1983 Texas Crop Receipts Decline

Bailey County farmers could feel the 'pinch' several months ago, but during the past week, it was officially announced, "Texas farmers got $4.1 billion from crop sales last year, down from 1982."

According to the report, weather losses had a big impact on crop receipts in 1983, but last year's PIK (payment-in-kind) program helped buoy cash receipts, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. PIK payments were included in the tabulation of crop receipts for 1983, but other government payments, such as deficiency payments were not included.

Cotton continued as the leading crop in Texas, with receipts estimated at $877 million. Although sales were roughly half the level two years before, the South Plains led the state with cotton crop totaling $412 million. South Texas came in second with cotton sales of more than $96 million.

Wheat was the state's second leading cash crop with sales of $638 million. The Panhandle boasted wheat sales of $199 million, with North Central Texas a distant second at $115 million.

Sorghum receipts totaled $519 million. The Panhandle's crop totaled $135 million while the Coastal Bend crop came in at almost $99 million.

Receipts from vegetables exceeded $370 million, with sales reaching almost $68 million in the Panhandle and $45 million in South Texas.

Corn brought in receipts totaling $351 million, with the South Plains and Panhandle boasting receipts of $152 million and $55 million respectively.

Nursery crops boasted receipts of $333 million across Texas, with sales totaling almost $106 million along with the Upper Coast and $71 million in the Northeast Texas.

A bumper hay harvest also was made in Texas last year.

Hay, Roughage

Being Sought

By ASC Office

Danny Noble, Executive Director of the Bailey County office of the United States Department of Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) said this week, the Texas State ASCS office is asking all 234 county offices to seek out farmers that have hay available for sale.

He said a list of available hay in Texas was compiled and distributed to all county ASCS offices on May 21. The continuing drought is causing critical hardships upon the state's livestock producers, added Noble. Having exhausted their local source of supply, many producers have called the county ASCS offices to help locate producers who have an excess of hay or other roughage to sell.

From information supplied by the County offices, the State ASCS office will compile a master listing of hay and roughage suppliers that will describe the feed, amounts available, and price. Master listings will be printed and distributed to the county offices monthly, and supplemental listings will be furnished on a weekly basis.

Any producer who has an excess of hay or roughage they wish to sell may contact the Bailey County ASCS office, at telephone number 272-4538 and relate the particulars to be included on the listing. This service began on May 21 and will continue through October.

Precinct One Commission

Post Is 'Up For Grabs'

One of the offices in Bailey County is creating a lot of interest, especially in Precinct One, for the June 2 runoff elections in the Democratic Party.

On the ballot will be incumbent R.L. Scott and R.O. Gregory, who are both seeking the office of County Commissioner, Precinct One. The winner of the June 2 runoff will have no Republican opposition on the ballot for the general election in November.

Absentee voting got underway on Wednesday, May 23, and will continue through Tuesday, May 29, preceding the June 2 runoff election. Absentee voting for the runoff election will be conducted in the office of Barbara McCamish, Bailey County Clerk, during regular office hours.

Other offices creating local interest will be the Democratic runoff between Kent Hance and Lloyd Doggett. They are both seeking the right to represent the Democrats on the ballot for the general election in November. The winner of the runoff election will be facing Republican Phil Gramm, who won the Republican Primary. Hance won easily in Bailey County in the primary.

Also on the Democratic ballot for the runoff election are the names of Don R. Richards and Thomas M. Richards. The winner between the Richards will face the winner of the Republican runoff election on the same day. On the Republican runoff Ballot seeking the office of U.S. Representative, District 19, are Larry Combest and Ron Fleming.

In Bailey County in the primary election, Don R. Richards and Larry Combest carried the election for their respective parties.

Also on the Democratic ballot for the runoff will be Roy E. Greenwood and W.C. 'Bill' Davis, each seeking a place on the November general election ballot for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place Two.

Bill White and Thomas B. 'Tom' Thorpe, are also both seeking the right to be on the ballot in the general election for the Democratic party. They are seeking the office of Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place Three.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. at the same location open for the primary elections in May.

People who voted in the Democratic Primary on May 5th may vote in this run off. Also, people who are qual-

City Council

Has Record

Short Meeting

Members of the Muleshoe city Council met Tuesday morning, with the official part of the meeting lasting just about 25 minutes.

A brief discussion was held following the opening of bids for a new pickup for the City. Lowest bidder was Muleshoe Motor Co. for a 1984 pickup. Their bid of $7,150 was accepted. Robert D. Green bid $7,259 for a 1984 Chevrolet pickup.

It was quickly approved to put two new street lights adjacent to the city park on 9th and West J and council members approved an easement to Energas for a gas line to cross city easements and service the new motel now under construction.

Also, council members briefly discussed the acquisition of eight lots at the corner of East American Blvd. and East Fifth Street for a new fire station. The city contracted for the eight lots, and may possibly contract for an additional two lots owned by the same individual to have 10 of the 12 lots in the half block location. However, City Manager Dave Marr explained to councilmen that the eight blocks currently under contract to purchase, will be sufficient room for the new fire department.

