To-night about half-past eight a mob entered the jail at this place and shot to death Mart and Tom Horplace and shot to death Mart and Tom Horrell, who have been confined there about three mouths on a charge of complicity in the murder of J. T. Vanghan.

The Horrells were arrested about the 8th of September last by a party headed by Capt. W. H. Ghmn. The detective had traced them out to the guilty parties. They were lodged in jail here and on the 224 ult. brought before justice Childress and underwent an examining trial, which lasted about two weeks and resulted in their being refused ball and remanded to jail. Wim. Crabtree, who confessed his guilt as an assemplice and was made a witness in behalf of the state, being released after the conclusion of his testimony on 28th ult., was taken a short distance from town that night and killed.

Always Busy Game if all kinds is very abundant in lease or mob the Horrells, two guards were kept in the fail both night and day. Nothing occurred to indicate such danger, however, until last night, when a party of horsemen were observed riding around the jail as if this peeting the premises. They departed without making any demonstration and the excitement, resulting from their visit had near Dallae had an arm broken in two places by being thrown from a house the other day.

The Montgomery county farmers will herestree par less attention to cotton, and more to the manufacture of sugar and molasses.

Mrs. Herbert Fythian, of Macon, Missouri, her been misqueruling in men's clothes at lidits, hunting het hunband, who cloped from Macon with a variety actress maned Mabel Ress.

Uvalde Umpire: We are informed that a number of counterfeiters have been captured by U. S. Marshal L. C. Crowell, at Rachett, Trass. We were shown some of the distance in being a very poor imitation, and could be detected by any person without any sund care, they being moulded, not stamped as the genuine, and are made or Rabbit metal. None of the apparatus used in making this money have as yet been secured.

Bessham Banuers, Some time ago the Ranner gave the particulars of the disappearance of a woman from Killough's farmin on New Year's creek. It will be remember either the particulars of the disappearance of a woman from Killough's farmin on New Year's creek. It will be remember either one of the counties above McLeunan. His wife was not with him, neither has abe been heard of the registrohood is, that the man carried his two with the might behand packed up and more of the might behand the proper and time and without making and with run of the counties above McLeunan. His wife was now with which and active the particulars of the disappearance of a woman from Killough's farming another prisoner to bound the same time. We now learn from a gentleman living in the neighborhood is, that the man carried his the mission of the disappearance of a woman from Killough's farming and the prisoners which will be considered to the counties above the cou borhood that the man has been heard of in one of the counties above McLennan. His wife we not with him, neither has she been heard of. The general impression in the neighborhood is, that the man carried his wife wheat dody off in the wagor with him and disposed of it at his leisure.

Willis Enterprise: As the up-bound passenger train hove in sight of the crossing a mile below town on Sunday night last, the engineer discovered a horse directly on the track only a short distance a head, pitching with its rider, and before the train could be checked, the engine struck the horse and months at lone recognized as the property of O, H. Gestry. Mr. Allison, the station master, at once recognized as the property of O, H. Gestry. Mr. Allison, the station master, at once proceeded to the spot in a hand car, and found the horse smashed up, but no tiler. We have since learned that Mr. Gerity, who was riding the horse, escaped without serious injury.

The number of the mob which came to town is svariously estimated at from 100 town is variously without serious injury.

The Worth To sember 16.—The frame likely on the west side of Main, between First and Second streets, caught fire this worting about 6 o'clock. Thirteen tenements were hurned, mostly occupied with small business, such as tailors' and boot shops, restaurants, etc. The Journal office, was hurned, the press alone being saved. The aggregate loss is about $12,000; insurance about 52,000; insurance streets are threatned, but the calmess of the morning and the efforts of the firemen saved it.
