but only one vote in say of running the county. He said Ray also said there was a bill in the making to make city and county governments be coordinated, to work in harmony and prevent overlapping.

Eaglets Win Over Coahoma

The Sterling City Eaglets finished the 1967 football season Thursday of last week with a 12-6 win over Coahoma 7th grade team. The win was the fifth of the season for the locals with one loss.

Victor Estrada scored the first touchdown for the Eaglets in the first quarter. David Cooney missed all but about two minutes of the game with an injury. At halftime the score was 6-0 Eaglets. Sterling scored again early in the 4th quarter with Ray Escobar carrying the pigskin. The Coahoma score came on the last play of the game.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks to the Eaglets for the job they did during the football season. I hope that all the 8th grade boys will continue football in high school. Although many people do not realize it, football is as fine a character building activity as there is.

(Signed) BOBBY DODDS
The Eaglets start their basketball season here Monday night, November 13th, with Westbrook at 6:00. Both girls and boys will play.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. A June 6, 1963 column was used last week as a prelude to this one. The subject of more than four years ago was about "Squares."

The young folk singer, Bob Dylan, sings a song, "Some Things Are Happening in the Land, and You Don't Know What It Is, Do You, Mr. Jones?" The song, of course, is to youthful audiences and the appeal lies in the sarcastic tone needing older people.

Mr. Jones represents the country's "Squares", defined as people who have lost an understanding of youth. Any one past 30 who believes in traditional values is a "Mr. Jones."

What is happening in the land, according to the lyrics, is absolutely without precedent. It portrays the youthful revolt against standards of organized society. It represents the wide range of publicized activity from student sit-ins to draft card burning, from drugs and promiscuousness to anti-Vietnam war demonstrations.

Mr. Jones, it is suggested, can not understand all this because the claimed underlying cause is so alien to his world. What is supposed to be happening springs from new youthful commitment to 'love' as the only thing worthwhile—any kind of love. Nothing else matters. Nothing else is worth living for. Like, man, walking up to a stranger and handing him a flower. It is the greatest.

This seems to be what this and other hippie songs are all about. The are supposed to express the attitude of youth.

Music along Haight Street in the Haight-Ashbury area of San Francisco supposedly assumes that today's youthful rebellion is new. It is not new at all. As every "Mr. Jones" knows from personal experience to some degree or other, youth has been in rebellion since Adam and Eve got kicked out of the Garden of Eden. The only thing without precedent is the use of hallucinatory drugs—especially LSD and "grass". This, of course, is of alarming and sad concern.

Most of us, if we admit it, had some degree of revolt in our own generation. Maybe booze was the forbidden fruit, carried in hip flasks. Whether used or not, it was a challenge of a sort and outgrown without permanent harm. The concern now is what will happen to kids who repeatedly "blow" their minds with LSD and other drugs.

If the few who so indulge are not permanently harmed, likely they will eventually grow up and be absorbed as constructive members of the society they now scorn. Already there are signs in New York's East Village and in San Francisco's "Hashbury" that the hippie movement may be falling apart as the result of disillusionment, crime and

Holidays Coming Up November 11th and Thanksgiving

Next Saturday, November 11, one of the holidays observed by the Sterling City merchants—as is November 23, Thanksgiving. A lot of the businesses will be closed here Saturday, anyway, so the closing will affect very few retail stores.

On Thanksgiving, November 23, school will let out Wednesday afternoon and resume on the following Monday, it has been announced. The stores here will be closed on Thursday.

Most of the college students will come home for the November 23 (Thanksgiving) holiday.

Wimodausis Club

Wood Carver To Be Guest Day Speaker

Perry B. Holley, well known "whittler" of wood, of Midland, will be the speaker at Guest Day of the Wimodausis Club on Wednesday, November 15, at 3:30 p.m. Whittler, carver, craftsman and artist are only a few of the adjectives which describe Mr. Holley, who is a cabinet maker by trade. He has whittled everything from miniature ships used on war charts when he was in the Navy, to a 4 foot 4 inch plaque of Saint Francis of Assisi, all of wood. Although his main subjects at one time were dogs, for the last 3 years he has concentrated on Texas game birds, which he carves from a solid block of pine. His life-size creations are exact in every detail even to the feathers, which he paints with a glazing liquid mixed with oil paints. His work also extends to pictures of western art, carved from solid wood, showing cowboys, horses and cattle in action, and in great depth and dimension. He has also carved a Nativity Scene and statues such as one he made of Christ as "The Carpenter." Many of these works will be on exhibit and Mr. Holley will describe his method of carving. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Mr. Holley will also have his exhibit at the Lions Club luncheon on the same date.