Councilmen also transferred a total of $663.11 to bad debts during the very short meeting.

OVERCORRECTING CAUSES ROLLOVER--Three Friona youth, the driver and two passengers, escaped serious injury late Monday afternoon when they rolled this pick up, owned by Porch Furniture of Friona one time. Shown investigating the accident is TFP Trooper David Blackerby of Muleshoe. The accident was approximately eight miles north of Muleshoe on Highway 214. Trooper Blackerby said the vehicle had drifted into a ditch and the youth overcorrected the vehicle, went into a sideways skid and overturned one time.

Sudan Senior Citizens

Request Operation Money

The Sudan Senior Citizens last week made request of the South Plains Association of Governments for funds to operate their nutrition program for the coming year. They requested $29,670.00 for their nutrition program which they plan to start October 1st. This money will go for two cooks, a janitor, and some needed equipment. The program income will be spent for raw foods, salaries, building payments, utilities, and various supplies. After a study was made, the above proposal was presented based on 40 meals per day served at the Center, along with seven home delivered meals. Serving days will be 254 for the next year. Meals will be served to people over 60 and their invited guests. A suggested price will be about $1.50 per person with an added 50 cents for home delivered meals. Also about 15 cents added for pick-up and carry out. The home meals will be delivered in the Center's van that was recently loaned to them by SPAG and the Commissioners Court of Lamb County. The other money requested will go to Center Operations for a director which is in the process of being hired. The center plans to be open four hours each day beginning in mid June. This van will also be used for those unable to go to the grocery store without a ride (local shopping only) and for doctors appointments in local towns around Sudan. Rules are now being prepared for the van use. Progress is being made in the kitchen area of the center at the present time. Another rest room has been added and new floor and wall covering is nearly completed. It is planned for the ceiling to be lowered in the kitchen to match the ceilings in other areas. These two proposals were presented to the SPAG Board of Directors by Hoyt Robertson.

Muleshoe, the county seat of Bailey County, has a population of 250, is situated on the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway about 25 miles from the New Mexico line and was laid out about the time of the outbreak of the European War and while it has made a steady growth its development has doubtless been retarded by the fact that the county has either been in war or passing through an enormous depression during practically the entire time of the town's existence. It has at this time one elevator, a cotton gin, a first class timber yard and supply house, two garages, several mercantile concerns, a bank with resources aggregating $175,000.00, a practically new high school building and two churches.

Llano Estacado Civic Club Disbands

The Llano Estacado Civic Club met for the last meeting on Tuesday, May 15 in the home of Betty Jo Carpenter.

Members present were Dolores Harvey, Glenna Raney, Jessie Robison, Cleta Williams, Betty Jo Carpenter and Billie Harvey. The group traveled to Clovis, N.M. where they had a Chinese dinner at the "Orenail".

Following dinner they came back to Ms. Carpenter's house where secret pal gifts were exchanged and secret pals were revealed.

A short meeting was held and since the club members had voted to disband, they voted to give the remainder of their money to "Meals on Wheels", which is to begin in the near future.

Ms. Carpenter said "The club was regretful to disband, but due to the small membership it seemed necessary."

"The Llano Estacado Civic Club was formed in 1963. The club had originally been an American Federated Womens Club. On about June 18, 1963, the club started with Sonny Mason as president; Jeanelle Turner as vice president; Pat Prater as recording secretary; Sammy Sumrow as corresponding secretary; Vickie Young as treasurer; Johanna Green as parliamentarian; JoAdine Mayhugh as historian. The color was to be brown and gold, and the flower was bronze mum. The Motto --- "Suenen Y Hagen" meaning "Dream and Do".

"The club has continued for 21 years with many many projects being fulfilled. The main project through out the years was aid to the Girl Scouts. Many hours of work went into this. In the past few years, the club elected to donate $150.00 a year to Mrs. Elizabeth Watson to be used for glasses, dentist, and other needs of the needy children in the Mulshoe schools.

"May each who has had a part in this club remember and be proud of the good things done in our town. Any may we continue to be of help as our opportunities come".

Claudine's Country Club Comments

By Claudine Elliot

The Mulshoe Ladies Country Club Association met Wednesday, May 16 for their monthly luncheon and business meeting. Marlene Martin, our president presided over the meeting. She thanked Jana and Dana for the delicious lunch they served us. (Quiche, my favorite). We had as guests Jerri Nell Wagnon, Tyree Stevens and Janice Claybrook. Our new members were Sherri Shipman and Brenda Black.

Those having birthdays in May are Jerry Mayo, Pearl Gupton and Lisa McElroy. All business was discussed and all committees made their reports. Reporting for Hi Plains was Helen Templeton. She reported that eight ladies went to Clovis May 9th.

Laverne Winn won low net in her flight and Argilee Millen won low net in her flight. Congratulations to them. The next Hi Plains meeting will be in June in Friona.

Neats gave out Playday awards for April 18th. to Evelyn, Lynn and Neats, April 25th. to Helen and May 2nd to Claudine and Helen.

