In Municipal Court, Judge Linda Huckaby received payment for 21 previously charged cases to dispose of them and filed a total of 36 additional cases for the week. Total filings for both courts were 57 and total dispositions were 50.

Hunter, Administrator for the Rural Electrification Administration, testified recently before the Subcommittee on Government Information, Justice and Agriculture of the Committee on Government Operations in the U.S. House of Representatives, and expressed deep concern about possible negative impact on rural telephone systems by recent FCC rulings. "Universal service to Americans living in the rural areas of our nation has been the major policy objective of REA's telephone program for the past 34 years," declared Hunter.

County Cotton Acres Resemble '82 Crop

Producers Staying In Compliance

In the wake of the past couple of weeks of storm damage and destruction Bailey County's planted cotton acres have changed considerably. In late March, County ASCS Executive Director Rusty Williamson told the Journal that 162,746 acres of cotton land had gone into the PIK program together with 10,402 acres signed into the Bailey County cotton program leaving a total of 173,348 acres. County ASCS officials now say that this acreage will be reduced because of the devastation to cotton "approximately 90 percent of producers who suffered severe damages are plowing up their cotton and plan to go back with grain, sorghum, soybeans or sunflowers." They also indicated that no cotton producers had pulled out of the 1983 farm program as yet. In just recently released information compiled by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, figures indicate that in 1982 Bailey County planted a total of 108,600 acres of cotton-only to harvest 15,800 acres of the same. These harvested acres turned out a total of 8,600 bales with a yield of per harvested acre of 261 pounds. So, in 1983 if figures hold true, Bailey County Cotton producers could well be in a similar position with 1983 crops. Out of the planted acreage of 108,600 only 15,800 were harvested in 1982-about 7 percent. Unless current estimates change drastically more of the same will be the story in 1983. An estimated 10 percent harvest of planted acres would result in 17,334 acres in Bailey County; slightly more than 1982's harvested acres. Other counties surrounding Bailey County were hard hit by wind, hail and water destruction but apparently fared a little better. Although some harvested acreage was some what more than Bailey County's, the yield per acre was about the same in a 25 county survey. In neighboring Farmer County out of 62,800 acres of cotton planted, a total of 33,900 were harvested yielding 23,000 bales at an average of 326 pounds per acre. Lamb County farmers reported a total of 220,100 acres of planted cotton; and 118,200 acres harvested. Lamb County ginned 68,000 bales of cotton yielding 276 pounds of lint per acre. Nearby Castro County reported 68,900 acres of 1982 cotton planted with a harvest of 40,900 acres. Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Commissioners Ok Ambulance Subsidy

Bailey County Commissioners in a regular session on Monday, June 13 reviewed the County ambulance subsidy and passed an order setting the subsidy up to $1800 per month effective July 1, 1983. The previous subsidy had been in the amount of $1500 per month; however Frank Ellis told the Court that due to replacement and change over of employees, along with other problems, the $1500 was not enough. The subsidy does not cover any major repairs to the ambulances according to Judge Gordon Green. Commissioners also gave the authority to make an early payment on the final installment on the Permanent Improvement Fund, which is the Law Enforcement Center. The unpaid principal balance is $15,000. However, Judge Green stated that some technical problems had arisen with this project and a complete decision had not been made as yet. In other Court business, Commissioners okayed a plan submitted by members of the Lions and the Rotary for the erection of a marquee sign at the Coliseum. The cost of the sign is estimated in the range of $1800, which would be divided between the two clubs and the County. In other business transactions, Commissioners authorized transfers of funds in the amount of $15,000 from the general fund to the Officers Salary Fund; and $40,000 from the Road and Bridge General fund to be divided equally between the four commissioner precincts. They also authorized the payment of a maintenance agreement on the District Clerk's typewriter. In final business, Commissioners voted to provide bus transportation for Tommy Rey to John Sealy Hospital at Galveston. Box rent for all County offices was also authorized to be paid.

New Lion Officers Installed Monday

In installation ceremonies Monday evening at the Bailey County Civic Center, a row slate of officers and directors of the Muleshoe Lions were presented to those present. Special guests for the occasion were wives of members, Jim Jones Past

Freedom Parade Features Song

This year's Freedom Parade on July 4th will feature a different concept for the theme of the parade. Instead of selecting a single word or phrase as a theme for floats, the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is encouraging entries to use a phrase from the song "America The Beautiful." One float has already been entered using the theme "and crown thy good with brotherhood." What is hoped for is a parade which features the entire song, with the first float being "Oh beautiful for spacious skies" and the final one being "from sea to shining sea." Parade entry forms are available at the Chamber office for any group which has not already received one. The deadline for parade entry is Friday, June 24. Organizations are encouraged to enter as soon as possible and to check with the Chamber to see that their float theme has not already been chosen by some other group. Plans are also underway for the traditional events, with a few changes. The Cont. Page 6, Col. 5

Ag Loan Program Continuance Urged

On June 9 a Senate subcommittee was urged to continue the Small Business Administration's agriculture loan programs and give them more flexibility so they can better serve farming needs. Jerry Harris, cotton ginner from Lamesa, Tex., and a National Cotton Council director, said elimination of the SBA loan programs as proposed in legislation now pending before Congress would deprive agribusinesses of the only assistance now available to them. He pointed out that the payment-in-kind program, while necessary, has resulted in an extremely difficult period of adjustment for many agribusinesses. Cotton gins and cottonseed oil mills are especially hard-hit because their operations are directly related to crop production, Harris explained. With the high level of producer participation in PIK and adverse weather in many areas of the Cotton Belt, he said cotton production this year could be as low as 8.2 million bales or nearly one-third less than last year. "For cotton gins and cottonseed oil mills, who face a corresponding drop in business volume, this translates into a potential revenue loss of more than $400 million," Harris testified. With operating costs likely to be much higher because of the reduced

Financially Speaking

Randa! L. Field, C.P.A.
Williams, Adair, Sudduth & Co.

