Hance, Don Richards Win In County Runoff

Around Muleshoe

It is once again time for the annual calendar sales sponsored by the Rotary Club of Muleshoe and the Speech Department of Muleshoe High School. The year's calendar includes the complete school calendar of events, times and places.

More information can be obtained and calendars may be ordered by phoning 272-3748 or 272-5602.

Mrs. Susan Vela Mejia is currently visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vela, along with her two children, Michael and Melissa.

Mrs. Mejia resides in Houston with her children and her husband, Mike.

Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center Schools of Medicine and Nursing awarded 109 degrees during joint graduation ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. June 3, in the University Center Theatre.

In the School of Nursing graduating class from Muleshoe was JoRonda Faye Northcutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rhodes.

A member of the Local Honor Society of Nursing, she received the Excellence in the Practice of Community Health award during the School of Nursing Awards Convocation June 2.

Airman Julius R. Briscoe, son of Pearl Johnson, Muleshoe, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force electronic communications and cryptographic equipment systems repairman course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Briscoe is scheduled to serve with the 1964th Communications Group at Ramstein Air Base, West Germany. He is a 1981 graduate of Muleshoe High School.

Three Muleshoe area students attending Angelo State University in San Angelo, are listed on the dean's honor roll for the spring semester at the university.

Those listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll include Sheryn Renae Dunham, a distributive education major, Muleshoe and Boyd

FATAL TRUCK WRECK--This large implement truck rolled one time, coming to rest in a plowed field Sunday shortly after lunch. The accident, which occurred in light rain about eight miles south of Muleshoe on SH 214, claimed the life of Earl Jordan, 52, of Earth.

Conservation Tips: Water Right

When the weather turns dry, don't just turn on your lawn sprinkler and then gripe about your high water bill. By watering, fertilizing and mowing your lawn properly, you can reduce your water bill as much as 40 percent.

Conservation by the homeowner provides the only solution to high water bills and excessive water demands during our hot and usually dry Texas summers, points out Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas

Rotary Club Views Safety Film

Dr. Bruce Purdy had the program for the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon and presented a film on water safety.

The interesting film presented safety tips for fishermen, boaters, swimmers and hikers.

Guests at the Rotary meeting were Hugh Moseley, Ronald Byrd and J.B. Sudduth.

A&M University System.

Most Texas lawns need about two inches of water per week during the summer and most of this usually comes from irrigation, Tanksley says.

Men's Lo-Ball Tournament

This Weekend

Muleshoe Country Club will present a Men's Lo-Ball Partnership Tournament Saturday and Sunday, June 9 and 10.

Entry fee will be $80 per team and teams will be pre-flighted by handicap.

According to the Country Club, the lower handicap will become the flight. Golfers will have a choice of a 9 a.m. or 2 p.m. tee time on Saturday. On Sunday, flights three, four and five will tee off at 9 a.m. with the first and second flights for the championship getting underway at 2 p.m.

Carts will be available. For more information, call the Pro Shop at 272-4250.

Exactly what can a homeowner do to reduce his summer water bill?

The first thing is to water your lawn only when the grass starts to show signs of drought stress, explains Tanksley. Look for discoloration and wilting. If leaves roll up in the later afternoon and footprints remain after walking across the lawn, then water within 24 hours.

Once you've decided that your lawn needs watering, do it right, emphasizes Tanksley. Most homeowners don't water their lawns properly. They either water too often, causing grass to develop shallow roots and making it a prime target for insects, diseases and temperature extremes, or they water infrequently and apply too much water at one time, resulting in a lot of

Official Songs

Are Disputed

By Transplant

Recently, there has been much in the news about a controversy in San Francisco about an 'official' song for the city, with the Mayor and Board of Supervisors divided sharply between two songs. The controversy has apparently spilled over in one way to include Muleshoe, according to a news article received in Muleshoe this week.

Clifton Finley's daughter, Nelda Finley Mayse of Lawrence, Kan. received the following news article (probably a letter to the editor) from a friend in San Francisco:

"OFFICIAL SONGS
"Editor - What's all this comical fuss about an official song for San Francisco? Why does any city need an official song? Most of the cities and towns in the United States have no official song and they aren't suffering because of it. For instance, my home town of Muleshoe in west Texas has no official song and it's one of the greatest places in the world to live. The San Francisco mayor and Board of Supervisors should abandon this driveling narcissism about an official song and start addressing important matters. Lanny R. Middings San Roman"

Another Fatality Recorded Sunday

Continuing a tragic pattern that started in Bailey County just two weeks ago, the fourth fatal accident in 10 days was recorded around 12:30 p.m. Sunday south of Muleshoe.

Roy Earl Jordan, 52, of Earth, died shortly before reaching the city limits of Lubbock Sunday afternoon, while being transferred to Lubbock General Hospital for treatment of injuries he received in the truck accident.

Officers received the call about the wreck before 1 p.m. and found that Jordan, driver, and sole occupant of a Wood-Jordan Implement Co. truck from Earth, apparently lost control of his truck on a rain slick highway about eight miles south of Muleshoe on Highway 214.

DPS investigating officers Lacie Kirk and David Blackerby said Jordan was coming off a curve on State Road 214, and apparently started hydroplaning on the highway. His truck crossed the intersection of FM746 East, crossed a culvert after taking out several large poles, and overturned one time, coming to a rest in a plowed field at the northeast corner of the intersection.

Ambulance personnel brought Jordan to West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe for emergency treatment before transferring him to Lubbock. However, Jordan died from his injuries just about two miles west of Lubbock.

