AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

'Now is the time to—', is a familiar phrase to anyone who is maintaining a home yard, a home, an orchard, a garden or producing any type of agricultural products. Also it is often found in columns written by gardeners, horticulturists, professional landscape firms, and county agents as well.

Now is the time to spray your fruit and nut trees for the control of obscure scale, a pest of considerable importance in the more arid portions of the state. The tiny insect under the scale sucks the sap from the limbs and branches causing them to lose their leaves and die back from the tips. This devitalizes the tree in time and it becomes vulnerable to other insects and diseases.

The tiny scales are about 1-8 inch long, dark gray in color, and closely resembles the tree's bark. Infested limbs will appear to have been sprinkled with wood ashes. The female insect overwinters under these scales; they never move from this spot. The male insect develops wings and emerge from their scale to mate with the females and produce the one generation produced each year.

Control of scale can only be done during the dormant season of the year; January and February are preferred months for treatment. Spray the entire scaffolding of the tree with a spray made by mixing four gallons of a 97% oil emulsion in one hundred gallons of water. In severe cases, two treatments about thirty days apart is recommended. Be sure to cover the entire tree.

The base oil emulsion is available at many feed and seed stores, nurseries, and insecticide dealers. Check the label to be certain it is a 97% oil emulsion.

The referendum on a proposed predator control program in the sheep and goat raising area of West Texas was authorized by Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White after a public hearing in Austin on January 7.

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association was granted the right to hold the election under the provisions of the Texas Commodity Referendum Law. Bill Sims, executive secretary of the association, testified at the hearing that balloting will be by mail and will end at midnight on March 28, 1972. There was no opposition to the TSGRA being certified to hold the referendum.

Sheep and goat producers in 73 counties in West Texas will vote on whether or not to allow deductions of 20 cents per head for sheep and 10 cents a head on goats to be used in the predator control program. Nine members of a board to administer the fund will also be elected.

Any person within the 73 counties engaged in the business of producing sheep or goats for commercial purposes is eligible to vote, including owners of ranches, their tenants and sharecroppers, of such a person is required to pay the proposed assessment.

Any person qualified to vote at the referendum may place his name in nomination for membership on the proposed commodity producers board as a representative of the district in which he resides or as a director at large by application to the TSGRA signed by himself and ten other persons eligible to vote. Such application must be filed at least 30 days prior to the election date.

From 49,484 identified cases in 1962 to 444 in 1971 is the ten year story of the screw-worm eradication program. During 1968, the worst year recently, 9,268 cases were counted at Mission. The lowest total in recent years was 92 cases in 1970 and 161 in 1969.

During 1971, fifty-six counties had confirmed cases; Sterling County had none confirmed. Val Verde County had 67 cases, the most of any county in the state. Thus far, in 1972, six cases have been confirmed; all these were in Webb County (Laredo). One of these cases was reported after a hard freeze in the area. For the most part, temperatures don't stay down long enough to count on killing all the flies. Continued vigilance is the key to success in the eradication program.

Social Security Tips

"Processing time can be cut in half if people are prepared when the time comes to apply for social security benefits," says J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

Being prepared is not as difficult as many people believe. Remember to take along your social security card or the card of the person on whose record you are filing. For a widow, this would be the social security card of her late husband. This may sound hard to believe, but many people do come in to file their application and leave their number at home.

The next most important document to take with you is your birth certificate, if available. Proof of age is needed to qualify for nearly all social security benefits. If your birth was recorded when you were born or if you were baptized before age five, you will need one of these documents. If you don't have a copy, make arrangements now to get one, Mr. Talbot advises.

If your birth was not recorded and you were not baptized before age five, there are other documents you can use. In most cases, the earlier the record was made the better it is for helping to establish your date of birth.

The third thing that is needed in all claims is evidence of the worker's last year's earnings and an estimate of this year's earnings. Your W-2 Form or tax return for last year will give the information for last year. Be sure to bring these with you.

"If I apply for disability benefits, do I have to be examined by a social security doctor before I can get any checks?" This is a question frequently asked when disabled workers claim social security disability insurance benefits.

J. M. Talbot, social security manager, says the social security law requires the applicant to supply the medical records on his condition. When you apply for benefits, you must provide a report from your attending doctor or hospital.

Information from the attending doctor and the hospital is generally all that is needed. However, in some instances, a specialist's report may be necessary to clarify a question or resolve a borderline situation. You may then be asked to go for a special examination to help provide the extra information.

When you apply for disability benefits, be ready to give the names and addresses of all your sources of medical treatment for your disabling condition.

Worried about proving your age? J. M. Talbot, social security manager, said the people at your social security office may be able to help you make your claim. There are some things you can do ahead of time. If you were born in a state that kept birth records when you were born, write for your birth certificate. If the state where you were born wasn't keeping birth records at the time, the next best thing is a baptismal record.

If you were baptized before age 5, you'll be asked to find out if there is a record. If there is, it is all the proof of your age you'll need.