THANKS FROM THE LIONS CLUB ON TURKEY SHOOT

The Sterling City Lions Club held a turkey shoot last Sunday afternoon at the Wildcat Mountain Gun Club. We had a fairly good turnout despite the chilly weather. For the sixteen big Toms, about 20-30 shooters were "skillfully" puncturing the targets. Some of the local winners were "Hot-Shot" Senne, 3 turkeys; "Dead Eye" Davis, 2 turkeys; "Mountain Man" Schneider, 2 turkeys.

Others winning one turkey were—Mims Reed, Jim Hinchshaw, Butch Bowen, Dan Glass, Charles Allen and Allen Boyd. One real shoot-out was between Glenn Schneider and Dale Rampy. They had to shoot three different targets before Schneider finally won, and then only by a hair. Everyone had a good time and despite the weather, we sold one cold drink.

The Lions cleared about $60 and this will be spent shortly for 3 pairs of eye glasses for needy Sterling school children. Thanks for your cooperation. Sincerely, a weariness of the "fling." Also, it is likely some new kind of youthful anti-adult movement will, in time, replace it.

The most foolish assumption of the Bobby Dylan song is that it speaks for the whole generation of American youth. From publicity one might think the song is correct, but we do not hear of the tremendous majority of the Nation's youth who get no featured attention as they go about good, normal lives. They are not kicking hard at the traces, but are pulling their weight.

There are more of our dedicated young men fighting for their country in Vietnam than all the hippies, peacniks and campus troublemakers put together. The vast majority of kids are conscientious and reasonably adjusted. Because they may "dig" Bobby Dylan, the Beatles, the whole off-beat psychedelic scene, they have the sense to avoid being drowned in it. The vast majority look at it for what it is. They know, because they must experience some of the inward feeling, but are intelligent enough to control it.

Mr. Jones knows too. He covered quite a bit of that territory himself, and he can remember.

Amendment Vote Here Saturday

LIONS CLUB

Three visitors from the Lions Club at Bronte and Hal Knight Jr. were visitors at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday. The Bronte visitors were Austin Masterson, J.W. Labenske, and Carroll Robbins.

Charles Probandt reported that $60.30 was made on the turkey shoot held Sunday. He said 16 turkeys were bought for the shoot; 13 were given as prizes to shooters and 3 were sold. The money will be spent on eye glasses for needy children at the school.

Game Warden Wayne Posey reported that 747 doe permits had been issued for Sterling County and does could be taken legally south of highway 87 and east of highway 163—and a small area over in the canyon.

Deer season opens here Saturday, November 11 and lasts through January 1, said Posey. It is estimated that over 200 hunters have made arrangements to hunt here this season.

Austin Masterson of the noon club in Bronte talked briefly, telling of their club's activities.

Holiday Saturday

It was announced that Saturday, November 11, was one of the usual holidays observed here by merchants.

Good Rains Cover County

Good, slow rains covered the county Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. About a half inch fell Monday and Monday night. Then Tuesday the rain repeated here in town and another half fell. Then on Wednesday, more was added and the totals ranged from one and three quarters to more than two in favored areas.

Daughter Visits Here

Mrs. Wayne Hill of Texas City, daughter of Mrs. Tom McGill of Sterling, visited her mother here recently. Mrs. Hill's husband is the backfield coach at Texas City high school and they are leading their district. While here she and her mother made a trip to the Big Bend National Park. Tom McGill was hunting in Saguache, Colorado.

All Voting To Be at Courthouse

Statewide there is an election Saturday voting on six proposed amendments to the Texas State constitution.

Here in Sterling all the boxes have been consolidated and all voters will vote at the district courtroom of the courthouse. D. Kirk Hopkins is the presiding judge.

Amendment number one is one to limit the amount of taxes cities and counties may levy. It limits the amount the county may levy for general purposes.

Number two deals with the operating and maintenance of hospitals and hospital districts. It deals with the participation of the various divisions of government participating in operation of such hospitals.

Number four deals with the creation and issuance of four hundred million dollars by the Veterans Land Board to use in more veterans land loans.

Number five would let the State Parks and Wildlife Commission issue seventy-five million dollars in bonds to buy up land for more state parks.

Number six would allow, in certain cases, persons to hold two or more public jobs or offices when their interests did not conflict.

Back in August the state of Texas ran in all newspapers in the state a full account of the proposed amendments and the wording. The legal notices were run four weeks at state expense, and with full explanations.