Our luncheon this month was a special day for all of us, as it was our annual Naomi and Marie Memorial Tournament. It was a fun day from 11 in the morning until 7 in the afternoon. Our ladies enjoyed cards as well as golf.

Brenda Black was back defending her title as she won this tournament last year. And defend she did, in fact, she won again this year! This was a handicap play, but none of us could blame handicap play on Brenda's win because she beat most of us playing scratch golf (She certainly did me). We all say congratulations to Brenda on her win and it meant a lot to her.

Our card players had a fun afternoon in competition for prizes as well. Louise Williams won high with Jerry Mayo winning second high. We can truly say we had a great Naomi and Marie Day.

This month was exciting as well for our City Golf Tournament. We had a lot of competition between our ladies playing their matches. When it was all over, we had a new City Champion in Helen Templeton. She played such good golf and was a winner all the way. Congratulations to Helen! In second place was Evelyn Riley and third place was Jeanetta Precure.

In the next flight Tamy Black was the winner with Lynn Campbell in second place and Mary Frances Holt in third place. Congratulations to all of these too.

Jerri Nell won the luncheon for next month.

 while a tractor-trailer was attempting to pass it.
 The DPS said the van then struck the truck driven by Paul Barringer of Rockwell, N.C. and the van lost control, traveled across the median to the westbound lane, went through the north bar ditch and into the north service road where it struck the westbound Buick, driven by Durr, "headon."
 Another passenger in the Durr car, David Hanning, 34, of Fritch, was also injured in the accident. Hanning also remained in the intensive care unit of the hospital in critical condition at presstime.
 Fierro was treated and released from the Odessa hospital, along with a passenger from the van he was driving, Jessy Cardona, age 30, also of Odessa. Fierro was charged Saturday with three counts of involuntary manslaughter, according to the Odessa DPS.

 Barringer, the driver of the truck, was not injured, according to reports.
 Family members have been in Odessa since the accident, and some are staying in a mobile home which was moved onto the hospital parking lot by a rodeo club the Durr's were involved with.
 Other family members are also staying in the Ben McAdams home and the Horace McAdams home in Odessa.
 Both Laverne Durr and Heather Durr were expected to go back into surgery on Wednesday, but no current report was available at presstime.

 Texas farmers should see some improvement in '84 prices since stockpile of most commodities have been reduced by the PIK program, says Anderson. Also, increased domestic and export demand as a result of improving economic conditions in the U.S. and abroad should strengthen farm prices.

Brucellosis Free Herds

About one-third of the counties in Texas—76 to be exact—are free of brucellosis, figures from the Texas Animal Health Commission reveal. Bailey County is listed as one of the 76 counties.
 Most of the counties free of the disease are in the Class B Area of Texas, which contains 141 counties in the western half of the state. In Class B, there are 72 counties free of brucellosis, which is more than half of the Class B Area.
 Four counties are free of the disease in the Class C Area which is the eastern half of the state, made up of 113 counties. The four counties which are free of the disease in Class C are Marion, McMullen and Jim Hogg.

In the Class B Area, there are almost 60,000 cattle herds; of that number only 145 are under quarantine.
 In the Class C Area, there are more than 102,000 cattle herds; of that number 1,710 are under quarantine.
 Counties in the Class B Area of Texas free of brucellosis are as follows:
 Andrews, Bailey, Baylor, Blanco, Brewster, Briscoe, Carson, Cochran, Doolingworth, Concho, Coryell, Cottle, Crane, Crockett, Crosby, Culberson, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Ector, El Paso, Fisher, Floyd, Gaines, Gillespie and Glasscock.

Green Thumb At Session On Tornadoes

When the storm sirens blare and the radio warns that a "twister" is on the way, what can you do to improve your chances of surviving a Texas tornado?
 For one thing, studies show that if you're in your house, you should stay there. Only three per 1,000 people in houses hit by tornadoes are killed -- or, put it another way, --99.7 percent survive.
 This somewhat comforting statistic is especially welcome to the older workers enrolled in the Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb employment program, because most of them live and work in the northern half of the state so often assaulted by spring storms.

More than 50 Green Thumbers from 10 counties attended a training session at the National Guard Army in Brownfield, Texas, on May 21, and learned how they could save their lives if a tornado should come their way.
 "In the case of severe storms, there truly is no place like home," says Green Thumb Director Diane Parrish of Waco, "provided your home is a sturdy home."
 Parrish used a slide presentation to illustrate the kinds of tornadoes that can develop and to describe the techniques most likely to enhance survival. Slides of twisters that hit Lubbock, Waco, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Clarendon, and northeast Texas were used in the presentation.

