Eagles Play Dawson Here Tonight in Title Game

Game Time Is 7 p.m.

The Sterling City Eagles—district and bi-district champions (eight-man football) will meet the Dawson Dragons tonight in the regional title game here on the local field.

Game time is 7 p.m. and the adult tickets of admission will be $1.50, and students may get in for 50c, it was said. All pre-school children get in free of charge.

Dawson gained the title finals by defeating Threeway in a bi-district game last week at Lamesa. Sterling drew a bye and laid off last week.

Sterling had won their district by ending the season in a tie game with Garden City two weeks ago. Garden City had two tie games and Sterling only had the one.

Last year the Eagles played the Dawson boys in the regional title game at Lamesa and lost. Hopes are high this year for a title win. In Class B football, the regional title is the final. There are no statewide playoffs.

Sterling has two injured players. Frank Price, end, has been out with an injured knee and Esau Vargas got a knee injured in the Garden City game two weeks ago.

The lineups for the two teams roster are listed on this page below.

NEW LEGISLATION TO HELP STERLING COUNTY FAMILIES OBTAIN HOUSING

The U. S. Departments of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration is better equipped to handle the housing credit needs of low and moderate income Sterling County families as a result of legislation recently signed into law, according to Patrick F. Sullivan, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

Sullivan said the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act, signed last month by President Johnson, makes it possible for a broader range of Sterling County families to qualify for housing loan authorities of the Farmers Home Administration.

The new legislation Sullivan continued, makes more mortgage credit available to low and moderate income families in Sterling County by increasing the level of activity of the Agency's rural housing loan program.

Here are some of the other changes in the rural housing loan program administered by the Farmers Home Administration:

—Many Sterling County who had to go the long route of planning, contracting and building a house can now buy newly constructed buildings. Before the new legislation, these families could only purchase previously occupied buildings.

—Qualified low-income families can now obtain housing credit from Farmers Home Administration on the basis of a cosigner. Previously, only those rural persons 62 years and older qualified for this assistance.

—The new legislation increases from $1,000 to $1,500 the maximum amount of assistance the agency can make for emergency repairs or improvements to owner-occupied rural housing or farm service buildings. This credit is not designed to upgrade a building but only to remove hazards to the health and the safety of the family and the community.

—Rural families on the verge of losing their homes through foreclosure may save their homes if a sound basis can be developed by the Farmers Home Administration to refinance their debts.

—Financial assistance can be given to construct rental housing for low and moderate income rural families of all age groups. Previously, rental housing financed by FHA had to be occupied by rural people 62 years and older.

Loans by the Farmers Home Administration are made to Sterling County applicants who are unable to obtain credit from private lenders at reasonable rates and terms.

ADDRESS 'EM RIGHT!

Postmaster W. R. Brooks today urged the citizens of Sterling City to be sure to use the correct address on their letters and packages going to servicemen overseas to avoid serious delays in delivery. Postmaster Brooks reported that millions of letters and packages going overseas have been delayed because they were insufficiently addressed. He said that one of the biggest problems has been the failure of persons to include the very important 5 digit APO or FPO number in the military address. Mail not containing this number is incorrectly addressed.

He said that last year more than 9 million pieces of mail were delayed in delivery. Of this number 3½ million pieces failed to include the complete 5 digit APO or FPO number in the address. This improperly addressed mail had to be sent to a military locator directory where time-consuming searches were made to determine the proper addresses.

"As the Christmas mail volume going overseas is expected to increase up to 30 per cent or over 4 million pounds above last year, every precaution should be taken by friends and relatives of servicemen to address their letters and packages properly to assure rapid delivery to its destination," Postmaster Brooks said. There are four essential elements to an overseas military address. They are:

1. The service man's identity, grade, full name, and service number.
2. His military unit-complete.
3. Gateway post office—New York, San Francisco, or Seattle.
4. APO or FPO—a 5 digit number.

When one of these elements is missing, the letter or package will be delayed in delivery.

Section 4 does not apply to use of water for domestic and livestock purposes as the same is defined by Commission Rules.

On or before September 1, 1969, every person claiming any water right to which Section 4 applies shall file with the Commission a sworn statement setting forth the nature of the claim of water right. Claims to which the Section applies shall be recognized only if valid under existing law and only to the extent of actual application of water to beneficial use without waste during an calendar year from 1963 to 1967, inclusive. However, in any case where any claimant of a riparian right has prior to August 28, 1967, commenced or completed the construction of works designed to apply a greater quantity of water to beneficial use, such right shall be recognized to the extent of the maximum amount of water actually applied to beneficial use without waste during any calendar year from 1963 to 1970, inclusive provided an additional sworn statement is filed on or before July 1, 1971. Failure to file the sworn statement or statements in substantial compliance with Section 4 shall extinguish and bar any claim of water right to which the Section applies.