It is predicted that only a small number of voters will turn out state wide. Amendment elections rarely get out a big vote.

PREACHING SUNDAY AT Presbyterian Church

Rudolph M. Beard, a second year student at the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will be guest pastor for the 11 a.m. services at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday, November 12.

A graduate of Louisiana State University, Beard earned his bachelor of arts degree in 1966. In college he was chairman of the Student Christian Forum, a member of the President's Cabinet of Student Government, Young Democrats, and the Human Relations Council.

Serving on the advisory council of higher education to the General Assembly, he was also the president of the Westminster Fellowship and a member of the Student Christian Federation. Beard worked as co-ordinator for the inner-city ministry in Lynchburg, Va.

Building a coffee house from an old three-story hotel was part of his summer cinistry in northern Wisconsin.

A member of University Presbyterian Church of Baton Rouge, La., Beard is under care of the Louisiana Presbytery while he is studying at the Austin Seminary.

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

With the coming of cold weather, people with fireplaces are preparing to make use of them to provide warmth and a cheery touch during the coming holiday season. It is also possible to add color to the fire and the atmosphere for the holidays. Two ways of providing this color may be used.

The first method is paper "logs" treated with chemicals. To make the logs, roll newspapers into logs the width of a dail paper. Don't use too many papers in the log as they will swell in the soaking process. Tie the rolls loosely with heavy twine in two or three places; wire ties will not do as they may corrode in the soaking process.

The logs should be soaked in a solution made by dissolving four pounds of copper sulfate and three pounds of rock salt in a gallon of water. Soak the rolls or logs for at least three weeks, turning them frequently. It will take several days for the rolls to dry out; once they are ready for use, one paper log will usually burn all evening and produce a rainbow of colors. (One precaution: soak the logs in a plastic container as the solution will corrode galvanized or metal containers.)

Another method of producing color is done by soaking chips or small blocks of wood in various chemicals which will produce the colors you may desire. Calcium chloride produces orange colored flames, copper chloride—blue, potassium chloride—purple, strontium nitrate—red, lithium chloride—carmine, and copper sulfate—emerald green. Most of these chemicals can be purchased from chemical suppliers or drug stores.

To treat the chips or small blocks, a plastic pail or an onion sack are needed. Place the chips or blocks in the sack. Dissolve one pound of the desired chemical on one gallon of water. Weigh the sack down so it is covered in the solution in the pail. Soak for at least ten minutes and then spread out to dry. After drying overnight, the chips or blocks are ready for use in the fireplace. This method is simpler but the effect is shorter as the chips burn much more rapidly than the paper logs. Also, the paper logs produce a rainbow of colors where several kinds of chips must be used to produce more than one color if this is desired.

Rules for the Tom Green County Pecan Show have been received from Ed Hyman, the county agent of Tom Green County. The 1967 show will be held on November 29 and 30 and December 1. Location of the show is 113 South Chadbourne Street, next door to Kresses.

Classes have been set up for in-shell varieties, shelling pecans, and natives. In addition, there will be classes for the heaviest in-shell pecan, most attractive pecan, and smallest pecan as well as others. In addition, a food show is again being held. In this division, the foods such as cookies, candies, cakes, and breads must contain pecans.

An entry in the pecan show consists of one or one-half pounds of pecans. The show officials will weigh out a sample of the pecans and shell them on the night of the 29th to determine the yield, number of pecans per pound, and so forth. Thus, in the judging on Thursday morning, the judges will have the nuts in the shell and the meat as well to help them in making their placings. They will be judged on size, color, conformation,

WHERE IS ROY GIDDENS?

Where is Roy Giddens? He won a door prize of 100 gallons of butane at the P-T.A. Halloween Carnival and has not shown up to claim it.

So says Mrs. Dan Collier—who was in charge of the drawings that night. She says if he uses butane and will call or get in touch with her, she can hand him the slip for the butane.

Mrs. Collier's phone number is 378-4552.

Mrs. Frank George and her children left here Sunday after two-weeks visit with her father, J.S. Augustine and other relatives for her home at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, to rejoin her husband, a doctor in the Air Forces. She is the former Brenda Augustine.

Buy Bonds where you work.

They do.

They move out from the landing area and toward their work. Not knowing what they'll find over the ridge. It's a tense job, defending freedom. It takes brave men to do it well. These men are brave—and farsighted as well. You see, a majority of all our servicemen overseas save for the future and support freedom with their dollars through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Should you be showing these brave men you appreciate their sacrifices? You do it when you buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You also walk a bit taller.
