THE STATE CONVENTION.

[Special Dispatch to the DATLY EXPRESS.] AUSTIN, July 20, 1878. The convention met at nine thirty and the committee on Platform announced itself eady to report. It was announced that a of the State Democratic party to correct the principles of government, and piedge our-selves to cooperate with it as an integral part thereof in all efforts to restore the adstration of the government to the priners of the general government are retrieted to the express grants of the consti-ution and all powers not so granted are re-erved to the States and people thereof;

that we pledge our devotion to the Union of the States under the constitution itself; that the faithful adherence to the following supremacy of civil over the military school system.

The platform then goes on to deprecate The platform then goes on to deprecate in the manner of the investigation of the presidential frauds, declaring the decision of the Tauth Congress should not be disturbed, but it ought not to preclude the future investigation and punishment of the parties connected therewith; that the wide spread commercial stagnation and consequent suffering is due directly to pernicious Republican financial legislation, and charges that their legislation on this question was in favor of the moneyed power and against the peopla, and reduced the values of property, paralyzed manufactories requiring labor, thereby creating the idleness of the laborers. It favors one curreacy for the government and people, laborer and office holder, pensioner and soldier, producer and bondholder. United Statebonds should bear taxation; the bonds and obligations of the government should be bonds should bear taxation; the bonds and obligations of the government should be paid in legal tender unless otherwise pro-vided by the original law under which they vided by the original law under which they were issued, and should be paid at once as far as practicable. It endorses the silver bill, and demands of the government the ample protection of the frontier. It wants a sufficient cavalry force officered by Texaus, and should the government fail to extend that protection the State must. The government is the content of the content of that protection the State must. The government should fully reimburse the State for frontier protection. It deprecates beeping Souvicts outside of the penitentiary, declaring they should be confined as soon as practicable. The Legislature should pass an act regulating railroad tariffs and pledges that no money shall be borrowed for the current expenses of the State. The party sympathizes with the laboring classes and congratulates the country on the restoration of local self-government.

The Committee on Platform recommended the adoption of the two-thirds rule. An

New York, July 20.—No new cases of yellow fever are responsed in Brooklyn and the three subration board of the U. S. ship Vermont, down with industy, are convalescing. It is believed the spread of the discase is checked.

New York, July 20.—The ballast of the quarry clipping and sand was deposited on the dock on either side of the Vermont, about 100 yards distant from her. It contained the germ of the disease which was aggravated into fever by the excessive heat.

Washington, July 20.—The support of the board of nedical officers of the hard yelignated to investigate the causes of the appear.

Washington, July 20.—The respect of the beard of medical officers of the navy designated to investigate the causes of the appearance of yellow fever on the verment at New York is received at the Navy Department. The board is of the opinion that it originated from the beliast of thebark. Juniatia Clara, which left Havans.

Washington, July 20.—Reports received by Surgeon General Woodworth, of the Marine Hospital, shows that during the week ending July 6th, there were minety-three deaths from yellow fever at Havana and six from small-pox, a large increase in the former and a corresponding decrease in the former and a corresponding decrease in the latter disease... Adjices received from Majanans show increased yellow fever in that place. It is reported to have spreed to nearly all the resease in the port, though but few deaths occurred. At Key West up to the 10th there were just five cases of yellow fever. The first three cases were in shipping from Havana and the last two not connected with the shipping. The city is healthy with me foars of an epidemic.

The ATHANE CADETS.

Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, July 20.—The Atlanta cadets were received this evening by Governor Matthews of West Virginia. He made a short speech in which he complimented their appearance. He said a well organized military force is an essential factor of every State government, not only to anothe the State to farnish promptly her quota of troops in case of war and to insure at all times the prosecution of London, July 20.—Paris and Vienna newspapers generally comment favorably upon Beaconsfield's statement in explanation of the treaty of Rerlin in the House of Lords on Thursday. The Italian government and sonservative or ans continue to stack England. The Italian radical newspapers don't notice the subject of English occupation of Cyprus, but exclusively devote their attention to Austria. The Standard's assertion that the Italian authorsandor to Vienna had been called to kome on this subject is denied. The ambassador went to Paris on a short leave, his business being suconnected with politics. The Russian unofficial press is more or loss dissatisfied with the treaty. Before its conclusion Akasoff Bauslaviah, the agitator, made such a violent speech at Moscow against the Russian concessions in the Congress that he was warned that its repetition would be regarded as a personal attack on the Cear. The Tjanes Berlin letter says the Slavophil auchusiasm is disappointed. The liberals would have been willing that the state of war should committine, because they hoped out of its results to gain a basis of constitutional liberty, but an immense majority of the Ressian people, as well as the mercantile community, the wealthy as well as lower masses, are heartly glad of a return of peace.

A dispatch from Rome to the Pail Mall Gazette says, instructions have been given for preparations for lodgings for His Holimess, the Pope. Perugio, the French representative at Rome, has been assured by Cardinal Franchi, Pontified Beer sary of State, that the Pope's absence from the Vatican will not disturb the Papal relations with France.