Commissioner Scott Wins Re-Election

Hance Asks For Recount, Loses By 457 Statewide

In Saturday's runoff election in Bailey County, incumbent County Commissioner, Precinct One, R.L. Scott emerged the winner over opponent, R.O. Gregory. However, Scott edged Gregory in the final tally by only 13 votes.

Scott received 198 votes at the Muleshoe City Hall and 38 absentee votes for a total of 236, while his opponent, Gregory had 208 votes at the city hall and 15 absentee votes.

Following through with the rest of the district, Don Richards was a clearcut winner in this county in his Democratic nod for Representative, 19th Congressional District. He received 968 votes to 409 for his opponent, Thomas M. Richards.

Don Richards also won in the 15 county district and will be facing Republican Larry Combest in the November general election.

With 22 Republicans casting votes in Bailey County on Saturday, Larry Combest edged Republican Ron Fleming 12-10 for the right to be on the Republican ballot for U.S. Representative this fall.

Don Richards and Combest are seeking the seat vacated by Kent Hance, who opted to go for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by John Tower, who several months ago announced his retirement.

Only 36 percent of the 3,666 registered voters went to the polls in this county last Saturday to vote in the runoff election. The 1,329 voters were down from the 43 percent, or 1595 voters, who went to the polls in the primary election on May 5.

Kent Hance received 93 percent of the vote in Bailey County last Saturday in the runoff election, and his opponent got just over six percent of the vote. Hance's supporters were strong, with 1,245 voting for him, as Doggett received 77 votes here.

However, statewide, Kent

Hance fell short of his 50 percent majority, receiving 467 fewer votes than Doggett. But, that election is not over yet, as Hance announced plans for a statewide recount of the vote. Nearly a million votes for the two candidates were cast, but only the very narrow margin of 467 votes separated Hance and Doggett.

Awards Given

By Santa Fe

To Local Duo

Bob Dixon, superintendent for the Santa Fe Railway, of Amarillo, was in Muleshoe Tuesday morning to present two special awards.

Both the awards were presented at the Muleshoe Police Department to Jackie Gutierrez, dispatcher, and R.L. Clark, foreman of the Muleshoe office of the Texas Department of Highways and Transportation.

Dixon explained that Clark had noticed axle boxes on fire on a train east of Muleshoe early in January.

Clark notified Muleshoe City Police Dispatcher Gutierrez, who immediately notified the Amarillo office of Santa Fe.

"Due to the fast action of R.L. and Jackie," said Dixon, "within two minutes, our train was notified and stopped. This averted a possible accident."

Santa Fe Railway officials said that it was possible that only the fast reaction of the dispatcher and the highway department foreman prevented a possible fire and accident, because the caboose was only five cars behind the blazing boxes.

Clark and Gutierrez were presented miniature Santa Fe engine replicas mounted on a base with a digital clock and their names in bronze attached.

NOW, SON, THIS IS THE WAY IT IS--Andy Perez, left, coach for the Muleshoe Babe Ruth team, the Cats, gives a few pointers to his son, Norman, who is a pitcher for the Cats, while Norman was on third base, during a game Thursday afternoon against a Littlefield team. Norman scored just after the picture was taken.

Sudan Jr. High Band Competes In Contest

By Evelyn Ritchie

The Sudan Junior High Band traveled to Levelland May 12, 1984 to compete in a Concert and Sight-reading contest as well as Solo and Ensemble competition. The Sudan Jr. High Band performed "Chorale and Variation" and "William Tell Overture" under the direction of Jeanne Winton. The results were a 1, a II and a I averaging out to a "I" division. Then the band went to the Sight reading room where the music was extremely Difficult. The band performed a "I" division on the sight reading music. "Only 3 bands in our class made a "I" division on that very hard music, quotes Miss Winton. "so I was extremely proud of our band". The band walked off with a "Sweepstakes" trophy. Only 3 bands made sweepstakes during the full day's competition.

Each of the junior high band members competed in one or more solo and ensemble. Also several 8th graders competed in just the solo and ensemble competition.

Those rating "III" which stands for good including Justin Holley, Kyle Maxfield, Jarod Ballar, Jay Harrison, Joe Gonzales, Michel Conley, Tracie Williams, Johnny Montemayor, George Salinas, Elizabeth Cervantez, Moneake Payne, Misty Bartley. Division "II" rating which stands for excellent were Mitze Glascock, Moneake Payne, Cheri Ford, Kendra Whitten, and Teena Newman, Melissa Nix, Mandy Carr, Chris Griggs, Karin Whitten, Kay Lynn Gordon, Hyla Ford, Melanie Peck, Kristi Hargrove, Keith Damron, Michael Conley, Star Tennyson, Misty Bartley.

Those who received "I" division rating which stands for superior include Cheri Ford, Cindy Roberts, Chris Griggs, Kendra Whitten, Jimmy Kyle Glascock, Chip DeLoach, Jarod Bellar, Kyle Maxfield, Mitzi Glascock, Elizabeth Cervantez, Kristi Hargrove, Amie Baker, George Salinas, Kenna Sue Richards, Rochelle Mathis, Stacy Williams, KayLynn Gordon, Misty Bartley, Mandy Carr, Chris Harper, Cheri Ford, Shannon Peck, Star Tennyson, Melanie Peck, and Teena Newman, Hyla Ford, Nick Mathis, Moneake Payne, Jarod Bellar.

Following the contest, the Sudan Band Parents treated the band students with a meal at K-Bob's in Levelland.

The greatest art on earth is performed by two marriage partners who keep the spark alive and rear a normal family over the years.

GRAPHICS DIVISION--Winners in the Graphics Division in the Art Show recently included: Richard Graves, first; Frank Blumkin, second; and Darin Bratcher, third. The Art Show was sponsored by the Muleshoe Art Association.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek writes around a political question this week. Dear editor:

A hot topic under discussion today--I guess to get everybody's mind off the Iran-Iraq war, which has gotten everybody's mind off El Salvador, which has gotten everybody's mind off the Middle East--is: should the Democrats nominate a woman as their candidate for Vice President?