More often than not individuals setting out to buy a small business are so taken by the glamour of getting into business that they don't take time to properly investigate what they're buying.

Many small business buyers are first time buyers. They are either first time buyers of a given type of business or it is their first time to be in business for themselves.

Many of these buyers are not qualified to evaluate the merits of a specific business. They need qualified assistance in determining the price to pay, the feasibility of the business or products, the competition, the financial past performance of the company, and the best way to finance the purchase.

Most buyers don't ask enough questions nor require enough financial history to make a proper decision. Any business worth buying should have maintained records adequate enough to allow the buyer to review the success or failure of that business. The inability or the unwillingness of the seller to provide the proper financial information is an indication that the business may be overpriced.

Many small businesses are not profitable enough to give a proper return on both the buyer's time and money. If the buyer wants $30,000 per year for working 60 or 70 hours per week and wants a 12% return on his $100,000 investment the business must net $42,000. A determination should be made before purchase that the business on its past performance can satisfy these requirements.

If you are willing to take a reduced return on your time and money for the sake of self-employment, do so with your eyes open - know the facts.

The need for professional assistance when buying or selling a business cannot be overemphasized.

Brucellosis Problem Hangs Over Texas

Many leaders in agriculture have called upon Texas Gov. Mark White to include brucellosis legislation in a special session of the Texas Legislature at the "earliest possible date."

TFB President S.M. True Jr. in a letter to White told the governor that his support of brucellosis legislation "is important not only to the beef cattle and dairy industry, but to the economy of the state as a whole."

The USDA notified the state April 18 that it would impose a quarantine effective June 1 that would restrict the movement of cattle out of Texas unless legislation was approved which conformed to federal standards.

The Texas House of Representatives approved HB 701, the Brucellosis Control Bill, during the regular session of the Texas Legislature. However, the Texas Senate failed to approve the bill before the session adjourned May 30.

Faced with the quarantine order by USDA, Federal Judge James Nowlin of Austin granted a temporary restraining order May 31 sought by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association which delayed the USDA action. Nowlin has scheduled a hearing for June 16 or June 17 to determine whether preliminary or permanent injunctions would be issued.

In his letter to White, True state that Texas must "go forward with an eradication program" of brucellosis. He called it important both to the livestock industry and to public health because "brucellosis effects human beings as undulant fever."

The National Brucellosis Technical Commission was appointed at the request of the Texas cattle industry in 1976. After a two-year study, the commission concluded that brucellosis could be eradicated.

The state animal health commissions from the 50 states and cattle industry organizations, working through the U.S. Animal Health Association, adopted most of the commission's report.

Property Collections Increase

State Treasurer Ann Richards said today that unclaimed property collections in Texas are running more than $2.5 million ahead of last year, a 51 percent increase.

Richards said receipts in the unclaimed property program through the end of May were just short of $8 million, compared to $5.2 million for the same nine month period in Fiscal 1982.

"We've already exceeded total collections of $6.3 million for last year, and we've still got three more months before the end of our reporting period," Richards said. The state's fiscal year ends August 31.

"Greater public awareness of the unclaimed property program and our expanding audit program are beginning to pay off," Richards said.

Richards explained that Texas law provides for property that has been unclaimed or abandoned for seven years to be turned over to the state treasurer. She noted that Texas holds the funds until claimed by the rightful owner or the heirs. In the meantime, the money goes into the state's general revenues and the Available School Fund.

Types of property covered under the law include dormant checking and savings accounts; uncashed money orders, cashiers checks and travelers checks; unclaimed insurance benefits, corporate dividends, mineral royalties and security deposits; unredeemed gifts certificates; abandoned safe deposit boxes; abandoned brokerage accounts; unused escrow accounts; and many other types of property.

Financial institutions, businesses and others who hold property that has been unclaimed or abandoned for at least seven years must file reports with the state treasurer and attempt to locate the owners, according to state law. If still unclaimed, the money or property is sent to the treasurer, who is responsible for preserving it until claimed by the owner, if ever.

"The unclaimed property program we're running at the Treasury has two important benefits to Texans," Richards said. "First, it represents a sizeable source of income to the state and helps pay for vital state programs like education, law enforcement and transportation.

Secondly, it is a consumer protection program. It assists owners in locating their misplaced or forgotten property or money."

More than a half-million dollars in claims were paid to owners last fiscal year. For January through May 1983, a quarter-million has been paid to owners, an increase of 89 percent over the same four months in 1982.

Richards said she is impressed with the willingness of most banking institutions and businesses to comply with the law. "Our collections and refunds to owners would have been much higher years ago if somebody had taken the time to inform people about the unclaimed property program," Richards said. "That's what we're doing now, and we are finding that most businesses are more than willing to cooperate."

Anyone with questions about the Texas Treasury's unclaimed property program -- either about reporting property or filing a claim -- should write to the Unclaimed Property Division, Texas State Treasury, P.O. Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

South Plains Fair Plans Show Headliners

Reba McEntire, whose popularity in the country and western music industry has been steadily on the rise in recent months, and the Maines Brothers will co-headline one of the shows at the 66th annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair this fall.