BOOKS GIVEN TO THE SCHOOL LIBRARY

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Bailey have given the school library a box of books, all in perfect condition, including the book jackets on those that were jacketed when originally purchased. Every book is on the approved reading list and are by authors enjoyed by students. This is a gift of real worth, one that will be appreciated for years to come.

To Marilyn Foster the library is also indebted for a gift of books, chiefly mysteries that appeal to teen-agers; several of the group of paperbacks are valuable enough to have permanently bound; all are good reading, and students who are fond of mysteries have a treat in store.

To Mrs. J. W. Blanek the library is grateful for a group of brand-new paper back books, all classics, and to DeNeal Reed for several excellent ones that are of superior quality in both content and physical condition. These will also appeal to teenagers.

Sterling Group Attends Library Convention in Angelo

The Sterling School Library had five representatives at the District III T.A.L.A. meeting at John H. Glenn Junior High School on Saturday, November 18. Mrs. Milligan, local librarian, was accompanied by Mrs. Bobby Dodds and Miss Algerine Tomlinson, who assist in the work of the library, and two junior high students, Marilyn Foster and DeNeal Reed, who have helped in the library in various ways during their afternoon study period with permission from their teacher. Too, they have volunteered to help with the inventory of the library that is taken at the end of each semester.

An interesting part of the meeting before registration and the program began was a tour of the wonderful new J. H. Glenn building. These were conducted by the J.H.G. students, who revealed such respect and enthusiasm for their school that the sightseers were inspired, doubly impressed, and pleased to see so many young people in love with the new ways of teaching their school offers.

Registration was followed by the program which began at 9:45 with David Hoover, president of the district presiding. Cadet Girl Scouts of San Angelo led in the Pledge to the Flag, and Debra Strickland, secretary of the John H. Glenn, Jr. High T.A.L.A. chapter, gave the invocation.

The welcome to the group was made by Mr. John Givens, project administrator of John H. Glenn, whose first statement was that the library is the most valuable part of the school, and for that reason it is the center of John H. Glenn. Donna Smith of the Colorado City chapter, gave the response. Visitors and library club members enjoyed a performance by the Folk Singers, Central High, San Angelo.

Following the singers was the highlight of the convention, the main speaker, a nationally famous authority on books for young people, Miss Genevieve Dixon, director of the School of Library Science at Texas Woman's University. The subject of her talk was Take Off with Books, the motto of National Book Week. She gave short talks about a goodly number of books recently published that have specific values for young people especially. At the conclusion she answered questions from the audience about specific authors, books and reading.

Both before and after the morning meeting, Mrs. Milligan enjoyed visits with Miss Dixon, her friends and former teacher.

Social Security

Why should a man with a wife and young children concern himself with anything that seems as far away as social security?

A new booklet, "Social Security Information for Young Families," specifically designed to answer this question is now available, social security district manager, Ted F. Moellering announced today.

"Social security is not just a retirement program, and it is not just for old people," Moellering said. This new booklet gives the young worker important information about the survivors and disability protection that he and his family have now.

Nine out of ten families in Sterling City have social security survivor protection which can amount to over $75,000 in benefits if the breadwinner should die, Moellering pointed out.

Disability insurance is the other social security program of particular importance to the young worker. After just five years of work under social security, the worker and his family are eligible to receive monthly benefit payments if he should become severely disabled and the condition is expected to last a year or longer.

Moellering said "Social Security Information for Young Families" explains in detail survivors and disability protection, what it can mean to a family, and how to make an application should it become necessary. Also included is information on how to check your social security account and the financing of social security.

Copies of this pamphlet may be obtained free of charge from the social security office at 3000 West Harris in San Angelo, Texas.

Does the average worker get his money's worth for his social security contributions?

The answer is "Yes", according to Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager. Young workers can be sure, too, that the social security benefits payable to them and their dependents in the future will be substantially increased by the time they qualify for payment.

"The social security program is financed in such a way that benefits can be more than kept up to date with rising prices—without an increase in contribution rates," Moellering said. Because the social security tax is a percentage of payroll, income to the program rises more than benefit obligations as wage levels go up, he explained.

In an expanding economy, rising wages produce more income for the social security system and make it possible to increase benefits more than enough to offset any increases from time-to-time in the ceiling on the amount of earnings that is subject to the tax (and which counts toward the individual's future benefit payments).

"But even without considering the likely future improvements in benefit levels," Moellering said, "the average young worker will get retirement, survivors, and disability insurance protection under social security worth 20 to 25 percent more than he will pay in social security tax contributions over a 40-45 year working lifetime—even if you count accumulated interest on those contributions."

At the upper extreme—the young man who starts work in 1973 or later, when the maximum contribution rate for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance goes into effect, and who has earnings at or above the maximum annual amount subject to the social security tax, will no more than just about pay for the value of his protection.

People already at work, Moellering noted, get more protection for their tax contributions than those who will be going to work under social security in the future.