A man asked me what I thought about this and I came out flat-footed with my shoulders squared and said I don't know. I wasn't born yesterday.

The Republicans don't have to face this problem this year because they already have a Vice President, finishing one term and his sleeves rolled up for a run at a second.

The Democratic candidates are saying they'll certainly consider a woman for the job, without going so far as to name one. They weren't born yesterday.

When a candidate gets his party's nomination for President, he always says he'll pick a running mate who is best qualified to take over if something happens to him, provided he comes from a section of the country needed to carry the election.

The question some raise is: How many women are qualified to be President? The next question is: How many men are?

The best qualified man for the office seldom seeks it and if he does he's rarely elected.

And the next question is: what's qualification got/to do with it?

How many Presidents have been qualified to be President? Don't answer that.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

This is a simple but delicious dessert. You can serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream instead of the sauce.

Apple Padding

- 1 c sugar
- 1/4 c soft butter or margarine
- 1 egg
- 2 large unpeeled apples shredded (2 c)
- 1 c sifted flour
- 1 t soda
- 1 t cinnamon
- 1/2 t nutmeg
- 1/4 t salt
- 1/2 c chopped nuts

Beat together sugar, butter and egg until fluffy. Shred apples and stir in. Add sifted dry ingredients and nuts. Bake in a greased 9 inch square pan 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut into squares; while still warm and serve with the following sauce.

- 1/2 c butter
- 1 c sugar
- 1/2 c light cream

Combine the above three ingredients and heat slowly for about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally until slightly thickened. Add 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla, a dash of nutmeg and 3 tablespoons rum. Serve hot over Apple Padding.

I Appreciate Everyone Who Supported Me And Voted For Me In The Run-Off Election.

Thank You R. L. Scott

"Burst made a believer out of me!"

-Dennis Cowen Amherst, TX

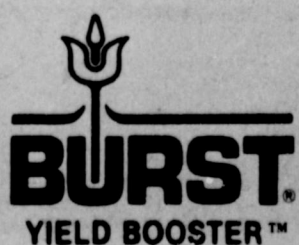

High Plains cotton growers are discovering that Burst® Yield Booster™ greatly increases cotton yields! First tests of Burst in this area, conducted in 1983, were impressive — just ask Dennis Cowen!

"On one field, Burst increased my lint production by 135 pounds per acre and seed production by 327 pounds per acre. That amounted to an overall increase in money of $100 per acre where I treated with Burst! The cotton I treated was planted June 12th, and I wasn't really expecting to make half a bale out of it. But it ended up making a bale where I treated it with Burst. I plan on putting Burst on all of my crops this year."

An exciting product of biotechnology, Burst helps crops achieve more of their genetic yield potential. Cotton responds to Burst with increased root growth, improved vigor, more fruiting branch development, earlier and greater boll set and increased stress tolerance.

Your Burst Authorized Distributor is fully trained in the use of Burst Yield Booster, and is ready to help you get better cotton yields this season!

New Veterans Programs Boosting Home Sales

Since January 30 when a young San Antonio couple, Rolando and Meruya Castro, became the first homebuyers to purchase a home through the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program (VHAP), over 4,800 other Texas veterans have applied to participate in the VHAP, a program that has been heralded as the greatest single veterans benefit program to be enacted by a state since the close of World War II.

The Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program offers eligible Texas veterans up to $20,000 at 9.97 percent interest on a 30-year note to apply toward the purchase of a home.

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who serves as Chairman of the Veterans Land Board, said his office is currently committing $6 million a week for VHAP loans. Over 300 applications a week are being processed for veterans participating in the program.

"With interest rates rising daily and housing starts falling off again," Mauro said, "the 4,800 homes purchased with the help of the VHAP have played a significant role in stimulating the home construction industry in Texas while creating thousands of jobs to keep the Texas economy moving."

"I want to encourage every Texas veteran to take advantage of this excellent program," Mauro said. "This program is intended to help make every American's dream of owning their home become a reality for the thousands of Texas veterans who have been

Big Salt Consumption Helps Hypertension

Doctors, nutritionists, and other health professionals will be reminding us during the month of May that our bodies don't need as much salt as we consume.

May is Hypertension Month in Texas and a good time to emphasize that salt, or more accurately the sodium in salt, seems to contribute to high blood pressure in some people.

According to a national survey, 40 percent of the U.S. population is trying to cut back on salt.

An excellent way to reduce your salt intake is to try being creative with salt-free seasonings. A combination of lemon juice, pepper, and tarragon or parsley is a good alternative to salt.

The smart shopper also realizes that a higher amount of sodium is included in almost every kind of processed food, including baked goods, lunch meats, canned foods, prepared frozen dinners, cereals, candy, cheese, condiments, and even ice cream.

For example, a raw tomato has 14 milligrams (mg) of sodium, but one cup of canned tomato soup, prepared with an equal amount of water, has 942 mg, and a cup of commercial tomato sauce has 1,498 mg.

On package labels, the words monosodium glutamate, sodium benzoate, and di-sodium phosphate are ingredients to look for because they are common sources of sodium in processed food products. Many companies are starting to specify the amount of each kind of sodium on the label. If a label does not give the exact amounts, remember that ingredients are listed in order of quantity, so avoid buying products when a sodium word is among the first three ingredients listed.

One of the easiest ways to cut back on sodium is to eat fewer foods that taste salty, such as bacon, sausage, hot dogs, potato chips, pickles, and sauerkraut. Most people find that the less salt they use, the less they want. Nutritionists say it can take as few as seven salt-free days for a "salt craving" to begin to lessen.