The red-haired Mercury/Polygram recording artist is scheduled to appear for two shows—4 p.m. and 7 p.m.—on September 26, according to general manager Steve L. Lewis.

On the same bill will be the highly-acclaimed Maines Brother Band, which recently signed a recording contract with Mercury/Polygram.

The band members include Kenny, Lloyd, Steve and Donnie Maines; Jerry Brownlow; Cary Banks and Richard Bowden.

Other entertainers for this year's exposition will be announced as they are signed, Lewis noted.

Miss McEntire, born and reared in Oklahoma, considers herself a "third generation rodeo brat," who is as comfortable on a horse as she is on stage.

Her parents and three siblings spent many summers on the rodeo circuit and she got her first break at age 5 one summer when her family was at the Wyoming Frontier Days stop in Cheyenne.

Singer Red Steagall heard her sing the national anthem later at the National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City, Okla., and offered to produce a demo for her. She accepted and the sessions landed her a contract with Mercury/Polygram in 1975.

"I Don't Want to be a One Night Stand" was her first single, recorded in 1976.

Since then she's had such hits as "Runaway Heart," "Sweet Dreams," "You Lift Me Up) to Heaven," "I Can See Forever in Your Eyes," "I Don't Think Love Ought to be That Way," "Only You," "I'm Not That Lonely Yet" and her most recent hit, "Can't Get Even With the Blues."

Her fifth Mercury/Polygram album is entitled "Unlimited," and offers a broad range of country music.

The 1983 fair is scheduled to run its regular eight day format again this year from September 24 to October 1. Other top shows are being scheduled, Lewis said.

Tickets for the McEntire/Maines Brothers show are priced at $7 and $9 and may be ordered by writing Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Orders will be processed in the order in which received and will be filled after August 1.

Mail order requests must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres looks at defense spending this week, sort of.

Dear editor: I don't know any more about how much money we should spend on military defense that I do about the international money market or how some Congressmen hold their jobs.

And every once in a while an item shows up in the newspapers that befuddles me even more.

For example, I read last night that the Army is replacing the Jeep with a car called the Hummer. Each one costs $20,000 and the Army has ordered 55,000, at a cost of $1.2 billion.

But on test runs the Hummer averaged only 367 miles between breakdowns, whereas the Army's standards call for at least 1,300 miles between failures.

I had to read that twice for it to sink in. You mean the Army would be satisfied with a car that goes only 1,300 miles between breakdowns? Better read it a third time.

I know that car manufacturers have been accused of building cars with planned obsolescence, but bringing one out that goes only 1,300 miles between repairs and cost $20,000, seems like carrying the idea way too far. Why, you can produce a mule that'll go further than that without breaking down.

On the other hand, the Army may not be as wasteful as you think. If it's buying 55,000 Hummers that break down every week or so, and it'll probably take three soldiers per repair job, think of the soldier-mechanics it'll be giving on-the-job training to, so when they get out they'll be prepared to work on some of the general public's cars the manufacturers are always having to recall. How about tractors?

Does the Army have any tractors that give on-the-job repair training? I've got this 35-year-old tractor out here that's hard to start. At least I think it's hard to start. It was when I tried some time ago. I forget when.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Special Lease Payment Discounts Give You Big Savings On New John Deere Equipment

If you prefer to lease new equipment, save with special lease payment discounts...or if you buy, take advantage of finance waivers

Now is an excellent time to lease a new piece of John Deere equipment. Here's why: If you qualify and decide to lease any new piece of John Deere equipment currently eligible for a finance waiver, your lease payments will be discounted. The discount will reduce the amount of each lease payment you make. The amount of the discount will depend upon the number of months of waiver remaining on that particular piece of equipment.

This program enhances the cash flow advantage of leasing by further reducing your lease payments on eligible equipment. Save big—just like you will if you purchase the equipment and receive the finance waiver.

Whatever your decision—to lease or to buy—you'll get big savings from lease payment discounts or finance waivers. And, you'll get the quality John Deere equipment that you need. Stop in for details.

Future Prospects

Mrs. Justwed - I can't help feeling jealous of my husband's first love.

Mrs. Longwed - My husband's first love doesn't bother me any, it's his next love that I worry about.

Sharpen your creative cooking knack this summer with easy to prepare dishes pairing the "love apple" with the apple lovers' apple - Cape Granny Smith. Although tomatoes and apples may seem like an unusual combination, remember, both are fruited together, each lends an exciting touch of flavor to the other. And like tomatoes, the finest Granny Smith Apples are found only during the warm weather months.

In fact, the Cape Granny is known as the summer apple. Grown in the southern hemisphere where the seasons are reversed, they arrive fresh from the tree from early May to August with a tangy taste and crackling crisp texture.

Combine both summertime specialties in a Granny's Garden Fruit Salad. Featuring an attractive red-green color contrast and just a hint of curry, the salad makes a light and refreshing luncheon plate or an excellent side dish for lamb. Sliced apples alternate with tomatoes atop a bed of chopped chutney, apples, tomatoes and rice. Slivered almonds add extra crunch, while the curry imparts a spicy snap to the tongue.

GRANNY'S GARDEN FRUIT SALAD

- 2 cups cooked, chilled rice
- 2 Cape Granny Smith apples, cored and diced
- 2 medium-size tomatoes, diced
- 1/2 cup chopped chutney
- 1/4 cup toasted, slivered almonds
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder

In large bowl combine all ingredients; mix well. Cover. Chill until ready to serve. Yield: 4 main dish servings.

Texas 4-H

Awards SPC

South Plains College in Levelland, a longtime supporter of the 4-H program in Texas, was one of five organizations and individuals cited for outstanding service during the 1983 Texas 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 7.

