AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Last week's San Angelo Stock Show ended the circuit for Sterling County 4-H Club members. Nineteen club members entered forty-one lambs, twelve registered Rambouillet, twelve head or four groups of range ewe lambs, six registered Hampshire sheep, and two pigs in the shows. Club members with entries were: Kenny Blaneck, Bobby Bynum, Patti Bynum, Tommy Bynum, Charlotte Foster, Skeete Foster, Steven Foster, Debbie Hopkins, Amy Hodges, Janis Igo, Lee Wayne Igo, Pam McEntire, Randy Mixon, Sally Mixon, Susan Mixon, Allen Price, Jim Terry, Melinda Terry and Payton Wilson.

Although a number of the club members' lambs were pulled out by the judge, only one lamb was placed in the final placing in a very tough lamb show. Janis Igo showed the third place lightweight finewool lamb. The lamb was sold in the auction sale on Saturday morning for $150. Purchaser was Hemphill-Wells Company of San Angelo.

The non-placing lambs were sold in the commercial auction sale on Saturday morning for $26 per hundred. Purchaser was Armour Packing Company. Armour also purchased the sifted lambs on Thursday for $25.60 per hundred. Lamb sales for the club members amounted to $1047.91; this included sifted lambs, non-placing lambs, and the placing lamb. The two pigs sold for $87.60.

Prize money won at the show amounted to $556.50 all of which was won in the breeding sheep show. San Angelo pays no money in their lamb show; they are the only show which does not pay prize money in this division.

Amy Hodges was the leading money winner. She won $235 in the Junior Rambouillet Show, $54 in the Junior Hampshire Show, and $20 in the Range Ewe Lamb Show. Janis Igo and Lee Wayne Igo who show their Rambouillets in partnership picked up $97.50 in the Junior Rambouillet Show. In addition, Janis won $40 in the Range Ewe Lamb Class while Lee Wayne picked up $35 in the same show. Allen Price won $75 in this class.

In the Hampshire Show, Amy had the fourth place ram lamb, first place two-tooth ram, and reserve champion ram. Her ewe lambs placed second and third while her two-tooth ewe placed third. She also had the first place pen of three lambs, both sexes represented, and the first place exhibitor's flock.

In the Junior Rambouillet Show, Amy had the fourth place ram lamb. Her two-tooth rams were first and ninth; Janis and Lee Wayne had the fifth and eighth place rams in this class. Amy had the champion ram of this show.

In the ewe classes, Amy had the second place ewe lamb with Janis and Lee Wayne showing the fifth and tenth place lambs. Amy's two-tooth ewes were second and fourth while Janis and Lee Wayne's two-tooth ewe stood ninth.

Amy had the first place pen of three, both sexes in the show's two divisions—breeder owned and other. Janis and Lee Wayne stood second in both of these classes.

Amy won possession of the Wallace Dameon Memorial Trophy for one year. This trophy is awarded to the premier

DID YOU?

Did you buy a wall type heater from Sears and Roebuck Co. back in the past 10 years, or so? They were called SURBURBAN and were made for Sears by the Samuel Stamping and Enameling Co. of Chattanooga, Tenn.

If, by chance you did buy one of the stoves, they have been declared unsafe by the company and will be replaced, according to reports.

Local fire marshal Dan Glass says if you should think you have one of the unsafe stoves, to call him and he will inspect it and find out for sure.

7 Million Vehicles To Be Registered in '68

AUSTIN — State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall today announced that Texas will register 7 million vehicles during 1968. "This is the largest number in our history," Dingwall said.

All 1968 Texas license plates have been delivered to the 154 County Tax Assessor-Collectors for issuance during February and March of 1968.

Of the estimated 7 million vehicles to be registered, the Texas Highway Department believes that 4.75 million will be passenger cars and 1.9 million will be commercial trucks and truck-tractors. Trailers and motorcycles will account for the balance.