 According to Parrish, A&M scientists study use of desert plant as future fuel source

COLLEGE STATION — Vast tracts of West Texas desert could be used one day to raise millions of tons of saltshrub as a source of fuel, says a Texas A&M University plant scientist.
 After screening more than 2,000 Texas plants for biomass energy potential, Dr. Ron Newton and plant researchers at Texas A&M and Texas Tech University have found that saltshrub holds the greatest promise for fuel production among plants that could be grown in vast quantities. The plant thrives on little rainfall and high salt content found in West Texas soil, he said.
 "Turning plants into fuel is already being done, but we'll see it being done on a much larger scale in the future," said Newton.
 The cost of producing fuel from biomass is much greater than the cost of producing fuel from petroleum, said Newton, but as petroleum prices increase and genetic technology advances, plants will become a practical source of fuel.
 Researchers at Texas Tech, who are also involved in the project funded by the Exxon Corp. and the Department of Energy, are genetically engineering saltshrub plants that would be even more drought-tolerant and could withstand high salt levels.

most tornado deaths result from head injuries caused by flying debris. People in mobile homes are at much greater risk, and in fact may be even more vulnerable than persons in cars.
 "The key to survival is to stay in your house and put as many walls as possible between you and the tornado," she said, adding that most tornadoes approach from the west and southwest. "And, don't try to outrun the storm—many people are killed when they try to escape in a panic."
 Also addressing the group was Eleanor Sutor from the Amarillo Red Cross who presented information on basic first aid and Patrice Flemming from Information and Referral who gave pertinent information on filing out income tax forms.

Food scientist says bugs remain in irradiated foods
 COLLEGE STATION — The "bugs" may have been worked out of the process to protect food using low levels of radiation, but bugs still remain in the food, says a Texas A&M University food scientist.
 In reaction to recent controversy over the use of irradiation instead of pesticides like ethylene dibromide (EDB) to protect consumers from food-destroying insects, Dr. E.E. Burns pointed out the drawbacks for killing insects with irradiation is that no one has developed a process for removing the bugs.
 "Initial applications for irradiation might be killing insects in infested cereals and flour, or in fresh and dried fruits, instead of using chemical fumigation, but you still have a problem with the dead insects," said Burns. "Anybody who figures that out will never have to work again."

Headstone Installation Is Not Paid By VA

Veterans service officers, funeral directors, and other professionals who regularly deal with the next of kin of deceased veterans are reminded that the Veterans Administration does not pay the installation fee for government furnished headstones in private cemeteries. VA does pay, for eligible veterans, a $300 burial allowance and $150 plot allowance to help defray funeral expenses and the cost of a grave space, according to Chief Memorial Affairs Director Paul T. Bannai, who noted headstone setting charges could be paid from these allowances. Bannai, who is responsible for VA's Department of Memorial Affairs which last year shipped some 210,000 headstones or markers to private cemeteries, said this reminder is necessary because of a lack of understanding by some when applying for the free monument. While instructions on the application and the application itself state that "all costs to install the headstone or marker must be paid from private funds," VA wants to insure that the next of kin of veterans are aware of this requirement. The VA has no specific authority to pay the installation fee, and Bannai said such a program would be difficult to administer because of the differing charges by private cemeteries for installing a headstone. "Some cemeteries provide the installation service without charge, but there is no limit to what can be charged," Bannai said. To help provide more information on all VA headstone and marker benefits, a pamphlet, "The Veterans Headstone and Marker Program," is being printed and will be sent to all VA facilities and veterans service organizations for distribution to the public.

Don Richards Endorsed By Area Ag Leaders

A Texas State Representative and more than two dozen prominent West Texas agricultural leaders have announced their endorsement of Don Richards on his runoff campaign for the U.S. Congress.

Richards is in a June 2 runoff election with Thomas M. Richards for the Democratic nomination. The two men are unrelated.

The endorsements came in a press conference in which Don Richards announced the formation of the "Agriculture Committee for Don Richards" to assist him not only in the campaign, but in the writing of the 1985 Farm Bill.

State Rep. Foster Whaley, a conservative Democrat who represents the 84th District which overlaps a portion of the 19th Congressional District, contacted Don Richards earlier to give him his "100 percent backing" in the race.

Four of the ag leaders spoke about Don and their thoughts on the congressional race during the endorsement press conference:

"One of the candidates in this election is trying to buy the 19th Congressional District seat, and I don't like that," said Marvin Meek of Plainview in referring to Don Richards' opponent in the race. "The congressional seat should not be for sale."

"I had the opportunity of working with Don in the Washington congressional office through the last Farm Bill and I know he's a man that has the knowledge to do this job," said Bill Cleavinger, prominent sugar beet grower from Deaf Smith County. "We need him badly to represent agriculture in Washington."

"Don's a very dedicated young man. We know he's not the richest man in the race. Don's expertise and knowledge of what's going on up there (in Washington) is of vital importance to this area," said Carl King, corn grower from Dimmitt. "He knows we are in a real depression in agriculture. I know that Don's going to have a tough battle... but he must use his power of persuasion in Washington with other congressmen and I know he is capable of doing that."

"We as agricultural leaders sometimes disagree among ourselves. But there is one thing we do all agree on, and that is that agriculture and the 19th District need Don Richards," said

Memorial Day Weekend Starts Vacation Time

Major V.J. Cawthon, Commander of Department of Public Safety, Region 5, said, "Memorial Day Weekend signals the start of summer vacation season. This increases dangers to motorists in Texas this time of year." The Major urged drivers to exercise caution during the up coming holiday weekend and throughout the summer.