For more information, contact Sharon Spears, R.N., Bureau of Adult Health Services, Texas De-frozen out of the home buying market by ever rising interest rates."

Texas realtors have been enthusiastic about the program since its inception. Joe Sanders of Flynn Investments in Harlingen has helped over 200 veterans buy homes through the program.

"The VHAP has been a real boost to home sales in our area. Many of the veterans I've assisted would not have been able to purchase their homes without this program because of the high interest rates," Commissioner Mauro said.

he was "particularly pleased with the number of lending institutions that have now qualified to participate in the VHAP. We now have 135 approved lenders with more than 485 branch offices across the state where veterans can go to receive applications to take advantage of the program."

"Based on the overwhelming acceptance of this program by Texas veterans, real estate professionals, and the Financial community, I feel confident in saying that the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program is far and away the most attractive home loan program in the country," Mauro said.

Veterans can find out which lenders in their area are participating in the VHAP by calling toll free-1-800-252-VETS

Texas A&M experts suggest ways to conserve energy

COLLEGE STATION — Energy use experts at Texas A&M University are advocates of the four-minute shower.

Unless you can finish your shower in four minutes, the experts say, taking a bath will generally use less water. A five-minute shower can consume as much as 60 gallons of water, according to Texas Energy, a publication of the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources.

Other tips offered by the experts for reducing hot water consumption — which for the average family accounts for about 20 percent of energy consumption in the home:

— Don't waste hot water rinsing dishes before putting them into the dishwasher, just scrape off the scraps. Your dishwasher should clean even very dirty dishes if it is operating properly.

— When hand-washing dishes, first soak them in detergent, and then be sparing with the rinse water. Washing a stack of dishes and rinsing them all at once saves time and money.

— When bathing, fill the tub only one-fourth full. Close the drain in the tub before you turn on the hot water — the temperature can be adjusted later as the tub fills.

The energy experts also suggest that consumers carefully select water-heating equipment and energy-saving equipment such as thermostats and insulation.

New energy-saver water heaters can save about 18 percent over the cost of standard models, the report states.

Bridal Shower Fetes

Mrs. Terry Burton

Mrs. Terry Burton, nee Judy Biggerstaff, was feted with a bridal shower Saturday, June 2 from 2:30 until 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Jack Young. Guests were greeted by the honoree and Mrs. Young.

Mrs. Doug Crawford, sister of the groom, served apricot thumbprint cookies, apricot pineapple punch, nuts and apricot rosette mints, from crystal and silver appointments.

The serving table was covered with an apricot cloth over ecru underskirt, and accented with an apricot silk floral arrangement and a silver candelabra with pale yellow candles. Apricot napkins with "Judy and Terry" completed the table setting. The honoree's corsage consisted of white daisies.

Special guests included: Mrs. Alton Burton, mother of the groom; Mrs. Corkey Biggerstaff, mother of the bride; Mrs. Arnold Beckett of Sudan, grandmother of the groom; Mrs. Sandra Holt of Lubbock, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Dewayne Powell of Sudan and Mrs. Bob Donaldson, aunts of the groom; Mrs. Doug Crawford sister of the groom; Mrs. Larry Parker, Mrs. Wade Wilson and Mrs. Terry Shipp, sisters of the bride.

The hostesses gifts were a card table and four chairs, a pair of brass candlesticks with crystal globes and a set of three brass butterflies.

Hostesses for the occasion included: Mrs. Edward Northcutt, Mrs. Clinton Rogers, Mrs. Roy Wrinkle, Mrs. Gary Skaggs, Mrs. Gerald Shanks, Mrs. David Gallman, Mrs. Jack Young, Mrs. Roy Farley, Mrs. Dale Burden, Mrs. Ben Roming and Mrs. James Atwood.

Also Mrs. Ronnie Holt, Mrs. Sam Whalin, Mrs. W.H. Parker, Mrs. Roger Albertson, Mrs. Herbert Whalin, Mrs. J.C. Shanks, Mrs. W.F. Lancaster, Mrs. Clayton Ramm, Mrs. Harold Cowan, Mrs. Wayne Crittenden, Mrs. W.F. Brittle and Mrs. Lee Atwood.

Kenneth Noles

To Be Honored

At Reception

A retirement reception, honoring Kenneth Noles will be held on June 10th at 3:00 p.m. in the Sudan School Cafeteria.

Noles earned his Bachelor of Science in Agriculture degree in 1953. He received his Master of Education degree in 1957. In addition, Noles has 58 hours in graduate studies. He is certified in Elementary, High School, Administrator, Superintendent, Principal, and Vocational Agriculture.

He has 30 years of experience in education. He has taught Vocational Agriculture in Stanton, Moran, and Amherst. He coached one year in Amherst. He was a high school principal for four years in Amherst and four years in Sudan. Noles has spent the past 14 years as superintendent of the Sudan Public Schools.

Noles has three children: Sue Hruska of Paint Rock, Texas, Don Noles of Kemp, Texas, and Francine Bowling of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He has four grandchildren.

Noles and his wife, Totsy, will be moving to Throckmorton, Texas.

MRS. TERRY BURTON

Creative Woman

By Sheryl Borden

Three topics will be presented on "The Creative Woman" show on June 12 and 16 and these include bread dough art, cheese souffles and making perfect hems. Doris Greig, a homemaker from Lovington will show an assortment of bread dough items and share some of her secrets for doing this art technique.

Courtesy of the American Dairy Association, viewers can learn to make perfect souffles. According to them, anyone who can make white sauce and beat egg whites can make a perfect souffle. A step-by-step demonstration, through slides, will be presented.