The International and Great Northern and Texas and Pacific railroads have agreed to bring them here at a nominal rate. They will be fully equipped here, and proceed westward to Baylor county, the new colony "Texaylvania."

Houston Telegram: A squad of eight tramps were steeling a ride yesterday in one of the Central down trains. They found that one of there number has a little money in his pocket, and the other seven joined in robbing him. At Hackley the robbers "jumped" the train. The robbed came down here and made complaint before Henry Brushear. Deputy Sheriff Fant succeeded this morning in arresting four. Judge Bashear, after a hearing, required a $750 bond from each, which they proceeded not to give, and are now in jail. The fellow that was robbed calls himself Charles Mineke. The jailed fellows are A. B. Angus, John Smith, Ed and William Latebon.

PITT PATTE.

Patti, saya a sympathetic Franch chronicler, is now a drowning woman, whose face only is seen floating on the water. How changed from May, 1869, when the Macquis DeCaux, just returned from St. Petersburg and Vienna, began her famous Sunday sofrees at her mansion, No. 164, Champs Elyscos, where she was the lostess of all that was high-born and all that was celebrated in Paris. Patti's most devoted, worshiper of the other sex was Cotran, a Nespolitan, the most considerable masic publisher of Italy met to Ricordi, of Milan, whose constant struggle with his eye-glass is legendary in Paris, the contest ending invariably in his dropping the glass out of reach and making the witdest salutations at random, some of which involved him in queer missidventures. Cottran was a function believer in the divu, into the uplendor of whose glory he dashed himself headlong, "anys the wonderful author of this wonderful tale, "even as a seabird does against the lantern of a lighthouse." Havins advertised his, hopeless passion to the amusement of all Paris, the poor man retired to Naples, diagnated and discondanted. Another of her adorem was the old Marquis De Chavmant, a nobleman old enough to he her graindfather, and a magnificent personage, with a wonderful head of whith hair, thought in Paris to equal that of our own incomparable Stoughlern holds for the continuent, billing in advance with it the cities where she was to sing. andidate for the office of Governor, and the strong support given him in the Austin Convention, as indicated by the Expans's bulletin, last night, brought no little gratification to his many friends. Hopes of his success wers general.

Sherif Crowell, of Kinney county, arrived inst evening conference of attempting to police, by administering croton oil, our townsman Mr. VanWie. Davie's case, after his conviction, was appealed, but the Appellate coort sustained the verdict in the court below.

— A husband, in whom his wife had not the most implicit trust, was followed by the madame a few nights ago, woman-like curiosity prompting her to attempt the solution of the problem as to where her help-meet spent so many of his evenings. Enough will be said when we intimate that the lady uncarthed a "big bug," and came very near using a weapon in the shape of a huge butcher-knife she took with her on another woman found in her dear one's embraces.

Dr. Kearney, recently returned from the Yalennucla ranch, in the vicinity or Laredo, reports an unusually somational occurrence at the ranch not being long since. It seems that the family living upon the place as Mexicaus, and have a very pretty doughter. A few mouths ago, one of the employees at the ranch fell in love with this girl and undertook to win her affections. As the young woman had nover, probably, been so approached before, she knew no other resort than to yield to her lovers' pleadings. Soon, and she had promised to be his wife. The father and mother of the girl had not been consulted, however, as to what they had to say about the matter, for the gouple acted independently and upon their own hook. When the mother learned of the seriousness which the intercourse between the two had reached, she violently protested against the marriage. This caused her daughter much grief, though the girl had into the afternoon that her daughter had determined to marry the man, she locked her up at home. Thus, of course, the marriage went by the board. The next day, when they riv was released from her prisons she obtained a quantity of arsenic through some means, which she swallowed, and soon expired in the greatest agony.

Last heard from was four miles above hers, closely pursued. Base's arm was daugling and bleeding freely. Showing his arm to a negro, he said, "We give them hell in the new town, but they got us some," holding up his arm the best he could. The purpose of the rebbers was, as stated by the spy, to rob Miller's bank and the postoffice. It was supposed, too, that they intended to avenge their betrayal in court here upon Scott and another who became States evidence against them.

Yesterday evening, about 6 o'clock, Wm. Sutcliffe, aged 31 years, a native of Manichester, England, and a professional long distance swimmer, was drowned in the river, off the head of Gravier street. In May last, Sutcliffe and Frank Printz, also a professional of note, were engaged in a friendly discussion as to their respective triumps in American and English waters, when Sutcliffe expressed himself as being Printz superior in the water. This led to a match of fifty dollars a side, distance twenty-four miles, which was swam on the 2d of June, and won by Sutcliffe in five hours and twelve seconds, defeating Printz by half a mile. As Prints and his friends considered that this defeat was altogether attributable to the fact of his having drank a dipper of whisky, he proposed

"I had a couple of glassos of lager."

"That's the most dangerous drink in the city, Ebenezer. Every man who is brought in here for drunkenness had two glasses of lager."

"I had more, though, your Honor."
