AROUND
COUNTY
by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Recently a lady called wanting to know if she could use green vegetables such as turnip greens and spinach that had been fertilized with a commercial fertilizer containing aldrin. Aldrin is one of the insecticides now under question and its continued use is being seriously questioned.

There was no material in files that answered the question regarding the use of the greens that had been fertilized with the fertilizer containing the aldrin. To give the best possible answer, the agricultural chemicals leader with the Extension Service at College Station was contacted. He advised that after reviewing all the USDA summaries of agricultural uses, he finds that aldrin is not cleared for use on greens. Thus, the lady is advised to pull up the greens, destroy them, and not use the area for a garden in the future.

The point that needs to be made at this time is that before using any fertilizer on food crops, the label should be checked to determine if it contains any insecticides. The use of the fertilizer is still recommended but care must be taken with the use of insecticides on food crops. More and more of the well-known insecticides are coming under fire from regulatory agencies; many of them may be removed from the market as time goes on.

Any time anyone has a question regarding the use of insecticides, they should feel free to call the county agent's office. If the information is not available in the files, it can be obtained from other sources available to us. In many cases, it is not the use of the insecticide now that is the problem. The continued use in many instances is the problem. Many of the insecticides may not be dangerous in the quantity used but if used over a longer period of time, they accumulate in the body and are not dissipated. Eventually, the amount in the body builds up to the level of danger. This is what the regulatory agencies are concerned with in their regulations.

Above all else, always use all insecticides on plants or animals in the recommended amounts. These are a part of the label and must be put there if the product moves through commercial channels. At times, all of us are prone to use just a little more than the recommended teaspoon per gallon of water or whatever the recommendation calls for. This is where many of the troubles begin. If food products in the normal market channel are checked and the content is found to be too high, these products must be destroyed. There are numerous instances of meat, milk, and vegetables having to be destroyed for this reason. We recently heard of a dairyman who was having his milk condemned because it was found to contain high levels of a certain insecticide. He was not using this insecticide on his premises and after much checking, it was found that he was buying and feeding grain that contained the insecticide. Further checking revealed that the farmer growing the grain had sprayed the storage bins with the insecticide to control weevils before putting the grain in the bins. To be safe, read the label, follow the directions to the letter, and use the recommended control measures.

Teachers Attend Math Workshop

Mrs. Olivia Asbill, Mrs. Juanita Noles and Mrs. Leora Barrett, local teachers, attended an area mathematics workshop in Midland on Thursday of last week. The workshop was held in the Goddard Junior High School there.

It was conducted by Dr. LeRon R. Capps, Director of Elementary Education, University of Kansas. Dr. Capps serves as a mathematics consultant to many school districts and writes numerous articles for professional journals. He is one of the five authors of MODERN SCHOOL MATHEMATICS used in grades 1-3.

Farm-To-Market Road Improvement for Sterling

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of 20,100.00 for state highway improvement work in Sterling County during 1971. District Engineer J.A. Snell of San Angelo said that a total of 113 miles of asphalt seal coat work on State Highway 163 has been authorized under the annual program. Work will be under supervision of R.N. Jennings, District Maintenance Engineer, and is part of the Highway Commission's combined State Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Program for 1971.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C. — As Americans, we have justifiable reasons to be thankful and proud. Traveling and visiting again in Texas during the Congressional recess, it seems strikingly evident that we in this part of the country have particular cause for confidence. Perhaps too long we have magnified our problems and taken too seriously the obstacles that hinder us.

Unemployment is considered beyond tolerable limits when it reaches 3 1/2 to 4 percent of our total population. The figure nationally is now approaching 5 percent. In our area of Texas, though some are certainly underemployed, the figure is not near that level.

Economically, the wide diversity of our resources in

HAIR!

Hair is something these days. There's a play by that name, there's many a boy who has hair longer than his father likes, and even longer than his sister's in some cases.

When I was growing up, all men and boys liked neat hair cuts or trims. They (especially the men) liked to get a hair cut on Saturday so as to be real neat looking on Sunday.

Them was the days. Nowadays, long hair is in—in many cases. Barbers are bound to be losing business. Long hair, long sideburns, mustaches and in some cases, full beards are seen. Somebody might be trying to prove something.

Neat hair cuts just don't cut the ice anymore. Mama and papa might feel like telling son to get his hair cut, but they either don't or do—and son ignores it.

