New "Way" For Car License Buying

It'll be easier and simpler this year to register your car, or buy your plates for 1970. Every car owner is being sent a three part card deal and all he has to do is to take the three way card to the office of the tax-collector and pay his license fee. Or, he can mail it in, along with an extra dollar, and the plates will be mailed back to him. You don't have to look up your car title this year, if you got one of the card deals and still have that car listed. If you have sold that car, just throw away the cards. There will be time saved in busy collectors offices and, if you don't have time to go to the courthouse, you can just mail it all in; the license fee and one extra dollar. You will be given one card for a receipt, the tax collector will keep one and one will be sent to Austin headquarters.

Great Plains Program Is Extended for Ten Years

The 10-year extension and broadening of the Great Plains Conservation Program in legislation recently enacted by Congress can mean a doubling of the needed soil and water conservation work in the North Concho River SWCD, Rance Conservationist Herb Seene of the USDA Soil Conservation Service said today.

The law extending the program, which was launched in 1957 to give landowners in the Great Plains help in building greater stability in farming and ranching enterprises, was signed by the President on November 18, 1969. The program had been scheduled to end December 31, 1971 but has now been extended to 1981.

The legislation authorizes an additional $150 million in Federal funds for the cost-sharing of conservation measures.

In addition to cost-sharing regular soil and water conservation work, the broadened program will provide for the enhancement of fish, wildlife and recreation resources on farms and ranches where it will improve the economic condition of landowners. It will also provide assistance on agriculture-related pollution problems in keeping with the program's overall objectives.

It also authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to enter into contracts on land not generally considered to be agricultural but where erosion is so serious that conservation work is needed to protect farm or ranch holdings.

Senne pointed out that the law brings the responsibility of soil and water conservation districts more sharply into focus, stipulating that "approved conservation plans developed in cooperation with the soil and water conservation district in which their lands are situated shall form a basis for contracts."

The Great Plains Conservation Program as a most useful tool for soil and water conservation districts in their effort to get greater resource and economic stability established in a region recognized for its agricultural risk.

"The success of this program can be assigned to the willingness of landowners to enter into formal contracts with the Secretary of Agriculture to move ahead faster toward completing the conservation job on their entire units," Senne said. The whole idea of the Great Plains Conservation Program is to enable the landowner to make needed changes in his cropping and grazing system, to change the use of his land as indicated by soil information, and to install needed soil and water conservation treatment measures."

Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days on New Grapefruit Diet

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. There will be no weight loss in the first four days, but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly 'forbidden' . . . Such as big steaks, trimmed with fat, Southern fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobsters, swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first ten days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" is not generally known. Stuff yourself on the permitted foods listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight, and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startlingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to

INCOME TAX WORK

Will do a limited number of income tax forms for local persons needing it. David Marx 378-3931.

In case of fire, dial 8-4771.

"Nearly 500,000 acres of cropland have been planted to grass in Texas under the program," Senne said. He pointed out that an inventory of conservation needs shows that 571,000 additional acres in the 99 Great Plains counties in Texas need to be returned to permanent vegetation.

The latest checkup by SCS shows 34,662 farmers and ranchers in 424 counties in the 10 Great Plains states have entered the program with holdings covering over 62 million acres. More than one-third of the number have finished all needed conservation work. Federal money obligated for cost-sharing in the program has amounted to nearly $121 million with about $29 million still to be paid as owners go ahead with their work.

In Texas, 10,908 farmers and ranchers have signed contracts covering 13.7 million acres and obligating $37 million in cost-share funds. Nearly 1,200 Texas farmers and ranchers have applications on file to take part in the program.

The seeding of unsuitable cropland to grass, development of water resources, reduction of the soil erosion hazard through various conservation techniques, control of invading brush on rangeland, improvement of irrigation systems are among steps taken by landowners in the program to create resistance to drought and other emergencies and thereby reduce suffering and financial stress once common in the Plains. Plains farmers and ranchers have returned nearly 2 million acres of hazardous cropland to grassland uses in the program.