Traffic fatalities are well below the number for the same period last year. This is due to the Texas motorist slowing their speeds and the awareness of DWI on the highways.

We should keep in mind to adjust our driving habits and attitudes accordingly.

Major Cawthon said, "The best way to keep your vacation safer and accident free is to keep your speed down, wear your seat belt and obey all traffic laws. Your safety and the safety of your passengers is in your hands."

Slow down a little and live a lot! Have a nice Memorial Day Weekend!

Jerry Harris, cotton producer and ginner from Lamesa. "Experience is so key to us at this time. It's essential that we have someone on the Agriculture Committee to guide this farm bill so that the 19th District does not get left out."

Don Richards, who is a former Washington aide to Kent Hance, also responded to reporter's questions concerning allegations made by his opponent that some of his support is from "liberal groups." Don Richards noted that he had numerous endorsements from many of the conservative rural newspapers as well as a conservative state representative and had a conservative philosophy before he served with Congressman Hance for five years. He then directly responded to the endorsement of the West Texas Democrats by referring to the group's endorsement statement which emphasized that "Don Richards is not a liberal!"

but was endorsed because he was the most qualified. Regarding his endorsement by the Odessa and Lubbock local councils, Don Richards reminded that both Kent Hance in his first congressional race in 1978 and John Montford in his 1982 Senate race were endorsed by these same groups and that both men are strong conservatives.

"He has chosen to attack two of my many endorsements because he has none of his own. He couldn't sell himself on a quarter of a million, so now he has chosen to unsell me on his next quarter of a million."

Edwin Meese, designated Attorney General, on special prosecutor:

"I believe that only an investigation like this can determine the facts and the legal issues in a fair and orderly manner."

Population increase expected to continue at even faster pace

COLLEGE STATION — More than half a million new residents settled in Texas between April 1980 and July 1982, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, and a state demographer says the "immigration" is likely to continue at an even faster pace.

With 667,000 people moving into the state during the 27-month period — the most current time for which figures are available — Texas had more net in-migration than any state in the nation, said Dr. Robert Skrabanek, a researcher with the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University.

"If the state's unemployment rate continues to remain substantially below the national average, Texas' current favorable image will gain additional luster in the 1980s," Skrabanek said. "The net result between 1980-85 will be an expected immigration and total population growth that promises to be greater than any previous five-year period in the state's history."

The parachute was designed in 1783 by Louis Lenormand, who designed it to save people who had to jump from burning buildings.

Government Trades Grades

Help Consumers Shop, Eat Better

Knowing the differences among government food grades can help you shop more economically for yourself and your family, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service food and nutrition specialist Dr. Dymple Cooksey.

Take beef, for example. Prime, the top USDA grade, is the ultimate in tenderness, juiciness, and flavor. While Prime is best for roasting or broiling, it is likely to cost more than USDA choice which is the second grade, she says. The key difference between the two grades is that choice has slightly less "marbling," or fewer flecks of fat within the lean that makes the meat tender and juicy.

Some stores sell beef that would qualify for other USDA grades, such as Good, under a house brand name rather than under the USDA grade mark. This beef will likely cost less than Prime or Choice, and it may meet your needs well, particularly if you use slow, moist cooking to make it tender, notes the specialist.

In establishing grades for food like meat, poultry, eggs, fruits, vegetables, and dairy products, USDA considers the values that wholesale buyers and sellers place on the products, explains

Cooksey. Generally, products with characteristics of the higher grades are more marketable and bring a better price.

Labeling of the grade on a product is not required by federal law, even if a food has been officially graded, she says. But a number of food manufacturers and distributors choose to put the official grade on their products, as do many retailers. USDA grades help establish quality levels of products, and this in turn, can help shoppers make choices. "Grade A products might be used in special meals or dishes when looks and textures are important," advises Cooksey. "But lower grade products, which cost less and are still of good quality will do just as well in most dishes," she suggests.

Consumers should remember that all grades are equally wholesome and nutritious, says the specialist. As you shop, you are most likely to see the USDA grade on beef, veal, lamb, broilers, turkeys, eggs and butter. You may also see it on some cheese, instant nonfat dry milk, preserves, frozen concentrated orange juice and canned and frozen fruits and vegetables.

Some fresh produce -- mostly potatoes and apples -- are also grade labeled. For fresh fruits and vegetables, the typical range of grades in U.S. Fancy, U.S. No. 1 and U.S. No. 2. The chief trading grade for most of these products is the U.S. NO. 1 while U.S. Fancy is a premium quality. These grades are generally based on a product's color, shape, maturity and freedom from defects, such as cuts from harvesting equipment, notes Cooksey.

While only a few packers grade canned, frozen and fried products, many processing plants use USDA's grading service for quality control purposes, adds the specialist.

Wildlife collection at Texas A&M being reorganized

COLLEGE STATION — One of the most complete wildlife acquisitions in the nation has received a National Science Foundation grant to computerize the records and reorganize more than 45,000 bats, bears, bottlenosed dolphins and other mammals preserved for scientific purposes. The Texas Cooperative Wildlife Collection at Texas A&M University also houses 60,000 reptiles, 250,000 fishes and 15,000 birds, the records of which eventually will also be updated, but for now it will take the $128,000 NSF grant and 2-3 years to organize the mammal collection, said curators.

