No Raise Granted Ramgas, Inc.

The Ramgas, Inc. natural gas company serving Sterling City, was denied a rate increase Monday in a hearing by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The company had asked for a rate increase of 8c per MCF—thousand cubic feet.

The examiner did not allow an increase at this time but said the company probably was due a raise and could apply again in March, said Skipper Lively.

Appearing for the company was A.C. Skipper Lively, president and Jim Joyce, CPA.

Appearing for the city against the raise were city councilmen Ross Foster and Neal J. Reed, and attorney John Sims of Lubbock.

Lively said that the company that provides the gas for the local company, The El Paso Natural Gas Company, had recently got a raise of 16c per MCF and that Ramgas could pass along this raise to the customers.

The president said he told the examiner that he would withdraw his application for an increase and file for permission to take up his lines here after the heating season is over next spring.

MCT Playing Neil Simon Comedy

COME BLOW YOUR HORN

COME BLOW YOUR HORN, the first and still one of the funniest comedies Neil Simon ever brought to Broadway, will wind up Midland Community Theatre's 1976 season. Starting the Holiday season with its opening on December 2nd, this very funny family play will run through December 18th.

A first-rate cast will bring COME BLOW YOUR HORN to life on MCT's stage. There are some new faces and some familiar ones. JERRY KNIGHT of Kermit and RANDY HICKS play the two brothers, one the sophisticated swinger and the other the young naive kid, newly escaped from the parental cocoon into the wilds of New York City.

Beauty, as well as comedy, is contributed to the show by SUSIE HITCHCOCK and CONNIE LADD as the two girls who keep the bachelor brothers busy.

On top of this, Neil Simon plops perhaps the funniest Mother and Father in theatre. FUFFY GREEN and PAT BASKIN handle these roles with great comedic skill. ART COLE is the director and designer of the show and SHIRLEY HANSEN will stage manager, assisted by ANN YOUNGBLOOD.

Performances are scheduled for December 2, 3, 4, 5, 9, 10, 11, 12, 16, 17 and 18. Curtain times are 8 o'clock on week nights, 8:30 on Fridays and Saturdays, and 2:30 for Sunday matinees. The box office is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and reservations made be made immediately by mail, by phone or in person beginning November 26 for members and November 29 to the general public.

The MCT box number is 4847 in Midland or the phone is 682-2544.

Mrs. Harvey Glass and a friend Mrs. Squire T. Cook of Fort Worth attended the Foundation for Christian Living Thanksgiving Reunion in Mexico City November 22-29. It was sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale.

NEWS OF SCIENCE

ENGINEERING FOR A BETTER WORLD

Bioenergetics, bioentrainment, bioenergotherapy, generic memory-scientific mumbo jumbo for ecology, right? Wrong! Translated, these words might sound more like dowsing, fire walking, mediums, levitation, faith healing and ESP, terms you might ordinarily associate with "hocus pocus" magic and occult. But not anymore. Engineers and scientists in Russia and more recently in the U.S. are taking these phenomena seriously while trying to explain how and why they occur and if there is practical value to these events. It's all called parapsychology.

At the recent International Convention of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE), a team of American engineers described their investigations of parapsychological phenomena. With numerous referrals to Russian work in the new field, the group explained experiments to measure mental telepathy, to explain acupuncture, and to determine the effects of electric fields on human behavior.

One of the most widely heard-of forms of Extra Sensory Perception (ESP) is mental telepathy, the ability to pass information from one mind to another. ESP has three other subcategories—clairvoyance, direct passing of information from matter to mind; psychokinesis, mind over matter; and precognition, direct obtaining of information about the future.

Investigations both in this country and in Russia, parapsychology speakers told the IEEE audience, have convinced most researchers that one or all the forms of ESP exist. The Russians have conducted experiments with a woman who can move an object without touching it. They found that near the object that she moves there is enough electrical energy to light up a small fluorescent lamp. American scientists are seeking clues to clairvoyance and precognition.

While ESP is relatively easy to categorize, the phenomena associated with electromagnetic fields around living systems are much more difficult to assign and analyze. The basic problem is measurement. How do you measure something that you can't prove exists?

