COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The San Angelo Stock Show last week marked the end of the spring circuit for Sterling County 4-H Club members. Fourteen club member entered lambs in the show, and as had been our misfortune at the San Angelo Show, failed to place a single lamb. The non-place lambs were sold in the packer sale Saturday morning preceding the placing animal sale. They brought $42.75, per hundred.

Five club members had breeding sheep entered in that show with considerably better results than in the lamb show. The girls and boys had some entries in the Delaine Sheep Show, Junior Division and the Adult and Junior Rambouillet shows.

Wesley Hodges had his Rambouillet in the Adult Show—known as the Open Show at the other shows—with Amy and Becky also entering their aged sheep in the Adult Division since the Junior Show has no aged classes.

Amy had the champion ewe of the adult show with her aged ewe while Wesley had the reserve champion ram. In class placings Wesley had the second and third place rams in both the ram lamb and the yearling ram classes. Amy had the first place aged ram while Becky had the second place aged ram. Wesley's ewe lambs were third and fourth and his yearling ewes were fifth and eighth. Amy had the first and second place aged ewe with Becky showing the third place aged ewe. In the pair of sheep class, Amy had the second place entry, Becky the fourth place entry, and Wesley sixth place. Wesley's entries in both the get of sire class and the exhibitors flock were second.

Amy won the Leonard Richardson Memorial Trophy, a silver punch bowl, as second high premier exhibitor in the Junior Rambouillet Show. She also had the champion ewe while Becky had the reserve champion ewe in the junior show.

Class placings were Amy, third and fourth place ram lambs with Becky sixth and seventh. In the yearling ram class, Becky had the third and fourth place entries while Amy's stood seventh and eighth. Becky's ewe lamb was first and Amy's were fourth and sixth. Amy won the yearling ewe class and also had the sixth place animal while Becky showed the third and ninth place entries. In the pen of three, open division of the junior show, Becky showed the third place group while Amy had the fourth place group. In the breeder owned division, Becky was first and Amy second.

Paula and Delmar Radde, Jr. showed their Delaines in the Junior Delaine show Friday afternoon. Paula had the fourth place ram lamb and the fourth place yearling ram with Delmar showing the sixth and eighth place yearling rams. In the ewe lamb class, Delmar had the fourth place entry. His yearling ewes were third and sixth while Paula's was fourth. In the pen of three, Delmar was second and Paula was fourth.

There have been losses of both cattle and sheep reported in a wide area of West Texas, mostly to unknown causes. The animals are found dead in fields and on the range. Some have been on small grain fields while others have been on ranges where there is a lush growth of weeds and

M.C.T. Presents "Drink to Me Only"

There'll be plenty of laughs beginning March 14 as Midland Community Theatre opens its second show of the season, 'Drink to Me Only' This comic farce is sort of a jolly intemperance lecture inspired by the pursuit of truth, justice and true love.

Springboard for the comedy's uproar is the trial of a daffy millionaire playboy charged with shooting his seventh wife in the derriere. The accused insists that a staid firm of lawyers must save him from jail or lose the right to represent his eighteen large corporations. His defense for shooting is simple: he had drunk two quarts of whiskey in twelve hours, and while in this state, he decided to clean his pistol. It went off accidentally, he claims, delivering the wound to his soon-to-be ex-wife. The case for the defense proceeds smoothly until a medical expert testifies that it is humanly impossible to consume two bottles of hooch in that short of time.

Desperately his attorneys attempt to overcome this testimony by producing someone who can preform the feat. Their choice is a mild junior associate of the law firm. They promise him a large bonus and a promotion if he can just guzzle two quarts in twelve hours and still move about, if only slightly. The money offer is especially attractive to the young barrister because it would allow him to get married, an event which has been delayed some time for lack of funds.

To verify that the young lawyer does indeed drink the two bottles in the allotted time, a representative of the 'Honest Ballot Association' is assigned to observe the entire experiment. Pringle's marathon drinking session naturally concludes with his rubber-legged, thoroughly soused appearance on the witness stand at the trial, a howling climax to an evening of belly-laugh comedy.

DRINK TO ME ONLY is scheduled to run through Mar. 29, with a matinee performance on Mar. 23. Reservations should be made by calling the box office at 915-682-2544.

Memberships will remain on sale through the run of DRINK TO ME ONLY. There are five more productions scheduled for 1975, counting the current show. In May see 'The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia', a comedy set in West Texas. In June there will be GIDEON, a warm, exciting and humorous Bible story. Next October the enchanting drama, ANNE OF THE THOUSAND DAYS, and closing the season in December a sprightly and happy comedy, GRMS RIV VU.

Enjoy live theatre well done. Join Midland Community Theatre.

Burglars Get Meat

A burglar or burglars broke into the Brock Grocery and Market Monday night or Tuesday morning before daylight and got stuff out of the storage vault.

They took loins, hind quarters, halves, hams, cheese and canned meats.

They evidently drove up to the back door, batter-rammed the door open and took what they wanted. Shoe track in mud and tire tracks on the ground were plainly visible.

Brock discovered the burglary when he opened that morning.

Golf Tournament Saturday

A golf tournament is planned here this Saturday by the local golf association. They want a big lot of entrants, so go down and get into the act.