South Plains College was presented a special plaque by the Texas 4-H Foundation, the service organization of 4-H, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 4-H's parent organization. Hockley County Extension agent Gary Patterson accepted the plaque in behalf of Earl Gerstenberger, vice president of South Plains College.

For the past 23 years, South Plains College has been the host site for the South Plains district 4-H leadership camp. In addition to making meeting and recreation facilities available, the college has provided resource people and other necessary materials, said Tom Davison, state 4-H program leader with the Extension Service.

Some 3,500 4-H members from the 20-county area have attended leadership camp at South Plains College during the past 23 years. Contributions by the college to this 4-H activity are estimated at more than $57,000, noted Davison.

The staff of South Plains College has enthusiastically supported the 4-H camp over the years, Davison added, and has tried to make the camp challenging and exciting for the youth involved.

If Air Conditioning doesn't have it here it probably doesn't have it.

Gas Air Conditioning Has It!

Gas air conditioning has fewer moving parts and no compressor to wear out or break down. This means less wear and tear and lower maintenance costs.

That's why gas air conditioning is so dependable and why it has a warranty that's twice as long as other types of units... a full 10 years!

Find out more about the air conditioning that's backed by the best warranty available. Call Energas today for a free cooling survey and cost estimate. There's no obligation.

Remember, all air conditioning was not created equal. And we have the paper to prove it!

Manufacturer's limited warranty covers all defects in materials and workmanship on the sealed refrigerant circuit for ten years from the date of installation of the air conditioner when it is installed in a single family residence. All other parts are warranted for one year from date of installation.

Sleeping Sickness, Tetanus Vaccination Time Is Now

Though sleeping sickness is no longer a major problem in the horse industry, it still exists and all equines should receive a protective vaccine each year.

A highly effective combination vaccine is available for horses, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. It protects against Eastern, Western, Venezuelan types of sleeping sickness as well as tetanus.

Losing horses to sleeping sickness is unnecessary, says Tanksley.

Last year cases of the disease were reported in Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, and Alabama, probably due to an unusually high mosquito population during the summer months.

Equine encephalitis (sleeping sickness) is carried naturally by several species of birds. When mosquitoes bite an infected bird, the disease can then be transmitted by the mosquitoes to other animals, explains Tanksley.

Early signs of the disease include fever, loss of appetite and depression. The animal is usually restless, may walk aimlessly in circles and be sensitive to sound and touch.

One common symptom is a horse that stands with his head hung low like he's sleeping. He doesn't fully chew hay or forage, and as the disease progresses, the tongue may actually hang out of the mouth, says Tanksley.

Students Named To WTSU Honor Roll

Honor roll lists at West Texas State University include 740 students for the spring semester.

Included on the Dean's List from Muleshoe are Douglas Cowan, a senior physical education major; Monty Hysinger, a freshman general studies major; Mary Mata, a sophomore computer information systems major; and Walter Precure, a freshman industrial technology major.

The President's List includes 131 students whose grade point averages are 3.85 or higher and 609 students are named on the Dean's List for students whose grade point averages range from 3.25 to 3.84. A perfect grade point average at WTSU is 4.0.

In those 25 counties, the TCLRS reports, 2,685,700 acres were planted to cotton in 82 with 2,380,900 harvested. An abandonment of 1,304,800.

treatment is generally unsuccessful. That's why proper immunization each year is so important.

The disease can also be transmitted to humans and some other animals, notes Tanksley. The virus has been found in dogs, goats, pigs, and domestic birds.

All equines should be vaccinated each spring before mosquitoes become prevalent. This should give them the protection needed for another year.

Consult your veterinarian regarding available vaccines to combat sleeping sickness, suggests the county agent.

State Budget In Balance -- Little Else

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday certified the state budget passed by the Legislature as being in balance--and little else.

"After paying the bills there will be only small change left in the bank," Bullock said of $30.9 billion in spending measures he certified under the Constitution's pay-as-you-go provision.

Based on Bullock's last revenue estimate, the Legislature left only $15.1 million unspent in general revenue.

Bullock said also that current tax collections through the first few days of June show that his revenue estimate "remains right on target."

Bullock pointed out that the budget was in balance only because he counted nearly $600 million in revenue-raising bills passed by the Legislature. The bulk of that will come from measures proposed by Bullock to move up tax due dates to capture more money in the 1984-85 budget period.

The budget measures certified by Bullock now go to the governor for his action.

'Texas Cowboy Reunion' Events For '83 Underway

Fifty-three years ago during the Great Depression, the West Texas town of Stamford was in search of some event which in some way might pull its people and community back together.

So, in February of 1930, directors of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce proposed a three day Cowboy Reunion as a publicity and advertising feature to promote Stamford. From that meek beginning was born the Texas Cowboy Reunion. Over the 53 years to July 1 - 4, 1983, the annual event has grown to become a "Living Legend" of the West. In over five decades, TCR has become the world's largest amateur rodeo.

Cleburne Huston, former publisher of the local newspaper, remembers the organizational meeting of 1930. "Several projects were discussed and laid aside. Finally, a rodeo, with attendant attractions, was proposed. Stamford had staged rodeos from the time of its founding in 1900 but with no permanent organization or regularity of dates," said Huston.