The most dramatic increase is expected in the motorcycle category, based on the past two years' experience. While passenger car and commercial truck registration will increase about 3½ per cent, motorcycle registration is expected to increase 16 per cent. This follows a 25 per cent increase in motorcycles in 1966 over 1965 and another 17 per cent increase last year.

Motor vehicle owners can avoid long lines by registering during the month of February, rather than waiting until the March rush.

Owners should bring four items to the Tax Collector's office when registering vehicles: certificate of title, 1967 license receipt, current resident address and zip code.

State law requires each owner to register his vehicle in the county in which he resides and to present his certificate of title as evidence of ownership.

During the 1967 session the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Registration Law by changing passenger car license fees and establishing a minimum fee of $5.30 for all vehicles, including boat trailers.

The new rate for passenger cars are as follows:
Up to 3,500 lbs. — 12.30
3,501—4,500 lbs. — 22.30
4,501—6,000 lbs. — 30.30
More than 6,000 lbs. — .55 per hundred pounds.

For Social Security

About one of every five applicants for social security disability benefits delays so long before making his application that he risks possible loss of some payments, Ted F. Moellering, district manager of social security in San Angelo, said today.

In an effort to remedy this situation, the Social Security Administration is asking anyone who might possibly qualify for disability benefits to get in touch with a social security office as soon as possible.

"Some people fail to apply because they don't realize that they can benefit from the program," Moellering said. "Younger people often think that social security payments only for people in their sixties, whereas the disability was specifically set up to protect the wage earner who is forced to stop working before he is old enough to collect retirement benefits."

A person under 65 can receive monthly payments if he has a physical or mental impairment that has kept, or will keep, him from working for a year or more. Individual benefits range from $44 to $152 a month. If the worker has dependents, total family benefits can amount to as much as $339 monthly.

"Others don't file because they are under the impression that they have to be permanently disabled. This was generally true before a 1965 change in the law, but now payments can go to a person whose disability has lasted, or is expected to last, for 12 months or longer," Moellering pointed out.

Benefits begin after a person has been disabled for 6 full months. No benefits can be paid for months during this "waiting period." Also, the law limits the back benefits a person can collect to the 12 months before the month in which he applies.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—How often have we expressed the desire to have "a little peace and quiet." Yet the trend with most of us is to do anything, to go anywhere, to take our mind off ourselves. Could it be that we have such a low estimate of our own company that any chance to be alone is avoided?

Apart from the strife of tongues, every life desperately needs a Chapel of Silence. Away from the debates which rend the air with contending voices, the greatest things are said and heard in silences.

Great men and women of the past found the most vital things to say in public given them in brooding hours far from the crowd with its loud and distracting accents. A cloister offers the high privilege of listening to voices of abiding truth symbolized, not by the earthquake and whirlwind but by the still small voice.

The One who spake as never man spake knew the creative silence of the hills and wilderness. Paul's immortal insights into life and death came out of three hours of silence apart from the haunts of man.

Silent arguments are the final and effective answer. The unspoken arguments are the unanswerable ones. Truth can afford to wait in quietness and restraint. The fiery verbal missiles hurled from the platform or legislative halls the courts of law or the street corner demonstration are at last answered by the truth which, assailed by words, abides in silence, uttering no indignant rebuttal but nevertheless eloquent in its disclosure.

What is said about things is not nearly as important as what things say about themselves. It often comes to pass that their silent testimony refutes and confronts noisy affirmation about them. For instance, John Lightfoot, Chancellor of Cambridge University in 1654 gave assurances that God's creation occurred at 9 a.m., October 26, 4004 but the wise old earth never believed anything of the kind. It spun on making no audible refutation regarding its alleged age. However, there were uncut leaves in the book of nature, in the coal and chalk beds, on the ocean floors, and in the rocks, all proving that the recent date was not inspired by truth. At last the record was opened and the planet had its say. As is usual, the unspoken argument finally prevailed.

