AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—New organizations of one sort or another are formed about every day. One formed at Ohio State University recently is known as Students for Majority Rights. It may turn out to be a very significant group. They have filed a suit, the purpose of which is to affirm the right of students to pursue their education free of intimidation and violence.

The court case has been filed by 9 students against 1 professor, 1 non-student and 7 regular students. If the case is brought to a final conclusion in the courts, it could serve a most valuable purpose and is certainly timely.

Soon it will be back to school for thousands of sincere and serious-minded students who want to pursue their education unmolested.

One might assume that the rights of the majority would be automatically protected. We have seen that they are not and there is a reason.

The reason is that traditionally we have been long on protecting the rights of the minority and short on protecting those of the majority.

Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and freedom of assembly are needed primarily to protect the rights of the minority from being denied by the power of the majority.

In recent years, however, we have seen the denial of majority rights on campuses, in the streets and elsewhere, through the misuse of these rights by the few.

As an example, mobs of picketeers have surrounded a meeting place to prevent people from entering to hear a speaker, with whom they disagreed.

At Columbia University invited the State Director of Selective Service to address them on aspects of the draft. The meeting was disrupted by a few militants and the meeting broke up.

Time and again speakers holding prominent positions in business, labor and government have been harangued to the point that they have been unable to finish their addresses.

This past year many colleges and universities have had to throw away weeks of education and to cancel entire semesters because of violence by militant minorities.

The acts denied the benefits of education to the vast majority of students who were there for the purpose it was intended—an education.

This is why the test suit brought by Ohio State University students is timely and crucial.

It is important because, as the Dr. Eisenhower Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence concluded, there is little law providing for the protection of the constitutional rights of the many when they are jeopardized by the few. The assumption that majority can protect itself is

Lions Hear of Tour of North Europe

Lisa Horwood, who went on a month's tour of northern Europe with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Hildbrand, this summer, told of the trip at the Lions Club luncheon at noon Wednesday. The three took a tour on the T.S. Hamburg this summer which took them to—Iceland, Ice Cape, Trondheim and Oslo, Norway, Stockholm, Sweden, Leningrad, (they couldn't get into Moscow), Helsinki, Finland—and the Olympic Stadium, Copenhagen, Hamburg, Berlin—both East and West Berlin, Bermuda and back into New York and home. Lisa told of the side trips, the little things of interest, and in concluding, she said she liked America the best of all.

Guests present were Gail Ann Lively, Jack Shelley, Lisa Horwood, John Allen, and Mr. Mathers. Bill Watts was a new member.

The prize went to Lisa Horwood.

ARMY NEWS SERVICE

Ft. Campbell, Ky.—Army Private Gary D. Foster, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Q. Foster, San Angelo Route, Sterling City, Texas, on July 17 at Fort Campbell, Ky. was high scorer on the individual proficiency test held at the end of his company's basic training.

The test, based on skills he learned during his eight weeks of training, included hand-to-hand combat, use of the bayonet, drill, first-aid, squad tactics and written examination.

Pvt. Foster entered the army last May.

Wins Ribbons at State Pecan Show

John Brock, local pecan grower, had pecans entered in the Texas State Pecan Show in Dallas last month. Last Friday he received his winning ribbons from the show.

He had a first place ribbon on his John Garner entry and a first on his Western Schley. He received second place ribbons on his San Saba Improved and his Desirable.

Brock also had a red second place ribbon on a collection of Six Varieties.

Mrs. Levi Martin of Sterling City, and her sister, Mrs. Lucy Cain of San Angelo, recently returned from a ten-day visit in Salt Lake City with a sister and her husband, Col. and Mrs. J. H. Logan. They flew from Midland.

The Tom Asbills visited relatives in Dallas last week end.

seemingly no longer valid.

If the case brought by the students for majority rights is carried to a successful conclusion in the courts, then a principle would be established in other cases where the minority prevailed and denied the same rights to the majority as demanded by the few.