"Various names were suggested and rejected," continued Huston. "Finally, pioneer Ray Rector photographer Ray Rector rose and spoke the words: 'I move that we call it the Texas Cowboy Reunion. There was a moment of shocked silence in the room. The word 'Texas' covered a lot of territory and was more ambitious than most of us had contemplated. It was like aiming at the stars -- a challenge beyond our reach.' Huston says there was neither time nor money to construct an arena or build grandstands. However, a natural amphitheater had been provided by nature in the shallow, red-clay ravines on Swenson ranchlands just outside the city limits.

"The barren area had a flat, triangular space, with steep banks on the sides," recalls Huston. "Crude bleacher seats, partly shaded by cotton-bagging were built on one side of the ravine. The opposite side of the arena was strictly earthen with ledges carved out for open-air seating.

"It required courageous spectators as well as tough cowboy contestants to endure the blazing sun and thick red dust of those first rodeo performances. But people came from near and far and scores of cowboys from West Texas ranches to make this first annual session a glorious success," adds Huston.

Active from the start were cowmen like: A.J. Swenson, manager of the far-flung SMS Ranches, R. L. Penick, one of the founders of Stamford, and Charles E. Coombes, pioneer lawyer and for many years secretary and general manager of Texas Cowboy Reunion Association.

To the credit of the founders, the Texas Cowboy Reunion (TCR) has become much more than a simple rodeo. "It is in all senses a 'reunion' of men and women, young and old, who came together each summer at Stamford to enjoy the cowhand sports, riding and roping, to thrill at the sight of a parade, dine again on chuckwagon food, swap yarns at the meeting of the Oldtimers Association, dance the old dances, sing the old songs, share companionship and pay tribute to longtime friends who are gone," an Abilene newspaper columnist once said.

Since 1930, the TCR has grown until today, it is of vast proportions.

The TCR can boast of being the originator of several of today's most popular rodeo events, such as: the first cutting horse contest before a paid audience, the first girls barrel racing contests and the first quarter horse contest.

These events are part of the traditions that make the TCR so popular.

Along with the daytime activities, rodeo performances begin at 8 p.m., July 1, 2 and 4.

This years entertainment will feature Leon Rausch and the Texas Panthers along with Bill Mounce performing on the evening of July 1, Sammi Smith on July 2 and on Monday, July 4, Sheb Wooley will perform.

The TCR also brings some of the best western art in the country to Stamford. Over 40 leading artists will participate in the 10th Annual Stamford Art Foundation's Exhibit and Sale. This will be at the John Selmon Memorial Gallery each day.

Other activities include an art and quarter horse auction, rodeo dances, a rodeo parade, a "Golden Horseshoe Hideaway" worth $500 in cash and merchandise, chuck wagon dinners and much more.

Come to Stamford and be a part of the 53rd Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion ... the World's Largest Amateur Rodeo.

LOCAL LEGISLATION

AUSTIN — Now that the regular session of the 68th Legislature is history, it's time to reflect on the key accomplishments made during the session which will affect the people of District 31.

Several hundred bills and resolutions were passed by both the Texas Senate and the House of Representatives. We authored and sponsored more than 80 bills and resolutions which were introduced in both Houses. Seventy percent of the bills and resolutions we wrote and sponsored will soon become law.

We were pleased to see the passage of several bills we sponsored which will create juvenile boards in our district. Recently approved legislation calls for the creation of juvenile boards in Sherman, Hartley, Bailey, Farmer, Castro, Hale, Swisher, Lamb, Dallam and Hansford Counties.

Senate Bills 132 and 1269 which we sponsored, and which call for the establishment of the Palo Duro Water District and a Buffalo Lake Water District, have been approved and sent to the Governor.

We gained final approval on our legislation aimed at protecting the Panhandle from the threat of nuclear waste. The Legislature approved strict guidelines for the drilling of mine shafts, and said that the dumping of nuclear waste would be prohibited if it appeared threatening to our natural resources.

A statewide work release program, which was largely modeled after the Potter County Work Program, has been adopted. The bill, which we sponsored, will help ease the problem of prison overcrowding, and it will allow the nonviolent offender to pay for his part-time incarceration and repay the victim of his crime.

In the area of higher education, we received approval of our bill which would allow Frank Phillips Jr. College to expand its tax base by annexing county territory. We also made changes in the law which will help West Texas State University and other universities complete construction, repair and rehabilitation projects with more ease.

Legislation which we sponsored relating to the Wheeler County Water Supply District was also approved, as well as a bill dealing with the acquisition, administration and sale of materials and equipment by the soil and water conservation districts.

A voluntary registry, which we worked hard on, has been approved by the Legislature. It creates a centralized network where consenting adoptees older than 21 and consenting birth parents could seek assistance in locating one another.

We were also fortunate to gain approval on legislation directing the Texas Department of Human Resources to implement program models, designed to improve the delivery of services to victims of family violence in geographically isolated and under served areas of the state.

Legislation which sets minimum staffing requirements and vehicle standards for emergency medical services also received final approval in both Houses.

One of the major state-wide issues which we sponsored dealt with DWI reform. We are proud lawmakers voted to take a strong stand against drunken drivers in Texas.

Our dogfighting legislation, which makes dogfighting a felony offense in Texas, was also approved by the Legislature.

There were many significant issues facing the 68th Legislature when it convened in January. Many of the issues gained the attention of our state lawmakers. We are proud to have had a part in the 68th Legislature. We feel it was a success for the people of our district and all the people of Texas.

'Water For Texas' Hearings Scheduled

The executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources will conduct eight public hearings to receive public comments from citizens, government officials, and interest groups and organizations on the Department's draft planning report, "Water for Texas: Planning for the Future." Hearings will begin Tuesday, June 21, in Longview, and end on July 26, in Baytown.