I remember a Henry Aldrich radio program of years ago. Mother told Henry to go get his hair cut. He went past his regular barber and went to a brand new barber shop. The barber asked him—when he sat down in the chair and said "I want a hair cut"—just what style do you want? Henry said gee whizz, is there more than one kind. The barber produced a chart of popular movie actors with their hair cuts and told Henry to pick out his favorite styling. Henry picked out a style worn by his favorite movie star (perhaps Clark Gable) and said that was the one. When he got home his sister said to him—I thought you had to get a hair cut. Henry said—gee whizz—can't you tell this new style of hair cut? His mother greeted him the same way, and in the end, little Henry had to go to his regular barber and get a normal hair cut.

Nowadays, it is sometimes hard to determine the sex of a person, till you really eyeball 'em. Even then you might have doubts between Tiny Tim, Gorgeous George or one of the Beatles. Girls used to have short haircuts like Mia Farrow or Twiggy, but now the most prevalent style is real long down the back like the old hair tonic ads.

So, soon the boys will go on back to short hair. They probably just wanted long hair if the gals wore short hair.

The mutton chop sideburns, the half or full beard and the down to the collar hair—like a girl's bobbed hair used to be—will pass away—in time.

I sometimes wish that I had enough hair to do a little experimenting with, but alas nature has taken care of that. Maybe a hair-piece or wig would give me some leeway along that line, but it would not be quite the same.

Anyway, if those guys who wear it long want to look like an Australian bushman or an African aborigine, guess it is alright with me. But I think short hair or no hair is a little more sanitary—or something. At least one can comb his hair with a wash cloth—or get a shampoo with the same. Or he can go get a hair piece—or rug head deal and fool everyone—but himself, his family and his friends.

8—BALL
So, conclusions that may be reached or arrived at are— young people like it, older people don't like long hair on boys, girls don't seem to care either way much, and what can anyone do about it any-

ANN LAWSON

Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Amos T. Lawson of Sterling City announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna Beth, to Ronnie Kilpatrick, son of Mrs. Beth Kilpatrick, also of Sterling City.

Miss Lawson is a graduate of Sterling City High School and has attended Texas Woman's University for three years. Mr. Kilpatrick is also a graduate of City High School and is now a student in Angelo State University.

The wedding date has been set for October 3.

Preaching Sunday Morning at Presbyterian Church

There will be preaching at the Presbyterian Church here at 11 a.m. Sunday, it has been announced. Dennis Wright of Colorado City will be here to preach, said Mrs. David Glass this week. All members and anyone interested are asked to attend.

The fad will pass.

In the time of the beginning of our nation, men wore long hair. George Washington had a sort of a bobbed hair cut, so did Thomas Jefferson and so many others. They also powdered it—or wore powdered wigs over their own hair.

Maybe the Indian penchant for scalps caused the frontiersmen to start wearing shorter hair. Indians themselves wore long braided hair. The braves and all. But they didn't have barber shops in Indian camps or villages.

Really, all I care about hair is that it be clean and neat—and preferably short—on boys and men.

And kinda long on women.

8—BALL

Joe Namath may be a better actor with a beard and stuff, but I doubt if he's a better football player.

8—BALL

If there was a government commission to set the style of hair cuts for men—it would not please everyone. That I'm certain of.

8—BALL

About every hundred years long hair and beards get to be fashionable, it seems.

The style may stay around in favor for ten or more years—then wham, it's back to short hair. So men should not fuss or fume about women following the dictates of fashion—they do it in hair styles.

Course, the price of hair cuts may reach a high every hundred years or so, making long hair fashionable.

Then the reason may well be economic. Who's to say that Lord Byron or William Shakespeare just couldn't afford the price of a hair cut. Or maybe young people just don't go in the barbering trade in seasons of each hundred years, making a real shortage of barbers or hair stylists.

Anyway, what is called the crowning glory of women—in the Bible or Shakespeare—just doesn't seem to be that—on boys or men—to me.

LIONS CLUB

The Lions Club met for the regular weekly luncheon at noon Wednesday in the community center. President Dan Glass read the monthly newsletter from Harry Wisehart, Jr. Bill Barrett was a guest.

President Glass said that he had been approached by an interested citizen who asked that the club try to get the city to install street signs over the town. He said that he had looked it up and found that a total of 55 signs (which would stagger street signs about every other intersection) would cost about $800.00 for the signs and posts alone. Labor would be extra. He thought that number of signs would be enough to take care of the situation.

The need for the city water pump to be installed at the Lowe place east of town was talked. It could be tied in to the city water system and if the pump or something went out on the Davis well (that furnishes the city water) then the city could have the Lowe well to fill in until the bigger pump again was operative. It seems that the city already has the pump here, but it is not installed.