It is perfectly well to say that it is the fault of the majority when they permit a lesser number to disrupt and override the feelings of the more numerous of any group, whether it be on campus, a labor union or a church. This would be true if the usual procedures and orderly processes were employed. The difference is that the orderly procedures are thrown aside by the militants, which is no more or less than anarchy, with which the majority would be unable to cope except by its own physical force

Grass Fires Plague This Area

Grass fires, mostly set by lightning, continue to plague Sterling and area ranchers. Thunderstorms, accompanied by lightning, have been very regular in starting fires this week. Fires have been fought by the Volunteer Fire Department at these ranches (plus perhaps others)—Key, Augustine, Clark, Foster, Alley, and some grass fires here in town.

Until decent rains fall, the fires will continue to be a threat.

Bill Watts Begins Work in Bank

Bill Watts has been employed in the First National Bank here. He began work last week.

Honored on 81st Birthday

Mrs. Sallie Wallace Is 81

Mrs. Hester Knight entertained at her home on the afternoon of the 14th with a birthday party honoring Mrs. Sallie Wallace on her 81st birthday. Mrs. Wallace has taught a Sunday School class at the First Baptist Church here for thirty years and has served as county treasurer for thirty years.

Ten members of the Sunday School class were present at the party. Cake and punch was served by the hostess. The guests sang the favorite hymns of the honoree. Mrs. Bill C. Humble played for the singing on the electric organ.

On Monday of this week, the City Cafe began operating only one shift a day—from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. It closes at 2 p.m.

High winds and thunder and lightning Tuesday night—all night, gave Sterling City some high winds, but no rain. Light wind damage was noted here in town.

Scattered areas out from town received up to one inch of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burnett of Montpelier, Vt. and their son, Randy, are here visiting her mother, Mrs. Nan Davis.

Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court."
 "(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission."
 "(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."
 "(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed."
 "(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal."
 "(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of, the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution."
 Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances."

Social Security Tips ABOUT YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

"If I apply for disability benefits, do I have to be examined by a social security doctor before I can get any checks?" This is a question frequently asked when disabled workers claim social security disability insurance benefits.

J. M. Talbot, social security manager, says the social security law requires the applicant to supply the medical records on his condition. When you apply for benefits, you must provide a report from your attending doctor or hospital.

Information from the attending doctor and the hospital is generally all that is needed. However, in some instances, a specialist's report may be necessary to clarify a question or resolve a borderline situation. You may then be asked to go for a special examination to help provide the extra information.

If such a special examination is required, Mr. Talbot added, the Social Security Administration will pay for it. He stressed, however, that this is done only to supplement or clarify the initial information you have already provided.

When you apply for disability benefits, be ready to give the names and addresses of all your sources of medical treatment for your disabling condition. Contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

SPACE AND AERONAUTICS

SPACE SAFETY

WASHINGTON—Any fool will tell you that if you put a match to paper, wood, clothing and certain building materials you're going to have a fire. But if someone told you that these same materials would not burn you'd probably call him a fool.

In this space-age, don't doubt that this can happen. NASA safety experts looking for better fire protection in their manned spacecraft have seen convincing evidence that wood shacks were put to the could well solve their problems.

For one thing, they saw a demonstration in which two apparently freshly painted wood shacks were put to the torch. One was reduced to ashes in a few minutes and the other sustained no apparent damage except some slight discoloration of the paint. What had made the difference was the surviving shack had been coated with a fire-resistant paint.

The paint and other materials are being examined closely by NASA safety officers for possible use in the space program. They don't want another fire like the one that took the lives of Gus Grissom, Ed White and Roger Chaffee on the pad at Cape Kennedy in January 1967.

The space agency's interest in fire safety is far more critical than that expected of a safety officer at a factory. Fire is a serious flight hazard because astronauts must operate in an artificial environment of high oxygen content, sometimes as much as 100 percent oxygen environment, or five times as much as we get in our everyday breathing. So fire is the single worst safety hazard of modern operations, in space laboratories and shops, and especially around electronic equipment.