If you have no birth or baptismal record, the people working in the social security office will be happy to suggest some other possibilities. Some examples are an old family Bible, school records, and federal census records.

You may not recall now, but when you bought your marriage license you gave your age. You may also have some old insurance policies about the house. The list of proofs to try is quite long. When you file your claim, it helps if you have already

For Social Security CHECK YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY RECORD

"How do I know my work under social security is being credited to my record, and how do I find out about it? This is one of the questions most frequently asked," says J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

In explaining the process involved in reporting social security, Mr. Talbot said, "When you work for wages, your employer deducts social security tax from your paycheck each pay day. At the end of each calendar quarter, he submits your name and number with payment for these taxes to Internal Revenue. Internal Revenue forwards copies to social security's main office in Baltimore, Maryland. Your wages are then posted to your record. The same process is followed for a self-employed person except that his earnings are recorded yearly."

Mr. Talbot states that the possibility of an error being made in the process does exist. He recommends that you request a statement of your earnings at least every three years.

All you have to do to secure the statement is to send a post card request available at your social security office to Baltimore, Maryland. If the reply you receive is incorrect in any way, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

Each calendar quarter, the Social Security Administration receives employer reports of earnings showing incorrect social security numbers of employees, according to J.M. Talbot, social security manager. These incorrect reports, in many cases, happen when a girl has married but does not have her name changed on social security records.

Mr. Talbot stated that when a girl marries, she should complete a 'Request for Change in Social Security Record' form. After completing the form and returning it to the social security office with her old card, she will be issued a new social security card with the same number but showing the new name. If the name and number reported by an employer do not match the name and number on file with the Social Security Administration, the earnings might not get to the proper account. This could result in a later loss of social security benefits or in a smaller benefit being paid.

"Did you know that if you operate any type of agricultural business, the hired workers you have in that business may be covered by social security?" J. M. Talbot, social security manager, asks.

Any employee who works and earns $150 or more for one employer during any year or works at least 20 days on a time basis for an agriculture business, is covered by social security. Even part-time employees could meet the earnings or work test. You, as their employer, would be liable to withhold social security tax from the employee's check, match that tax yourself, and report the earnings at the end of the year.

'Wanted by the FBI'
CLERICAL EMPLOYEES

Attention: High School Graduates, Business, Junior and Senior College Students

The Dallas Office of the FBI, through its Special Agent in Charge, Mr. J. Gordon Shanlin, has announced it is again in urgent need of clerical employees to fill the positions of Cler and Typist at Bureau headquarters in Washington, D.C. These positions present an excellent opportunity for young people, male or female, who are at least 16 years of age, United States citizens, and have at least a high school education, provided they can pass a rigid investigation of loyalty, reputation, and character, and are in good physical condition. No previous experience is required. Future vacancies are also anticipated in the Fingerprint Clerk and Stenographer positions.

The entrance salary for a Clerk is $4,897 (GS-2) per year with a raise in thirty to ninety days to $5,524 (GS-3) per year, if their work is satisfactory. A twenty word spelling test must be passed to qualify for the Clerk position.

As openings occur, applicants for the Clerk position who are interested, are considered for the Fingerprint Clerk position which starts at $5,524 (GS-3) per year. Successful candidates are considered for promotion to $6,202 (GS-4) per year after six months; to $6,938 (GS-5) per year after one year; and to $7,727 (GS-6) per year after two years experience in fingerprint work.

A Typist starts at $5,524 (GS-3) per year. Applicants for the the Typist position must pass a ten minute typing test of 45 words per minute and a twenty word spelling test.

A Stenographer starts at $6,202 (GS-4) per year. To qualify for the Stenographer position applicants must pass a three minute dictation test at the rate of eighty words per minute; pass a ten minute typing test at the rate of forty five words per minute; pass a twenty word spelling test, and a twenty word vocabulary test. Qualified Stenographers must be willing to accept a Typist position until vacancies for the Stenographer position exist.

The FBI is only interested in above average young men and women. Many FBI clerical employees continue their college education on a part time basis in the Washington, D.C. area while working at these full time clerical jobs. Young men who obtain a four year college degree from an accredited college and who have been employed in a clerical capacity with the FBI for two years and meet the other requirements are considered for the Special Agent position at a starting salary of $11,517 (GS-10) per year.

The FBI provides counseling services to its new employees to assist them with housing, transportation, and other needs. If close friends or young married couples apply at the same time and are found acceptable, every effort is made to afford them appointments at the same time.

The FBI does not come under Civil Service in that the FBI has its own application form, tests, investigates, and hires its own employees rather than draw them from a Civil Service list or register.

An application and detailed information can be obtained by calling or writing, the Special Agent in Charge, FBI, 200 Mercantile Continental Building, Dallas, Texas, 75201, telephone Area Code 214-741-1851, or by contacting the nearest FBI Office whose telephone number will be listed in the front of your telephone directory.

Completed applications should be sent to the above address as soon as possible as processing of such applications can be instituted as much as six months prior to an indivi-