The mammal collection ranges in size from shrews (in the mole family) and Central American bats to large grizzly bear skulls and African antelope heads and horns. It contains specimen of almost every living mammal in North America, including bottlenose dolphin skulls and the skeletal remains of a beaked whale.

YOUR GARDEN

Caladiums Are Near Perfect In The Garden

If a perfect garden plant is one that combines extraordinary beauty with versatility and ease of care, then caladiums approach perfection.

These spectacular relatives of common philodendron tolerate almost any garden soil and thrive either in sun or shade. Caladiums can brighten spots in the landscape where many flowers fail with flamboyant foliage that lasts all summer long.

What are called "Fancy Leaf" types are the most valuable caladiums for home gardeners. "Fabulous Leaf" might be more accurate. Kaleidoscopic splashes of pink, red, white and green adorn the large heart-shaped leaves of most varieties. Others are washed a solid creamy white with veins and outer edges tinted light green. There are dozens of variations to choose from.

Caladiums dazzle in flower beds and shrub borders, make attractive foundation plants and are absolutely breathtaking when boldly clustered within lawns and beneath trees.

The best news of all is how easy caladiums are to grow. The "Fancy Leaf" Caladium planting and care guide informs gardeners that caladium foliage sprouts from bulb-like tubers, which are available during spring and summer, as are caladium seedlings and full-size plants. Economy-minded gardeners prefer the tubers, especially when planting caladiums the way they look best—in masses of a dozen or more.

Plant the tubers in the garden after all danger of frost

Immediately after planting, dampen the soil. Throughout the growing season, water only when soil dries. Resilient as caladiums are, continuous overwatering takes a toll.

The first leaves unfurl three to six weeks after planting, depending on soil conditions. A dose of fertilizer applied just as foliage emerges promotes vigorous growth and vibrant coloration. A good rule of thumb is to use two pounds of 6-6-6 plant food per 100 square feet of planting area. Reapply monthly. If more convenient, use a liquid fertilizer drench when plants get larger. In warm southern climates, where caladiums can grow year-round, feed bi-monthly from November through February.

Caladiums originate from tropical Brazil. In cold regions, they cannot overwinter outdoors and should be dug and stored. The "Fancy Leaf" Caladium planting and care guide provides the simple instructions. Unlike other bulbs, never refrigerate caladium tubers and do not be alarmed if, in six to eight weeks after digging, new growth sprouts. It is a sign that tubers are already prepared for next summer's display.

The "Fancy Leaf" Caladi-ums planting and care guide is free of charge and available by request at 704 State Road 621 East, Dept. 2, Lake Placid, Florida 33852.

Tax Break

On Home Sales

Certain taxpayers who sell their home can exclude up to $125,000 of the sale's gain from taxable income.

Taxpayers who are 55 or older or married to someone 55 or older can make this election when they sell a home. The home must have served as the principal residence for three or more years during the five-year period immediately preceding the sale.

"This option for taxpayers is a provision of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981," points out Dr. Don Stebbins, real estate specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "The intent of the provision is to allow older citizens to liquidate the equity in their home and enjoy a higher income during retirement without incurring an excessive tax burden."

One of the important restrictions in the provision is that a taxpayer can use the election only once, notes Stebbins. Once selected, it is binding upon both spouses regardless of any future transaction or remarriage.

"Also, taxpayers should be aware that if they exclude less than $125,000 gain, the difference is forever forfeited," the specialist points out.

Another consideration concerns buying or building a replacement home. If this is done within two years of the original sale, older citizens also reduce their tax liability by the normal rollover provision applicable to everyone. Thus, 55 or older taxpayers can use both the rollover provision and the special $125,000 exclusion for the same transaction, Stebbins says.

"Older taxpayers should become completely familiar with their options on home sales and should seek professional assistance as they make their decisions," recommends Stebbins. "It's especially important for farmers, ranchers and others who use property partly as a home and partly for business to obtain professional guidance."

Sandhills Philosopher

Dear editor:

According to a national survey, a large percentage of people get their news from television, but there has been no national survey on where television gets its news.

For example, let a crisis break out--it doesn't matter what it is, one will do as well as another and if it doesn't another will be along in a few days anyway--and on the evening news you can hear television reporters telling you what the world's reaction is. "The reaction in London is gloomy," one will say, and my reaction is, Where do you go to find out what London's reaction is? Especially when two-thirds of the people of London probably don't know there's a crisis underway and might not be gloomy if they did.

Nonetheless, the network will bring the commentators from other major cities, each telling us what the reaction is in his area: Washington, Moscow, Peking, Paris, Rome, Chicago, etc. A commercial always comes on before they get around to telling us what the reaction is in Muleshoe.

The other evening a network commentator, reporting from El Salvador on the big election down there, said "One major difficulty here is that a lot of Salvadorians don't know what they're voting for." He went on to explain that's characteristic of underdeveloped countries.