Boost Sterling City

Lion Jim Davis asked that the members consider advertising the town as a good place to live; maybe even entice residents up from San Angelo to live here because—

Sterling City has a good, top-notch school system with no problems, it has a good little hospital and is being improved and a nursing home is being added, taxes are low in Sterling City compared with cities, no drug or such problems exist among our young generation, a good volunteer fire department handles the fire threats satisfactorily, the town is not crowded and lots for residences or business can be bought, there are six fine churches here, it is the county seat and there is a good second class postoffice, a good bank, there are a number of women's clubs and a very active Lions Club, a newspaper, a funeral home, plenty of gas stations, grocery stores and drygoods store, a competent group of law enforcement officials, including two highway patrolmen, a respect for law and order among the citizens, a high rate of high school graduates attending colleges and universities, paved city streets, a cooperative citizenry in things that count, a good doctor, and even others.

Davis said her thought the club should have a committee to take such a message to surrounding cities and maybe even "steal" some of their citizens. He deplored the loss of population in Sterling City.

Eagles To Scrimmage Tonight at 7

The Sterling City Eagles, building up for the 1970 season, will hold an intersquad scrimmage here tonight at 7 on the local field. Everyone is invited out to see the intersquad scrimmage, said head coach Danny Slaughter. The concession stand will be open and it hoped that a good crowd of spectators will turn out to see the locals.

Boys Elect Captains

The football boys elected or selected the captains for this year in a meeting this week. They named Bobby Bynum, Bobby Barton and Allen Price as captains, said Slaughter.

The Eagles first game is to be here next Friday night, September 11, with the Garden City Bearkats in a non-conference tilt. Later on in the season, the two teams will meet in a district or conference game.

Monday Is Labor Day Holiday

Monday, September 7, is Labor Day, and as such is a holiday here in Sterling City.

The school, offices and the retail stores will be closed in observance of the day as usual.

It is often thought of as the last holiday or long weekend of the summer vacation season. Motorists take that last summer trip and traffic is crowded and "murderous" on the main highways. Watch your driving.

U.S. Border Patrol Seeks Applicants

The U.S. Border Patrol of the Immigration and Naturalization Service has an urgent need for physically fit young men desiring a career in Federal law enforcement work. This is a career opportunity for those who like action and outdoor work.

The Border Patrol is the mobile, uniformed enforcement branch of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Its principle purpose is to prevent the smuggling and illegal entry of aliens into the United States. The border patrolmen, called Immigration Patrol Inspectors, work along international boundaries, although their duties are not necessarily confined to these areas. They work in jeeps, cars, on foot, in boats and even in airplanes. Officers investigate violations of the immigration laws and frequently make arrests. They are often required to work irregular hours, under all weather conditions. These duties demand mental alertness as well as exceptional physical vigor and stamina.

The entrance salary of an Immigration Patrol Inspector is $7,639 a year (Grade GS-7). There are promotional opportunities up to executive levels in the Immigration and Naturalization Service. On-the-job training offers splendid opportunities for promotion to positions of greater responsibility.

No experience is required for these positions. To qualify, applicants must pass a written test of verbal abilities, judgment, and aptitude for learning a foreign language. Candidates who pass the written test are called for oral interviews in the order of their standing on the list. The oral interview is designed to determine if the candidate has the personal qualities needed for the work. Applicants must also pass a rigid physical examination. Candidates who are selected for appointment are assigned to the Border Patrol Academy for a period of intensive training in such subjects as immigration laws, Spanish, physical training and marksmanship. Trainees receive full pay while in the academy.

Applications are now being accepted for the civil service examination for Immigration Patrol Inspector which will be held on Saturday, January 24, 1970. An additional examination is scheduled for April, 1970. However, those wishing to be tested in January must submit their applications before December 19, 1969. Full information is given in Announcement No. WAM-911 which may be secured from Interagency Boards of Examiners and from many post offices as well as any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Applications should be submitted on the tearout application form on the announcement or CSC Form 50000AB and forwarded to the Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for Washington, D.C. 1900 E St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 0415.

Information concerning the patrol inspector position and this announcement may be obtained from the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, P. O. Box 2539, San Antonio, Texas 78206, or by calling 512-225-5511, Extension 214.

Social Security DISABLED WIDOWS BENEFITS

"Two years have passed and many persons are still not aware of the change in the social security law which provides monthly benefits for disabled widows at age 50," said J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

Since the law became effective in February, 1968, more than 32,000 disabled widows have qualified for monthly payments, Mr. Talbot estimated however that another 30,000 widows who might qualify for these benefits have never applied.