The draft report and comments obtained either at the hearings or in written form will be used to amend the 1968 Texas

Water Plan by the six-member citizen Texas Water Development Board, which is the policy making body for the Department.

Executive Director Charles E. Nemir said the water legislation considered by the Texas Legislature during the regular session had no direct connection with the draft planning report.

Consequently, the eight regional hearings will be held as previously announced April 28. In addition to Longview and Baytown, regional hearings will be held in Dallas, June 28; McAllen, July 7; Lubbock, July 12; Abilene, July 14; El Paso, July 19, and Austin, July 21.

Care Needed With Late Planted Cotton

High Plains cotton farmers, who have had planting delayed by unfavorable weather, need to look carefully at variety maturity classifications and pay attention to cultural practices, cautions a cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Thousands of acres of Texas High Plains cotton are yet to be planted or were dry planted and are awaiting rain for germination and emergence, Dr. James R. Supak, Extension cotton specialist at Lubbock, said. Although much of the area has adequate subsoil moisture reserves, widespread spring rains failed to develop, he noted.

"Generally, plantings after June 5 in the northern counties, after June 10 in the central counties and after June 15-20 in the southern counties means that less than average yields can be expected, even with normal conditions for the rest of the growing season," Supak said.

Farmers faced with late planting must decide which varieties to use and what cultural practices might hasten the development and maturity of the crop, he said.

At present, cotton producers in counties north of Lubbock should consider varieties that fall into the very early maturity class, the Extension specialist advised.

Producers in the central counties around Lubbock should use early or very early maturing varieties for planting until approximately June 10. After June 10, only the very early varieties should be used.

Producers south of Lubbock can use the early-to-medium and early varieties until mid-June. After mid-June they should give priority to using only the very early maturing cultivars, Supak said.

The accompanying table lists many of the cotton varieties available on the Texas High Plains and indicates their approximate maturity class. Additional information about these and other varieties may be obtained from seed company representatives or county Extension agents.

"There isn't much producers can do to hasten the maturity of a late planted crop," Supak said.

In the fields where soil tests show nitrogen deficiency, sidedress applications of moderate amounts of nitrogen (20-30 pounds an acre) may be justified, the agronomist said. Where deficiency symptoms develop, foliar application of zinc or possibly iron nutrients might be used, he added.

Heavier applications of nitrogen fertilizers, foliar applications of fertilizer nutrients, sugar and the various types of plant "activators" aren't recommended, he said.

"Generally, a slightly higher planting rate is suggested for late planted cotton," the Extension specialist advised.

Nemir said water quality protection, water conservation, municipal and industrial water supply development, and water for environmental needs are emphasized in the report.

Interested citizens and public groups are urged to attend one or more of the hearings or submit written comments on the draft planning report.

Copies of the 700-page report and a 39-page summary are available for review in each of the Department's district offices and in Texas state depository libraries. Copies may be obtained at no cost from the Planning and Development Division, Texas Department of Water Resources, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711.

At the hearings, Nemir and members of his staff will make brief presentations on the goals of the draft planning report covering regional and statewide water planning as it relates to the Texas Water Plan. Then, they will receive public comments.

Testimony received at the hearings and written comments submitted prior, during, or after the hearings will be included in the record. The hearing record will be held open through August 26, to allow written statements and information to be submitted. Written comments should be mailed to the address above.

They'll all be gathering for the International Ranchers Roundup, which is set for August 1 thru August 5 at the San Angelo Convention Center.

Those attending have the opportunity to participate in a variety of different sessions featuring many of the top agricultural minds in the world.

"Innovative Ranch Management" is the '83 theme which carries thru a general session and three days of concurrent sessions, the six concurrent sessions feature beef cattle, range management, sheep and goats, wildlife, marketing, business management for the ranch family, and a computer seminar. All concurrent sessions will be going on at the same time, so producers may attend talks in any of the sessions, several sessions will be repeated.

Headline speakers for the opening day general session include: National Cattleman's Association President Dub Waldrip, U.S. Congressman Tom Loeffler, noted South African Rangeman Cas Maree, Texas A&M University System Chancellor Arthur Hansen, and University of Wyoming Ranch Management Department Chairman Fee Busby.

A panel comprised of several progressive West Texas Ranchers will discuss their experiences with the savory grazing method, which is one of the most talked about grazing systems ever introduced. Participants will have their choice of four one-day ranch tours on August 5, including separate tours of beef cattle, range management, sheep and goats, plus a two-day overnight tour of Wildlife operations in the scenic Texas Hill Country near Kerrville.

Bailey County ranchers have a unique learning opportunity in San Angelo the first week in August thru exposure to these many industry leaders and experts. Each participant will also be provided a copy of the 480-page bound proceedings book containing narratives of most talks presented during the four days.

Funds Allocated For Texas Park Development

Texas has been allocated $2,409,900 as part of a new $50 million nation-wide park and recreational development program, the U.S. Small Business Administration announced today.

Philip O'Jibway, district director of Lubbock's SBA office, said the program is part of the overall Jobs Bill signed into law by President Reagan on March 24. The $50 million was voted "for the specific purpose of involving small business in providing jobs during a time of high unemployment to accomplish benefits of lasting value," O'Jibway explained.

The legislation authorizes SBA to make grants to the states for rehabilitation and improvements to public parks and other publicly controlled or owned lands. Landscaping of public lands, such as the planting of trees and shrubs, is intended to be accomplished in large measure by hiring unskilled workers.

The funds were allocated among the states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico on the basis of state unemployment during the last three months of 1982. The higher the state's unemployment in relation to the total national unemployment, the higher the grant.

