In the charge the Indians sustained considerable loss, those present estimating the dead at fifteen. Miles casualties consist of two wounded, one in the arm and one in the leg. Shortly after one o'clock the Indians fell back towards the mountains.

one o'clock the Indians fell back towards the mountains.

This is the first time in this campaigni the hostiles have attempted a charge, and shows they are driven to desperation. During the whole of the fight they shot wildly. Miles object, in view of the overwhelming number against him, was to prevent the advance of the hostiles and if possible hold them in check till reinforced. This he did-although his force was on foot and the manges well mounted. During Friday the Indians completed the destruction of Cayuse Station, which on the day previous they partly destroyed. It is feared Meachams has met a similar fate. Among the interested spectators of the Miles fight were a large number of Umatillas who took sides with neither party, but appeared to relish the spott.

Last March the Crow Creek, Lower Brute and Cheyenne Agencies were all seized by the military. A secret investigation into their affairs has developed a conspiracy between the agents and traders that startles the natives. Dr. Livingston, of the Crow Creek Agency, was taken without warning and his office safe captured before he had time to remove the evidences of his wealth and guilt. Testimony is still them are for Indian labor. Indians who worked a day or two were rated at 60 to 90 dollars a month for the whole quarter. For seven quarters it was impossible to put one's hands on a paper in the agency office, without clutching fraud in the paper. In the expenditures to all sorts of material several forged youthers were discovered and the extenses of guilt are thorough. The Department will proceed to prosecute.

THE POTTER COMMITTEE.

New Orleans, July 15.—Before the sub-committee, Isaac W. Patton, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee in 1876, testified that he saw Anderson about the Democratic State Central Committee in 1876, testified that he saw Anderson about October. Anderson proposed if the Democrats would support Nash for Congress he would give them two members of the General Assembly and 1,300 to 1,300 Democratic majority in East Feliciana parish. Witness could not entertain the proposition but telegraphed for McOabe in Feliciana. He came down and talked with Anderson about his treatment of the people. Anderson finally agreed to ge book if they would cast his scrip. Potter agreed with McOabe to pay $150 of the amount. Witness gave Jenks $50. Jenks said he would not take that as a bribe but as a loan.

The Committee received from Chief Clerk Tomlinson a corrected list of the employees of the Custom House. Secretary of State Strong produced consolidated statements of the Supervisors of the protested parishes, pointed out the intertineatons and irregularities as to the protested parishes, pointed out the intertineatons and irregularities as to the protests etc., and delivered the original papers to the committee.

The Daily News says: The island of Cyprus will be permanently garrisoned by a comparatively small body of European troops, which is to be supplemented by the local militia to be organized by the officers who accompany Gen. Sir Gurrett Woolsey. The stay of the Indian troops in the island will only be temporary. General Woolsey is reported to have arrived at Malta Wednesday, and will start thence for Cyprus on the 20th inst., with transports to couvey only the troops.

London, July 15.—The press favorably comments on the results of the Congress, the Daily News excepted. The Times' leading editorial, summing up the labors of the Congress, says: It has made charges which transform an empire, has removed long standing causes of discontent, has pacified we may hope the provinces which were torn by dissention and misrule, and has placed barriers between the rival forms of implacable bigotry, has stopped many avenues of foreign intrigues, and it has abridged the power of the Forte and it has given peace to Europe.

Lon ton, July 15.—Beaconsfield is expected Tunsday and preparations are making for a popular demonstration at Charing from honoring his return. Beaconsfield accepts a dinner tendered by the Carrellton Club.

The Manchester Guardian's London correspondent says the expectation gains ground that a general election is imminent but nothing can be definitely stated until Beaconsfield returns. It is understood the Premier will make an important speech in the House of Lords Thursday night and if an appeal to the party is intended a notification of that step will be then given by him.

Athens, July 15.—A telegram from Lamis states that a great fire is raging throughout-a large district of Thussuly. The village of Sophiades is partly burned, and the harvest is totally destroyed. The fire organ at numerous different points, and was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

Corpus Christi Free Press: The depreciation of Mexican silver dollars in this market has, in the opinion of some, driven considerable trade away that otherwise would have centered here. Where it has been driven to is difficult to determine, for the depreciation has also obtained at San Antomio and other commercial points. It is well enough to state however, that a number of our business men have, all along, taken Mexican silver at par for merchandise. It would, perhaps, have been the wiser plan, as a merchant has suggested to us, had they united at the start and formally proclaimed the fact. It is believed that even now it is not too late.

Sergeant Walsh of Captain Caldwell's Ranger in charge of five others, together with two citizens, as guides captured and arrested thirty-six persons, eight of whom were recognized as notorious characters by the city who came to see them, they were retained in custody and turned over to the proper authorities, the remainder were set at liberty. Three horse thieves were captured by Corporal Ogloby's socut on Thursday last, and taken to Eagle Pass where they are wanted. Mr. Green McCullough, charged with murder and theft, who made his escape from the guard about two weeks ago, was re-captured by Oscar Oberugster and R. Hageman, in the northern part of Frio county, this week.

The Monnonites are using twisted hay extensively for fuel in the prairie dustriets of the State. This expedient was introduced by the Monnonites from Russia, who have long been accustomed to live in regions wholly destitute of forests or coal, and to use twisted grass or hay as a substitute. It is found to answer the purpose admirably. A steam assymill and grist mill at Worthington is run with this sort of fuel. It is much cheaper than wood or coal, and quite as good for heating purposes, whon the process of preparation is fully understood, and we believe the Monnonites use a peculiar kind of stove adapted to the purpose.

Public Garden, and gradually increased its altitude until lost to view by those who witnessed its departure.

Mr. Quindlin waved his hat to his friends and proceeded on his perilous career. Soon after passing over the Public Garden he discovered that he had ascended a remarkable height, and trying to work the cranks by means of which the fans are put in motion he discovered to his surprise that something was binding the gearing and that the machinery would not work. He made this discovery when at the height of 2,000 feet, which was a greater altitude than the michine was ever intended to reach. Finding that he could obtain no motion to his fans he began to investigate the cause of the difficulty. Not only the central fan for the raising and lowering the apparatise would not work, but the steering and propeller fan at the end of the machine.

central fan for the mising and lowering the apparatus would not work, but the steering and propeller fan at the end of the machine was also clogged. He then became satisfied that something was the matter with the clutch coupling, by means of which a connection is formed between the upright shaft and the long connecting rod to which the steering fan is attached. It was impossible, seated as he was, to lean over or look under the machine, as by so doing he might loose lalance. In this position of doubt and suspensed the air ship having risen to such a height that the roads appeared to be about the width of two fingers, Mr. Quindlin racked his brain to invent some method by which to extricate himself from the danger which environed him. He knew that he must do something and that immediately; he must get his machinery in unition by means of which he hoped to descend into a lower atmosphere, or accomplish the same result by a more hazardous expedient of cutting a hole in the balloon. He resolved that nothing but the direct necessity would tempt him to recour to the latter method of regining terra firms. He determined not to resort to the outsing till all the other expedients had failed, and thought what he could do to repair the defect in the apparatus. He finally resolved upon a most daving feat, and one which causes a thrill of horror in writing. Taking a piece of heupen cord, with which he was providentially provided, he wound it around his left ankle, and then removing his foot from the direct in the spirate he fustered it secretly to