"The requirements for disabled widows' benefits are apparently not as well known as those for the more familiar widows' benefits at age 62, or reduced widows' benefits at age 60," Mr. Talbot continued.

To qualify for benefits a widow, age 50 to 60, must have an impairment so severe that it keeps her from engaging in any work. The condition must also be expected to last for at least twelve months.

The widow's disability must have begun before her husband's death or not later than seven years after his death. A widow who has previously been entitled to benefits if she becomes disabled before payments to the children end or within seven years after they end.

Mr. Talbot encourages those who may qualify to call the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas or see the representative when he is in your area.

Are you a social security beneficiary receiving his monthly check a few days late? According to J.M. Talbot, social security manager, it may be because you did not report a change of address.

When a beneficiary changes his address, he should notify the social security office in writing or in person. Reports should include the name of the person or persons moving, the social security claim number, and the old and new addresses you have in that business.

Mr. Talbot said that notifying the Post Office alone is not sufficient. Even if the Post Office has a current address a delay still occurs because the check must be forwarded from one address to another.

Temporary financial hardship often results when checks are a few days late, particularly when social security benefits are the only source of income for a worker or his family. Beneficiaries can insure timely benefit payments only by keeping their address current.

Changes of address which have not already been reported to the Social Security Administration should be reported without further delay. Beneficiaries may report changes of address to the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Ave. (P.O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

DISABLED WORKER NEWS

In most instances disability claims take a longer period to process than other social security claims. The extra processing time is due to additional documentation, such as medical reports and different procedures in the claims process.

By applying as early as possible, the complete processing of the claim can be finished before the six months waiting period has expired. If the claim for benefits is approved, you get a check at the earliest possible time.

File Early For Disability

What do you do if you get so sick or injured you can't work? One of the things you should do is see if you are eligible for disability payments under the social security law. Although there are no benefits payable during the first 6 months of a disability, J.M. Talbot, social security manager, urges everyone who believes he may be entitled to monthly benefits to apply for them as soon as possible after becoming disabled.

"Did you know that if you operate any type of agricultural business, the hired workers you have in that business may be covered by social security?" J. M. Talbot, social security manager, asks.

Any employee who works and earns $150 or more for one employer during any year or works at least 20 days on a time basis for an agriculture business, is covered by social security. Even part-time employees could meet the earnings or work test. You, as their employer, would be liable to withhold social security tax from the employee's check, match that tax yourself, and report the earnings at the end of the year.

The report of agricultural employees must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service by January 31 of the following year. Reports should be on Internal Revenue Service Form 943—showing each employee's name, social security number, and amount paid. The report should be accompanied by tax withheld from employee's pay and matched by employer.

To be sure which employees to report, Mr. Talbot recommends keeping records on anyone working for you in your agricultural business.

"If you have any questions about farm wages," Mr. Talbot said, "please inquire at the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area."

small manufacturing, oil, ranching, farming, and service related businesses, gives stability to our communities. The growth is not spectacular, nor does it reach our hopes, but comparatively we are less affected by day to day fluctuations in interest rates, consumer demands and employment that the more highly industrialized and specialized areas which do not enjoy such a dependable base.

Our lakes, farms, ranches, and "open spaces" provide places for our people to enjoy life without the distractions of crowding, noise and pollution. Here at home, we can take time to think and make calm decisions concerning our own lives and actions we choose to help others.

Our churches are well attended and reflect the stable faith and moral integrity of our people. By comparison, in some places in our country, lack of interest has resulted in financial disaster for heretofore strong religious groups.

The great battles of the future will not be solved on the battlefield, in halls of government, or workshops of commerce. The decisions that really count for lasting good are those of the spirit; how to be happy, how to adjust to change — how to get along with our fellowman.

The advantages we see about us here in the 17th Congressional District provide the climate for producing clear thinking, solid citizens with moral integrity — who seek proper values to solve the problems of our time.

Our several colleges and universities provide a wholesome climate for our young people coming from good public schools. Here they receive sound academic training that further equips them for challenges that are all about us.

These, our young people, are our greatest blessing. To continue opportunity for their development is the greatest contribution we can make to insure the future of our great land. In a world of turmoil, doubt, and fear—there is reason for encouragement and basis for genuine hope.

Compared to any other section of this nation, our assets here at home, both materially and in the character of people, are indeed great.

SPACE AND AERONAUTICS
LUNAR SIGHTSEEING

WASHINGTON — Future visitors to the Moon will find proof positive that the United States has already been there.