Modern life with its hectic amusements, its grinding traffic, its crowded cities and its mob-movements, seems to be a giant conspiracy against the sacrament of silence and solitude. But, the most worthwhile human achievements have come out of a loneliness. Our most inward development awaits our practice of it. The disciplined mind can enter its own secret chapel anywhere, at a moment's notice, where beyond these voices there is peace and meaningful silence. Thomas Carlyle exclaimed, "I think the happiest of all men is one who can keep himself the quietest." Cardinal Newman matched Carlyle's insight when he said, "We are never less alone than when alone." These men may have been inspired by Isaiah's, "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."

Solitude can be a garden enclosed where blooms the choicest flowers of grace. Perhaps we have to be touched by some sorrow in our lives before we seek the healing touch of the silent place. John Oxenham's prayer:

"A solitude where I can think,
A haven of retreat
Where of Thy red wine I may drink
And of thy white bread eat.
Come! Occupy my silent place.
And make Thy dwelling there!
More grace is wrought in quietness
Than any is aware."

Elmer Kelton to Livestock Weekly

Worth Durham, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, stated today "It is with much regret that the TSGRA accepts the resignation of Elmer Kelton, as editor of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Magazine. He has rendered real service to our industry and exhibited loyalty to our association which all of us appreciate."

Kelton has resigned to become associate editor of the West Texas Livestock Weekly. He will be associated with Stanley Frank, publisher of the San Angelo-based publication.

He will remain with the TSGRA magazine until the association names a successor. Kelton has been the editor since the association bought the magazine from H.M. Phillips in October, 1963. Prior to joining the association staff, he was with the San Angelo Standard-Times about 15 years, much of that time as agriculture editor. Besides his agricultural writing, Kelton has published about a dozen Western and historical novels. One of them, Buffalo Wagons, won the Spur Award from the Western Writers of America as best Western Novel of 1957. Later, in 1962-63, he served a term as president of that organization.

Kelton is a native of Crane, Texas, where his father, Buck Kelton, spent 36 years with the McElroy Ranch Co., first as foreman and later as manager.

The association and its magazine committee are now exploring available fields for management and advertising personnel capable of maintaining the standards of excellence and quality now enjoyed by the magazine.

BEWARE OF MEASLES

Why are parents indifferent about protecting their children against measles? One answer, suggests Dr. R. Cannon Eley of Brown University, is that they are unaware of the serious effects of the disease.

When a safe and effective polio vaccine became available, he points out, parents demanded it for their children because they could see the crippling effects of polio. But children made deaf, mentally retarded, or emotionally disturbed because of measles do not obviously incriminate the disease.

Dr. Eley emphasizes that such measles effects—plus paralysis, blindness, recurrent convulsions, psychological disturbances, pneumonia, and ear infections—are not rare.

Encephalitis or inflammation of the brain occurs in 1 out of every 1,000 cases. It kills 50% of its victims, and leaves 25 per cent of the survivors mentally retarded, the doctor points out.

And in 1966, some 250 children died from measles in the U.S.—more than twice as many deaths from measles as reported cases of polio.

If unprotected, Dr. Eley says, "90 per cent of children have the disease before the age of 6 years; the remaining 10 per cent contract it later." During the period from January to December 30, 1967, there were 62,232 reported cases of measles in this country.

Today, polio is almost nonexistent in the U.S. Tomorrow, Dr. Eley stresses, the same could be true of measles. Measles vaccine should be given to all children between the ages of 1 and 12, he says.

When they are immunized the disease will be under control, since these children—especially those in kindergarten and in the first 2 grades of elementary school—are most likely to contract the disease.

Only one "shot" is required with the Schwarz-strain vaccine, the type most commonly used in mass immunization campaigns. It provides what is believed to be lifelong protection similar to that which follows recovery from natural measles, but without the danger associated with the disease.

So don't jeopardize your child's health—or life—by neglecting his immunization. See your doctor about it today!