Betty Chalker, a sewing instructor from Atlanta, Georgia will show how to do a perfect hem. It is the same technique used on expensive ready-to-wear, and it really is a time saver, too.

Three additional topics will be presented on June 14 (the show will not be seen on June 17 this week only) and these include preparing an entire meal in the microwave oven, coupons and a sewing tip from Stretch & Sew, Inc.

According to the two guests, Marcia Cone and Thelma Snyder, many people complain that it's hard to prepare a complete meal in the microwave and have everything hot and ready to serve at the same time. Cone and Snyder have co-authored a French Microwave Cookbook, and will prepare a meal, using recipes from their cookbook to demonstrate how to organize, prepare and serve a complete meal cooked in the microwave oven. These two ladies, who are home economists are from New York.

Are you a coupon saver? A lot of people clip and save and redeem coupons faithfully while others think it's a waste of time and effort. What do you think? Laura Jacobs is the County Extension Agent from Farwell, Texas and she will discuss coupons--the advantages as well as the disadvantages of them.

Finally, Ann Person, President and Founder of Stretch & Sew, Inc. will demonstrate a technique for applying a separating zipper with a front facing in a garment.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs at 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday, at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday and at 5:00 p.m. on Sunday on KENW-TV. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines.

The numbers are: New Mexico: 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359 and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2112.

Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cox were honored with a 50th. wedding anniversary reception Sunday, June 3 from 2 until 4 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Iris Butts and Jeanne Cox registered approximately 200 guests during the afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Cox and their son, Edwin and Carol Cox and son, James formed a receiving line.

An ivory cloth covered the bride's table, which was accented with a bouquet of spring flowers in a candelabra holding ivory tapers. Ivory napkins completed the table arrangement.

The grooms table was centered with votive candles and lemon leaf. Coffee, fruit, cheese and crackers and Bokalava were served.

Serves were Maureen Hooten, Elaine Burgess, Robin Burgess, Trisha Burgess, Janie Hughes, Kay Field, Magann Rennels, Holly Millsap, Debbie Hart, Jene Maniss, Lynette Manis, Sheridan McCurry, Shauna Hoover, Auzanne Craig, Barbara Brown, Lynda Wollard, Gloria Prestridge, Joyce Parker, Barbara Dube, and Robin Longwell.

Wedding gifts and original belongings were displayed on a table accented with a candelabra holding tapers, lemon leaf and baby's breath.

Wedding gifts displayed included: a six place setting of silver flatware given by Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Hart, his employer at the time; six Madeira napkins given by Florence and George Shilling; a double wool blanket given by Vance and Janet Wagon; an angel food cake pan given by Good and Odessa Hardin; six salt cellars given by someone in Hillshire; electric waffle iron given by Annis and Gil Wollard; and a homemade quilt given by Mrs. Cox's mother, Rose Wollard.

Original belongings included: red salad bowl, purchased shortly after marriage at Woolworth's for $1; potato masher and steak beater purchased shortly after marriage; wedding handkerchief, carried by Mrs. Cox at their wedding; stetson hat and it's original box purchased before their marriage for $15 or $20; scissors, screw driver, hammer and pliers (Mrs. Cox asked for scissors and he bought them along with some tools so that she could handle the household chores); and a bridge table, he owned the table at the time of marriage. The table originally electric and automatically shuffled cards.

Special guest for the occasion included: Ed and Carol Cox, son; grandchildren, Jeanne Lee and James Edwin Cox; Iris Butts of Fort Collins, Colo., she and her late husband, Buford, were married with Mr. and Mrs. Cox in a double ceremony; Patricia Shields of Gilford, Conn., daughter of Mrs. Butts; Jim and Lucy Brown of Stockton, Ca., sister of Mrs. Cox; Jim and Barbara Brown of Stockton, Ca., nephew; Ben and Jimmie Mae Porter of Lubbock, sister; Gary and

Lazbuddie Youth Wins In Home Sewing Contest

Tina Denise Parham, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Parham of Lazbuddie, was a $1000.00 winner in the American Home Sewing Association's Create-A-Winner National Sewing Contest.

Tina is a fifth grader at First Baptist School of Lazbuddie and entered the contest in the crafts division, 14 years old and under.

Mrs. Parham said "She was one of 30 winners of $100 in the biggest sewing contest ever held. Over $30,000.00 in prize money was awarded to winners in both apparel and crafts categories."

"Finalists were chosen from almost 16,000 photo entries submitted and the winners were chosen by judging the actual garments and crafts projects."

"Tina entered a baby quilt that she had made for her brother and after being chosen in the ten finalists, was required to send the quilt to New York to be judged. Judy Raymond, chairman at the National Sewing Contest for AHSA and vice president of marketing and promotional services at McCall Patterns, praised the workmanship of the entries."

Entrants were asked to sew and apparel or craft item from a commercial pat-

Laura Nicole Bonds

Dr. and Mrs. Tom K. Bonds are the proud parents of a daughter, Laura Nicole, born at 6:12 p.m. Friday, June 1 at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Laura Nicole weighed eight pounds nine ounces and was 21 1/4 inches long. She is the first child for the couple.

Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Jack Jordan of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bonds of Lubbock.

Great grandparents are Mrs. Mary Jordan of Tulla, Roy Petton of Clovis, N.M. and Mrs. Lorene Carlyle of Clovis, N.M.

Anthony Juan Abeyta

Mr. and Mrs. Alfonza Abeyta of Friona are the proud parents of a son born at 8:04 a.m. May 31 in West Plains Medical Center.

The young man weighed eight pounds and 13 ounces. He has been named Anthony Juan. The couple have two other children, Stella, three years and Alfonzo, two years of age.