O'Jibway said unemployment in Texas averaged 557,000 during October-December, 1982. "On the basis of this figure and the other unemployment averages, Texas has been allocated $2,409,900," O'Jibway said.

Governors or their designated officials have until July 1 to apply for the funds. All projects must be completed by October 1, 1983.

States can do the tree and shrub planting directly or through qualified small businesses. Those businesses, according to SBA regulations published in the Federal Register, must have 70 or fewer employees.

Individuals employed on the projects, either directly by the states or through a small business contractor, must not have fulltime employment at any time and

Drivers education gets high marks from recent survey

COLLEGE STATION — In Texas, driver education apparently ranks up there with Mom, baseball and apple pie, according to the results of a survey conducted by the Texas A&M University Safety Education Program.

Of 180 Department of Public Safety licensing officers, high school principals, parents, students and average citizens questioned, almost 100 percent of them supported driver education, said Dr. Maurice Dennis, director of the Safety Education Program which conducted the survey for the Texas Driver and Traffic Education Association.

"Driver education has recently come under a number of attacks," said Dennis, "but in this survey people are saying it's a program they believe in."

"Costs are borne more and more by parents. The state currently reimburses the school system $12.50 per student, while the cost to the school is $136.00," he said. "And some of the kids who need driver education the most are unable to take it because of the cost involved."

LUBBOCK, Friday, June 10, 1983

Two new cotton grades proposed by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) failed to clear the Universal Cotton Standards Conference (UCSC) in Memphis, Tennessee, June 7 and 8, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Johnson and Ray Joe Riley of Hart were official producer-ginner representatives to the conference from the High Plains.

Strict Good Ordinary Light Spot and Strict Good Ordinary Spot grades are needed in the official upland cotton standards to provide a better quality description for some of the U. S. cotton now being called Below Grade, AMS Standards Section Chief Harvin Smith told the conference. Smith was supported in his contention by AMS Director Vern Highley and Jesse Moore, Cotton Division Director.

USDA said an average of 1.2 percent of each year's U. S. crop is classed as Below Grade, and that about 90 percent of this cotton could be better described as SGO Light Spot or SGO Spot.

Under the Universal Cotton Standards agreement of 1923, any change in standards requires a three-fourths vote of UCSC delegates, with USDA controlling half the votes and the 14 Foreign Signatory Associations the other half. Thus, assuming a favorable vote from USDA, adoption of the new grades would have required a "yes" vote from seven of the signatories.

But E. T. Gartside of the British Textile Employers' Association, speaking for the foreign group, stated that the signatories had no strong feelings one way or the other about the proposed new standards and therefore would neither vote for nor against their adoption. This stance eliminated the possibility of a three-fourths majority, and no vote was taken.

Bill Franklin of Bakersfield, California, spoke for the proposal on behalf of producer and ginner representatives, agreeing that the standards are needed for more precise descriptions of U. S. cotton and noting that in a meeting the previous day the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council had voted unanimous approval.

James L. Mahaffey, Jr. of Chattanooga, Tennessee, representing the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, reported that ATMI itself had no official position on the proposal but said most of the manufacturers with whom he had talked did not appear to favor the introduction of new grades.

The only strong opposition was voiced by cotton shipper Raymond Cooper of Dallas. Cotton, he stated is traded on "type" and should be sold on "type."

Cooper also chronicled the familiar shipper complaints against the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program in general and said there would be a strong possibility that cotton put into the new grade categories would accumulate in government stocks instead of moving into the market.

Brady Elevator In Receivership ; But Storing New Grain

Central Texas farmers will be able to store their newly harvested grain in the elevator at Brady because of an understanding worked out by the Texas Department of Agriculture between the former owners, the court-appointed receiver and the new owners. "TDA wanted to insure that area farmers would not suffer a hardship during the harvest," Darrell Ketchum, TDA's Grain Warehouse Division Supervisor, explained. "We made certain during the appointment procedure of a receiver that a portion of the elevator that is now empty can be used for new grain storage and the scales and grain moving equipment can be utilized." The license of the grain elevator, formerly owned by Farmers, Ranchers, Consumers Co-op Association, was suspended by TDA on April 18 following the discovery of a significant wheat and grain shortage during a routine departmental inspection. The total value of the shortage of wheat and grain sorghum was just under $100,000. On May 23 and 24 TDA audited the Co-op's books and verified the shortage. Following a meeting of the Co-op May 16 at which members authorized the Co-op Board to sell the facility, Partners Feed Grain and Supply purchased the elevator. The company has been licensed by TDA to provide grain storage. Ed Whitesides of Austin was appointed by District Judge Vernon Jordan to serve as receiver. Whitesides' main duty will be to market the grain deposited when the Co-op held the grain license. He plans to have the grain sold and moved out of the elevator within 60 days. "All of the money from the sale of the grain by the receiver will be prorated to the depositors of record," explained Ketchum. This will offset part of the grain shortage. In addition, Ketchum said, "TDA holds an $82,000 grain warehouse bond, and all or a portion of this will be prorated to the depositors." Sweet young things are now in the midst of their strategic plans for the summer.