One measurement method, discovered by the Russians, put a high voltage electric field around the subject which is then photographed with special film. This technique, called Kirlian photography, has helped to form some explanations of why acupuncture works. Kirlian photos show radiations around various body zones that coincide with acupuncture points. In fact a device called a tobiscope can actually find acupuncture points by using electronic circuits. To explain this, one American scientist postulates the existence of an unknown circulatory system in the body that seems to be composed of energy and electric fields.

Certainly the practical aspects of telepathy are intriguing and the possibilities in the biomedical areas are encouraging. But, all the benefits or parapsychological research are by no means obvious. As one engineer told the IEEE International Convention, "The potentialities of the individual human being are far greater than we ordinarily imagine them to be and far greater than the in-vogue models of man would lead us to think possible. We are finally beginning to discover some of these potentialities."

Thanks for you past patronage.

THE LANGUAGE OF FOREIGN MARKETS

Called "dinero" in Spanish, "argent" in French, and "gelt" in German, money is luring increasing numbers of American executives to visit distant lands in search of business.

Progressive companies are realizing that the demand for the bilingual executive is growing. They have, therefore, begun adopting language training programs for their personnel.

Previously, training of employees was done in classroom groups. But most companies have found that the busy businessman couldn't be tied down to a 10:30 class twice a week—and preferred an individualized approach to learning.

Employees of Control Data Corporation had an even more troublesome "time" problem. Twenty-five employees of this computer company were being sent to Germany to set up a system for Volkswagen. They wanted to learn German but couldn't be pinned down to a schedule, since they were needed whenever computer time was available.

The Sullivan Language Schools, a nationwide network of centers with headquarters in Palo Alto, Calif., solved their problem by setting up an individualized "school" on their premises. The unique Sullivan method was developed under a Carnegie Foundation Grant by the noted linguist Dr. M. W.

Sullivan. It uses programmed texts and coordinated cassette tapes and the student can work whenever he wants to and at his own pace. With this set up, the Control Data personnel fit their lessons in between projects, when computer time is not available.

The Sullivan Language Schools have also helped Sears, Roebuck and Co. fashion buyers to learn French and the Latin American Section of A.B. Dick Co. to learn Spanish. The ambitious Japanese of Mitsui Corp. who already speak English are moving on to French, German and Spanish.

Even if their employees are not assigned to overseas duty, some large firms are offering language lessons as a fringe benefit. Companies with plants in Spanish-American districts sponsor courses in Spanish so that their people can better relate to the community.

All in all, the executive who says, "I don't need a second language—there's always someone who speaks English" may become obsolete.

COMMUNITY THANKSGIVING SERVICE ATTENDANCE

There were about 90 people at the Thanksgiving Service, on Tuesday night, November 23 the Baptist Church. A combined choir from the various churches was led by Mrs. Darwin Schrader, and Mrs. Bill Humble was at the organ while Mrs. Charles Stevens played the piano. The Rev. Charles Tucker gave the Thanksgiving message.

The offering received was in the amount of $137.42. The offering was deposited to the credit of the local service unit of the Salvation Army. Your gifts to the service unit would be appreciated, and can be given to Mrs. Martin Reed at the bank.

The State Comptroller Bob Bullock has sent Sterling City a check for $784.15 for the latest quarter on the sales tax of 1% levied on sales in Sterling City.

Checks are mailed quarterly if the amount is not over $500 a month, it was said.

Around the County

By Arthur Barlemann, Jr.

Two Sterling County residents won high placings in two pecan shows in the area open to Sterling County growers. Skipper Lively sent four varieties to the Glasscock County Show winning a first place ribbon on his entry of the Sioux variety, second place ribbons in his Mahan and Wichita, and a third place ribbon on his Western Schley. The Sioux is a cross of the Eastern Schley and Carmichael while the Wichita is the result of a cross of the Halbert and Mahan varieties. Both were developed at the USDA Pecan Station at Brownwood.

John Brock's entry in the Wichita class at the Trans Pecos Show at Rankin placed second. Congratulations to Skipper and John.