It is no wonder then that NASA is highly interested in a balsawood so treated with a colorless, odorless chemical that it won't burn; a Teflon-coated "beta" fiberglass cloth for astronauts' coveralls and for other use in the spacecraft. Incidentally, this special cloth is now being used for firefighters' clothing, because it will not burn even when exposed to the most intense heat.

While Teflon fabric shows promise as a fire-resistant material, it may not be the total answer in a manned spacecraft with its heavy oxygen environment. In investigating the accident which aborted the Apollo 13 flight, it was found that Teflon will burn when the ignition source is an electrical arc (short circuit) of high temperature.

One of the promising facets of this space-age technology is not only the safety it guarantees our astronauts, but also the prospect that you and I will one day enjoy the same assurances against the hazards of fire; for it is a requirement under the Congressional charter that set up NASA a dozen years ago that this kind of information be "transferred" to the consumer. We learn as we go to press that many companies are having fed to them from NASA computers this information so that they can determine how best to manufacture these items for public consumption.

U.S. Border Patrol Seeks Applicants

The U.S. Border Patrol of the Immigration and Naturalization Service has an urgent need for physically fit young men desiring a career in Federal law enforcement work. This is a career opportunity for those who like action and outdoor work.

The Border Patrol is the mobile, uniformed enforcement branch of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Its principle purpose is to prevent the smuggling and illegal entry of aliens into the United States. The border patrolmen, called Immigration Patrol Inspectors, work along international boundaries, although their duties are not necessarily confined to these areas. They work in jeeps, cars, on foot, in boats and even in airplanes. Officers investigate violations of the immigration laws and frequently make arrests. They are often required to work irregular hours, under all weather conditions. These duties demand mental alertness as well as exceptional physical vigor and stamina.

The entrance salary of an Immigration Patrol Inspector is $7,639 a year (Grade GS-7). There are promotional opportunities up to executive levels in the Immigration and Naturalization Service. On-the-job training offers splendid opportunities for promotion to positions of greater responsibility.

No experience is required for these positions. To qualify, applicants must pass a written test of verbal abilities, judgment, and aptitude for learning a foreign language. Candidates who pass the written test are called for oral interviews in the order of their standing on the list. The oral interview is designed to determine if the candidate has the personal qualities needed for the work. Applicants must also pass a rigid physical examination. Candidates who are selected for appointment are assigned to the Border Patrol Academy for a period of intensive training in such subjects as immigration laws, Spanish, physical training and marksmanship. Trainees receive full pay while in the academy.

Applications are now being accepted for the civil service examination for Immigration Patrol Inspector which will be held on Saturday, January 24, 1970. An additional examination is scheduled for April, 1970. However, those wishing to be tested in January must submit their applications before December 19, 1969. Full information is given in Announcement No. WAM-911 which may be secured from Interagency Boards of Examiners and from many post offices as well as any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Applications should be submitted on the tearout application form on the announcement or CSC Form 50000AB and forwarded to the Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for Washington, D.C. 1900 E St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20415.

Information concerning the patrol inspector position and this announcement may be obtained from the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, P. O. Box 2539, San Antonio, Texas 78206, or by calling 512-225-5511, Extension 214.

LOST MEDICARE CARD

Have you lost your Medicare card?

Your Medicare card should be in your possession at all times. J.M. Talbot, social security manager, said today. It is your proof to your doctor and to the hospital that Medicare will help pay your medical bills. The doctor or hospital can tell at what point you became entitled to Medicare benefits, and whether you are entitled to payment for both your hospital and your doctor bills—if you show him the Medicare card.

Perhaps the most important function of your Medicare card is that it furnishes your own claim number to the doctor and to the hospital. Any claims for payment on your behalf must contain this complete number in order for Medicare to assist with the payment of the bills.

If you do lose your card, call or visit your nearest social security office, and a free duplicate card will be obtained for you. However, it will take about three weeks to get this duplicate, so make your request as soon as you realize that you have lost your original. The hospital can, if necessary, admit you without your Medicare card; but, you can avoid considerable difficulty if you secure a new card before you become ill and need it.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Ave. (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.