At Tranquility Base where Neil Armstrong first set foot on the Moon, the first thing visitors will see is the U. S. flag planted there by the Apollo 11 crew. A short distance away on one of the legs of the Lunar Module descent stage that delivered Armstrong and his colleague, Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin, to the Moon is the plaque which reads, "We came in peace for all mankind."

Then placed about Tranquility Base are scientific instruments — some of them still returning important data to Earth — including a seismometer, a retro-reflector for use in laser communications, and a solar wind reflector. In consolation with the peaceful nature of the venture, the astronauts also left on the Moon a symbolic olive branch in Gold.

Scattered among these artifacts are other items such as cameras, backpacks, tools, containers, brackets and gear left behind to save weight and space on the home trip.

The voyage was not without its sentimental side. Also left on the Moon was a shoulder patch commemorating Gus Grissom, Ed White and Roger Chaffee, the three astronauts who lost their lives in the space-craft fire at Cape Kennedy in 1967.

Medals belonging to Yuri Gagarin and Vladimir Komarov, the Soviet cosmonauts who lost their lives in space exploration, were also left on the Moon by Neil Armstrong.

While in Russia recently, Armstrong met the widows of Gagarin and Komarov, and presented each with a gold Apollo 11 medallion that he had carried on his person to and from the Moon.

One of the most fascinating artifacts left on the moon by the Apollo 11 crew is a one-and-one-half inch silicon disc on which is etched the messages from the leaders of 73 nations. But you're not going to be able to read the messages without a magnifying glass. To get these many messages on such a small surface they were reduced 200 times and, therefore, are invisible to the naked eye.

THANK YOU

Thank you to those who helped us when the wreck occurred. Also we are grateful to the doctor and nurses who took care of my wife. The visits of all the people were deeply appreciated.

REWARD NOTICE

A reward of $500.00 will be paid by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association to any person (other than law enforcement officers) giving information causing the arrest and final conviction of any person or persons found butchering or stealing any sheep or lambs or goats belonging to any Association member in good standing. When two or more persons give information, the above sum will be divided at the discretion of the Board of the Association. When two or more defendants are involved in a single crime, the total reward is limited to $500.00, but the conviction of one defendant, even though the other defendants are acquitted, will entitle the claimant or claimants to said sum of $500.00. All claims must be submitted within ninety (90) days following conviction. If, upon conviction, a defendant confesses other thefts, no additional reward will be paid. All deviations concerning the payment of such reward and the conditions of payment will be made by the Board of Directors of the Association.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

The rigors of driving drain a motorist's energy, especially in today's heavy traffic. Often, fatigue is the direct cause of a highway accident.

One of the solutions to overcoming fatigue is to eat candy whenever you drive. When a person is tired, the blood-sugar level is low; candy quickly raises the blood-sugar and fights fatigue. Candy bars like Luden's 5th Avenue bar, chockful of milk chocolate and almonds, and Luden's Nut Log bar, filled with milk chocolate, coconut, caramel and peanuts, not only furnish a quick pick-up for the driver; they also relieve monotony, drowsiness, tension and fatigue for passengers. On a family motoring trip, it's wise to take along a supply of candy bars, lollipops, caramels and other tasty confections.

THE APPLE OF YOUR EYE

Crunchy, green munching apples all the way from the Cape of Good Hope are surprising more and more delighted American consumers each year. Americans who normally associate green apples with cooking are finding out that Granny Smith green eating apples, already popular in Europe and Australia, are tangy, juicy and flavorful.

Interestingly enough there really is a "Granny Smith" story behind the apples. In 1867, Mary Ann Smith, in New South Wales bought some empty gin cases at the Sydney market. In them were some decaying apples which she dumped at the foot of her garden. A seedling developed from the decaying fruit, and it is from that seedling that the famous Granny Smith apple developed.

Granny Smith apples will keep for several weeks when stored in a cool place. They are a pleasure to use as platter garnishes or in fresh fruit salads because they will not turn brown when cut as rapidly as other varieties of apples.

GRANNY SMITH'S EASY SHORT CAKE

1 10-ounce jar currant jelly
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 medium Granny Smith Apples
1/2 cup whipping cream
6 individual sponge cake shells or home made sponge cake cut in squares

Combine currant jelly and lemon juice in saucepan. Over low heat stir until the mixture is smooth and syrupy. Remove from heat.

Peel, core and slice apples into a bowl. Pour the syrup over the apple slices, turning the apples over carefully so that all surfaces are coated.

Whip cream until stiff. Spread a generous spoonful of whipped cream over each piece of cake. Arrange apple slices on top. Spoon remaining sauce over each serving. 6 servings.