Play will start at noon Saturday, it was said.

Then next Tuesday, at seven o'clock in the evening, there will be a meeting of the association at the school, said Bobby Dodds. Members are urged to be at the meeting. Some important items need discussing.

Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor. Where were you when the lights went out?

Tuesday morning, that is. Well, I was just through eating breakfast and wham, no electric lights or nuthin'. I thought, it wont be long, because it never is. So, as I crept around in the dark I just knew the lights would come on at any moment. But they didn't. Not for about two hours.

The power was off from 6:45 to 8:45 maybe a record.

8-BALL

Worth Durham got a cracked rib or more when he fell and a bicycle at Kingsland Sunday. He and a dog got mixed up and the fall resulted. He was hospitalized in the Shannon Hospital until Thursday.

8-BALL

A PRAYER FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE GROWING OLDER

Keep me from the fatal habit of thinking that I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Make me thoughtful but not moody; helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all—but thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

Keep my mind from the recital of endless details—give me wings to get to the point.

Seal my lips on my aches and pains. The are increasing and love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

I dare not ask for grace enough to enjoy the tales of others but help me to enjoy them with patience.

I dare not ask for improved memory but a growing humility and lessening cocksureness when my memory seems to clash with the memory of others.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talents in unexpected people. Give me the grace to tell them so.

Lions Set Visitor's Day for March 19

Next Wednesday, March 19, is visitors day at the Lions Club. Such announcement was made by president Bill Watts at the Wednesday luncheon meeting on Wednesday of this week at the community center. District Governor Jim Lemons of Big Spring will speak. All members are asked to bring a guest, preferably a prospective new member.

President Watts also appointed a project committee who will in turn recommend a money making project for the club. He also announced that the Bloodmobile would be here on March 26 to take donations.

Bro. Eldred Stevens, who was doing the preaching at the local Church of Christ, spoke to the club for the program. He and his son, Nick, were guests of Chesley McDonald.

Lisa Horwood, club pianist and sweetheart, and the Texas Hereford Queen, gave a resume of her travels during the year to stock shows and sales.

Watts told of zone meeting to be held in Bronte on March 18. He named on the project committee Charles Stevens, Ross Foster, Albert McGinnes and Jack Peel.

Mrs. Jim Davis was a dinner guest. The prize went to Eldred Stevens.

According to some of the reports, veterinarians have diagnosed it as due to bloat. Other causes have not been diagnosed as some of the animals had been dead too long to determine.

It would be well to keep a watch on all livestock now. With the moisture situation as it is, there is a lush growth of weeds which can be the cause of the losses. There is a shortage of dry grass to go with the green forage and this is always a problem. There isn't much of a solution to the problem other than feeding some type bloat preventive if one is being fed. There are some of these available.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

ALUMINUM STRETCHES ENERGY RESOURCES

Now that pollution clean-up is underway, environmental concern seems to be shifting to energy supply. Some ecologists worry about America's accelerating use of fuels—coal, oil, gas and uranium.

These basic sources of energy, burned directly or transformed into electricity, propel all vehicles, heat and cool our homes, run appliances, cook and refrigerate foods and power our industries.

The use of aluminum, an environmentally thrifty metal, stretches fuels and energy, the people at Reynolds Aluminum point out.

"Aluminum does not deteriorate and is easily recycled with little expenditure of energy," said Dr. Robert F. Testin, director of environmental planning for Reynolds. "That makes it an energy bank that can be drawn upon again and again. When long-lasting aluminum products are finally discarded, melting them down for refashioning into new products takes less than 5 per cent of the energy used to make the aluminum originally."

Because it is so light—only one-third the weight of steel, copper or brass—aluminum provides a greater quantity of material per ton. "This phenomenon stretches the energy used in making aluminum products, as a ton of aluminum yields two to three times more items than are obtained from a ton of other materials," according to Dr. Earl E. Patterson, who heads up Reynolds metallurgical research.

An example of Dr. Patterson's point is beer and soft drink containers. A ton of steel produces 15,400 steel cans, and a ton of glass makes 5,000 bottles, but a ton of aluminum results in 32,680 all-aluminum cans.

An article in the Reynolds magazine reveals many other ways aluminum conserves energy.

Transportation of all kinds consumes 30 per cent of America's energy supply. The light metal cuts fuel consumption in all kinds of vehicles—aluminum highway trucks, automobiles with their aluminum parts, aluminum railroad cars, aluminum boats and ships with aluminum superstructures. The 1973 autos average about 78 pounds of aluminum per car.

In heating and air conditioning, which take 27 per cent of the energy supply, aluminum insulation and ducts, because of their high heat reflectivity, cut fuel consumption.

Durable aluminum siding, windows and other construction items greatly reduce use of resources and energy in maintenance, repair and replacement. The article points out that aluminum will not rot or warp, and is immune to red rust, mildew and termites.

In cooking, the rapid heat conductivity of aluminum pots and pans—six times faster than steel, for example—conserves electricity and gas. In the refrigerator, foods in aluminum foil chill or freeze quicker than when wrapped in paper or plastic film, saving electricity.

The public depends on aluminum electrical cable for low-cost delivery of electricity to the home. Replacing expensive copper, aluminum cable has lowered everybody's electrical bills.