I got to thinking about that, then about some of the people we've elected in the United States off and on over the years and you know what? You don't have to live in an underdeveloped country to not know sometimes what you're voting for.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Services for Ross M. Allen 53, of Abilene were held Sunday, May 20 in Hawley. Allen died May 18 from natural causes.

He was born May 24, 1930, in Dickens County and was a former resident of Muleshoe. He was a farmer.

Survivors include one daughter, Tammy Renee Miller of Hawley; three brothers, Cliff B. Allen of Muleshoe, Roy Allen of Plainview, David Allen of Siloam Springs, Ark. and George Allen of Spanaway, Wash.; two sisters, Vesta Butler of Lubbock and Charlotte Brannon of Austin; and two grandchildren.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Larry
As journalist we know how important it is to have the right facts. We know it is also our responsibility to get the right facts out to the voters in an election year.

There is, I have noticed, some information being put out by Thomas M. Richards which is not entirely the truth about his opponent, Don Richards, in the race for the 19th Congressional seat being vacated by Kent Hance.

Thomas has chosen to attack Don at the grassroots level by circulating rumors that Don is ultra liberal and was a "water boy" for Congressman Hance. This, of course, is ludicrous to everyone who knows Don.

Don has been endorsed by 16 Conservative West Texas Newspapers and the leaders of 10 Agricultural organizations, as well as State Rep. Foster Whaley of the 84th State District.

Don would not have received these excellent endorsements if he were not a true West Texas Conservative.

Don was also selected by the liberal West Texas Democrats for endorsement, but they specifically stated, "Don Richards is no liberal."

He was also endorsed by some small labor unions,

Truman Kent Services Held Tuesday

Services for Truman L. Kent, 80, were held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, May 22 in the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Bill Kent, pastor, officiating.

Interment was in Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Kent died at 9:09 a.m. Sunday at West Plains Medical Center.

A native of Eastland County, Kent was born Oct. 7, 1903, and moved to Bailey County in 1929, from Trent. He married Beatrice Harris March 23, 1922, in Trent. He was a retired farmer and a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Beatrice "Bea"; two daughters, Mrs. Bobbie Lou Foster of Lubbock and Mrs. Doris Christian of Farwell; two sisters, Mrs. Irene Evans of Stephenville and Mrs. Bernice Best of Sweetwater; two brothers, Clint Kent and Owen Kent, both of Sweetwater; five grandchildren; and eight great grandchildren.

which also endorsed Kent Hance when he ran for U.S. Congress, and John Montford when he ran for the Texas Senate, both of whom are strong conservatives Hance and Montford were endorsed for the very same reason as Don Richards.

Don Richards is a solid West Texas Conservative, just like Kent Hance. He is not a liberal. I just could not sit back and let anyone get away with calling Don a liberal, because it is just flat not true.

Keep up the good work on your newspaper. We are enjoying reading about events there.

Sudan Industrial Arts Place At State

All 13 Industrial Arts projects from the Sudan School placed at the state competition in Waco receiving "Superior" ratings were the refinishing projects exhibited by Cherie Ford, Melissa Nix and Cindy Roberts.

Receiving "Excellent" ratings and red ribbons were wood projects constructed by Tatia Newsom, Johnny Cruz and Danny Gonzales. Receiving "Outstanding" ratings and white ribbons were projects exhibited by Robert Robles, Roy Montez, and John Harlan plus safety posters designed by Rene Garza, Dawn Gaston and Shannon Peck.

Eighth graders in Sudan take Industrial Arts for one semester and study units including refinishing and manufacturing. It was reported that not only do students make projects such as those exhibited in the competition but they also learn skills that may be used at home in selecting and refinishing fine furniture as well as study processes used in industry, general shop safety and beginning wood working principles.

All woodworking projects exhibited from Sudan in the competition were made by first year woodworking students taking General Woods. Plans have been made to add advanced woodworking and general drafting to the Industrial Arts curriculum for the 1984-85 school year.

Advanced woods will be offered to returning Industrial Arts students to help them continue to develop their woodworking expertise. General drafting will include studies of engineering, mechanical, electrical, and architectural drafting.

NEW LIFE

Nothing is more interesting than young new life. It represents all that is fresh and innocent, but more, it represents the unlimited potential of the future. How much many of us would give to have some of the vivacity and energy of the young and more yet, to have our future before us.

We can't have yesterday over again, but we can have a new life. We can be born again from above, fresh and new. God wills to give everyone this new life, abundant life, free of fear and anxiety. Go to Church this week and hear of the God who gives new lives for old.

At Muleshoe Junior High

FCA Banquet Honors Junior High Athletes

Members of the Watson Jr. High huddle of the Fellowship of Christian athletes hosted a banquet for parents and friends Monday, May 14, in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria. Master of Ceremonies for the occasion was Coach Kent Hargis. Jerry Bob Graves, president of the Jr. High FCA huddle, gave the welcome and the invocation. Those present then enjoyed a meal of barbecue and Mexican food prepared by D&J caterers of Muleshoe.