Grandparents are Maggie Abeyta of Friona and Fay Whalen of Farmington, N.M.

Skylah DeLynn Monreal

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Monreal of Earth are the proud parents of a daughter born at 11:39 p.m. June 1 in West Plains Medical Center.

The young lady weighed six pounds and one ounce and has been named Skylah DeLynn. She is the first child for the couple.

tern of their choice and submit a color photo of the finished item, along with an official contest entry form from their local fabric store. Home sewers could enter in the apparel or crafts category in any one of four age group categories (14 and under; 15-21; 22-35; 36 and over) or the first time sewer category.

It was reported that the crafts and children's clothing were the most popular entries in the category for first timers. Ann Collier of Bransford, Connecticut and Dorores Leuthausde of Utica, New York, each won $1,000 for their quilts in that category, while Mayme Noon of Middleboro, Massachusetts, won for her stuffed pony.

In first timer's apparel category, winners included two men: Stuart Scarbrough of Spring, Texas and Chan Williams of Houston. Scarbrough submitted a warm up suit and Williams submitted a jacket and pants. Susan L. Wynn of Sacramento, Calif. made coordinating coveralls, cap and vest for her son.

The judges were said to have been very impressed by the quality and creativity of the garments submitted. Sidney Tepper, design director of Simplicity Pattern Co., said he was particularly impressed by the high level of taste displayed by the entries.

"The taste level was exceptionally high and the technical abilities demonstrated by the entries were quite superior, he maintained. "Looking at the scope of the garments--from suits and dresses to special occasion dresses with lots of detailing--it was evident that sewing was more than just a practical exercise to save money or make something they needed; it was a creative expression."

Other judges included Seventh-Avenue fashion designer Ardi; Koko Beall, design director for Vogue Patterns; Lee Ennis, executive director of Worldwide Marketing Resources; Liz Forgang, reporter for the Daily News in New York City; Hedda Gold, Dean of the Fashion Institute of Technology; Richard Segrin, vice president of fashion design at McCall Pattern Co.; and Cecilia Toth, director of needlecrafts and sewing for Good Housekeeping Magazine.

The American Home Sewing Association plans to sponsor an even bigger and better National Sewing Contest this year and you are asked to watch your newspapers and local fabric shops for further information.

The American Home Sewing Association is not for profit organization representing the home sewing industry's efforts to encourage the development of sewing skills.

Both Cattlemen and Consumers Benefit From Computerized Comparisons of Methods

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Cattlemen have always been eager to compare notes and improve their techniques of production. A computerized-comparison method in use by feedlot managers may serve as a prototype for development of a similar system for producers, according to Dr. Lowell Schake, Professor of Beef Cattle Nutrition at Texas A&M University, and a researcher for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Since 1975 feedlot managers have been learning more about their industry, and themselves, through a computer-assisted interfirm comparison developed by Schake and Phillip W. Ljungdahl, formerly of the Accounting Department at A&M.

This interfirm comparison has resulted in feedlot cattle being managed more efficiently, allowing beef to be offered to consumers at more competitive prices.

Schake explained that this is one of the more exciting aspects of agricultural research... "as industry efficiency and productivity improve as a result of research, the consumer becomes the ultimate beneficiary."

Today, this interfirm comparison program is managed by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association of Amarillo. Each month, participating feedlots transfer 48 input items from their in-house computers to a computer in the association office.

In a few days, each participating feedlot has a print-out with over 80 items of comparison (each individual feedlot vs. industry averages for current month, last month, and a 12-month average).

Items of comparison include cattle performance, cattle inventories, production cost, fuel usage and utilization comparisons, plus employee statistics. The program is managed so that confidentiality of all data is maintained.

In 1977, Schake and Ljungdahl surveyed the feedlot managers that used the IFC Program and they agreed that they were more aware of industry trends and performance characteristics than previously. At present, over 800,000 cattle-on-feed are represented by each monthly report which accounts for about one-half of the feedlot cattle in Texas.

Schake recently reported on the analysis of the historical interfirm comparison data, to participants of the Fifth World Conference on Animal Production in Tokyo, Japan. Cattle performance was found to be significantly influenced by year, seasonal location, and not by size of feedlot.

Average conversion of feed dry matter to cattle gain averaged 7.2 pounds for steers and 7.5 pounds for heifers, while they were on-feed for 145 and 154 days, respectively. Currently, cattle are being fed for fewer days than previously, with improved feed conversions and rates of gain.

It was also reported that

Funeral services for Earl Jordan were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Earth United Methodist Church with Rev. Jimmy Nunn, pastor, and Rev. Mike Stafford of the First Baptist Church and Dwight, Faulk, pastor of the Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was in Earth Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Under the Home of Earth.

He was born June 14, 1931 at Plainview and had been a lifetime resident of Earth. He was married to Pat Brown on February 18, 1955 in Earth. Earl Jordan was a veteran of the Korean War, having served in the U.S. Navy. He was co-owner and manager of Wood-Jordan, Inc. of Earth. He was a member of the Earth United Methodist Church.

Long Distance Rate Changes Are In Effect

Changes approved by the Federal Communications Commission on May 25, 1984, and effective on the same date, will affect General Telephone customers using interstate long-distance directory assistance, customers using AT&T to make long-distance calls, and businesses with more than one line.

An interstate directory assistance charge of 50 cents per call with a two-call allowance for each billing period was approved for AT&T, the nation's only provider of interstate directory assistance service. To obtain the two-call directory assistance allowance, the customer must make at least two interstate calls during each billing period. If the customer makes one or no interstate calls, the allowance would be one or zero respectively.

The FCC also ordered AT&T to reduce its interstate long-distance rates by approximately 6.1 percent.