Senne said that although the program in Texas has reduced dust storms on the Plains, the job is far from complete. He said a recent survey showed that only 15 percent of all needed conservation work on the Plains has been done.

Old Sheets Needed CANCER BANDAGES

Mrs. Riley King, head of the local Cancer Chapter, said this week that there was a big need for old sheets to make cancer bandages with. She asks that anyone who has old sheets that they would contribute for such purpose, to take them to Brooks Dry Goods and leave them soon. They will be picked up there and made into bandages by volunteers.

Social Security News

Want to get that first social security on time? "Everyone does, but not enough people do anything about it," says Ted F. Moellering, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office.

According to Mr. Moellering, every person who files an application for social security benefits will be asked to present certain proofs. Most applicants will also be asked to give the exact amount of earnings for the past year and for the current year.

Most persons do not bother to find out ahead of time exactly what they will need. "George waits until the day he files an application," said Mr. Moellering. "Then he has to go back home and dig around for records, or write letters requesting the necessary documents, causing a delay in the processing of his claim."

A claim for social security benefits may be filed as early as three months before entitlement to benefits.

Mr. Moellering suggests that claimants get in touch with the social security office several months before this three month period to find out ahead of time what proofs and information will be needed.

"The satisfied applicant," continued Mr. Moellering, "is the one who does this, and consequently has all necessary proofs and information with him. The result—everything is completely taken care of during this one visit at the social security office, and he gets that first check right on time."

"Social security relies to a great extent on each beneficiary's ability to report events which will affect his monthly payments," said Ted F. Moellering, Social Security District Manager. Among those events that the beneficiary should report are changes of address, stopping or starting work, changes in estimated earnings during the year, and a beneficiary's death, marriage, divorce, or annulment.

Each beneficiary receives a special card to fill out and send to his local social security office when a report must be made. Reports are relayed to the paying office by electronic means to avoid delays in updating records.

Those needing to report a change should request form SSA-1425 from the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area. Any of our representatives will be glad to give you the necessary forms.

NEW APPROACH TO TRAFFIC

Neither snow nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night will stay the commuter from swift arrival at his place of work. Paraphrasing the motto of the Post Office, this sentence sums up the vastly improved prospects for daily transportation that may give traffic tie-ups the air.

For small urban strips and airports will soon be able to break the congestion barrier through the use of light weight, inexpensive, miniature Microwave (Instrument Landing System) developed for around-the-clock, low-visibility operation. The name of the device is Talar. It was developed by The Singer Company, the widely diversified firm internationally known as a leading sewing machine manufacturer.

To enable an aircraft to use Talar for instrument approaches, it needs only to be equipped with two small electronic boxes that have a combined weight of less than 10 pounds.

While not radar in the conventional sense, the new system does use many radar techniques. Briefly, it is specially designed to supply information on aircraft position to its pilot directly, rather than to an operator on the ground. The present design includes a number of changes suggested during flight tests by the Air Force. The system is presently being delivered to the U.S. Air Force under contract.

A ground transmitter, which weights 57 pounds excluding power supply, is fully transistorized except for the transmitter tube. The airborne unit, is fully solid-state in construction.

Instrument approaches by aircraft were conducted using the TALAR landing approach system developed by the Singer Company. The purpose of the flight was to demonstrate that aircraft and ground support equipment are available to outfit small urban air strips for around the clock, low visibility operations to cope with inter-city and intra-city transportation problems.

This has paid off in remarkable reliability. The transmitter, it has been demonstrated, can be put into operation in less than five minutes. Because the alignment of the transmitter is important, Talar is equipped with a built-in telescope with crosshairs to permit an accurate visual check of runway alignment.

Pilots, however, will have no difficulty getting on and staying on the beam. And computers, like the postman, will neither be deterred nor dejected from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.