Entertainment was provided by Diamond and June Perez of Muleshoe. Pat Six, FCA leader at WTSU, spoke to the group, presenting ideas on FCA, including what the organization is and why it is important to participants.

Christian leadership awards were then presented to young people representing sports at the Jr. High level. Coach Roy Donaldson, sponsor of the local group, explained that the recipients of the awards were athletes who had "let their light shine for Jesus." Winners in the various categories included:

7th Football Shane Burris, 8th Football Armando Del Toro, 7th Girls Basketball Debbie Brown, 7th Girls Track (tie) Lisa Noble, Michelle Cox, 8th Girls Basketball Kim Glover, 8th Girls Track Quay Gregory, 7th Boys Basketball Dusty Rhodes, 8th Boys Basketball

Beware Of Insect Dangers And Bites

Spring weather can mean danger for Texans who get bitten or stung by insects.

Insects cause a number of injuries to people each year when outdoor activities increase. The worst offenders are bees, wasps, and yellow-jackets. The greatest peril from insect-people encounters is allergic reactions, points out Dr. Phil Hamman, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. He notes that insect bites kill at least nine times more Americans than do snake bites.

People have different reactions to insect venoms, and allergic reactions are classified by the severity of one's body reaction, notes Hamman.

He cites at least three levels of reactions insect bites and stings can cause:

Slight reactions, including itching, inflammation of the skin or anxiety.

Moderate reactions, including swelling, abdominal pain or nausea.

Severe reactions, including difficulty in breathing or swelling, hoarseness or confusion.

Most severe would probably be a shock reaction that causes a drop in blood pressure, collapse or unconsciousness, says Hamman. Moderate and severe reactions from and insect bite or sting are enough cause to see a doctor. Capture the offending insect if possible to help the doctor in providing treatment.

To reduce contacts with venomous insects, Hamman advises people not to walk around in the yard barefooted; to avoid wearing sweet smelling colognes or perfumes; to keep ripened fruits, watermelons, soft drink cans and other sweet smelling materials covered when outdoors; and to avoid mowing lawns or working in flower beds when bees or wasps are active. Insects are less active in the early morning hours.

Remain still if a stinging insect is near, says the entomologist. Brush it off if it attacks but don't slap it to prevent a sting. If attacked by a swarm of wasps, yellow-jackets, hornets or bees, leave the area immediately while protecting the face with hands and arms.

Among the variety of venoms produced by insects are these:

Those producing blisters, caused by certain stinging caterpillars, centipedes and blister beetles.

Those attacking the central nervous system, produced by scorpions, black widow spiders, bees, wasps, yellow-jackets and hornets.

Those destroying skin tissue, produced by fire ants, wheel bugs, brown recluse spiders, mites, scorpions, chiggers, bees, wasps, yellow-jackets and hornets.

Those preventing blood from clotting, caused by fleas, lice, mites, ticks, biting flies and true bugs.

Education may not influence students' political attitudes

COLLEGE STATION — A college education may not have the impact on political attitudes and values that many pundits believe, a Texas A&M University study suggests.

"For years there has been the truism that education has a big impact on people's political values," said Dr. Arnold Vedlitz, a political scientist and associate dean in the College of Liberal Arts, who conducted the study.

Vedlitz said that while it may be true there is a change in students' political values and attitudes from the freshman to the senior year, there are more influences impacting on students during that time than just their educational experience.

"There are movies, wars and a number of other factors that would affect one's values," he said. "There is also attrition in the ascent to seniorhood. Maybe those who make it to graduation were already different to begin with."

In looking at two different sample groups each composed of college students and their brothers and sisters who did not attend college, Vedlitz found little evidence that a college education significantly changes political values or attitudes.

Prison chemical standards agreed on by TDC and TDA

(AUSTIN)—An on-going effort to standardize the storage and use of agricultural pesticides at Texas Department of Corrections facilities has been announced by Texas Department of Agriculture General Counsel Samuel T. Biscoe and TDC Assistant Director for Agriculture James V. Anderson.

Under terms of the agreement, the Agriculture Department will continue its commitment to qualify TDC farm management personnel as licensed pesticide applicators, and to assure that the disposal of pesticides, pesticide containers and pesticide-related wastes are in compliance with applicable guidelines.

Furthermore, TDC will continue its existing practice of providing inmates with protective clothing and respirators when the areas in which they work require such practices; continue its practice of keeping pesticides stored in facilities separate from all food products; and store seeds treated with pesticides in facilities set aside for such storage. Fertilizers treated with pesticides will be stored with pesticides, and untreated fertilizers will be stored separately.

Finally, only TDC employees will assist applicators in fields undergoing spraying; all safe-reentry requirements into sprayed fields will be followed, and no employees or inmates will be allowed in fields undergoing spraying.

According to Anderson, "The Texas Department of Corrections is one of the largest agricultural producers in our state, growing much of the food and fiber it takes to feed the system's roughly 36,000 inmates. It is TDC's policy to ensure that TDC's food and fiber is produced both safely and efficiently."

Biscoe added, "We at the Texas Department of Agriculture appreciate the commitment by the prison system to meeting—and in some cases exceeding—all pesticide safety standards."