At the same time, the FCC approved interstate and user access charges of $6 per line for businesses with more than one line.

turnover of feedlot employees had declined from 160% per year in 1975 to less than 40% in 1982. This highly favorable trend may be attributed to implementation of the interfirm comparison, Schake says.

He indicates that increased awareness by feedlot managers and industry leaders, of high employee turnover rates gave them reason to concentrate upon improving a situation that was both expensive and unnecessary. It requires only 1.4 resident feedlot employees to manage 1,000 cattle per month in the modern, efficient feedlots of today.

Efficient utilization of feed and fuel energy is another area of interest to feedlot managers, who have been creative in finding ways to reduce consumption of high-priced fuels and have sought out the feeds offering the greatest net energy content vs. cost. The interfirm comparison has allowed each manager to compare his cost with the average of the industry, in these and other categories.

"The future prospect of developing similar interfirm comparisons for the farmers and ranchers of Texas seems well within our grasp," according to Schake.

"As more and more cattlemen utilize micro-computer based record systems, they will have the essential ingredients to participate in an interfirm comparison—accurate, uniform and readily retrievable records."

"Interfirm comparisons of this nature would probably first emerge on a regional basis within the State, to allow comparisons to be useful to producers.

"Grouping interfirm comparison participants by type of production emphasis, (cow-calf, stocker, purebred), and by size of operation may be further refinements to improve their utility.

"Ultimately, the goal will be to improve the efficiency of producing beef through greater industry awareness that will provide a fair rate of return to the industry, while providing consumers with adequate quantities of beef at still more favorable prices," Schake concluded.

We Believe Our Youth Of Today Will Provide Effective Leadership Tomorrow

Leaders of Tomorrow---These four young people recently competed in the Special Olympics in Lubbock. They brought home several medals and ribbons. Pictured left to right are: Cari Kidd, who was first in 25 meter and standing long jump. She also won third in frisbee; Leticia Garcia, won first in frisbee and third in the 50 yard dash and softball; Frank Garcia, was first in softball and frisbee and second in 50 meter dash and Lisa Martinez won third in softball and frisbee. We salute these Leaders of Tomorrow!

Comptroller Checking Want Ads Indexing

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today said the Comptroller's new Help Wanted Index shows the Dallas-Fort Worth and Austin-San Antonio areas will continue to lead the economic recovery in Texas.

"Our Help Wanted Index gives us a better view of the business climate in Texas," Bullock said.

The Comptroller's Office divides the state into six economic regions. The Texas Help Wanted Index is based on classified advertisements in newspapers -- two from each region. Every month, newspapers in the largest cities of each region give the Comptroller the number of help wanted ads that appeared in classified sections.

"Unlike other help wanted surveys, our index is tailor-made for Texas," Bullock said. "These twelve newspapers are doing a real public service. They're helping us get the information we need to accurately estimate revenue."

The newspapers included are the Houston Chronicle and the Corpus Christi Caller-Times from the Gulf region; the Texarkana

Gazette and the Longview Journal from the East Texas region; the Dallas News and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram from the Metroplex region; the Austin American-Statesman and the San Antonio Express-News from the Central Corridor region; the El Paso Times and the Laredo Morning Times from the Border region; and the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and the Odessa American from the Plains region.

According to the April survey, the Austin-

San Antonio area should grow at a rate of 5.2 percent during 1984-85, and the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex should have a 4.5 percent growth rate. The Gulf and Border regions will have the lowest growth rate, 1.4 percent and 2.4 percent respectively.

The Help Wanted Index measures the demand for workers. An increase in the number of classified advertisements indicates an upswing in growth. A decrease in help wanted ads means a downturn in the cities' growth picture.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Ranchers Update Drought Processes

While a drought is both stressful and traumatic for livestock producers, it also gives ranchers an opportunity to evaluate and update their managerial practices.

"Once the drought has set in and cow numbers are considerably cut, a rancher can reappraise his entire ranch operation," says Dr. Tom R. Troxel, livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, headquartered at Uvalde. "The rancher can then ask himself, 'What can be done to improve the overall efficiency of the ranch and provide some flexibility to reduce the effect of the next dry period.'"

Many ranchers have already sold 25 to 75 percent of their herds since the dry weather started last fall. Ranchers have also indicated that they will want to see if it will rain in May and June before selling more of the herd.

Troxel reminds that lactating cows have high nutritional requirements, and if the nutrition is not present due to drought, both the cow and calf will suffer. One option is to wean and sell the calf early in an attempt to maintain the condition of the cow. He points out that many 200-pound calves are now going to market.

With the culling of cows, a rancher could very easily move from a year-round calving season to a spring and/or fall calving season. "A ranch could keep cows that calve at a certain time of year or when it rains again buy replacements that certified brucellosis free, a herd (all cattle older than six months) must successfully pass two negative blood tests 10 to 14 months apart. In addition, the herds must be recertified annually, Troxel reminds.

"In the semi-arid Southwest, 6 out of 10 years have below normal rainfall," adds Troxel. "Cattlemen need to stock their ranches with those six years in mind." Generally, according to long-standing statistics, only two "normal" years fall within the 10-year span, while two other years are usually high rainfall years resulting from hurricanes.

Flexibility is a key word during the extra high rainfall years as well as times of drought. When high rainfall results in an overabundance of grass, ranchers may want to consider keeping their own stockers or buying some to utilize the extra grass, the specialist adds.

Flexibility has become important as cow/calf operators face rising feed costs and dwindling income. A rancher must consider all possible alternatives for making the ranch as economically efficient as possible. "Although drought is extremely difficult to predict, it does provide an opportunity for ranchers to regroup their thoughts and consider changes in managerial practices," adds Troxel. "This regrouping will serve the rancher to this advantage when the next dry cycle occurs."