Bill Before Texas House Threatens College System

AUSTIN--An innocent-looking bill passed by the Texas Senate and awaiting action in the Texas House of Representatives could send shock waves through the state's higher education system, according to the Texas Public Community Junior College Association. The cost to taxpayers if Senate Bill 1014 becomes law would be many millions of dollars to duplicate programs already being carried out by the state's 47 junior colleges. "Looking at the bill, it appears that the only thing that it does is allow UT-Permian Basin to offer courses to freshmen and sophomores," Dr. Bob Clinton, executive director of the Texas Public Junior College Assn., said. "In reality it opens the door for 10 new four-year state supported colleges in all sections of the state. The problem with these new schools is that they are unneeded and will result in the erosion of the state's robust community junior college system." The state's College Coordinating Board and even the UT Board of Regents are not on record as supporting the legislation. The Coordinating Board said there is no need for another four-year college in Texas for the next 20 years. Both nationally and statewide university enrollment is growing at about one percent each year. More than 75 percent of the state's senior colleges have excess student capacity. "The creation of new four year schools means students to attend them will have to come from somewhere. Since there are no unserved student populations, the only place they can come from is other colleges and from junior colleges who currently send their graduates to the 10 upper-level schools," said Dr. Marvin L. Baker, president of South Plains College in Levelland, and president of the community junior college association. Opponents of the bill say the battle is more than a West Texas fight between Odessa, where UT-Permian Basin is located, and Midland, where a thriving junior college stands to lose students and state assistance. The junior college at Odessa also could feel the student pinch. The opponents contend that UTPB will only be the first college seeking four-year status. The trend will eventually encompass all upper-level schools now teaching only junior, senior and graduate students. "The rationale is that you can't do for one and not the other," Dr. Baker said. Those who will suffer, opponents say, will be the junior colleges whose programs will be duplicated, the senior colleges who are already seeking additional students, and finally, the taxpayers who must pay for all the additional institutions, faculty and duplicated programs.

Bank Merger Consummated

InterFirst Corp. and Fort Worth-based First United Bancorporation Inc. today announced that the previously approved merger would be consummated Tuesday, June 28. The merger, the largest in Texas banking history, will result in a consolidated institution with 66 banks and assets of more than $21 billion. It will strengthen InterFirst's position as the nation's 14th-largest bank holding company, the largest outside of New York, Chicago and California. Under terms of the previously announced merger agreement, each of the approximately 5.5 million shares of First United will be exchanged for 2.2 shares of InterFirst stock. Based on InterFirst's closing NYSE price of $22-1/8 yesterday, the value of the transaction to First United shareholders would be approximately $266 million.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

Little Miss Happiness

Sugar and spice and everything nice... that's what little girls are made of. And one look at this young lady and we all have to agree with that wise old saying. For surely the unknown author of that famous line was the father of just such a beautiful girl as this. Perhaps he saw her as we see her now... all dressed up in a cute frilly hat and a crisp, lacy wonderful dress waiting at the door for the family on their way to church. How proud that father was as he saw the deep shining love radiating in her eyes and the cheerful sweet smile on her face. And how thankful he must have been as he and his family knelt in church and prayed together. Yes, we all, no matter what our station in life might seem to be, have much for which to thank our God. Begin now to thank Him for the bountiful blessings He has bestowed upon us all. And most importantly, do not send your children to church... take them!

State Firemen Ask Emergency Funding

The executive board of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas, meeting in Austin, has voted to ask Governor Mark White to include emergency equipment funding for fire departments on the agenda for the upcoming special legislative session.

"This fund is something Texas fire departments need and need now," says Marvin Setzer of Braxoria, president of the 107-year old association. "They can't wait another two years for the Legislature to meet again."

Legislation calling for a constitutional amendment to create such a fund was passed by the Texas House of Representatives during the regular session, but got bogged down in a Senate committee. Moves for the fund would come from 1% of fire insurance premiums in an existing tax the State Board of Insurance collects from insurance companies on premiums paid in Texas. The funds would be allocated through grants and low-interest loans to individual fire departments.

Funding will be one of the topics addressed by delegates to the SFFMA's annual conference/convention opening in Beaumont on Sunday, June 19. Delegates to the four-day conference will be asked to drum up local support for the proposed legislation and to petition Governor White to put the funding question on the legislative agenda.

Equipment funding for Texas fire departments is a pressing need in today's fire service. "Departments have lost two major sources of funds in recent years," says Ron Waters, SFFMA executive manager. "Low interest loans previously available on a competitive basis through federal revenue-sharing programs have dried up, and the traditional fund-raising barbecue no longer nets enough money to buy a major item like a pumper-which today costs over $100,000."

"The need is here and now," says Waters. Pike Powers, executive assistant to the governor, will address convention delegates. Powers is from Beaumont and is a lawyer and former member of the Texas Legislature.

Convention delegates will also spend time in business sessions and seminars designed to increase their firefighting skills.

May - Drilling Report

Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace has announced that Texas operators reported 126 gas and 72 oil discoveries in May 1983.

One year ago, 97 gas and 56 oil discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Gas discoveries in May included 38 in deep South Texas, 32 in Southeast Texas, 20 in West Central Texas, 14 in the Refugio area, 11 in the San Antonio area, three each in the San Angelo area and East Texas, two in East Central Texas, and one each in the Panhandle, North Texas, and the Midland area.

Oil discoveries include 17 in West Central Texas, 12 in the Midland area, 10 in Southeast Texas, eight in North Texas, seven in deep South Texas, five in the San Antonio area, four each in the San Antonio area and East Texas, two each in the Lubbock and Refugio areas, and one in the Panhandle.

In May, operators reported 413 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes.

New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 2,599 in May, as compared to 2,266 during the same month a year ago.

Applications to drill, deepen, plug back and for service wells in May amounted to 3,046 against 2,616 a year earlier.

Operators filed 809 amended applications to drill. A year earlier they submitted 767 amended requests.