Social Security Tips

The least understood service under Medicare is home health benefits, according to Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager in San Angelo, Texas. Mr. Moellering explained that these benefits are available to home-confined Medicare beneficiaries in most localities, when ordered by a doctor and when furnished by a participating home health agency. These agencies send skilled people to the home to provide health care, such as part-time nursing; physical, speech and occupational therapy; use of medical appliances; and part-time services of home health aides.

Home health benefits are furnished under both parts of Medicare: Part A, hospital insurance, and Part B, supplemental medical insurance. Part A takes care of all of the costs of up to 100 visits for up to a year after the most recent discharge from a hospital or participating extended care facility, under these conditions:

1. The beneficiary was in a participating, or otherwise qualified, hospital for at least 3 consecutive days;
2. He is confined to his home;
3. A doctor determines the need for home health care and sets up a plan for it within 14 days after discharge from the hospital or participating extended care facility; and
4. The home care is for treatment of the same condition for which he was hospitalized.

There is no requirement of prior hospitalization for these services under Part B. Up to 100 home health visits each year are covered, if:

1. The patient is confined to his home;
2. A doctor determines the need for home health care; and
3. The doctor sets up a home health care plan and reviews it periodically. Part B pays all but the first $50 and 20 percent of the remainder of the costs of covered medical services in a calendar year.

Social Security

A number of widows and surviving children of deceased workers in this area could be missing out on social security money due them, according to Ted F. Moellering, district manager of the Social Security Office. Many changes have been made in recent years concerning benefits for widows and children. Some who would be eligible do not know about the new rules, Mr. Moellering said. Mr. Moellering further noted that at present there are over three million young widows and children receiving a monthly social security check.

A widow who is completely disabled and over age 50 can receive reduced widow's benefit if she becomes disabled within seven years of her husband's death or the time she last had a child entitled to benefits in her care. Also, widows who remarry after age 60 may retain a part of the widow's benefit.

Children who would be otherwise entitled because of the death, disability, or retirement of a parent except for being over age 18, can now receive student benefits if they are in full-time school attendance, unmarried, and under age 22.

Children also have full protection now on their mother's account under the same rules that apply to a father's account. This present law will result in a number of children being able to receive social security benefits when their mother dies or becomes disabled, including some who were previously turned down under the old law, Mr. Moellering said.

Anyone knowing someone who might qualify for benefits under these provisions is urged to have them get in touch with their Social Security Office at 300 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

The champion Territory Wool Fleece of the Wool Show at the National Western Stock Show in Denver was a fleece entered by Allen Price. Grown in Sterling County on the Price's Bobs Creek Ranch, the fleece was one of three entered in the Denver show by Allen. Two of the fleeces were ewe fleeces and one was a ram fleece; all were first place fleeces in their class at the Sonora Wool Show in June. The ram fleece was the champion fleece of the adult show.

At the Denver show, any fleece from flocks of sheep in excess of 600 head run under range conditions is designated as a territory fleece. Their other designation is farm flock fleeces. They also have the show for fleeces of the various breeds such as Rambouillet, Corriedale, Hampshire and Targhee. (Allen's fleece was from a Foster S. Price bred Debouillet).

The only information available at this time on the wool show at Denver was a news release in the Monday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram. It is not known whether the champion fleece was a ewe fleece or the ram fleece nor is there any information on any other placings in the show.

Now is the time to spray fruit and nut trees for scale infestation. This should be done during the dormant season as the spray used is an oil emulsion and its use when the tree has put in leaves may result in burning of the foliage.

The recommendations call for the use of 3½ gallons of 97% oil emulsion spray in one hundred gallons of water. Cover the entire trunk and limbs of the tree for the best control of the scale.

This is also a good time to prune your trees. Remove all the dead wood and all branches which may hang too low and interfere with mowing under the trees. Prune to the shape you desire.

Plants such as roses should not be pruned at this early date. If pruned now, warm weather (which seems unlikely now) could result in some green buds and shoots which would likely be killed later on this winter by cold weather. This would result in injury to the roses so it is best to wait to prune roses until March.

A golden opportunity in law enforcement awaits qualified young men. Get in touch with your Texas Department of Public Safety office or patrolman.