The certified free herd program is another consideration for ranchers, particularly those who sell breeding stock. The number of certified free herds in Texas has increased from 675 in 1983 to 1307 or more so far this year. To be classified as

Wheat Residue Can Be Used By Farmer

Farmers need to consider what to do with wheat residue as they wrap up their wheat harvest.

Among crop residue management options are burning, clean tillage, conservation tillage and chemical fallow, says Dr. Ed Colburn, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Burning of wheat stubble is the least desirable option because it leaves the land unprotected and subject to erosion," says Colburn. "It also prevents the opportunity to add organic matter to the soil and destroys important plant nutrients, including nitrogen and sulfur, which could help succeeding crops."

Clean tillage involves burying most of the wheat straw, leaving the surface virtually barren of any crop residues, notes Colburn. Use of a moldboard or disk plow can reduce surface residue levels as much as 90 percent. Each disking operation with a disk harrow may cover about 50 percent of the surface residue. So two or three diskings will leave little crop residue on the soil surface, says the agronomist.

"Conservation tillage will maintain desirable levels of wheat straw on the surface after tillage," Colburn points out. "Research at Bushland (in the Texas Panhandle) has shown that wide-blade sweeps or rod weeder reduce surface residue by about 10 percent in each tillage operation. Other implements such as chisel plows, subsoilers or sweep cultivators bury about 25 percent of the wheat stubble in each tillage operation. Some producers are using herbicides to complement weed control efforts in these operations."

Chemical fallow, or use of herbicides to control weeds and grasses between crops, is another alternative for managing wheat residue. This practice can eliminate, or at least reduce, tillage operations. If tillage is necessary to supplement weed control offered by herbicides, farmers should consider using wide-blade sweeps or rod weeder, advises the agronomist.

"Each of these crop residue management options has advantages and disadvantages," says Colburn. "The option farmers select will be affected by a number of production conditions, including the amount of wheat stubble, perennial weeds, compaction pans in the soil, type of tillage and planting equipment available, and cost of herbicides."

Clean tillage, using the moldboard plow or disk harrow, may lend itself to conditions where irrigated wheat has produced a large volume of residue, where perennial weeds are a problem, or where compaction pans are present in soils.

"Conservation tillage and chemical fallow systems offer a number of advantages," notes Colburn. "Such operations keep wheat stubble on the surface to increase moisture storage, reduce soil erosion and aid weed control. Additionally, conservation tillage systems can conserve energy, reduce labor and lessen the wear on equipment through reduced usage. Also, less tillage helps avoid soil compaction problems and deterioration of soil till."

However, conservation tillage also has some drawbacks, says Colburn. These include the inability to deep till to break deep compaction pans and the inability to cover heavy residue. Also, herbicides may be needed to help control some weeds.

"If large amounts of wheat residue are present at planting, no-till drills or other special planting equipment may be required," Colburn points out. "In chemical fallow systems, such equipment may not be adapted where perennial weeds are a problem. Weed control with a no-till, total chemical system may be relatively costly."

"Regardless of the residue management system selected, use only those tillage operations that are essential to produce a good crop," emphasizes Colburn. "Reducing the number of tillage operations can reduce fuel, labor and equipment costs."

Crisis in human need affecting children of Texas

AUSTIN—Because of a crisis in human need, the Texas Board of Human Resources has asked Gov. Mark White to include several additional items on the agenda for a special session of the Texas Legislature.

According to J. Livingston Kosberg, chairman of the Human Resources board, approval of these requests would help thousands more Texas children achieve healthier and more productive lives.

One major item would be an increase from $48 to $60 a month per child in the average grant paid by the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. Not only would those children currently eligible receive $12 more a month, but about 7,000 more of the state's needy children would become eligible for AFDC and health care through Medicaid.

Another significant request would be to extend Medicaid benefits to children in two-parent households not eligible for AFDC. No extra financial assistance would be involved, but Medicaid coverage would be provided for children deemed to be medically needy, Kosberg said. "We are also asking that medical assistance be provided for low-income pregnant women who, under present rules, are not eligible for Medicaid until the birth of a child. Obviously, it is prudent to offer prenatal care. The result would be a healthier mother and child, less susceptible to lingering or lifetime complications," Kosberg said.

The governor has also been asked to consider adding items that would provide funding for licensing personnel to help ensure the safety and well-being of children in day-care facilities, and for income assistance employees to keep up with the high workload created by continuing applications for assistance by people still struggling for a sufficient livelihood in today's economy.

The cost of the initiatives proposed to the governor is $63.6 million in state dollars for fiscal year 1985. This additional state funding would return another $68.3 million in federal dollars to Texas.

"A quarter of a million children in this state depend on the AFDC program for their well-being. Our AFDC payments put Texas in 46th place among other states in the level of assistance to children who live in dismal and oppressive poverty," Kosberg said.

Texas' AFDC payments of less than $48 a month compare with a national average of about $100 a month. Louisiana pays about $63, Oklahoma $94, and New Mexico $77.

Not only is the Texas AFDC payment among the lowest in the country, only 25 percent of the state's 1,000,000 children living below the poverty level are enrolled in the AFDC program, most of them in single-parent families, Kosberg said.

"That points up another inequity: the frequent situation of two equally poor families, next-door neighbors, one a single-parent household receiving AFDC, the other a family with both parents in the home. In the great majority of cases, the two-parent family will not be eligible for AFDC and, therefore, not covered by Medicaid. Children in the single-parent AFDC family are assured access to a basic standard of health care. Those in the other family are not," Kosberg said.

There's nothing sweeter than youth, nor anything as truthful.
